TO SPEAK AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SUNDAY

Rev. Douglas Horton, D. D., Minister-at-large of the Congregational denomination in the United States, will occupy the pulpit of the First Congregational Church next Sunday morning at 10:45.

Dr. Horton will be delightfully remembered by all who attended the Thirtieth Anniversary Banquet of Dr. Chidley's Pastorate last fall. He brought brief greetings from the denomination after his wife, Mildred McAfee Horton, President of Wellesley College, spoke on the same occasion.

Dr. Horton is one of the outstanding preachers of the United States. His subject will be "The New Society."

The combined choirs of 100 voices will sing at this service. The public is invited. Dr. Chidley will conduct the worship.

H. S. VAUDEVILLE SHOW TONIGHT

Pupils of the Winchester High School will present their 14th annual Vaudeville show for the benefit of the Athletic Association tonight and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

This year's show has been changed in form without sacrificing completely the variety element which has proved so popular in the past. Part I of the production has been written along musical comedy lines by the production director, Ray V. Hayward, which is the same as saying that it will be clever in plot and embellished with sparkling lines, subtle humor and amusing situations. Action takes place in the fanciful town of "Aberjona" and many of the problems which are puzzling collective Winchester will be solved easily by the good folks inhabiting the town named for the tepid stream meandering through the town.

Part II of the show will be devoted to real old time vaudeville, with a number of carefully rehearsed skits in which many members of the student body participate. Advance interest indicates the usual capacity crowds both tonight and tomorrow with everyone eagerly awaiting the curtain opening this 14th annual show.

BOARD OF TRADE ELECTS

Snyder Once Again Named President

Morris Snyder, proprietor of McLaughlin's Shoe Store, was re-elected president of the Winchester Retail Board of Trade at the annual meeting of the organization held Tuesday evening. George Clark of the Winchester Fruit Company was re-elected vice president and Mary Spaulding of Mary Spaulding's Book Shop, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

It was voted to remain open on April 19 which this year falls on the Friday of Easter week, such action being voted for this year only.

The question of Monday closing was discussed at some length, and although there was strong sentiment from many members for such closing, during the summer months there was also some opposition from merchants who favor the half-day closing on Wednesdays.

No definite action was taken in the matter, which was referred to a committee for further study.

SHELLIE'S BACK

Yesterday was a big day at the Star office with Capt. Robert S. Hamilton, USAAF, former linotyper, dropping in after 30 months in the ETO.

"Shellie" came back to the States from the Fourth Air Field near Nurnberg in Germany, sailing from LeHavre Mar. 20 on the Navy transport, General Squier, which docked at Pier 51 in New York on March 30. Processing and all the rest at Camp Kilmer, N. J., and the Army Separation Center at Fort Devens kept the "Deacon" busy until Wednesday afternoon when he left Devens for Winchester.

He got a warm welcome at the Star and hasn't changed too much in his absence, though he claims the hair is a little further back. He was in England with the Quartermaster Corps for 17 months, thinks very little of the English system of heating houses, and later spent seven months in France, ending up with six months in Germany. He was transferred from the Q. M. to the Air Forces while on the Continent and was with an Air Borne outfit.

The "Deacon" got a chance at a short vacation in Switzerland, visiting Basle, Zurick and Flims, where he did a spot of skiing. Besides several visits with his father who is a colonel in the Quartermaster Corps, he ran into Major "Ted" Bartlett, high school teacher-coach now in the Air Forces in Austria, whom he met on the Riviera, and Major William Barone, U. S. Army Medical Corps, whom he met in Nurnberg.

Capt. Hamilton is now on terminal leave and expects to be discharged at the end of about 70 days.

WINCHESTER WOMEN'S G. O. P. ANNUAL LUNCHEON AND MEETING APRIL 10

Next Wednesday, April 10, the Winchester Women's Republican Club will again hold its annual meeting and luncheon, but this year it will be at the Masonic Hall where the monthly meetings have taken place.

There is considerable interest aroused among Winchester's Republican Women who are anticipating the talk to be given, following the luncheon, by Archibald R. Giroux, newly elected Mass. Republican State Committee Chairman. He will speak freely and truthfully on the state of affairs in Europe at the close of the war with Germany and up to the present time, since he has just returned from there having served as a Lieutenant Colonel with the A. M. G. Now that he is out of uniform, he thinks the people should know what is not commonly known as to conditions.

Further honored guests at the head table, not previously listed include: Mrs. George Thompson, vice-President of the Melrose Women's Republican as well as the Mass. Women's Republican Club; Mrs. Howard P. Clausson, President of the Wellesley's Women's Republican Club and first vice-President of the Mass. Women's Republican Club; the William I. Palmer, chairman of the first committee of women of the Winchester Republican Town Committee; and Mrs. Alonzo Woodside, Founder and first president of the Winchester Women's Republican Club.

MARINES COMMEND DEMINICO

Frank W. DeMinico of 38 Florence street, a corporal in the United States Marines during World War II, has been notified by General A. A. Vandegrift, commandant of the Marine Corps, that he has been awarded the Commendation Ribbon by the commanding general of the Fleet Marine Corps in the Pacific for meritorious performance of duty during operations against the enemy.

At the time this service was performed Cpl. DeMinico was a private first class. The citation reads, "For meritorious performance of duty while serving as a rifleman in a Marine rifle platoon during operations against the enemy on Kwajelein Atoll, Marshall Islands, Saipan and Tinian, Marianas Islands and Iwo Jima, Volcano Islands, from 31 January, 1944, to 3 March, 1945. While serving on Saipan, due to heavy casualties in his platoon, Pfc. DeMinico assumed command of a squad and performed his duties with the greatest coolness and skill. During the two Iwo Jima operations, again because of heavy casualties, he assumed the duties of a platoon sergeant for a ten day period, and proved his competency and great value to his platoon by his courage, aggressiveness and integrity. Throughout all these operations, despite the fact that his assigned missions required his presence in the immediate front lines over long periods of time and at great personal risk and danger to him, he continually performed his duties in an outstanding manner. . . ."

Miss Lund was given in marriage by her father, Mr. James Lund of Duxbury. With her gown and veil she wore a necklace of twisted strands of seed pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of white lilacs and roses.

Miss Cynthia Newton of Winchester was the bride's honor attendant and Miss Susan Lund of Duxbury was junior bridesmaid. Miss Newton was gowned in light blue faille and carried a nosegay bouquet. The junior bridesmaid wore a pink marquisette dress styled similarly to that of the honor attendant and her bouquet, like the honor maid's, was a nosegay, though smaller in size.

Hugh L. Sowards of West Haven, Conn., was best man for Mr. Otis and the ushers were Albert Coates of Providence, R. I., and William Bacon of Woodbury, Conn.

The wedding reception was held at the Winchester Country Club which was attractively decorated with spring flowers. The mothers of both the bride and bridegroom assisted in receiving.

"Tommy" was a good passer and as good a kicker as the high school has had in recent years. His team won the league championship by beating Belmont 13-6 and later won from Woburn, 6-0, with Tommy outstarring Woburn's great Toby Coates in all departments of play.

Samuel M. Graves

WINCHESTER WAR-TIME PRINCIPAL TO HEAD ATTLEBORO HIGH SCHOOL

Samuel M. Graves, a member of the Winchester High School faculty since 1928, principal of the freshman building from 1936 to 1942 and war-time principal from March 27, 1942, to Jan. 31, 1946, has been unanimously elected high school principal in the City of Attleboro, and has tendered his resignation to the School Committee to become effective with the closing of the current school year in June. Following the return of Principal Wade L. Grindle to school on Feb. 1 of this year, after serving in the Army during the war, Mr. Graves has been acting as director of guidance and assistant principal. He will assume his new duties in Attleboro in the fall.

Born in New Haven, Mr. Graves was graduated from Bates College in the class of 1924, having been president of his senior class, editor-in-chief of the college yearbook, manager of baseball and winning election to the Bates College Club, the highest undergraduate honor obtainable.

For two years after graduation he was an agency organizer in the State of Connecticut for the New York Life Insurance Company, but in 1926 he entered the teaching field as a history teacher at Amesbury High School. Two years later he came to Winchester in a similar capacity. For 18 years he has been an able and extremely popular member of the high school faculty, as a teacher, freshman principal and acting principal.

In addition to his academic duties Mr. Graves served the school for a time as faculty manager of athletics and for 13 years from its inception in 1929 as faculty supervisor of the Aberjona, the senior class yearbook. He has been president of the Teachers' Club of Winchester, member of the Harvard and Mass. State Teachers' Associations, member of the Schoolmasters' Club of Massachusetts, Friday Evening Club of Boston and of William Parkman Lodge of Masons.

He is also head deacon of the First Congregational Church, chairman of the Educational Committee of the Winchester War Veterans' Advisory Committee, has been active in the Parish Players, the Little Theatre Group of the First Congregational Church; and during the war served as director of the Men's Air Raid Precaution School. He has done graduate work at the Bates Summer School, at the Harvard School of Education and at Boston University.

Mr. Graves was elected principal of Attleboro High School exactly four years from the night he was elected acting war-time principal of Winchester High. The Winchester committee named him on a split vote March 27, 1942. He was unanimously chosen in Attleboro March 27, 1946.

It is no secret that the local school authorities regret Mr. Graves' departure, and their regret will be generally shared. Nor will he alone be missed. Mrs. Graves, his wife, has also been unusually active in the civic, dramatic and religious life of the community. Her leadership and assistance will leave gaps in several fields. The Graves have one daughter, Virginia, who is a pupil at the Wyman School.

While regretting the Graves' departure from town their many friends will be pleased to learn of Mr. Graves' professional advancement. The Star joins in congratulations and in best wishes to all the Graves' for the future.

KNOW YOUR PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE WEEK APRIL 7-13

We are accustomed, the year round, to seeing the blue-clad nurse with the black bag hurrying from call to call along the highways and byways of Winchester. Too many of us have taken her for granted and are often vague in our understanding of the work she does in helping to guard the health of our community. Now comes the time when we are asked to join in a community-wide educational program that will make us better acquainted with her work. April 7-13 will be celebrated throughout the country as "Know Your Public Health Nurse Week".

Special booklets describing how public health nurses help families learn the ways to better health, will be distributed in the churches, schools, and at the Public Library. Since April is Cancer Control month, the Winchester District Nursing Association is sponsoring a poster display in the Edison window in cooperation with the Winchester Cancer Control Committee.

Filene's has offered a window on Thompson street to show the activities of the District Nurse in the community. On Wednesday, April 9, Mrs. O'Leary, Executive Director of the Winchester District Nursing Association, will talk to Girl Scout Troop 3 on First Aid in Public Health. This troop of ten year old girls is under the able direction of Mrs. George W. Page, and will meet at the Wyman School.

On Thursday, April 11, the Rotary Club is having as its luncheon speaker, Dr. A. Daniel Rubenstein, District Health Officer of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, who will present matters of vital interest in Public Health to the members and their guests. At the High School Assembly on Friday, April 12, Mrs. O'Leary, introduced by Mrs. Savage, the School Nurse, will describe to the students the part which the District Nurse plays in the Public Health in Winchester.

A sound film strip called "Your Friend, the Public Health Nurse" will be shown Friday evening, April 12, at 7:30, and Saturday morning, April 13, at 10:15 at the Library, along with the regular movie programs given at those times. Through the courtesy of Miss Mead, the Winchester District Nursing Association is able to present this highly instructive picture designed especially to help the average citizen to understand and use available public health nursing service. Old and young alike will find something of real interest and lasting value in this film. Be sure to see it.

From April 7 through April 13, the major net-works throughout the nation will participate in, "Know Your Public Health Nurse Week," through various programs on the air.

Listen to the special broadcasts on M. B. S. at 10 p. m. on Sunday, April 7, for "Freedom of Opportunity;" and on C. B. S. at 11:30 p. m. on Thursday, April 11, for "Crusader in Low Heels."

DIAMOND ANNIVERSARY

Easter Sunday has not only spiritual significance for the parishioners of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church but it also marks the observance of the 75th anniversary of Methodism in Winchester.

Quite appropriately the most inspiring speaker for the Easter service and the speaker most enthusiastically requested by the congregation is Rev. Harris E. Heverly, pastor of the church. As he delivers his splendid Easter message of hope and spiritual awakening he weaves into his discourse a vigorous challenge to the future in his sermon "To Be Continued."

On Wednesday evening, April 24 at 6:30 p. m. a birthday party to which former pastors and their wives, servicemen connected with the parish and other special guests will bring together all the families of the parish for a homecoming reunion.

Further plans include the special Sunday morning service on April 28 when an outstanding speaker will emphasize the place of the [illegible] in the church today.

On April 17 seven young men from the Winchester-Stoneham draft district will go to Fort Banks for physical examination, being probably called for service in May. April 18 thirteen inductees will leave town to be inducted at Fort Banks if the local board can get that many from the lists available.

NEW HIGHLAND AVENUE BUS

Winchester now has a new bus route between Winchester Square and the Highlands running over Highland Avenue. Daily service is furnished from 7:05 a. m. to 8:15 p. m., with Sunday service from 10 a. m. to 10:30 p. m.

The new service between Winchester Highlands and Arlington is now on a 20-minute service weekdays and Sundays.

The Melrose-Woburn division is also running on an increased schedule.

"Red Cross is ever at his side"

You and all willing Americans make this slogan a reality.

The immediate call from your local chapter of the American Red Cross is for women who will help make the 1000 garments that we pledged to UNNRA by June 30. If every woman in Winchester, who can sew, will give as freely as possible of her time then the 1000 garments can be ready by June 30.

We need your help. Europe needs clothes.

Have You A Room You'll Rent To A Returned Veteran?

No need to talk about the housing shortage. But there is a vital need to do something about it! If you have a room that you'll rent to a veteran, will you let us know about it?

Since one of the most frequent requests which we get from returning veterans is "Where can I get a room?", the Winchester War Veterans Advisory Committee is compiling a list of rooms that are available in Winchester.

So if there is a vacant room in your house and you are willing to rent it to a returned veteran, will you call the Winchester War Veterans Advisory Center and let us know about it? We'll put you in touch with the boy who wants that room. It is just another way of expressing appreciation for the job he's done.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB IN WALTHAM CONCERT

As a tribute to its director, William J. Cruger, shown above, the Mystic Glee Club, Winchester's male chorus, goes to Waltham Monday night for a concert at Mr. Cruger's church, the First Parish, Unitarian. The concert will mark one of the highlights of the celebration now going on of this church's two hundred and fifteenth birthday.

Mr. Cruger was one of the founders of the Mystic Glee Club and recently returned to resume his directorship after two and a half years spent in engineering operations of the Army Air Corps. Winchesterites who heard the brilliant concert of the Club at the High School Auditorium last Spring, directed by Donald Leslie Marshall, will remember the hit made by the singing of the Whiffenpoof Song, directed by Mr. Cruger in uniform, here on furlough.

BENEFIT FOR SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

Mrs. Lyman Smith, Chairman of the General Committee of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, announced this week that the Parish Players will give a benefit performance of "You Can't Take It With You" on Thursday, April 25, to raise funds for the Foundation.

At a meeting of the General Committee on Friday, March 29, members of the Scholarship Committee were elected. Mr. John Donovan for four years, Mrs. Henry K. Spencer for three years, Mr. Ben R. Schneider for two years, Mrs. George I. Chatfield for 1 year. Mr. Wade Grindle as principal of the High School will serve as the fifth member.

The Winchester Scholarship Foundation exists as a trust to raise and receive funds for scholarships for graduates of the Winchester High School. Many of the organizations in town which have raised money for scholarships in the past have joined the Foundation and each organization which contributes appoints one member to the General Committee. Perhaps the most important function of the Foundation is that the Scholarship Committee will use impartial and scientific methods in scoring the candidates for scholarships and will make available its lists of top ranking candidates to all organizations interested in providing scholarships for high school graduates. Any organization or individual may use the lists for awarding scholarships regardless of membership in the Foundation. In this way the Scholarship Committee will save Organizations an enormous amount of duplicating work. Furthermore the Foundation makes it possible for individuals to make small contributions to scholarship work. The funds are capably administered by three trustees, Mr. James Nowell, Mr. Joseph Worthen and Mr. Robert Stone.

Other officers of the Foundation are: Mrs. George Marks, Secretary of the General Committee, Mr. Leslie J. Scott, Secretary-Treasurer of the Foundation and Mrs. Philip J. Woodward, Publicity Director.

The offer of the Parish Players to present a benefit performance will probably make an additional scholarship available this year. All friends of the Foundation are urged to make their reservations early by calling Mrs. J. Waldo Bond at Winchester 0856. The success which greeted the performance of "You Can't Take It With You" when the Parish Players originally presented it in 1938 prompted the demand for the revival of the play. In the long list of the Parish Players' successes this is one of the most outstanding.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

The board held their monthly meeting Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m. at Lyceum Hall. In the absence of President Mrs. Michael Hintlian, who is vacationing in the South, Vice President Mrs. Wm. Murray conducted the meeting.

Plans were made for the auction thrift sale which will be held for members and friends at the regular meeting next Tuesday, April 9 at 2:30 p. m. at Lyceum Hall. Tea will be served. This will also be a Donation Day for the annual rummage sale which the Guild will conduct at Lyceum Hall on Thursday, April 11 for the public from 10 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

There will be a miscellaneous array of articles, everything from household goods, clothing, lamps, china, rugs and things too numerous to mention. Mrs. Joseph McGarrigle and Mrs. Robert Cavanagh will be co-chairman and will be assisted by a large committee.

Members and friends are urged to attend and donations are requested in aid of this worthy charity.

MRS. ADA C. WOODS

Mrs. Ada C. Woods, wife of Owen J. Woods of 26 Stoddard street, Woburn, who died March 28 at her home after a long illness, was a former Winchester girl, having spent most of her early life in this town and being educated in the Winchester schools.

Mrs. Woods was the daughter of William and Susan (McKee) Stevenson. She was born in Woburn in 1893, but came to Winchester as a girl. She was a member of the Winchester Congregational Church and until she became ill she had been active in the affairs of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Woods leaves, three daughters, Eleanor and Ada Cadell Woods, both of Woburn, and Mrs. George Pike of Malden; a son, William Joseph, of Woburn; a sister, Miss Olive Stevenson of Winchester; six brothers, John, Clarence, Herbert, Earl, and Robert Stevenson, all of Winchester, Hugh Stevenson of Brighton; and one grandchild.

Private funeral services were conducted at the P. J. Cox and Sons Funeral Home in Woburn Monday afternoon by Rev. Robert Munson Grey, pastor of the Woburn First Congregational Church. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

The Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday, April 9 at 11 o'clock.

Luncheon will be at 1 o'clock. The speaker at 2 p. m. will be Mrs. Chester Cook and her subject, "Flower Arrangements in the Home."

Mrs. Cook is well known in Winchester as she has decorated for many weddings. She also has been among the leaders in the annual flower shows. An interesting and instructive afternoon is promised.

WEATHER VARIABLE!

Last Friday afternoon it was from 81 to 86 degrees in Winchester, people were hanging on the ropes, soda fountains were working overtime and we saw one couple sheltering from the sun in the shade cast by the Christmas tree on the Common.

Monday as local shopkeepers hustled briskly to open up the glass stood at a cool 24 and the old winter overcoat and "long ones" felt mightily grateful.

WINCHESTER CIRCLE BOARD TO MEET

The Winchester Florence Crittenton Circle board meeting will take place at Hartwell Farm, Tuesday, April 9 with Mrs. Herbert Waite, co-chairman, of social service as hostess.

Members of the board will meet at the home of Mrs. Walter Winship, president, 49 Oxford street at 12:15.

REP. ROGERS FOR CANCER CONTROL

Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers spoke on the House floor Monday concerning her resolution adopted by Congress in 1938 authorizing the President to issue a proclamation each year making April "Cancer Control Month."

She said in part, "Mr. Speaker, today begins Cancer Control Month. I am grateful to the House and Senate for having passed some years ago the Resolution which I introduced authorizing the President to declare April not a month of national holiday, but a month of hard work, of publicity and information in which the eradication and control of cancer should go forward."

WINCHESTER LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The Winchester League of Women Voters held their Annual meeting April first in the auditorium of the Winchester High School.

The speaker for the evening was Francis H. Russell of the State Department, Mrs. Henry S. B. Magruder president of the Winchester League presided and in her usual charming and efficient manner introduced the speaker.

Mr. Russell spoke on (Our Role as a State and as a community in world affairs). He explained Foreign Policy as a complex fact. He also told how the poll of Public opinion works in the State as well as in the nation. He gave brief thought to Russia the way to deal with her and the way to understand her.

Later he answered questions from the audience. The Lecture was well attended.

PRIMARY GRADE TEACHERS TO HEAR DR. ANITA REISS

On Monday, April 8, Dr. Anita Riess, Professor of Education and Psychology at William Penn College of Oskaloosa, Iowa, will be the guest speaker at a primary grade teachers' meeting to be held in the Lincoln School assembly hall at 4 p. m. The public is cordially invited.

Dr. Riess and Dr. Maurice Hartung of the University of Chicago are co-authors of a series of readiness charts, a completely different approach to the development of a concept of numbers. Dr. Riess will highlight some of the problems children face in their early efforts to master number.

Because the approach to number readiness is still in the stages of research, parents may be interested in attending this meeting.

LEGION TO HAVE BASEBALL TEAM

Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, is to sponsor a baseball team this season, according to announcement made last week-end by Stanley Barnes. The Legion has had successful nines in the past, one shortly after World War I handled by the late George LeDuc, with the Mathews brothers, Joe and the late Ernie, as battery; and another, a few years later, handled by Charlie Flaherty, with a Woburn battery of Ken Weafer and Holy Cross "Eddie" Doherty.

This year's nine will play in the newly forming American Legion League, and so far as possible veterans will be favored as players. This does not mean that any one who wants to play ball this summer can not try out for the team. Indeed all are urged to do so and to contact the manager, Charles D. "Chucker" Roche, either at 32 Westley street or by phone, Win. 1750-R, if interested.

In securing Roche to handle the team, the Legion has an experienced baseball man. "Chucker" played schoolboy ball at Woburn High when the tanners were among the interscholastic elite. At Tufts he was as good a center fielder as there was in college ball. "Chucker" was among the best outfielders hereabouts while playing for such teams as the Lynn Cornets and Marblehead. He has also coached at Woburn High, his teams always giving good accounts of themselves. He ought to make an ideal man to manage the new Legion team, and surely the town is ever-ripe for some good summer ball.

WINCHESTER CARDS WON

The Winchester Cardinals won from the Horn Pond Muskrats last Sunday afternoon, 10-8, at the Woburn High School athletic field. Charlie Merenda's two-bagger was the longest hit of the game. Noonan pitched well for the Cardinals. The summary:

K. OF C. NOTES

All brothers are urged not to forget that this Sunday, April 7, is the annual communion breakfast of the local council. Mass and communion will be held at 8 o'clock in St. Mary's Church. Breakfast will be served at the Winchester Town Hall following the church services. The committee in charge of the breakfast have obtained the services of Rev. Thomas J. Feeney, S. J., of Weston College, noted speaker on Labor and Communism. This year's breakfast promises to be the largest ever had by the council.

The council was very pleased to hear the past week of the candidacy of brother member George F. Young for the office of State Warden. Bro. George who is a past grand knight of the council and now a district deputy, has been responsible for putting the Winchester council into the limelight throughout the State, and deserves the fullest cooperation of all the brothers in his quest for state office.

Brother "Mike" Foley chairman of the "Gay Ninety's" party to be held Saturday April 27 at the Town Hall announces that tickets are now on sale. Tickets are priced at $1.00 and are available to the public. This year's party from all indications promises to surpass the party held last year. This year's party will be a costumed one, so get out your bustles and handlebar mustaches, and be on hand for the gala occasion.

All brothers are reminded not to forget the whist and bridge party that Bro. Earle Smith is running in aid of the Fr. Williams Charity Fund. The party is to be at the K. of C. hall on May 2nd. Earle who has just recently been discharged from the navy, after serving the past three years in the S. Pacific has seen the crying need of the missionarys in the West Indies and relates that he wants to make this party a huge success, all proceeds of the party will be sent to Fr. Williams in aid of his missionary work. So get the good word around and let's make this a big success.

Well the Elks overcame an early lead of the Knights and won the annual winter card supremacy held yearly between the two local teams. The Knights card committee are now making plans to have a chiken dinner for the winners. This is the first time that the dinners have been on the Knights. The past two "feeds" have been on the Elks.

Plans to have a K. of C. soft ball team are being formulated, and practice will be held next Sunday, April 7 at Ginn field at 3 p. m. Any brother interested should be there. Last year's star third baseman, John Swymer will manage the club.

So Don't Forget Communion Breakfast Sunday April 7. Be There.

NORRIS THIRD IN INTER-COLLEGIATE SWIM

Forbes Norris, Jr., better known as "Tell" and son of Winchester's superintendent of schools, Forbes R. Norris and Mrs. Norris of Church street, placed third last week-end in the 1500 meter swim at the National Collegiate swimming meet held in the Yale University pool at New Haven.

Swimming the 1500 meter was new for "Tell", who has been competing in the 440 event all winter. Incidentally he has won every race in which he has participated in Harvard's dual meets. He was in very fast company at New Haven last week-end, and the fact that he is only a 17 year old freshman, while the winner was a 27 year old Naval veteran, makes his third place medal glow the brighter.

"Ted" was one of two competitors chosen to represent Harvard at the National meet. His three points topped by two the total Yale's crack team was able to garner from the championship competition which didn't hurt the Norris feelings any.

As a sort of extra premium for his fine swimming Ted got himself a husky case of Measles and has been out of circulation pretty nearly ever since the meet.

JOHNSON TO REMAIN IN SOUTH

Art Johnson, Winchester boy trying to make a pitching comeback with the Boston National League baseball team, is back with the club after visiting a specialist in St. Louis, Mo.

Johnson's talented left arm went bad before he entered the service, but not until he had made an enviable record with Hartford and the Braves, convincing the Boston club that he was a most promising young pitcher.

During the war Art served in the Navy and many believed he would not return to baseball. Once out of uniform, however, the lure of the diamond was too strong and the former high school and Millionaires' star went South to attempt a comeback.

The old arm didn't respond the way Art hoped it would and in an effort to get at the bottom of his trouble Art went to St. Louis to visit Dr. Hyland, who did so much for Mort Cooper, former Cardinal's ace, now with the Braves.

Dr. Hyland found the Winchester boy suffering from scar-tissues in the shoulder and recommended lots of heat for the trouble. As a consequence Johnson will stay in Florida with Al Javery, another ailing pitcher, to absorb all the southern sun possible.

Art and Al will stay with the Braves Indianapolis Club in Florida. Later Johnson will report to Boston's minor league team in Greenwood, Miss., to see if he can get round into shape once more to take his turn in big league ball.

BADMINTON ELECTS

The Winchester Badminton Association took time out from play on April 2 to elect the board of five governors suggested by its nominating committee.

From this group of five, Whit Gray was then unanimously elected president for the 1946-1947 season. The Board then chose Brad Hersey and Doris Wheeler to succeed themselves as treasurer and secretary respectively. Harry Bean and Jim Cleaves, past president of the Association, are the other two members.

Next Tuesday evening, April 9, will be the last meeting for play of the present season. Attendance has been quite good this winter, so that during 1946-47 it ought to be possible to reestablish tournament play within the Association and renew contacts with outside clubs for team play. Readers will recall that this association is self-supporting; members pay 50 cents each evening they play, or a maximum of $5 for the season. "Birdies" are no more expensive than tennis balls, and for one thin dime per evening you can rent a racket if you don't want to buy one.

Those interested might drop around the High School gym next Tuesday at 7:30 and keep badminton in mind for next winter as a good form of light exercise and a source of town and inter-club sociability.

HOLE-IN-ONE AT COUNTRY CLUB

Dave White, golf professional at the Winchester Country Club, while playing around with O. D. Clark, J. E. Willing and P. O. Farrar last Sunday afternoon, made a hole-in-one at the 160-yard ninth hole with a No. 5 iron.

It was Dave's second ace, and is believed to be the season's first hole-in-one in this section. Even if he had done it before, the popular pro was very happy about his feat.

Her hand reaches out to help you . . .

She's your public health nurse. Sometimes she's called the "visiting nurse." Perhaps you've seen her hurrying down the street on her way to the room of a crippled child or the bed of a tired, pain-racked mother. Doctors are glad to have her standing beside them. She knows most of the streets in your town, for pain and sickness may strike anywhere. Children watch for her, knowing that she brings security, comfort, hope. Things just seem brighter because she's there.

April 7 to 13 is Know Your Public Health Nurse Week.
This is a good time to find out just how much the public health nurse does in your community, what she can do should you or someone in your family need part-time nursing care in your home. The nurse shortage still is acute—particularly in hospitals—so it's heartening to know you can turn to the public health nurse for skillful care. She is a registered graduate nurse, expected to have special postgraduate training.

About 20,000 public health nurses are on call in the United States. In one day each nurse can make seven or eight visits and often reaches as many as 50 people through classes and clinics. A small fee is charged those able to pay; otherwise her services are free. For more information, please call your local health department, visiting nurse association or write to the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, Incorporated, 1790 Broadway, New York 19, N. MALICE IN WONDERLAND

Whenever some conservative man in Congress or business tries to trim government spending because it is adding to our staggering national debt, he is shouted down by those starry-eyed lads (whose thinking has a foreign accent) with the statement, "The size of the debt does not matter because we owe it only to ourselves."

If that is sound economics, then here's an easy way for everybody to have that more abundant life without the hard work so many Americans seem so anxious to shun. Let's have the government issue $100,000 in government bonds to every citizen. Then we can ALL retire and live on the income.

—An advertisement in Newsweek by Warner and Swasey.

And the milking of America goes merrily on.

NEW DEAL PHILOSOPHY

Have the government spend as much as it can get its hands on.

Stop everybody else from spending to prevent inflation.

Very soft for the New Dealers!

Ed Sanderson

Dear Editor:

Your paper is certainly a veritable "Town Meeting" in itself wherein we Winchesterites can either let off steam or plead for this and that. May you continue to bear with the multitude of comments and gripes that you must receive and publish them for us to see. I would like to pat you yourself, Mr. Editor, this time for your successful campaign to have the snow removal dumped elsewhere than on Manchester Field. I have noticed recently how nice the field looks and how sound your pleadings to have snow dumped elsewhere were.

I would like to praise Mr. Park's suggestion of the 3-3 plan which was in last week's Star for the present High School and Junior High. The 7th, 8th and 9th grades in the Junior High and the 10th, 11th and 12th grades in the present High School with great improvements sounds good!

I would like to have the Town Meeting member who let us down at the meeting when he found a novel means of unloading the important discussions going on, (item in last week's Star) found out and removed. I hope his own precinct members know who he is.

Best wishes for your continued successful paper.

Socrates II

A GOOD YANKEE SWAP!

To the Editor of the Star:

I was very much interested in some of the suggestions by Mr. Frederick B. Parks in your last week's issue for solving the High School problem. I heartily endorse his general scheme. By transferring the Junior High School to the present Senior High School building and making necessary changes and additions to the present Junior High School building to accommodate the Senior High School two problems will be solved —the taxpayer's problem and the school problem. I further suggest that by incorporating an overhead foot bridge of artistic design to connect Manchester Field the athletic activities can be carried on to much better advantage and, if necessary, a stadium and athletic field house can be built on the field.

Do you realize that the Ginn Estate is now bringing in about $3,500.00 in yearly taxes? If properly developed with houses this income to the Town will be greatly increased which will be sorely needed in the near future. The Ginn Estate may be in the geographical center of the town but it is far from the center of the school population.

This week a large private school was started at the Sanborn lot on High street. It will have a decided effect on our school population. Let's not go crazy at this time! First see how the cat is going to jump.

PEOPLE LACK OPPORTUNITY TO READ BILL

March 30, 1946

To the Editor of the Star:

Don't you think it is only fair to present both sides of a controversial matter in your paper? I am referring to the Wagner, Murray Dingell Medical Bill.

For several weeks the Doctors and Dentists of Winchester ran full-page advertisements condemning the Bill; and you, yourself, Mr. Editor, criticized the Bill as another New Deal measure that would take us all to the cleaners. But what opportunity have the people of Winchester been given to read the Bill itself, or an intelligent and fair summary thereof? None. We are supposed to follow blindly the opinions of the Doctors who apparently think that the layman must be told what is good for him. Well, I don't like being led around by the nose, and I believe that I and the rest of the Winchester people are capable of fairly judging vital issues if ALL the facts are presented.

Frankly, I don't know what the merits or demerits of this Bill are, but I'm certainly not going to be against it arbitrarily merely because it is a New Deal measure and because the AMA doesn't like it. I wonder how many people who blithely sign it up their opposition really had read the Bill?

Some people may feel that there are so many vital issues today that one must rely on expert opinion to make up one's mind. I will go along with this opinion partly, but only to the extent that the experts are disinterested parties. The Doctors are not disinterested parties regarding the Bill, because they seem to feel that their professional life will be restricted and their earnings less. Maybe this is so. We don't know.

I am putting the following in the form of a shrill cry to the Doctors and Dentists of Winchester, few of whom I have a very high regard. This is a friendly argument, so far as I am concerned, and I know they will consider it as such. I now ask them to—

1. Acquaint the people of Winchester with the wording of the Bill itself.

2. Prove that such a Bill "has failed wherever tried."

3. Prove that the Bill "will be expensive and inefficient."

4. Prove that the Bill will be a "threat to the quality of your medical care." (Surely the good Doctors do not threaten to let us all die off if the Bill is passed!)

If the Doctors will do the above, I promise to return to the fold with the other 90 and 9.

NEW VETERANS ORGANIZATION

To the Editor of the Star:

We should like to take this opportunity to present to the people of Winchester, the motives which have caused certain of the local veterans of World War II, to affiliate themselves with a young and growing national organization, rather than become members of one of the established organizations.

Ever since the time of discharge, we have felt the need of an organization of our own. After close study of all existing societies, we found that the American Veterans' Committee answered our every need. First of all, we believe veterans have the right and duty to help shape the future of this community, this country, and this world. The American Veterans' Committee will reflect our desire to advance the public welfare. Our motto is "Citizens first,—Veterans second."

We have been told that the influence of those who fought this war will be the most powerful in postwar America. Many special interests would like to capture and use that influence. Most of us don't care to be captured or used, preferring to make our own way.

Now, just what is the American Veterans' Committee. It is an incorporated organization of World War II veterans—men and women alike, founded by five servicemen in 1943. It is growing constantly and is now adding 2500 new members each week. The number of National chapters is already in three figures and we have 27 overseas service chapters meeting throughout Europe and the Pacific.

The list of members in the American Veterans' Committee is impressive: Col. Evans Carlson, Bill Mauldin, Ronald Regan, Quen Roosevelt, Jr., Harold Stassen, Will Rogers, Jr., as well as war correspondents; Richard Tregaskis, Col. Bob Allen and John Hay Whitney.

It was the American Veterans' Committee that strongly supported General Omar Bradley when he was attacked by other groups; condemned through press and radio stories any attempt by any one veterans organization to maintain a strangle hold on the Veterans Administration.

We veterans in Winchester, have always been more closely knit than those of the average community. We are acutely aware of the problems that the veteran faces. And it is only by organizing that we can accomplish our aim: "A more democratic and prosperous America in a more stable World."

Very truly yours,
A. H. Tetreault, Jr.

GOLDBERG—SNYDER

A marriage of Winchester interest took place at Temple Sinai in Brookline Wednesday evening, April 3, when Miss Vera M. Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris L. Snyder of Hillcrest Parkway, became the bride of Melvin M. Goldberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Goldberg of Winthrop. The 7 o'clock ceremony was performed by Rabbi Burrell Cohon in an attractive setting of gladiolas and palms.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Snyder was attended by her sister, Miss Shirley Snyder of Winchester, as maid of honor, and by James Norman Showstack of Wakefield, small nephew of the groom, who was ring-bearer.

The bride wore a white faille gown, styled with a sweetheart neckline and bouffant skirt. Her long tulle veil was arranged with a minister of handmade flowers and in place of the conventional bouquet she carried a bible with a shower of white orchids.

The honor maid wore a Delft blue faille dress with matching headdress and carried a sheaf of American Beauty roses combined with blue delphinium. The ring-bearer wore a white tie and tails.

Ralph Marcus of Winthrop, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and the usher corps, all the members of which were war veterans, included Lester and Sydney Goldberg of Winthrop, brothers of the bridegroom; Bernhart Snyder of Winchester, brother of the bride; Dr. Irving Showstack of Wakefield, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; M. Melvin Goldberg of Milton, cousin of the bridegroom; Leo Ross of Winthrop, David Leventhal of Winthrop, and Richard Linsky of Brookline.

A reception was held after the marriage service in the Crystal Room of the Hotel Kenmore in Boston. The parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisted in receiving.

Upon their return from a motor honeymoon trip to the Northwest, Mr. and Mrs. Goldberg will make their home in Lynn.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Lesley College. Mr. Goldberg, a graduate of Winthrop High School and Boston University, was recently discharged from the United States Army after two years service as a warrant officer in the European Theatre of Operations.

RESOLUTION

The Ministers' Association of Winchester goes on record as being opposed to the establishment of a dog track in Burlington, Mass.

We believe that the moral influence such an enterprise so near Winchester would be extremely detrimental, especially to our young people. In a period of postwar moral collapse such as exists throughout the nation we oppose a gambling project so near at hand, with all its attendant objectionable features.

We are also opposed to this project on account of the type of traffic which it would involve on the part of many race-track supporters passing through this town. Our traffic is already congested. Latter is thrown out of car windows along Cambridge street and other highways from out-of-state automobiles. Such a atmosphere created by such traffic would be anything but healthful.

We call on the voters of Winchester to oppose this project, by communicating with their representatives and by attending the public hearing before the Race-track Commission when it is held in Boston.

Secretary

SONS OF ITALY NOTES

The crack degree team of Winchester Lodge has been reorganized after three and one-half years, during which most of the members were in the Armed Services. Dr. Angelo L. Maietta, who wrote the ritual and lyrics for the ritualistic hymn, is directing the team which has already installed at Melrose and conducted an initiation at its home lodge in Winchester. Much favorable comment was occasioned by the work of the team at Melrose where a fine impression was made.

April bids fair to be a busy month for the Degree Team, there being some ten or twelve installations and initiations already lined up at which the members will officiate. Local lodge members are proud of the team which is doing so much to publicise Winchester Lodge in Sons of Italy circles.

VETERANS HAVE FIRST MEETING

The American Veteran's Committee, Winchester Chapter, held their first meeting in the town library Wednesday evening. The purpose of the meeting was to explain just what the AVC means and to interest Winchester veterans in the organization, giving them an opportunity to express their ideas on veterans organizations in general.

Mr. McLaughlin, past chairman of the Cambridge chapter, addressed the meeting. He told how the organization had been formed, and then gave some of its national achievements. He explained the manner in which the Cambridge chapter had been formed and told how it had already solidified its position in Cambridge. Mr. McLaughlin then answered several questions from the floor. He emphasized that the AVC stands for citizens first, veterans second.

The meeting was thrown open to questions from the veterans addressed to the group of Winchester Veterans who applied for the charter. The most debated question was that of why join the AVC when there is already an American Legion group as well as VFW chapter in town. It was stressed that the policies and preoccupations of the traditional veteran's organization did not respond to the hopes, needs, and aims of the new body of veterans. It was pointed out that while the American Legion had campaigned for job preference and employment for every veteran, the AVC wanted employment for every American. The AVC does not wish to divorce itself from citizens of the country. They do not wish to have a pressure group striving for special benefits for veterans alone. The new veteran is not an isolationist. The program set up for the American legion to lobby for was recently stated in The New York Daily news as follows: Defeat the proposed loans to Russia and England; Push through a bonus to be spent in this country if these loans to Russia and England are pushed through. On the other hand the AVC stands for strong internationalism as the only means of avoiding a third World War. The AVC stands for the whole rather than a segment of the population composed of veterans.

The second most important point of discussion was that of the political position that the AVC proposed to take. Locally the AVC is particularly anxious that it not be classified a pressure group, a political action organization. The new veteran wants to take an active interest in local, national and international affairs. He feels that it is the responsibility of his town to keep him fully informed on local affairs, and the responsibility of his country to keep him fully informed on national affairs so that he may be able to speak, think and vote intelligently. His primary interest is in being an intelligent citizen and in helping his comrades to a good citizenship. The American soldier's greatest ambition is to become a successful civilian in a successful community and that is the purpose of the AVC.

The AVC is also a fraternal organization. It wishes to provide an opportunity for the veterans to get together and have a good time. It will be a means for the veterans of the town to acquire a wider friendship, based on a common ground.

The local chapter is particularly interested in having all sections of it represented all age groups widely represented. It hopes as is the best possible step towards a greater democracy. The AVC is definitely not a purely young man's organization, nor is it an East Side, West Side, North End, South End, Good People, Not-so-good People group. It is interested in the whole.

To be active and to acquire stature, the AVC needs many members. If you are interested in joining this group, there is literature available in the library.

Anyone who does wish to join may do so at the library Monday and Wednesday nights 7:30-9.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, April 17, at the library at 7:30.

ADDRESSES SENIOR FORUM

The Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will begin the seventh and last of the Winter-Spring series this Sunday morning in Ripley Chapel. The speaker is an old favorite of Forum members, and needs no introduction to Winchester people. Dr. Booth was a member of the original faculty of the Senior Forum in 1937. Since then he has spoken each year prior to the Easter services. He will deal this week with the life of Jesus, giving to every listener a vital and living picture to carry through the year.

Robert Singer, Forum representative from the Freshman class, will serve as Chaplain for the morning.

At the close of the Ripley Chapel service, Forum members will attend the main church service to see and hear Dr. Douglas Horton, minister of the Congregational denomination, who will be the guest of Dr. Chidley.

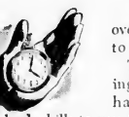
Why throw minutes away?



The other day, we heard about an interesting experiment a checking account depositor had made. He had fourteen bills to pay. So he paid each one in person with cash, and kept track of how long it took. He walked to the stores. At some places he had to wait in line; at others he had to wait for change. When he had completed his rounds, he walked home. It had taken him over two hours to do the job.

The following month he had sixteen bills to pay. This time he sat at his desk, wrote a check for each one, addressed envelopes and mailed them at the nearest post box. It took him 34 minutes—exactly one-fourth of the time it took him to pay with cash.

And that is only one of many reasons why a checking account at our bank can be useful to you.

ROTARY NOTES

A vivid story of Siam and its native customs, religions, and political concepts was presented to the members and guests of the Winchester Rotary Club at the regular noon meeting by Mr. Carle C. Zimmermann, a resident of Winchester and Professor of Sociology at Harvard University. Professor Zimmermann has traveled extensively in the interior of the Far Eastern countries and he actually experienced many of the instances which he recounted. At the conclusion of his remarks, he was warmly complimented on the manner in which he discussed his topic.

For the second time since returning from active service with the Armed Forces, "Charlie" Murphy was announced as the winner of the Victory Bond drawing.

On the occasion of his birthday anniversary, "Gus" Hakanson was called upon for a vow and received the well wishes of his fellow club members.

The steak luncheon served by the caterer was particularly appealing to the epicurean tastes of "Gordon" Bird, and "Emil", the head chef, received a round of applause in appreciation of his very palatable menu.

Reservation blanks may be obtained from the president by all of those who are planning to attend the Annual Spring Conference, to be held at the Hotel Statler, Boston, on April 17.

Two large steam shovels were loaded on flat cars at the freight yards off Swanton street this week. They were too heavy to cross the railroad bridge at Swanton street and had to cross on Cross street, then come down Loring avenue.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE NOTES

The Winchester School Committee at a regular meeting on Monday evening of this week at the Administration Building approved the appointment of Mr. Lawrence J. Kean of 114 Pond street, Winchester, as janitor of the Wyman School. Mr. Kean began his work on Monday.

The following resignations were accepted:

Mrs. Jeanette Mullin Holik, teacher of kindergarten at George Washington, School.

Miss Alma Stoddart, Supervisor of Music.

Mr. George Morgan, janitor at the Lincoln School.

Mr. Robert Swenson, Guidance Director at the High School.

Mrs. Caroline Dresser, Principal of the Mystic School.

Transfer of janitors places Mr. Peter Benson in the Lincoln School, Mr. Bernard F. Cullen in the Wadleigh Building of the High School, and Mr. Lawrence Kean in the Wyman School.

Chairman Neil Borden and Mr. Hazen Ayer of the Committee were elected to serve on the Committee for School Facilities and Activities established by the voters at the recent Town Meeting.

The School Committee rescinded their vote pertaining to the granting of school credit for military service. This action will not affect those already in the service, but applies to all students entering military service on or after September 1, 1946.

During the war years pupils who entered the service between the end of the first term and the end of the school year were graduated with their classes, provided their school work had been satisfactory at the time of their departure.

Pupils are now permitted to complete their high school course prior to induction, thus removing the necessity for giving credit toward graduation for basic training or for regular scholastic courses offered as a part of their training or taken during leisure time.

"G. I. SMOKER" PLANNED

Plans are underway for a "Large" evening for every veteran of World War II. It is expected the entire seating capacity of the Town Hall floor will be required for the veterans, and the balcony for their relatives and friends. Arrangements are being made for a speaker of National Prominence. Musical numbers will feature the program. "Smokes" and refreshments will be provided without charge to veterans of World War II. Altogether it will be an evening marking the sort of welcome our returned military and naval personnel deserve to demonstrate to them the thanks and appreciation of our townspeople.

An active committee of Winchester Post No. 97 American Legion is in charge of arrangements. The date will soon be announced.

Higgins, author and lecturer of New York City, says of Miss Barnes: She is an exceedingly versatile performer. Rarely does one find a young dramatic artist who excels in so many kinds of characterizations. Her talent and her personal charm unite to make her work most enjoyable."

WYMAN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Wyman School Hall and its kindergarten were both filled to capacity at the Fashion Show sponsored by the Wyman School Mothers' Association on April 3. The stage, on which the styles were shown, was transformed into an art gallery decorated with huge vases of forsythia making stunning splashes of gold against the black side hangings which contrasted effectively with the golden tapestry in the back. An antique chest, topped by an artistic arrangement of branches, struck an interesting note much appreciated by the audience.

The dessert was served by Mr. Ralph Swan heading a committee consisting of Mrs. William Connell, Mrs. William Rodgers, Mrs. Charles Jellison, Mrs. Ralph Dittmar, Mrs. Kimball Archibald, Mrs. Milton Handford, Mrs. Norman Roberts, Mrs. Arne Gudheim, Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth, Mrs. Joseph Donnell, Mrs. James Donaldson, Mrs. Milne Blanchard, Mrs. William Perry, Mrs. George Collins, Mrs. Samuel Graves, Mrs. Elsworth Nichols, Mrs. Alexander Aitken, Mrs. William Speers, Mrs. Franklin McDermott and Mrs. Antonio Mezzacappa.

After an introduction by Miss Tilley, manager of Filene's of Winchester, which exhibited the fashions, Mrs. Janet Jordan, coordinator of fashions for Filene's branch stores, commented on the styles shown. Musical accompaniment was most ably handled by Mrs. George Witham who varied the mood of the music to suit the various costumes, which ranged from sport to evening wear. The emphasis of the first group was on "shortie" coats, boxed, belted and swagger. Suits, slacks, shorts and bathing suits were modeled, to be followed by afternoon dresses. Many striking evening gowns, some simple dinner dresses, and one notable off-the-shoulder model, wound up the show.

The ticket committee, in charge of Mrs. Arthur Hertig, included Mrs. Malcolm Burr, Mrs. Robert Fletcher, Mrs. R. Alan Page, and Mrs. Robert Thomson.

TEA AND SALE

The Bethany Society of the Second Congregational Church, is sponsoring a tea and sale, on Wednesday afternoon, April 10. The tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Gerry Waite, who is a well known Winchester hostess.

The ladies of the Society have been busy for some time preparing the articles that will be put on sale. And a large gathering has been anticipated.

Mrs. Waite is now residing at 46 Church street, a very central location for our friends in Winchester. The tea has been opened to the public and it is hoped that many will take advantage of this friendly afternoon meeting.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL TO MEET APRIL 11

April 11, at 10 o'clock in the library is the time arranged for the next meeting of the Winchester Women's Council, to which all women of Winchester are invited. Plans for this meeting were finally drawn up at the executive committee meeting held Friday March 29, at the home of Mrs. Theodore Browne, president.

Since April is set aside as Cancer Control Month, and with the desire to co-operate with the Mass. Department of Public Health Miss Florence A. Welch, education worker for that department, will be here to tell what is hoped to be gained from the Winchester organization recently organized in the interests of this worthwhile undertaking.

Also, the Flower Mission, which flourished so successfully before the war is to be revived and information as to why it exists and what it does will be presented.

If time permits, there will be an open discussion concerning the recreational needs of the town in order to facilitate the Recreation Committee's program.

The report of the nominating committee including Mrs. Gleason Everson, Mrs. Clifton Hall and Mrs. Edward Grosvenor will then be presented for consideration and vote.

I AM AN AMERICAN DAY

We quote below from a letter received by the Selectmen from Henry Nicolls, District Director, Boston, U. S. Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service under date of March 27:

"The President of the United States, Harry S. Truman, proclaimed Sunday, May 19, as "I Am An American Day," and this Service again has been charged with the responsibility of promoting the observance of this day. Much has been said about "American Citizenship," but we must constantly encourage civic, patriotic and social groups to give special recognition to those persons who, by coming of voting age or by naturalization, have acquired full citizenship privileges. Because of your deep interest in this work, it is hoped that you as Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, will sponsor a Citizenship Recognition Program this year.

"Last year, 150 communities in Massachusetts observed "I Am An American Day," and I hope you will appoint a committee to arrange a program this year. This office is ready and willing to send to your chairman pamphlets giving helpful suggestions to assist Citizenship Committees.

"Trusting that this request will receive your favorable consideration, I am

Sincerely yours,
Henry Nicolls,
District Director, Boston

Edna Johnson Long

TO SPEAK AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Building an industry on a weed, an original idea, and unlimited faith, young Kansas-born Edna Johnson Long, Congregational missionary from India, has brought economic relief and new hope to the underprivileged people of Ahmednagar, India. She will speak Tuesday afternoon, April 9, at 2 p. m. in the First Congregational Church of Winchester. This is under the auspices of the Mission Union Guild.

As a result of her efforts, Mrs. Long, who is the wife of Rev. Loy Long, was given in 1941 the coveted silver Kaiser-I-Hind medal by the Indian Government in recognition of her distinguished services to the people of India.

PILGRIM FELLOWSHIP

The Pilgrim Fellowship, of the Second Congregational Church, are sponsoring a Dinner and entertainment, to be held at the church, Friday, April 5th.

The evening of fellowship has been opened to the public, and tickets will be on sale at the door. The Young People of the Church are hoping to be alde to raise a considerable sum so that they will be able to pay their pledge to the Church, and at the same time strengthen their treasury.

The entertainment is being provided by the Woburn Grange, and consists of a modified Minstrel program.

The Young People are sponsoring this evening under the excellent leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baker, and Mrs. Foster, all of Woburn.

A bicycle owned by Elliott Hersey of 29 Woodside road and stolen last Friday evening from the First Congregational Church was later found by Supt. Harry W. Dotten of the Water Department abandoned in the rock garden at Wedge Pond Park on upper Main street.

A resident of Hemingway street notified the Police Monday evening that she had narrowly escaped being struck in the face by a shot from an air rifle while leaving her home. Sgt. Joseph Derro investigated and finally located three north end boys having air rifles. All of the trio denied having been near the home of the complainant, but admitted having fired off the rifles outdoors. The rifles were confiscated by the police.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Rogers and their daughter Mrs. Crosby R. Kelley of Winchester have arrived via Pan American Airway in Bermuda for a vacation.

LOST OPPORTUNITIES

(For The Winchester Star)
It is not alone the things we do;
It is the things we leave undone that hurt --
That letter we failed to write,
Those words we did not speak,
The opportunity we failed to take.
Many men do nothing, just miss their chance
Because they pass by on the other side.

HUMORISTS AT WORK

Late last Friday afternoon people noticed women flocking into "Marion's" gown and lingerie shop on Main street. Somebody mentioned nylons and all the gals followed the crowd.

Inside the eager would-be customers were told the shop had neither nylons nor rayon stockings for sale, despite the fact that two signs had been surreptiously placed in the display windows, announcing "Nylons Inside."

It didn't take Marion long to dispose of the signs and assure the ladies that as far as stockings were concerned she "no could do!" Meanwhile she would like to learn the identity of the alleged humorists who placed the signs in her windows. It wasn't funny in her book and that goes for the gals who flocked hopefully to her shop.

Mrs. James S. Allen of Highland avenue reported for the Alumni Council of Mt. Holyoke College at a meeting held Wednesday at the College Club at 40 Commonwealth avenue in Boston.

JAMES GUSTIN HOME

Lt. (jg) James M. Gustin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Gustin, has just been discharged from the Chelsea Naval Hospital after having a major operation and hopes to be on terminal leave from the Navy within the next week or two. Lt. Gustin is a graduate of the Winchester High School and the Tufts Engineering School. After graduation from Tufts he attended the Naval College at Annapolis, Md. and the diesel engine schools at Raleigh, N. C. and Flint, Mich.

This vessel was converted to a motor gunboat at Pearl Harbor, one of the first six to be converted for the purpose of acting as mobile artillery in support of troops on amphibious landings. The 658 arrived in the Pacific theatre of operations in time to take part in the landings at Leyte and was one of the first four ships in to shell the beach before the troops landed. Lt. Gustin also took part in the landings at Lingayen Gulf, Iwo Jima and Okinawa and received four battle stars for these operations.

Lt. Gustin is married to a Winchester girl, the former Sylvia Robinson, and is now residing at the Winchester Arms.

He was commissioned a lieutenant in the Marine Corps Feb. 10, 1944, and served overseas, participating in the battles for Peleliu and Okinawa. He was promoted to first lieutenant April 30, 1945 and honorably discharged March 24, 1946. He wears the American and Asiatic-Pacific Theatre ribbons and the Victory ribbon.

WINCHESTER HOBBY CENTER NEWS

Seventy-five children at last Saturday's Hobby Center were delighted with a technicolored film on trains entitled "Lifeline of a Nation" and presented through the courtesy of Mr. H. L. Baldwin, Publicity Manager of the Boston and Main Railroad. The film showed the valuable part which the railroad played in the country's wartime program.

Special feature to accompany the Friday afternoon Hobby Center Club meetings was an exhibit of Mexican arts and crafts from the Children's Museum in Jamaica Plain.

The Hobby Center's evening Astronomy Club met last Wednesday and elected officers for the coming year. The new officers include:

Bradford Smith, presdient
John Davis, vice-president and treasurer
Harry Von Rosenvinge, secretary

Books on Astronomy were brought to the meeting by the various members and were exchanged and discussed.

Part of the meeting was spent out of doors using three telescopes assembled by members of the Astronomy Club.

A Penny Sale will be the feature at the meeting of the George Washington School Mothers' Association Tuesday night, April 9, at 8 o'clock. As this meeting was planned for the benefit of many who find it difficult to attend the regular afternoon sessions, a large attendance is expected.

The Penny Sale, which will be conducted by the Ways and Means Committee, promises to be both entertaining and profitable. Contributions for the sale should be sent to the school on Friday, April 5 or Monday, April 8.

At the close of the meeting, during the social hour, refreshments will be served by the committee.

EVENING SCHOOL APPRECIATED

Letters of appreciation for the opportunity to study in the Winchester Evening School, sometimes referred to as the Citizenship Class have been written by many of this year's members. Under the excellent leadership of Miss Ethel Quinn, the adult students have studied English composition and reading, the Constitution, the state and national courts, and the meaning of Democracy. In their letters, these students have told of their increased ability to carry on their regular work, to write letters to their loved ones, to vote intelligently, and to understand better the country where they live.

MARCH RECORD MONTH FOR FIRES

March, 1946, was the biggest month for calls in the history of the Winchester Fire Department, according to Chief John J. Gorman, the firemen answering 140 calls during the month, or about twice the usual number.

From Friday until Monday last week-end the men answered 17 alarms for grass and brush fires around town, many of these fires resulting from careless burning in incinerators.

Among the worst of the fires was one at 12:05 Friday afternoon on Water Department property, burning over quite a space off Ardley road and the well field, extending through to Lake avenue in Woburn. A number of the remaining evergreens set out by the Water Department in the well field were destroyed. Box 512 was put on the fire.

Friday night at 6:29 Woburn Box 912 called the men to a grass fire just over the town line on Main street.

Saturday forenoon at 11:20 Box 7-7-51 came in for a woods fire at the rear of the old Drake residence on Cambridge street, the men having a fight of more than an hour to get the flames finally extinguished. The same box came in Sunday afternoon at 4:29 for woods afire on Horn Pond Mountain, more than one thousand feet of hose having to be laid through the woods and over hills to put out this blaze.

Monday at 12:38 p. m. Box 572 was sounded for burning leaves which were threatening the house at the home of Mr. Thomas Downes, 53 Emerson road. At 4:45 Monday afternoon there was a grass fire at the rear of the E. H. Stone estate at the corner of Cambridge and High streets.

FALSE SOLICITOR PICKED UP

Last Friday morning the Police were notified that a young colored girl was soliciting money for the Red Cross in the vicinity of Symmes Corner. A checkup with the local Red Cross authorities disclosed the fact that no collections had been authorized, and Officer William Cassidy was sent to pick up the girl.

He found her at Symmes corner and took her to the Station where she at first denied any complicity. Finally she admitted she had been collecting money for her own use.

She hadn't done too well, having been collecting three and four hours and picking up 55c. After a lecture by Chief William H. Rogers the girl was sent home.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

We welcome Abbie and Jonah Swan back from their winter's vacation. They will be glad to see their many friends at the Mill Pond.

Eastern Mass. St. Ry. Co. has been given a license to run their buses on Washington street from Forest street to the Winn factory for the accommodation of factory employees.

Stanley B. Pattison, 33 Lebyard road, has been appointed a measurer of leather for one year.

Sealed bids for road oils will be opened on April 15 at 8 p. m.

House bill 1425 to increase the tax on gasoline is not favored by the Board, and Winchester's Senator and Representative have been requested to register its opposition to the bill.

The Board is unanimously opposed to the opening of the proposed dog race track in Burlington. It feels that the town would be adversely affected by the amount and character of the traffic that would use our highways.

MANY MOTHERS CO-OPERATING ON CHILDREN'S LENTEN BENEFIT

Mrs. Edward F. Boyd, general chairman of the Epiphany Lenten sale and tea, Friday, April 12, has organized it on the good old proverb that many hands make light work. Assisting her as a general committee are Mrs. Ralph T. Jope, Mrs. John C. Willis, Mrs. Donald J. Withers, Mrs. Allan S. Farquhar, and Mrs. Everett A. Tisdale.

Decorations will be arranged by Mrs. Cedric H. Seager, Mrs. Herbert S. Gardner, and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery.

When the sale opens at 1 o'clock in the parish hall, these committees who have defied scarcities will have wares to sell at their respective tables.

Food is in charge of Mrs. Ralph G. Swanson, Mrs. William M. Beal, Mrs. Evarder French, Mrs. Hugh P. Webster and Mrs. Stephen G. Nichols.

The candy table has been undertaken by Mrs. Robert R. Dickey, Mrs. Richard H. Frazier, Mrs. Albert C. Buffum, Mrs. John Page, Mrs. R. Alan Page, and Mrs. James B. Donaldson.

For the plant table, the committee is Mrs. Cedric H. Seager, Mrs. Lester G. Whittaker, Mrs. Robert J. Fletcher, Mrs. Briscoe E. Gray, and Mrs. Edwin P. Hall.

For the tea, from 3 o'clock to 5, Mrs. George A. Marks, chairman, will be assisted by this committee: Mrs. F. William Aseltine, Jr., Mrs. Paul C. Lamb, Mrs. Bernard L. Chapin, Mrs. Joseph H. Beck, Mrs. Paul J. Ramsay and Mrs. Walter Parkin.

Pouring at the tea will be Mrs. Dwight W. Hadley, Miss Ethel B. Davis, Mrs. Richard H. Frazier and Mrs. Joan I. Lynch.

MRS BOWES ENTERTAINS SYMMES CORNER GROUP

Mrs. Francis Bowes of 40 Calumet road, was hostess to the Symmes Corner Group at a tea and business meeting Friday, March 29.

Plans for the coming year were discussed, particularly, the Group's new undertaking for the 1946 annual bazaar next fall, when they will turn from management of the gift table, which they have led most profitably for several years, and will take charge of the bazaar's candy table. So, having licked one kind of scarcity, of fabrics, these venturesome bazaar-builders start right out on another battle to set forth a candy table in a sugar-scant world.

As leader for their 1946 ventures, a nominating committee, Mrs. Guy Livingstone, Mrs. Kenneth B. Hissoe, and Mrs. Francis Bowes, recommended Mrs. Lloyd Wallis, and the Group unanimously elected her. Before the party ended Mrs. Wallis had secured as her co-chairman, Mrs. France Votaw.

The Group gave an enthusiastic vote of thanks to the retiring officers, Mrs. Bowes and Mrs. William Martens, for the Group's successful years under their joint leadership.

Mr. Hadley was the guest of honor at tea-time.

Kindness to Animal week will be observed from April 8 to April 13. On April 10 from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 the Shelter at 432 Washington street will hold an Informal Open House for Winchester residents. Mr. Arthur Bryer, Agent, will show his rescuing and life saving apparatus. This is an opportunity to see how the Shelter is conducted. There may be some unclaimed animals in the spacious cages. Of interest will be the run-way leading into the open which was given by Mr. John A. Mooney in recognition of kindness to his cat. This is an opportunity to see humane work at its best.

Mr. Eric H. Hansen, President of the Massachusetts Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Society says: "Obedience training can be taught kindly by using a minimum of firmness. I am thoroughly in favor of obedience training as a means of educating not only the dog but the owner."

The local auxiliary has been much disturbed by the accidents and deaths of so many pets frequently through no fault of the drivers of cars. Our ducks on the river have suffered injury.

FREAKY WEATHER

Following summer weather last week, with the temperature in the 80's, a cold wave struck in Sunday and Monday with the glass in the 40's. Starting Monday night a snow storm developed which attained the volume of a near blizzard before daylight. Ice and snow covered the streets and early morning autos were out with chains. The temperature during the early part of Monday night was in the low 30's. During the day Tuesday the glass rose rapidly although the snow lingered until into Wednesday.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

Mr. G. Russell Mann, president of the Winchester Art Association, opened and conducted the annual meeting at the Gallery on Tuesday evening.

The various officers presented their reports for the year. Mrs. Adin B. Bailey read the minutes of the last meeting and the years summarized report.

Miss Isabel Copland read the treasurer's report for Miss Margaret Copland, Vaughan Harmon reported for the Exhibition Committee, Mrs. Marshall Symmes for the Speakers Committee, Mrs. William D. Barone for the Publicity Committee, and Mrs. Roger Burgoyne for the Hospitality Committee.

Mr. Mann himself gave a report as retiring president before calling on Mr. Lyle K. Bush for the nominations for the coming year.

The following slate was read and accepted:

President, Charles H. Watkins
Vice President, Wade L. Grindle
Secretary, Mrs. Adin B. Bailey
Treas., Miss Margaret Copland
Members-at-Large, Mr. Alfred Lowe, Mrs. Robert McCracken, Mrs. Stanley E. Cairncross.
Representative for Library Trustees, Mr. Ralph T. Hale.

Mr. Mann introduced the speaker, Mr. Otis Philbrick, well known artist and former resident of Winchester.

Mr. Philbrick noted the remarkable growth of the Association and mentioned some of the men who were responsible for the formation of the Association. He then proceeded to take up the pictures in the Gallery, commenting on them one by one. As the current exhibition is the regular showing of art by members of the Association, the commentary proved most interesting. The following members are represented in the exhibition:

Forrest Orr, M. T. Hintlian, Beatrice Fields, Gertrude McPeake, Edna D. Winn, Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl, Marion Ladd Symmes, C. S. Cobb, Warren Beach, E. M. Bridges, Grace Aseltine, F. E. Hollins, Rosalie Bowne, Ardys Cairncross, Elizabeth Nardin, G. Russell Mann, Vera R. Benson, Ruth Olmstead, Mrs. Frank Enman, Mrs. Anna R. Heaton, Doris Carrier, Frances Fish, Dorothy Howard, Marion Whitten, Florence Simonds, Cora Cutter Wellman, Helen L. Redfern, Mrs. Elizabeth Lobingier, Edith Caverly, Elizabeth Tucker, Mrs. Charles Smith, Adelaide Bratt, Joanne Simonds, Grace McCracken, Mrs. Kenneth Hall, Dorothy Saltmarsh.

Also included are some silver pieces by William Mason.

Mrs. Alonzo Nicholas and her assistants served candy to the members at the close of the meeting.

The exhibition will be open to the public through April 25.

THE VOICE OF DUTY

(For the Winchester Star)

God has given men a high vocation:
Great tasks are ours, to serve and share
Without self-stint, to help bear and really care
For griefs and trials of others ever looming
And in midst of man's inhumanity to man blooming,
O to be known as men firm of Duty's voice
Doing our best to help afflicted men rejoice.

MARGARET SLATTERY HERE

The Women's Society of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, presents the well known Margaret Slattery as guest speaker at their meeting to be held in the Church Auditorium, Thurs., Eve., April 11th at 8 o'clock.

An invitation has been sent to the Women's groups of the various Churches to meet and enjoy the message she will bring. Her subject will be "Sparks in the Ashes."

Miss Slattery is well known through Winchester, and her friends from previous years are invited to hear her new and inspiring Lenten Message.

CORRECTION

In our reference last week to the display in the Window of Snug Haven on Main street the Star gave the impression that the advertisements which are a part of the display were from our paper. They were not. They were from the Christian Science Monitor, and we are happy to make this correction in the interest of accuracy and to give credit where it is due.

The businesses represented in the window are, however, all Star advertisers, which makes us equally happy and which was what we originally intended to say.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Literature Committee

At the final meeting of the Literature Committee held on Monday in the Public Library, Mrs. J. Edward Downes read a paper on the colorful life and work of Nathaniel Parker Willis, one of the less familiar figures among Massachusetts poets. Although a friend of the literati of his day, he was not a favorite with the critical Boston public. Mrs. Downes read some of his religious poems which certainly revealed unmistakable talent.

Mrs. Frank S. Evans gave the audience a comparative account of the lives and poetry of Emily Dickinson and Amy Lowell; she read several poems by both poets showing sharp contrasts between them, ending with Miss Lowell's "Lilacs", presaging the spring season.

Annual Meeting

The final meeting of the Club year will be held on Monday, April 8, at the Parish House of the First Congregational Church. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Kingman P. Cass.

Our guests will be Mrs. Ralph G. Swain, Fourth Vice-President of the State Federation. Mrs. William M. Munroe, Eighth District Director, and Mrs. Harold H. Given, State Chairman of the International Relations Department.

The business meeting and election of officers will be held at 2:00 o'clock, after which will be presented the program, "On the Trail of Yankee Music," with stories and music by Mrs. Eloise H. Linscott, assisted by Mr. Llewellyn Powers, old-time fiddle champion of New England.

Attention!

An urgent request comes from Greece for any kind of usable materials that may be made up into garments for children and women. Fortnightly members are asked to bring such to the Annual Meeting or to contact the Social Service Committee, Mrs. Sidney A. Burr, chairman.

There can be a Great Future...

THERE CAN BE A GREAT FUTURE ahead for the food industry, for all industry, and for the American people.

Every material requirement for sound living is at hand. We are rich in the basic resources of productive land, energetic people, and a capacity to create. This combination is the seedbed of better living for us, and for the world—if we will have it so.

Because we live off what we produce and exchange, utilization of these resources through economical and increasingly efficient production and distribution is the only way we know to contribute to better living for all.

This country is a gigantic enterprise with 140 million partners. Only as partners, working smoothly together, can we continuously produce what we want, and raise our levels of living to new heights.

There is no lasting means of getting more from producing less. Competition we want and must have; conflict hurts us all by crippling both production and the incentive which fires men to new achievements.

As a people, it is our responsibility to produce what we need and want.

As management of General Foods, it is our responsibility to provide suitable compensation to our employees and to the owners of the business, and to satisfy our customers with high quality at fair prices.

We believe in a high standard of living for every man, woman, and child in whom good citizenship resides. We believe in good jobs and stability of employment.

We believe it is the responsibility of business management to build opportunity for the man who wants to work. We believe in basic human values, and we are endeavoring to demonstrate these beliefs by the manner in which we administer the affairs of this company.

We further believe that we, as management, can best serve the common interest of workers, owners, and customers of General Foods through continuing to improve production and distribution of goods and services.

We believe that each of these 3 groups is vital to the founding and growth of productive enterprise, and thus vital to all people. Rewards of production must be divided equitably among these groups—not monopolized by any one of them.

We believe in the creation of human satisfactions as well as the production of things. We believe that General Foods cannot, and does not, stand alone in its effort to serve, and therefore we align ourselves with the great majority of men and women who are willing to work for a better future.

With courage, imagination, and productive work we can help sustain the American promise and give nurture to the human urge for better living. The goals are jobs, freedom, and the greater dignity of the individual.

COFFEE

El Salvador, which drew the international spotlight by amending its constitution to limit presidential office to one term of four years, compares with Maryland in area and population, points out the National Geographic Society. Smallest and most densely populated of the six Central American republics, it supports 1,830,000 people on its 13,176 mountainous square miles. El Salvador lies on the Pacific side of the Central American group, 350 miles northwest of the Isthmus of Panama.

El Salvador is an agricultural country with half its cultivated land devoted to corn, and only a fourth of the acreage to coffee; but coffee is the country's big money crop and has accounted for as much as nine-tenths of the export trade. Next to Brazil and Colombia, El Salvador is the largest exporter of coffee in the Western Hempshire.

Grow Sack Cloth in Ashes

Before the war exports of Salvadorean coffee had reached nearly a million bags a year. United States consumption had gradually increased from a tenth to more than half the crop; and during the war coffee imports expanded further. For two months of the year a large part of El Salvadore's population is required to pick the cherrylike fruit.

Much of El Salvador's coffee is grown on small plantations. The mountainous country, rising to peaks of 8,000 feet, affords varied elevations and climates for a wide range of products. Coffee is raised mostly on upland hills and around El Salvador's dozen or more volcanoes, some of which are active. Decomposed lava and volcanic ash have greatly enriched the soil.

One comparatively new and thriving industry is the conversion of domestic henequen into coffee sacks to replace those imported from India. El Salvador also has cotton mills. Carpets, shoes, clothing, and furniture are produced for home consumption.

OUR DEMOCRACY —— by Ray

"TWIXTEEN"

A three-act comedy by Betty Knapp, directed by Mrs. Harris Heverly, produced by the Youth Fellowship of the Crawford Memorial Church in the church hall last Friday afternoon and Saturday evening, with the following cast:

Francis Wells	Melissa Meigs
Mrs. Wells	Barbara Galucia
Pete Thompson	Milton Galucia
Elizabeth Wells	Nancy Griffiths
Rodney Wells	David Wylie
Specks Howard	John Marshall
Mr. Wells	Henry Roberts
Gwendolyn Todd	Natalie Warsky
Doris Mansfield	Bonnie Tutty
Clarinetist	Charles Enright

Twixteen proved a good show, well done by its youthful cast. Good sized audiences both Friday and Saturday were generous with their applause and gave every evidence of thoroughly enjoying the performance.

The plot of the play dealt with the problems met by average healthy young adolescents who persist in taking themselves and their affairs too seriously.

Specifically the action centered about two boy friends, sons of rival candidates for mayor of the city in which the plot is laid, who borrow their fathers clothes to further their own aspirations on the night in which the rival candidates are booked to make vital appearances.

Each member of the cast contributed to the success of the production, both the leads and incidental characters being well played. Martha Fay was in charge of makeup, Norma Bergquist of properties. The stage crew was Charles Enright, David Wylie, Milton Galucia, Jr., and Edward Hitchcock. Lillie McCane was prompter and Mary Seaton was in charge of programs. Barry Ayer and Norma Bergquist handled publicity and tickets were in charge of Norma Bergquist, Charles Enright, and John Marshall.

Sunday morning at 3:25 Officer James M. Farrell of the Police Department arrested Constantine A. Perett of 12 Morse street, Woburn, at the corner of Main street and Sheridan circle on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. In court Monday morning the case was continued for a week.

Cassidy of the Police Department were successful in locating three west side boys who did a bit of artistic work with red paint at one of the west side estates. Police Headquarters was notified last Friday afternoon that some one was shooting in the woods off Emerson road. Officers William Cassidy and John Murray went to investigate and spotted two young fellows in the woods with rifles. The catch in it was that the youths saw the police the same time the officers saw them and beat a hasty retreat. Having a good start the youths succeeded in losing themselves in the woods and making good their escape.

PARISH PLAYERS' COMMAND PERFORMANCE

"You Can't Take It With You" April 25th, 26th and 27th

In marking their 20th Anniversary this year, the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church will present a command performance of "You Can't Take It With You" on the evenings of Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 25th, 26th and 27th, in the Parish Hall. This play, first given by the Players in 1938, is being repeated by popular request from playgoers and subscribers. There will be several members of the original cast in this performance. "You Can't Take It With You" was the play which the Parish players gave in competition of Little Theatre Groups in 1938, and won second place.

Mr. John Hall is the director, and the cast includes Marion T. Blake, Louise Kelly, Katrina H. Morse, Dana J. Kelly, George E. Connor, Robert W. O'Brien, Robert P. Blake, F. Milne Blanchard, Claire Smalley, Herbert Wadsworth, Edmund Friedrich, John Hall, Dorothy Wills, J. Waldo Bond, Ruth Smith, George Gowdy, A. Thomas Scott, and Lenore T. Gamage.

Mrs. Blake, Mr. Connor and Mr. O'Brien are newcomers to the Parish Players stage, and the audience are assured of a fine performance by each of them.

Proceeds of the benefit performance on Thursday evening will go to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation. Reservations for tickets may be made with Mrs. J. Waldo Bond, Winchester 0856.

In its 20 years of service to the community as a little theatre group, the "Little Theatre Beneath a Spire" has given 51 plays. It was one of the few little theatre to continue during the war. Besides offering fine entertainment for Winchester audiences, it has presented many shows at army and navy camps and hospitals, bringing pleasure and relaxation to the men.

"You Can't Take It With You" is good comedy, behind which lies a homely philosophy for a tense world that is in need of laughter and kindness. It is a play that has been revived by leading Broadway Companies, outstanding little theatre groups, and never fails to delight theatre-goers. This year, in addition to providing entertainment for the community, the Parish Players are also giving substantial aid to the Winchester Foundation through its special Thursday night performance.

JAMES ALLEN

James Allen of 25 Englewood road, Deputy Chief of the Winchester Auxiliary Police, died late Monday evening, April 8, at the Memorial Hospital in North Conway. He had been ill for some months and after being hospitalized in Boston had gone to North Conway to recuperate.

Mr. Allen was born Feb. 23, 1893 in Philadelphia, Pa. He was educated in the schools of Philadelphia and at Drexel Institute and spent all of his business life in the public utilities field, having been for more than 20 years associated with the Cambridge Electric Light Company as a distributing engineer. He was a member of the Cambridge Rotary.

Mr. Allen came to Winchester 12 years ago from Cambridge and during his residence made many friends here, a particularly genial personality and willingness to be of service winning him the esteem of all who knew him. He was especially active in the Air Raid Precaution Division of Winchester's Civilian Defense organization during the war days, serving as deputy chief of the Auxiliary Police and devoting much time to its effective operation. He was well known at local headquarters where he was a frequent visitor and popular with the members of the regular police force.

PERRIN—BELL

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Melrose Corker Bell of Waynesboro, Ga., to David Badger Perrin, son of Mrs. David B. Perrin of Emerson road, which took place on March 22 at the Waynesboro Methodist Church with the Rev. J. O. J. Taylor officiating.

Miss Bell was given in marriage by her brother, Sim Bell, Jr., and attended by her sister, Mrs. William M. Fulcher, as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Catherine Jones, Miss Alice Reynolds, Mrs. James B. Miller and Mrs. R. V. Harden. Miss Sydney Harden and Miss Joe Anne Chappell were flower girls, and two nephews of the bride, Bill Fulcher and Sim Bell Fulcher, lighted the tall white altar tapers just preceding the entrance of the bridal party.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white satin with long tight sleeves. At the neckline was a drop-shoulder capelet seored with Venise lace and the full skirt extended to form a sweeping train. Completing her costume was a fingertip-length veil of bridal illusion, arranged with a tiara of loosely plaited net caught with orange blossoms, and her only ornament was a diamond cluster, a family heirloom, belonging to her mother. Her bouquet was of bride's roses centered with a single white orchid and showered with allium.

The matron of honor and bridesmaids all wore floor length dresses of jade green taffeta with matching tiaras of taffeta taffeta and carried old fashioned nosegays. The small flower girls wore floor-length frocks of yellow net lined with taffeta and carried nosegays like those of the other attendans.

Badger Perrin of his town was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Sidney Bates, Jr., William Edgar Clark, Joe J. Reynolds, Frank Skinner, Hugh Macaulay and William L. Fulcher.

After the ceremony a small family reception was held at the Anthony Wayne Hotel in Waynesboro. Mrs. Badger Perrin, who went on with her husband and brother-in-law for the wedding was gowned in blue crepe and wore an orchid corsage.

After their wedding journey Mr. Perrin and his bride will make their home in Winchester.

NEW LIGHTS AT STATION

A new electric lighting system on the platforms and in the station at Cross street, on the "Woburn Loop" of the Boston and Maine Railroad will be installed shortly, it was learned this week from Herbert L. Baldwin, Public city Manager of the Boston and Maine Railroad.

Mr. Baldwin said that orders for installation of platform electric lights, as well as for a new electric system inside the station have been issued and that the work will be started just as soon as the necessary materials and labor can be secured.

Some 300 residents of Winchester and Woburn use this station of the B and M each weekday and there have been complaints regarding the poor lighting facilities at the station. The new facilities will, Mr. Baldwin said he was sure, provide the latest type of electric lighting and will properly illuminate both the station and the platform.

"MAN OF SORROW"

Passion Play Finale in Winchester

The Immaculate Conception CYO will present the Passion Players' Guild, the majority of whose members come from the Immaculate Conception Parish, in the season's final production of the famed Passion Play, "The Man of Sorrows". It will take place on next Wednesday, the Wednesday of Holy Week at the Winchester Town Hall. The starting time will be 8:30.

The surpassing excellence of "The Man of Sorrows" has been widely acclaimed. Clergy and laity alike speak of this play only in superlatives. Audiences everywhere have thrilled to its professional quality, its dramatic intensity and its religious fervor.

It is not merely the technical, historic, or literary elements that have brought "The Man of Sorrows" from obscurity to its present eminence. Towering over and above these qualities is the motivating spirit behind the play. This spirit has given expression to an idea and fulfillment to an ideal which previously existed only in the mind of its zealous and talented young author, Mr. Edward P. O'Donnell. Mr. O'Donnell believes that the modern stage can effectively bring Christ and His message into the modern world. "The Man of Sorrows" is a living proof for their convictions.

Fifteen years ago, when it was first produced in the newly constructed Immaculate Conception Church, considerable doubt was expressed as to its ultimate success. Presence of the Corpus of Christ upon the stage was looked upon as a daring departure. So it was. It still is. However, the reverence and deep religious fervor of its director and members have bridged all difficulties. In so doing, they have created a Passion Play that is unique on the American stage. They have succeeded in bringing Christ and His message nearer to the people and, in many cases, in drawing the people closer to Christ than ever they have been before.

Arrangements are under the general charge of Rev. Edmund Sliney, Pastor and Rev. J. Joseph Kierce, CYO director.

HIGH SCHOOL VAUDEVILLE SHOW PLEASED BIG AUDIENCES

Musical Comedy Preceded Usual Variety Acts

The 14th annual Winchester High School Vaudeville Show, benefitting the Athletic Association, attracted large audiences to the high school auditorium last Friday and Saturday evenings. Another largely attended matinee performance was held Friday for school children.

This year's show proved an innovation, Part I being a musical comedy, with continuity, leading up to Part II which was the usual variety bill with twenty acts and finale by the entire company.

Ray V. Hayward, veteran director of the Vaudeville, wrote the comedy and the clever words for the various songs which were set to familiar music. The plot was really a plug for a local recreation center, in the course of which town problems like the grade crossing and athletic field came in for some good natured ribbing.

Action centers around five soldiers who return to fanciful Arcadia Recreation Center in the town going to the "demnition bowwows" because the bowling alley has been taken over by a department store and the canteen for kids has folded up.

The soldiers set out to provide a recreation center for the youngsters, getting prominent men to contribute funds and then fixing up the old garage they get for quarters themselves with the assistance of the regenerated youthful gang.

The new recreation center is opened with a grand variety show which is of course the regular Vaudeville, familiar to all after 14 years.

Action for the show commences on the main street of Arberjona in front of the Comet office, the town newspaper. The editor, a prototype of T. P. Wilson, editor of the Star, complete with white cap and briar-root, gets the act away in conversation with the Woburn "Blabber" correspondent, known in the show as "Mack."

High-light of the comedy is the scene in which the leader of the soldiers talks a youthful gang out of the intention to break a window and rob a candy store, by promising them a place in a new center. The youthful hoodlums, headed by Robert Horne, were very convincing in their parts.

Tom Drapeau as Jim Hazard, the returned soldier, Jeanne Craig as his girl friend, Gerry Errico as Fitzwell the tailor, Marguerite Derro as Jeannie Thatcher and John Rutherford as Mr. Silversleeve, the banker, contributed some effective acting to the comedy. Song hits were "No Can Do," (adapted), sung by the five soldiers: "East Side, West Side", sung by Marguerite Derro and Tom Drapeau "That Old Gang of Mine" sung by the soldiers and the kids, "O What a Beautiful River," (adapted), sung by Mario Buzzotta and Tom Drapeau's solo, "Just the Way You Look Tonight," with Jeanne Craig as "prop."

Reporting the Vaudeville completely is an impossibility. Generally speaking the acts were good, and they were certainly varied Sticking out in our memory are "The Bells of St. Mary's," sung by a girls' ensemble, led by Dorothy Hickey, Eileen MacIsaac, and Betty MacIsaac; the finished singing of Ellen and Sue Hight and Ellen Kenerson in their trio number, Margerine with Gerry Clifford's soprano in their duet and Gaucho by no means least, the Tavern Tabloid, a veritable variety show in itself with Gerry Errico contributing some side-splitting Italian dialect in his telephone conversation, Marguerite Derro doing some finished tapping, Mary Jean Browning's dancing to Alice Chefalo's accordian and the rousing "Butcher Boy", or "Fish" song of the boy's ensemble, sung in Italian, con brio, but loud with incidental dancing by Buzzotta and Gallelo.

This for your reviewer's money, was the hit of the show, a bit on the rugged side perhaps, but good hearty entertainment and a distinct credit to those who put it on.

The dancing numbers were good as always, showing the competent coaching of Cora Corthell Phelps, one of the Vaudeville's indispensables. Orchids too, to Mrs. Arthur Bateman Corthell's very helpful piano accompaniments for the dance numbers. Her rhythms and tempi were just right. The high school music supervisor, Miss Alma Stoddart, played for the musical comedy numbers, piano accompaniments for other numbers in the show being played by Barbara Elliott, Barbara Fry, Marjorie Johnston and Bill Whittemore. Miss Elliott, doubled in brass so to speak by blacking up and appearing also as pianist with the colored jazz band. Incidentally we should not forget the finished piano duet contributed by Miss Marjorie and Joanna Johnston. Miss Hickey, too, sang her solo passages in the Bells of St. Mary's most commendably and the arrangement of this beautifully done number was very pleasing.

LOCAL TALENT SHOW AT LIBRARY

The always eagerly awaited Exhibition of Local Talent, sponsored by the Winchester Art Association, is running currently at the Library Art Gallery and is in every respect a good show. Each year's local talent exhibition seems to eclipse its predecessor, and this year's show is the best yet. Not that there haven't been some things in preceding shows as good or perhaps better but anything now in the gallery. There have, but the average is higher each year and this year the show is uniformly good. Winchester amateurs have come a long way since the first exhibition of Local Talent at the library and are now capable of putting on a show for which no apologies need be made.

There are oils, water-colors and pencil sketches in the show, and the subjects include land and seascapes, still life, flower studies and portraits. Complimenting the pictures is a small, but very finished exhibition of silver work, goblets, vases and jewelry, designed and executed by "Mason".

Exhibitors and titles of their pictures include: Gertrude McPeake, Study (still life); Florence C. Simonds, Alley in Winter; E. M. Bridges, Sand Dunes; Anna R. Heaton, The Turtle (portrait); Beatrice Fields, The District School House; Joanne Simonds, Fishermen's Shacks on Nantucket; Elizabeth M. Lobingier, Ebbing Tide; Forrest Orr, Pulling in Nets.

Arelys Cairncross, Snow Over Winchester; Edna D. Winn, Gladioli; Vera R. Benson, Rockport Houses; Marion P. Whitten, Old and New (still life); Frances D. Fish, Sara; C. S. Cogg, Flower Study; Ruth Olmstead, Monhegan; Adelaide M. Bratt, Tulips; Rosalie Bowne, Winchester Rooftops; M. T. Hintlian, Gray Day in Rockport.

Dorothy Saltmarsh, Hill-top; Elizabeth Nardin, Glimpse of Gloucester; Mrs. Charles Smith, Autumn Flowers; Helen L. Redfern, Mrs. Frank A. Cutting; Dorris Carrier, Indhlovu (still life); Cora Cutter Wellman, Still Life with Flowers; Dorothy H. Howard, Old Saw-Mill at Bedford; Marion Ladd Symmes, Winter in Antrim Valley.

Mrs. Frank Enman, The Antique Bottle; Grace Anglada Metcalfe, Winter Scene; Grace Aseltine, Billy; G. Russell Mann, Pleasant Point, Me.; Warren Beach, Winter 1946; Elizabeth A. Tucker, Zinnias; Mrs. Kenneth Hall, Fruit Medley; F. E. Hollins, Dreamland; Edith Caverly, Mt. Monadnock; Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl, Virginia.

ROTARY NOTES

Public Health week was fittingly observed by the members of the Winchester Rotary Club at the regular Thursday noon meeting. Dr. Daniel A. Rubenstein, State Public Health officer in charge of the northeastern district, was the guest speaker, and he spoke interestingly of the many advances made in the field of Public Health during the past few years. He also proposes, other and varied, means whereby further improvements may be accomplished in this extremely important undertaking of public endeavor.

It was pleasant to have with us as interested guests Mrs. Louise A. Kugler, President; Mrs. Esther H. Stevenson, Member of the Board; Mrs. Angelina O'Leary, Nurse Director, all of the Winchester District Nursing Association; Miss Hilda Hope, the Board of Health nurse; and Mrs. Ethel Savage, the School nurse.

The exceptionally fine singing was a well deserved tribute to the superb direction of song leader, "Church" Hindes, with "Jim" McGrath at the piano, and it just might be that the presence of the ladies stirred them on to such an effort.

Several visiting Rotarians from the Medford Club were also present, and one of their group, John Ward, Treasurer of the City of Medford, was the winner of the victory bond.

Miss Norma Farrar of Myrtle street is enjoying a two weeks vacation at The Pines, Center Harbor, N. H.

ORDERED TO INACTIVE DUTY

Commander S. Kennedy Tully, USNR of 467 Washington street, was ordered to inactive duty in the Navy last week, following a period of terminal leave and has accepted the position of sales manager of the Smith Buick in Malden.

Comdr. Tully had been on active duty for five years and four months. He reported in November 1940 as gunnery officer on board the USS. Harry Lee, an attack transport, which took the first army troops to Iceland. Later, as gunnery officer of the USS. Calvert, he participated in the invasion of Africa.

Norman Scott, on board which he served in the Pacific until the Scott was struck and heavily damaged by shore batteries during the invasion of Tinian in the Mariannas. Although himself wounded, Comdr. Tully brought the ship back to Pearl Harbor after the Captain was killed and a large percentage of casualties suffered. He was transferred at the Chelsea Naval Hospital for six months and was then assigned to Harvard University as an Associate Professor of Naval Science and Tactics for the Naval ROTC. He was promoted to the rank of full Commander in July 1945.

Comdr. Tully was commissioned Ensign in 1933 upon graduation from Yale and has since been active in the Naval Reserve in the First Naval District.

Before reporting for active duty, he collected, edited and disseminated Federal Government and court news for the Yankee Network, United Press and Christian Science Monitor.

His wife is the former Agatha Shinnick of this town and they make their home with their daughter Susan at 467 Washington st.

Comdr. Tully wears the Purple Heart, American Defense ribbon, Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with two stars, European-African ribbon with two stars, American Area and World War II Victory ribbon and the Naval Reserve Medal.

On Maundy Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the Sanctuary the last in the series of special Lenten services will be held. The ordinance of baptism will be administered and the hand of Christian fellowship given to new members, following which the Lord's Supper will be observed. At this service the choir will sing "Hear My Prayer" by James. A special welcome will be extended to returned servicemen.

The public is cordially invited to both these services.

On Good Friday morning at 9 o'clock a service for youth will be conducted in the chapel, with Mrs. Malcolm C. Wilson at the piano. The Junior Choir is to sing "Teach Me to Pray" and members of the Church School will participate in the service. The Pastor will have a brief message for the young people. This service is of a half hour duration, and it is hoped that parents will endeavor to have their children present, in spite of vacation week and the holiday on which Good Friday falls.

PILGRIM FELLOWSHIP ENTERTAINMENT

The Pilgrim Fellowship of the Second Congregational Church sponsored a dinner and entertainment last Friday evening. Over 80 persons attended and enjoyed the fellowship of the evening.

The entertainment was put on by the members of the Stoneham Grange, under the direction of Miss MacDonald. It was entitled, "Selections from the Sunny South" and was a modified minstrel show.

One of the high points of the show, was the emergence of a man dressed in a night shirt, night cap and carrying a lighted lantern, who it turned out was looking for "Cloe." There was much fine humor supplied by Mr. Baker of Woburn, and excellent singing by the entire cast.

The evening was a financial success. Out of the profit, the young people were able to pay one half of their pledge to the church.

The young people were aided in this affair by Mrs. Earle Baker of Woburn, who arranged for the entertainment; and Mrs. William Foster of Woburn, who had charge of the delicious dinner which was served. We are looking forward to another such evening in the near future.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

The Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church held its annual meeting on Tuesday, April 9. The business meeting was called for 11 o'clock and the reports of the secretary, treasurer and chairmen of the various committees were most heartening, showing the fine work done by the organization during the year just passed under the leadership of Mrs. Henry E. Worcester who was elected for a second term. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock by the luncheon committee and enjoyed by all.

At 2 Mrs. Chester S. Cook of Lexington gave an illustrated talk on Flower Arrangement in the Home.

Many interesting combinatoins were shown. Mrs. Cook is no stranger to Winchester as she has done flower backgrounds for many Winchester weddings and has had a major part in the flower show in Boston.

All who attended voted the meeting as one of the outstanding ones of the year.

JOHNSON HOME

"Art" Johnson, former high school and Millionaire pitching star has left the Braves training camp in the South and is back in town, apparently all through with baseball, at least for the time being.

Johnson pitched some very effective ball for Hartford back before the war and was brought up to the Braves for a try at the big time, showing plenty of promise before he came up with a lame arm.

He served in the Navy during the war and upon his discharge joined the Braves at Fort Lauderdale to essay a comeback. His arm failed to respond to any sort of treatment and Art even went west to consult a bone man.

The latter found scar-tissue to be the cause of "Art's" trouble and prescribed heat, but the big left-hander is apaprently convinced that he is all through with hurling, at least for now.

"Art" is married to the former Loretta Gaffney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gaffney of New Meadows road. He is loud in his praise of Billy Southworth, new Braves manager, who gave him every chance to get in shape in the South.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

A tennis tournament in which the boys and girls of Winchester High School are invited to compete will be held during the vacation week on the courts at Palmer Playground. The events will be Boys' Singles, Girls' Singles and Mixed Doubles. The play will be two out of three advantage sets. Boys singles will begin on Tuesday at 8.30 at which time the draw will be made. Girls Singles will begin on Wednesday at 8.30 with the draw. Mixed Doubles will begin on Saturday at 10 a. m.

Contestants must expect to be ready to play from 8.30 to one as their matches may be called. Results of the tournament will be turned over to the teachers in charge of tennis for such use as they see fit.

Entries may be filed with Robert Halstead or Conrad Rosander for the boys or with Elizabeth Jennings or Ann Albree for the girls.

WINCHESTER AND ARLINGTON IN PRACTICE GAME

Coach Henry Knowlton took his Winchester High School baseball team to Arlington Wednesday afternoon for a practice game with Arlington High at Spy Pond Field.

No score was kept but Arlington got a lot more runs than Winchester, the local batters being well behind the good looking Arlington pitchers. The locals got themselves a few hits and two towering pokes by Sam Tibaudo were gobbled up by the Arlington left fielder camped back for Sambo a country mile.

Don Armstrong pitched six frames for Winchester and showed promise, having good speed and a fair curve with good control. A lot of Arlington's runs off him came after the side should have been retired. Pete Priest, a sophomore, who succeeded big Don, also looked promising. Wilson and Filler did the catching. Coach Knowlton used his entire squad in an effort to find out what he has. He could have made a better showing with his first string in all the way.

"G. I. SMOKER" ON MAY 1

Thursday, May 1 is the date of the "G. I. Smoker." Commencing that evening at 8:15 in the Town Hall a program is planned that should guarantee standing room only when things get underway.

All veterans of World War II are invited to occupy the seating capacity of the main floor while the balcony will be reserved for their relatives and friends.

Free cigarettes and refreshments will be distributed to all veterans and this means both men and women. Legionnaires of World War I will be in charge of the program and ushering. Acceptance of the speaking assignment from a well-known national figure is fully expected but cannot be announced until the acceptance is definitely assured.

Other features of the program include vocal and instrumental numbers that should appeal to everyone who enjoys popular songs of the recent past and present era.

An enjoyable evening is assured all veterans of Winchester in this "welcome home" celebration.

PROVINZANO AT TRAINING CAMP

The Star received this week a card from Pete Provinzano, former high school pitching star, now with the Red Sox farm team, Scranton, at their southern training grounds in Bennettsville, S. C. "Pete" made a great start with Scranton before entering the Army Air Forces with which he served in the ETO. He is one of 25 candidates for the Scranton pitching staff and reports that competition is pretty keen. There are 58 men in the entire Scranton squad and thus far the weather at camp has according to Pete been ideal for training purposes. Sennott.

MEDFORD HIGH HERE WEDNESDAY

Medford High will bring its baseball team to Winchester next Wednesday afternoon for a practice baseball game on Manchester Field at 3 o'clock.

Medford had a championship team last year, but is said to be rebuilding this year. Winchester's pitching is woefully short of experience, though elsewhere the team as fairly good strength.

Frank Provinzano, assistant coach, will be in charge of the team as Coach Knowlton and his family will be spending the week visiting friends in Philadelphia.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Annual Concert of the high school musical organizations will be given on Friday evening, May 24. Mss Alma Stoddart is the director.

Principal Wade L. Grindle will attend the annual conference of secondary school principals to be held on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week at the Bridgewater State Teachers' College.

The Annual Junior-Senior Prom will be held in the high school gymnasium on the evening of Saturday, May 4.

Early this week a representative of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Comany was at the high school to confer with girls interested in employment by that company.

Miss Grace Marchesi, WAC, a 1939 high school graduate, recently returned from duty in the Pacific area, was guest speaker at a class in Better Home Living of which Miss Gladys Niven is the teacher, Miss Marchesi told of her experiences in Australia, the Philippines, Guam, and Hawaii and exhibited many samples of native clothing. In addition to the items which she had purchased on the scene, Miss Marchesi showed several items from Japan. One of the highlights of her years of experience was the trip home by air.

Two prominent high school seniors, Miss Margaret Parkhurst and Miss Virginia Lovejoy, students in the United States History classes of Mrs. Ella Stacy, today, have participated in the twentieth National Student Contest sponsored by The American Association for the United Nations, Inc. The test, of three hours' duration, was supervised by teachers in participating schools in their own buildings. About 1800 schools, representing every state in the United States participated in this year's contest, the first under the new sponsors. Previously, the sponsoring organization was The League of Nations Association.

Only two pupils from any one school are eligible to enter the contest.

BADMINTON ENDS SEASON

Last Tuesday night the town's badminton players gathered for the final play of the current season. Only 15 were able to be present, but the greetings they brought from others who were regretfully absent bodes well for keen competition next fall and winter.

No date can yet be set for the first play in the fall, but it is likely to be on or about Oct. 15. Watch the Star for news and details, and keep in touch with the players, most of whom will now be turning their energies to tennis at the Palmer street courts.

The following were present: Harry Bean, Wallace Blanchard, Parker Blanchard, Esther Blanchard, Jim Cleaves, Brad Hersey, Lois Hersey, Arthur Hills, Dorothy and Maxine Lybeck, Jim Ware, Ed Williams, Andy Fielding and our new president, Whit Gray as well as the secretary Doris Wheeler.

TENNIS ELECTS

The Winchester Tennis Association held its annual business meeting last Wednesday night at the home of the president, Jim Ware.

The usual quorum of old faithfuls, plus an additional enthusiastic eight, was present, and the following were unanimously elected as officers for the 1946 season:

President, Bob Drake
Vice president, Connie Rosander
Sec.-Treas., Wallace Blanchard.
Members of the Board, Whit Gray and Ed Williams.

After a discussion of past performances and an estimation of future possibilities adjournment was made to light refreshments and diversion, the latter particularly in the form "dominos" and table tennis, the only type of tennis that is, for the moment, available in the town.

WINCHESTER'S FIRST DOG SCHOOL

On Tuesday, April 8th, The Winchester Dog Training Club held its first training session in the upstairs hall of the former Recreation Center. Eighteen dogs and their owners were present, including dogs from other towns than Winchester.

Mr. Frederick Ewell, the club trainer, showed the owners how to make their dogs "heel" and "sit". This is a more than useful exercise, as it saves the owner from constantly being pulled along by the dog. The class was divided into two groups of nine dogs each.

The officers of the Winchester Dog Training Club are: Mr. Roger Haven, 3 Overlook Way, President; and Mr. Rodney Lee, 6 Marchant road, Secretary-Treasurer.

Training classes are held each Tuesday evening between eight and ten p. m. at the former Recreation Center on Mt. Vernon street. Persons interested in joining the class should contact Mr. Lee, telephone Winchester 1335-R.

Governor Maurcie J. Tobin has signed an amendment to the Employment Security Law recently passed by the legislature raising the maximum benefit payment for unemployment compensation to $25 a week. This change in the law is effective as of April 1, 1946, the beginning of the new benefit year for unemployment compensation benefit claims. Payments for the unemployed now range from $6 a week to $25 a week. The maximum duration for such benefits remains at 23 weeks.

The high school vaudeville show isn't just a students' show. It annually attracts many adults, parents and friends of the performers and others who go because they enjoy the entertainment put on by the young people. As a whole it is well able to stand on its merits and it surely gives those who attend a big return on their investment. It is therefore doubly regrettable that a few youngsters at last Saturday night's performance were rude enough to ridicule some of the acts, emparassing or hurting some of the performers and interfering with the pleasure of the audience. You expect a certain amount of boisterousness on the part of youthful attendants at the vaudeville show, most of whom seem proud enough of the talent displayed by their schoolmates on the stage. When however, youngsters who are doing their best for their school and athletic association are hooted and ridiculed to the extent that some of them leave the stage in tears, it is about time to call a halt. Those responsible for last Saturday's disturbance should have been put out, and so far as possible, barred from future performances. The vaudeville show is too good for every one concerned to permit a few thoughtless youngsters to spoil it.

DON'T BE CARELESS WITH WAR EXPLOSIVES

Police Chief William H. Rogers has asked the Star to warn its readers of being careless about war trophies which may contain high explosives. Yesterday morning the Police were notified of a hand grenade being seen in the Fells off Ledyard road, and Officer William E. Cassidy went there to pick it up. He found the grenade to be very much alive with firing mechanism intact. One hates to think of the consequences had some child or uninformed adult found the thing and carelessly removed the pin. Serious injury or death would have resulted. Unexploded bombs, shells, cartridges or grenades are not good parlor souvenirs, and if there are any such in town or others, about which there is any doubt, they should be turned over to the Police. We repeat they are bad things to have around, and under no circumstances should they be thrown indiscriminately away. To do so might mean injury or death to some innocent person.

ED IS IN A QUANDARY

I find from experience that there is no OPA ceiling price on hair-do's or funeral flowers.

Should I be glad or sorry?

DOLLARS AND SENSE ENTER THE PICTURE

Editor of the Star:

Do you know that the lowest amount spent in 1945 by any state in the Union for the education of a child was $60.00.

The average for all the states was $105.00 per pupil.

In 1946 Winchester will spend approximately $160.00 for the education of each pupil in its schools. This does not include any charges for depreciation, interest on the investment, insurance, or water rates. The Town pays these items out of other appropriations than for school purposes. It will cost to purchase the Ginn Estate and build a modern High School at least $1,500,000. There will also be new roads needed to make this site available from the center of the town and districts lying to the north.

To compare these figures with an estimated cost of $500,000 for additions to the Junior High School to make it an up to date High School plant and make the present Senior High School available for Junior High purposes. Let's give the taxpayer a break! This seems to me to be a sensible and businesslike way of solving the school building problem.

VAUDEVILLE SHOW

The trumpet playing of Dom Rotundi and Ted Ginsberg, Joy Eldredge's singing (a well done concluding high note), the baton twirling of Frances Capone and Eunice Doucette, the orchestral numbers and tumbling were all pleasing, and younger members of the audience seemed happy over the clowning of Ted Ginsberg and Joe Giacalone, billed as a musical comedy duo.

Late comers crowding into the aisles prevented those at the rear of the auditorium from seeing or hearing a lot of the opening scene, and again after intermission there was more or less confusion during the opening act. The raucous guffaws aimed at one or two of the acts were also most unfortunate and in no way called for.

YOUR POSTMAN'S STORY

The Post Office men and women, carriers, clerks, railway mail and all other personnel were united with the 56,000 comrades who entered the armed forces in helping to bring about the greatest communications triumph in all history. We at home and they in the armed forces kept alive the channels of communication between 12 million men and women in uniform and their loved ones at home. The armed forces job was done by the Army and Navy postal services. Naturally, we are proud that both were officered and manned in large part by post office people, that the knowhow came from postal experience and that the high morale was worthy of the U. S. postal service. To 55 foreign countries the mail followed the flag. The army alone had 800 post offices outside the continental United States to which one billion, five hundred million dollars worth of money orders were sent to loved ones back home. Wherever an American fought, the mail came to him, an average of 50 letters for every man every month.

In welcoming our heroes who have already returned to their jobs in the postal service, full credit must be accorded for their masterful performance in the armed services. They, like all war heroes, made great sacrifices in leaving their home environment to take up military duty. Many thousands of postal men still remain in the armed forces. They, too, will be given a hearty welcome upon returning to the United States postal service.

But there is still another army of faithful postal workers—those who remained at home attending their duties in the local post offices—more than 300,000 civilian employes in the field service of the Post Office Department. They shouldered the additional burdens caused by manpower shortages and peak wartime mailings in a highly commendable and courageous manner. Each and every employe worked unceasingly and laboriously in dispatching the record-breaking mail volume. All of them carried on gallantly despite the manifold handicaps strewn in their pathway.

As a reward for their painstaking services, Congress granted an increase in basic wage rates on July 1, 1945—the first basic pay raise in more than 20 years—and also authorized legitimate time and one-half rates for the first time in the history of the Postal Service. Even though belated, the postal workers looked upon this legislative enactment as Congressional recognition for faithful services But the employes jubilation was short-lived! On Oct. 5, 1945, just 3 months after President Truman affixed his signature to the meritorious measure, the postal authorities rightfully issued instructions that postmasters make an orderly return to the basic 40-hour work-week. No one can deny this move was timely. It permitted the reemployment of postal employes returning from the war. Likewise, it provided jobs for additional returning servicemen and many others who were displaced for the cessation of hostilities.

However, the cutback to the 40-hour week came at a time when letter carriers and other postal workers could least afford it. Rising prices had already made it impossible to make both ends meet. Hence the drastic reduction in the pay envelope constitutes a grave injustice—a wage reduction with living costs continuing to mount.

Public hearings opened before the Committee on Post Office and Post Roads in the House of Representatives on Feb. 28th. A measure introduced by Congressman Thomas G. Burch of Virginia, and known as H. R. 5059 was made the topic of discussion. Senator James M. Mead of New York presented an identical measure, S. 1715, in the United States Senate and indications are that similar public hearings will be held before the Senate Post Office Committee in the not distant future

Briefly stated, the legislation is designed to bring relief to the hard-pressed postal workers by authorizing a salary adjustment to make up for the sudden loss in take-home pay. It is hoped that the increase finally granted will be at least $400 per annum. You can aid the cause tremendously by addressing a brief note to your Congressman and Senators urging that the Burch-Mead proposals, H. R. 5059 and S. 1715, be enacted into law without delay. Only through congressional action can postal personnel obtain such relief. Your kind consideration and cooperation will be everlastingly appreciated by postal employees everywhere.

(The Postal Record, April, 1946)

You're welcome

A veteran dropped in at our bank the other day and said, "I need advice. I'd like to talk with you about a problem that's been on my mind."

We told him he had come to the right place. He talked about half a dozen things. We listened. And because banking is our business, we could answer his questions that had a financial side: his rights under the G.I. bill, the value of a plot of ground he wanted to buy; and the local opportunities for a business he was thinking of starting.

When he left, he smiled and thanked us. "Don't thank us," we told him. "We're here not only to lend money, but also to help in every way we can."

He and his fellow-veterans are always welcome here. If we can do something for you, come on in.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in The Mother Church The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, on all of its branches, on Sunday, April 14, is, "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

The Golden Text, "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God," is from Psalms 143:5b. Other Bible citations include: "Bless the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name" (Psalms 103:1). "Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases" (Psalms 103:3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science reveals incontrovertibly that Mind is All-in-all, that the only realities are the divine Mind and idea. This great fact is not, however, always supported by sensible evidence, until its divine Principle is demonstrated by healing the sick and thus proved absolute and divine" (p. 109).

WEEK-END FIRES

Friday afternoon at 4:16 Box 59 came in for a fire in an Oldsmobile sedan near the corner of Wedgemere avenue and Foxcroft road. The owner and operator was Catherine W. Ayer of 53 Oxford street. A broken heater hose caused the fire which did only slight damage.

Saturday evening at 7:15 Box 35 came in for a grass fire near the International Cooperage plant on Swanton street. At 7:46 Saturday evening there was a brush fire at the rear of the farm-house on Country Club land off Hutchinson road.

Sunday morning at 3:02 Chief Michael Kane of the Woburn Fire Department called on Winchester for assistance in fighting the two alarm fire which burned out the business block at 271-285 Main street opposite St. Charles Church in Woburn. Engine 3 and a crew under Captain James Callahan went to Woburn, and Chief John J. Gorman also went to the fire in the Chief's car. The Winchester crew laid 500 feet of hose, pumped and altogether put in two hours work at the fire. Stoneham too sent over apparatus.

At 2:42 Sunday afternoon an operator at the Telephone Exchange called the Central Station reporting a fire at the home of F. S. Evans, 10 Woodside road. The men found upon arrival that the makings of a good fire had started in the living room. The fire started in a waste-basket beside a desk, flames igniting some window-curtains, drapes and a rug. Although there actually was not too much fire considerable damage was done the room and its furnishings.

COLLEGE DIETITIAN ADDRESSES WELLESLEY GROUP

Impressive savings of wheat seed fat made possible by sensible changes in the college recesses were explained to assembled alumnae by Mrs. Constance Covy, chief dietitian at Wellesley College. The occasion was the mid-season meeting of the Winchester Wellesley Club held at the home of Mrs. Blanche S. Barnard on April 4th.

Mrs. Covy, because of her experience in feeding the starving in Europe following the first World War was able to give valuable help to those present and to bring home to them the situation today.

hTe second speaker, Mrs. Alexander S. MacDonald described the problems being studied in the long Range Planning Committees and the changes in curricula resulting therefrom.

At the tea which followed in charge of Mrs. Gertrude Hall, Social Chairman, Mrs. MacDonald and Mrs. Ralph E. Sexton poured.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

William H. Rogers has been appointed constable for the town, without bond, for the purpose of delivering town reports, warrants, etc., but not civil processes and writs.

The Fire Department was called out Tuesday morning twice for fires at the town dump. The Police Department sent in the first call at 12:20 a. m. The second alarm came in at 10:15.

LARGE GATHERING HEARD DR. ANITA RIESS

An audience of more than 200 teachers, supervisors, principals, arithmetic committees, and interested parents of Winchester and 16 other communities near by gathered in the Lincoln School Auditorium on Monday of this week to hear an address by Dr. Anita Riess, Professor of Education and Psychology at William Penn College of Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Dr. Riess, whose articles in the "Journal of Educational Research" and other educational publications have been given serious consideration by educators, spoke of her experimentation with the problems confronting children as they try to get a concept of numbers. She is the author of a series of textbooks about to be published, the first of which is a text making arithmetic concrete for first grade children. This book is at present being tried experimentally by schools in various sections of the country.

Dr. Riess was introduced by Miss Leonor Rich, Elementary School Supervisor, Dr. Norris and Winchester primary grade teachers were in attendance and expressed the belief that Dr. Riess's presentation was timely, thought-provoking, and eminently satisfactory.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB SINGS IN WALTHAM

On Monday evening, April 8, Winchester's popular male glee club sang for the Fortnightly Club of the First Parish Unitarian Church of Waltham. The concert was of a high calibre and greatly enjoyed by a near capacity audience.

Frances Snow Drinker, flautist, was the guest artist, and performed flawlessly several well chosen selections which the audience received most favorably.

Such a hit was made by our Glee Club in this concert under the inspiring directorship of Bill Cruger, that hosts of requests for a repeat performance have flooded in from Waltham people. This was a preview of the concert to be sung in Winchester at the High School Auditorium on May 10 for the benefit of the Fellsland Council of the Boy Scouts.

Judging from the enthusiastic reception in Waltham it is safe to say that Winchester people have a great musical treat in store for them. With the return of Bill Cruger as conductor along with many of the club's former young members who are out of the service, the Mystic Glee Club, now in its sixth year, is larger and better in musical quality than ever.

Annual Meeting

On Monday afternoon the 65th season of The Fortnightly drew to a close when the eagerly anticipated annual luncheon-meeting was held at the Parish House of the First Congregational Church.

One hundred and thirty ladies sat down to luncheon amid a charming setting of spring flowers and plants arranged by Mrs. Norman M. Mitchell. During the luncheon hour the president, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, presided in her usual inimitable manner, welcomed Club members, and thanked those whose untiring efforts had helped to make the Club year successful.

She presented a corsage to Mrs. Kingman P. Cass, the luncheon chairman, in recognition of her efficient handling of all arrangements. A corsage was also presented to Mrs. Blanche S. Reynolds on the occasion of her fortieth anniversary as a member of the Club.

Our guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Ralph G. Swain, Fourth Vice-President of the State Federation, Mrs. William M. Munroe, Eighth District Director, and our own Mrs. Harold H. Given, State Chairman of the International Relations Department. Mrs. Munroe and Mrs. Swain brought cordial greetings and messages of inspiration from the District and the State.

At 2 o'clock the business meeting convened. From the excellent reports of the secretary and treasurer, we learned that The Fortnightly has again this year shown a fine record of service. $230 has been given in scholarships, and the following donations have been made: United War Fund, $25, American Red Cross, $25, Volunteers of America, $5, adoption of a Chinese child, $20. Our War Relief Committee received $16, which, together with private donations enabled it to contribute many knitted articles to the War Relief Headquarters. $25 was donated to our Co-operation with War Veterans Committee which has kept in close touch with the veterans at three local hospitals by many visits and gifts, especially at Christmas. $10 was given to the Social Service Committee which also brought cheer to the veterans. The Red Cross Sewing Group, meeting weekly, has completed an assignment of 196 articles of clothing, and also made many hospital slippers and bed cases.

Stamps and bonds have been sold at club meetings. The Fortnightly assisted in the nation-wide war relief clothing collection in January, and is now contributing clothing materials for Greek children. The club has just voted to adopt a French child.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes

1st Vice President, Mrs. Harold H. Given

2nd Vice President, Mrs. Kenneth B. Hiscoe

Recording Secretary, Mrs. Forrest F. Bursley

Cor. Secretary, Mrs. Robert H. Perkins

Treasurer, Mrs. Stanley D. Howe

Before handing the gavel to the new president, Mrs. Whitman in a stirring message appealed to club members to be ever mindful of the grave dangers surrounding us at home and abroad; to respect and obey law, which is the basis of freedom and peace nationally and internationally; to assume our full responsibilities as citizens, in order to keep alive our democratic, constitutional government, or be resigned to anarchy and tyranny. "What our fathers have bequeathed to us, we must earn to keep." In closing, Mrs. Whitman read the following lines:

"'Tis the human touch in this world that counts,
The touch of your hand and mine,
That means far more to the fainting heart
Than shelter and bread and wine.
For shelter is gone when the night is o'er,
And bread lasts only a day,
But the warmth of the voice and the touch of the hand
Live on in the soul alway."

The program for the afternoon, "On the Trail of Yankee Music" was presented by Mrs. Eloise H. Linscott, assisted by Mr. Llewellyn Powers, old time fiddle champion of New England.

With a sweet voice and charming manner, Mrs. Linscott portrayed in song and story the Indian lullaby, singing games, kissing party songs, sea chanties, songs of the lumber jack, Revolutionary songs and War of 1812 songs, making us feel proud of our rich heritage of New England Folk Music.

Greek Relief

Fortnightly members are again urged to contribute any kind of usuable materials to be made up into clothing for the destitute children and women of Greece. Please contact Mrs. Sidney A. Burr or her Social Service Committee.

GIRL SCOUTS NEWS

Day Camp for Brownies and Girl Scouts will open June 18th and be in session three days a week until July 25th, it was announced at the regular monthly meeting of the Winchester Girl Scout Council. Mrs. Barbara Metcalf, the executive director, will be in charge and has already made tentative plans including this year, for the first time, archery. On April 24th at 7:15 p. m. there is to be a Day Camp reunion at which movies will be shown depicting activities at the three Massachusetts Girl Scout Camps, the two for senior scouts, one the Mountain Camp at Fairlee, Vermont, the other the Sailing Camp at Vineyard Haven, and the one for intermediate scouts, Four Winds, at Plymouth. The mothers and fathers are cordially urged to attend this affair with their Scout daughters.

It was announced also that a bloc of approximately two hundred tickets to the Massachusetts Girl Scout Rally to be held at the Boston Garden May 4th would be reserved to be sold to the troops applying most promptly to the Scout office. Late applicants will have to be satisfied to sit separately and in less desirable seats.

Thanks to the courteous cooperation of Chief Rogers of the Police Department and Chief Gorman of the Fire Department, also to Captain Noonan who showed them around the latter, Bownies of Troop 21 had the exciting privilege of visits to both stations this week. It was difficult to tell whether the jail cells or the gleaming fire trucks were more impressive, but we suspect the "man sliding down the pole" would win top honors.

Troop 4 held its 21st meeting on March 15. We had as a guest that day Mrs. Lobingier. She came to teach us about colors and colorcraft. We are now taking the Colorcraft Badge and have finished the Hostess Badge.

She told and showed us many interesting facts about colors. She also told us how and what colors to mix together. Mrs. Lobingier was very interesting and the troop learned a lot from her.

Our next meeting our leader, Mrs. Nelson, was not there so our assistant leader Mrs. Hovey took over. Mrs. Nelson had gone to the Girl Scout convention in New Jersey. For this meeting we did another requirement for the colorcraft badge. This was plain dyeing and stick dyeing. We made handkerchiefs after we dyed the cloth. One handkerchief we made yellow and the other green and white.

For our 24th meeting the troop talked about going to a textile mill in Lowell. We also agreed upon taking with us three Wyman School teachers who have been kind to us, Miss Foley, Miss Mitchell, and the principal, Miss Lowry.

Troop three of the Girl Scouts met at the Wyman School on Tuesday, April 9 for their regular meeting. Our District Nurse, Mrs. O'Leary gave an instructive talk and demonstration on the first aid treatment of fainting, burns, cuts and bruises.

This being "Know Your District Nurse Week", we of troop three enjoyed meeting Mrs. O'Leary and wish to thank her for the help she gave us in preparing for our first aid badge.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL HAS NEW ADMINISTRATOR

Mr. Crawford Remaining as Directors' Representative

The Board of Directors of the Winchester Hospital announces as of April 1st the appointment of Mr. Tucker MacDonald Vye as Administrator of the Hospital. Mr. Vye comes to Winchester after 13 years on the staff of the Norfolk County Hospital. He is a graduate of Thayer Academy in South Braintree, pursued engineering administration studies at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and took further work at Boston University and the Harvard School of Public Health.

With such a background, Mr. Vye is well fitted to superintend the activities of the Winchester Hospital, and carry on the work so successfully done by his predecessor, Mr. Frank E. Crawford.

For some time Mr. Crawford has worked closely with the detail work as Superintendent of the Hospital. However, the Board takes satisfaction in announcing that his services will be retained as special representative of the Directors with responsibility for Public Relations and Finance, and it is expected that he will continue to attend the monthly Executive Committee meetings.

Mr. Crawford is spending some time at the Hospital acquainting Mr. Vye with the staff and the problems connected with the management of the institution.

Mr. Crawford is one of Winchester's best-known citizens. In the past 20 years or more his name has been connected with most of the community enterprises for the betterment and welfare of the town. He came to Boston from Chicago in 1899, and built up a successful business in the manufacture of electric protective devices. He retired in 1931, but his experience as a business man has carried over into his many other activities. In addition to his outstanding work as Superintendent of the Winchester Hospital, he has been a member of the Board and President of the Home for Aged People, and a member of the committee that rebuilt the Methodist Church. Another activity for which Winchester will remember him is in connection with the raising of funds for the work that furnished employment during the depression and enabled Winchester to clean up its swamps and waterways.

He took over responsibilities at the Hospital at a time when the Hospital was steadily running behind under a heavy debt load. Little by little he has secured help and funds, and through the gen-

FOUR YEAR OLD ELAINE JOHNSON DROWNED

Elaine Johnson, 4 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Johnson of 107 Cross street, was drowned in the Aberjona River not far from her home some time during the late afternoon of last Sunday.

Mrs. Johnson last saw her small, brown-eyed daughter playing in the neighborhood of her home at 5:30 o'clock. At 6:30 Police Headquarters was notified that the child was missing. Route Officer John Elliott was notified and Patrol 53 was sent to cover the district.

The little girl was not found at once and word was sent to Chief William H. Rogers who came from his home to take charge of the hunt. The proximity of the river made the searchers fear that the child had fallen in and the department's life-saving boat was brought out by Officer William Haggerty. Meanwhile neighbors had joined in a thorough search for the little girl.

Besides Chief Rogers and Officers Elliott and Haggerty, Officers James E. Farrell, John Reardon and James Flaherty joined in the search with special officer Harry Goodwin. Supt. Harry W. Dotten of the Water Department supplied flood-lights for the search from the Department's Emergency Lighting Truck which is available for use by any of the departments of the town.

Officers Haggerty and Elliott manned the boat and grapnels going slowly south from Cross street. At 9:35 about 200 feet south of Cross street they found and brought up Elaine's body from a muddy bottom and some three or four feet of water. While it is not known where the little girl fell into the river the Police believe it was some distance above where the body was recovered, the current having taken it down stream.

The body was removed to the Lane Funeral Home where it was viewed by Medical Examiner John Wilcox of Woburn. He pronounced death caused by drowning.

Elaine was the daughter of Carl G. and Mary E. (Flowers) Johnson. She was born March 2, 1942, in Winchester and leaves, besides her parents, a 2-year old sister, Irene.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the late home with burial in Calvary Cemetery.

MEMORIAL PLAQUE TO BE DEDICATED

A plaque recording the names of the ministers who have served the Winchester Unitarian Church will be dedicated at the conclusion of the 11 o'clock service on Easter Sunday morning. Rev. George Hale Reed, minister emeritus, will officiate.

The plaque has been presented to the church in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Goddard by their two daughters, and son, Barbara Goddard Coulter, Janet Goddard Burbank and Richard Goddard.

OUTSTANDING MUSICALE

Mrs. Walter W. Winship, president and Mrs. Carle C. Zimmerman music chairman introduced a completely refreshing and utterly novel lecture recital given by Kathryn Hall Sibley, contralto and Mary Ranton Witham ,pianist, at the annual meeting of the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League of Compassion held at the spacious home of Mrs. Reginald Bradlee in Ledgewood.

The program was entirely of Modern Spanish music ranging from the delightfully simple folk songs to the sophisticated complicated works of de Falla.

Mrs. Sibley in native costume, who has only recently returned from intensive study under the modern Spanish musician Balthasar Samper, at present a refugee in Mexico City, in her reminiscences of her sojourn there, created an authentic atmosphere for her music. Her glorious voice, of true contralto quality and of unusually extensive range, possesses that rare gift—an unbroken line.

Her flexibility was shown in the rhythmically taxing numbers as well as the purely melodic ones.

From the standpoint of audience approval, the Sequidilla the aria and the primitively ecstatic Ritmo de Falla were most pleasurable.

Mrs. Sibley combines most admirably an intellectual, a dramatic and an artistic approach to music.

Mention should be made also of her subtle humour as evinced in the original translations, which preceded her singing in the Spanish.

Mrs. Witham in her handling of the extremely difficult accompaniments displayed not only exceeding technical skill but also a rare sympathetic understanding.

The program follows:

MR. CARTER BOWS OUT

The Star reporter met Charles R. Carter of Madison avenue at the art gallery of the library last week and learned that he has given up regular choir singing after some 45 years of continuous service. A Dartmouth man, "Charlie" sang in the University Glee Club in New York with some of the outstanding male singers of his time. He also sang with Russian Church choirs in New York, his unusually deep bass voice enabling him to sing the low music record for such groups. He was for some years a member of the fine bass section at the Church of the Epiphany in the days when J. Albert Wilson directed outstanding boy choirs there. Recently he has sung at the Unitarian Church, though he has at all times been ready to assist other choral groups whenever a bass voice of unusually low range was needed.

During the days of the Winchester Choral Society Mr. Carter was one of the stalwarts of its exceptional second bass section, also serving the Society as a director. He has been long an active member of the Winchester Music Guild, often singing in quartet numbers on its program.

Local music lovers will miss his fine low bass which they have so often enjoyed in the past.

THE O'CONNELL'S 25TH

Police Lt. and Wife Observed Marriage Anniversary

Police Lt. and Mrs. Edward W. O'Connell observed their 25th marriage anniversary Saturday evening at their home on Mt. Pleasant street, entertaining a group of 100 relatives and friends.

Lt. and Mrs. O'Connell (Ella E. Hamilton) were married April 11, 1921, by Rev. John H. Corbett, then curate at St. Mary's Church. Their bridesmaid and best man were Miss Grace Hamilton, Mrs. O'Connell's sister, and Patrolman Archie T. O'Connell, brother of the bridegroom. Both attendants were present at the anniversary Sunday evening, with the fathers of Lt. and Mrs. O'Connell, George W. Hamilton of Everett and Edward O'Connell of Middlesex street.

Following an informal reception an excellent entertainment program was enjoyed and refreshments were served. Many guests were renewing acquaintance after 25 years, their ways having been apart since the wedding in 1921.

Talented guests provided the entertainment, the feature of which was Roy Smith of Boston, Scotch comedian, who appeared in costume. The O'Connells were the recipients of many handsome gifts in silver and also received a sizable purse of silver dollars.

Lt. and Mrs. O'Connell have six children, all but one of whom were present at the anniversary. Mrs. Clyde Newport (Elizabeth O'Connell) was unable to come north from her home in Dallas, Texas, but telephoned her congratulations during the party. Those present were Mrs. John D. Peterson (Ruth O'Connell) of Winchester, Edward W., Jr., recently released from the Army after 39 months service in the Pacific as a gunner's mate; Dorothy, Mary and Dannie O'Connell, all of Winchester.

The Star wishes to extend its congratulations to "Big Ed" and his lady, adding its best wishes for the future.

HONOR ROLL TO VETERANS OF PARISH PLAYERS

Twenty years of community service and a record of 51 successful productions will be formally commemorated next week with the dedication of an "honor roll" to the Parish Players in the Coffee Room of the Parish Hall, First Congregational Church, when the names of all players who have been in five or more plays will be emblazoned on the plaque. Milne Blanchard, who has appeared in 31 productions; Oscar Crowers, 27 plays; Dorothy Wills, 22; Samuel Graves, 20; Elsie Graves, '17 and Eugene Pollard, 15.

Because this year marks the 20th birthday of the Parish Players, the honor roll will be given special prominence on April 25, 26, 27 when the 51st production, "You Can't Take It With You" is given. This year the Players are presenting an additional performance on Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Winchester Scholarship Fund.

Parker Clarke, Ruth Smith, John Hall, Clifford Cunninghan, Jr., Janet Dalrymple, Joanne Worthen, William Higgins, Katrina Morse, Mary Snell, Priscilla Morrell, Edmund Merriam, Jr., Louise Oliver, W. Mrs. Mary Louisa Russell, widow of Edward Russell, for many years a prominent market gardener in Winchester, died Tuesday night, April 16, at the Winchester Hospital, following a month's illness. Her home was at 228 Cambridge street on the family farm, long a landmark in town.

Mrs. Russell was born in Winchester March 6, 1871, daughter of James and Bridget (Devine) Mulligan. She was educated in the Winchester schools, graduating from Winchester High School and from Framingham Normal School. Following her graduation she taught at the Mumford School, relaced by the William G. Noonan School, until her marriage on April 28, 1897, when she went as a bride to her home on the Russell Farm.

She was a member of the Fortnightly Women's Club, of the Winchester Chapter, Guild of the Infant Saviour; and of the Boston League of Catholic Women.

Mrs. Russell leaves a daughter, Mrs. Charles Mahoney (Martha Russell) of Melrose; a sister, Miss Margaret Mulligan of this town; and eight grandchildren, Russell, Marie, Martha Brenda, Margaret, Charles and Paul Mahoney of Melrose; also Jane McCarthy, a senior at Wellesley, and Constance McCarthy, a freshman at Boston University, both being daughter of the late Mrs. John H. McCarthy (Esther Russell) of this town.

Lt. (jg) Richard W. Swanson of 47 Cambridge street has been discharged from the Navy at the Personnel Separation Center in San Francisco, Cal.

75th ANNIVERSARY OF THE METHODIST CHURCH IN WINCHESTER

The Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will observe the week of April 21-April 28 as the 75th anniversary of Methodism in Winchester. On Saturday evening, April 15, 1871, Mrs. John C. Mason and Mr. James S. Owen arranged for Methodist services in Winchester, Eleven earnest persons were present that evening at Mrs. Mason's home on Winthrop street when a plan for organization was presented. With this group, to plan was to accomplish and the very next morning notices were read from all the pulpits to the effect that "There will be Methodist preaching in Union Hall on Thursday evening, April 20."

There were no phones in those days and no automobiles, but the news spread and 60 persons attended the first service which was conducted by Rev. Cyrus L. Eastman, pastor of Woburn Church. This is over five times the original number who met at Mrs. Mason's home. Their purpose definitely established, this small but energetic group embarked upon a building program and in five years this white church now occupied by the Recreational Center and which originally faced the Aberjona River, was built and dedicated on June 1, 1876.

It is this fine faith and enduring purpose to launch a strong spiritual program which Rev. Harris E. Heverly will emphasize in the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will commemorate in his message on Easter morning and Anniversary Sunday, using as his subject "To Be Continued."

When the Methodist people decided to build a new home at the corner of Church and Dix streets, sold their original church and worshipped for months in Waterfield Hall, it was Rev. Alston B. Gifford, beloved pastor who led them through the difficult transition period and it is most fitting that it is Mr. Gifford who is chosen to preach on Sunday, April 28. His subject is "The Burden Bearer."

Wednesday evening April 24 will be the church banquet and home-coming reunion for the entire parish. Among the special invited guests are three charter members, Mrs. Louisa Holman Fiske of Brookline, Mrs. Edward H. Stone of Winchester and Mrs. Joel M. Leonard of Melrose, the latter being daughters of Mrs. Mason; Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Armstrong, Mrs. Lillian O. Hatch, Miss Grace Snow, Mr. Nelson H. Seelye, Mr. Robert W. Dover, Mr. Milton F. Powers, Miss Hattie Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan R. Campbell of Milton, Mrs. Nestor W. Davis, the former pastors and their wives, Rev. and Mrs. Howard J. Chidley and a representative from the selectmen.

A special invitation is extended to the returned servicemen of the parish.

Dr. Arthur C. Fay will be the toastmaster for the occasion and Mrs. Norman C. Hitchcock will have charge of the singing. Mrs. Chester B. Koontz and Mrs. G. Raymond Bancroft insure a delicious repast at the dinner with plenty of room for all.

Mr. Lewis K. Moore is chairman of the Anniversary Committee with Mrs. G. Raymond Bancroft, Mrs. Harold E. Bergquist, Mr. A. B Bent and Mr. J. Wilson Armstrong assisting. Sub-chairmen are:

Mrs. Howard D. Bowie, decorations.

Mrs. R. W. Armstrong, Flowers
Mrs Chester B. Koontz, Music
Mr. G. Raymond Bancroft, Ushers.
Mrs. Harris G. LeRoy, Publicity.

The past 75 years have held many challenges which have been successfully met. This year 1945-1946 has held many significant marks of progress, one of the outstanding being the fact that 64 new members have been placed upon the church membership roll, four more than the number which attended the first Methodist service in 1871. As pastor and people now move forward together in a purposeful program for the last quarter of the century it is with a deeper spiritual strength, a more zealous and ceaseless endeavor for vital progress and with renewed faith and redoubled energy.

As the program changes and develops with the needs of the people Rev. Harris E. Heverly initiates new ideas and a broader horizon upon which to face the future in strengthening the service of Methodism in Winchester.

A product of the Winchester schools, Chief Callahan makes his home at 3 Bonad road. He is married to the former Katherine Francis of Jamaica Plain, and they have two children, a son, James, Jr., and a daughter, Patricia.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Greek Relief

A last appeal is being made to Fortnightly members to contribute any usable materials to be made into clothing for the destitute children and women of Greece. There is urgent need also for needles and thread, even odd, partly used spools. Please contact Mrs. Sidney Burr or Mrs. Frank Madge of the Social Service Committee before April 25.

Annual Federation Meeting

The attention of the Fortnightly is called to the annual State Federation meeting to be held May 22, 23, 24, 25 at the New Ocean House, Swampscott. All club members are welcome. An excellent program is being arranged and it is hoped that many of our members will plan to attend at least some of the sessions.

Antiques Committee Pilgrimage

The Antiques Committee asks the Fortnightly to have in mind the Pilgrimage to the Willard Homestead, Still River, on June 5, arranged through the courtesy of Mrs. Eleanor Hudson Welch. Further notice will appear later.

The Winchester Branch of the M. S. P. C. A. held open house at the animal shelter on Washington street last Wednesday.

Ninety-three friends visited the Shelter. Among the visitors was Mrs. Wyman's Brownie Pack of 16 Brownies. Mr. Bryer explained how he used the canoe with runners on it to cross the ice and other rescuing apapratus.

Six of the seven animals at the Shelter that day were found good homes by the end of the day and the seventh, a six months old maltese cat was eagerly awaiting adoption by some kind person.

If you want a pet or you wish to find a home for your pet call Mr. Bryer at the Shelter.

Any one who doubts that there are fish in the Aberjona should look beneath the new bridge at the foot of Mystic avenue. Some of them look as if they were two feet long. Boys have caught many of them by various means.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS CHAPTER

Presents Civilian Blood Donor Service

The Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross, will shortly assist the Department of Health of Massachusetts with the state-sponsored program of soliciting donors so that patients in hospitals may receive whole blood or plasma without charge.

With this new service, physicians and hospitals will no longer waste valuable time searching for donors with matching blood, and patients are free from worry about the cost of transfusions.

Massachusetts is one of three states sponsoring this Civilian program. The Department of Health has recognized the need of the people of Massachusetts for free and adequate blood transfusions. It is prepared to collect and process plasma and all other blood derivatives in order that all citizens of the State may receive free of charge any necessary transfusions. The Massachusetts Department of Public Health assumes over-all responsibility. A staff of specialists and a mobile unit will go to the towns and bleed the donors. The blood will be processed in the State laboratory. Whole blood, plasma, and products will be distributed free to hospitals, doctors, and health officers. The Red Cross Chapter provides a place for bleeding, enrolls the donors, aids the technical staff, and provides necessary comforts, such as the "snacks" given to the donors. Donors are not paid. The cost of processing and distributing blood is borne by the State, and not a penny of it is passed on to the patient. It is a gift from some unknown donor, the Health Department, and the Red Cross. People will not be called upon to give more blood than is needed.

The strides made by medical science during the war period have shown the great possibilities of plasma and its derivatives or fractions in the treatment of the sick and injured. Service physicians operating on the battle fronts and behind the lines became used to having all the blood and plasma they needed available when they wanted it. Their dependence upon it and their knowledge of its value will carry over into their civilian practices; and, unless blood is available to them, much of value that has been gained will be forgotten.

Please bear in mind that your local Red Cross Chapter is co-operating with the State Department of Health and will shortly sponsor a Winchester program for State donations. There is no cost to the individual for this program. The plasma will be furnished free by the State to all who need it.

MARTIN—CHASE

At the Second Congregational Church on Friday evening, April 12, Miss June Louise Chase, daughter of Mrs. Louise E. Chase of Webster street, became the bride of Finley Randolph Martin of Webster avenue, Chelsea, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Martin. Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiated at the candlelight service, assisted by the pastor of the Second Church, Rev. John Heidt. Calla lilies and red snapdragons with a background of palms made an attractive setting for the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Association Hall. Mrs. George H. Lochman played the bridal music and the soloist was Miss Doris Emery.

Miss Chase was given in marriage by her brother, Howard E. Chase, Jr. She wore a wedding gown made twenty years ago of Irish point lace with a tulle skirt, having lace inserts and a train seven feet long. In place of a bouquet she carried the family bible with orchids and streamers of sweet peas.

Miss Dorothy Chase of this town was her sister's honor attendant, and another sister, Miss Helen Chase of Winchester was one of the two bridesmaids, the other being Miss Nancy Lopez of Winchester. Miss Carolyn Lopez of this town was flower girl.

The honor maid wore a light pink taffeta dress and carried an old fashioned bouquet. The bridesmaids also carried old fashioned bouquets and wore taffeta dresses, Miss Chase wearing teal blue and Miss Lopez, pink. The small flower girl wore a long frock of yellow net with a matching sun-bonnet and carried a bouquet of yellow daisies.

William Richards of Chelsea, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were John Chase of Woburn, brother of the bride; two cousins of the bride, Norman Joyce and Thomas Hornecker, both of Winchester; and Anthony Lopez, also of this town.

After a wedding journey through Massachusetts and New Hampshire, Mr. and Mrs. Martin will make their home at 189 Washington street in Winchester.

Patriot's Day, April 19, may mean Paul Revere and William Dawes; British; Old North Church, lanterns, Minute Men, or just a day off to many people; but to hundreds of folks from Winchester and surrounding communities it is important as the date the Winchester Boat Club officially opens. After all, it signals the start of six months of healthy, wholesome and heartily enjoyable fun. At the Club they can swim or sun; boat or bridge; feast or fish; dive or doze; picnic or paddle; in short relax in any way that meets their fancy. And this year promises to be finer than ever.

Already an able and energetic entertainment committee is hard at work planning the many holiday and week-end affairs that are social highlights of the summer season. Ed Kent, as jovial and efficient a host as this club has ever had, is back as steward and rarin' to go. He'll be ready, willing and able to serve delicious meals in keeping with the highest traditions of the Club and is hard at work shining up the Club and grounds and planning menus to please the most exacting appetites.

The Snipe Fleet will be larger and more active than ever and the other boats are in tip-top shape. The shuffle board courts have been shined up and the horseshoe pits are pining for action.

Yes, the "merry manor on the Mystic" is all ready for another slick season. Better bust out of your red flannels, take your annual dose of sulphur and molasses and scamper down and join the fun. The Club roster is pretty full, so take a tip if you're not a member, get an application blank now or "you'll be sorry!"

ATTENDANCE RECORD FOR MARCH

The school department notes with considerable pleasure the reduction in tardiness. Although still high, the 260 tardinesses in March is a marked improvement on the February record of well over 500 tardinesses.

SONS OF ITALY NOTES

Last week was a busy one for Winchester's crack degree team with visits to Medford, Salem and Braintree.

The precision and dignity with which the local team exemplifies its ritual never fails to impress and as a consequence the group is much in demand by other lodges. The team has already been signed to appear at the Massachusetts State Convention in Swampscott.

The Medford installation was an impressive ceremony, attended by many lodge dignitaries and civic officials, including the Mayor of Medford.

STRIKE AND YOU GET IT

What a farce it is! And how the people love it. The greatest nation on earth bowed down upon its knees before the labor unions. Strikes and threats of strikes. Great cities stagnated and all people intimidated. The New Deal philosophy in full tide. The strike is threatened for weeks; then it is called; after a period of stagnation, threats and intimidation, the Union is given what it wants and all attention is centered upon a new strike. Everyone gives in to the strikers; even the cities who employ them. They own the country. The New Deal jumps up and proclaims the nation is enjoying the greatest prosperity it has ever known; that the cost of living is only un a fraction; that prices are "pegged"; that everyone is happy and satisfied. Meanwhile transportation is tied up, some food practically unobtainable and what you pay for everything is so high that everyone outside the clan is hard put to make both ends meet. Do you remember our late great Ruler's proclamation about homes for the veterans? Where are they now? Do you remember Arthurdale, that grandiose housing project which the New Deal played with? Where is it now? Everything the New Deal turns to, develops into a mess. All the veterans going to college! And if half of them go, no one else can. Strike and you get it. Why don't the veterans strike? If they do they will get it—perhaps. The steel strike ties up all manufacturing. Now the coal strike stops steel and more manufacturing. The steel union got what it wanted. So will the coal union—just as the automobile union and all other unions. Why does not the New Deal come out into the open, proclaim a new form of government, declare its union affiliations and tell the nation it shall have the NRA, no butter, no sugar, etc., and let the people go back to homespun and the farm. Why this constant threat and intimidation?

CRITICIZES COMMITTEE

Editor of the Star:

I noted with interest the appointments by the Moderator to the Committee on School Facilities. Several of the appointments have a peculiar ring. Messrs. Stone and Farnum in the town meeting were unalterably opposed to even the appointment of the committee to study our problem. Perhaps they can explain why they agreed to serve on a committee of which they wanted no part. May we also recall that Messrs. Stone and Farnum apparently did not have the courage of their convictions for they did not vote against the motion they had so bitterly opposed. The vote of the town meeting was unanimous for the appointment of the committee. Can we expect an impartial approach to the solution of this important problem under such conditions.?

I assume that Myra B. Coon is expected to represent the parents of the 2300 children in our schools. Why was not another mother appointed to share this responsibility with Mrs. Coon? Certainly it would appear that the parents are entitled to consideration and equal representation.

The school housing problem is a vital and serious one, worthy of impartial consideration. We all have a definite responsibility to the present children and those to come. Unfortunately, we have in some quarters a penny-pinching, tax conscious "those-without-children" attitude that "the present schools were good enough for us-they are good enough now." May we remind the advocates of this policy that the parents of our children also pay taxes and while they may not be as vocal, they are entitled to every consideration.

Very truly yours,
R. F. Lybeck

MASSACHUSETTS CITIZENS UNION

A glance at Page 1 of any newspaper any day of the week should convince anyone that the time is on hand for rebellion against the forces that are paralyzing the nation, according to Charles L. Gibson, president of the Massachusetts Citizens Union.

This non-partisan, voluntary association was recently organized to promote more harmonious relations between labor and industry. Its immediate purpose is to combat evils relative to internal and financial management of labor unions.

So long as power-hungry labor leaders can demand blind obedience from the rank-and-file, we can never expect to see labor and management working as a team, Gibson said. "These omnipotent officials are supplied with ample funds for which they are not required to account," he continued. "The worker's dues and assessments go into a one-way chute whose outlet is directed by the whims, by the personal ambitions and by the political preferences of the men in the driver's seat."

The Citizens Union, Gibson explained, does not concern itself with strikes, the closed shop, collective bargaining, working conditions, or the status of the AFL, the CIO, the Railroad Brotherhoods or any organized labor group. Its sole aim, he said, is to prevent abuse of power by the few labor leaders whose word is law and whose decisions can subject workers, their families and the public in general to the gravest hardships.

Accomplishment of the Citizens Union's purposes will go a long way toward helping the cause of organized labor, Gibson continued. When required to account to their members for the money taken in and spent, and when prohibited from pouring the contents of their treasuries into political channels, labor unions will begin to earn the respect that should be their due, Gibson predicted.

In its appeal for membership, the Massachusetts Citizens Union urges support for two bills now before the state legislature and which, if they fail of passage, will be on the ballots as referenda in the election next fall.

One is an act to provide that labor unions shall file certain statements and reports with the Commissioner of Labor and Industries. (Statement of revenue and expenditures.) The other is an act relative to contributions by labor unions or persons acting in behalf thereof for political purposes or to campaign funds. (Making such contributions unlawful.)

"Labor unions today are duplicating the industrial slavery of 10 years ago," Gibson charged, and pointed to the $22,000,000 and in as dues each year by members of the 2300 labor unions in Massachusetts. "Where does this money go?" he asked. "The workers don't know and don't dare ask. Do office holders in many instances owe their elections to the ever-ready checkbooks of labor officials? Do candidates for office fail of election because refusal to take dictation from labor leaders results in heavy financial support for their opponents? The answer is obvious.

"Industrial slavery and pressure politics today are on an exact parallel with the methods by which big business ruled the country 40 years ago. Theodore Roosevelt applied the big stick to Wall Street and put through the corrupt practices act. Corporations were had to file financial statements and were prohibited from using funds for political purposes. At that time organized labor was young. Unions had little money. It was not thought necessary to include them with corporations. Today unions are big business. Some are well run and make an accounting to their members, but most do not. Something has to be done to bring them into line as was big business 40 years ago. Unions must be put on a business basis. That is what the Massachusetts Citizen Union is out to do."

Charles L. Gibson's connection with the movement is the result of his lifelong interest in public affairs. He learned about unions at first hand, his father having been a South Shore shoe cutter and walking delegate for the Boot and Shoe Workers Union. After high school Gibson went to work at four dollars a week as a State Street errand boy, and worked up to a responsible position in the financial district. Last December, while a member of the firm of O'Connell and Co., he decided to give up the investment banking business to devote full time to his present work. During the war years he served in a voluntary capacity with various committees, heading the Weymouth War Finance Committee, the Weymouth Community Chest which he established, and being a member of the Boy Scouts board of directors, the state industrial committee for the United War Fund and other organizations.

FARM BUREAU NEWS AND VIEWS

"The blame for the food shortage belongs squarely on the shoulders of the Administration and more especially on the OPA., because of the restrictive regulations affecting the normal flow and production of food and further on labor for demanding more pay, working less hours; and at the same time asking the farmers to produce more food for less; and by their strikes depriving farmers of productive machinery and repair parts to produce more food for the starving people across the sea.

And until these things are corrected the amount for export to the starving people will continue to be limited."

So stated the Board of Directors of the Mass. Farm Bureau Federation at a meeting at Worcester Friday night. The Federation, which represents over 7000 farm family memberships, is concerned over present shortages.

REP. ROGERS URGES PLANS BE EXPEDITED

Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers today urged the Veterans Administration to expedite plans for the decentralization from Washington of appeal boards to the various 13 Branch Offices throughout the country so that a "personal appearance" before appeal rating boards in the higher levels can be assured the veterans of World War II as was for many years the case for World War I veterans.

The decentralization from Washington of Veterans Administration work to the 13 Branch Offices throughout the country provides ideal organization for such appeal boards Representative Rogers believes, and she urges that steps be taken to prepare for rehearings on many hundreds of claims.

MRS. MARIA SCOVILLE POLLOCK

Mrs. Maria Scoville Pollock, widow of John Martin Pollock, died Sunday, April 14, at her residence, 5 Central street, after a long illness.

Mrs. Pollock was the daughter of Henry, and Mary Scoville (Ely) Hudson. She was born Dec. 30, 1864, at Watkins Glen, N. Y., but spent her early life at Cortland, N. Y., completing her education at a private school for young ladies in Newburgh, N. Y.

After her marriage Mrs. Pollock lived in New York City until the death of her husband in 1937. She then came to Winchester to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. E. Francis Gallagher, at 52 Allen road.

Mrs. Gallagher's husband, a captain in the Army during World War II, died in June, 1944, while attending Government Military School at Charlottesville, Va. Mrs. Gallagher left Winchester after her husband's death and at that time Mrs. Pollock took up residence at 5 Central street. Until her health failed she was actively identified with the sewing done each week at the Church of the Epiphany.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Gallagher, now living in Concord, N. H., Mrs. Pollock is survived by five grandchildren, John Richard, Betty Jean and Walter Gallagher; also William Pollock, Jr., and Lewis Pollock of Pittsburgh, sons of Mrs. Pollock's deceased son, William.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the memorial chapel of A. E. Higgins & Son, Inc., in Cambridge, with Rev. Maurice Arnold, rector of Grace Episcopal Church in West Medford, officiating. Cremation followed the service at Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

A CLOSE ONE

One of the better known male members of the high school faculty is coming in for some ribbing as the result of leaving his overcoat (a failing of his) at a house where he and a group of congenial souls had been playing a spot of cards.

This fact in itself would hardly have created remarks quite the usual thing so to speak, but when the professor came within the ace of buying back his own coat from his late cards associate then it did seem a bit above the eight.

His wife interfered in time to prevent any money actually changing hands, but it was a close thing, and the professor now has two strings around his finger; one to remind him not to forget his coat and the other to remember not to buy it back.

HOCKEY OUT OF SEASON

With Canadians winning the Stanley Cup from our Boston Bruins we figured the hockey season was a thing of the past, but we evidently were wrong. At least the Police had to go over to the Glen Estate Tuesday night and stop a group of boys who were playing hockey on the tennis court to the west of the house.

The boys were using flash-lights for light and this fact plus the noise they were making led to their discovery and a call to Police Headquarters. Officers William Haggerty and James Flaherty gave the out-of-season pack-chasers the heave-ho and advised them to play no more hockey in that location.

Howard B. MacDonald

TO SPEAK AT UNITARIAN MEN'S CLUB

The members and guests of the Winchester Unitarian Men's Club are to hear Howard B. MacDonald's unique lecture, "Highway to Happiness", on next Friday evening, April 26, at the occasion of a Smorgasbord supper for the members of the Men's Club, their families and guests. Mr. MacDonald has been a professional lecturer for over 20 years having delivered over 2000 lectures during that time, many to very large audiences at fancy prices. He has the distinction of having traveled twice around the world and visited, in collecting material for his lectures, 94 foreign countries. He is the author of five books on travel and an authority on many subjects. His "Highway to Happiness" lecture has been well received by many previous audiences and is not only interesting and educational but is guaranteed to improve the most ardent pessimist's outlook on life in general.

Reservations for the Smorgasbord may be obtained in advance from W. Allan Wilde, 8 Thompson street; tickets for the lecture will be available at the door. Everyone welcome.

It is expected that tentative plans for the Club's annual Fathers and Sons outing, this year a trip to one of the Boston League baseball games, will be announced at the meeting.

HILO

Lying in the shadow of the massive volcano of Mauna Loa and surrounded by rich fields of sugar cane, the wave-damaged city of Hilo is Hawaii's second largest community. Its population was more than 16,000, notes the National Geographic Society.

Hilo is situated on a bay on the northeastern coast of the island of Hawaii, largest in the group. The bay's western shore is a high bluff, which normally deflects the heavy swell that often hits the island. The southern shore is low. Hilo Bay was swept by severe waves 25 years ago on two occasions following Chilean earthquakes.

Thirty-five miles inland from Hilo is Mauna Loa, whose snow-caped dome rises 13,675 feet. In recent years, when eruptions of the volcano have threatened people and property, aviators have bombed the crater to break down the rock channels through which lava flows. Tropical forest covers Mauna Loa's lower slopes.

Maui, second largest island of the group, which also suffered damage, has a north coast extending about 42 miles. The extinct volcano, Haleakala, rises more than 10,000 feet on the western end of the island. Maui is northwest of the island of Hawaii.

Honolulu, capital of the Hawaiian Islands, is on the island of Oahu; it lies on the south or leeward side from the center of the seismic wave disturbance. Oahu's north coast is bordered virtually all the way by coral reefs. Mountains crowd the western part of this coast, which is divided between ledges of rock and stretches of sandy beach. The eastern part is low, with land cultivated back to the mountains.

The island of Kauai, 75 miles northwest of Oahu, also suffered in the disaster. It is a circular island less than 25 miles in diameter, rising to a central mountain elevation of more than 5,000 feet. It is the most northern of the principal Hawaiian islands.

DOG SCHOOL NEWS

The Winchester Dog Training Club held its second training class on Tuesday, April 16. The class was divided into two groups, one group training from eight to nine p. m., and the other group training from nine to ten p. m. This method enabled the trainer to give more attention to the individual dogs and made the hall less crowded. Twenty-three dogs attended school last Tuesday evening, which was an increase of five dogs over the first session.

Some dog owners may have hesitated about joining this dog training class because their dogs are not pure bred. This class is for any dog, pure bred or otherwise, whose owner is willing to devote the time to train his or her dog.

The training class will not meet next week but will hold its next class on Tuesday, April 30, in its regular meeting place, the upstairs hall of the former Recreation Center.

RULE OF THE ROAD

Without benefit of a conference, Inter-American unity will receive a boost in early September when Uruguay, last American country to cling to the practice of driving on the left, is scheduled to start conforming to the right-hand rule of the road observed in the rest of the hemisphere.

Argentina made the switch last June, on a rainy day that saw no more than the usual number of accidents in Buenos Aires. Panama and •Paraguay, shortly before, had also reversed their driving habits. The postwar Pan-American motorist will laugh at international borders - unlike his European counterpart who must swing from one side of the road to the other as he drives across some of the borders of the countries of the Old World.

Uruguay's action in making the rule of the road unanimous in the Americas raises the question why mankind did not agree on such a simple thing in the first place. Why did some nations adopt one practice, and othrs do exactly the opposite?

The answer lies deep in the mists of time when men stopped carrying loads on their backs and on horseback and began using carts and wagons. It probably traces, says the National Geographic Society, to that universal badge of the wagoner - the horsewhip.

In old England the predominate type of transport was the simple, four-wheeled box wagon with a board across the front end for the driver's seat. The driver sat on the right end of this board (the right side of the wagon) so as to keep his whip hand (right hand) free. He could wield the whip with more ease from the right side because his arm and whip would swing clear of the vehicle.

When two of these wagons met, the drivers pulled to the left. They did this so they could see if their vehicles were clearing each other on the narrow, often slippery roads. If they kept to the right of the road, the driver's position would be on the outside, the wring side to watch the space between the two wagons.

From this practice of farmers carrying their produce to market on small wagons grew the present-day custom in mechanized England of driving on the left. These wagons so greatly outnumbered other types of vehicles that their way of driving became the practice of the country.

The drivers of English coaches, perhaps following the lead of the small wagon, but more likely conforming to the same natural laws of convenience, also sat on the right-hand side of their coaches and naturally kept to the left when meeting.

England's American Colonies aped the mother country in the rule of the road until about 1750. Conditions peculiar to the Colonies, greater distances, more long hauling, bigger freight loads, resulted in the development of the Conestoga wagon about that time. These large boatlike wagons were first used to carry wheat from Pennsylvania's Conestoga Valley (then a breadbasket of the Colonies) to Philadelphia (then the largest city). Later, in modified forms, they became the prairie schooner and covered wagons of the westward movement.

The conestogas were the postilion type of vehicle. Two, or more likely, three pairs of horses pulled these heavy wagons. The driver, or postilion, sat on the left rear horse, not the wagon. He did not choose to sit on the right rear horse because then his own body would be in the way when whipping the horse to his left. From the left rear horse, however, he was in a position to strjke with his whip hand (right hand) at all the horses, including the ones to the right. Naturally he kept to the right when meeting other vehicles, for only on that side could he watch the space between the careening wagons to see that they cleared each other.

Drivers of small wagons, who, as in England, sat on the right side and tended to keep to the left when meeting other vehicles, had to pull to the right to avoid collisions with Conestogas. In time the ponderous freight wagons forced all other types of vehicles to conform to their rules of the road. They were so big and numerous that other drivers dared not challenge them; their way of driving set the setandard for the United States.

World Still Divided On Rule Of The Road

In spite of the drive-on-right ule, wagon and buggy drivers in the United States still sit on the right side of their vehicles because it is the most convenient position from which to handle the whip.

The postilion type of vehicle was also used extensively in France and Germany, which accounts for the practice in those countries of driving to the right. Actually, all European countries (includig England) once used both types of driving. Individual nations or localities eventually decided their own rule of the road, dependent on the prevailing custom. Generally the postilion type was used in cities, and the box-wagon type in rural areas. As recently as 25 years ago ural traffic in Italy kept to the left and urban traffic drove on the right.

OLD FORT NIAGARA CLOSED AS MILITARY POST

Fort Niagara, New York, has been honorably discharged from the Army. Official action closing the fort brings to an end a military post which has borne its present name for 219 years, and whose history reaches back to a stockade built in 1678 by the French explorer La Salle.

The fort's turbulent history was determined by its site, on the shore of Lake Ontario at the mouth of the Niagara River, says the National Geogrphic Society. Throughout the clashes of British and French colonial ambitions, the American Revolution, and the War of 1812 the fort held a key position in the stratetgy of conquest.

LaSalle's Fort Conti First

La Salle's crude stockade, first recognition of the military value of the site, was known as Fort Conti. It was improved at various times until 1726, when the post was renamed Fort Niagara. Thirty years later the fortifications were further expanded in an effort to protect Canada from British invasion.

British power under Sir William Johnson struck deeply into western New York in 1759, and captured Fort Niagara. From its great hall or council chamber he ruled a British domain extending hundreds of miles north and west into Canada and east and south into the American colonies.

During the Revolution the fort served as a refuge for British loyalists and as a base for British troops and their Indian allies operating against frontier centers of American resistance. It got an unsavory name as a market for scalps. Loss of the war forced the abandonment of the fort by the British in 1796, an act stipulated in the Treaty of aPris.

Thus 1796 marks the first time the fort was garrisoned by American troops. The War of 1812 brought a British attack on the fort, and it fell in December, 1813, to be restored to American posession in March, 1815, through the Treaty of Ghent.

Manor House Concealed Cannon

Construction of the modern post began about 1841 in an area now totaling about 288 acres. Historical interest, however, centers in the gate-house with its drawbridge, the old chateau or castle surrounded with ramparts of earth and tree trunks, the massive stone blockhouses, and the bakeshop, first built in 1759. Resoration of these structures was completed in 1934 at a cost of $600,000.

All the original builing materials were transported from French settlements along the St. Lawrence River. The castle was designed as a manor house to conceal from the Indians its defensive strength and armament. Walls were made four feet thick to absorb the shocks of cannon fire. Doors were made of oak. Those at the main entrance weighed 1,500 pounds, So well balaced were the doors for easy entrance and exit that a child could readily swing the heaviest.

Wars and Indian raids no longer alarm the region. Since the restoration the flags of the United States, Great Britain, and France have flown from staffs at the center of the parade ground. Another evidence of international amity is the monument commemorating the Rush-Bagot treaty of 1817, defining the boundary between the United States and Canada and providing that it remain forever unfortified.

EASTER

Easter is the symbol of man's hope. The salvation of mankind will not be achieved by the atomic bomb, but by the creed which brought light into darkness twenty centuries ago.

"I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil." Easter revives this promise and renews our faith. It reminds us that the forces of the spirit are more powerful than those of science.

SWITZERLAND

Establishment of diplomatic relations between Switzerland and the Soviet Union offers a study in contrasts, says the National Geographic Society, for the Soviet colossus is 500 times as large as the mountainous European state. Its population is about 45 times that of Switzerland.

The one-party communist government of the Soviet Union, however, is young, with only 28 birthdays behind it, while the Swiss political democracy had its beginning 655 years ago.

Granted Perpetual Neutrality

In 1291,(the three "forest cantons" of Uri, Schwyz and Unterwalden, in the heart of what is now Switzerland, came together to found a "perpetual league." Cutting loose from the feudal control of neighboring Hapsburg rulers, they fought many battles to preserve their freedom.

Gradually other territories were added and additional cantons formed. After the Congress of Vienna in 1814-15, the Confederation numbered 22, of which three have been subdivided into half cantons, making 25 units in all.

At this important Vienna Congress, which reorganized the continent in the wake of the Napoleonic struggles, the European powers guaranteed perpetual neutrality to the little inland country. During World War II, Switzerland was one of the few nations of Europe able to maintain neutrality.

German is the predominant tongue in 19 of the Swiss cantons. But there are four official languages, including the Romanic dialect, Romansh. French is generally spoken in five cantons, and in one, Ticino, in the south, Italian prevails.

Cantonal Powers Strong

The present Swiss government is still a confederation, with strong accent on the individual independence of the cantons. All have their own, and widely differing, legislative, executive and judicial institutions. Several of the smaller cantons continue the old open-air assembly, where the men make laws and select their administrators directly.

The federal government has only expressly granted powers, in matters such as war, treaties, communications, marriage, coining money, and army regulations. Since the adoption of the constitutions of 1848 and 1874, the Swiss government has tended toward more federal control.

How Does Christian Science Heal?

The Disappearance of organic and functional disease, as well as of trouble in other forms, is continually recorded among those who have turned to Christian Science for help.

The method of such overcoming of difficulty is prayer — a spiritually scientific manner of thinking based on the teaching of Christ Jesus.

What this prayer is and how anyone can understand it and use it effectually in accordance with his need are fully explained in the Christian Science textbook,

Science and Health
with Key to the Scriptures
by Mary Baker Eddy

This remarkable book, other works of Mrs. Eddy, and all other authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed, or purchased at the Christian Science Reading Room.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

erosity of various Winchester citizens whose interest he has awakened, he has cleared the hospital of indebtedness and equipped it so that in point of efficiency it ranks with the very best of the Class A hospitals.

At the Hospital Mr. Crawford's 13 years as Superintendent have been marked by a steadily increasing amout of medical and surgical service of highly satisfactory quality. The number of hospital days treated has more than doubled in the last decade, and the hospital is now servicing annually more patients from Winchester alone than the entire number of patients serviced a little more than ten years ago. Next to Winchester, the towns of Wakefield and Reading are sending the greatest number of patients to the Hospital. Neither of these towns has a hospital of its own. It is hoped that the communities that are using the Winchester Hospital will bear an increasing part in its support. A few years ago only 10 per cent of the annual income of the Hospital came from Blue Cross, while today that amount has risen to more than 25 per cent.

For some time the Winchester Hospital has been under pressure from its medical and surgical staffs and from the public to increase its bed capacity and the Hospital is fortunate to be able to face the situation as a financially sound institution. The ten-year period, 1935-45, has seen the paying-off of a $55,000 mortgage and the expenditure of approximately $68,000 for additional equipment and improvements in the plant, in addition to meeting annual deficits in operating costs. The contribution of the Winchester Community Fund is now helping each year toward filling the gap between income from patients' fees and the hospital's needs. Winchester citizens will keep these facts in mind when they are asked to assist with capital gifts toward the erection of the new wing. Other pertinent information will be presented for their consideration from time to time.

WINCHESTER WOMEN'S COUNCIL MEET

Elect New Board

Meeting in the Library Art Room, Friday morning, April 12, members of the Winchester Women's Council, representing their respective organizations, heard reports on several interesting Winchester activities. Robbins, long identified with the Flower Mission, told of reviving that valuable work. She asked that the hampers again be filled on Tuesday morning at the railway station and wished for help in having two persons there to oversee the safe departure of the hampers on the 9 o'clock train to Boston.

Also telling of a need for workers was Mrs. Clark Collins. She urged all who sew to assist in finishing a large quota of work which our Red Cross Chapter is responsible for.

Support of many organizations has been given the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, newly organized to encourage and handle funds for scholarships given in Winchester, Mrs. Lyman Smith reported for the Foundation telling of the election of the Scholarship Committee.

The report of the Nominating Committee was presented by Mrs. Gleason Ryerson, Mrs. Clifton Hall and Mrs. Edward Grosvenor. Mrs. Ryerson chairman presented the names of Mrs. Lucius Smith for president and Mrs. Ralph Sexton for Sec. and Treas. These were accepted.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

Gala plans are being made by the members of the Guild for their annual Spring Bridge and Luncheon, which will be held on Wednesday afternoon, May 8 at 1 p. m. at the Bear Hill Country Club, Stoneham, Mass.

Mrs. Michael Mintlian, President, will be General Chairman and she will be assisted by the Executive Board. Mrs. Wallace Fisher will act as Ticket Chairman, assisted by a large committee.

Beautiful prizes will be awarded the high scores at each table, and some lovely articles have been donated to be given as prizes. We hope to see all our members and friends at this party, which always proves to be the most enjoyable of the season.

The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 23 at Lyceum Hall at 2:30 p. m. Tea will be served.

Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers testified before General Doolittle's Committee on Officer Enlistedman Relationship a few days ago asking for more democratic relations between the commissioned officers and the enlisted men. On April 12 in speaking on the House floor she said in part: "One of the things I brought up before the Doolittle Committee was the severity of the punishment given our disabled men, often given them for some minor infraction of the rules. The Committee seemed to be very much interested and asked many questions. There has been great injustice done our disabled men both in fines and imprisonment."

WINCHESTER LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

General Meeting

The speaker of the afternoon meeting at 2:30 on April 25, Thursday, is Mr. Paul Yuzaker, a teaching Fellow in the Department of Government at Harvard University. Mrs. Earl G. Carrier of 326 Highland avenue will be the hostess.

We have a subject which to many will sound dry; on the contrary, "The Reorganization of Congress" can contribute greatly to governmental efficiency, but whether it will be accomplished depends on how many thinking people consider the facts. While we need more leadership from Congress, under our present set-up, Congress is handicapped in its efforts to provide that leadership.

WINCHESTER SCHOOL COMMITTEE NOTES

At a regular meeting of the Winchester School Committee held at the Administration Building on Monday evening, April 15, Miss Marguerite Asher, recently taking Miss Hughes's place as teacher of grade four at the Washington School, was appointed interim teaching principal of the Mystic School, effective with the re-opening of schools on April 22. She will replace Mrs. Caroline Dresser who recently resigned.

Miss Asher, presently residing in Cambridge, was formerly a teacher and elementary school principal in Ft. Pleasant, West Virginia.

Mrs. Elizabeth Doherty (Elizabeth Powers), who formerly taught at the Noonan School, will take Miss Asher's place at the Washington School.

The Committee accepted the resignations of Mr. Samuel M. Graves and Miss Caroline Joy. Miss Joy completed her duties on Friday, April 12.

On April 6, 1946, 32 of the 141 seniors in Winchester High School took College Entrance Board Examinations.

The report of Mr. Larry Palmer showed that 14 teams of fifth and sixth grade boys participated in a basket ball tournament and were instructed in basket ball fundamentals over a period of thirteen Saturday mornings. Average attendance was 63 boys. Classes and games were held in the High School gymnasium.

Mr. Alfred Muerling reported that 97 different boys of the Junior High School were instructed in basket ball fundamentals in the school gymnasium between January 19 and March 23. An average of 53 boys attended the sessions which were held on Saturday mornings between 8:40 and 12:30.

Both instructors were high in their praise of the program and urged its continuance.

Other routine business of the meeting consisted of appointments of the teaching staff for the school year 1946-47.

WEDNESDAY FIRES

At 6:50 a. m. a flooded oil burner caused smoke to fill the cellar of the residence of Mr. Miller E. Miller, 335 Highland avenue. At 7:20 a. m. a small chicken house burned with the loss of about 25 chickens at the home of Mr. John Page, 7 Lagrange street.

At 11:15 burning rubbish set fire to the rear steps at the home of Mrs. George H. Lochman, 16 Kenwin road.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

540 Main Street, Room 15, Locatelli Building

Call Win. 1900 or Win. 0730 Hours: Monday through Saturday 8:30 A. M. - 5 P. M. (Calls must be in by 2 P. M. if nurse is needed that day)

The Winchester District Nursing Association held its April meeting Friday, April 11, at 9:45 a. m. in the Red Cross Home Nursing Room.

The following officers and directors were present: Mrs. William Kugler, president; Mrs. Erskine White, vice president; Mrs. Alfred Higgins, secretary; Mrs. Amy Pond, treasurer; Mrs. James Russell, Mrs. Edward Grosvenor, Mrs. Ralph Jope, Mrs. James Coon, Mrs. William Spaulding, Mrs. Hazen Ayer, Mrs. William Stephenson, Mrs. James Dwinell, Jr., Mrs. Charles Young, Mrs. Loring Nichols, Mrs Ben Schneider, Mrs. John Coulson, Jr., Mrs. Leo Manoli, Miss Margaret Copland, Mrs. Richard Johnson and Mrs. Angeline O'Leary, R. N.

Reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and approved. Mrs. O'Leary, in her monthly report, included much interesting data.

From her remarks, it was plain to see that, in many instances where the District Nurse had been called in for a specific case, others in the same household were very much in need of assistance also, and sometimes an entire family was greatly benefited by the help and sound counsel given by the District Nurse. Mrs. O'Leary stated that the total number of calls made by the nurses from Jan. 1, 1946, through March 31, 1946, was 1087 as compared with 830 calls for the same period in 1945. Three hundred and fifty four calls were made during March 1946, whereas 303 calls were made in March 1945.

Committee chairmen reporting included Mrs. Stephenson, for the Educational Committee; Mrs. Spaulding, for the Finance Committee; and Mrs. Johnson for the Publicity Committee.

A most successful program was carried out in Winchester last week in co-operation with the nationwide, "Know Your Public Health Nurse Week." The literature distributed through various organizations, the window displays, the Rotary Club luncheon meeting, the films shown at the Public Library, and many other projects, all brought more vividly to the attention of the public the importance of a well-planned public health nursing service.

Brief verbal reports were given by Mrs. Erskine White, who attended the 60th anniversary of the Boston Visiting Nurse Association; Mrs. Spaulding, who attended the Winchester Womens Council; and Mrs. Kugler, for the Greater Boston Nursing Council.

WHAT HAPPENS TO YOUR TRANSPORTATION DOLLAR ?

The dollars you spend for transportation must be sliced many ways. Seventy cents from every dollar is absorbed by operating and maintenance cost (largely wages) . . . over fourteen cents is paid out in taxes . . . depreciation, interest, dividends, etc., must come from the sixteen cents balance. 1945's expense of operation was nearly $10,000,000 . . . nearly $2,000,000 went for taxes. A good part of every dollar you spend with the Eastern Massachusetts returns to benefit your community through taxes and payrolls.

EXPOSITION AND RALLY BY BOY SCOUTS APRIL 27

For the 14th year, the Boy Scouts of Fellsland Council will put on their annual Exposition and Rally. Participating will be Scouts, Senior Scouts and Cubs from the whole Fellsland area, including Medford, Winchester, Woburn and Stoneham.

This year, the Exposition will be held on Saturday, April 27 at Roberts Junior High School in Medford. There will be both afternoon and evening sessions in which the boys will compete in Scout skills. In addition there will be more than 30 exhibit booths and a continuous program of events. Refreshments will be available at cost prices.

Scouts, Cubs and Senior Scouts who are accredited members of Fellsland Council units will be admitted free upon showing their membership cards. Admission for parents and the general public is 25 cents (tax included). Since a Scout or Cub gains a bit of glory and pleasure by selling you your tickets, why not get them from him instead of waiting to buy them at the door?

Everybody is invited and all precautions have been made for the comfort of a large attendance.

Training for Adults in Boy Scout Work

The next training session for those interested in the operation of Scout Troops and Cub Packs will be devoted to the technique of camping for Scouts and of picnics or outdoor activities for Cubs.

This meeting will be held on Monday evening, April 15, at Fellsland Council headquarters, South Border road, Winchester and will start promptly at 8 p. m. and will close at 10.

Leaders for the session are William Sipp of Pack No. 3, Winchester and Stafford Rogers of Troop 1, Winchester. They will each be assisted by specialists.

This is one of a series of leadership training meetings, with Harry Gardner of Stoneham as leader and under the supervision of Earl Carrier of Winchester, who is chairman of the Training Committee for Fellsland Council.

A week-end session, May 18-19, with on-the-spot instruction in camping is scheduled to be held at Camp Fellsland, Amesbury. All adults who are interested in these phases of Scout or Cub activities are cordially invited to attend any of these sessions.

WYMAN SCHOOL NOTES

On Friday afternoon, the sixth grade boys and girls invited the rest of the school to a pet show. The pets on display were: kittens, guinea pig, rabbit, white mice, gold fish and turtles. David Fessenden and Winthrop Smith acted as guides. This was the culminating activity in connection with the celebration of "Be Kind to Animals Week."

Miss Mitchell's sixth grade invited each class in Wyman School to see the castle which they had constructed in their unit of study on Knighthood. Gerry Moulton, Robert Forester and Gerald Cox explained and answered questions about their work. To the children in the first three grades it seemed like a fairy tale castle belonging to the Sleeping Beauty.

WINCHESTER WOMEN HEARD MARGARET SLATTERY

The Crawford Memorial Methodist Church was filled on Thursday evening, April 11, as Winchester church women gathered to hear the distinguished speaker, Miss Margaret Slattery. The Women's Society for Christian Service of the Crawford Church arranged for Miss Slattery's appearance and members of women's societies from other churches heard the inspiring guests.

Mrs. Chester Koontz, president of the Women's Society for Christian Service, welcomed the guests and Mrs. Harris E. Heverly, wife of the pastor of the Crawford Church, led the devotions. Mrs. Milton Galuccia, vice president of the Society, introduced Miss Slattery.

The speaker took as her subject, "Sparks in the Ashes" and in interesting fashion told how sparks of Christianity had been kept in the ashes of world chaos through the ages, urging her listeners to labor to keep these sparks alive in the present unsettled times.

Giving interesting specific instances, she recounted how sparks slumbered in the ashes in many unexpected places, warning of certain sparks like those ignited by Hitler which should be permitted to smother themselves.

After Miss Slattery's address the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Harris E. Heverly. Delicious refreshments were then served to members and guests in the Ladies' Parlor.

Mrs. G. Raymond Bancroft and Mrs. Harold Bergquist, past presidents of the Society, poured, the tea table being most attractive in its decorations of flowers and tall candelabra. Servers were Mrs. Roger M. Burgoyne, Mrs. Arthur C. Fay, Mrs. Lewis K. Moore, Mrs. J. Wilson Armstrong, Mrs. Lewis G. Curtis, Mrs. William C. Sexton and Mrs. Charles Peckins. Guests wore silver bows to establish their identity.

TO TEST WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

Winchester High School will participate in "The Nationwide High School Testing Program concerning the student's understanding of Recent Social and Scientific Developments," prepared by the Cooperative Test Service and sponsored by the American Council of Education, on Friday, April 26.

The purpose of this test is to find out how widely and discriminatingly pupils have been reading and thinking about important social and scientific developments in the world today. Everyone must realize that, in a democratic society such as ours, it is extremely important that as many people as possible be intelligently informed about important public affairs.

If young people are to become well informed and critically minded citizens, they must begin now, while still in high school, to form sound habits of reading and thinking about contemporary affairs, and of engaging in discussions of current governmental and social problems. Through the radio and movies, through newspapers, magazines, and books, and through listening to what other people say, they are all having many opportunities to learn and think about such matters.

ODD FELLOWS

Waterfield Lodge of Odd Fellows will hold open house on the evening of April 22nd at 8:30 p. m. An outstanding speaker from one of our penal institutions will tell us about conditions in our State's prisons.

Any townsperson, whether or not he is an Odd Fellow, will be welcome at Association Hall on Vine street. You are all cordially invited to come up and hear about conditions inside the walls. The talk will be followed by a question period, social hour and collation.

PRESENTATION TO LIBRARY

Mrs. Clifton S. Hall, has presented to the Winchester Public Library, a copy of the Jubilee Edition of "A Shropshire Lad." by Alfred Edward Housman. The notes and bibliography of this edition were prepared by Prof. Carl J. Weber, nephew of Mrs. Hall.

Alfred Edward Housman, English poet and scholar is best known for his group of short lyrics entitled "A Shropshire Lad", first published in 1896. On the 50th anniversary, the Colby College Library opened a Jubilee exhibition of copies of all the editions of the book which are now on its shelves.

This Colby Shropshire Lad collection was assembled by a friend of Colby Library and presented to the library in concrete illustration of Samuel Johnson's prescription for the collecting of all the editions of an important book and presenting them to a library.

Gilmore Warner, Librarian says "It was a happy day for the Colby College Library when Prof. Carl J. Weber intimated his willingness to present to the library his extensive collection of "A Shropshire Lad."

Professor Weber was then asked to prepare a descriptive check-list of his collection. This Jubilee Edition is therefore more than a new printing of the poems; it combines criticism, bibliography, memorial eulogy and textual exegesis and commentary all in one."

NOONAN SCHOOL NEWS

The children of the Noonan School presented a "Humane Program" on Thursday, April 11th. Every grade contributed to the program.

AUTHORS' CLUB AND COUNTRY CLUB BACKGROUND

For Mrs. George Brayley's Birthday

The Authors' Club luncheon at the Copley Plaza recently was the setting for a beginning of birthday surprises for Mrs. George Brayley, a member of a Winchester luncheon group. Gayly wrapped gifts were near her place-card. Corsages, at each place, of pink-tinted miniature pussywillows and pine intermingled with three-tone ribbon, brown, light green and yellow added a colorful note of Spring.

Mrs. Brayley, graciously expressed her appreciation, saying it was a happy surprise and she was grateful for her friends' thoughtfulness.

A festive note was introduced when Mrs. Frank Knight had her book autographed by the author, Betty MacDonald, one of the speakers on the program.

The birthday group was appreciative to the young discharged paratrooper who wore his emblem proudly, making a contribution in the way of efficient and cheerful service at the birthday table.

Among the members and guests attending were: Mrs. George Brayley, Mrs. Gilbert Hood, Mrs. Frank Knight, Mrs. Burt Gage, Mrs. A. W. Turner, Mrs. Theodore von Rosenvinge, Sr., Mrs. Bowen Tufts, Mrs. George E. Hunt, Miss Butela Conland, Mrs. Roy Raymond.

The Winchester Country Club was the setting for the evening surprise. Mrs. Bowen Tufts had as dinner guests Mrs. George Brayley, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sparks and Mrs. Tufts' brother, Mr. R. H. Williams.

Mrs. Bowen Tufts noted for her ingenuity, made arrangements in limited time to have an artistic decorated birthday cake with lighted candles which was brought in at dessert time accompanied by the singing of "Happy Birthday To You" by all those in the dining room. This was a perfect ending to a Special Day of surprises.

WEEK-END FIRES

The first of several alarms over the past week-end sounded at 2.58 Friday afternoon for a brush fire on land owned by T. H. Morrison, 4 Highland terrace.

Saturday at 12:16 p. m. a flooded oil range burner caused a fire at the home of Mr. David Buzzotta, 57 Oak street.

At 11:37 Sunday morning sparks from the chimney set fire to the roof of the home of Mr. Roger Hadley, 193 Forest street, there being some slight damage done the roof. An alarm for a brush fire on Cemetery land at the rear of Middlesex street came in at 1.59 and at 4.32 there was a fire in the kitchen of the home of Mary Leydon, 432 Main street.

This fire was caused by the flooding of an oil burner in a combination oil and gas stove, the stove flaming up when the gas was lighted after the flooding of the oil burner. Slight damage was done by the fire.

There was a grass fire off Woodside road near Winter Pond at 5.23 and at 8.20 there was another fire at the town dump.

WINCHESTER TELEPHONE OFFICE AREA HEADQUARTERS

The business office of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company at 17 Thompson street, is now the headquarters of an administrative area including Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield and Woburn besides Winchester, and is under the direction of John M. Dick, Jr., manager.

This week additional furniture is being placed in the office and next week its personnel will be increased to five with the transfer to Winchester of Miss Jean Murphy from the Medford office and Mrs. Isabelle Rogers Gallagher from the Bowdoin Square office, Boston. At present the office force includes the Misses Alice Hall and Mary McGurn besides Mr. Dick.

Before assuming his duties at Winchester, Mr. Dick was manager of the Company's business office area at St. Johnsbury, Vermont. For more than three years during the war, Mr. Dick was with the Army Air Force, in which he held the rank of Major.

HISTORY STUDENTS PRESENT PAN-AMERICA ASSEMBLY

Miss Joan Robinson presided at an assembly program dedicated to Pan-American relations in the Winchester High School Auditorium last Friday morning. Miss Robinson, in her opening remarks, stated that Sunday, April 14, is Pan-America Day. She then introduced Miss Marilyn Campbell, who told of the efforts of Simon Bolivar and James G. Blaine to bring about closer relations among the Americas. Miss Campbell told of the Havana and Montevideo conferences when the Pan-American Union began to function and of the multilateral policy which makes the Monroe Doctrine idea a Good Neighbor Policy.

William Shoemaker traced the development of the Pan-American Highway from its inception at a meeting in Santiago, Chile, in 1923 through the survey of 1930 and later efforts. Besides its war time value, the highway carried 2000 cars weekly to Monterey, Mexico, in 1942.

Frank Nolan commented on the sports situation in the countries south of the border, bringing in timely references to the present interest in the Mexican baseball league. He mentioned Caracas, Venezuela, as the Brooklyn of South America in so far as support of athletics is concerned. Horse racing, baseball, soccer, and bull fighting draw the largest crowds who pay large sums for their sports. Mr. Nolan pointed out that South Americans are largely spectators, rather than active participants.

Susan Hight next told of the poet Gabriela Mistral whose sphere of influence has not been exclusively in literature, for she has had an internationally famous seat on both the League of Nations. During her days in North America, she taught at Barnard, Middlebury, and Columbia Colleges. Miss Mistral's poetry, punctuated by sorrow, has recently embarrassed Franco of Spain by her espousal of the cause of the Basque orphans of the Spanish Civil War.

John O'Brien concluded the speaking with details of the individualism of the South American make. Pointing out that it is a man's country, he told of the formal nature of all relations outside the inner circle of the family. That Latin Americans are not "joiners" like their northern brothers is shown by their unwillingness to work as teams and their unwillingness to subscribe to the custom of back slapping and hand shaking. Their dignity is a barrier to manual labor, home labor and practical jokes, but makes for greater ease in ceremonials. Our relations with the Latin Americas can best be accomplished through a reciprocity of manners.

Mrs. Ella Stacy, head of the Social Studies department, helped the speakers. Sally Holmes prepared a large map of Latin America which was prominently displayed, and used during the assembly.

Two W.H.S. Juniors To Represent Red Cross At Philadelphia

Principal Wade L. Grindle announced to the assembly on Friday that the Junior Red Cross, under the leadership of Miss Mary Mackedon, has selected two Juniors, Geraldine Maggio and Joseph Santo, to represent the local chapter at a meeting in Philadelphia on June 18 and 19.

Mrs. Angelina O'Leary R. N. Addresses Students

Prior to the Pan-America Day program, Mrs. Ethel Savage, School Nurse, spoke of the District Nursing service in Winchester and introduced Mrs. Angelina O'Leary, Public Health Nurse, who told of the many services rendered by the District nurses and encouraged youngsters to take home the message that the Winchester District Nursing service is available for anyone who needs it. Mrs. O'Leary spoke of the work of her assistants, the Misses Hone and Peterson, whose work includes baby care, preschool health problems, and care and advice on contagious diseases. Mrs. O'Leary pointed out that the district nurse will make a health survey while making a home call.

GIRL SCOUTS

The 15th State Rally of the Mass. Girl Scouts, to be held at Boston Garden from 2 to 4 on May 4, will be the first state-wide Girl Scout Get-together for seven years.

A large block of seats has been reserved for the troops fortunate enough to have made early applications, and, though most of the Garden will be taken over by the Scouts themselves, parents are cordially urged to attend so that they, too, may enjoy the ambitious Mass. que, "Trefoil Trail", built around the music of Beethoven's Seventh Symphony. This production presents a cast of over 1000 girls from all over Massachusetts, including about 50 from Winchester.

Lady Baden-Powell, World Chief Guide, wife of Lord Baden-Powell, originator of both boy and girl scouting, will be a guest at the Rally and address the Girl Scouts.

An interesting exposition of the way Girl Scouts study dramatics is contained in the following excerpts from the report of the scribe of Troop 5:

"In the Girl Scout handbook we found . . . things to do to earn our second class badge. One of the things it said was to 'tell the story of a play, a movie, or a book to your troop in a clear, vivid, and interesting way, or work out with other troop members a dramatization of a favorite folk tale or story. Tell also something of interest about the playright, the actors, or the author.' Mrs. Hersey decided she would read us a story and then when she finished it we could dramatize it. We chose on a book called "The Doll that came to life." She read for about half an hour and finished about three-quarters of the book . . . On Wednesday, Troop 5 gave the play of "The Doll Who Came Alive."

The week before we had been divided into two groups. Mary-Jane Davis was the captain of one side and Diana Rodgers was the captain of the other.

Each side gave the same play in their own way. Mary Jane Davis' side gave theirs in full costume and detail, which took about an hour. Diana Rodger's side gave theirs in a brief, different way which took about 15 minutes. Mrs. Hersey and Mrs. Davis complimented us on our fine job.

It was almost time to go home so we said the Girl Scout promise and the laws . . . then we went home."

Girl Scouts and their parents are cordially invited to attend the camp movies to be shown at Lincoln School, April 24, at 7:15 p. m.

WINCHESTER ARTISTS EXHIBIT IN BOSTON

Nine pictures by Winchester artists will be shown in the 18th annual exhibition of the Business Men's Art Club of Boston, opening Monday, April 22 in the fourth floor gallery of the Paine Furniture Company, 81 Arlington street, Boston. The exhibition, 100 pictures in all, continues through May 6. The gallery is open Mondays from 9:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m.; other weekdays from 9:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

G. Russell Mann of 17 Fenwick road, Winchester, former president of the club, who has achieved outstanding work in the eight years in which he has been painting, is exhibiting a group of oils entitled, "Albion Morses Boat Shop", "Antrim, New Hampshire," "Pleasant Point Gut, Maine", "Thomaston, Maine" and "Permaquid, Maine." Mr. Mann studied painting with John Enser and Emil Gruppe.

Darwin E. Gardner of 5 Fells road, who says he has been painting ever since he can remember, has four pictures in the forthcoming show, titled, "Vale of Kashmere", "Delhi Rapid Transit", "Lahore Water Works" and "Mt. Aetna from Taormina." Mr. Gardner studied art at Harvard University. He uses many different mediums and has painted a wide variety of subjects.

The Business Mens Art Club of Boston, often referred to as "the men who paint for fun" consists of 100 men from all walks of life who have a common interest in art. They meet two Monday evenings a month in the Museum of Fine Arts for instruction and criticism by prominent artists.

BOY SCOUTS TO BENEFIT FROM GLEE CLUB CONCERT

The Spring Concert of the Mystic Glee Club will be devoted to a very worthy purpose this year, The Fellsland Section of the Boy Scouts of America. In this manner Winchester's fine male chorus will be making its contribution to building of manhood and character in this region. There are 52 troops in the Fellsland Section which comprises Winchester, Woburn, Medford, Stoneham and Burlington, and the scouts will begin the sale of tickets this week.

The date is Friday, May 10, the place is the Auditorium of the Winchester High School, and the time 8:15. Since the auditorium holds only 733 people and since the Club, reinforced by returning veterans and directed by its founder-director, William J. Cruger, is certain to stage the most creditable performance of its career, music lovers should play safe and get their tickets early from their favorite scout.

HOBBY CENTER BENEFITS BY DR. TOZIER LECTURE

Costumed in colorful dresses and bonnets of colonial days in keeping with the theme of the evening's lecture, the ushers added considerably to the pleasure of a large audience of friends of the year old Winchester Hobby Center, in the High School Auditorium on Friday evening, the 12th. Dr. Charles H. Tozier's lecture, "Colonial Williamsburg" generously donated for the benefit of the young people of the town, to increase the funds for instruction and equipment of the Centre, was proceeded on the program by a short and pleasing musical contribution by Mr. and Mrs. George L. Houle. Mr. Houle played four violin numbers of Colonial Period accompanied by Mrs. Houle on the piano.

Operating his own camera and commenting, informally, upon the beautifully colored pictures, both still and moving which he had taken in Williamsburg during the war period, Dr. Tozier gave to his listeners a sense of having walked with him in this historic community. A national shrine given rebirth through the interest and generosity of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockerfeller, Jr. This lecture, one of many Dr. Tozier shares with Winchester audiences, has more than just beauty to see in the pictures, for it gives, as he said; "the privilege to see the birthplace of much of our country's history, the seat of real statesmanship, such quality we well could revive in meeting world wide problems of today."

Mr. Herbert F. Ross was chairman for the lecture. Mrs. Marshall Pihl was in charge of costumes and the girls serving as ushers were Jean Alley, Ellen Bayliss, Priscilla Blake, Barbara May Elliott, Jennie Lou Elliott and Patricia Mayer. The committee for the sale of old fashioned flower bouquets were active members interested in the growth of the Centre.

THE HAGUE, WHERE UN COURT MEETS

The Hague, Netherlands capital where the new International Court of Justice has started its sessions, often is called the birthplace of modern international law.

The basic study of international law, "The Rights of War and Peace", by Hugo Grotius, was written largely at The Hague, in the 17th century, recalls the National Geographic Society. Grotius was the first to hold that nations were bound by moral law. He justified war only to punish criminal nations waging war for plunder or territorial expansion.

During the last century The Hague came into prominence as a world conference center through such meetings at the International Statistical Congress, International Congress of Diplomatic History, and the Institlte of International Law.

Outstanding were the Hague Peace Conferences. The first meeting in 1899 was at the invitation of the Czar of Russia, with the principal countries represented by a hundred delegates. A second gathering took place in 1907. The conference adopted programs for the peaceful settlements of international disputes, restricting types of munitions, and expressing the rights of neutral powers.

Another result of the conferences was the organization of a Permanent Court of Arbitration. To house the Court, a Peace Palace was built, and this structure now is the home of the United Nations' International Court of Justice.

OBSERVES 75TH ANNIVERSARY

Winchester Savings Bank Rounds Out Three-Quarters of a Century

The Winchester Savings Bank is observing its 75th anniversary and in commemoration of the event a dinner was held on Wednesday evening at the Winchester Country Club following the annual meeting, attended by about 50 corporators and trustees, together with a number of guests prominent in Massachusetts banking circles.

The Bank was opened for business on Aug. 26, 1871, making it the oldest institution in banking circles in Winchester. The original banking rooms were on the ground floor of the Cutler house, which stood on the right of Main street just north of the railroad crossing. In 1880 the Bank had outgrown these quarters and new banking rooms were taken on the second floor of the Brown and Stanton Block (now Hevey's Block).

The present bank building was erected and occupied in 1892. The interior was remodeled in 1924 and an addition was made and new vaults installed in 1935.

In observing the anniversary Wednesday evening, the dinner was presided over by President H. Wadsworth Hight, and at its conclusion he presented among the guests Mr. A. George Gilman, President Malden Savings Bank and Vice-President National Association of Mutual Savings Banks; Mr. C. Rodgers Burgin, President Quincy Savings Bank, and President Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts; Mr. Harold P. Jenks, Director Division of Savings Banks representing Commissioner of Banks; Mr. Kenneth McDougall, Executive Manager, Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts; and Mr. Lewis Parkhurst, 89 years old, a Corporator of this bank for 54 years and a Trustee for 50 years.

These gentlemen all addressed the gathering, the remarks of Mr. Lewis Parkhurst, the oldest member present, holding especial interest to Winchester guests. Another Winchester resident present, long identified with local banking interests, was Mr. Samuel S. Symmes.

WILLIAM E. PRIEST
Treasurer Winchester Savings Bank

The arrangements for the dinner and the welfare of the guests was in the hands of Treasurer William E. Priest, and to his efforts and ability a most satisfying and enjoyable evening was experienced.

Officers Elected

At the preceding meeting the following officers were elected:

President
H. Wadsworth Hight

Vice-Presidents
James F. Dwinell Edward H. Kenerson
Samuel S. Symmes

Clerk of Corporation
James F. Dwinell, Jr.

Trustees for 3 years
Paul F. Avery Robert M. Stone
Nelson H. Seelye Frank W. Reynolds
Norman L. CushmanJoseph W. Worthen
Howard H. Wright

Trustee for 2 years
James F. Dwinell, Jr.

Board of Investment
James H. Cleaves H. Wadsworth Hight
Edward H. KenersonFrancis E. Smith
Samuel S. Symmes

In making his report, President Hight gave the following highlights of the Bank's progress during the long years of its existance:

As we review our 75th year of service to the community we may be pardoned for feeling that the Bank was never in strong condition.

During this past year our deposits, exclusive of club accounts, have increased 13.76 per cent to $9,615,348.84 and assets now stand at $10,671,693.17.

Your trustees have declared the usual semi-annual dividend at the rate of two per cent per annum with substantial transfers to the guaranty fund and profit and loss.

These reserves, together with an unrealized market appreciation of $531,000 over book value of our security assets, equal about 14.37 per cent of deposits. An all time high.

As savings continue to accumulate we try to look ahead to our needs in years to come. Will the trend reverse itself? Will we have a greater opportunity to help in financing the purchase of homes? Will money rates change?

In addition to a comfortable cash position at all times and rediscount privileges we have arranged for security maturities so that over 30 per cent of our present deposits will be available during the next ten years with substantial amounts coming due in succeeding years.

Because of the low return upon investments and the phenomenal increase in savings, there is much competition in mortgage lending which, with the greatly increased values on present homes and cost of buildings, make this outlet for our funds most difficult and perplexing.

Your Investment Committee, having in mind experiences of the past 20 years, tries to avoid pitfalls of that period and have adopted a conservative policy. Many Mutual Savings Banks in this and other states pay less than 2%, even as low as 1 per cent in some localities, but their deposits continue to increase which demonstrates the high regard of the public for the strength of such banks and the feeling that security of principal and ability to have their funds upon demand is of prime importance.

Throughout these war years the growth in number of our depositors has kept pace with the growth of assets and the account activity of your bank is greater than the State average.

This, I feel, is most important as it indicates our best asset; the confidence and good will of our community.

NEW SPRING CHANGES ON RAILROAD

A 5-minute earlier schedule on the "Theatre Train" to Boston and a 5-minute later schedule on the last train from Boston in the evening are the principal changes affecting Winchester and Wedgemere which are shown in the new Spring timetables of the Boston and Maine Railroad made public today.

The new schedules become effective next Sunday with the advent of Daylight Saving Time. New timetables are available.

Under its next schedule the "Theatre Train" will, on weekdays, leave Wilmington at 7:07 p. m. (daylight time) and will depart from Cross street at 7:23 p. m.; Winchester 7:27 p. m.; Wedgemere 7:29 p. m. and arrive at the North Station at 7:45 p. m. The change is being made, an official of the road stated, to provide an earlier arrival time in Boston for many who said that the present arrival in Boston at 7:50 p. m. did not give sufficient time to reach uptown points for evening events.

The final train from Boston on week-day nights will leave the North Station at 11:55 a. m., five minutes later than at present. On Sunday nights the final train will continue to leave Boston at 11:50 p. m.

The new timetables show that all trains, generally, have their schedules changed an hour to conform to daylight saving time. All railroad schedules will continue to be shown in eastern standard times and railroad clocks will remain on eastern standard time, which is one hour earlier than daylight time.

Times of many trains on all the Boston and Maine lines have been changed to conform to better connections and railroad officials urge that everyone consult one of the new timetables before planning a trip after next Saturday and that commencing next Sunday all present timetables be junked.

Robert J. Fletcher

WINCHESTER MAN NEW COUNSEL OF B. and M.

Promotion of Robert J. Fletcher of Wedgemere avenue to the post of General Counsel of the Boston and Maine Railroad was announced this week by E. S. French, president of the road. Mr. Fletcher succeeds Edward W. Wheeler who retired last week.

The new head of the Boston and Maine's Law Department was graduated from Princeton in the class of 1932 and from Yale Law School in the class of 1935. He was an attorney for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation from July 1, 1935 to December 1938. He then became Commerce Attorney for a group of southeastern railroads and coastwise steamship lines; and in July 1942, returned to the R. F. C. as Counsel for the Defense Plant Corporation in Washington. He was appointed Commerce Counsel of the Boston and Maine in May 1945, and to General Attorney in February 1945.

WINCHESTER ARMS PETITION DENIED

The Board of Appeal has unanimously denied the appeal of Lester C. Gustin, owner of the Winchester Arms, for permission to build an addition of ten or more suites or group houses on the present structure on Washington street. A hearing on his appeal was held April 9, at which time opposition was voiced by a majority of neighboring property owners.

Mr. Gustin, father of two ex-service men, stated in his petition that he wishes to erect the addition on land purchased by him for the purpose, to provide homes for veterans. The Board of Appeal, in its decision, stated that while it sympathizes with the owner's purpose, in view of the opposition, it could only deny his petition.

S. W. H. TAYLOR

Soranus Williams Hall Taylor, a former Winchester resident and for many years a Boston newspaper man, died Tuesday, April 23, at his home, 10 Fuller road, Needham, following a heart attack. He left Winchester to take up residence in Needham in 1941, but previously had lived for nearly 30 years in this town, first at 9 Bacon street and later at 21 Symmes road.

He was widely known in Winchester, was a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons, active in the Unitarian Men's Club and prominent in the affairs of the Calumet Club, of which he was for several years publicity man. His first wife, Mittie Pitts Taylor, died while the family was living in Winchester, March 4, 1924. The following year, on Sept. 28, he married Estella Louise Williams in Providence, R. I.

Mr. Taylor was the son of Elbridge, and Elizabeth (Ryder) Taylor. He was born in 1875 in Yarmouth, was graduated from the Yarmouth schools and trained for business at the Hickox Secretarial School in Boston.

In 1902 he became secretary to the late C. W. Barron, owner of the Wall Street Journal and the Boston News Bureau, after being for a time associated with the New England News Company. Seven years later he joined the advertising department of the Wall Street Journal's Boston office, and in 1912 became manager of financial and book advertising for the Boston Transcript. He remained with the Transcript almost until it ceased publication when he joined the Boston Herald-Traveler as a financial advertising executive and member of the advertising department.

He was a member of the 4th Estate Lodge, A. F. & A. M.; and of the Unitarian League of Boston.

Mr. Taylor leaves his wife; two sons, Edgar P., of Upper Montclair, N. J., and Elbridge Taylor of Medford; a stepdaughter, Mrs. William K. White, Jr., of Greenville, R. I.; and two sisters, Mrs. Gorham Pulsifer and Miss Alice Taylor, both of Yarmouthport.

Funeral services were held this Friday morning at 11 o'clock at the Evangelical Congregational Church in Needham with services again at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the home of his sisters in Yarmouthport.

WINCHESTER VET COMMITTEE

The next meeting of The Winchester Chapter, AVC, will be held at the Lincoln School on Thursday evening, May 2, at 7:30 p. m.

TOWN HALL FILLED FOR FIREMAN'S BALL

Vaudeville Show Preceded Dancing

The usual capacity crowd was out Wednesday evening for the Firemen's Ball at the town hall, every avilable seat on the floor and in the balconies being taken. Seats were reserved for members of the Board of Selectmen and their ladies in the front center of the main hall.

Nine acts of vaudeville, several currently in Boston from New York, were put on by the Ross Frisco Attractions under the personal direction of James T. Kennedy. Bob Robinson was master of ceremonies and appeared also on the bill, his singing of the "Old Shillale" and impersonations of an Irish traffic cop being well received.

The show got away to a particularly good start with the appearance of the Cartwright Sisters, Paula and Rona, two dainty tappers, who had plenty of personality as well as dancing and acrobatic skill. Rona's solo acrobatic and contortionist number ranked with the best of its kind seen here, she at times turning herself into a veritable human pretzel with unbelievable ease. Many regretted that a second appearance of the girls as a double had to be scratched because of the length of the show.

Sheffield, in feats of magic, baffled the audience with his deft handling of balls and cards, ending with a cigarette smoking act that was both clever and entertaining. Al Libby and Bernice proved capable ventriloquists, the former in having his dummy sing from a closed suitcase showing something on the original side.

Toward the end of the act Bernice had Freddie Fitzgerald and Bob O'Malley come down from the balcony to act as stooges, much to the delight of the younger members of the audience.

Virginia Bauer, a tall personable brunette, pleased the audience with her warm throaty singing of such favorites as "I'm Gonna See My Baby", "Oh What It Seemed to Be," and "Some Sunday Morning."

Scotty Burbank offered something new in a musical act when he concluded several well played Xylophone numbers by playing simultaneously on two trumpets while seated high above a piano on which he accompanied himself with his feet. Bateese got a lot of laughs with his French-Canadian dialect and references to well known Winchesterites.

Kay and Kay - a boy and girl, wound up the bill with an acrobatic act that was all too short and featured the boy, hanging from the back of a chair and raising himself with the girl standing on his hands to a standing position on the seat of the chair with the girl held at arms' length above his head. The feminine Kay also starred when she went to a prone position on the stage and back to her feet without spilling the contents of a glass balanced on her forehead.

Karl Rohde and his band played for the show from the stage which handicaps the acts since the pitch of the platform makes it hard to work near the footlights. As usual the Rohde music was well played and enjoyed by the audience as well as by those who stayed to dance to it.

At the conclusion of the entertainment the floor was cleared by Janice Lee Mellett and his assistants, and dancing was enjoyed until 1 o'clock.

Fire Chief John J. Gorman acted as Floor Marshall with Lt. Hugh Skerry as his assistant. Howard Ambrose was chief of aides, and the floor directors were Stanley Mullen, James Figueia, C. Elliott Ward, Edward A. Fitzgerald, Harold Fitzgerald and William Callahan.

Capt. J. Edward Noonan, Frank Nowell and Frank Amico were in charge of refreshments. Warren Osborne and John Richardson were in the check-room.

A REMINDER

Motorists are reminded that they have until May 1 to get that all-important inspection sticker on their cars. May 1 and thereafter the Police and Registry inspectors will be on the lookout for unsuspected cars and there just aren't going to be any valid excuses for not having them, at least in this town. We have the word of Chief William H. Rogers of the Police Department for that!

CRAWFORD MEMORIAL METHODIST CHURCH

Celebrates Its 75th Anniversary

Two hundred Methodists, including charter members and former pastors and their wives, participated in the 75th anniversary banquet and homecoming reunion at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church last Wednesday evening, April 24.

The central motif for the occasion was a huge lighted candle symbolizing Methodism in Winchester, its steady glow a continuous light passed on from the early days to the present and now handed to future generations to cherish and foster, radiating steadier, stronger and increasingly richer circles of service.

Against a blue background the golden numerals "75th" stood in beauty to typify the 75 years of Methodist services here in Winchester. Large candelabra with golden candles, palms, Easter lilies and baskets of forsythia decked the social hall of the church. Lovely purple and yellow pansies, their baskets banded in yellow graced the tables.

A delicious anniversary dinner was served. Two hostesses at each table gave the special welcoming touch which added immeasurable pleasure and gave additional assurance that all material wants would be well satisfied.

Dr. Arthur C. Fay, toastmaster, introduced Mrs. Norman C. Hitchcock who led the group in the old familiar songs. Mrs. Frank C. Herrick accompanied at the piano. Rev. Howard J. Chidley, president of the Ministers' Association brought greetings from the churches in Winchester, stating that they stood for the same ethics, ideals, Salvy is well known to Winchester people who have enjoyed his sophisticated and varied programs at the Hotel Statler's Cafe Rouge as well as over WEEI every morning at 9:05. In keeping with the diversified program to be presented by the Glee Club, ranging from the humorous Negro folk song "De Animais" to the melodious "O Lovely Night," Mr. Cavicchio will present a varied program of sophisticated swing as well as classical numbers.

He has been in radio since the days of the crystal set and was one of the pioneers on WEEI, working there three weeks after it opened. He was also one of Bob Emery's "Big Brother Club" years ago.

The Winchester audience will be thrilled with Mr. Cavicchio's artistry, and everyone is urged to procure tickets early for this excellent concert. The Mystic Glee Club has never sung better than this year and a great treat awaits those who attend. This concert benefits the Trust Fund of the Fellsland Council of Boy Scouts. Edmund Downey, brother-in-law of the bride, was Mr. McGinty's best man, and the ushers were Martin Donnelly of Malden and Edward J. Murphy, Jr., of Winchester.

TAX RATE UP $3.60

Figure of $30.00 Announced by Assessors

Winchester's tax rate for the insuing year will be $30.00, an increase of $3.60 over last year's figure. Announcement was made last week by Chairman John F. Cassidy of the Board of Assessors. This year's total valuation is $34,093,100.00, an increase of only $89,325.00 over 1945. Real estate totals $31,818,600.00, an increase of $78,450.00. Personal amounts to $2,274,500.00, an increase of $10,875.00. The rise in the tax rate was chiefly occasioned by increased town appropriations, greater this year by $136,864.00 than in 1945. The total of appropriations taken by the Assessors as a basis for computing the tax rate is $1,179,046.22. This figure does not include the $12,086.12 appropriated by the town as its share of the expense of the Middlesex County Sanatorium at Waltham, nor does it take into account transfers.

HEADS WINCHESTER COMMUNITY CHEST

Walcott B. Thompson of 16 Cabot street will be announced this evening at the annual meeting of the Winchester Community Chest in the Town Hall as chairman of the Chest's fall campaign, in cooperation with 50 other communities participating in the Greater Boston Community Fund.

An active volunteer for several years in local Fund drives, he served as precinct director in last year's United War Fund campaign, and in 1944 was vice chairman of publicity.

"I am happy to be once again among the more than 700 workers who will compose the Winchester organization of the Fund," Mr. Thompson asserted in accepting the appointment from Chest President James Nowell. "It is an honor and privilege which I accept with sincere humility, as I am well aware of Winchester's record over the years under the leadership of such men as Ralph Jope, George Chatfield, Harlow Russell and their predecessors."

Referring to the seven Winchester Red Feather services sharing in the campaign—the Home for Aged People, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, District Nursing Association, Social Service Council, Society of St. Vincent de Paul and Winchester Hospital—he said, "many of us have reason to be thankful also for the rest of the 288 agencies in the Greater Boston Community Fund. Who can say when the help of one of these services may prove a God-send to us or to one of our dearest friends?

"It is this realization of 'one for all and all for one' that I am sure contributes to the year after year enthusiasm of the many loyal citizens who give their time and financial support to the many worthwhile agencies that have joined in this united appeal.

"Winchester has an enviable record", he added, "which more than verifies the belief that the majority of our citizens feel the same. The fall campaign for 1947 needs is just as vital as that of any previous year to the well-being of our neighbors, and I am confident that once again Winchester will take her customary position among the communities of Greater Boston who have proven over the years that 'Love thy neighbor as thyself' is a truly worthwhile objective."

An insurance broker, Mr. Thompson is agent for Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company. He is a director of the Boston Life Underwriters Association and executive committee member, Boston Chapter of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters. He is a graduate of Kent School, 1924, and Yale University, 1928. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have three children, Eleanor, a Junior High student, Margaret, 8 and 4-year old John Walcott Thompson, 2d.

TREASURE CHEST

The Winchester Treasure Chest Committee has announced that its chests of books, purchased from the proceeds of the Girl Scout-Boy Scout Band Concert to be held on May 17th at the High School auditorium, are to go to Norway.

The chests themselves, strong boxes gaily decorated, are already under construction by the Boy Scouts, while both boys and girls are working hard to make the concert a great success.

May 17th, Norway's great Independence Day, will be observed this year for the first time in seven years and will have more than its customary significance in the light of the country's recent release from the Nazi yoke. Even while occupied by Nazis, Norway continued its educational program, meeting in the homes so that the dictates regarding what should be taught need not be followed. English is a compulsory subject even in the elementary schools so our books will be particularly welcome to the Norwegians, so long isolated from all contact with the outside world's progress in literature and science. Norway, a country proud of its freedom from illiteracy, considers the rebuilding and refurnishing of its libraries a primary objective, and is eager to restore to its people the opportunity of reading good books.

"Thank America for liberating Norway" is repeated in letter after letter received by Mrs. Harold Given, Norwegian born resident of Winchester. Mrs. Given, State Chairman of International Relations for the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, is well-known for her lectures on, and for the benefit of, Norway. She will be present at the Concert in authentic Norwgian dress, to tell a little of the close bond of friendship existing between the country of her birth and her adopted country. This friendship will be augmented by the Treasure Chests, each one containing, besides its many carefully chosen books, a scrap book of local scenes, snapshots of individuals, magazine pictures portraying life in the United States, as well as an empty scrapbook in which the recipients will in turn paste similar clippings showing activities of children in their country.

The State Deprtment is enthusiastic about this entire project as it believes that the future peace of the world lies in the hands of the children, who will be the citizens of tomorrow, and that the Treasure Chest will stimulate an exchange of ideas through letters, scrap books and pictures, thereby promoting understanding.

VETERAN'S NIGHT

A gathering of more than 100 guests crowded the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Giacalone at 51 Oak street, on Sunday evening at a reception tendered to the four Giacalone brothers who recently for the first time in 6 years have been home all together at the same time.

All the guests were either relatives or friends; and helped to make this Veteran's Night a memorable occasion. One of the guests, Mr. Jack Pantaleo, of Winchester, who danced, sang and gave imitations upon request was unanimously chosen as the life of the party.

The four brothers have travelled practically the entire world; Louis who was discharged a T. Sgt. was in the U. S. Army 5 years, more than 3 of which were spent in the Pacific Area. Frank who was discharged a 2nd Class P. O., was in the U. S. Navy and spent his time patrolling the ocean.

Andrew, a 2nd Class B. M., participated in four Pacific invasions, served on minesweepers and spent five days on a raft in the Pacific Ocean and not knowing whether he would be picked up.

Jack who is on leave is a 2nd Class cook; he participated in four invasions, three in the Pacific and the Normandy invasion in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Giacalone's pledge and promise of celebrating the return of their boys with a gay Veteran's Night was certainly more than fulfilled.

WINCHESTER DROPPED OPENER

Wakefield Winner 4-2 As DeMarco Allows Single Hit

Little Lefty DeMarco held Winchester to a single hit Tuesday afternoon as Winchester dropped its opening game of the Middlesex League season on Manchester Field 4-2.

That about tells the story. Winchester couldn't hit a lick, especially with men on bases. Even considering that DeMarco is a good pitcher, the locals still looked woefully weak at bat, and most of the boys went to the plate as if they didn't expect to get a hit. Wakefield didn't look much better than the locals afield, but the visitors got effective pitching and that's the payoff in this baseball game.

Armstrong didn't do too badly in his debut as a pitcher. His slow ball gave the Wakefield batters quite a bit of trouble and as he gains in experience he will do better. He can't afford to make his good ball too good for he has no speed at all and his soft one is very easy to tag when it comes up there in the groove.

Battery experience cost one run and general lack of baseball sense another. An outfield misjudged fly didn't help out either. Wakefield got a lot of help from Winchester in its 4-2 victory.

With one out in the first DeMarco walked and went around to third on Colocello's fly which went for a double instead of an out when it was misjudged by Cogan in center. DeMarco stole home and made it when Armstrong stepped off the rubber before he threw to Filler who made the putout easily on what could have been a pitchout.

Hits by Conway, Lamprey and Saunders put over one in the 2nd and in the third Schwartz opened up with a clean hit to center. He stole second and was sacrificed to third by Rich, Armstrong making a corking throw to first for the out.

Conway walked and stole. Lamprey topped one that dribbled out toward third, Armstrong got the ball too late to throw, but he still made a hurried peg to first. The throw pulled Patterson off the bag and he was hit by Lamprey, losing the ball and permitting Schwartz to tally. As things turned out the run needn't have counted for Saunders fanned and DeMarco hopped out, Olivier to Patterson.

In the 7th with one away Saunders hit to left, stole and rode home on DeMarco's double to center.

Bellino opened Winchester's 9th by working DeMarco for a walk. DeFillipo batted for Blanchard and reached when Colocello mussed up his grounder. Cogan hoisted to Conway but Tibaudo hit past third to bring in Bellino.

Sam and DeFillipo moved up as Saunders threw out Nolan and Tibaudo went to third as Conway erred on Hick's grounder, DeFillipo scoring.

With the tieing run on first Tibaudo tried to steal home and was called out by Umpire Johnny Temple on a close play, Winchester contending that Nikitin, taking the pitchout on the first base side, got the ball on Sam after he had slid across the plate.

WINCHESTER AT READING

Winchester High's baseball team goes to Reading this afternoon for a Middlesex League game with Reading High.

Reading won from Lexington S-2 in its season's opener Tuesday, so the boys up north must have something. Chances are Winchester won't face much better pitchnig all season than DeMarco showed them Tuesday, but the locals will have to pep up a lot and improve their hitting to win many games this year.

How Does Christian Science Heal?

The Disappearance of organic and functional disease, as well as of trouble in other forms, is continually recorded among those who have turned to Christian Science for help.

The method of such overcoming of difficulty is prayer — a spiritually scientific manner of thinking based on the teaching of Christ Jesus.

What this prayer is and how anyone can understand it and use it effectually in accordance with his need are fully explained in the Christian Science textbook,

Science and Health
with Key to the Scriptures
by Mary Baker Eddy

This remarkable book, other works of Mrs. Eddy, and all other authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed, or purchased at the Christian Science Reading Room.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

The annual cook-out for all Intermediate Girl Scout leaders scheduled for this week had to be postponed on account of the closing of forests by Governor Tobin. If sufficient rain has fallen so that this restriction is removed, the plan now is to have the meeting on Monday, May 6th, at the Malden Girl Scout cabin in the Fells.

Though the entire Boston Garden has been sold out for the Girl Scout Rally to be held May 4th, the Girl Scout office in Winchester still has a few tickets, some in the section reserved for Winchester troops and some in the section available to parents. The program opens at two o'clock with the Bugle and Drum Corps introducing the traditional and impressive Girl Scout Flag Ceremony. This will be followed by an allegorical presentation of the history of Scouting, showing the fight against evil forces during the war, finally emerging triumphant to the glorious music of Beethoven's Sixth Symphony, the Pastoral. The Rally will close with a few words from Lady Baden-Powell, who will give a brief glimpse of recent developments in Scouting throughout the world. At the Garden will be Letter Bags to receive Troop letters, it is hoped one from each troop, telling of activities in this country. Lady Baden-Powell is undertaking to see that these are distributed to Scout troops all over the world, and it is expected that much worthwhile correspondence will result. Winchester girls taking an active part in the Rally, mostly dancing in the "Trefoil Trail", are: Troop 6, Joan O'Neil, Mary O'Connell, Diane Greer, Audrey Smith, Gretchen Daschbach, Jean Thomas, Lynne Stevens and Carol Madden; Troop 4, Mrs. Alfred Nelson, Judy Bramhall, Carol Crockett, Lorraine Cullen, Virginia Graves, Bette Nelson, Carolyn Oxford, Carolyn Padelford, Nancy Taylor and Mary Horne; Troop 10, Mrs. Forbes Norris, Mrs. T. T. Greenwood, Gertrude Barry, Dorothy Brandt, Shirley Carey, Carolyn Cody, Franceline Cullen, Claire DeLay, Betty Anne DeCourcy, Virginia Dyer, Jean Farquhar, Kathleen Finn, Marcia Flaherty, Phoebe Greenwood, Elaine Hersey, Marilyn Johnson, Diantha Lamb, Judith Lamprey, Cynthia Lincoln, Joanne McFarlane, Frances Oliver, Dorothy Parker, Jean Sullivan, Mary Rice, Janet Turner and Marjorie Zinn.

Troop 4 News

Vacation week the following girls went to the home of Mrs. Nelson for an outdoor day: Virginia Graves, Mary Horne, Cynthia Emerson, Nancy Taylor, Bette Nelson, Carolyn Oxford. In the morning we completed our colorcraft badge. Because of the high wind we decided to cook in the kitchen.

After lunch we worked on our cooking badge. We visited Mr. Purcell's farm in connection with one of our activities and asked him about the prices of various vegetables, how much he received from the wholesaler and what the retailer might receive. Then we compared these prices with the prices the consumer pays. Some of the girls then cooked a dish using one of the vegetables we had asked about.

While we were visiting the farm our leader blazed a trail for us to follow. The trail took us to the top of Horn Pond and part way down again where a treasure was hidden. The treasure was a bag of marshmallows, found by Joyce Hovey. We were able to see the Custom House in Boston from the top of the mountain. When we got to the foot of the mountain the wind had subsided enough for us to have a fire and we toasted the marshmallows.

A Pet Show for the Brownies is to be held on May 25th. Details will be published later.

METHODIST CHURCH ANNIVERSARY

sobriety and liberty and that the function of the church today is to maintain those ideals. Thirty years ago Dr. Chidley founded the Ministers' Association here. Together the churches have worked side by side, have stood shoulder to shoulder, but much more is still to be done that we may be proud "in common" of the progress of Christianity in Winchester. Dr. Chidley blended in his inimitable manner, wit and humor with a purposeful demand for invigorating progress in keeping Winchester free from juvenile delinquency and to keep the town clean and fine for posterity.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. MacArthur were guests at the dinner and represented the Selectmen of the town.

Mr. Albert B. Bent outlined the spiritual progress of the Methodist Church in a stream-lined history, specifying people who had definitely advanced its progress.

He paid tribute to Mr. hTomas Morris and to Mr. William Wallbridge, treasurers of the church in its early days and to Mr. G. Raymond Bancroft, financial secretary for 35 years, Mr. Alonzo D. Nicholas, treasurer of the church for nearly 20 years, Mr. Norman C. Hitchcock and Mr. Ralph W. Hatch, all present day treasurers in various departments at the present time. It is necessary that treasurers be above reproach and this church has been favored with exceptional men in this regard. Mr. Bent closed with the remark "How much we all owe to so few," referring to the small group of 11 persons who founded the church in 1871.

Mr. Lewis K. Moore read letters of congratulation and greeting from former pastor, Rev. J. West Thompson; Dr. John C. Wingett, district superintendent; Rev. Russell D. Cole, president of Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Iowa; Mr. Ralph Leonard, son of Mrs. Joel M. Leonard, charter member, from both Rev. and Mrs. Roger E. Makepeace and the First Congregational Church.

After more group singing Dr. Fay spoke of the early founding of the church and a rising tribute was given to Mrs. Martha Mason Stone, charter member. Mrs. Stone is the daughter of Mrs. John C. Mason in whose home plans for "Methodist preaching" were made.

Dr. Fay then divided the history of the church into two dramatic episodes, the first being given by talent imported for the occasion; namely, charter member, lay member and former pastors who in a skit "As They Saw It" continued the stream-lined history. Mrs. Everett O. Fiske, who brought greetings from Mrs. Joel Leonard, a charter member, Mr. Duncan Campbell, Rev. Vincent Ravi-Booth, Rev. Aliston B. Gifford, Rev. Hiram W. Hook, Rev. George A. Butters and Rev. C. C. P. Hiller gave short talks on the highlight of their respective pastorates and services in Winchester. A rising vote of appreciation of the part that each one of these guests had played in the development of the church was given.

The second skit by the Home Talent group was called "From the Candles of the Past to the Beacons of the Future".

Seven men and women, all of whom have been members of the church for over 50 years and have been influential in its progress are Mrs. Lillian O. Hatch, Miss Grace Snow, Miss Hattie Snow, Mr. Robert W. Armstrong, Mr. Robert W. Dover, Mr. Nelson H. Seelye and Mr. Milton P. Powers.

Lighting tapers from the large candle, the life light of Methodism, Mr. Vincent P. Clarke passed one to each of the seven members with appropriate remarks concerning their stewardship in the past and with instrucions to continue to carry according to the parable of the talents. There are all types of individuals and each has a different contribution to make, the most important point being that each does ALL he can to make his contribution vital and enduring, whatever his talent may be.

As the voice of the present preparing the way for the challenge of the future, Mrs. J. Wilson Armstrong told of the need of better facilities and equipment and presented a petition for a five year building program for the completion of the church building. Lighting the candle of the present she placed it in the hands of little Sandra Curtis, who represented all the children of the parish of the future. This candle is a golden market to attract opportunities for greater service and to give spiritual development in an enriched program for the younger generation. Rev. Harris E. Hevenly then co-ordinated the voices of the past as a fine background for the challenge of the future, enjoining the church to put away all pessimism and all fear and to embark upon its future in an intrepid manner with confident assurance and enduring faith in its increasingly broad horizon.

The singing of "Blest be the Tie That Binds" was a fitting close to an anniversary reunion which linked the past 75 years to a glorious future of service in Winchester.

Rev. Aliston B. Gifford, former pastor will preach next Sunday morning in the sanctuary. His subject will be "The Burden Bearer". A large audience is expected to hear his message.

CONGRESSWOMAN ROGERS INTRODUCED CANCER LEGISLATION

Seven years ago Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers of Lowell induced Congress to pass her resolution authorizing the President of the United Stges to issue a proclamation each year making April "Cancer Control Month." She told the members of the House the other day that Eric Johnston's great drive for cancer control took place as a result of that resolution. She has been on various national committees for cancer control and worked with the Women's Field Army. Now they are having meeting and dinners all over the United States with a view to keeping up the interest in eradicating cancer. "Today," she said, "since penicillin and sulfa have practically cured pneumonia cases, cancer has become the second killer of all diseases in the United States. It is believed that prompt care in many cases means complete cure."

A. V. C. HOUSING RALLY

At a housing rally sponsored by the American Veterans Committee and held in the Old South Meeting House on Wednesday evening, April 24, the Winchester Chapter of A. V. C. received its charter in a formal presentation made by officials of the national organization. John P. Spaulding represented the chapter in accepting the document.

Winchester thus becomes the 15th community in Massachusetts to form a chapter of the American Veterans Committee, a group which is fast becoming the largest World War II veteran's organization in the country.

Founded by a handful of local veterans whose post-war aims coincided with those laid down in AVC's statement of intentions, the Winchester Chapter of AVC is the town's only new unit of its kind.

Vice Chairman Arthur H. Tetreault, Jr., has been appointed chairman of the State Nominating Committee, which will present a slate of officers at the Mass. State Conference to be held in Worcester on Sunday, May 5.

SHOULD BUY GINN ESTATE

Editor of the Star:

While visiting in Wallingford, Connecticut, recently, I was told that sometime ago a property was offered for sale to the Town at an extremely reasonable price. It was in an excellent location and suited in every way for the building of a new school plant. In fact, the land was in practically the only spot that was logical for the inevitable expansion of the school system.

The Town did not buy the property when it was originally offered to them. Considerably later, the natural growth of the school population and the necessity for building an adequate plant, forced the purchase of the same property. The price, due to the lack of foresight of those responsible, was several times that which was originally charged.

It is to be hoped that Winchester will not repeat the experience of Wallingford.

Winchester High School needs a modern new plant. We are faced with the possibility of a building boom in the next few years that will be concentrated in areas west and north of the Ginn estate. It does not require any great foresight to realize that the acquisition of the Ginn estate at the very reasonable price offered, is a most logical hedge against the future demands of our school system.

And finally, what better deed could Winchester do for the families of our returned Veterans, than provide their children with the finest educational plant, as well as the finest instruction possible, in our school system?

IS THE SELECTION OF THE SCHOOL HOUSE COMMITTEE GOOD OR BAD? .

Lybeck Says It's Bad—Sanderson Says It's Good

To the Editor of the Star:

I saw in last week's Star that Mr. Lybeck, former chairman of the School Committee, criticized the appointments to the School House Committee as made by the Town Moderator.

Mr. Lybeck should know that a committee composed of members all favoring one project is one-sided from the start and cannot properly weigh the facts.

Town Moderator Worthen by choosing this well-balanced committee has given another demonstration of his ability to properly conduct Town Meeting affairs. Some of the members of the committee have had much experience with school affairs and I am sure will make a report of the facts as they find them.

May the children reap the benefit of our doings! There are other ways of helping the situation than by extravagant spending as practiced by the New Deal.

Awaiting the report with much interest, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
Ed Sanderson

ALL TALK AND NO ACTION

Editor of the Star:

We think it's time the voice of the Winchester High School student is heard.

There just isn't any place for us to go. Last week was our vacation. A group, of us, returning from a bicycle trip, were openly criticized for our appearance when we entered a local store. Where are we to go for refreshments? How are we to dress for a bicycle trip?

We realize that a few parents, a very few, tried to make the canteen a success. The failure of this was due to the lack of cooperation between the students and the people of the town. Let's get together. We need more people who are genuinely interested in our welfare.

Members of the High School faculty have tried in many ways to help us. The entire first part of the vaudeville was devoted to putting across the one fact that we have done our best to emphasize in this letter. If this doesn't bring result, what will? We're willing to do what we can. How about YOU.

Hopefully,

MODERATOR WORTHEN REPLIES

Star's Report On Town Meeting Gives Cause To Regret It Is The Only Newspaper Printed in Winchester

To the Editor of the Star:

Your issue of April 19th contains a letter from R. F. Lybeck with reference to the membership of the Committee on School Facilities. In his letter he accuses the moderator of deliberately appointing men whose fiscal opinions had been formed, in other words, of "packing" the committee. Since, in the five years during which I have tried to be at least an honest moderator, this is the first time such a charge has come to my attention, I want to answer it.

If I were to answer the charge on Mr. Lybeck's own level, using the standards which, as his letter shows, he sets for himself in such matters, I should point out that the School Committee motion for the appointment of the new committee expressly provided that it should contain two members of the School Committee; and that the School Committee itself had unanimously favored taking the Ginn property for school purposes. This was the primary question which the new committee on school facilities was to consider. So if the Moderator or Planning Board had deliberately chosen as members of the new committee two citizens who had opposed that purchase, and because they had done so, would that be, according to Mr. Lybeck's highly packing the committee, or un-packing it? But as he further declares, so help me!, Mr. Stone and Mr. Farnham do not have "the courage of their convictions", and proved it in town meeting. So he should rest assured, after all, that in the meetings of the new committee the moderator's nefarious scheme will ultimately be wrecked on the courage and conviction of the two members of the school committee; and the people of Winchester, at least those few not described in the letter as "penny-pinching", "tax-conscious" or "those without children", will once again be saved.

But of course the real answer to Mr. Lybeck is wholly different from this. As most of those who have given freely of time and thought to the town are well aware, and as from his former service he should also be, the standards of public service in Winchester are as different from those which he assumes as black is from white. Because of these standards, the past votes of the two school committee members of the new committee, and the positions stated by Messrs. Stone and Farnham in town meeting and misstated in Mr. Lybeck's letter, are of slight if any interest. As will be instantly agreed by any one who knows the members of the new committee, and whether he agrees with their ultimate conclusions or not, they will bring through its deliberations to the service of all of us the knowledge and experience, the open-mindedness and the courage which have always held so high the character and reputation of Winchester.

While I am writing you, a privilege in which I very rarely indulge, may I refer also to a remark made in your issue of March 29th by my good friend the author of your "Town Meeting Echoes". He first attributes to "old times, many of them," the viewpoint that the recent meetings were "high among drab sessions"; in contrast, no doubt, to the good old days of six-sessions and packed meetings and hours or almost whole evenings of boredom while patiently waiting, too often in vain, for one bright sally by Tom Dinson or the "Busy Plumber of the Abejona". He then continues:

"But for many it wasn't quite so 'zaney' as the one when they passed individually a number of amendments to the limited town meeting act, and then voted not to petition the General Committee for permission to make the voted changes. That action has always been tops for dumbness in our book."

Aside from a little matter of spelling, and all of us have difficulty on that score, the trouble with Jimmy's "Echoes", like other echoes, is that sometimes they are so faint as to be only remotely reminiscent of the real thing. That's what ails the echo just quoted.

The pertinent facts are these. The Town Meeting Committee was created pursuant to vote of the town meeting of 1940. Moderator Wilkins appointed two from each precinct and two at large, the following dumb-bells: Marguerite L. Baker, J. Waldo Bond, James A. Cullen, Charles H. Gallagher, Arthur S. Harris, Margaret B. Hill, Mildred P. Morrison, William L. Parsons, Gerald K. Richardson, Lilla J. Ryan, Henry K. Spencer, Lillian A. R. Whitman, Margaret C. Wilson, and Joseph W. Worthen. They were dumb enough to elect me chairman.

As was to be expected, various amendments to the Act creating our limited town meeting were considered. A varying minority of the committee favored several of the amendments; and the printed committee report, presenting the facts and the positions of both majority and minority on each question, was distributed to all citizens. In presenting the matter for action by the limited town meeting, the committee believed that to put each suggested change in the Act to one final vote might doom each change successively to failure, and that many voters might think some one or more of the changes on the whole desirable, but not sufficiently so to call for an amendment in the statute for such change alone. Therefore as to each proposed change it was moved (1941 Town Report, pps. 54-5) that "if the town meeting members at this meeting  shall vote in favor of amending" the statute, "then such amendment shall include" the individual change under discussion. Several motions were carried with that condition accordingly. This procedure, we fully explained to the voters before the votes were taken, and was, I think, the best and fairest way of presenting the matter. If anything it leaned over backward in favor of the minority of the committee and of the voters, so that each of the varying groups favoring any amendment would be marshaled in the final vote on the question of amending the statute. But even so, although certain changes were conditionally approved as aforesaid, the final motion was lost by voice vote, without challenge.

Thus the statement that "they passed a number of amendments to the limited town meeting act, and then voted not to petition the General Court for power to make the voted changes", is not only false, but could readily have been found to be false by a mere glance at the printed town reports. So far as the impressions given to your readers are concerned, the situation is not helped by the fact that the deception was of course not intended. And ignorance is never so irritating as when it is willful. Under such circumstances and on such facts, for the Star itself through one of its employees to level a charge of superlative dumbness against the representatives of all the citizens of Winchester is, well, you'd better name it. I came from northern New Hampshire, and might lapse into the vernacular. Let me suggest, however, as probably too mild a comment, that to make and publish a misstatement of fact, so absurd on its face, without even bothering to check its accuracy by means instantly available to you, and then, solely on the facts so falsified, to characterize the members of the Limited Town Meeting on that occasion as "tops for dumbness in our book", is merely slinging mud against your readers, your fellow citizens and their elected representatives. And apart from other considerations which will readily occur to you, the trouble with that pastime is that, as in this case, on exposure to fresh air the stuff tends to harden and shape itself into a boomerang. Such a missile hurts only him who makes and him who throws it.

One of the real disadvantages of the limited town meeting, which, however, does not seem to me even to begin to offset its advantages, is that some though not all sessions are not so well attended as under the old system, since citizens who can only speak but not vote may tend to stay away. This being unfortunately so, may I suggest that you as editor of the local paper are under a very special responsibility to report the proceedings truthfully and fairly, even when you cannot see your way clear to do so generously and constructively; and to refrain altogether from thoughtless charges of "tops for dumbness", sarcastic references to the "chosen few", and similar journalistic cat-calls and bronx cheers. For you know as well as I that the citizens of Winchester are anything but dumb, and that the comparative few who are chosen by all the rest to represent them are wholly and most intelligently devoted to the welfare of the town. As one of your old friends and well-wishers, and that goes too for the Master of the Echoes, I hate to see you give them too good cause to regret that yours is the "Only Newspaper Printed in Winchester."

Sincerely yours,
Joseph W. Worthen

More for your money

A dollar is always a dollar, but . . . everyone knows it doesn't always buy the same amount of what you happen to want at any given time. Sometimes it buys more, sometimes less. When the supply of things outweighs the supply of money, your dollar goes a long way; when things are scarce and money plentiful, the buying power of your dollar shrinks. Because this is a law of economics that is constantly at work, almost anyone can turn it to his advantage. How? Simply by laying away as many dollars as possible when prices are high and buying when dollars will buy the most. Yes, it can be as simple as that. The trick is to make up your mind to follow that program and then STICK to it. Many people who do, accumulate their money in an account at our bank.

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and in all of its branches, on Sunday, April 28.

The Golden Text, "Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief in departing from the living God. But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day: lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin," is from Hebrews (3:12,12). Other Bible citations include: "So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory" (I Corinthians 15:54).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In the sacred sanctuary of Truth are voices of solemn import, but we heed them not. It is only when the so-called pleasures and pains of sense pass away in our lives, that we find unquestionable signs of the burial of error and the resurrection to spiritual life" (p. 232).

Fred Stocker, formerly of Arlington, died Saturday morning, April 20, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Byrne, 97 Mystic Valley Parkway, after a long illness. He was 79 years old and had been for many years a resident of Arlington, engaging in business as a building contractor there. A native of Hanover, Germany, he came to this country as a youth of 19 and had made his home with his daughter in Winchester for the past 17 months.

Mr. Stocker leaves his wife, Mrs. Alma Stocker; two sons, Ernest, of Dover, N. H., and Arnold, of Sudbury; two daughters, Mrs. Hilda Anderson of Belmont and Mrs. Alma Blaikie of Arlington; and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Hartwell Memorial Chapel in Arlington. Interment was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery in that town.

More than 60 panes of glass were broken some time yesterday in the old Symmes Barn on Franklin road.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cullen and family wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to their friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses extended them during the recent fire at their home and afterward. They especially appreciate the efforts of the Fire Department and the work done by the Police. *

BUSY TIME FOR FIREMEN

34 Fires in Two Days Last Week

Thursday, April 18, was a day that Winchester firemen will long remember with 17 alarms during the day including a bad fire at the home of former Selectman James A. Cullen at 28 Bacon street.

This fire started in the blind attic above the third story of the 18 room house. Workmen were making repairs at the residence and it was one of them, George Saunders, who noticed the fire while eating his lunch. He quickly notified Mrs. Cullen who was at lunch with members of her family and she telephoned the Central Fire Station. Box 53 was sounded at 12:29, and Chief Gorman, upon noting the seriousness of the fire, ordered a second alarm at 12:45. Arlington sent over its big aerial ladder and an engine company, other apparatus being sent from Woburn and Stoneham.

The firemen spent most of the afternoon fighting the fire which completely burned out the el attic and the attic of the main house, eating down into the second floor while water and smoke caused considerable damage to the floor below. Much of the wood-work and pannelling of the house is irreplaceable, having been hand-carved and finished from mahogany and other fine woods. Chief Gorman refused to estimate the damage done this fine old house, saying it would be impossible to do so. Chairman Ralph H. Bonnell of the Board of Selectmen who was an interested spectator at the fire supported Chief Gorman, stating that even with limitless funds much of the interior finish of the dwelling could not be replaced.

Meanwhile Mr. and Mrs. Cullen and their children were driven to the large barn on their estate for refuge, and since this structure is also of the old style they are not as uncomfortable there as many might suppose.

Preceding the Cullen fire, at 9:09 Box 53 was sounded for a fire between the garages of J. W. Smith and John Woodruff at 8 and 10 Sheffield road. Boys with matches are blamed for this fire which originated in a pile of rubbish between the two garages and which did considerable damage to one side of the Smith Garage, a building of wood construction. The Woodruff garage is stucco and only the wood trim was damaged.

A third fire of serious potentialities, also on Thursday forenoon, was that at 10:59 at the home of Mr. James J. Jackson, 17 Pine street.

In this case sparks from a fireplace set fire to some papers in the living-room. Mrs. Jackson threw the papers from the living room outdoors, burning her arm in so doing. The burning papers set fire to the front porch and some evergreens in the yard, the makings of a good blaze being in progress when the firemen arrived.

The men extinguished the fire without serious damage, though the trees and front of the piazza were burned together with the living room floor. Considerable damage was also done inside the house.

In addition to these three fires the men were called upon to put out 14 grass and brush fires around town. None of the local firemen had anything to eat from morning until night when the Red Cross, represented by Gladys F. Dutting and her husband, George Dutting, of Wildwood street, served coffee, sandwiches and doughnuts, both at the Central Fire Station and on Cambridge street where the men were fighting a brush fire. Postmaster Vincent C. Ambrose and Chairman Bonnell of the Selectmen assisted the Red Cross workers in getting the food together and the tired, hungry fire-fighters with their youthful allies, were most appreciative.

On the holiday the firemen again had 17 calls, 16 for brush, grass and woods fires. Most of the latter were undoubtedly set, and several were very difficult to fight, in one instance the men having to carry 2900 feet of hose through the woods and over hills to reach and put out the blaze.

At 6:50 on the holiday Box 59 came in for a slight fire in the kitchen of the home of Mr. William G. Mullen, 25 Foxcroft road, the damage being slight.

Saturday the men had a comparatively easy day, having only one two and a half hour battle with a fire at the town dump.

Easter Sunday afternoon at 3.43 the Central Fire Station received a call from Woburn reporting assistance needed at a fire at Green and Vernon streets. Engine 2 was sent up to this fire and only six minutes later the Woburn Police phoned in reporting a fire at the property of the Mass. Building and Wrecking Co. at Fowle, Conn and Carter streets. The Woburn Department was reported busy with another fire, so Chief Gorman started for Woburn with Engine 3 and a company.

Meanwhile Engine 2 had been headed off and sent to the Mass. Building Wrecking Co. plant, to which Chief Gorman and Engine 3 made haste. The Winchester crews found a hot fire in progress with an auxiliary pump from Woburn and Engine 4 from East Woburn at the scene.

The Woburn apparatus was woefully short of men and the Winchester crews went to work. Had they not arrived when they did, it is quite likely that the whole square in the vicinity of the wrecking company plant would have been given to the flames.

The local fire-fighters had to break their way into the yard to bring their lines to bear. The yard was full of old lumber and with the high wind and smoke the firemen were hard pressed to prevent this being ignited. A big storage barn at one corner of the lot was burned, the firemen being chiefly concerned with preventing a dwelling at Conn and Carter streets from catching fire. Fire-resistant shingles undoubtedly saved a number of small houses on Carter street. The Winchester crews worked three and one half hours at the fire and after returning to quarters were called out again to put out a fire in a dump off Mason street.

The final fire of the afternoon was burning grass on Ginn Field, undoubtedly set by boys who had been playing there during the afternoon.

SWORDS, SUBURB OF DUBLIN

The quiet of Eire's (Ireland's) ancient town of Swords is to be broken, under the country's industrial expansion program, by a new factory to make fine tweed for neckwear. Except for an early flour mill, the town has been free of industrial activity.

Swords is virtually a residential suburb eight miles northeast of Dublin on the road to Belfast, says the National Geographic Society. Before the advent of the automobile, Swords had its quota of inns, including the Harp, Black Bull, Anchor, Royal Oak, and others. It was an active commercial center. In 1192 a patent for an eight-day annual fair was granted to the Archbishop of Dublin, increased in recent centuries to four fairs each year. The early gatherings were held on the town commons, which originally comprised 100 acres.

Destroyed Seven Times

Owing to its location, the town often was attacked by Danes, but its name has no connection with the clash of swords between the Danes and the defenders. The name comes from a Celtic word meaning "pure" as applied to St. Colum-cille's Well, long one of the town's principal sources of water supply.

In the Middle Ages, Danes burned Swords seven times. Each time the town was rebuilt, but some of its ancient monuments have perished. The oldest building is an ivy-covered round tower, 75 feet high, one of the 118 round towers still standing in Ireland.

A medieval church tower, now part of a modern church but separated from it, is the only memorial of Swords' monastery, begun in the sixth century by St. Colum-cille (Columba), later missionary to Scotland. He dedicated the monastery to St. Finnian under whom he had studied at Moville, County Down.

At this monastery rested overnight the body of Ireland's King Brian Boru, when carried in solemn procession from Dublin. He had been assassinated in his tent following his defeat of the Danes on the plains of Clontarf in 1014. The next morning the funeral proceeded toward Armagh where burial took place.

To escape the din of Dublin's walled congestion, the Archbishops of Dublin built their palace at Swords, where they maintained the episcopal residence until the 14th century. A florist's nursery now surrounds the palatial ruins; portions of the walls, warder's walk, and watch towers still stand.

GEN. EISENHOWER'S STATEMENT REGARDING RED CROSS

During the current Red Cross Fund Campaign vast numbers of patriotic Americans have responded generously to the cause. Already the majority of Chapters have reached or exceeded their goals. In some communities, however, I understand the campaign is lagging and I am surprised to learn that one of the reasons is that complaints are being levelled at the organization's overseas operations by returning servicemen.

For the most part these criticisms have grown out of a Red Cross policy of making normal charges to our forces for food and lodging in fixed Red Cross installations abroad. These complaints are distressing to me since this particular Red Cross policy was adopted at the request of the Army so as to insure an equitable distribution among all service personnel of Red Cross resources.

I know the Red Cross, I have seen it in action. Overseas it performed with the precision of a well trained army. It would be a grave injustice to the splendid work of the Red Cross if its campaign should be retarded anywhere by mistaken criticism.

In providing millions of pints of life-saving blood plasma; thousands upon thousands of packages for prisoners of war; in relaying countless heart warming messages regarding conditions at home, bringing comfort and entertainment and cheer to hospitals, leave areas, and battle fronts the Red Cross accomplished a prodigious task. In Africa, in England, later on the contnient, we learned how much it meant to find the companionship, the friendliness, the link with home the Red Cross managed to provide.

The services of the Red Cross are as urgently needed today by our occupation troops, our men in hospitals, and our veterans as they were by our fighting forces in time of war. The Red Cross needs and deserves our continued support. At the moment it is in the closing days of its greatest peacetime campaign for funds. It stands now in the shadow of its goal posts. I hope to see it promptly pushed across by oversubscription of its 1946 Fund campaign.

GREENWICH

The Royal Greenwich Observatory soon to be moved from its hilltop beside the Thames in southeast London, will find haven in a country castle near another hilltop, where William the Conqueror, in 1066, led the Normans to victory in the Battle of Hastings.

After this transfer, notes the National Geographic Society, the Royal Observatory no longer will be astride the Greenwich prime meridian, the world standard for measurement of longitude and time.

Hurstmonceux Castle, chosen for the Observatory's new home, rises from the woodland of East Sussex 45 miles southeast of the present Greenwich site. It is 14½ miles east of the Greenwich meridian and seven miles southwest of the Hastigns battlefield.

Zero Meridian Unchanged

No change will be made in the location of the zero meridian, since that would affect timekeeping and render maps obsolete the world around. Instead, time, as calculated by observation of the solar system from Hurstmonceux, will be corrected to allow for the one-third degree difference from Greenwich.

A move to the country long has been planned by Astronomers Royal. London's night lights and the haze created by its industries have hampered scientific observation. In World War II, German bombs disturbed the timekeeping and caused direct damage to nearby Naval College buildings.

Hurstmonceux Castle, built 500 years ago, is a fortified red brick mansion more than 200 feet square. Complete with crenellated towers, portcullis and a moat, it is a story-book castle. High double towers, octagonal below and circular above, are joined by an archway over the main gate in the south wall.

Recent restoration of the castle exterior by its private owners leaves it much as it looked when first built. Interior construction is greatly changed because of the completeness with which it was dismantled in 1777.

Washington Conference Set Standard

Greenwich Park, site of the present Royal Observatory, was once the grounds of a favorite palace of British monarchs. Henry VIII was born there and lived there in succession with several of his wives. The palace was abandoned after the execution of Charles I.

Charles II sponsored the Royal Observatory on the old palace grounds in 1675. Its international acceptance as a time center had to await the laying of trans-Atlantic cables, which enabled transmission of time signals that tied the hemispheres together with absolute accuracy. Greenwich officially became the point of zero degrees longitude by action of the Washington Conference in 1884.

Before that event, longitude was measured variously by the maritime powers. In early Christian times, the island of Rhodes in the eastern Mediterranean was the zero point. Later Ferro, in the Canary Islands, had wide recognition.

During World War II, quartz clocks were installed in the Royal Greenwich Observatory and at two other stations in England as the source of Greenwich Mean Time. In the quartz clock, vibrations of a natural quartz crystal caused by current of standardized frequency give accuracy in time measurement to within one thousandth of a second in 24 hours, a second for old-style pendulum compared to one two-hundredth of clocks.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The spring meeting of the Bay State Historical League will be held with the Dedham Historical Society at Dedham on Saturday afternoon April 27, at 2 o'clock. The rooms of the Dedham Historical Society, corner of Court and High streets, will be open to all visitors from 1 to 2 o'clock. The meeting will be in the First Church Parish House, and following the business meeting, Dr. Arthur W. Worthington, will speak on the topic, "Some Unique Features of Dedham History." This will be followed by a social hour and tea at 3.30 p. m.

Dedham has so many places of interest and historic significance that it is hard to omit seeing any of them. The most important are the Fairbanks House, reported to be the oldest house in New England; the Powder House, built by the town in 1766 on the rock in Aaron Fuller's pasture; the site of the first Grist Mill in Dedham built in 1640; the Community House, built in 1795, now the home of the Dedham Community Association; St. Paul's Church dating from 1760, and the site of the first Post Office dating from 1794 where the Dedham Historical Society Building now stands.

This meeting is open to all members of the Winchester Historical Society, and all who attend may be sure of spending a most instructive and enjoyable afternoon.

DREWSON IN GERMANY

T. Sgt. George A. Drewson, whose wife, Mrs. George Drewson, resides at Herts, England is now a member of the permanent party, at the Army Air Forces (European Theater) Reinforcement Depot, which was recently moved to Furstenfeldbruck, Germany from Chateau Thierry, France.

While he is at this post, situated near Munich in the heart of a picturesque Bavarian forest, T. Sgt. Drewson will have an opportunity to enjoy the famous scenery and the superb winter sports facilities which has made this region famous throughout the world. Within easy driving distance is Garmish-Partenkirchen, site of the 1936 Winter Sports Olympics, now converted into a luxurious Army rest center.

Formerly a crack Luftwaffe training school, the Army Air Forces Reinforcement Depot now utilizes the attractive modern garrison for processing the thousands of soldiers each month who arrive in the theater to take up their occupational duties. Nucleus of the present unit are those men who made up the Eighth Air Force Replacement Depot at Stone, England, which for three years served the air forces in the United Kingdom.

Before entering the services in October, 1940, Sgt. Drewson attended Winchester High School. His mother, Mrs. Aldine C. J. Drewson, lives at 27 Lawson road.

COLLEGE CLUB MUSIC GROUP

The music group of the College Club finished Monday in a glow of enthusiasm., For a while it seemed as if it would be impossible to stem the tide of the vocalists. However delicious punch and cookies intervened to revive the musicians.

Mr. Herbert Mueller, then took charge and presented a typed list of well chosen records for the appreciation class. As each record was played he gave a very brief account of the author's life and the time and place of the first production of the music. At a rather late hour Mr. William Spaulding expressed the gratitude of the group for the use of the lovely Kirkwood home and its excellent musical equipment. The group also wishes to express its gratitude to Mr. Clinton Jonas of 40 Arlington street for his three enthusiastic and well illustrated lectures on the Sonata, Tone Poems and especially on the difficult subject of Modern Music. The vocalists are also indebted to Mary Sergeant and Helen Bartlett for piano accompaniments.

WILL PLAY AT TUFTS

Gordon E. Chandler of 30 Forest street, Winchester, will play the leading male role in Noel Coward's "Blythe Spirit," to be presented Friday and Saturday evening, April 26 and 27, in the Jackson Gymnasium on the Tufts campus. The play is being presented by the newly re-organized Graduate Dramatic Society of the Tufts College Theatre. During the war, the Society's activities were suspended because many of its members were in military service. Miss Alma Strout, also of Winchester, who lives at 51 Woodside road, is a member of the stage crew for the coming production.

GIRL SCOUTS, TROOP 7

Troop 7 of the Girl Scouts visited the Fire Station and Police Station for their Community Field on April 16.

Chief-elect Callahan very gladly showed them around and coincidentally a fire alarm sounded while they were present.

Officer Murray did the honors for the Police Department and finger-printed a few of the girls.

BETTER HOMES GARDEN CLUB

On Wednesday, April 17, the Winchester Better Homes Garden Club met at the public library, Mrs. Austin Bunker, presiding. In behalf of the library, Miss Corinne Mead expressed her thanks for the gift of two specimen yews placed by the club at the Washington street entrance of the library. The yews transform a rather bare and barren spot into a place of beauty.

Mrs. Bunker called the attention of the club to a planting plan drawn up by Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood designed for future beautification of the library grounds.

Mr. William Judd of the Arnold Arboretum gave a brief history of the founding of the Arboretum. This was followed by slides of flowering shrubs and trees which included many varieties of cherries, azaleas, rhododendrum, dogwood and so forth. The speaker commented upon the wealth of plant material brought out of China, which has been found suitable for climatic conditions in New England. Mr. Wilcox, former director of the Arboretum, made three trips into Asia for the purpose of collecting trees and shrubs, yet that continent is still a source of vast quantities of untouched material which remains to be utilized.

Winchester Red Cross

Winchester, Mass.

Dear Sirs:

I received a very nice gift from the Red Cross today and wanted to write and thank you for it. I received a slip-on sweater and when I looked at it I found it came from good old New England, Winchester, Mass., to be exact. I, being from Hartford, Conn., do not like to give into Massachusetts on anything, but thanks a million.

I have been here in Sapporo since last October. I was in the 77th Division which is now deactivated, and now the job of Occupation has been turned over to the 11th Airborn Division, so now I am a Paratrooper.

I have gone to the Red Cross since November and have watched it grow from a one room place with two ping pong tables to a very large, luxurious club with a Field Director, three Red Cross girls and five G. I.'s to keep it going. It now is the center of all the entertainment that we have and there is nothing that these G. I.'s could ask for that the Red Cross personnel will not go out of their way to obtain.

I really feel proud to have helped to build this Club up but do hope to be home by Thanksgiving and maybe take a trip to Winchester to thank you personally.

Thank you very much and God Bless you.

Sincerely yours,

Pfc. Frank Stapleton

JUNIOR POP NIGHT

Unsuspected dramatic ability was shown Tuesday evening at the First Baptist Church, when the World Wide Guild girls put on a Junior Pop Night to the entertainment of an appreciative audience.

A one-act play, "Sniff at This", written and directed by Anne Simpson, was given its premiere performance. The choice of characters was excellent and the girls were most convincing in their roles. Marilyn Ward ably portrayed the "Maybe yes and again maybe not" caretaker of a Summer cottage, while the four girls, played by Alice Pride, Muriel Pride, Jeanne McKinley and Martha Hodge, each brought out to best advantage the cleverly written humorous dialogue.

Following the play, Alice Pride and Marilyn Ward, accompanied by Jeanne McKinley, sang a number popular and semi-classical songs, which were thoroughly enjoyed. Two dance teams demonstrated "Something Old - and Something New" in dancing, which was both entertaining and edifying. The audience participated in the singing of popular songs.

The ushers were Joan Dade, Bertha Penny, Beth McCall, Joan McKinley, Elizabeth Ann Carlisle, Muriel Pride, Kay Nelson and Adine Menchan.

Anne Simpson (Mrs. R. Dale Simpson of Cambridge street), author and director of the play presented, has a full and comprehensive background of histrionic training. She studied at Northfield Seminary, Bergen Jr. College and Curry College, and at Bergen was elected to the "Cast of Delta Psi Omega National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity." She has written a number of plays, including "A Penny Saved", "Christmas Candles", "At the Well", as well as Tuesday evening's performance. In 1939 she won the "Creative writing prize award" at Curry College. Mrs. Simpson is at present Director of Drama and Pageantry at the First Baptist Church.

Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church. The ceremony took place at 4 o'clock in a setting of spring flowers and green, a reception following.

Miss Cutler was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Ann Cutler. Mr. Cutler had his father as best man.

The bride wore a gown of white chiffon with flowers in her hair, matching those surrounding the orchids which centered her bouquet. The honor maid also carried spring flowers and wore a dress of aqua silk.

SEDAN STRUCK POLE ON MYSTIC AVENUE

Police Say Machine Also Involved in Previous Accident

Last Friday afternoon shortly after 3:30 Police Headquarters was notified of an automobile accident at the corner of Mystic avenue and Lloyd street, it being reported that a man was injured and lying in the street. Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy and Patrolman Edward F. Bowler responded in the Police ambulance. At about the same time a call was received from Charles L. Haggerty of 730 Main street, reporting that an automobile had struck his tow truck which was parked at Main street and Bacon court, facing north, and the operator had left without making himself known.

Sgt. Cassidy and Officer Bowler found that a Packard sedan had run into an Edison Light pole on Mystic avenue at Lloyd street, moving it several inches and splitting it about 15 feet above the ground. The Packard was badly damaged about the front end and its windshield was broken. The machine was disabled and had to be towed away.

The Police say Robert W. Britton, 21, of 46 Cleeley road, West Medford, was the operator of the machine and was accompanied by Roland H. Roberts, 46, of the same address. Both had sustained injuries and were taken to the Winchester Hospital by the Police in the ambulance.

Dr. Philip J. McManus attended the men and ordered Roberts held at the hospital. He had a cut on the forehead and a badly lacerated right knee. Britton had cuts about the forehead and chin and on one leg. After receiving first aid at the hospital, he was placed under arrest on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor.

Police say that Mr. Haggerty identified the Packard as the machine that had collided with his tow truck and Britton and Roberts as the two men who had been in it at the time of the accident. Britton's car was automatically continued from Saturday morning until Monday, when upon the request of his counsel it was again continued until May 8.

For her traveling costume the bride wore an aqua covert cloth suit with black accessories and orchids.

After a wedding trip to Cunadn Mr. and Mrs. Erlandson will live at 9 Charles street in Woburn.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and is secretary to the production manager of the Franco-American Corporation. Mr. Erlandson, a graduate of Woburn High School, is associated as a draftsman with the Stone and Webster Co. of Boston.

HAUG—WILSON

There is much Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at Christ Church in Cambridge on Saturday afternoon, April 27, when Miss Hope Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Scott Wilson of Commonwealth ave., Boston, formerly of Lakeview road became the bride of Lt. John Rowland Haug, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Haug of Chestnut Hill, Pa. White spring flowers made an attractive background for the service which was read at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Gardiner M. Day, and followed by a reception at the Hotel Puritan in Boston.

Miss Wilson was given in marriage by her father. She wore a period gown of white satin trimmed with white net and heirloom Duchesse lace. Her cathedral-length veil was caught with miniature white satin lilies and she carried a bouquet of white calla lilies.

Another former Winchester girl, Miss Shirley Godwin, now of Boston, was Miss Wilson's honor maid. The two were neighbors during the years their parents lived in Winchester.

The bridesmaids, all Wellesley College class-mates of the bride, were: Miss Dorothy Duncanson of Buffalo, N. Y., Miss Susanne Kemp of Grosse Pointe, Mich., Miss Ann Parry of Asbury Park, N. J., and Miss Elvia Samuelson of Evanston, Ill. With their identical gowns of white taffeta they wore white lace mitts and white net bows in their hair, and carried deep red carnations tied with white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Wilson, mother of the bride, wore white spray orchids with her coral gown and hat, and Mrs. Haug, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in royal blue with which she wore a flowered hat and a corsage of white orchids.

Lt. Comdr. Philip N. Whittaker, USNR, of Chestnut Hill, Pa., was best man and the ushers were Lt. George A. Hill, Jr., USNAC, of Concord, Lt. (jg) Gilbert M. Carlson, USNR, of Milton, and Lt. Henry P. Brown, 3rd, USNR, and Lt. Joseph W. Tucker, USNR, of Chestnut Hill, Pa.

The bride was graduated from the Brimmer May School in 1943 and is a member of the class of 1947 at Wellesley College. The bridegroom attended Chestnut Hill Academy, Chestnut Hill, Pa., and was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1940. After a motor trip to Canada, they plan to make their home in or near Boston.

There Mrs. Theodore Elliott with Mrs. Stephen G. Nichols as co-chairman, and their committee will have for sale flowers, plants, rose bushes, baskets, seeds, garden tools, and as a new feature burlap sheets for gathering leaves. OFFICERS OF UNITARIAN PARENTS' ASSOCIATION ELECTED

A meeting of the newly formed Parents' Association of the Winchester Unitarian Church was held on Wednesday evening, May 1st, for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. Mrs. Jost Michelsen, Chairman of the Religious Education Committee which served as a nominating committee, read the slate of officers. Those elected were: Mr. Dermott Townley-Tilson, Pres., Mrs. Robert R. Smith, Vice-President; Mrs. W. Henry Fulton, Secretary; Mr. Russell Symmes, Treasurer; Mrs. Lyle K. Among the specific recommendations of Miss Wood's report was that a Parents' Association be formed to keep in closer touch with the Sunday School. The Association will give parents an opportunity to become more cognizant of the role which they can play in fostering the religious education of their children.

SCHOLARSHIP CANDIDATES TO BE CHOSEN

The Winchester Scholarship Foundation's Committee to award scholarships to deserving members of this year's High School graduating class has organized and chosen Mrs. George I. Chatfield, Chairman, and John I. Donovan, Secretary. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Henry K. Spencer, Ben R. Schneider, and Principal Wade Grindle of the High School.

This Committee has decided that, for this year at least any student in the highest third of the graduating class may apply for a scholarship. No formal application form will be used, but the applicant is invited to write a personal letter to the Committee setting forth his plans for matriculating in a college and reasons why the writer would like to be considered for a scholarship. While no formula has been evolved but for judging the applicants, emphasis will be placed upon character, superior scholastic attainment, good citizenship and financial need.

In order for the Committee to reach a decision in time for grand liaison, applications should be received by Mr. Grindle before May 15.

The Committee is very anxious to have the community understand the main purpose of establishing the Foundation, viz., it is a medium by which all groups or individuals interested in providing scholarships may function with the greatest degree of efficiency. It also provides an opportunity for persons not able to finance a scholarship individually to give toward a general fund. Gifts are welcomed, and should be made to the Foundation through Leslie J. Scott, Secretary-Treasurer of it.

Any group interested may turn its funds for scholarship purposes over to be administered by the Foundation, and thus enjoy the right to have a member on the General Committee of the Foundation, or it may prefer to award its own scholarship and retain its own funds, but turn over the scholarship Committee for pertinent data on eligible candidates.

At present it is not known how many scholarships will be awarded this year by the Foundation, but as Winchester High School will graduate about 140, it is a certainty that in the group of 47 who will be eligible, the awards will go to girls or boys of high promise who otherwise might not be able to go to college.

To date the following organizations have joined the Foundation:

American Legion
Central Board of Mothers' Association
College Club
Congregational Men's Club
En Ka
Junior Dance Group
Ladies' Auxiliary of the Sons of Italy
Mothers' Associations: George Washington School, Junior High School, Lincoln School, Mystic School, Noonan School, Wyman School, Parish Players, Smith College Club, Winchester Historical Society, Winchester Rotary Club, Winchester Teachers' Club, Women's Republican Club and two individual gifts have been made, one anonymous gift of $2000, to be administered later, and another donation of $25.

ROTARY NOTES

More than 60 Rotarians and guests were in attendance at the regular Thursday noon meeting to hear Mr. Kendall Johnson of the Woburn Rotary Club speak about the notorious German buzz-bomb. Mr. Johnson served as a Lieutenant with an AA battery in the defense of Antwerp against an all-out attack on that city by the Germans when they employed the deadly buzz-bomb in large numbers in an attempt to destroy this strategic port. His eye witnessed account of this particular phase of the war proved to be interesting indeed to his hearers. In closing his remarks, he gave us much food for thought when he questioned what is now being done by the United States to work out defensive mesures against the atom bomb, if and when it is ever used as a unit with the propulsion force of the larger type of buzz-bomb, or a V-2 bomb, as it is commonly known.

The singing of "Row, row, row your boat" was enjoyed by everyone so much an extent that it was difficult to persuade "Aram" to relinquish his song leadership. In fact, such was the momentum of this song that it was still to be heard long after "Jim" McGrath and "Aram" had returned to their seats.

Cigars were once again greatly appreciated, and this time our thanks go, not to "Mal" or "Vin" but to "Ernie." Dade in honor of the arrival of a son, born on Tuesday of this week. Our very best wishes and congratulations are extended to Mrs. Dade and Ernie.

"Gene" Pollard officiated at the weekly drawing of the Victory Bond, and in so doing, he assisted "Parker" Holbrook to be declared the winner. It is worthy of mention that "Parker" is the first member to have won the Bond 4 times.

ALFRED WILLIAM DREW

Alfred William Drew, of 12 Wedgemere avenue died Monday, April 29, while in Wellesley, visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ripley E. Sykes Jerson.

Mr. Drew was born in Cambridge Aug. 10, 1875, son of Silas, and Lucy (Eaton) Drew. He had lived in Winchester for the past 16 years and was employed as a salesman.

He leaves, besides his daughter in Wellesley, his wife, Mrs. Alice Louise Drew; two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Warren of Brunswick, Me., Miss Barbara Drew of Winchester; and four sons, Frederick Drew of New York City and Philip, Richard and Donald Drew of this town.

Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at Story Chapel, Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, with Rev. Henry Helms of Watertown officiating. Interment was in Mt. Auburn.

FIRE THIS MORNING

The alarm from Box 261 at 7:57 this morning was for a fire in the attic of the home of Mr. Marshall J. England on Sedgewood road. A cigarette smouldering in an ash tray set fire to some celluloid toilet articles causing some smoke and slight damage to furniture.

At 4:55 yesterday afternoon Box 35 came in for a fire at the home of F. W. Griswold and Joseph Griffin, 166-168 Swanton street. The fire started at the back steps and quickly ate up through the partitions to the roof of the house, the firemen making a good stop in preventing serious damage.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

"The Reorganization of Congress"

"The comic cartoon of a Congressman, familiar to us all, is an injustice to our underpaid, understaffed and overworked representatives." In speaking before the League of Women Voters on Thursday afternoon, April 25, Mr. Paul Ylvisaker, of the Department of Government at Harvard, made it clear that the inefficient working of our Congress is due to the system, not the men.

Speaking on "The Reorganization of Congress," Mr. Ylvisaker gave the League and their guests a most stimulating afternoon. He discussed first of all the basic problems which must be considered in any plan for Congressional reform. There are too many committees and their work overlaps. Committee chairmen are selected by seniority rather than ability, and because certain sections of the country, the South and West, tend to send the same Congressmen back year after year, the interests of these sections are apt to have preference because their Congressmen are committee chairmen. At best all committees are shockingly lacking in staff experts, personnel, and clerks.

Before presenting the recently published recommendations of the joint committee on "The Organization of Congress", which was headed by Senator LaFollette and Representative Monroney, Mr. Ylvisaker set forth some of the proposals which were made by both academic and business experts, during the investigation by the committee. With respect for their ingenuity and sincerity, he nevertheless did not agree with those extremists who advocate a change to an English system of government, in which Congress and the President might go home and run for reelection whenever a national issue became a deadlock. It just would not work in the United States, with out particular traditions and sectional customs.

The LaFollete — Monroney committee report, Mr. Ylvisaker said offers a sound, intelligent blueprint for reform in the antiquated machinery of our Congress. Besides streamlining the committee system, the program is designed to achieve more party responsibility by establishing a policy committee of each party (in both branches of Congress) which would decide on and announce their party's legislative program.

It is to be regretted that the committee was unable to reach a decision upon and make any recommendations about the seniority system, about the extraordinary power of the House Rules Committee, about limitations on Senate debate, or about proposals to have cabinet officers questioned on the floor of Congress. Mr. Ylvisaker felt that it was encouraging however, that the committee was able to agree on and propose as many sweeping changes as it did.

Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick, chairman of Structure and Administration of Government, was in charge of the program, one of the most interesting in the League Year.

The hostess of the afternoon on April 25 was Mrs. Earl G. Carrier. Coffee and doughnuts were served by Mrs. Wallace Miller and her committee, with Mrs. Theodore Atkinson and Miss F. Louise Nardin pouring.

Meeting of the M. C. W. G. May 9 at the home of Mrs. Julia Fitzgerald, 165 Washington street.

Dr. Heath, during his years as a pastor has adequately filled some of the largest Churches in the New England Conference, notably College Avenue, Somerville; Malden Centre, Malden; Wesley Church, Worcester. He will inculcate the spirit of his fruitful ministry in a stirring sermon entitled, "Faith's Adventure."

DOG SCHOOL NEWS

At Tuesday evening's meeting of the Winchester Dog Training Club several dogs were absent, probably due to the fact that there was no meeting last week. However, there were several new dogs, and these were heartily welcomed. Many of the dogs showed vast improvement and in the future it will be necessary to have two classes, one for the beginners and another for the more advanced dogs.

Perhaps some people are wondering what obedience training accomplishes—what is its purpose? There are three reasons why you should train your dog: for your own pleasure and convenience; for the benefit of your friends, neighbors and the general public; to protect your dog and to increase his happiness and loyalty.

Until further notice training classes will be held every Tuesday evening in the former Recreation Center. New members are always welcome.

LEXINGTON TRACK TEAM BEAT WINCHESTER

Despite Tom Kirwan's double in the quarter and half, Winchester High lost its initial track meet of the current season last Friday afternoon to Lexington, 25½ to 42½ on Manchester Field. The meet was run in the rain on a heavy track, making Holmes 10.7s clocking for the hundred look very very good.

Kirwin won the half in the slow time of 2m 19s, but broke 60 for the quarter. Dom Jacobellis picked up a couple of seconds for Winchester in the sprints and big John West tied for first in the shotput with a just so-so heave of 38ft 6 in. The summary:

100-yard dash Won by Holmes (L); second, Jacobellis (W); third, Dillingham (W). Time 10.7s.

220-yard dash Won by Cox (L); second, Jacobellis (W); third, Coe (W). Time 25.6s.

440-yard dash Won by Kirwan (W), second, Connor (L); third, Buren (L). Time 59.6s.

880-yard run Won by Kirwan (W), second, Kennedy (L), third, Brines (W). Time—2m. 19s.

Relay Won by Lexington (Holmes, Brown, Cox, Packard) vs. Winchester (McFarlane, Dillingham, Holdsworth Enwright). Time 1m. 42s.

Broad jump Won by Shoemaker (L); second, Holmes (L); third, McFarlane (W). Distance 18 ft. 4¼ in.

High jump Tie for first between Barnes (L) and Burke (L); tie for third between Holdsworth (W) and Shoemaker (L). Height 5 ft. 1 in.

Shot put Tie for first between West (W) and Bailey (L), third, Whitemore (L). Distance 38 ft. 6 in.

WINCHESTER HIGH 4; LEXINGTON, 2

Though outhit, Winchester won its second Middlesex League game Tuesday afternoon on Manchester Field from Lexington, 4-2.

Pete Priest worked for Winchester and though giving up nine hits, he had only one really bad frame, the 2nd, when three hits, a base on balls, and an outfield error accounted for the two visiting runs.

Winchester put over two in the 4th on a walk to Tibaudo, hits by Olivier and Blanchard and an outfield miscue. Tibaudo's second walk, Olivier's sacrifice and Filler's infield out accounted for another tally in the 6th. A ticket to Sammy Bellino with two out in the 7th, followed by Nolan's hit to center and a passed ball brought in the final tally. The summary:

WINCHESTER SWAMPED READING

Locals Bat Hard in Season's First Win

Showing a complete reversal of their weak batting in the season's opener with Wakefield last week, Winchester High hit two Reading High pitchers hard Monday afternoon, winning its first game of the season, a Middlesex League contest at Reading, 14-2. The game was held over from Friday because of rain, and conditions were not too good Monday.

Freshman Bob Flynn, side-arm right hander, went the route for Winchester and pitched pretty well, giving up six hits and walking five. He was given gilt edged support, being saved twice by fine fielding with the bases loaded.

First a nice double play came to his rescue and the second time Sammy Bellino tore in from left field to make a swell shoe-string catch of what looked like a sure hit good for two runs.

Winchester combed Robertson, Reading's best pitcher, and his relief, Doucette, for 15 hits including two doubles by Twiggy Nolan and another by Sam Tibaudo.

The entire Winchester infield played fine ball, Jimmy Olivier with seven chances being especially good. The summary:

DR. GOODSELL TO SPEAK HERE THURSDAY, MAY 9

Guest of First Congregational Church Men's Club

An internationally known leader in the world program of the Christian Church, Dr. Fred Field Goodsell, Executive vice president of the American Board of Foreign Missions, will speak at a ladies' night meeting of the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church, in the parish house, Thursday, May 9 at 8 o'clock.

With a background of extensive world travel plus 23 years of actual residence in the Near East, Dr. Goodsell has an accurate grasp of world events and their underlying significance. He recently returned from Europe where he attended the World Conference of Churches meetings in Geneva, Switzerland. Here he conferred with leaders from the Protestant and Orthodox Churches of Europe, Russia, China, India and Latin America, meeting such heroic church figures as Pastor Niemoller of Germany, Bishop Eivind Berggrav, persecuted Primate of the Norwegian Church, Archbishop Germanos of the Eastern Orthodox Greek Church and others.

Dr. Goodsell made brief stops in England, France and Belgium and obtained first hand information on the distressing situation in occupied territories from U. S. Military and American officials from these zones.

The subject of Dr. Goodsell's talk Thursday evening will be, "Moral Power vs Atomic Power—Christianity's New International Horizon."

SENIOR FORUM BACCALAUREATE

Dr. Chidley preaches on "Enter, the Serpent."

The last Senior Forum service of the year at the First Congregational Church will be held Sunday morning at 10:45.

For some it will be the final youth service, as they will be leaving soon for college or other activities. Dr. Chidley's Forum address therefore, will be in the nature of a Baccalaureate sermon. The subject will be, "Enter, the Serpent." The Forum President, William Scott Doub, will read the Scripture Lesson, Donald Goss and Ted Barrett will assist with the ushering. The Children's Choir will sing, both seperately, and with the Senior Choir, in a chorus of over 100 voices.

The address will deal with present day conditions throughout our nation and the peculiar temptations which continually face young people. In recent weeks several of the best known national publications have featured articles on youth problems and juvenile delinquency. This timely and supremely important subject warrants the attendance of all young people.

In Ripley Chapel at seven o'clock, Miss Betty Green, 18-year old National President of the American Unitarian Youth Fellowship will speak to the Forum and their guests on the subject, "My Recent Visit to Russia."

McCLANE—GREY

Miss Elsie Irving Grey, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Irving Grey of Washington street, was married Thursday evening, April 25, at the Copley Methodist Church in Boston to Walter Dorsey McClane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McClane of New York City. The minister of the church, Rev. Leslie H. Johnson, performed the 6 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by supper for the bridal party at the Fox and Hounds Club.

Miss Grey wore a dusty pink gabardine suit with a Navy blue straw hat trimmed with pink roses and a corsage of gardenias and stephanotis. She was attended by Miss Elizabeth Davis of Boston, who wore a black and white checked suit with a black straw hat and a corsage of spring flowers. G. Warren McClane of New York was his brother's best man.

Mr. and Mrs. McClane flew to New York for their honeymoon, and upon their return, will make their home in Boston. The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, Mr. McClane, who is associated with the Arteraft Shoe Co. in Lynn, is a graduate of Boston University and of Babson's Institute.

BRONZE STAR TO SCULL

Capt. David Scull, USA, whose wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Lee Scull, lives at 1 Parker road, has been awarded the Bronze Star medal and citation for distinguished service in connection with military operations against the enemy from May 12 to May 17, 1943, in the Aleutians; from Jan. 5 to Jan. 21, 1945, in France; from April 6 to April 19, 1945, and from April 28 to May 8, 1945, in Germany.

During this period Capt. Scull served as aide-de-camp to Maj. Gen. Albert E. Brown, USA, and rendered outstanding services throughout this entire period of combat operations.

While making the assault landing on the Aleutian Islands, Capt. Scull served as a member of a covering patrol screening the movements of the Commanding General from the beach to the assault elements, through enemy infested terrain. In France and Germany, Capt. Scull on numerous occasions, undeterred by his proximity to enemy fire, laid out routes of approach and acted as armed escort to the Commanding General in moving through heavily wooded areas from the Division Command Post to assault echelons in areas occupied by roving enemy patrols.

Capt. S. Donald Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Cole of Winchester Arms, is now on terminal leave from the United States Army after four years service.

EN KA STREET FAIR

serve a delicious luncheon of chicken salad sandwiches, lobster sandwiches, egg salad sandwiches, ham sandwiches and coffee.

Great credit is due to all the dispensers of food to have overcome the many food shortages and be able to cater in such a sumptuous way to the public. On May 18, forget your food problems and let En Ka plan your menus and serve you and your family at lunch, at tea and at supper.

Grabs

For the kiddies, Mrs. John M. Murray and Mrs. Clarence G. McDavitt, Jr. and their committee are planning grabs galore. This committee has waited wisely, for many of the long wanted toys to get back on the market. Now they announce that many of the grabs they will sell haven't been seen since pre-war days. At this booth the children will be overjoyed with the contents of the mysterious packages.

Chances—New Ford—Chances

Mrs. Forrest L. Pitman, with Mrs. Cheney Cook and Mrs. Alvin Litchfield as co-chairmen, plus a large committee, are in charge of the chances. The big thrill of the months of waiting will be when Mr. Ralph Bonnell draws the lucky number, which will present some fortunate person with a brand new Ford sedan. This "Pot-of-Gold" will be on the grounds for inspection. No, you won't have to wait for delivery; you may drive it away as your "very own" if you hold that lucky number. Anyone who hasn't already bought their chance books had better do so pronto, for someone has to win and that someone could be you!

Supper

The Supper will be held in the Town Hall before the dance. Mrs. Roland R. Carter and her committee have at last pierced the fog and found the rainbow at the end. With great complacency they announce the following menu:

Baked ham, scalloped potato, pickles, cole slaw, sweet rolls, apple pie and ice cream, coffee, milk. M-m-m!

Anyone who is a housekeeper and anyone who has dined out, will be amazed that such a supper can be served at a price of 99 cents. All on this committee have made the honor roll as good cooks, so rest assured that you'll have a bountiful and delicious supper. Any remaining tickets may be procured from Mrs. Franklin J. Lane, Win. 0841.

Balloons

Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth with Mrs. E. George Pierce as co-chairman, are in charge of balloons. What a team! Every one knows that they have never undertaken any job that hasn't been well planned and executed.

No Fair is complete without the colorful balloons for the tiny tots. Canes, pin-wheels, whips and novelty En Ka pins will also be for sale at their booth.

Tonic Booth

If it is the warm day for which we hope, then big business will be done at the Tonic booth. Mrs. Charles W. Lovejoy is in charge of this ever popular booth. Here parched throats may be quenched with coco-cola, moxie and soft drinks. We know the legion of workers, as well as the dancers too, will all have the urge to patronize this booth.

Gifts

When Mrs. Ferdinand F. Hawley and Mrs. John D. McLean displayed samples of their wares for the Gift Shop, all the En Ka members were overwhelmed at the variety and amount of gifts which they and their committee had fashioned.

For the children there were beautifully smocked dresses and pinafores, seer-sucker nighties, hand knit socks and sweaters, painted bean bags and babies' bibs.

For the bridge hostess many soft corduroy card table covers, in lovely tones.

For the house-keeper there were aprons galore, a style and size for all shapes and sizes. Also pot-holders, waste paper baskets, doilies, and cock-tail napkins. Artistic hand painted trays and glasses for "old-fashions" that will appeal to many. Attractive hand-painted cradles and sleighs that serve as cigarette containers. A stop at this booth will solve many a gift problem.

Hot Dogs

When one thinks of the Street Fair, it is inevitable that one thinks of Hot-Dogs. Mrs. Langley C. Keyes with Mrs. Harold Blanchard as Co-Chairman, is in charge of this booth. Also they are in charge of various husbands who will don chef's caps and cook 275 lbs of frankfurters. The popularity of the lowly hot-dog is evidenced by the fact that the amount purchased steadily increases with each year. Surely the staggering amount of 275 lbs. plus mustard and pickles should appease the gnawing appetites of the throngs of people who surround this booth.

Attic

Mrs. Wilfred McKenzie is in charge of the always "sold out attic". At this booth one can find almost any article they desire for a very nominal sum. They aren't all white elephants, by any means but wanted articles that are really a buy. Mrs. McKenzie's experience at our "What-Not-Shop" is qualification enough for us to know we have no novices as concerns the success of this booth.

Pop-Corn

Like a continuous snow-storm the flakey pop-corn will spin and fall, day and night, at the Pop-corn stand.

Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker is in charge of this booth. It isn't necessary to tell the location of this booth, for the children will automatically "form in line" in front of this popular booth.

The Country Store

An innovation has been introduced to the Fair this year in a new booth called "The Country Store." This vision was conjured and matured in the fertile mind of Mrs. Victor Wolff. Everyone knows that any project Mrs. Wolff tackles is bound to be a success. Mrs. Samuel D. Cole is Co-Chairman of this booth.

The merchants of Winchester and neighboring towns have contributed most generously to this project.

In the store you will find everything from shoe-strings to wedding presents, from soup to nuts, powder that is face, gun, or bug; food in the cans and on the shelves; wearing apparel that will amaze you. There will be many surprises divulged on the 18th so don't fail to visit "The Country Store" before you stock up for the week-end.

All donations will have cards advertising the store that has been so co-operative in donating to this store. A list of those contributing will be published in a later issue of the Star, for we plan to advertise them for they have always backed En Ka.

The forecasts are that this booth will be a mecca of interest to the public, so it behooves everyone to visit this booth early in the day, before the "sold out" sign goes up.

Properties

A "pat on the back" should be given to Mrs. Leslie A. Tucker and her co-chariman Mrs. Allan Lindblad.

Mrs. Tucker has assumed the tremendous responsibility of not one booth, but the planning, construction, painting and placement of all the booths. No one except those who have formerly worked on this committee can have any idea of the work such a task involves. Today, with the shortage of lumber, it has been doubly hard. However, the booths will be there and business will go on as usual and most of the smoothness of it is due to the above mentioned Mrs. Tucker, assisted by the "forgotten men" who always come through with paint-brushes and hammer and nails.

WINCHESTER SNIPE FLEET RACING STARTS MAY 11

Close Contest Forseen By Seer

For the past few years it has been a cinch for yours truly to look like an expert on sailing by foretelling the winner of the Winchester Snipe Fleet championship almost before the season started. This was possible chiefly because there usually were only two outstanding sailors and boats. Then by flipping a coin and calling 'em one, two, even if the final finish was reversed we looked good. But, this year, oh my! To pick this season's winner we'd have to be more mystic than the lake on which the races will be sailed, and frankly we're about as clairvoyant as a clam. Nevertheless, our public (both of them) demands a prediction, so at the risk of losing life, limb and liberty, here we go.

For first place we pick Don Simonds and his super-snipe Sinbad. After semi-retirement last season, Don threatens to come back and cop the cup, and if he's serious, he's the skipper to beat. He'll be sailing a ship he knows from stem to stern and has two superb crews in Mrs. Simonds and Dickie.

The chief challengers to Simonds supremacy will be the brothers Swanson, the Jones-Powers combination and Bart Sullivan. The real reason we're putting them second to Don is that each of these skippers will be sailing a strange boat. The Swansons and Jones have brand new ones and Bart will be sailing the Youani which finished second last season. Of these three teams, we favor the Swansons because they have almost as many reserve skippers as a Notre Dame football team (Bob, Ralph and Richard) and one of the cleverest crews on the lake, Roger. The Jones-Powers combination should shade Sullivan because they've been a top team for several seasons while Bart has as yet never been able to get a permanent crew. If he does, he'll be extremely dangerous.

Giving these boys a run for their money and causing them plenty of concern will be ex-commodore Jim Newman, as cagey a skipper as has ever sailed a Snipe; Al Litchfield, who will be sailing last year's championship boat; Jim Snow, who always sails a smart, heads-up race; and a new combination, Field and Freyer who have a good boat.

Next we come to the "could be" or question mark division. Ex-servicemen Ted Burleigh, Sr. and Jr., and Mert Ober and Bill Croughwell are all superb skippers. The two Teds make a slick combination and Mert and "Sugar" have always been hard to beat. As yet, Bill Croughwell, has not a boat but if he gets one he is capable of knocking all these predictions into a cocked hat. Along with these skippers are Gus West and Bill Hall. Both of these skippers may have new boats. They're hard enough to top in their old boats, but if they launch new ones, their skill and experience may put them on top.

Last but by no means least we have the "Fleet Flounderers", and we wouldn't be without them. They have just as much fun racing for next to last place as the leaders do for first. And it may do their hearts good to know that after three years absence they'll once again have Judge Kay Burleigh to give them a welcome home "Beep."

Whoever wins, we're sure he's going to know he's been in a battle. If you want to see the start of a season we're sure will be packed with thrilling, spine tingling races, just line up on the Lake May 11th. Anchors aweigh!

TENNIS PLANS

Bob Drake, president of the Winchester Tennis Association, has just announced the appointment of a bang-up tournament committee for the coming season.

Les Leathers will be the dynamic chairman and will be ably assisted in his work by Roland Patrick and Jimmy Coon.

Present plans call for a spring get-acquainted draw-doubles tournament to start early in the afternoon of Saturday, May 25, with men's and women's doubles. It is then hoped that we shall continue on Sunday and also get started with family and mixed doubles. As usual, the entry fee will be 25c per person per event.

All the old-timers know how much fun can be had in a draw-doubles tournament, and we hope that many new-comers will join us in getting acquainted. Les' number is 0791, Pat's 0803-M and Jimmy's 1287-M. Why not surprise them by calling in your entry? Or, at least, leave your entry with Mrs. Wilcox at the Palmer street courts. There are no age limits whatsoever.

WINCHESTER M. S. P. C. A.

The Annual meeting of the Winchester Auxiliary of the M. S. P. C. A. will be held on May 9th at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. Russell Mann, on Fenwick road.

Viewing the street and sidewalk after the close of a high-schoolers curb stone convention, we wondered if our schools would not do well to incorporate a course of study in civic neatness. Empty cigarette packages, candy wrappers, broken ice cream cones and general litter, left a previously clean locality a place to regret. We well remember receiving instructions in civic neatness all through our school life. Winchester has nothing to be proud of in that direction today. We imagine that the chap who does the sweeping up, views the landscape with jaundiced eyes as he starts in his morning work, for it only takes a short time to turn his clean-swept street and walk into a condition resembling the aftermath of a political rally. There was a time when The Fortnightly subscribed for and bought a set of waste barrels, which were placed at advantageous points about the center. And woe to the boy or girl who came under the eagle eye of police in failing to use them. Perhaps the idea might be revived—in conjunction with a new course of study in fall) the schools. Of course we know today that the whole idea is to do just as one wishes and to let someone else take care of the aftermath, but Winchester has always been a neat town and a place one is proud to show his guests, and we are sorry to see it start a rivalry with Revere Beach on a Sunday morning. Of course the out-of-towners who scatter newspapers to the winds and add to the litter, are outside the pale and immune from local criticism, but if the Town Fathers felt sufficiently inclined, a by-law probably COULD be passed which would have a discouraging effect on this phase. At any rate, Winchester is showing no progress whatever in civic neatness. If this feature is included in the present form of government, let us adopt it.

As the curtain fell on the final performance of "You Can't Take It With You" last Saturday night, the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church had completed 29 years in their "Little Theatre Beneath a Spire." Congratulations are surely in order. It has been something just to keep going for two decades in the amateur theatrical field, especially during these recent war years, and the fact that the Players have never had a cancellation while maintaining their admittedly high standards adds fresh laurels. "As good as the Parish Players" has been something of a little theatre guide in Winchester for years. Nor have the Players been idle on the "good works" side. Proceeds from their plays have gone to British War Relief ($2,000 for a number of years), to Russian War Relief, United China Relief and to the American Red Cross, among internationally known organizations, while in a more parochial sense the group has assisted needy persons during the depression years, benefited the Winchester Scholarship Fund, furnished a chapel for an Army Chaplain and contributed toward the purchase of an organ for St. John's (Negro) Baptist Church in Woburn. In addition to their regular shows have been 32 performances for Army camps and hospitals during World War II. Commendable as their charitable program has been, the Players have never depended for support upon this basis. They have been able to continue because they have offered the public through the years good shows, well done, while their high standards have attracted the cream of local amateurs who have appreciated the opportunity to indulge their talents which the Players have provided. Regular patrons will recall many outstanding performances; Milne Blanchard in "You Can't Take It With You," Hubert Bernard in "The Bad Man," Sam Graves in "The House Master", Margaret Randall in "The Queen's Husband," Oscar Crowers in "Outward Bound," Elouise Graves and Al Pennell in "Tovarish," Hersilia Elmer in "Dulcy" and "Gene" Pollard in "The Man Who Stayed at Home". We mention only a few at random. There have been many others. The Players have done a lot of good things. The community has been the richer in a recreational and cultural sense because of them. They deserve their applause. May their encores continue indefinitely.

"Joe" Worthen, Town Moderator, formerly chairman of the Board of Selectmen and one of our leading citizens, did not like two statements which appeared in our issue of March 29 under the heading of "Town Meeting Echoes." At least, that is the conclusion to which we came after reading his letter in last week's Star. He gave us quite a going over, and we expect a lot of people wonder how we liked it. In a way we were flattered to learn that one of Joe's political stature should be so concerned over our humble opinions, and we surely are not going to risk any joint debate over local politics with him. He is much too well versed in that field. So to avoid further argument we are going to concede that he is right about it all, that this year's town meeting was not drab, but rather a model of intelligent collective action motivated by considered judgments independently arrived at, and that it was not "dumb" for that meeting back in '41 finally to decide not to seek permission to change our limited town meeting act to include certain modifications which a majority of precinct members favored during individual discussions of them lasting for an hour and 18 minutes. Probably "dumb" was not the word we should have chosen to describe this action. Thinking it over, we guess it was "too cruel", as the late Joe Laraway used to say. Mr. Worthen certainly took what "Squire" Franklin always calls "umbrage" at our use of the word, and we withdraw it, unconditionally. We want "Joe" to stay friendly! After seeing what he can do while holding, on his own admission, a friendly feeling for us, we emphatically do not care to provoke him to wrath. There is, however, one point we would like to make. Those political comments, or quips, which from time to time have appeared in the Star under such headings as "Echoes," "Notes", "School Daze", etc. were not intended to be factual reports of town meetings. Factual reports have, however, always appeared, and these we have honestly attempted to have accurate and free from any personal bias. The Star file shows that the specific action of the 1941 town meeting under discussion was reported substantially as Mr. Worthen explained it in his letter of last week. We are not unmindful of our responsibility to report town political events accurately and fairly, and we can say in all sincerity that we have never intended, at least, to misinform our readers. Mistakes we have made, of course. Almost every one slips up occasionally, and we know we do things every so often that even those we love best think are "dumb". They have not, however, for that reason wrangled us as dumb-bell, and we did not so designate Mr. Worthen and his committee associates. That was strictly "Joe's" own idea.

POINT WAS MISSED BY MR. WORTHEN

Editor of the Star:

Several times I've taken to task by our eminent and able moderator, Mr. Joseph W. Worthen, for my honest opinion, I suppose I should feel properly humbled and summarily squelched. But, Mr. Prosecutor, may I voice just one last word in defense.

I am surprised that Mr. Worthen missed the entire point of my criticism.

I am sure that I did not misstate the position of Messrs. Stone and Farnham as being opposed to the appointment of a committee to study the school problem. Everyone present at the town meeting can attest to this fact. The motion before the town meeting and under discussion, concerned only the appointment of such a committee, not whether we were going to build a new high school, but Messrs. Stone and Farnham were against something else. Messrs. Stone and Farnham unalterably opposed this motion. Need more be said? Except that they now serve on the committee, the appointment of which they so bitterly opposed.

I thoroughly respect the opinions of Messrs. Stone and Farnham as opposed to the opinion of the unanimous school committee. Be the same token, I have the right to my opinion without being vilified.

I do not apologize for my "level" or the "standards" that I set for myself in this matter, this despite Mr. Worthen's denunciation.

I did not accuse Mr. Worthen, to use his own words "of packing the committee." I did have the temerity to criticize two appointments. Surely the criticism of two appointments of a seven man committee does not justify the accusation that I charged "packing."

The original unanimous vote of the school committee was for a committee composed of three members of the school committee, one member from the board of selectmen, one member from the planning board and one member-at-large. This did not meet with the approval of the finance committee and others. The school committee therefore hurriedly rescinded their original vote and agreed to a motion for a committee as later presented to the town meeting.

I think that Mr. Worthen will agree that this is an important problem, that it concerns parent and tax- payer. It concerns not one faction, not one precinct but everyone in Winchester. Surely this committee should be as representative as possible. May I ask one more question - why were not our "forgotten" precincts No. 1 and No. 6 given consideration for representation upon the committee? Surely they have an interest in the problem. Surely they have residents with experience and ability, well qualified to serve effectively.

It is apparent that I aroused the ire of our moderator because of an honest opinion but I have only that same hope so ably expressed by Ed Sanderson, "May the children reap the benefit of our doings."

Very truly yours,
R. F. Lybeck

SIGNS OF SPRING

To the Editor of the Star:

The spring fever has got me. I am down in Washington seeing what I can see. So far I am in a maze among great buildings crowded with clerks running around like angels in heaven with nothing to do and no place to go. I have asked everyone that I have met when the war will be declared over so that some of this jam that I am in can be distributed to other parts of the country where it is wanted. The furniture business is what is troubling everyone. No beds but plenty of bureaus with no drawers or shirts. If it wasn't for my friends I would have to sleep standing up. I hope soon to come home to peace and quiet. Enclosed you will find Signs of Spring in Winchester.

Have you seen the new street signs being erected by the Highway Department? They are very easy to read and look very attractive. Let this good work go on!

The highways are getting their spring cleaning. A good mechanical sweeper would be quite handy.

The parks are going through a facial uplift. Winchester's park system is very large and the Town must expect to pay for its upkeep. Labor is hard to get and it is a constant worry to the Park Department to keep things looking as they should.

The Cemetery Department has been doing some very good work grading the land by machine instead of hand labor. A lot of work has been accomplished recently.

The Water Department is installing water pipes in Hutchinson road using a mechanical digger and bulldozer to good advantage. The Department has also connected the West High Service System to the Metropolitan Supply with very satisfactory results and the Town is saving money.

Garbage collection is now under the Highway Department. Here again the labor situation is difficult. I wish them good luck. The Board of Health can now breathe easy.

The Selectmen have purchased a stoker for the Town Hall heating plant. It is hoped that this mechanical device for feeding coal to the boiler will save labor and fuel and will also give better heating results. We are fast getting modern.

There has been purchased for the Fire Department a new aerial ladder. This piece of apparatus will cost $18,500. This seems like a lot of money but after the demonstration furnished by the Arlington ladder truck which came to our rescue at the Waterfield Building fire and the recent fire on Bacon street it was clearly proven that it is a very valuable piece of apparatus enabling the big ladders to be handled very easily, efficiently, and safely by a small crew of men. It is expected that this ladder truck will be delivered in the early part of 1947. Here's hoping that it will not be needed before that time but our good neighbors are always ready to help out.

Chief Gorman of the Fire Department is retiring on May 31 after serving the Town faithfully and efficiently over a long period of years. Good luck Johnny! I wish the new chief, James Callahan, a most successful reign. He has had many years of experience with the department.

We shall miss our efficient Town Counsel, Addison R. Pike, who also retires on May 31. He will be hard to keep out of jail without him.

Our genial clerk, George Franklin, of the Selectmen's office is another gentleman retiring on May 31. The office will be drab without him.

Good luck to all you retiring guys! I'll soon be with you!

Ed Sanderson

WASHINGTON NOTES

Editor of the Star:

I see some time ago Bill Cunningham went trailin' down south and then writ all about it to his paper, so I thought I'd write you the same.

I been down in Washington a week or so ago fer a coupla days. I been there before, but I never had no spare time like this spell. It's one day long 'bout every Congressman, one day long 'bout every Congress work. My gosh, do they call that work? A lot of them was jest settin' and readin' the papers and others was just chewin' the fat. I couldn't make out what was goin' on until one feller got up and rode the house floor, so I thought I'd write you the same.

I been down in Washington a week or so ago fer a coupla days. I been there before, but I never had no spare time like this spell. It's one day long 'bout every Congressman, one day long 'bout every Congress work. My gosh, do they call that work? A lot of them was jest settin' and readin' the papers and others was just chewin' the fat. I couldn't make out what was goin' on until one feller got up and rode the house floor, so I thought I'd write you the same.

Well, fer Congressmen they kept pretty quiet fer a few minues. Then another feller he said he didn't think there was no quorum there. I looked all around, but I couldn't see nothin' that looked like a quorum, either.

So they counted everyone and sure nuff the feller had guessed right. There warn't no quorum.

Then a bell rang a coupla times and a lot more came in and they spent a half hour or so calling the names. Long 'bout the end of the roll call a lot more came in just to show they was willin' to be counted. So they had a quorum and thet bein' o. k., a lot of them went out again.

I hung 'round a bit longer then, but it warn't much to listen to and, as I didn't have to know what it was all 'bout, 'cause I warn't goin' to vote, I went out, too.

'Bout five o'clock I came back again, for I heard they was havin' a tough battle on the OPA. It must have been tough, all right. Seems they'd let a Democrat talk five minutes, then a Republican, but jest as I got in, the last Democrat was all through. There was not but two Democrats left who seemed to have to stay there and they was only sixteen Republicans. So they give them Republicans five minutes each in a row.

They looked like ordinary guys to me, but they must be extra good, 'cause they kept referrin' to each other as the "gentleman from here" or the "gentleman from there", namin' some State. They sure was polite to each other.

'Long 'bout half past five, a gentleman from somewhere, I didn't hear, got a break. He said how glad he was to tell the Congress (all 5 of them) that a little gal from up Lawrence way had won some speaking contest run by the American Legion out in Iowa.

That sorta got me all mixed up, 'cause I thought they was supposed to be talking 'bout what they was goin' to do with OPA. But I bet that little gal will be happy to know they busted in to tell how good a speaker she was.

Then another gentleman got up and they give him 15 minutes and he read all 'bout the fishin' industry and how the poor fish needed a protective tariff.

'Bout then a lady cum in and she seemed right anxious to interrupt and say something, but the gentleman first time wouldn't let her. Second time she asked him if he would yield. So he said yes, and she said she would help, too, and she wanted to tell all the gentlemen tho' they didn't need no tellin', so she said, that these here fishermen led hazardous lives and she wanted all of them (the whole 18) to know it.

Then she thanked the gentleman and, havin' got that pearl of oratory off her chest, she went out again and I didn't see her again before closin' time. She didn't say nothin 'bout OPA either. I didn't catch her name, but I know for almost certain I've seen her 'bout these parts somewhere. There ain't many ladies down in Congress, anyway, so maybe I can find out who she was and let you know.

And that's the way it went to closin' time.

You know, Mr. Editor, I did some thinkin' then. I wonder if we ain't got too many people in Congress who are thinking about somethin' little gals, they'd like to please or some special fisherman, 'stead o' thinkin' 'bout the whole of us, and 'stead of some who put on a good show, maybe we better get some workers who know how to work fer the whole country fer a change.

And say, 'nother thing, Mr. Editor, lately I been hearing 'bout a feller that was Mayor up in Lowell year-too ago wants to try to go down to Congress this year. Some say he's kind o' independent but mostly Republican. If he ain't too rich or too old he don't need to think 'bout the cost o' livin', maybe we better give him the once-over and invite him to come down to our town some time soon to a big meetin' where we can all see him and have him tell us jes why he thinks he'd be a good man to go down from this district.

What do you think?

Yor globe trottin' friend,
EZRA

MR. CROUGHWELL IS SATISFIED

Editor of the Star:

In scrutinizing the pages of the last issue of the Winchester Star that was established in the year 1880, I observed with interest the reply of our efficient town meeting Moderator to some of your correspondents in regard to town affairs.

In my opinion the communication was a masterful masterpiece of eloquence. The present Moderator has served the town with distinction as chairman of the honorable Board of Selectmen; chairman of the Finance Committee, and has served on several committees. I believe it thus becomes imperative that he is familiar with town's municipal affairs and town meeting procedure.

The present Moderator is the 39th Moderator that we have elected in the last 96 years, or in other words the first town meeting in Winchester, which was held at one o'clock in the afternoon of May 7th in the year 1850 in the vestry of the Congregational Church, the most commodious hall then available in the village. The meeting was devoted to the election of town officers. Deacon B. F. Thomson and Samuel M. Rice were nominated for Moderator and Mr. Rice was elected by 80 votes to 60.

The first town meeting Moderator was Samuel M. Rice, elected in May 1850. The 39th town meeting Moderator is Joseph W. Worthen, elected in March, 1946.

From 1850 until 1914 a Moderator was chosen at each regular or special town meeting by the voters and others assembled at the meetings. Since 1914 the entire electorate elects the Moderator for one year.

I believe the town is fortunate in having the present Moderator and other leading citizens who devote a large part of their valuable time, gratis, for the best interests of the inhabitants of the town of Winchester.

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Croughwell

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Awards Assembly Honored 100

On Monday of this week an assembly presided over by Pip Scott William Knights honored 100 high school boys and girls. Coach Henry Knowlton awarded insignia sweaters to 14 members of this year's football team who had not previously received such an award.

The Athletic Association policy at present is to give special awards only to those teams that win 80 per cent or more of their contests.

One additional sweater was awarded Tom Kirwan, stellar long distance runner who has won outstanding honors while representing Winchester High School in track and cross country.

Boys receiving letter sweaters: Parker Flagg, Charles Flynn, Joseph Riga, Frank Nolan, Dominic Gaffello, Sam Bellino, Tom Kirwan, Bill Whittemore, Bill Nichols, Jack Filler, Frank Serratore, Jack Grimes, Bill Knights, Allan Ulrich and Joe Derro.

Varsity basketball letters were awarded to Capt. Pat Patterson, Capt.-elect Dean Blanchard, Sam Tibaldo, Roger Latham, Jim Olivier, Sam Bellino, John Weed, Frank Nolan and Manager Parker Flagg.

Awards for playing on the second team which dropped only two games during the season went to Jerry Errico, Dan Maffeo, Joe Amico, Arthur Howard, Jack Dickson, Dick Young, Eddie Ricks and Allan Switzer.

In the absence of hockey Coach Palmer, Coach Knowlton reviewed the season and awarded the following letters: Capt. Don Armstrong, Capt.-elect Dave Morrow, Bill Knights, Allan Ulrich, Bob Wilson, Bob Spang, Frank Livingstone, Scott Doub, Emerson Priest, Bill Dingwell, Bill Cunningham, Richard Powers and Manager Sid Aitken.

Mrs. Matthews reviewed the girls' basketball season and made the following awards: Capt. Patty Root, Capt.-elect Marnee Norris, Patsy Eberle, Dudie Jennings, Corinne Marvin, Barbara Johnson, Mary Jean Browning, Barbara Fry and Manager Virginia Lovejoy.

Second team basketball awards were to Capt. Jane Rainie, Shirley Bonnell, June Moffette, Barbara Donaghey, Mary Carroll, Eileen Welch, Mary Sullivan, Libby Fenno, Sue Nicley, Dorothy O'Connell, Barbara Howe, Joan Millett, Ellen Hight, Betty Murray, Janet Morrison, Carolyn Reeves, Libby Moses, Barbara Elliott, Patricia Maher, Ann Allene, Edna Ferrera, were presented by Mrs. George Sharon, assistant manager.

Red Cross Home Nurses

Following the awards to athletes Mr. Grindle presented certificates to the girls who have successfully completed the Red Cross Home Nursing course and who are now qualified to home nursing duties.

Those receiving certificates were Patricia Record, Pauline Capone, Anna Comita, Ann Rallo, Evelyn Keith, Rose Ferro, Sally Osborne, Mary DiMambro, Kathleen Devlin, Betty Rogers, Mary McDonough, and Helen McGowan.

LINCOLN SCHOOL VETS NIGHT A SUCCESS

The Veterans Night held Tuesday night at the Lincoln School under the auspices of the Lincoln School Mothers Association proved in every way a success. It was held in honor of veterans who had formerly attended the Lincoln School and there were a number of them in the large audience.

Mrs. Carle C. Zimmerman, president of the Association, presided and an excellent entertainment program was presented, opening with a trumpet solo by Mr. Fred Felmet, instructor of instrumental music in the Winchester schools and leader of the Lincoln School Band.

There were tap dances by little Barbara Reid, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Boyd, and also by Marguerite Derro, one of the stars of the recent high school Vaudeville show. Miss Derro's accompanist was Mrs. Lillian Lewis, who also played for the soprano solos sung by Mrs. Sophia Gardner, soloist at the Church of the Epiphany. Ann Reid gave readings and the program closed with an interesting travelogue in technicolor by Prof. Carle Zimmerman of Harvard, a veteran of both World War I and II.

Professor Zimmerman also concluded the evening with a short informal talk addressed especially to the veterans in the audience.

Mr. Ernest Parker of Wilson street has one of the first new Pontiac eights to be seen in Winchester, a blue coupe-sedan stream-liner.

About Bank Auto Loans

People ask, "Why is it to my advantage to finance my car with a Bank Auto Loan?" Here is how our plan works; don't you agree it's the best way?

You pick your car, find out the trade-in allowance you get from your dealer and the amount of cash you will need for the balance. Then simply add the cost of having your present car insurance policy changed to cover your new car, (or getting new insurance) and arrange a low-cost loan with us for the total amount.

To see if you will save money (and we believe you will) compare the cost of other financing plans with a similar transaction here. And remember that with a Bank Auto Loan it is a local transaction all the way through. Figure it out for yourself — then decide.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scout Council takes great pleasure in announcing that Ruth Hahn and Barbara Michelson of Troop 2 have received the Curved Bar, the highest rank a Girl Scout can attain, showing 4 additional badges in a new field after winning the First Class Scout badge. The Curved Bars were presented by Mrs. George Cary, deputy commissioner of Winchester Girl Scouts, at the Camp movie held last week at the Lincoln school. These movies, which were the major feature of the Girl Scout Camp reunion, showed an interested audience pictures depicting activities at all 4 of the Scout Camps: Camp Four Winds and Camp Helen Storrow, both near Plymouth, one for girls from ten to twelve, the other from twelve to fourteen, the Mountain Camp, Winona, at Fairlea, Vermont, for girls fifteen to twenty, and the Vineyard Sailing Camp on Martha's Vineyard for girls over fifteen. As these camps can accommodate a limited number and are usually filled early in the season, the girls were urged not only to send in their own applications promptly but to warn friends who had expressed a desire to share the experiences to get in touch with the Scout office immediately.

Such a large number of Girl Scouts from Winchester, Woburn and Medford are joining in the giant State Rally to be held at the Boston Garden on Saturday, May 4th, that the Boston and Maine Railroad is putting several extra cars on the one o'clock and the 5:05 to take care of transportation. The Rally itself is from two to four o'clock but as the Garden is completely sold out the extra time is being allowed for the convenience of the crowd.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB READY FOR SPRING CONCERT

The Mystic Glee Club moved into the final stretch of Spring Concert preparations by holding two rehearsals this week, Monday and Wednesday nights. Director William Cruger is busy putting a high polish on a program of 16 numbers which offer everything from the light and flitting sparkle of Dole's Fireflies to the doleful dirge of Moniuszko's dying Cossack, everything from the soft, yearning pathos of Bartholomew's Steal Away to the rolliking negro optimism of Burleigh's De Gospel Train, complete with whistle.

For soloist, the Club is quite fortunate this year in having Mr. Salvy Cavicchio, leading marimbist of Cafe Rouge and WEEI fame, who can practically make a xylophone talk. He will be well supported by his longtime accompanist, Raymond Pugh.

Accompanying the Club will be their beloved Mary Louise Wood, brilliant pianist and accompanyist extraordinary.

Each year, it has been the policy of the Club to give its Spring Concert to benefit some deserving organization in Winchester. This time it is the Fellsland Council of the Boy Scouts of America. Since the Scouts only receive their actual operating expenses from the Community Chest, this concert will help the Trust Fund, dedicated to enlarging scout service and usefulness and administered by men like Mr. H. Wadsworth Hight of Winchester, Col. Ralph Patch of Stoneham, Judge Lawrence Brooks of Medford and Mr. Edward Johnson of Woburn.

CUB FAIR DAY

The Unitarian Church is to be the scene of the great Fair Day, Saturday, May 4, from 11:30 to 2 p. m. Regular pack meeting at 2 p. m.

Scott Cunningham has built a gim rick sha and with the help of scouts will give rides to the awaiting crowd. Other scouts will be on hand to help with miniature basketball and other games. Mrs. Symmes cubs have built a new game to be played for competition. Prizes for each game. Fun for all.

VETERANS ATTEND LEGION SOCIAL

Four hundred and eighty-seven townspeople of whom approximately 350 were war veterans attended the "welcome home" party sponsored by the Winchester Legion Post, Wednesday evening, May 1.

The veterans well filled the main floor center sections and adjoining aisle seats of the main floor with many late comers taking balcony seats with parents, other relatives and friends.

On the platform, the master of ceremonies Past Comdr. Nathan Thumim was flanked with Chairman Ralph Bonnell and members Morris Kerr and Phillip Wadsworth of the Board of Selectmen, Chairman Donald Heath of the Winchester Veterans Advisory Committee, High School Principal Wade L. Grindle and Thomas McKee, Commander of the V. F. W., together with the guest speakers, Col. A. C. Agan, AAF, and Past National Commander Daniel Doherty of the American Legion.

The program opened with the National Anthem, sung by Mrs. Mary O'Donnell, who later sang two groups of numbers to the accompaniment of Mr. Chet Taylor.

Mr. Jimmy Burke led "community singing" with which the vets gave evidence of much practice in recent months. A professional accordionist "Corrado" also accompanied some of the singing and played some tricky and well received solos during the program.

M. C. "Nate" was in good form and kept the audience smiling broadly with his introductions, sallies and other remarks in a humorous vein. Chairman Bonnell responded to the first introduction with a greeting to those whom he and his predecessors had sent away to camp with a word of "God-speed" when they left for military service. On the serious side he urged the veterans to take an active part in town affairs and keep it the sort of place they thought of while they were away.

Principal Wade Grindle, who was spoken of as a war "retread" by serving in both conflicts and who rose to the rank of Colonel in World War II was greeted with heart-warming applause. But refrained from speech-making.

Dan Doherty, a past National Commander of the American Legion gave a very illuminating history of the Legion from its inception in Paris, France by such leaders as Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., to its present-day membership of 2,300,000, of which 55 per cent are World War II veterans. He gave striking figures of the Legion's 1946 budget exceeding $4,000,000 of which the principal items are for Veteran Rehabilitation, Child Welfare and activities to counter-act Juvenile Delinquency. He concluded with a repetition of Chairman Bonnell's plea to the veterans to assume their rightful place in the management of town, State and National affairs, to keep our Nation as well as our local governments on a high plane.

The final speaker was Col. Arthur Agan of the Army Personnel Services Division, who had flown up from his Washington Headquarters solely for this affair. He called attention to the many general officers who have been assigned to veterans affairs and who were determined to see to it that the veterans received their fair consideration in re-employment, disability benefits and care of the bereaved. He also voiced a plea for participation in legislation and international co-operation, concluding his address with the offer to talk personally with any veteran who wished to discuss with him any personal service-connected problem and also assured his audience that any letter addressed to him on subjects concerning the veterans rights and privileges would be answered within two days from its receipt. At the conclusion of his address, and after the meeting adjourned Col. Agan was surrounded by former servicemen who took quick advantage of his offer.

When this reporter left the hall well after the meeting concluded and the refreshments consumed, Col. Agan was still busy taking notes and graciously listening to the individual problems of those from his audience.

The "chow line" extended around the "small" hall, with chicken salad and other sandwiches in abundance together with plenty of coffee for all present.

All in all it wasn't a fast-stepping vaudeville show the Legionnaires gave the returned vets, but it was a sincere effort to say "welcome" both to home and Post No. 97.

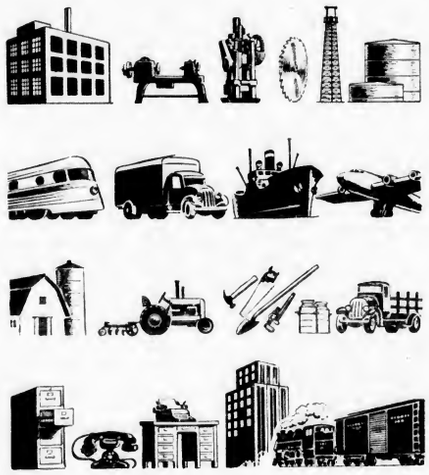
AMERICA'S PRODUCTIVE ASSETS

Without these tools, the American worker could produce no more than the American Indian did 300 years ago, i.e., barely enough to exist.



$175 Billion worth of TOOLS

Created by the Thrift and Self-Denial of:

6 Million Elderly, Retired Workers;

13 Million Women, many unable to work;

16 Million Farmers and "Small Business" and Professional Men;

41 Million Life Insurance owners;

45 Million Savings Bank Depositors;

8 Million Owners of corporate securities;

Some own more than one form of savings invested in tools of production. Not counting duplications there are:

50 MILLION THRIFTY TOOL OWNERS

Whose self-denial made possible the Tools that are the very foundation of our national strength and material welfare.

PRINCIPLES FOR ACTION

WHEREAS,—Tools of production are the very foundation of America's strength and material welfare; and

WHEREAS,—without these tools, workers could produce barely enough to exist; and

WHEREAS,—these tools come into being, are renewed and added to only through the thrift and self-denial of some fifty million individuals; and

WHEREAS,—the fundamental human right of bargaining belongs to the tool OWNERS (who provide the mechanical energy of production) quite as much as it belongs to the tool USERS (who provide the human energy of production); and

WHEREAS,—it has for many years been the persistent policy of government to violate this right and to discriminate against these fifty million unorganized tool owners in order to attract the political support of the leaders of organized tool users; and

WHEREAS,—this government policy has undermined the fundamental human right of the tool owners to receive payments for the use and renewal of the tools, has discouraged additions to the tools, and has obstructed the growth of production to the detriment of all; therefore

Be It Resolved

1. That the fifty million tool owners organize for the purpose of regaining equality before the law, reasserting their fundamental human right to enjoy the fruits of their labor and self-denial, and re-establishing their position as the primary source of the workers' productivity and prosperity; and
2. that for the attainment of these objectives, the organized tool-owners engage in such action as is appropriate to the protection and advancement of their interests; and
3. that such action be applied to all political parties alike and that the fundamental soundness and fairness of the tool owners' position be impressed upon all candidates regardless of their political affiliations; and
4. that such action is in the primary interest of the nation, of the people in general and of the workers in particular.

A CALL TO ACTION

for "TODAY'S FORGOTTEN MAN" in Strikes, Shortages and Inflation

TO FIFTY MILLION THRIFTY AMERICAN TOOL OWNERS

"There is some one more powerful than any one--- and that is EVERY one." Let us act together through our own TOOL OWNERS UNION.

On December 16, 1945, over radio station WCOP Boston, I made a forecast. It was that the wave of strikes, violence and shortages of goods would lead to the formation of a Tool Owners Union to restore the balance. Listeners to that broadcast obtained and themselves distributed over five thousand copies. The magazine VITAL SPEECHES printed it in full. A Member of Congress introduced it on the floor of the House and it was reprinted in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD. And I found myself deluged with letters, telegrams and telephone calls to do something about it.

Hence, on January 17 and again on January 31, 1946, I ran full-page articles in the Lexington, (Mass.) MINUTE-MAN to ask my fellow townsmen for the benefit of their judgment. The response was instantaneous and overwhelmingly in favor of forming a Tool Owners Union for action. Thoughtful and determined readers obtained thousands of reprints of these articles; sent them to their friends all over the country. As a result I was almost buried in a flow of coupons and letters calling for action by Today's "Forgotten Man" . . . the thrifty people who see their life savings, their prosperity and their futures endangered by unbridled and irresponsible leaders of minority pressure groups.

This simple idea—a union of Tool Owners . . . assumed national proportions in less than a month. It became time to take action.

Let Us Know This:

The life's savings of we 50 million thrifty Americans, directly through ownership of corporate securities or private firms and farms, and indirectly through ownership of life insurance, savings accounts, trust funds and annuities, are invested in the means of production — the land, the buildings, and machinery used by business. These things are the tools of production. And the real owners of these tools are we 50 million Americans who through our labor and self-denial have accumulated the savings that have made them possible.

Now — there is just no way whereby to arbitrarily seize our tools or to commandeer the competitive earnings therefrom without substituting confiscation for cooperation and dictatorial compulsion for democratic incentive.

Now Hear This:

Without our tools, the American worker would produce no more than the American Indian did 300 years ago, i. e., barely enough to exist. Without our tools the American victory in two world wars against aggressors would have been impossible. AND without steady replacement of worn-out tools and the addition of new tools, as well as their efficient use, there can be no increase in production and real earnings for anyone.

From where is the money coming to replace old tools and to add new ones?

There Is Only ONE Source !

There is just one source — the savings of some 50 million thrifty Americans. We thrifty people, we tool-owners, accumulate savings from our work and our business earnings. What are erroneously called "business profits" are nothing more than payments to us for the use of our production tools.

Unless we thrifty people are safeguarded in our right to bargain freely for legitimate, competitive payments for the use of our tools, we are just not going to have the incentive to put our savings into replacing worn-out tools and adding new ones. Already the productive assets of this country are $10 billion less than they were in 1930! The situation is now so serious as to jeopardize the job security and pay, and the hope of future advancement for millions of working Americans and veterans.

A Call to Action:

It is time to act with vison. It is time to guide the President and the Congress in a progressive NEW fiscal and labor policy. We must have tools; we must replace worn-out tools; we must add new tools continuously.

The one way to get them is to preserve the American way of INCENTIVE for venture-investment—the freedom to bargain for competitive payments for use of tools, safeguarded against excessive taxation, monetary manipulation and confiscation at the hands of any one. And the way to restore INCENTIVE is for us 50 million thrifty tool owners to unite and speak out together for our families and our country.

We out-number any minority pressure group. United, there is before us an unprecedented opportunity for the highest type of public service. As we restore the incentive for venture-investment in new tools, we automatically convert excess LIQUID purchasing power into FIXED productive investment. Thus we take the inflationary pressure off prices.

With increased fixed investment in new tools, we also promote the enlarged production that will relieve shortages and provide jobs for our veterans and our high school and college graduates (nearly a million every year);
With increased fixed investment we can meet the challenge of any foreign nation that attempts to exceed us in productive capacity—the very bulwark of national peace and security.
With increased fixed investment in new tools, we can generate the high-level production and national income that will wipe out the excuse for inflationary Federal financing.

A NEW WAY to Get Action:

If you have long thought that "something must be done" here is your opportunity to join with other patriotic Americans who are going to see that something IS done.

TOOL OWNERS UNION is a non-stock, non-profit, and non-partisan organization of progressive men and women who still believe in this country's traditions and in the democratic INCENTIVE way of progress.

Every American citizen who owns productive property or savings or investments is eligible to membership regardless of race, creed, color, sex or union affiliation. The sole exceptions are officers and employees of organizations hostile to our purposes, and elected or appointed Federal and state officials. This is a union of private citizens only who want their freedom, security and incentive way of life preserved—and intend to be heard in Washington about it.

What You Can Do:

Enroll now as a member in any of the five membership classes suitable to your means and determination to set this country right again.
Pass these membership applications on to relatives, friends and business associates—enlist them as members;
Order five, ten or 100 reprints of this advertisement and send them to stockholders, partners, suppliers and customers of your business, members of your college class and trade association. (Reprints 25 for $1; $2.50 for 100, postpaid.) Act now, for there is some one more powerful than any one and that is every one when we act through our own union.

Ameica's future, your future and mine, will be exactly what we together make it. Here is the long-needed, organized way to make it what we want it to be.

CARNIVAL

Rain did not dampen the enthusiasm of the many children who attended the carnival at 156 Forest street Saturday afternoon from 1 to 5 p. m. The proceeds of the carnival amounting to $44.61 were given to Mr. Crawford for the benefit of the Winchester Hospital. The organizers of the carnival were Carol Damon, Mary Anne Damon, David Burke and Richard Carroll.

There was always a long line of boys and girls waiting to get into the playhouse where Carol Brown of Bronxville, N. Y., formerly of Winchester, was telling fortunes. The general store, run by Judy Higgins, was an attractively decorated booth and was very popular. In the next booth Joan Barrett had charge of the milk bottle game. Cynthia Moses managed the ever popular grab barrel which was soon sold out. The chance and change table was run by Richard Carroll and Martha Whiting. The chances were a baseball bat for the boys, won by Martha Whiting, who enjoys a good game of baseball, and a knitted dolls outfit, won by Jennifer Perry.

Helen Barrett ran the ring toss game and Gloria Mucera had charge of the beanbag in the mouth game.

Under an oilcloth canopy David Burke conducted a crow hunt. Movies were shown in the garage at 2:30 and 3 o'clock.

The refreshments consisting of hot dogs, pop corn, candy and cold drinks went all too quickly. The hand organ run by Carol Damon was well attended and furnished a lively musical spirit. The pony rides were probably the most popular of all the attractions. "Blinky" the pony, came from Martin's Riding School in West Medford.

The prizes were very attractive due to the three weeks work put into their preparation by the organizers.

It was a poor day but a wonderful time was had by all.

NO TIME LIMIT IN FIGHTING CANCER

"Massachusetts will continue collecting funds for Cancer" stated the State Chairman, Arthur T. Lyman in a message received yesterday by Donald Heath, heading the local drive to raise funds for cancer control in this area. "Due to the country-wide educational program carried on by the American Cancer Society during the month of April, the people of this state have realized as never before, the needs that exist for state facilities for cancer care and early diagnosis of this dread disease. Headquarters throughout the Commonwealth have been receiving donations from countless individuals who want to help in this great cause even though they havent been directly approached for contributions. The work of collecting this money will continue just as long as people wish to give for the purpose of finally conquering Cancer."

Chairman Donald Heath pointed out that contributions may be sent to Mr. Donald J. Lewis, Treasurer, Winchester Trust Company, Winchester Mass.

YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU

A comedy by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, presented by the Parish Players at the First Congregational Church last week Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings under the direction of John N. Hall, with the following cast:

Penelope Sycamore	Marian T. Blake
Essie	Louise G. Kelly
Rheba	Katherine H. Morse
Paul Sycamore	Dana J. Kelly
Mr. DePinna	George E. Connor
Ed	Robert O'Brien
Donald	Robert P. Blake
Martin Vanderhof	F. Milne Blanchard
Alice	Claire Smalley
Henderson	Herbert T. Wadsworth
Tony Kirby	Edmund Fredrich
Boris Kolenkhov	John N. Hall
Gay Wellington	Dorothy M. Wills
Mr. Kirby	J. Waldo Bond
Mrs. Kirby	Ruth M. Smith
Two Men
	Eugene M. Pollard, A. Thomas Scott
Olga	Lenore T. Gamage

The players closed their 20th anniversary season with this revival of "You Can't Take It With You" and they certainly bowed out in a blaze of glory, their performance being better, if we can trust our memory, than when they first did the play in '38. The current production was better cast and we so state in spite of nostalgic memories of Sam Graves, Janet Dairymple and Oscar Crowers. This year's cast was strong where the other was weak, while matching the strength of its predecessor.

Of course the inimitable Milne Blanchard played Martin Vanderhof on both occasions, and it would take a sorry collection in the remaining roles to prevent "Doc" from putting over the show with his top-flight performance of the eccentric, humorous and whimsical "Gramp". With what a master touch he portrays this lovable little old man who gets such a kick out of life that he hadn't taken bicarbonate of soda for 35 years. Of all the Blanchard successes on the "Little Theatre" stage, none can equal his "Grampie," just right from first to last, and achieving a real triumph in the final blessing, a scene among scenes in "Little Theatre" history.

Every one is familiar with the plot of this laughable play, dealing with the love of Alice Sycamore for Tony Kirby, which nearly comes a cropper when Tony's socialite parents are locked up with the entire Sycamore menage for being found on the premises when some illegally manufactured fireworks blow up while two FBI agents are in the house to arrest the Sycamore's son-in-law for plotting to overthrow the government.

Mr. Hall's direction of the play was splendid, the tempo being perfect, the acting spirited, stage business good, and the lines well pointed. He too added much to the audience's pleasure with his own finished performance of Kolenkhov, Russian refugee trying to teach Essie Sycamore to dance. The set and properties were in keeping with the Players usual high standards, while the lighting, and especially the sound effects, were excellent.

Of the large cast, besides Dr. Blanchard, only Mr. Bond, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Gamage and Dr. Pollard appeared in the '38 production. Of these only Mr. Bond played the same role. His current handling of the dyspeptic financier, Mr. Kirby, had a lot of little character refinements not so apparent before. Mrs. Smith made Mrs. Kirby a sufficiently petulant figure and Mrs. Gamage was well cast as the refugee countess, Olga, aspiring to a job at Schrafft's Dr. Pollard handled his bit part competently.

Dr. Blanchard received strong support from Mrs. Blake, by any yardstick, an outstanding "Penny," from Miss Smalley as Alice, from Mr. Friedrich as her lover, Tony, and from Mr. Connor as the ice-man, Mr. DePinna. Miss Smalley contributed a very pleasing portrayal of the harassed Sycamore daughter, convincingly expressing her varying emotions as she wavered between love for Tony and affection for the eccentric members of her household.

Mrs. Wills did a nice bit as the drunken actress, Mr. Blake was very funny as the reliefer, Donald, and Mr. O'Brien was a refreshingly innocuous Ed. Mrs. Kelly's lissomness and breath-control were things to marvel at and Mrs. Morse did well with Rheba, the colored maid-of-all work. Mr. Kelly was quite all right as the futile Paul Sycamore and Mr. Wadsworth brought the proper pompousness and despair to the bewildered income tax agent. Mr. Scott also added his bit to the success of the whole.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Cook have sold their home at 3 Greeley road to Mr. Alex Clark, and are leaving town to make their home in Arlington.

During the social hour Mrs. Wills was assisted by Mrs. Walter Campbell, Mrs. Frank Ebens, Mrs. Ralph Gustin, Miss Margaret Newman, Mrs. William Purdy, Mrs. Benjamin Small and Mrs. Charles York. Mrs. Frank Rowe and Mrs. Malcolm Bennett poured at the coffee table.

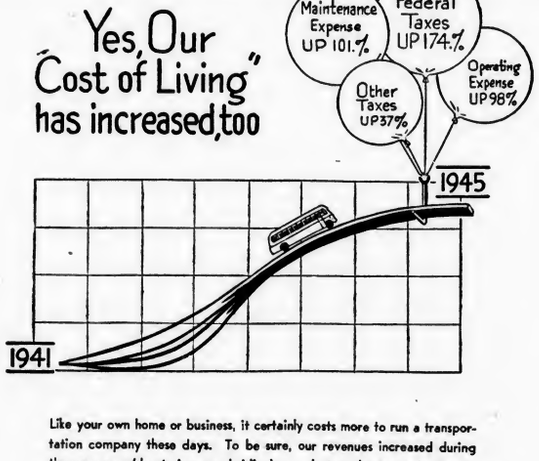
Yes, Our "Cost of Living" has increased, too



Like your own home or business, it certainly costs more to run a transportation company these days. To be sure, our revenues increased during the war years (due to increased riding) . . . but nowhere near in proportion to the amounts paid out for operation and maintenance. Our 1945 gasoline bill, for instance, was 130% higher than 1941's. Our tire bill was 70% greater. We had 536 more employees; wages and bonuses paid were nearly doubled in total. Yet with all this, your rides on our system cost you no more (except for Federal taxes on fares over 35 cents). We're still furnishing a pre-war dollar's worth of transportation for your post-war dollar.

It is reported that the Park Department men are going to do some work around the Shore road athletic field to put it in more useable condition. The Nelson street gate of the fence is to be left open so that children of the district can play there during the summer. This is surely a step in the right direction, but many will continue to wonder why the fence is left around the field at all when there is such a need for a fence at Manchester Field this fall.

WINCHESTER TREASURE CHEST COMMITTEE

The Winchester Treasure Chest Committee has just been notified by its parent organization in Boston that the Boston Treasure Chest has changed its name to "Our World United Through Books, Inc." Though this name, the motto of the organization, has far greater significance than „Treasure Chest", the Winchester committee has decided to keep the old name for the present as it is under this designation that the joint Girl Scout-Boy Scout Concert to be held on May 17th has been launched.

This project, the first of its kind in Winchester to be carried on by Boy and Girl Scouts together and, as far as we know, unique in the annals of scouting, is a manifestation of the typical Scout spirit, an important feature of the laws of both branches of the world wide movement, "To Help Others at All Times". This year the emphasis for Girl Scouting has been "Citizenship throughout the World" and this sending of outstanding books to lands so long starved for good reading matter, making the children realize that they are remembered by their more fortunate sisters and brothers, is the embodiment of that spirit.

May 17th, the date chosen for the Concert, is the anniversary of the great Independence Day of Norway, the country selected as recipient of the Winchester chests

ENGLISH CLERGYMAN AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

The internationally known scholar, theologian, and author, Rev. Herbert H. Farmer, D. D., professor at Westminster College, Cambridge, England, will be the guest preacher at the 11 a. m. service at the Winchester Unitarian Church, Sunday, May 12.

Dr. Farmer's principal purpose in coming to this country was to deliver the Lyman Beecher Lectures on Preaching at Yale. He has been in great demand and has addressed many large gatherings in various parts of the country.

He was the preacher at King's Chapel, Boston, on May 5 and delivered the sermon there on Thursday evening, May 9, at the interdenominational service sponsored by the Unitarian Christian Committee. Dr. Farmer is one of the great spiritual leaders of England. He will bring an inspiring and timely message in his sermon entitled "Doubt and Faith."

A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to hear his message.

GIVE TO CONQUER CANCER

In order that the citizens of Winchester may be informed of the progress in the present effort to raise funds for the Massachusetts Division of the American Cancer Society, the chairman of the Winchester Committee reports that as of May 8 $2,146.00 has been contributed. This amount has been received from 166 contributors. There are, no doubt, many more who desire to give and they are urged to send in their check to Donald J. Lewis, Treasurer of the Winchester Trust Company, as soon as possible.

All solicitations have been made by mail and there will be no house canvassing.

The present amount raised is a good indication of the interest our citizens are taking to assist the medical profession in the control of cancer. Scientific research is costly but imperative. We must not forget the vital fact that cancer, in some form, strikes one person in eight. Cancer can be conquered.

EN KA STREET FAIR

Gigantic Midway

The big attraction at En Ka Street Fair. Remember what fun you used to have trying to hit milk bottles, ring canes, and smash tea-cups? Well, this year with the war behind us, En Ka members hope you'll enter into a spirit of frivolity. Join the throngs that are planning to make merry at a revived and modern midway.

Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin and Mrs. Richard A. Harlow, plus a huge committee have worked incessantly to have a mammoth midway that will cater to old and young. Many new games of skill and chance will make their debut.

Not one Ferris Wheel, but two, if you please, will be in operation from morning until midnight. In charge of the Ferris Wheels, is Mrs. Robert S. Clark, no novice on the "great white way".

Once again the Merry-go-round will delight the children. All day and night the horses will prance while the "music goes round and round." Mrs. Harold B. Richmond will capably supervise this attraction.

For the tiny tots, the Kiddie Automobile Ride will appeal. Why not let your kiddie play host or hostess to his or her friends, by taking them all for a joy-ride. This Kiddie-Ride will be under the direction of Mrs. Robert H. Smith.

Among the games that will intrigue folks of all ages is the merchandise wheel. Mrs. Edward E. Kuypers will be at the helm. The Add-A-Ball game with Mrs. Theodore Von Rosenvinge, right there on hand Mrs. Maxwell McCreery will manage the Ping Pong game and help you to part with your money. Mrs. C. S. Luitweiler, Jr., will have charge of the ever popular base-ball game, Hoopla; with Mrs Robert R. Dickey in charge to see you whoop it up properly, while Mrs. Donald F. Connors will supervise that old favorite, the Dart game.

The prizes the Chairmen have chosen are somethiog to brag about. Added to the fun of playing the game, will be a wonderful prize, if you win. A few of the prizes worth honorable mention are Razors, Smoking Stands, and Poker Chips to make Dad happy. For Mum there are Can-openers, Coffee-makers, Perfume sets, Salad sets, Salts and Peppers, Baking sets, Card Tables, Tile sets, Cigarette Lighters, and Ash tray sets for the whole family. For the children there are dolls, Jackstones, Yo-Yos and Rabbits. Many other prizes too numerous to mention will be given away to those who are skillful.

The husbands of the above mentioned ladies have all been drafted to help "bark" and aid in the running of the games.

Don't miss the mid-way and do not let us miss you on May 18th. That's a date.

Delicatessen

Mrs. Edwin W. Zimmerman with Mrs. Francis Millett as Co-Chairman will manage the Delicatessen. Due to the many shortages, this committee has been unable to serve many of the old time favorits. However, you'll be pleasantly surprised to hear about the delectable menu they have worked so hard to prepare. There will be no cake, cookies, potato salad, cole slaw, baked beans and fish cakes for sale. Since the amount of these items is limited, it would be wise to secure your "goodies" early in the day.

Silhouettes

The Master Craftsman, Mrs. Lillian G. Clarke, will be on hand with her scissors to fashion a likeness of you and yours, that will surprise and delight you. Don't fail to purchase a silhouette of your "pride and joy."

Just a pair of tiny scissors
With some paper black as ink.
And you pose two minutes
When before you've time to think,
Miss Clarke has got your likeness,
And you'll be surprised to see
How well you look in black and white,
She's clever, you'll agree.

Ice Cream

What carnival is a carnival without ice-cream? Yes, we will have it, and Mrs. Lucius Smith will be on hand to serve it to you.

CHINESE TEA BENEFITTED CHURCH GROUP

Mrs. Arthur Fay opened her home on Fells road Wednesday afternoon for a Chinese tea which she and Mrs. Roger M. Burgoyne gave for the benefit of the "K. O. K. O. Group" of the Women's Society for Christian Service of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. Chinese decorations made a most attractive setting for the affair and there were on display many interesting Oriental art objects donated from Winchester homes.

Pourers for the tea, both in beautiful Mandarin coats, were Mrs. Arthur Hall and Mrs. Raymond Bancroft. Hostesses, who were also in Chinese costumes, were Mrs. Howard Bowie, Mrs. William Maxwell, Mrs. Lewis Curtis, Mrs. Frank Herrick, Mrs. Lewis Moore, Mrs. Ernest Seller and Mrs. William Seaton.

Mrs. Gladys Wooley of Medford gave a most interesting and informative talk on China.

BEGGS & COBB CLOSING

Beggs and Cobb will start this week closing its big factory on Main and Swanton streets owing to the coal strike it is reported. Work in process will be finished, but lack of coal and hides will stop new products going through theh factory.

TRAIN SERVICE CURTAILED

Coal Strike Cuts Winchester's Rail Service

Suspension of the Aloucte in both directions between Boston, Nashua, Manchester, Concord, Laconia, Plymouth, Woodsville, and Montreal is one of the more important suspensions in train service affecting New Hampshire which will take place commencing this Friday as a result of the coal strike it was announced this week by the Boston & Maine Railroad.

The suspensions ordered by the ODT necessitate a 25 per cent cut in the operation of coal-burning locomotives effective today, an official of the Boston & Maine said, and a cut to 50 per cent of the present use of steam locomotives has been ordered for May 15 unless the situation is relieved, he said.

So far as Winchester service is affected, the Sunday trains will be hit the hardest. Most Sunday trains are discontinued, but the 6 p. m. train from Boston will be retained, as well as the 11:15 a. m. train to Boston.

Among the local trains discontinued are the two early morning trains that from Wilmington, arriving at 6 a. m., and the Woburn train arriving at 6:49 a. m. Likewise the trains leaving Winchester at 6:28 a. m. and 6:58 a. m. for Woburn and Stoneham will not be run. To make up for the difference in elimination, a through train will make a local step at Winchester at 9:13 a. m.

Winchester commuters using regular trains should inquire at the station regarding their continuance, since the present cut in schedules is only temporary and will be further altered in accordance with the progress of the strike.

VETERAN HOUSING WEEK

House to House Survey On Sunday, May 19

At the Town Meeting in March a new committee was appointed, the Winchester Committee on Housing Of Veterans, to bring in recommendations at the Special Town Meeting, early this summer. The Committee has gone to work. Recognizing that the premise from which to start is to establish the demand and need, locally, for veteran housing, a letter and an information form is being addressed to each, known returned veteran. Equally as important to the committee, for discussion and recommendations, is to learn what farther housing, can be obtained here, under the Legislative Act of 1946 and Federal help. To learn this complete story, first hand, volunteer veterans in our service organizations, American Legion Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Veteran Committee, are to make a house to house survey on Sunday, May 19. A questionnaire will be used and all information pertinent to this problem will be written down and carefully studied by this committee. "Veteran Housing Week", beginning with the Sunday survey, should receive the co-operation of every citizen in giving information, facts and figures, freely, in an effort to let this committee recommend to the Town Meeting a workable and practical solution to this serious situation of housing shortage.

The Committee is indebted to the Winchester War Veterans Advisory Committee for preparing and circulating the Veteran's letter. These will be returned to Mr. Donald Heath, chairman and he has asked for prompt replies.

Remember, "Veterans Housing Week"—be ready to receive this caller and do your part in holding our new young families in their own home town.

ROTARY NOTES

Col. Alexander Standish, retired, of the Army Intelligence, and a much decorated veteran of both world wars, was the weekly guest speaker at the Thursday noon meeting of the Rotary Club. The World Federation as the only workable means of insuring world peace was the subject of his discussion, and he spoke convincingly of the need for action by all of the citizens of the country at the present time. He also urged the Club members to take steps so that the vital question of a World Federation would appear on the ballot at the fall elections.

Visiting Rotarians from the Boston, Wakefield, Woburn and Stoneham Clubs were present at the meeting, as well as several guests of our own members, and they were all loud in their praise of the special rendition of "Alouette" by "Punch" Brindle.

"Glen" Browning joined the select circle of 4-time winners of the Victory Bond when "Parker" Holbrook drew his number from the box. It is rumored that "Glen" and "Parker" have bit upon a winning system, and if this is true, it certainly is a highly successful one.

NEW PLAN FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Town Engineer Parker Holbrook has worked out a plan to provide adequate space in which to enlarge the present junior high school and have room for playgrounds and an athletic plant in the event the town decides to turn the junior high building into a senior high school.

His plan, which has been quite favorably received by the town committee studying the school situation, as well as by the Selectmen and Planning Board, calls for relocating the Aberjona River and Parkway at the rear of the present junior high building to the westerly side of Manchester Field, so that the river will run straight through the field about 25 feet to the east of the present road leading to Cutting Field. The new Parkway location will be besides the river just easterly, as in the present layout.

In the new plan the river will be relocated at the point where it emerges from under the Cutting road bridge and will straight down to a point to the west of the footbridge at the southerly end of the field. Placing the Parkway beside it will straighten the road-way and will enable the town to take into the school grounds a great part of Manchester Field, an area in excess of 12 acres will thereby be made available for the enlargement of the school building and the laying out of playgrounds and an athletic plant. The old river bed will be filled and the old Parkway layout from Winterfield road to a point between Cutting street and Mystic avenue, dug up graded and grassed. Manchester road and Cutting street will be swung sharply south and westerly to meet the new Parkway layout at this point.

The new river and Parkway location will not interfere with the State trunk line sewers running through Manchester Field, and the State is not expected to raise any objection to the Parkway layout. Unofficially, State officials have looked with favor on the scheme, believing the new Parkway layout from a traffic viewpoint preferable to the old winding course of the street.

While exact figures are not as yet available Mr. Holbrook believes the new layout can be made for $40,000.00 or perhaps less.

John Nicholas Zamanakos of 41 Chester street, one of the proprietors of the Vernon Shoe Clinic on Thompson street, died Saturday evening, May 4, at the Shaw Hospital in Lowell. He was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage about 6 o'clock while at his place of business and was taken in the Police Ambulance to the Winchester Hospital by Officers William Haggerty and Thomas Hannon, assisted by Officer A. T. O'Connell. No bed was available at the locnl hospital so the Police took him home, after which he was taken to the Shaw Hospital in Lowell where he died soon after he was admitted.

Mr. Zamanakos was a native of Macedonia, Greece. He was 59 years old and had been in this country since he was 18, coming to Winchester 19 years ago from Lowell. He had always been in the shoe repairing business and had been identified with the Vernon Shoe clinic since it started here, being well known to its patrons.

Mr. Zamanakos was a veteran of World War I, having served in the United States Infantry. He was a member of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, and of the Legion Post in Lowell. Always interested in the Legion's work with young people, he was an active worker at the Post's Kiddies' entertainment and sports on July 4.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Jennie Zamanakos; a son, Nicholas John; three daughters, Andromeke, Myrna and Fay; and a sister, Mrs. George Letsou of Lowell.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Trinity Church in Lowell. Burial was in that city.

Thirty-five years ago she came to this country and in 1918 she came with her family to Winchester, residing here since that time. Although chiefly devoted to her family and the management of her home, she still enjoyed a large circle of friends, by whom she was genuinely beloved. She was a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist in Winchester.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Windle leaves a daughter, Mrs. Harold J. Power of Washington, D. C.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Kelly and Hawes Chapel by Mr. Prescott W. Batson, formerly first reader of the First Church of Christ Scientist here. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

MRS. HARRIET ELIZABETH HENDERSON

Mrs. Harriet Elizabeth (Harter) Henderson of 208 Ridge street, widow of Francis R. Henderson, for many years a carriage manufacturer in Cambridge, died Monday, May 6, at the Winchester Hospital.

Native of Bath, Me., Mrs. Henderson had lived in Winchester for the past 10 years, previously living for many years in Cambridge where her husband was a member of the Henderson family, widely known as old line manufacturers of fine carriages. After moving to Winchester, Mr. Henderson bought a number of museum-piece carriages to this town and several of them were burned in a bad fire that destroyed the picturesque stone storage house on his Ridge street farm.

While in Cambridge Mrs. Henderson was active in the social and religious life of the city. She was a member of the Progressive Club of Cambridge, of the Cornerstone Baptist Church of that city, treasurer of the State Federation of Women's Church Societies, past treasurer of the Cambridge W. C. T. U., a member of the Cantabrigia Club and past treasurer of the Women's Relief Corps of Brighton. She was also a member of Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League.

MYSTIC MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The dessert bridge given by the Mystic mothers in the assembly hall on Tuesday afternoon was a complete success both socially and financially.

The hall was most festive with window decorations and paper table covers painted by Mrs. Samoiloff, many plants of ageratum later used as bridge prizes in each window, and the stage gay with apple blossoms and a gorgeous spring bouquet.

About 120 were served with dessert and coffee by new mothers in the school this year. It was pleasant to see several former Mystic mothers who have graduated, return for this spring party.

Mrs. Albert Swazey, the president of the chapter, greeted the guests and introduced Mrs. Herbert Ross, general chairman. Mrs. Ross expressed her thanks to all the committees for their wholehearted co-operation and invited some one of the guests who had no connection with the school to come forward and draw for the prize of nylons. When this was done Mrs. James Bowdren of Grove street was discovered to be the winner.

After this, cards were played for the remainder of the afternoon.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the chapter will be held on May 24 following a demonstration by the band.

BETTER HOMES GARDEN CLUB

Members of the Winchester Better Homes Garden Club gathered at the Public Library on Thursday, May 2 for a trip to see daffoNils on the estate of Mr. John M. Russell in Dedham.

Ten o'clock in the morning was chosen as the time when the flowers could be seen at their best. About 60 members made the trip by automobile, and greatly enjoyed the opportunity for seeing hundreds of daffodils planted as if growing wild in fields and woodlands. The vista, as one approached from the road, of stone wall, blossoming apple trees, and drifts of yellow and white narcissus, was something long to be remembered. The collection included a large sampling of varieties, many of which were labeled. Some of these blooms were to be exhibited at the daffodil show put on by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society on May 6.

SMITH COLLEGE PLANT SALE

The Winchester Smith College Club will hold its fifth annual plant sale at Central green on Saturday, May 25 from 10 to 5. In the last four years the club has raised over $1200 in this way, part of the money going to its war projects and part to its Scholarship Fund.

By purchasing hundreds of small flats of seedlings and dozens of perennials the plant sale committee can buy the best stock at wholesale prices and sell at the prevailing retail prices. This year we are offering over 30 varieties of annuals, a good collection of perennials, and such favorite potted plants as geraniums, fuchsias, heliotropes and tuberous begonias. The line of vegetables has been reduced, but our customers will find the same satisfactory tomatoes and sweet peppers as usual.

This year the Smith Club is trying a new venture, rustic Memorial Day baskets filled with flowering plants of harmonizing colors. The baskets will come in two sizes and in three different color combinations. Samples will be on exhibition at the Knit Shop, 33 Thompson street and at the plant sale. We cannot quote prices at this time, but our charge will not exceed the commercial prices. We are making only a limited number this first year, so it would be advisable to place your order in advance, either with Mrs. Richard Parkhurst, 30 Grove street or with the Knit Shop.

Due to the critical food situation a simplified luncheon will be served—sandwiches, hot dogs (if possible), coffee and ice cream. Come and bring your friends for a sandwich on the Green from noon to 2 o'clock.

STONEHAM, 8; WINCHESTER, 7.

Winchester lost a tough game in the Middlesex League series to Stoneham, 8-7, Tuesday afternoon on Manchester Field, after going into the 8th with a 4-1 lead.

Up to that point Winchester's freshman righthander, "Buff" Flynn, had been pitching great ball, and it was by no means his fault that the visitors put over their six big tallies in the 8th.

The single run Stoneham had starting the 8th was unearned. Davarich walked to start the 3rd and was sacrificed to second by Proodian. Winton rapped to Blanchard and was safe when Patterson muffed Dean's throw. Davarich reaching third, Coletta hoisted to Bellino fairly deep and Davarich just beat Sammy's throw which was a bit off the dish. Tibaudo tossed out MacDonald.

Reese hit for Proodian to start the Stoneham 8th and fanned. Winton rapped to Tibaudo, who came up with the ball but caught the spikes of one shoe on the sole of the other, losing his balance and being unable to make the throw to first.

That was as Mr. Bellino aptly put it "the crucial play". Instead of two out and no one on there was a man at first and only one away. Coletta hit to left, segding Winton to third and sneaking down to second himself on the throw to head off Winton. Flynn, working a bit too hard, hit MacDonald to fill the sacks.

The slim, freshman was really bearing down at this point and one of his "hard ones," a bit high to Leyman, glanced off Filler's glove, for a passed ball, letting Winton tally. Leyman fanned, but Corkum walked on a three and two count with one ball looking mighty good.

The bases were loaded and when Flynn walked Gelineau he forced in Coletta, making the count 4-3. With both ends of the Winchester battery ignoring him, MacDonald took a big lead and stole home, sliding under Filler with the tying run.

Dewhurst then hit a three and two cripple past Nolan and made the circuit aided by some sloppy throwing. Davarich ended it by lining to Flynn.

Tibaudo started Winchester's 8th by walking. Cogan hit a Texas leaguer that Winton lost in short right. Blanchard got his third hit of the game, a clean drive to center, Tibaudo scoring and Cogan reaching third.

Blanchard sneaked down to second on the throw-in. Patterson fanned but Filler drove out a fly to Reese, bringing in Cogan and again letting Blanchard advance on the throw-in. Flynn worked Corkum for a pass and he and Blanchard worked the double-steal, Dean scoring easily to tie the count. Bellino fanned to end the rally.

With one out in Stoneham's 9th Winton walked. Coletta hit to center advancing the runner. With Winton almost at third on a steal Filler rainbowed the ball into left field and the winning run was in. MacDonald skied to Nolan and Leyman fanned.

Olivier hit safely in Winchester's half, but Tibaudo hoisted to Coletta and Cogan fanned.

An error, stolen base and Tibaudo's hit scored Bellino in the first. Nolan's double, Olivier's single, a fielder's choice, Cogan's triple and Blanchard's hit gave Winchester three in the 3rd, the locals' missing another when Nolan tried to score on Tibaudo's sharp hopper to Coletta. He was out a city block when he could have scored a moment later on Cogan's well hit triple. No one was out at the time and "Twiggy" should have held up. The locals lost another run in the 7th when Bellino didn't slide coming in on a double steal. As it was Dewhurst didn't get the ball on him in time, if he got it on him at all. The summary:

BASEBALL SATURDAY

BELMONT 18, WINCHESTER, 7

Scoring eight runs in the first inning, Belmont High went on to win its Middlesex League baseball game from Winchester High at Belmont last Friday afternoon, 18-7.

Coach Knowlton sent big Don Armstrong after the game and the Belmonts took to his soft stuff like a duck to water. Before Robbie Flynn could get sufficiently warmed up to get in there six runs were over, the bases were jammed and one was out.

Flynn uncorked a wild pitch which let in another tally and still another counted while Olivier was throwing out Buckley. Tibaudo threw out Wettlaufer to end the frame.

It was one of those days when Winchester could not seem to get anyone out, and although the locals themselves made enough runs to win many a game Belmont made so many more it wasn't funny. The summary:

MELROSE TRACKSTERS WON

Melrose High brought its track and field forces to Manchester Field last Friday afternoon and won a dual meet from Winchester High, 42-26.

The locals didn't win a single running event, even their crack half-miler, Tom Kirwan, going down to defeat at the hands of Charles of Melrose in 2 minutes 7 seconds. Thomas can not be at his best to be getting licked in that time.

Big Johnny West got the shot out better than 41 feet to win this event for Winchester, Reid won the high jump at 5 feet and Don McFarlane jumped 17 feet 10 inches to cop the broad jump. The summary:

220-yard dash Won by White (M), 2, Walker (M), 3, Harrington (M). Time 24.9s.

880-yard run Won by Charles (M), 2 Kirwan (W), 3, Margeson (M). Time 2.07.

Shot Put Won by West (W), 2, Murphy (M), 3, Whittemore (W). Distance 41 feet, 5.5 inches.

100-yard dash Won by White (M), 2, Flynn (W), 3, Dillingham (W). Time—11 seconds.

High Jump Won by Reed (W), tie for second between White (M) and Holesworth (W). Height 5 feet.

Broad Jump Won by MacFarlane (W), 2, Eldridge (M), 3, Marshall (M). Distance 17 feet, 10 inches.

440-yard run Won by Fonda (M), 2, Jenness (M), 3, Coe (W). Time—66s.

175-yard relay Won by Melrose (Harrington, Walker, Fonda, White).

Charles Meek and Charles Allen were delegates from Winchester Lodge, 1445, to the Massachusetts State Elks' Convention held last Saturday and Sunday at the New Ocean House in Swampscott.

LENTINE TUFTS LINE COACH

Andy Lentine, former Winchester High School football captain and one of the local school's great all time centers, was named Tuesday by A. D. Clarence P. Houston to be line coach at Tufts College next fall.. Andy is married and living in Medford so his new job will be handy to home.

As a matter of fact Andy will stay where he spent much of his time during World War II. During the war he served as a chief specialist in the Navy and was assigned to Tufts where he assisted in the Navy health program and did some football coaching.

Lentine captained Winchester High School's 1933 Middlesex League championship football team, playing such a bang-up center that he was chosen all league pivot man for that year as he had been the two seasons previous.

From Winchester he went to University of New Hampshire where he captained the freshman team. From Durham he transferred to Boston College where he played three years of varsity ball under "Gloomy Gil" Dobie, gaining experience at center, guard and tackle.

After graduation Andy assisted George Lauer at Winchester High for a season and then joined his former high school coach, Wendell Mansfield, at Bates, serving as line coach there under "Mannie" and later at Springfield when Mansfield returned there as head coach.

From Springfield Andy went into the Navy, and now he returns to the football wars as line coach under Tufts new head coach, "Fish" Ellis. Andy knows his line play and has been very popular with players wherever he has coached. Winchester football fans will figure Tufts has made a smart move in signing "ol' Tentine" to coach the Jumbo linemen come fall.

ROBERT McKEE HEADS WINCHESTER VETERANS

In the Star's account of the Legion G. I. Social Night last week it was incorrectly stated that the Commander of Alberjona Post, V. F. W., is Tom McKee. Tom's brother, Robert, is the Commander, and is at present busy with plans for the Post's Poppy Day to be held on Friday and Saturday, May 24 and 25.

Twelve new members were added to the Post at an installation ceremony held last Friday evening in the headquarters at the Town Hall. Wilfred Hartling, District Commander and Past Commander of Arlington Post, was the installing officer.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB'S OPENING PARTY MAY 25

The Winchester Boat Club's first affair of the season is scheduled for Saturday evening, May 25th at the Club and has all the earmarks of a really swell affair. The chief aim of these initial parties is to get together so that members can renew old acquaintances and new members can meet the gang. For this reason, the entertainment committee has elected to hold a "Boat Racing" night, somewhat along the lines of other "sports nights" that have always proved so successful in excitement, enjoyment and camaraderie.

There will be at least ten big races with wonderful prizes for the lucky winners. "Sid" Burr will be the official starter and "Russ" Hamlet will judge the finishers. Every race will be a thriller with laughs and fun galore. Admission price of 50 cents includes free refreshments.

The "racing" committee under the direction of "Bob" Dalzell includes Mr. and Mrs. Martin Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Strawbridge, Mr. and Mrs. James Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Burleigh, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Burr, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Litchfield, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Ober, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. James Snow.

HOBBY CENTER

The Astronomy Club met for their regular meeting at the Library at 7:30 Wednesday night. After the meeting they observed Jupiter, Saturn and the Moon through a three inch telescope at the home of John Pushee of Harrison street. The group had a most interesting evening.

Miss Alice Hall of the Winchester business office of the Telephone Company is in Bermuda on a vacation.

WINCHESTER BOYS WON TENNIS MATCH FROM NEWTON

Winchester High School boys' tennis team served notice that it is among the good clubs hereabouts by beating Newton High at Newton last Friday afternoon, 7-2. Newton has long been considered tops in schoolboy tennis in greater Boston.

Rosander and Halstead playing number 1 and 2 respectively did not give their Newton opponents a set, though each had a duece set in his win. It took so long to play the singles matches that the last two doubles matches had to be decided in single sets, each team winning one. The summary:

Singles

Rosander, (W) defeated Rich 7-5, 6-1.
Halstead (W) defeated Randle, 6-3, 8-6.
Parker (N) defeated S. Caldwell, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.
A. Caldwell (W) defeated Dudley, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2.
Hill (W) defeated Gross, 6-0, 6-1.
Watson (W) defeated Ver Plank, 6-1, 6-2.

Doubles

Rosander and Halstead (W) defeated Rich and Randle, 6-1, 6-2.
Hill and S. Caldwell (W) defeated Dudley and Gross, 6-2. Only one set played due to lack of time.
Fisher and Ver Plank (N) defeated E. Caldwell and Watson 6-3. Only one set played due to lack of time.

TIME CHANGES ALL

To the Editor of the Star:

Back in 1925, when the people of Concord, N. H., had to choose a site for a new high school, the only one available was on the outskirts of the city. Today, I am informed by their Superintendent of Schools, 90 per cent of the students coming from the city proper, not transported by bus, live east of that high school, while only 10 per cent live west of the school. I hope the Town of Winchester will not run the risk of having to put up with a similar situation, by failing to purchase the Ginn Estate while it can be had at a favorable price.

LOST OPPORTUNITY

To the Editor of the Star:

If I had only known that our traveling rube, Ezra, was in Washington during my visit there I might have been able to make arrangements for him to address the Senate. They badly need some new ideas and at least he could have tried to entertain them. For his information I might state that the opposition to our Representative, Edith Nourse Rogers, has withdrawn from the contest so he still will have to be under petticoat government. In my opinion, she is doing a good job representing us in Congress.

Ezra's letter has the earmarks of a recent correspondent's style. Now, Mr. Editor, I think that your readers would appreciate more constructive information by an author willing to stand by his communication by signing his name to it.

On my recent trip I called at the residences of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and James Munroe. Unfortunately they had all ~~gone~~ out and I was unable to ~~see~~ them.

Respectfully,
Ed Sanderson

ARE WE?

Does anyone know exactly how large the debt of the United States is? I doubt it.

Does anyone know exactly what are the government's liabilities? I doubt it.

Does anyone know or has anyone an idea how or when those debts and liabilities are to be met; and does anyone know what all this can mean to the individual citizen? I doubt it.

There is little use in trying to understand a billion - to say nothing of three or four hundred billions. Obligations beyond the actual debt may be simply staggering. Several years ago this Column put out an article entitled, "Result of Theories." (Same can be secured by writing this paper).

Should you believe that anyone knows, write to your Congressman, asking him the amount of the direct, total debt of the United States, the amount and nature of its indirect liabilities; and what they plan to add to these in the next 12 months. Then ask him to explain how these are to be paid. Ask, for instance, where Social Security Tax money is, War Bond Damage Insurance money - even Automobile Stamp Tax money - and you can ask hundreds of other questions of your own.

Why not put Congressmen on piece-work; a salary increase of $1,000.00 for each billion saved; a salary reduction if they do not save.

Constructive criticism: Taxpayers to hire a competent, outside firm of public accountants to audit the United States Government and report in a simple manner directly to the people. (This is a silly suggestion for it could not be done - NOBODY wants it; but we may wish that we did.) We are hiring someone else to spend our own money - not simply income taxes, but the billions of dollars in indirect taxes about which we know little.

Total taxes are the largest single item in the cost of living.

"The power to tax is the power to destroy."

BOSTON & MAINE AIDS CLEAN TOWN

The Boston & Maine Railroad has taken steps to help Winchester maintain its previous reputation as a clean place to live. During the past fortnight a big gang of men, aided by a work train, has been busy cleaning the sides of the roadbed and sifting out the sand and dirt between the tracks. Owing to the fact that many heavy trains stop at the Winchester station, necessitating the use of sand in both stopping and starting, the roadbed here receives an extra accumulation of dirt. By lifting and sifting the rock ballast, this has now been taken out and away, and dust from the swiftly passing trains will be practically eliminated. The railroad has always done its part to keep Winchester a clean town.

A NOTICE TO COUNCIL MEMBERS

"The Housing for Veterans Week" beginning with a House-To-House Survey, Sunday, May 19 by volunteer veterans at the suggestion of the Winchester Committee on Housing of Veterans, is particularly brought to the attention of the members of the Winchester Women's Organization Council.

Will the respective organizations executive boards inform the membership of the housing needs of our own veterans and their families and the drastic measures this committee must consider in bringing into the Special Town Meeting, in June a sure and acceptable solution of our own veterans needs? These families are not settling here! Winchester cannot afford to lose them! Right and immediate action is being asked and should be taken.

Be ready for the questionnaire on Sunday, May 19. This is a duty of every citizen and this appointed committee will appreciate every helpful suggestion which will lead to an acceptable recommendation for a housing program to bring home our own service men and their families.

Mrs. Ralph Sexton,

SCOUTS GETTING GOOD INSTRUMENTAL TRAINING

To the Editor of the Star:

It is refreshing to learn of the splendid progress now being made in the advancement of band music in town.

Great credit is due the parents of both Boy and Girl Scouts for their efforts to provide competent instructors in this worthwhile project, and I know that I voice the opinions of many others.

Rare judgment was shown in the selection of Mr. Everett L. Wescott as instructor in Scout band work. He is one of the best men available for the musical instruction of either adults or children, and few musicians can equal his training and experience.

I have played in many top-ranking bands and orchestras of which Mr. Wescott was a member, and I am pleased to volunteer this tribute to his character, skill and capacity in professional music. He has always been sought by the great conductors such as Sousa, Victor Herbert, Ives, Thomas, Phinney and a host of other stars.

I hope he may long continue to teach in Winchester, and I regret that he is not on our regular school staff.

Sincerely,
T. Parker Clarke

A BRASS PLATE

A short time ago the Star received a letter from Mr H. Wendell Childs of Dallas, Texas, inquiring about a brass plate which had come into his possession inscribed "H. N. Wheeler, Winchester, Mass." The Editor of the Star asked among some of the old-timers for information regarding the gentleman, but no one appeared to remember or know anything about him.

This week the following letter from Mr. Childs, together with the brass plate, was received:

3716 Bowser Avenue
Dallas 4, Texas
April 30, 1946

Editor of the Star:

I enclose herewith the plate with the "Story". I was looking in a pawnbrokers window when I saw this plate and he told me when they wrecked a building there, he bought a lot of "junk" and that this plate came off of something. He thought it might have been a part of an elevator or machinery.

This was something over 40 years ago. This building was the Crowdus Drug Wholesale House. When the building was wrecked, the Building firm with whom I was connected, built the new building.

The company has long since gone out of business.

My interest in the plate is- I was a Waltham boy and worked for Henry Ross at Newtonville- came to Dallas 48 years ago when it had 45,000 people (400,000 now). The plate and I have been a long way from home many years.

If you should run a story and ever found out about the PLATE I would like to hear about it.

Yours truly,
R. Wendell Childs

P. S. You keep the plate.

The brass plate is now on view in the Star Office window, and according to our contemporary "Mack" it probably belonged to Harry N. Wheeler who used to live years ago in Rangely. What the plate was used for, and how it finally wound up in Dallas, Texas, is not known.

AMERICAN VETERAN'S COMMITTEE

Mr. John P. Spaulding of 379 Main street was elected State Secretary of the American Veterans Committee at the State Convention held in the Aurora Hotel, Worcester, Mass., on Sunday, May 5th. Mr. Spaulding was largely responsible for the origination of the Winchester Chapter of the A. V. C., and has also been active in affairs of the State Council.

At the same elections, Mr. Lester Gustin of 247 Washington street, who is Chairman of the Winchester Chapter of the A. V. C., was elected to the State Planning Board. Mr. Gustin has been active in the local Chapter since its inception and has accomplished many things in connection with the organization of the Chapter.

One of the main problems being discussed by the local Chapter at the present time is the need for Veteran's Housing in Winchester. A Committee under the leadership of James Coon, Jr., of Brooks st., has done a great deal of research along this line. At present all such activities concerning housing are being coordinated by a Town Committee, which has been organized for the sole purpose of determining the need for housing and what type of housing should be erected.

Following is the Statement of Intentions of The American Veterans Committee:

"We look forward to becoming civilians; making a decent living, raising a family, and living in freedom from the threat of another war. But that was what most Americans wanted from the last war. They found that military victory does not automatically bring peace, jobs or freedom. To guarantee our interests, which are those of our country, we must work for what we want.

Therefore, we are associating ourselves with American men and women, regardless of race, creed or color, who are serving with or have been honorably discharged from our armed forces, merchant marine, or allied forces. When we are demobilized it will be up to all of us to decide what action can best further our aims.

These will include:

Adequate financial, medical, vocational and educational assistance for every veteran.

A job for every veteran, under a system of private enterprise in which business, labor, agriculture and government work together to provide full employment and full production for the nation.

Thorough social and economic security.

Free speech, press, worship, assembly, and ballot.

Disarmament of Germany and Japan and the elimination of the power of their militarist classes.

Active participation of the United States in the United Nations organization to stop any threat or aggression and to promote social and economic measures which will remove the causes of war.

Establishment of an international veterans council for the furtherance of world peace and justice among the peoples of all nations."

The next meeting of the local Chapter of the AVC will be held Wednesday evening, May 15 at 7:45 p. m. in the Lincoln School Auditorium. Aside from the regular business session, the agenda includes discussion of local and national problems. All Winchester veterans are invited to attend this meeting.

BRAVES SIGN PROVINZANO

Pete Provinzano, recently released by the Red Sox farm team at Scranton, Pa., has signed a Boston National League contract and is now the property of the Braves farm club at Hartford.

Pete has been optioned by Hartford to Pawtucket and is now working with that team. He pitched three six inning scoreless stretches for Scranton in training camp, allowing nine hits, which is surely not too dusty for training camp hurling. The Sox decided that six feet three inch, 195 pound, Mike Palm, Belmont right hander, was a better prospect than Pete. Those who saw the two in their duel for the Middlesex League championship before the war will hardly applaud this judgment.

Finger Paint and Water Colors at Wilson, the Stationers, Star Building.

Newly organized to provide for the welfare and give information to veterans on GI legislation, the Filene's Veterans' Association of over 150 veterans of World Wars I and II hopes to swell their welfare fund with a dance Thursday, May 23 in the Hotel Bradford Main Ballroom with Ruby Newman's Orchestra playing the music from 8 to 1 a. m. This week the Veterans began their campaign to acquaint their friends with their purpose, by honoring leading members, representing both World Wars, with the first two memberships in the organization. Forrest R. Cook, who earned his Silver Star and French Croix de Guerre in action near Verdun in World War I is honored as outstanding veteran of that war and received the second membership.

Mr. Cook is the manager of the Filene's Portland Store and a former manager of Filene's in Winchester and Wellesley. He was a sergeant in the first World War with General Edward's 26th or "Yankee" Division. He is a member of the American Legion Post 57, Yankee, Division club and Kiwanis Club of Portland.

All members of the organization are eagerly preparing to play host to their friends in and outside the store in their first effort, the dance at the Bradford, Thursday, May 23, and look forward to the event as the first Filene dance in ten years.

THE WINCHESTER DOG TRAINING CLUB

To the casual observer, last Tuesday night's dog class was extremely interesting, even to the point of being amusing Mr. Roger Haven and Mrs. Warren Shoemaker discovered that Dalmatians have the peculiar habit of crawling along the floor on their stomachs when they should be lying down in one place. The Haven's Molly was extremely interested in everything that was going on, and her inquisitive nose and wagging tail kept the on-lookers in gales of laughter.

The Winchester Dog Training Club's dog of the week: One of the dogs which has caused a great deal of comment during the last few weeks is King, a large 18 month's old German Shepherd owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Kunkle of South Groveland. King had never been to a training class until five weeks ago. His immediate reaction, upon seeing the other dogs, was to lunge against his leash and try to fight with the nearest dog. King's aggressive nature continued every week, while Mr. Kunkle was working hard to instill the meaning of obedience in him. Last Tuesday King showed the first inclination towards obeying Mr. Kunkle's commands, and instead of rushing at the dog nearest him, King stayed at his master's side in the proper heeling position. Only once that night did King raise his voice against a fellow canine. The Kunkle's hard work plus King's natural mental capacity has started them at last towards real obedience work.

The dogs did their first real group work last Tuesday evening. Group work helps to acquaint the dogs, and get them used to being near each other without showing dislike to one another. Several of the newcomers have produced remarkable results in the short time that they have been working, and they are to be highly commended.

Next week's class will be divided into an advanced and beginner's group. Many of the dogs have progressed to such an extent that this must be done, both for the benefit of the advanced dogs and the beginners.

HOME FROM SOUTHERN TRIP

Telephone Wire Chief Charles A. Farrar and Mrs. Farrar of Myrtle st., returned to town last Sunday from an extended trip through the south, covering 4,662 miles and visiting 14 states.

While in Florida they met Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy (Alice Brine) of this town and while leaving Luray Caverns in Luray, Va., they got a fleeting glimpse of Water Commissioner "Ed" Sanderson and Mrs. Sanderson. Being something of a fast worker, "Ed" was gone in a cloud of dust before Charlie could "speak to him."

About Bank Auto Loans

People ask, "Why is it to my advantage to finance my car with a Bank Auto Loan?" Here is how our plan works; don't you agree it's the best way?

You pick your car, find out the trade-in allowance you get from your dealer and the amount of cash you will need for the balance. Then simply add the cost of having your present car insurance policy changed to cover your new car, (or getting new insurance) and arrange a low-cost loan with us for the total amount.

To see if you will save money (and we believe you will) compare the cost of other financing plans with a similar transaction here. And remember that with a Bank Auto Loan it is a local transaction all the way through. Figure it out for yourself — then decide.

FALLEN ANGELS

I don't know how newspapers got into the world, and I don't think God does, for He never mentioned them in the Bible. Maybe the editor was one of the Fallen Angels, for he seems to fall for about anything that people tell him. If the editor makes a mistake folks say he ought to be hung; if a lawyer makes a mistake he appeals the case; when a doctor makes a mistake they say nothing 'cause they don't know Latin, and they couldn't read his writing if they did. An editor makes a mistake, there's lots of hollering, cussing, and a libel suit, while when the doctor makes one there's a funeral, with flowers and crying and perfect silence. A doctor can use a word a mile long, and it doesn't make any difference if he knows what it means for folks will think he's educated, while an editor has to be able to spell any word he uses. If a doctor goes to see another man's wife he charges for the visit, while if the editor goes he gets shot. People that call the doctor and get well think he's a great man. If they don't get well they're dead and can't say anything. Two-thirds of the folks in town are sore at the editor all the time, either because the paper said something about them they don't like or said something nice about somebody else.

CELEBRATING BILLAUER'S 25TH ANNIVERSARY

On May 7th, 1921 this store was opened to the public and it is with great PRIDE that we can look back over the quarter century span and appreciate the many hundreds of friends we have made and we are happy that our efforts to please the public have not been in vain.

Owing to the scarcity of certain merchandise, it is difficult to conduct an Anniversary Sale on a large scale.

However, we have selected a number of Gift Items suitable for all occasions and you will find these very attractively reduced in price for this anniversary.

Appreciation

We are grateful to our many patrons who have so patiently borne with us during the war years when it was difficult to give them the desired service, and we assure all that we shall try our utmost to make up for this inconvenience in the near future, as we have been fortunate to procure the services of several good Watch Makers in order to help us give you better service.

It is especially gratifying to be able to celebrate this 25th Anniversary at this time when so many of our boys and girls are coming out of the service to join their families after having performed their faithful duties to this country. It is our fervent prayer that these boys and girls may never again be separated from their families in order to fight another war, and that this peace be permanent.

DR. CHIDLEY'S ANNUAL FISHERMAN'S SERMON

First Congregational Church, Sunday at 10:45 A. M.

At the First Congregational Church next Sunday Dr. Chidley will preach his annual fisherman's sermon. His subject this year will be "Spring Song."

Although no organization sponsors these Fisherman's Sundays since the death of Charles A. Lane, so many people have enjoyed them, whether they are fishermen or not, that Dr. Chidley has continued them on account of their popularity.

The green gods are calling again this year to people to get into the out-of-doors, and Dr. Chidley's sermon will take them away from the haunts of men in imagination, at least.

CRAWFORD CHURCH TO SPONSOR FOOD BARRELS

The Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, co-operating with the campaign to assist in feeding starving Europe, is sponsoring the idea of food barrels in which can be placed canned fruit and vegetables to be sent abroad.

Two barrels are to be placed in the vestibule of the church on this Sunday, Mothers' Day for the convenience of parishioners and it is expected that each member of a family will want to bring a can of vegetables or fruit to place in them to help relieve the suffering in Europe.

Other barrels are to be placed in grocery stores in Winchester for the convenience of the general public and to build up a large supply of canned goods.

Members of the church committee in charge of the campaign are Mrs. Norman C. Hitchcock, Mrs. Frank W. Marshall, Mrs. Andrew Morrow, Mrs. Arthur C. Fay, Mr. Edward Hitchcock, Mr. Melvin Galucia.

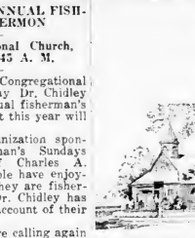
Church Services

SUNDAY MAY 12, 1946



FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Sunday services at 11 a. m.

Wednesday testimonial meeting, 8 p. m. Reading Room, 5 Winchester terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sunday and holidays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and in all of its branches, on Sunday, May 12, is "Adam and Fallen Man."

The Golden Text, "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." is from 1 Corinthians (15:22). Other Bible citations include: "For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace" (Romans 8:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We must destroy the false belief that life and intelligence are in matter, and plant ourselves upon what is pure and perfect. Paul said, 'Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh.' Sooner or later we shall learn that the fetters of man's finite capacity are forged by the illusion that he lives in body instead of in God, in matter instead of in Spirit" (p. 222).

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

Mr. Charles H. Watkins, new Art Association President, opened the final meeting of the season last Tuesday evening and introduced the speaker, Mr. Russell Smith, head of the Boston Museum School. Mr. Smith talked informally about the modern approach and methods in the Museum School, comparing it favorably with the conservative manner of years past. He referred occasionally to the pictures in the current exhibition, pointing out some of the new ideas and techniques modern artists are using.

After a brief question period, Mr. Smith closed by showing a few slides of both modern and very old art, showing, as he said, that "there is but a fine line between modern and old art. What is good is good, and what is bad is not art."

Mrs. Margaret Brown formerly with the Grace Horne Gallery, was among the guests present. Mrs. Brown has her own gallery on Newbury street where she exhibits the work of the contemporary modern artists. She arranged the present exhibition of "Moderns" for the Winchester Art Association.

After the meeting, Mrs. Roger Burgoyne, Chairman of the Hospitality Committee, and her committee served ice cream and cookies to the members and their guests. The exhibition will be in the Gallery until June.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL SQUARE DANCE PARTY

A five piece orchestra with its announcer who is the well known Mr. Haines, the conductor of the popular Country Dance parties held at the Wayside Inn at Sudbury, will both furnish the appropriate music as well as explain the dances.

Notices telling about this have already gone out to the parents of the Junior High School boys and girls, but any further information concerning this party may be had by calling either of the co-chairmen, Mrs. Lawrence Hawkins and Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl.

STARTING today as a new feature in this paper, we are going to meet every week, and I hope we will become very good friends. I'm going to try to bring you interesting information about needlework of all kinds—knitting, sewing and crochet. We'll have designs for the home-maker and for her home, for the 'teen age girl and her little brother and sister. We hope to have things that will be of interest and use to every member of the family—even Dad, around Christmas time. And after a while, if you are waiting for some special kind of design that we haven't given, write to me in care of your local paper and tell me about it. Because we want this column to belong to you, and to give you the things that you especially want.

For the first design, we decided to give you something that is badly needed. Even though the war is over, shortages of children's clothes still affect little Jimmie's and Susie's wardrobes. And because of the shortages of yard goods, too, we'll just have to continue to make-over and made-do, for the time being. When we make over clothes we don't want them to look sad and depressed, though. We want them to have an air, to be just about the cutest things anyone could imagine. And that's what we have for you today.

You will notice in the picture that the sweet little girl and the irrepressible little boy have on mighty cute looking outfits. The interesting thing is that the pajamas were made from two discarded shirts, and the dress from one. The pajamas may be made of matching or contrasting shirts. The dress may be made from a plain white or striped shirt; or if a solid color is used, dip it in a dye bath to freshen the colors, and do the smocking with bright embroidery thread to contrast. Many other items of children's clothing can be made from discarded shirts—girls' blouses and jumpers, boys' shirts and shorts, rompers, underwear. To give you suggestions and pattern layouts for these garments, we have a free leaflet for you called LITTLE CUT-UPS. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, asking for Leaflet No. S19-14.

MUST WINCHESTER VETERANS LEAVE TOWN?

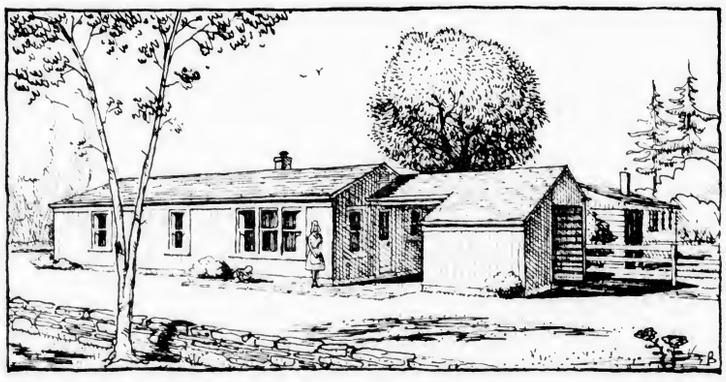
The Wyatt Housing Program, recognizing a national emergency, has released essential building materials for veterans' housing throughout the nation. Does this help the Winchester veteran? Not here. Only when Winchester, as an individual community, accepts its responsibility to assist the veteran will this program have any meaning for him. Winchester citizens must give their wholehearted support to every effort made by the local Committee on Veterans' Housing.

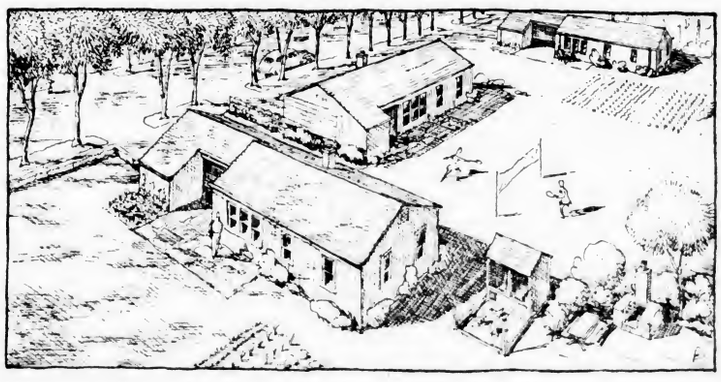
WILL WINCHESTER GIVE ITS VETERANS A CHANCE?

The American Veterans Committee, Winchester Chapter, believes that Winchester citizens want to help their veterans to stay in Winchester; AVC believes that Winchester citizens, knowing that adequate housing for veterans is possible, will make every effort to provide for it AS SOON AS POSSIBLE. AVC has made a preliminary study of the housing needs of Winchester veterans. It recognizes the existence of many real obstacles to adequate housing—and many not so real—and it suggests the following solutions:

OBSTACLES	SOLUTIONS
The opinion frequently expressed that there is no demand for veterans' housing in Winchester.	The initial survey indicates that six out of every ten Winchester veterans are improperly housed.
The contention that Winchester veterans are financially unable to reside in Winchester, unable to meet high rents, building costs, and taxes.	Communities which want to keep their veterans are seeing to it that housing facilities within the financial means of veterans are made available.
The opinion that no town land is available for either permanent or temporary housing.	The Town of Winchester contains numerous properties which could be developed for housing such as is outlined below. Purchase of sufficent of these properties by the town for such a project would be an effective step toward a solution.
Zoning laws which prevent conversion of single residences into apartments; zoning laws which forbid maximum use of available land because of minimum lot requirements.	The preliminary survey shows that numerous home-owners are willing to build apartments in their homes. Town action on zoning laws will allow full use of available space and land.
Widespread objection to temporary, prefabricated housing in Winchester.	AVC recommends pre-fabricated housing only if all other suggestions fail to answer the Winchester veterans' needs.

Upon a suggestion made in March, the housing committee of AVC made a study of various tracts of land either owned by the town or available for purchase. The typical project described below is believed by this committee to be ideally suited to any of these locations. The units are attractive and permanent.





These houses contain three bedrooms, bath, kitchen, dinette, living room, storage room, and garage. Each has individual radiant heat. Each would be built on a plot of land 75x100 feet. The maximum cost for each house would be $6000, and each would conform in every way with Winchester building codes.

WINCHESTER MUST DO ITS PART

FIRE AT MITCHELL HOME

Monday morning at 6:13 the Central Fire Station was notified by phone of a fire at the home of Mr. C. E. Mitchell, 4 Summit avenue. Box 261 was put on at the station and the men found upon arrival that an oil burner in the basement had gone afire, setting fire to a cellar partition. The damage done was reported as slight.

The Fire Department had only one alarm over the week-end. That came in Friday night for a grass fire at Main and Fleming way streets.

M. C. W. G. CELEBRATES 30TH ANNIVERSARY

The members of the Winchester Branch of the Mass. Catholic Women's Guild attended the Pontifical Mass, celebrated by his Excellency Archbishop Richard J. Cushing at the Cathedral in Boston last Sunday, the occasion being the 30th anniversary of the Mass. Catholic Women's Guild.

After the Mass, dinner was served at the Copley Plaza Hotel to the members of 32 Guilds at which his Excellency Archbishop Cushing was present together with all the Spiritual Directors of the individual Guilds, other visiting clergy, and Gov. Maurice J. Tobin.

After dinner all the members attended solemn benediction at St. Clements' Shrine.

It was a memorable and most enjoyable day for all.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT CLUB SPRING DANCE

The Wednesday Night Club of the First Congregational Church closed a very successful season last Friday evening when a record group of old and new members and friends gathered in Parish Hall for the informal spring dance. This party was in celebration of the club's 10th anniversary. Ken Reeves orchestra furnished the music.

The parish hall was very artistically decorated carrying out the feeling of spring, with Maypoles, the ribbons of which were held in place by baskets of pansies. Apple blossoms were arranged in all the windows and on either side of a large spotlighted 10th anniversary plaque on the stage. The desserts served before the dance were placed on beautifully decorated tables on either side of the fireplace. Coffee was served at each end of the tables by past officers of the club and members of the hospitality committee.

A feature of the fun was the grand march gaily led by Dr. and Mrs. Howard J. Chidley and followed by past officers and their husbands and wives who fell in line according to the year they had served.

Before the dance 18 hosts and hostesses entertained in their homes with dutch treat supper parties. Those having parties were:

Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Pellard
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wheeler
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Connolly
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lochran
Mr. and Mrs. Richard K. Caldwell
Rev. and Mrs. John F. Robertson
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnston
Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Kelley
Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Lewis
Dr. and Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crede
Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Bentley
Mr. and Mrs. Kezar Nichols
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Worthen
Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Emerson
Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hood
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson

Mrs. William D. Barone was chairman of the hostesses and Mrs. Frank Connolly chairman of desserts served in the coffee room.

The decorating committee chairmen were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crede, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Coe, Mr. and Mrs. David Thoms, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Young, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Goss and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Carter.

During intermission a short business meeting was held when the president, Mr. Lawrence Palmer called upon Mr. Franklin McDermott to give a report of the nominating committee. Chairman Mc-Dermott presented the slate of Mr. George H. Gowdy for president; Mrs. Richard K. Caldwell for vice president; Mrs. Paul E. Nason for secretary and Mr. James H. Coon, Jr. for treasurer. These nominees were unanimously elected for the 1946-47 season.

President Palmer made a short speech thanking this year's officers—Mrs. Frank Connolly, vice president; Mrs. Frank D. Hawkins, secretary; and Mr. James H. Robertson, treasurer as well as all club members for their loyal support and co-operation this year. He then wished the new officers a very happy and successful season in 1946-47.

EARTHQUAKES

The Alaskan center of the submarine earthquake which caused towering waves to crash on shores around the northeastern Pacific Ocean is on the northernmost rim of the earth's main belt of quakes, notes the National Geographic Society.

This belt, well defined after several decades of charting the earth's seismic disturbances, follows the Pacific coast northward from Cape Horn along the American continents, runs westward along the Aleutian Islands chain and southwestward through Japan, where it is most constantly active.

From Japan it follows the Chinese coast and the Philippines to the Netherlands Indies, where it arcs southeastward through New Guinea and the Solomons to New Zealand, bending back along Australia.

Second Belt in Asia

A second belt of frequent seismic activity branches from the Netherlands Indies, runs northwestward through Burma, then along the Himalayas and westward to the Black Sea and the Mediterranean. A third belt, of comparatively little activity, runs under the middle of the Atlantic Ocean.

These are regions of the earth's high mountains, under the sea as well as above it. Since nearly three-fourths of the globe is covered by oceans, to an average depth of two miles, undersea quakes are common.

The ocean surface rises or falls in a mass with its quaking floor, so that ship passengers far out at sea rarely notice even severe undersea quakes unless they are directly above them. In that case the few quivers they feel may suggest that the ship has scraped bottom, even though the ocean be a mile or more deep. The raised or lowered water mass does not cause a "tidal" wave until it approaches shallow water.

Old Kingston, Jamaica, was destroyed in separate qukes of 1692 and 1907, providing a graphic example of earthquakes at sea level. In 1929 a drop in the ocean floor off New Foundland caused 12 trans-Atlantic cables to pull apart. Ships in the area felt only slight trembles, but waves piled up to 50-foot heights in crashing the Newfoundland shore.

Peru-Chile Frontier Hit

Waves caused by undersea quakes have frequently ravaged coasts of the eastern Mediterranean. But they are perhaps most frequent in the region of the Peru-Chile junction of the South American coast, where ports are battered and the start of earth tremors is a signal for residents to take to the hills. A strong ebb tide precedes each big wave, and the wave oscillations last for hours or even days.

In 1868, the heaviest recorded undersea quake of this region created a wave that lifted a United States vessel and deposited it gently on shore nearly half a mile inland.

Major islands of the Aleutians, where the latest wave-making quake centered, are at the eastern end of the 1000-mile chain, close to the Alaska mainland. Unimak, site of the Scotch Cap lighthouse which was engulfed by a wave, is largest of the chain. It holds Mt. Shishaldin, a 9400-foot volcano. Near-by Unalaska is important because of the United States naval base at Dutch Harbor.

Only 50 miles west of Unalaska is fantastic Bogoslof, island tip of a volcano which broke through the Bering Sea in 1796 and grew for 27 years to become 2500 feet high. Wave erosion wore it down until 1883, when a new Bogoslof appeared several hundred yards away. Today, old and new summits are joined by a shoal.

The Aleutians are rocky, sparsely settled, often fog-shrouded and gale-torn—a challenge to navigating skill.

17-YEAR LOCUST

It's the periodic cicada to the scientist, but the garden variety of American still regards it as the 17-year locust. This pop-eyed, greenish-bodied bug with gauzy wings has a quadruple distinction. It is peculiar to the United States, it lives most of its life underground, its life span is probably the longest in the insect world, and it has one of the most complex musical intruments in all nature.

Appearing in early summer in eastern gardens and woodlands, the periodic cicada follows a definite and changeless life pattern, says the National Geographic Society. It begins in a tree, continues for 13 to 17 years underground, and ends in a tree.

Eggs are placed in double rows by the female in openings made in twigs or branches with her sawlike ovipositor. The eggs hatch in a few weeks, the grubs push out of their woody nests, and tumble to the ground. Then begins the long, solitary subterranean life. Each grub digs an earthen home near a sap-filled root, and rarely changes abode unless the food source fails.

Where the ground is damp grubs have been known to build clay cones 2 to 6 inches high above their burrows, possibly as a safety measure against drowning. Another explanation of these cities of tiny huts, some sprawling over acres of ground, is that the building cicada came to the surface ahead of its schedule and built a cone as a room in which to wait for nature's exit cue.

When instinct warns the cicada that it has served its time in the earth, it emerges and climbs the nearest tree. There it casts off its old garments, expands its wings, and changes color, all in a few hours. Males make a shrill, attention-getting sound by vibrating membranes tightly stretched over two abdominal cavities. Volume is regulated by movable sounding boards. "Happy", said Xenarchus, an ancient Greek, "are cicadas lives, for they all have silent wives." Digestive organs of the male are simple, but are well developed in the female.

Mature cicadas live only a few weeks, the female dying after her 400 to 600 eggs are laid. The full-grown insects eat little compared to the food intake of their grub years. Chief damage done by the cicada is caused by the female—the wounding of young trees in the preparation of the egg nests. From four to twenty nests have been found in a single twig; 50 nests in a line have been cut in a single limb. The ragged slits cause twigs and branches to break, and leave unsightly scars. Young orchards, especially, suffer.

Sluggish and unwary, slow to take wing, the cicada is an easy prey for its enemies on the ground and in the air. Digger wasps, domestic fowls, and hogs are alert foes. Predatory insects feed upon the eggs. In the vicinity of towns cicadas are attacked by English sparrows. The clearing of woodlands, and the shrinkage of old forest areas have also checked an increase in the numbers of the pests.

Each generation of periodic cicadas produces millions of individuals. Under one tree more than 22,000 exit holes were counted. Individuals are members of two great races—the 17-year and the 13-year cicadas. In general, the range of the 17-year variety extends from the New England states to Georgia, from the Atlantic Coast to Kansas and Nebraska. The 13-year cicadas appear in some of the southern reaches of the area indicated, but their typical home territory is more southerly, including Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

A Bug With Few Friends

Within these two great races are about 30 broods, each bound by the characteristic time cycle and appearing in their home areas with rhythmic regularity. Thus it happens that every year in some district of the whole periodic cicada range a brood may appear. New broods, it is believed, are formed by cicadas ahead of or behind their schedules.

WINCHESTER PREPARES FOR WAR

On Tuesday evening, May 14, at the Winchester Town Hall, promptly at 7:30 p m., Dr. Charles H. Tozier will show a collection of moving pictures, all in natural color, that were taken under the direction of Mr. Harold S. Fuller and Mr. John L. Munro. These pictures will give a fairly good idea of some of the ways that Winchester prepared to take care of itself during the trying period of our late history.

You will see tons of scrap iron being gathered on Manchester Field, the Red Cross in operation, the large number of auxiliary police, the volunteer and regular firemen in full action, the efforts of the Boy and Girl Scouts and the school children in the salvage drive, and the tanks operating on Wildwood street. The waste paper will be taken to the mills and you will be shown how your contributions were turned into various war products.

Music will be furnished by the combined Girl and Boy Scout Band of Winchester. All Girl and Boy Scouts, and school children, as well as the parents and all members of the various organizations retesented who are interested, are cordially invited to be present on this evening. There will be no collection taken and no tickets are required. Come early for a good seat.

KNOCKED FROM BIKE IN CENTER

Mary June Crosby, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Crosby of 27 Park avenue, was painfully injured late Monday afternoon in the center when she was knocked from her bicycle following a collision with the open door of a parked automobile.

According to the Police account of the accident a Pontiac sedan, owned by Marjorie L. Smith of 21 Wildwood street was parked on Main street near Thompson street in front of the Economy Grocery Company. The car was in charge of Mrs. Smith who opened the left front door to get out.

As she did so Mary rode up on her bicycle to pass the car heading south on Main street. The front wheel of the bicycle collided with the door of the automobile, throwing its rider from the machine to the street and rendering her unconscious.

Officer William E. Cassidy, assisted by bystanders, got the girl into the police cruiser and took her to the Winchester Hospital, she regaining consciousness on the way. At the hospital she was treated by Dr. Harry Mueller who ordered her held overnight for observation. She sustained a concussion and contusions about the head.

REV. FITZSIMMONS TO ADDRESS MISSION UNION

On Tuesday, May 14 at 2 o'clock, the Rev. John P. Fitzsimmons, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church in Belmont, will address the Mission Union of the First Congregational Church on the subject: "A Chaplain Looks at Missions in the Far East." Major Fitzsimmons served as supervisory Chaplain of the Flying Tiger Airforce in China, and as staff Chaplain of all American Air Forces in the China-Burma, India area. Major Fitzsimmons had an unusual opportunity to observe mission work in that area. His topic will be of unusual interest.

At the 10 o'clock meeting of the Mission Union, sewing will be done for the Fair. The board meeting will be held at noon and the luncheon at 1 o'clock with Mrs. Reveley H. B. Smith as chairman and Mrs. William H. Rodgers as co-chairman. Devotions at the afternoon meeting will be lead by Mrs. Edmund C. Filler.

AFRICAN MISSIONARY ADDRESSES YOUNG PEOPLE

For over 40 years a beloved and leading figure in all movements for the betterment of social and economic conditions among the black men and women of Johannesburg, South Africa, Mrs. Clara David Bridgman, distinguished daughter of a distinguished father will speak to the members of the Junior High Department, Sunday morning, May 12, at 9:45 a. m., in the First Congregational Church.

The widow of Rev. Frederick B. Bridgman, known as the "apostle to the African in the city", Mrs. Bridgman carried on after the death of her husband in 1925 and built the beautiful Bridgman Memorial Hospital, the first and only hospital for Bantu women in South Africa, whose native graduate nurses are now scattered throughout Africa.

Mrs. Bridgman was the leading spirit in a committee of women to found the Talitha Home for Girls, a fascinating experiment in the humanities, the first of its kind in South Africa. Prior to the opening of this home hundreds of girl delinquents, first offenders between 14 and 18 years of age, were brought before the juvenile court for minor offenses and then, since there was no other place to send them, put in the main prison along with hardened criminals. This home gives them a chance to rehabilitate themselves.

Born in Kobe, Japan, Mrs. Bridgman was educated at Oberlin College and went to Africa first in 1897.

ANNUAL MEETING AND LADIES' NIGHT

Members of the Men's Club and Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church and their wives sat down to a delicious chicken pie supper Tuesday evening at the joint annual meeting and ladies' night of both organizations held in the social hall of the church.

Following the good fellowship around the table Mr. Edgar B. Read, president of the Men's Club and Mr. John W. Cusler, president of the Men's Brotherhood, presided over their respective business meetings with reports of the year's activities.

The Men's Brotherhood Quartet, composed of Leon E. Leavitt, Leonard O. Waters, Robert W. Carlson and Elliott Ward, sang a number of stirring selections and Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the church, gave an inspiring talk on, "The Laymen's Part", which presented an inescapable challenge to all laymen to stand steadfastly for Christian teachings in these days when other forces are making such strides in overturning the fundamental principles on which this country was built and grew to greatness.

ATTEND NATIONAL CONVENTION

Mrs. Malcolm Nichols and Mrs. William Spaulding returned Sunday from Kansas City, Missouri, where they attended the National Convention of the League of Women Voters. Mrs. Nichols as first vice president of the Massachusetts League attended the Council meeting which preceded the General Session. Mrs. Spaulding was a delegate from the Winchester League.

Three hundred and forty-nine delegates from 33 states considered all parts of the League program. They considered of prime importance the problem created by Atomic energy and took action in favor of international control. No less important is the urgency of the food crisis. At present the United States is largring far behind on its promises to send food abroad. The League feels strongly that we should fulfill our commitments.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Another milestone will be passed when the Winchester League holds its annual meeting on Thursday, May 16, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ralph Sparks, 45 Calbot street. Reports of committees and departments will sum up the years work. Elections and adoption of a budget will start us on the work ahead.

Members will be pleased to hear that Mr. Lester Gustin, Winchester chairman of the American Veterans Committee will speak on the subject, "Does Winchester Have a Housing Problem?" We all want to hear the answer to that question.

Of forward looking interest on this "Stocktaking Day" will be the report on the National Convention of the League by Winchester's delegate, Mrs. William Spaulding.

Mrs. Theodore Atkinson is in charge of hospitality for the afternoon. Remember, guests are welcome.

MUSIC FESTIVAL SATURDAY

The Eastern Massachusetts Music Festival, the first affair of its kind to be held since 1941, will take place Saturday, May 11, at Needham, and will honor the veterans of World War II.

The program will commence at 8:30 a. m. and until 12:30 will include auditions by bands, orchestras, choral groups, ensembles and soloists before competent judges for ratings, the auditions being held in local churches and school buildings.

Commencing at 2 o'clock there will be a parade, led by the honor band, from Medford High School, and starting on Highland avenue at Needham Heights. At 3 o'clock there will be drilling and marching events at Memorial Field with bands participating from Medford, High, Marblehead High, Gloucester High, Saugus High, Farm and Trade School and Waltham High.

At 3:45 there will be a program of vocal music by massed choruses in front of the Needham Senior High School, and at the same spot at 4:15 there will be a massed band program, concluding with the "Star Spangled Banner."

FORMER WINCHESTER GIRL ENGAGED

There is Winchester interest in the recent announcement of the engagement of Miss June Morton, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Bates Morton of Brookline and Kennebunk Beach, Me., and Mr. Newell K. Morton of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to William Hetfield Hill, son of Mrs. Helen B. Hill of Highland Park, Ill., and Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Miss Morton, whose parents formerly lived on Foxcroft road, is a graduate of Beaver Country Day School and of the Pierce Secretarial School. Mr. Hill has recently returned from two years of active duty in the European Theatre.

BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED

The Building Commissioner has issued permits for the week ending Thursday, April 25, as follows:

Reshingle dwellings at 7 Winthrop street, 48 Cabot street, 355 Washington street, 29 Lakeview road, 10 Mystic avenue, 6 Lakeview road and 3 Bonad road.

Alterations to dwellings at 11 Leslie road and 9 Lagrange street.

Mrs. George F. Young of this town has been named to the bridge and whist committee of ladies aiding in the 51st annual convention of the State Council, Knights of Columbus to be held at the Copley Plaza on May 14.

Distributed through home rooms in the high school will be Red Cross Guides in co-operation with the President's Famine Emergency Relief Committee. The sheets provide information about saving items of food through limited shopping, regulated eating, and avoidance of waste. A check list is provided, worked up in the popular quiz form and with ratings of Fair, Good, and Excellent.

From the French classes of the Junior High School and High School 22 boxes of foodstuffs and clothing are being sent each month to the "adopted" French boys and girls. Having exhausted the resources of their own wardrobes, the French pupils are now finding it increasingly difficult to supply the monthly clothing supplies needed. Boys' clothing is especially needed.

Added enthusiasm for the project has come from a letter received by one of the "parents" this month. The prospect of further letters has provided unusual interest in this venture of good will.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following list of contagious diseases has been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending Thursday, May 2:

Dog Bite	3 cases
Scarlet Fever	3 cases
Measles	2 cases

EARLY FAIRS OF ENGLAND

England's plans for a world's fair in 1951 recall that British fairs originated a thousand years ago as part of a primitive merchandising system in which peddlers were the only traveling salesmen and there were no advertisements, catalogs, or mail orders.

The early fairs of England were designed primarily for trade between British and foreign merchants, importers and manufacturers, says the National Geographic Society. At fairs merchants would inspect the goods, select piece by piece, and cart purchases over the rutty roads to their shops or to ports.

The greatest fair in England was Stourbridge Fair just outside Cambridge. Its early history is unknown, the first recorded reference being in a charter by King John in 1211. Stourbridge Fair continued until 1934.

16th Century OPA

This fair was under the direction of Cambridge University. At night red-coated students served as watchmen, going about the grounds "harnessed and weaponed" and crying, "Look about you there!"

Fair regulations promulgated in 1548, "in ye Kings name of England, and in ye name of my Lord Chauncellor of ye University," show that prices on some English products were fixed, standards of production established, weights and measures officially approved, and some brand or identification of the manufacture required on the merchandise.

Summary courts of justice were held daily on the fairgrounds to settle disputes. Known as Piepowder Courts, they acquired their name from the corruption of the old French pied puldreaux (a peddler).

Early Fairs Had "Follies"

Bartholomew Fair, held on the outskirts of London, was founded early in the 1100's and continued until the middle of the 19th century. Back in the 13th century actors took advantage of its throngs to produce miracle plays. In 1305 are references to stilt-walkers and to a woman who "balanced herself head downwards on the points of swords."

Pepys wrote of "the celebrated follies of Bartholomew Fair." Entertainment also included wrestling bouts, tumblers, nine pins, and minstrels. It had become customary for stars from Drury Lane, Covent Garden, the Haymarket and other London theaters to act in theatrical booths at Bartholomew Fair.

By this time the original three-day fair at the Feast of St. Bartholomew had increased in duration to 14 days. The carnival spirit was rampant. Fairs became the butt of moralist criticism, and were the scene of thievery, vandalism, and more serious crimes.

Merchandising methods had changed, and the needs of trade that gave birth to fairs no longer existed. Fairs then became industrial exhibits of samples of standardized products.

of books, and is just one week after the date remembered for the despicable public burning of books by the Nazis. On May 10, 1944, the Treasure Chest was first officially launched in this country under the Book Committee of the Women's Council for Post-War Europe, Inc., and on its first birthday, May 10, 1945, it opened a branch in Boston. That these Chests are truly appreciated is evident not only from the many letters of thanks received but is particularly demonstrated by an incident, sequel to the Battle of the Bulge. Through the channels of the Treasure Chest Committee the gold star parents of a boy from Gray, Maine, received a scrap book from the little town of Fontaine l'Eveque in Belgium.

This contained pictures of their son's carefully tended grave, views of the village, and many notes from the inhabitants, describing the beautiful ceremony connected with the boy's burial. The writers asked that they might receive a Treasure Chest and the making and filling of one was immediately undertaken by the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts of Gray. The scrapbook carried great solace to the bereaved parents, the knowledge that their flyer son's grave was cared for by grateful friends, and at the same time showed conclusively that the constantly growing Treasure Chest organization was doing a work eagerly and hungrily welcome. It is to this cause that the entire proceeds of the Concert in the High School auditorium, May 17th, are to be devoted.

Members of the Band playing for the occasion are Cynthia Morse on the glockenspiel, Dick Wiley on the piccolo, Dee Barrett, Miriam Parker and David Wiley on the flute. Clarinets will be played by Shirley Hamilton, Florence Herrmann, Lois Hersey, Mildred True, Richard Holdsworth, Kenneth Blake and Richard Simonds, saxophones by Pat McDermott, David Hutchins and Tommy Joy; trumpets, Betty Anne Carlisle, Ruth Halm, Betty Nelson, Phil Nelson, Elliot Hersey, Charles Burnham, David Shiverick and Douglas Hamilton. Melophone, Eddie Jones; baritone, Peter Dillingham; trombones by T. Parker Clarke, Peter Hutchins, Lou Goddu and Douglas Mason; dums by Mary Jane Davis, Dick Brackett and Jackie Loveis and bass drum by Gordon Bird, Jr.

WEATHER

The rains came - to Spain this winter, filling mountain streams with water needed to generate electric power. As a result, scarce coal can be diverted from steam-electric plants to railroad and trawler fleets, and Spain's masses have more of their important food staple - fish.

The rains came - to Canada's wheat belt last autumn, but stayed away from several of the United States wheat regions, where too light a cover of snow this winter has further affected the crop. Consequently, Canada is expected to have a big yield of spring wheat in 1946, while the United States crop may be smaller.

Everybody Talks About It

Small wonder everybody talks about the weather. It makes and loses fortunes, is man's greatest ally and worst enemy in enterprises ranging from strawberry festivals to global wars, comments the National Geographic Society.

Heat, wind and hail in Argentina last December may cause home owners in the United States to postpone already long-delayed paint jobs for still another season. Most good fast-drying paints contain linseed oil. The United States normally imports half or more of its linseed oil needs from Argentina, the world's biggest grower of oil-producing flax. Some of Argentina's production was burned as fuel during war years for lack of ship space, but the last two Argentina flax crops have been poor.

The Coachella Valley near Palm Spring, California, produces nine-tenths of all domestic-grown dates. Its date farmers had several big-money crops during the war when Old World dates were being imported. With Arabian dates returning, the Coachella crop just harvested is small, partly because last August's average temperature of 100 degrees Fahrenheit in the valley was several degrees too cool.

Each inch of July rainfall in the Corn Belt is worth close to half a billion dollars. It increases the crop by eight bushels an acre; there are some 500 million acres, and the price through recent weeks has been $1.18½ a bushel. In the wheat states, May-June rains have much the same effect.

When a cold snap hits a city, up jumps consumption of coal, fuel oil and gas. A mild spell in spring starts the rush for Easter togs. A black thunderstorm before 5 p. m. causes a sudden demand for lights and an unscheduled electric power load. Weather uplifts and depresses - its effects are pronounced on mental patients, arthritis sufferers, invalids in general.

Many Do Something About It

As far as changing or averting changes in the weather is concerned, nobody, of course, does anything about it. But the science of predicting the weather and making use of the predictions has been advanced 20 years by the war, in the opinion of at least one top Army meteorologist. The Army, Navy and Weather Bureau trained thousands of weather men and placed them at land stations and on shipboard in all theaters.

Weather won battles because bomber flights could be timed to be hidden by cloud banks tank and infantry attacks could be planned when skies were clear and ground dry, trans-ocean flights could take advantage of boosting tail winds. The dramatic low-level raid that destroyed Germany's Eder and Mohne dams took advantage of moonlight night cover for flying, early dawn for raiding, and the end of the rainy season when the dams were full.

Three billion dollars a year in profits and savings have been estimated to result from protection of property, reduction in losses or increased production brought about by scientific weather forecasts, warnings and reports.

EXHIBITION OF MODERN HOUSES

Three houses, each an excellent example of modern architecture, will be open for visitors on Sunday, May 26th, from 10 to 5, for the benefit of the building fund of Black Mountain College, Black Mountain, North Carolina. This college has attracted much attention because of its educational methods which depart from the conventional pattern.

Two of these houses are in Winchester: the homes of Dr. and Mrs. Karl Terzaghi, 3 Robinson Park, and Dr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Kirkwood, 7 Swan road. The third is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gropius, Baker Bidge Road, Lincoln. Mr. Gropius and Mr. Marcel Breuer, both professors at the Harvard Architectural School, designed the Gropius house; Mr. G. Holmes Perkins, also of Harvard, is the architect of the Terzaghi house; Mr. Carol Fulkerson is the architect of the Kirkwood house.

To see how each of these houses takes every advantage of the natural characteristics of its site and presents new ideas of color, interior decoration and furniture design is most timely in view of the current interest in housing.

Mrs. Walter Gropius, and Mrs. Roland Boyden of Cambridge are on the committee in charge of the event. Mrs. John P. Carr, 2 Gardner Place, is handling tickets and publicity in Winchester.

SELECTIVE SERVICE NEWS

The local Selective Service Board serving Stoneham and Winchester is in receipt of temporary regulations which are issued in an attempt to follow the intention of the administration insofar as processing and induction of registrants is concerned. They have been informed that they shall accept the registration of all residents of the communities as they reach their 18th birthday but that such registration shall not be processed, physically examined, nor inducted pending further clarification of the regulations.

The office of the local board in the Winchester Town Hall will remain open from 8:30 a. m. to 5:15 p. m. Monday through Friday. The office is not open on Saturday.

DR. BURGOYNE HEADS B. U. MEDICAL ALUMNI

Dr. Roger M. Burgoyne of 15 Washington street, a physican practicing in Winchester for more than 20 years, was elected president of the Boston University Medical Alumni Association at the annual meeting and banquet of the group Saturday evening at the Statler Hotel in Boston. He had been vice president of the association this year.

Dr. Burgoyne graduated from Weymouth High School and from Boston University Medical School in 1922. He was president of his class and one of its outstanding members.

In the fall of 1922 he came to Winchester and established himself in practice, remaining in town continuously since that time. He has been for some years secretary of the Medical staff of the Winchester Hospital is the Health Center physician and served as president of the Middlesex Medical Association in 1942.

COMMUNION BREAKFAST AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH

A carefully planned breakfast will be served to approximately 115 children who are receiving on next Sunday morning, May 19, their first Holy Communion. It will be held at the parochial school after the 8 o'clock Mass. The hall will be attractively decorated with spring flowers and a section of St. Mary's Band will provide the music.

This is an annual affair suggested by the Rev. John P. O'Riordan.

Mrs. John J. Gorman is chairman and is being assisted by the following very capable committee: Mrs. Virgil Ghiradini, Mrs. Angelo Ghirardini, Mrs. Ralph E. Sexton, Mrs. M. C. Moffett and Mrs. Clarence Dunbury.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Harold Beebe announces the engagement of her daughter, Joan Beebe Olson, to Mr. James R. Patterson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Patterson of Pittsfield.

Mrs. Olson attended the May School in Boston and St. Catherine's in Richmond, Va.

Mr. Patterson is a graduate of the Lenox School, in Lenox, and is a member of the class of 1947 at Harvard. His clubs include The Hasty Pudding-Institute of 1770, the Speakers', and the Fox.

ROTARY NOTES

It was with a real sense of "sympathy" that the Rotary Club learned of the sudden death of "Abbie", one of the stately swans which has graced the Aberjona, near the Town Hall, for the past several years. It will be remembered that Rotarian "George" Franklin was responsible for the arrival of "Abbie" and "Jonah" in Winchester some time ago, and we fully appreciate "George's" sense of loss in the untimely passing of one of his protegees.

A fine for repeated tardiness was assessed upon Secretary John McLean, which he paid under protest. However, the tables were very aptly turned on the President by Dick Sheehy. His motion to have "Vin" recite the Four Objects of Rotary or pay a similar fine carried on a doubtful voice to the amusement of the largely attended meeting. As a result of an amended motion, also by "Dick", several members who were obliged to leave the meeting before adjournment, were assessed identical fines. As a result of this chain system of fining, Treasurer Jim Scott reported that the Scholarship Fund had been considerably enriched.

Forbes Norris was once again declared the winner of the Victory Bond, and it would appear that Forbes has also found the winning combination.

Mrs. Lucius Smith, Secretary of the Winchester Committee on Housing Veterans, spoke briefly of the house-to-house survey which is to be made on this Sunday, May 19th. She outlined the plans of this Committee and exhibited a sample of the questionnaire which is to be used when making the survey.

SGT. BEEBE ON WAY HOME

Mrs. Harold Beebe of Everett avenue received a telephone call from her son, Sgt. Marcus Beebe, 3rd, from the West Coast on Wednesday evening. Sgt. Beebe has arrived in America after 3½ years' in the Marines. He saw service at Iwo Jima and Okinawa. He anticipates processing on the West Coast and his return to Winchester is anticipated in the near future.

ELLIOTT PURCHASES EMERSON LAND

Builder First to Suggest New Manchester Field Layout

Mr. Alfred Elliott has purchased what is known as the Emerson land on the hills of the west side of the town near High street. Winchester is fortunate in having a real estate developer who always has the good of Winchester in mind. Mr. Elliott has built some very attractive houses in different parts of the town and is now constructing five on Brantwood road which is near the Woburn line off Pond street.

Mr. Elliott was the first man to suggest the very popular solution of the school house problem by proposing the moving of the Aberjona River and the Parkway to the west, thus creating a large area of land in the rear of the Junior High School. This scheme seems to meet the approval of nearly everyone including the Metropolitan District Commission which, we understand, is willing to bear a large part of the expense of moving the Parkway.

DEXTER NAMED PRESIDENT

Raymond C. Dexter of Yale street was elected president of the Mass. Bankers' Association at the annual convention held at the New Ocean House, Swampscott on May 9 and 10.

Mr. Dexter is vice president of the Second National Bank of Boston, a trustee of the Franklin Savings Bank, and formerly served on the Board of Selectmen and the Town Finance Committee. He has been active in the work of the Mass. Bankers' Association for many years.

OXNARD—CONRAD

Tonight at 8 o'clock, Miss Marjorie Elizabeth Conrad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phair Edmund Conrad of 216 Highland avenue, will be married at her parent's home to Frank Augustus Oxnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Louis Oxnard of 151 Mystic street, West Medford. The Rev. Erastus Green of the West Somerville Congregational Church will perform the candlelight ceremony, and the bridal music will be played by Mrs. G. E. Munroe of Boston, aunt of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Conrad will have for her honor attendant her sister, Miss Phyllis Berry of this town. Another sister, Miss Doris Conrad of Winchester will be one of the two bridesmaids, the other being Mrs. Walter Clark (Anne Oxnard) of Medford, sister of the bridegroom.

The bride will wear a fitted gown of white faille, styled with a V-neckline and a train. Her fingertip-length veil will be caught to a white lace coronet, designed and made by her aunt, Mrs. Munroe, and she will carry a tiny old fashioned doilie bouquet of white roses with a removeable corsage.

The honor maid, carrying mixed spring flowers, will wear a yellow dress having a bodice of lace and a chiffon skirt over taffeta, with three-quarter sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. The bridesmaids are wearing aqua dresses with taffeta bodices and net skirts over taffeta. Their dresses are also designed with sweetheart necks and three-quarter sleeves and they too are carrying mixed spring flowers.

Corp. Robert Whitman of Melrose will attend Mr. Oxnard as best man and the ushers will be Franklin E. Black of Medford and two brothers of the bride, Richard Conrad of Winchester and William P. Conrad of Arlington.

A reception will be held immediately after the ceremony, and at its conclusion, Mr. Oxnard and his bride will leave on a wedding journey to New Hampshire. They are planning to live with the groom's parents until June when they will go to Jordan Acres in Brunswick, Me., where they will make their home while Mr. Oxnard is completing his studies at Bowdoin College for his degree. He is a senior at Bowdoin, a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity and of the Medford Boat Club. He plans to enter Medical School and eventually to go into public health work. The bride is at present employed at the Andrew Dutton Company of Boston as a secretary.

VESPUCCI—DIFEDERICO

The marriage of Miss Helen R. DiFederico, daughter of Mrs. Loretta DiFederico of 38 Benefit street, Southbridge, to Gabriel J. Vespucci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Vespucci of 72 Florence street, took place Saturday morning, May 11, at St. Mary's Church in Southbridge. Rev. Fr. William F. Smith performed the marriage ceremony at 9 o'clock and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Miss Margaret Connolly sang the Ave Maria and Panis Angelicus. O Salutaris and Agnus Dei were sung by Miss Bernice Robblee.

Given in marriage by her brother, Anthony DiFederico, the bride had her cousin, Miss Mary Chiocca, as her honor attendant. Miss Joan DiFederico, small niece of the bride, was flower girl and Miss Veronica DiFederico and Miss Shirley DiFederico, also nieces of the bride, were bridesmaids.

The bride wore a gown of satin in brocade with an off-the-shoulder bodice on a fine illusion high neck yoke, the skirt extending into a long train. Her long veil, also of fine illusion was edged with lace, matching her cap, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias, bouvardia and babies' breath.

The honor maid wore a dress of aqua faille taffeta with a matching headdress, and carried a bouquet of mixed sweet peas with babies' breath. The bridesmaids carried the same flowers and wore dresses like that of the honor maid, except that Miss Shirley DiFederico wore Raspberry and Miss Veronica, Chartreuse. Both wore bonnets to match their dresses. The small flower girl wore a blue sheer frock with a long full skirt and matching bonnet. She carried a basket of mixed sweet peas and babies' breath.

Anthony Casini of Follansbee, West Va., was Mr. Vespucci's best man, and the ushers were John Vespucci of Winchester, brother of the bridegroom; and Joseph Difederico of Southbridge, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Publick House, after which Mr. and Mrs. Vespucci left on a motor trip to Washington and Virginia Beach. Upon their return they will make their home at 72 Florence street in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of Mary E. Wells High School in Southbridge. Mr. Vespucci is a graduate of Winchester High School and attended the American Institute of Banking and the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance in Boston. He is associated with the Merrimac Manufacturing Company as an executive's assistant at the Boston office.

91 YEARS OLD TODAY

Mrs. Louis Barta will observe her 91st birthday this Friday. She is well known to many of Winchester's older residents, having spent all of her married life here. She is at present living with her daughter, Mrs. Clement Orr (Eleanor Barta) in the old Daniel Webster birthplace in Franklin, N. H.

COMBINED CHORUS AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Next Sunday, at the Winchester First Baptist Church, the new Junior Choir will combine with the Senior Choral Group in a rendition of Shelley's beautiful anthem, "Hark! Hark My Soul."

The opening theme of this tuneful work, which is to be sung by the Junior Choir, provides Director Marshall with an excellent opportunity to display the high quality of the young voices which he has been able to recruit among the youngsters of the church school and develop into a most capable chorus.

Later, in the anthem, as the Senior Choir joins the young people in singing the choral parts of this well-known and long-beloved work the combined chorus is certain to be inspirational as well as impressive.

MRS. TWOMBLY HONORED

Tuesday afternoon, May 14, the Winchester Boat Club was the setting for a gala occasion when more than 70 ladies from Winchester and nearby towns came to pay tribute to Mrs. Harold Twombly of 16 Lawson road for her outstanding work for the soldiers in Lovell General Hospital, at Camp Devens.

For nearly four years, Mrs. Twombly has gone each Friday to the hospital to direct the labors of workers from different towns in the filling of hundreds of small containers with flowers for the soldiers and the arrangement of flowers in large bouquets for the chapel and different rooms where the soldiers gather. She also supervised the extensive Christmas decorations.

That the work has been appreciated by the hospital authorities was proven by the presence of the busy Field Director of the Red Cross, Miss Mary Louise Burns, who came because of her gratitude to Mrs. Twombly for her faithfulness and her never-failing good nature in co-operating with the hospital workers.

The ladies who have worked under Mrs. Twombly's kindly direction showed their appreciation of what this weekly trip has meant by presenting her with a beautiful oil painting of peonies. The presentation was made by Mrs. James Newman of Winchester Chapter. Mrs. Robert Bowen of Concord told how the Garden Club Service started in Massachusetts (and incidentally in the United States) and Mrs. Walter Gaskell of Belmont related how it developed and came under the direction of Mrs. Twombly. Miss Burns, in a short speech made all realize how extensive the work had been when she said over 100,000 patients had passed through the hospital. She emphasized that the group could feel they had had a part in bringing some cheer to these boys.

The clubs represented at the gathering were members from the Garden Clubs of Andover, Belmont, Concord, Greenwood, Melrose, No. Andover, Sterling, Stoneham, Woburn, Wakefield and Winchester.

Tea was served with Mrs. Harold Bennett of Melrose and Mrs. Thomas Kenney of Belmont as pourers.

CORRECTION

Mr. Zamanakos Not Taken to Winchester Hospital

Mr. Tucker M. Vye, new administrator of the Winchester Hospital, has informed the Star that its report of the death of John Nicholas Zamanakos in the May 10 issue was incorrect insofar as it stated that Mr. Zamanakos was taken to the Winchester Hospital, after he became ill, and had to be taken home because no bed was available at the hospital for him.

According to Mr. Vye, Mr. Zamanakos was not taken to the Winchester Hospital at all. He was taken home and then, at the request of a physician who had been treating him in Lowell, was removed to the Shaw Hospital there. Mr. Vye further assured the Star that no emergency case is ever refused at the Winchester Hospital, and in the event no bed is available, temporary arrangements are made to care for the patient, even if a bed is set up in a corridor or emergency room.

The Star is glad to print this correction, although, it has no apologies to make for its original report. The error was not ours. We got our information from a reliable source and printed it in good faith. It is, however, a case in which we are happy to know that we were misinformed and that no emergency case is ever refused at our Winchster Hospital.

JOHN JOSEPH LAUGHRAN

John Joseph Laughran of 8 Lebanon street, a well know resident of Winchester and former leather worker, died Sunday morning, May 12, at the Winchester Hospital after a short illness.

He was an expert patent leather boiler, and was for many years employed at the A. H. McLatchey plant in Winchester. Latterly he had been employed as a machinist at the Thompson Machine Shop in Wakefield. He was a member of Winchester, Lodge, 1445, B. P. O. E., and of St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

Mr. Laughran leaves his wife, Mrs. Kathryn (O'Neil) Laughran; a sister, Mrs. Edgar Waterman of New York; and two brothers, Matthew and William Laughran, both of New York.

The Elks' funeral ritual was exemplified at Moffett and McMullen Funeral Home Tuesday evening by Joseph Peel, exalted ruler, and by the officers of Winchester Lodge.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the funeral home with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Interment was in St. Agnes Cemetery, Albany, N. Y.

It's a heavier load than it was in 1941.

Yes, we're carrying a bigger burden than ever! Revenues have shown a normal growth due to increased riding. But expenses have really ballooned! Operating and maintenance costs have doubled since 1941. Federal taxes are almost three times their pre-war level. By careful management we've succeeded in cutting depreciation charges and interest on funded debt. It certainly keeps us "on our toes" to provide adequate transportation service under today's conditions.

ON THREE UNBEATEN TEAMS

The Star received a letter this week from Capt. Frank Melly, USA, currently at Fort Devens waiting discharge after three years in the service including 18 months in the ETO.

Capt. Melly, one of Winchester's great all-time football players, was center on Dana Kelly's unbeaten eleven of 1922. He also played on two more unbeaten teams, the Tufts eleven of 1927, playing guard beside big Jim Fitzgerald, and the United States Army of World War II. He got a chance to see Winchester play Lexington last fall and thinks Hennie Knowlton has done a great coaching job with the local boys.

He was interested to learn of Lentine's appointment as line coach at Tufts and pleased to think that so canable an instructor will be working for his alma mater.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

BART SULLIVAN BAGS OPENING SNIPE RACE

"California dew" cancelled the opening Snipe Race scheduled for Saturday afternoon and as a result the first official race was run on Sunday morning. And "Bart" Sullivan won it, the hard way.

Before race time "Bart" had to make a lightning dash to Medford to wring out his crew who had underestimated th slipperiness of a wet crown deck, and during the race "Bart" had to come from far in the wake of all but one boat in order to win.

It was a windward, leeward race, due to the fact that our friendly enemies from the Medford Boat Club haven't come out of hibernation yet, thus no markers. "Al" Litchfield, in his first race in By-George, Don Simonds in Simbad and ex-commodore Jim Newman in Chippie hit the starting line in unison and were off to a slick start, with Sullivan and George Field in Hardtack II trailing.

The three leaders had a beautiful battle with "Al" Litchfield finally building up a nice ten boat length lead going into the final leg. Simonds, Sullivan and Newman were grouped and fighting for second and George Field appeared to be a badly beaten fifth. However, fickle fate stepped in at this point and the lake went completely calm for about 15 minutes. When the breeze finally picked up again, it chose to concentrate on Hardtack II, be reasonably affable to the threesome and completely ignore "Al".

As a result Sullivan, Simonds and Newman swept across the finish line in almost a dead heat, with Field only two lengths behind and Litchfield last. Yet, with only five boats in the race, both Newman and Simonds were disqualified for hitting markers, so that the finish read Sullivan first, Field second and Litchfield third.

Club Charter

Don't forget the Club's opening party, Saturday night, May 25th. Those indoor "boat races" are going to be great fun and all the prizes are well worth the winning. There'll be free refreshment, loads of laughs and oceans of excitement, and all for only 50 cents per person. Ed Kent, our genial steward, has certainly done a slick job of getting the Club in shape. Every nook and corner is bright with fresh paint and signs of plenty of scrubbing and polishing are in evidence everywhere... One of the Club's members caught a couple of pickerel Sunday that any angler would be proud to exhibit..In spite of the miserable May weather, the Club was a beehive of activity over the weekend.

HIGH SCHOOL GOLFERS BREAKING EVEN

In the second year of interscholastic golf at Winchester High School, the team coached by Mr. Otis Leary of the faculty has won three and lost three. Although losing to Lexington twice and to Brookline, the locals teed off on St. Sebastian once and on Reading twice.

One home match remains on the schedule, with Belmont here on May 20. Other matches remaining are at Brookline, May 22; at St. Sebastian, May 27; and at Belmont May 28. All home matches have been played at the Winchester Country Club and one day a week the facilities of the club have been available for instruction purposes.

Five group lessons have been given the boys at their own expense by Mr. Howard Pearson, assistant professional at the Country Club.

Coach Leary contemplates another five lessons in the fall and will, no doubt, continue the interscholastic schedule. Practice for this group has been somewhat difficult to manage, since only those boys with Country Club membership have been eligible to play the local course in practice. All other members have had to practice on public courses elsewhere. The entire squad consists of Ralph Bonnell, Bill Chamberlain, Art Howard, Richard Lovis, Gordon Mills, Bob Reinking, Bob Roth, Dick Young, Elmer Zirkel, Bill Zirkel, and Bob Zirkel. Six of this group have membership in the Winchester Country Club.

THE WINCHESTER DOG TRAINING CLUB

The Winchester Dog Training Club's dog of the week: One of the advanced dogs is Peggy, a young Kerry Blue Terrier, who just celebrated her first birthday yesterday. Peggy has attended classes from the beginning, and with the exception of the first class, has always been handled by her owner, Miss Barbara Collins, a high school sophomore. The jet black Kerry was a little nervous at first, but after a few times she calmed down and did her best to please her mistress. Miss Collins trains Peggy every day for ten minutes, besides the regular weekly class periods, and the results of her hard work may be seen from week to week. Peggy is just one of many star pupils, and is an example of what you can do with a dog if you try.

For the benefit of those persons who were not present last Tuesday, an announcement was made that The Winchester Dog Training Club, its members, friends, and anyone interested in obedience work, is cordially invited to attend the Victory Dog Training Club's outing and picnic to be held on Sunday, June 16. There will be judging of the regular obedience classes, and those who feel that they would like to enter their dogs may do so for only 25 cents, the required entry fee. Judging will start at one p. m. The outing will be held at the Grafmar Kennels, Route 11, Wrentham, Massachusetts, rain or shine. Persons desiring more information may receive it by contacting Mr. Frederick Ewell, Win. 0435-M; Mr. Rodney Lee, Win. 1335-R; or Miss Virginia Ramsdell, Win. 1620.

Classes will be held as usual next Tuesday evening in the former Recreation Center on Mt. Vernon Street.

MELROSE, 15; WINCHESTER, 6.

Winchester High lost its Middlesex League baseball game at Melrose last Friday afternoon, 15-6, it being another one of those days when the local pitchers could not get any one out.

The game was played on the football field with hits going into the stands for automatic singles. While the rule was as fair for one side as the other, Melrose benefitted greatly by a number of these synthetic safeties, most of which would have been routine outs.

WINCHESTER, 3; CONCORD, 1.

Freshman Buff Flynn pitched Winchester to a 3-1 victory over Concord Tuesday afternoon in a Middlesex League game at Concord, giving up only six hits and no earned run.

Both teams scored all their runs in the second. Tibaudo singled to left in Winchester's half and was sacrificed to second by Cogan, scoring on Blanchard's one-shot to right. Blanchard stole and went to third as Stephane threw out Patterson, scoring on Filler's hit to center. Filler advanced on a passed ball and Flynn walked, both advancing on Bellino's roller that Fenton couldn't field anywhere in time. With the sacks loaded Nolan worked Fenton for a walk forcing in Filler. Hicks, playing second instead of Olivier, fanned.

Concord got a run in its half. Russo reached second on Patterson's error, went to third as Tibaudo tossed out Callahan and scored as McKenna hit safely into right. Wetherbee rapped to Hicks, forcing McKenna at second. Flynn hit Fenton but the Concord hurler was forced at second on Stephane's grounder to Tibaudo. The summary:

DR. CHIDLEY GETS A FISH

Last Sunday morning a large congregation, present to hear Dr. Chidley's annual Fisherman's sermon, noticed Mr. Sherman Saltmarsh slip something to Dr. Chidley as he followed the choir into the Chancel. Whatever it was, Dr. Chidley quietly slipped it under his cotta, and proceeded calmly to his place at the reading desk, but thought he better make a clean breast of the situation and announced that the parcel he had received contained a five pound salmon caught at Pierce's Pond by Sherman Saltmarsh, who had just returned after a successful fishing trip there.

Dr. Chidley remarked that the present of a real fish lent woodland realism to his sermon and thanked Mr. Saltmarsh for his gift. From then on the service proceeded according to schedule.

WINCHESTER GIRLS SHUT OUT MELROSE

Winchester High School girls' tennis team continued its victory parade Monday afternoon, blanking the Melrose girls team at Winchester, 5-0. Once again the visitors were unable to win a single set. The summary:

Singles

Marnee Norris beat Cynthia Jones, 6-0, 6-1.

Ruthie Murray beat Barbara Eldredge, 6-4, 7-5.

Dudie Jennings beat Irene McKenzie, 6-4, 6-0.

Doubles

Libby Fenno and Ann Albree beat Elaine Mitchell and Nancy Nespor, 6-3, 6-3.

Patsy Eberle and Patty Roeb beat Janet Murray and Doris Garnies, 6-2, 6-4.

WINCHESTER THIRD

Winchester High finished third in a triangular track meet with Belmont, the winner, and Cambridge Latin at Belmont Tuesday. Long Tom Kirwan got under 2 min. 7 secs. to win the half and the locals' other winner was big John West, who was better than 42 feet in the shot.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

On Saturday, May 25, at 1:30 p. m. the annual draw doubles get-acquainted tournament will get under way at the Palmer street courts. Under the capable direction of Park Commissioner William S. Packer and Tom McGowan ten good courts have been made ready to serve as fields for the great tourney of tennis prowess. The women's and men's doubles record will start promptly on Saturday; the family and draw mixed doubles will start on Sunday.

All matches previous to the semis and finals can be won by taking two out of three short sets. The semis and finals will require two out of three normal sets. Entry fee is 25 cents per person per event.

If you are one of the few who have not yet signed up, contact Les Leathers, Jimmy Coon, Roland Patrick, or Mrs. Wilcox promptly.

Activity at the courts on Tuesday of this week leads your reporter to believe that all sorts of subtle plans are in the making for providing some surprises in the early future. Wallace Blanchard and Jim Riley pretended to be playing merely for pleasure or, at the most, to remove a few kinks which had developed over the winter. Nevertheless, rumors persisted of threatened importations from as far away as Waltham or even Japan. Whit Gray was even noticed to be present with son Parker. Are they planning an early debut together? Superintendent Norris and daughter Marjorie were also working earnestly at the game, and to top all Libby appeared in the early dusk accompanied by no person less than her dad, Dick Fenno. Even Deb Bellows has been observed teaching Natalie some clever cuts. So let all past champs beware! Dark plans and schemes are in the making and bode no good for those who might be inclined to bask in the wurm rays of pristine glories. Only the fittest will survive the forthcoming tournament.

Meanwhile, let it be remembered that the Winchester Tennis Association will have a party for all members, juniors especially, at 7:30 p. m. on Friday, June 7, in Wee-G's and Charlotte's playroom at 61 Salisbury road.

LEGION BASEBALL

Winchester Legion was represented at the meeting held last Friday at the Stoneham Legion Headquarters to form a G. I. Baseball League.

Besides Winchester and Stoneham, Reading, Wakefield, Woburn and Melrose were represented. It was voted to commence play the first week in June and play two twilight games a week, one at home and one away. There will be no Saturday or Sunday games and no paid players. The inevitable banquet will be held at the close of the season and it is planned to follow the baseball league with a bowling league next winter. A meeting to arrange a schedule will be held Friday, May 24.

Winchester plans practice sessions next Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 6:15 on Manchester Field. Athletic Officer Hodson of Stoneham Post is president of the league.

RUTH MURRAY AND ANN ALBREE LONGWOOD WINNERS

Ruth Murray and Ann Albree, members of Winchester High's strong girls' tennis team, won the final round of the Older Girls' spring doubles tournament at the Longwood covered courts at Chestnut Hill last Saturday, winning from their teammates, "Marnie" Norris and "Libby" Fenno, 6-3. Charlotte Underwood and "Dudie" Jennings made up another Winchester team that got well past the opening rounds of play.

HIGH SCHOOL TENNIS TEAMS SUCCESSFUL

Girls Undefeated

Tennis, the sport in which Winchester High School boys and girls have long excelled, has carried the youngsters far afield, during this busy season. Although the girls continue their winning ways, not having dropped a match, the boys point with pride to their record which shows no losses to high school teams and victories over all opponents except the Harvard JayVees and the strong Andover team.

A slight difference in the rules which allows girls to play either in the doubles or singles, but not in both, makes necessary the following lineup: Singles: Marjorie Norris, Ruth Murray, and Libby Fenno; Doubles: Dudie Elizabeth Jennings and Ann Albree, and Patsy Eberle and Patty Root.

Bob Halstead, by virtue of his winning in the Winchester Tournament, started the season as number one player, but Conrad Rosander has been a challenger for that position and at present the boys alternate as number one. Others on this year's team are Sheldon and Eben Caldwell, Charles Watson, Roger Swanson, and Dick Hills. Charles Watson had the misfortune to injure his foot in a swimming accident and will be lost to the team for several days, Dick Hills carrying on in his position.

BACK IN KNOX SOCIETY

Henry Lester Duffett, a veteran student at The Citadel, the Military College of South Carolina, has resumed his membership in the Knox Chemical Society which was terminated by his call to active duty in May 1943. For a time while he was with the A. S. T. P. unit at The Citadel awaiting Officer Candidate School, Mr. Duffett resumed his affiliation with the society.

The society was organized in 1938 and named in honor of the late Colonel Leslie Knox who for 37 years was head of the department of chemistry at The Citadel. Colonel Knox died in April 1945 while still on active duty.

Mr. Duffett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Duffett, of 64 Oxford street, Winchester, Mass.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS BEGIN GOLF

Not to be outdone by the boys, 14 high school girls have formed a golf squad and during the present season have been chiefly concerned with learning the fine points of the game in group instruction by Mr. Pearson.

The following girls have been members of the spring squad. Ellen Bayliss, Joan Donaghy, Marilyn Goldthwait, Anne Harris, Libby Moses, Martha Hickey, Jane Owen, Marjorie Ryerson, Gayle Sawyer, Mary Seaton, Joanne Simonds, Anne Tenon, Mary Alice Wagstaff and Shirley Zirkel.

Once again the Editor has had his fish. Again Sherman W. Saltmarsh has come through, this year with a four pound salmon, caught last week at Pierce Pond, Caratunk, Me. Our thanks to Sherman. It was delicious.

Following the Star's story of the proposed plan for an athletic field at the rear of the Junior High School, to be made by moving the Parkway and River to the westerly side of Manchester Field, we have received numerous complaints that the author of the plan was Builder Alfred Elliott and not Town Engineer Parker Holbrook. Now School Superintendent Forbes Norris says that Athletic Director Henry Knowlton proposed such a plan last fall. Possibly others even further back had a similar idea. We admit we never thought of it, nor did our confrere, Mack, so that at least narrows the field. At all events, to whomever belongs the credit, the plan seems to be meeting with general approval, and if it is finally adopted, there should be plenty of glory for all.

"SELECT YOUR RUT WITH CARE; YOU'LL BE IN IT FOR 500 MILES

That's the sign that faced our ancestors as they started west on dirt roads. Once in the rut, they couldn't turn out or turn back.

A. U. S. government spokesman has just said "This year we lay the foundation of our economic structure which will have to serve for generations."

Select your rut with care; you'll be in it for 500 years.

Do you like the looks of the rut? —pressure groups dictating to government . . . extension of the vicious philosophy of the lazy that the world owes them a living . . . the familiar cry of "emergency" to excuse growth of government power and loss of your liberty . . . fantastic government spending which throttles jobs for everyone but bureaucrats . . . spread of the very thing here which we have been fighting abroad . . .

There's another road up which America has traveled to the highest standard of living in the world. It was worn by hard work, thrift, government of the people instead of pressure groups; it was made by honest men who know people must earn what they get.

"Select your rut with care; you'll be in it for 500 miles."—(From an advertiscment by Warner& Swasey in Newsweek.

A SOUND SOLUTION

To the Editor of the Star:

The plan of Town Engineer Parker Holbrook as outlined in the Star of May 10 for the development of the High School problem meets with my approval. It is without doubt a sound solution and one that should appeal to the people who have to pay the bills.

The scheme to build a High School on the Ginn Estate should never be carried out, since this property should be developed for residential purposes situated as it is in the heart of the town and as such help to carry the load that will occur when new school houses will be demanded.

Winchester has very little land left for residential purposes if one stops to analize its total area and with ever growing tax burdens, there is need for every foot of the area for buildings.

The town has land enough now on the present High and Junior High School sites for all its needs, and if Holbrook's plans are carried out the playgrounds are provided for and at less expense than the Ginn Wild Cat Scheme.

FOR A LOBBY OF THE PEOPLE

Editor of the Star:

Let us have a lobby of the people, for the people and by the people.

Congress hears mostly the lobbyist's side of the question. This is commonly called the pressure group. Pressure groups represent in many cases a certain number of votes and the M. C. wants to get back to D. C. so he counts the votes represented by these various groups.

At the present time Congress and the country are confronted by the John L. Lewis strike, the railroad workers strike, a longshoreman's strike, Western Union workers have threatened to begin another strike and Reuther of the automobile workers has promised to be back with more demands and of course another strike.

How do the voters feel about it? They have no lobby, no one to carry on their fight as the miners and other unions do. So the voters must do it themselves.

Write your representative and senator. Let them know how you feel about questions which arise, give them your reasons for your conclusions and let them know what you are going to do about it.

The Winchester Star could very well start the lobby of the people-by the people-for the people by requesting all readers to write: first, their representative and congressman: second, write friends all over the country to join the lobby: third, have their friends write their home town papers, similar to the Winchester Star to get publicity for the people's lobby.

With a move like this Congress would know how it stands. Its members would not have to come home to hear how their constituents feel. They would be forced to act before an election and not let the country suffer.

Let's try it and see how it works. It might arouse enough interest to get out a higher percentage of the votes and they would not be "Ya" or "Nein" votes dictated by pressure groups.

Sincerely yours,
Charles W. Morrill

BRASS PLATE HAS FOUND ITS OWNER

As a sequel to the article in last week's Star on the brass plate found in Dallas, Texas, by H. Wendell Childs, the Star has found the owner. The story of the plate was that it was marked "H. W. Wheeler, Winchester, Mass." It was very old and Mr. Childs, who went from Waltham to Dallas 48 years ago, was interested in tracing its owner.

The only record the Star could get was that a H. N. Wheeler, many years ago, lived in Rangely, and the assumption was that it belonged to him. Now another H. N. Wheeler, (Henry N. Wheeler of 9 Seneca road), becoming interested in the Star's article, called and looked over the plate. He had visited Dallas in years gone-by and bought the plate looked familiar. We turned it over to him.

It now turns out that the plate is the property of Mr. Henry N. Wheeler. It came from an old travcling bag of his and was presumably lost from the bag in Dallas.

THE MYSTERY SOLVED

9 Seneca Road,
Winchester, Mass.
Unraveled Mysteries Dept.
Winchester Star:

The Case of the Brass Plate is solved! Inscribed "H. N. Wheeler, Winchester, Mass." and found in a pawnbroker's window at Dallas, Texas by Mr. H. Wendell Childs, the name plate has returned to its home port.

After reading your editorial in last week's Star I identified the brass plate as the original which was attached to my travelling bag when I formerly lived in Winchester and sold hardware throughout New England.

In 1936 I moved to Connecticut and had occasion to travel extensively over the entire country. I well remember removing the brass tag from my travelling bag and throwing it out the window of a Dallas, Texas hotel as Winchester was no longer my home address.

How the plate eventually landed in the front window of a pawnbroker's shop I cannot guess but trust it did not pass through a plate glass window 10 years ago when I discarded it.

So, instead of a 40 year mystery we have merely a toddling, 10 year old "who-dunnit". Scotland Yard can now retire from the Case of the Brass Plate.

MUST INCREASE BUS FARES

John I. Donovan, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, stated at a luncheon meeting of the Boston Lions Club, held at the Hotel Kenmore, Wednesday, that in his opinion the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company and other privately owned companies would be obliged to seek relief from their financial problems by increasing fares in the not too distant future.

The speaker said that although his company had enjoyed prosperity during the war when the volume of business almost doubled, because of the tax laws it was unable to put aside the necessary reserves to purchase the equipment necessary to maintain proper service.

There have been no increases in bus fares in over 15 years, the speaker said, despite the fact that almost every item purchased has gone substantially and because, in keeping with the national pattern, wages have increased to a much higher rate than ever before in the company's history.

"GOING WESTWARD"

Written by 10 year old Thomas Cameron Hayden, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Hayden of Glengarry.

We're going westward, said the farmer to his wife
We're going westward to lead a better life.

We're going westward because we're told
Out in California there's plenty of gold.

All along the way graves mark the trail
But we're going and we won't fail.

So pack up the kids and tomorrow we'll start
For that was the dream in the westerner's heart.

A swell time was had by all players of both the Elks and K. of C. card tournament teams on last Wednesday evening when the Elks were treated to a dinner by the losing K. of C. team. The last two dinners "were on" the Elks so the K. of C. are still one up.

Past Grand Knight Henry Murray was presented with his P. G. K. emblem at the last meeting.

The council's soft ball team is rapidly taking shape so reports Coach John Swymer. It is being rumored that they are definitely the "team to beat" this summer. (All teams take notice)

A new and complete mailing list is now being compiled by recorder Al Barnard and any member who has had a change in address in the past year is asked to see him at once.

The next regular meeting will be held on Monday night, May 20, at 8:30 p. m. Nomination for new officers will be presented to the council by the nominating committee and there will be a first degree for new candidates. So all members are urged to make every effort to attend this important meeting. Be there.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

This year for the first time archery will be included in the program of the Girl Scout Day Camp starting June 18. Every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m., June 18 to July 28, all registered Winchester Girl Scouts between the ages of 7 and 16 will have the opportunity to participate in nature-projects, campcraft, dramatics, handcraft, singing games and other group activities. Each unit will have one hot meal cooked over an open fire each week, and each girl will receive milk every day.

Many girls whose families go away for a part of the summer enjoy Day Camp for the time they are in Winchester, while others wish to join in the activities for the entire six weeks.

We strongly advise you to register at once at the Scout Office, 573 Main street.

ABBIE THE SWAN DEAD

Abbie one of the Mill Pond pair of swans, died during the late afternoon Wednesday. Some boys reported to the Police that the swan seemed to be sick, and Park Supt. Tom McGowan was notified. Abbie was dead before anything could be done for her and was removed by Mr. McGowan to the Stoneham Zoo where it was found a broken egg had caused her death. Thursday morning "Squire" Franklin, who attended Rotary with a band of crepe on his arm, was accepting contributions to a fund to procure Abbie's successor.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT NOTES

A demonstration reading lesson for grade 6 teachers only, will be conducted by Miss Hatch, grade 6 teacher of the Washington School to be followed by a Professional Group Meeting to discuss the reading in grade 6 in the Winchester Public Schools. Therefore, there will not be school on Wednesday afternoon, May 22 in any of the sixth grades excepting Miss Hatch's class which will be dismissed immediately after the demonstration.

LYMAN—MULHERIN

A wedding of Winchester interest took place at Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church in Augusta, Ga., on Saturday, May 11, when Miss Anna Mulherin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gerald Mulherin of Augusta became the bride of Harrison P. Lyman, son of Mrs. Harrison P. Lyman of Lawson road and the late Mr. Lyman. Rev. Massey Heitzel performed the candlelight ceremony in an attractive setting of magnolia blossoms, white flowers and palms.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Mulherin was attended by her sister, Mrs. Robert Slay of Augusta, as matron of honor, and by Miss Patience Middleton, also of Augusta, as bridesmaid.

The bride wore a gown of pure China silk brought to her from Japan by the bridegroom, who served overseas during the recent war. It was fashioned with a shirred bodice, long sleeves and a very full skirt. Her long veil, banded with beautiful old rose point lace was arranged with a coronet of the same lace, and she carried a shower bouquet of Madonna lilies surrounded with white carnations.

The matron of honor and the bridesmaid wore dresses of taffeta silk with tight bodices and full circular skirts. Small buttons covered with silk ornamented the dresses which had short butterfly sleeves. Their bouquets of big African daisies were tied with yellow ribbons.

Russell Ellis of Winchester was Mr. Lyman's best man and the ushers were Lt. Robert Slay, U. S. M. C., and J. Gerald Mulherin, jr., brother of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Camellia Room of the Partridge Inn. Going south for the wedding were the bridegroom's mother and sister, Mrs. Charles L. Moore (Alice Lyman); also Mrs. Elihu Lyman of Woburn, aunt of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Austin S. Kibbee of Brookline.

After a wedding journey Mr. Lyman and his bride plan to live temporarily in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of University of South Carolina. Mr. Lyman, a Harvard graduate, class of 1942, recently returned home from Osaka, Japan, where he served as assistant intelligence officer of the 98th Division.

MAJOR BACON RETURNS

Major Charles N. Bacon of 31 Grove street has returned from overseas duty and is now at home on his terminal leave till the middle of Aug., when he will be discharged after being in the Army for the past four years.

Major Bacon left Winchester in July 1942, when he accepted a commission in the Air Force. After his Officers training at Miami Bleach, Fla., he was assigned to Gulfport Field, Miss., as engineering officer. From there he was transferred to Patterson Field, Ohio, as Officer in Charge of turbo-superchargers. In Sept. 1943, he was ordered overseas to set up a repair and maintenance depot for the overhaul of turbo-superchargers. While overseas he had complete charge of all supercharger repairs and was awarded a letter of Commendations on the record he established.

Owing to the very few officers in the Army that ever had civilian experience on superchargers, Major Bacon was not allowed any leaves or time off. His next few months are a well earned rest.

On a Service Basis

At the gas station, you buy 1 gallon or 10, according to your wishes. At our bank, checking service is on a similar basis. You draw one check, or many, and you pay for our service according to the amount you receive, just as you do for gasoline.

In the case of regular checking accounts, depositors pay by carrying a sufficient balance which, when invested, will cover the cost of checking services rendered, or by the payment of service charges. In this way each account stands on its own feet. As a means of saving time, simplifying money records and having an automatic receipt for every bill you pay, a checking account offers you a full measure of convenience.

We cordially invite you to start your checking account here at our bank.

How Does Christian Science Heal?

The Disappearance of organic and functional disease, as well as of trouble in other forms, is continually recorded among those who have turned to Christian Science for help.
The method of such overcoming of difficulty is prayer — a spiritually scientific manner of thinking based on the teaching of Christ Jesus.
What this prayer is and it and use it effectually in how anyone can understand accordance with his need are fully explained in the Christian Science textbook.

For Junior High School Country Square Dance Party

Dungarees, blue jeans, broomstick skirts or cotton dresses! All will be in order for the Junior High School boys and girls when they assemble for their annual country square dance party in the high school gymnasium on Saturday, May 25.

TUESDAY LUNCHEON GROUP ENDS YEAR

The Tuesday Luncheon Group held its final business meeting and tea May 14 at the home of Mrs. Earl G. Carrier, 326 Highland ave.

From their annual meeting earlier in the day, the Service League had sent its hearty thanks to the luncheon group for their Tuesday services to the parish. Particularly to Mrs. John Willis, Mrs. Robert Dickey, Jr. and Mrs. F. W. Aseltine, Jr., by whose organizing and executive ability more than 1200 people had been served on 28 Tuesdays. Astute weekly committees had so managed these 35c menus that the co-chairmen needed no red ink in reporting to the Group.

Mrs. William Mitchell, Jr., reported another successful year of presenting Mrs. Adele Hoes Lee in five play reviews to drama-lovers of Winchester.

Successful new Group ventures of the year were the spring dance and the Group's contribution to the deeper life of parish women, Mr. Hadley's four informal talks during Lent on "What I Teach Your Children for Confirmation."

The Group elected these leaders for 1946-47:

Chairman, Mrs. Richard Frazier
Co-chairmen for Luncheons, Mrs. John Page, Mrs. John Boland.
Serving Committee, Mrs. F. William Aseltine, Jr.
Secretary, Mrs. William Mitchell, Jr.
Treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Howe
Membership, Mrs. Leslie Richardson.
Monthly Teas, Mrs. John Swift, Mrs. Dwight W. Hadley and Mrs. Henry B. Sawyer poured at the tea.

Mrs. O'Leary has three periods a week of high school seniors in Red Cross Home Nursing.

A written report from Mrs. Manoli, in her absence, and verbal reports from Mrs. Coon and Mrs. O'Leary thoroughly and colorfully described the Neuro - psychiatric Nursing Institute held March 20-21 at the Hotel Bradford, in Boston.

Mrs. White told of the 25th anniversary of the Greater Boston Community Chest, mentioning particularly the speech of Dr. C. E. A. Winslow, long a leader in the field of Public Health. Mrs. Johnson and Miss Copland described briefly the Tuesday session of the Press & Radio Institute sponsored by the Greater Boston Community Council and the Greater Boston Community Fund. Finally Mrs. Kugler reported on the annual meeting of the Winchester Community Chest; and after some discussion of other business matters, the meeting was adjourned.

PARISH PLAYERS VISITING HOSPITALS

The Parish Players of the First Congregational Church are giving their 35th hospital show this week at the Lovell South of Fort Devens, having played four wards at the Chelsea Naval Hospital last week. Next week they vist Cushing General at Framingham and they are booked right along for Lord shows through June.

The popularity of the Players in their home town is attested by the fact that tickets for their next season for Friday and Saturday evenings are all but sold out now. There are some seats available for both these nights, and plenty of good ones for the Thursday evening performances which are to be inaugurated next season to take care of the increasing demand for good seats.

TREASURE CHEST

Final arrangements have been completed for the Treasure Chest concert to be held in the High School Auditorium at 8 p. m. on Friday evening, May 17. Miss Corinne Mead, honorary chairman, will introduce Mrs. Harold Given, guest speaker, who will mention very briefly recent developments in her native land of Norway. For the benefit of those who would like to know more about the so-called "Treasure Chests", Filene's of Winchester who has also donated the three pair of nylons to be awarded to the lucky ticket holders has with characteristic generosity devoted the window on its river side to a display showing two Treasure Chests, loaned for the occasion by the Brookline committee. Besides the Chests there is a figure clothed in Norwegian garb, with various other articles borrowed from the Norwegian Arts and Crafts Shop of Boston. The proceeds of the concert will immediately be devoted to filling similar Chests to be sent to the Deichmanske Bibliotek (the principal library) in Oslo, Norway.

INTERESTING MUSICAL EVENT

Mrs. Marietta Lincoln of Palmer street is in charge of arrangements for the recital which Miss Edna Parks, organist at Grace Episcopal Church in Medford is giving Monday evening, May 27, at 8:30 o'clock at the Stoneham Town Hall under the auspices of the Grace Church Lincoln Club. Assisting Miss Parks will be the Boy Choristers and Choirs of Grace Church.

In addition to her post at the Medford Church, Miss Parks is summer organist at Trinity Church in Boston. A colleague of the American Guild of Organists, she is a graduate of the Yale School of Music and has studied at the New England Conservatory of Music, receiving the master's degree from Boston University. She has appeared on A. G. O. programs and gave a recital for the 1940 Wellesley conference.

Miss Parks will present a carefully chosen program in Stoneham on May 27 and the fact that she will play upon the fine Patch organ in the town hall there lends added interest. Winchester music lovers should save this date.

The Fire Department had only one call over the week-end, Box 37 being put on for an oil burner fire at the home of Mrs. Maria Pizzano, 98 Harvard street.

EPIPHANY SERVICE LEAGUE

Selects Leaders for 1946-47

By unanimous vote the Epiphany Church Service League chose Mrs. E. Phillips Walker as the new leader of Epiphany women for the year 1946-47. Associated with her will be Mrs. Herbert W. Kelley, as second vice president, Mrs. Clifford H. Williams as secretary, Mrs. Francis E. Booth, who continues as treasurer, and Mrs. Elbridge Wyman, assistant treasurer. By the League constitution the Rector of the parish is "ex officio" the president of the League, but the enthusiastic vote of thanks which the meeting gave to Mr. Dwight W. Hadley indicated clearly that in a free election he would be chosen for the place.

Other new elected heads of parish work are Mrs. Charles Butler, chairman of the Altar Guild, with whom Mrs. Harvard Mann will continue as co-chairman; Miss Helen L .Redfern, librarian; Mrs. John Chipman, head of the welfare committee; Mrs. Howard Richardson, in charge of all parish sewing for missions of the General Church, with Mrs. Ray Mauger as co-chairman; Mrs. Miles A. Holbrook, custodian of the Women's United Thank Offering; and Mrs. Dunbar Carpenter, representative of the Boston City Mission. Continuing as Epiphany representatives in other diocesan organizations are Mrs. Alfred Denley, in the Women's Aid to the Seamen's Club, Mrs. Ellsworth Snow in the Church Home Society, and Mrs. Newton Lamson of the Church Periodical Club.

A considerable number of parish activities will have the same leaders as in 1945-46:

For Religious Education, Miss Ethel B. Davis
The Parish Directory, Mrs. S. Walter Taber
Hospitality, Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, and Mrs. Hugh Webster.
Publicity, Miss F. Louise Nardin
Epiphany Exchange, Mrs. Edward F. Boyd
Rector's Vestments, Mrs. William Wightman
Choir Vestments, Mrs. Charles A. Underwood
Kitchen Supplies, Mrs. Paul Roceray
Church Housekeeper, Mrs. Helen S. Brown; and for cor-relating the League and the Young People's Fellowship, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, with Mrs. Ralph G. Swanson as her new co-chairman.

Mrs. P. Stewart Newton will continue as the head of the Red Cross sewing and Mrs. W. H. McGill was elected the new co-chairman.

These officers and chairmen will constitute the 1946-47 Council of the Service League, along with Mrs. Lloyd Wallis, recently elected head of the Symmes Corner Group; Mrs. Richard Frazier, re-elected as head of the Tuesday Luncheon Group; and the chairman whom the Jordan Group will elect in June.

The League acclaimed gratefully the leadership which Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard, the retiring head, has given for the past two years. Under her leadership many women have worked as one in the parish endeavors, and even the record-breaking successes not infrequently achieved seem less important than the spirit of unity nurtured in the biennium and warmly felt in the last meeting over which she was presiding.

A highlight of Tuesday's meeting was the presence of Deaconess Helen Lane, whose work in the parish is gratefully remembered. She had the pleasure of hearing that things of her planting in the parish, like the Lenten sale, were bearing yearly a richer harvest; and the pleasure of seeing one of her kindergartners, Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth, grown into a parish leader and reporting the most gainful bazaar Epiphany has yet had.

The new leader, Mrs. E. Phillips Walker, launched the League into 1946-47 by presenting the leader of next fall's bazaar, Mrs. Robert Thomason.

The weekly meetings of the League now end until September.

Next Tuesday the parish hall will be filled by guests at the annual lobster luncheon, a notable social and gastronomic event managed by the Jordan Group, with Mrs. Ray Mauger as chairman of the committee.

May 28 and succeeding Tuesdays workers for Red Cross and for the Winchester Hospital will continue, under the direction of Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Howard Richardson.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

The next regular meeting of the Guild will be held on Tuesday afternoon, May 21 at 2:30 p. m. at Lyceum Hall. Mrs. Michael Hintlian, President, will conduct a short business meeting, after which she will give her impressions of her recent trip, when she visited Florida, Cuba and the British West Indies. There will also be an exhibition of the work done by the members of the painting class. There are many beautiful paintings, trays, waste paper baskets and boxes, and these will be shown at this meeting. Tea will be served, under the direction of Mrs. William Murray and her committee.

A Memorial Mass for the deceased members will be held on Wednesday morning, May 22 at 8:00 a. m. at St. Mary's Church.

May 26 the Annual Communion Sunday for members and their daughters at 8:00 a. m. after which a Communion Breakfast will be served at Lyceum Hall at 9:00 a. m. All are urged to attend.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

The Mystic Glee Club, William Cruger conductor and Mary Louise Wood, accompanist, gave its 7th annual spring concert last Friday evening at the high school auditorium. Selvey Cavicchio, xylophonist, and Raymond Pugh, piano accompanist, were assisting artists. The program was: "Men of Harlech", Welsh air, arr. by Dunhill; Gershwin, "Summertime", arr. by Stickles; Ronald, "O Lovely Night", arr. by Salter; "Summer Evening", Finnish folk-song, arr. by Jane and Deems Taylor, with tenor solo by David Downer; (Glee Club); Medley, "Victory Polka" and "It Might as Well be Spring", (Mr. Cavicchio): Chopin, "Polonaise in A Flat"; (Mr. Pugh): Rimsky-Korsakoff, "Flight of the Bumble-Bee"; (Mr. Cavicchio): Warner, "Wake Miss Lindy"; "Steal Away", Negro spiritual, arr. by Bartholomew; "Reaper's Song", Bohemian Folk-Song, arr. by Davison, assisting piano, Donald Leslie Marshall; Moniuszko, "The Cossack", edited by Baldwin; "Fireflies", Russian Folk-Song, arr. by Davison; (Glee Club): Medley from "Annie Get Your Gun"; (Mr. Cavicchio): Gershwin, "Rhapsody in Blue"; (Mr. Pugh): "Chopstix", (Mr. Cavicchio): Romberg, "Drinking Song" from "The Student Prince"; Hammerstein, 2nd, and Rodgers, "If I Loved You" from "Carousal", arr. by Stickles; Jacobs, "This Is My Country", arr. by Ringwald; (Glee Club).

This was the Glee Club's best concert from the standpoint of performance, though some preceding programs have been perhaps more pleasing. The men sang well, eclipsing all previous efforts in phrasing, diction, nuance and especially in tone.

This last noticeable improvement is in part at least due to the return of old club members and the addition of new singers, making for much better balance in the voices and obviating the necessity for some of the parts to force their tone in order to be heard. Especially were the baritones much more agreeable to listen to, while the improvement in the second tenor was also marked. The second basses, though strengthened, did not dominate the ensemble as they have so often in the past while the first tenors' tone was much more pleasing than formerly, and this despite the absence of one or two good voices.

It was easy to gauge the club's growth by comparing its performance of the Russian number by Moniuszko with its singing of the same number a few seasons ago. The improvement in phrasing, fidelity to pitch, regard for context and general responsiveness was most apparent making for a much more finished rendition.

Other numbers were equally well done. As usual the club sang its group of spirituals especially well, showing a nice feeling for the beautiful "Steal Away" which was done unaccompanied, without noticeable deviation from pitch, and a fine thin tone that swelled effectively to a pleasing crescendo at the director's demand.

The men sang the spritely Gospel Train with evident relish. Mr. Wood handling the whistle in finished fashion, and a lot of humor, as well as a fine climax, was packed into "De Animals A-Comin'". The club still does the lighter, more tuneful and humorous things best, but it is showing an ever increasing ability to cope competently with much more difficult scores, such as the Bohemian Folk-Song, the Russian numbers and the really tricky thing from "Carousal", difficult music which the men did mightily well. There was some very effective tone shading in the number by Ronald and the first tenors got a nice thin sustained high note to end "Summertime" by Gershwin. The men did the rapidly moving Fireflies splendidly, singing with a feathery tone and clean-cut phrasing that the audience was not slow to appreciate.

Mr. Cruger finally yielded at this point and repeated this number, the only encore he granted. The quirkful piano run at the conclusion added to this number's effectiveness.

A purist could have found fault with the club's pitch and evenness in its vocal accompaniment for the Finnish Folk-Song, and the solo passages seemed not in Mr. Downer's best range. Occasionally a release was a bit off color and some of the entrances were less precise than others. Strangely enough they were not the difficult ones. These were generally well done and for the most part the men followed their leader's beat in exemplary fashion.

Mr. Cruger conducted in his usual competent and pleasing style. He undeniably gets a lot out of his singers and he at all times displays a nice discretion in his demands. He seems a part of, rather than the director of the club, though his hold on his group is no less secure. Audiences have always liked him and he was applauded at each appearance last Friday.

The same was true of the club's popular and competent accompanist, Mary Louise Wood. Mrs. Wood deserved her plaudits, her finished playing and helpful support meaning much to the club's performance. Never did she fail to provide the assistance needed, yet not once did she digress from the place of the true accompanist. Mr. Marshall, in assisting, Mrs. Wood in the four-hand arrangement of the accompaniment for the Bohemian Folk-Song, played in finished fashion.

The club's guest artist, Mr. Cavicchio, showed himself a finished technician on the Xylophone and a very nimble performer, playing at times with incredable speed. His accompanist, Mr. Pugh, proved a very dextrous pianist who was absorbing to watch and pleasing to listen to at those rare moments when he wasn't pounding the living daylights out of the piano. At times it seemed a question whether or piano would endure the longer, but the audience seemed to get a lot of fun out of his performance and clapped themselves into an encore after the Gershwin number, the extra being the favorite "Liebestraum." Mr. Cavicchio's encore after his first group was "Poet and Peasant" by von Suppe. He was also recalled after his second group, playing two numbers, in one of which the audience clapped in time to the music.

Mr. Dwight B. Hill, WLHUV, of 3 Parker road, has been selected to set up an organization of Massachusetts amateur radio operators prepared to furnish organized emergency communication in time of disaster, it was announced this week by Communications Manager F. E. Handy of the American Radio Relay League, national association of radio amateurs.

Mr. Hill's assignment, which carries the title of Emergency Coordinator, is to band together members of the amateur radio service in his community to perfect arrangements for emergency radio communication by hams in the event of natural disasters or other emergencies. In addition to use of normal station equipment working from commercial power, amateur stations using self-powered radio transmitting and receiving equipment are needed. Mr. Hill, as ARRL Emergency Coordinator, will call local meetings of amateurs, establish common operating procedures, and arrange regular drill periods when the hams' personal stations may be mobilized under simulated emergency conditions. His duties also include liaison planning with the local chapter of the American Red Cross and other relief agencies, as suggested in the working understanding the ARRL Emergency Corps has with the national headquarters of the American Red Cross and other agencies. Liaison will be established also with local police service such as fire and police departments.

The War Emergency Radio Service, the Communications Section of the Office of Civilian Defense, was widely supported by radio amateurs during the war. This agency was terminated by the Federal Communications Commission on November 15th last. This returned the far-reaching responsibility for emergency communications to the nation's hams.

WEATHER FAILS TO SPOIL STREET FAIR

Record Crowd At Town Hall Saturday and Monday

A disgruntled weather-man, in an onery mood, produced rain and cold winds on Saturday, for the long awaited EN KA Street Fair.

The inclement weather could not crush the corps of En Ka workers. As early as sever, o'clock in the morning, without a word of complaint, workers started moving the tremendous amount of supplies into the Town Hall. The decision to move meant an entire new set-up. To the credit of EN KA, this stupendous task was accomplished in jig-time.

The entire Town Hall auditorium, had been set up for the supper. Everything was dismantled and transferred to the First Congregational Church. EN KA members are most grateful to Dr. Chidley, and the church committee, who granted permission to use the church and all their wonderful equipment. Everyone lent a helping hand, so with a minimum of confusion the transfer was made. By six o'clock at night, Mrs. Roland Carter and her committee, were ready to serve 550 weary and ravenous guests. The tasty menu served consisted of baked ham, scalloped potatoes, cole slaw, coffee, rolls, pickles, apple pie and ice cream.

H. P. Hood, kindly donated the ice cream, while the United Farmers contributed the cream. Victor Coffee contributed the coffee.

Mrs. Roland R. Carter was the Chairman of this vast project. Helping her were Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, Mrs. Roland Fletcher, Miss Dorothy Hall, Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, Mrs. William Cusack, Mrs. Morris Kerr, Mrs. Raymond Dexter, Mrs. Paul Goddu, Miss Eleanor Dow, Mrs. Kingman Cass, Mrs. Harvey Macaulay, Mrs. Jacob Van Vloten, Mrs. Forrest Bursley, and Mrs. Willard Hudson.

The chefs, jauntily donning chef's hat and aprons dished out the food with a professional flourish. They were Mr. Herbert Wadsworth, Dr. Milne Blanchard, Mr. Jacob Van Vloten, Mr. Kingman Cass, Mr. Robert O'Neil, Mr. Ray Holdsworth.

Mrs. Franklin Lane was in charge of supper tickets. Mr. Allen Kimball and Mr. Roland Carter assisted her.

The waitresses and waiters were high school students, who worked arduously for the cause. They were the Misses Barbara Buffum, Margery Bagbee, Dorothy Buracker, Gerry Clifford, Bunny Elliott, Emily Hood, Mary Johnson, Ann Laird, Nancy Moser, Ruth Morse, Nancy O'Rourke, De-

She mentioned many of the choicest shrubs and those best liked by her and Mr. West.

VETERAN HOUSING

Sunday Canvass Disappointing And Project Back at Start

Sunday's canvass of the Town by Winchester members of Veterans' organizations is reported as very disappointing. Some 20 Veterans turned out to conduct the canvass and their turn-in of questionnaires furnished little to give any assistance in the problem. The Committee is now faced with projecting further plans to alleviate the housing situation so far as Winchester is concerned.

ATTEMPTED TO ROB BOYS

Police Headquarters was notified early Sunday evening that an attempt had been made to take money from Paul Reardon, 9, of 31 Loring avenue and Bruce Mandeville, 8, of 37 Loring avenue.

The boys told Sgt. Joseph Derro and Patrolman Henry Dempsey that as they were walking on upper Main street two older boys, about 15 years old, stopped them and forced them into a hut near the railroad tracks at the rear of 783 Main street.

There the older boys demanded money, twisting the Mandeville boys arm and striking young Reardon to enforce their demands.

When young Reardon's sister, Lorraine, arrived on the scene the older boys ran away in the direction of the center. The Police searched for them with the younger boys and girl, even going through the audience at the Winchester Theatre, but without success.

MRS. MARY ADELAIDE SMITH

Mrs. Mary Adelaide Smith, wife of Lucius Smith and one of Winchester's most widely known residents passed on suddenly Tuesday afternoon, May 21, at her home, 176 Mystic Valley Parkway, of an acute heart attack. She had been busy that day as usual, and the night before had been among those working at the Street Fair at the Town Hall. She was alone at her home and was discovered by Mrs. Helen Walters, secretary in the office of the Town Treasurer, who was delivering a number of housing questionnaires. Mrs. Smith having been secretary of the Winchester Committee on Veterans' Housing.

Mrs. Smith had been working hard in connection with the committee on housing and also had been busy assisting with arrangements for the En Ka Street Fair which she inaugurated in 1935.

Mrs. Smith was born Jan. 1, 1891 in Evanston, Ill., the daughter of John J., and Mary W. (Cole) Flinn. Her father, a newspaper man on the Chicago Tribune became the first editor of the Christian Science Monitor in Boston, taking up residence in Winchester in 1909.

Mrs. Smith graduated from Winchester High School, with the class of 1911. In that year she was a member of the Girls' State Championship basketball team representing the high school. She completed her education at the Sargent School of Physical Education and at Centenary Collegiate Institute in Hackettstown, N. J. For several years she and the then Marjorie Braddock conducted a dancing school in Winchester.

Among her diverse activities, Mrs. Smith always seemed especially interested in En Ka, of which she was an honorary life member. As a schoolgirl she was a member of the old sorority, for many years thereafter until 1932 when she conceived the idea and played a leading part in formulating plans which resulted in the reorganization of the society as a service organization which has contributed materially to a number of worthwhile local charities.

ROTARY NOTES

A largely attended meeting and several guests enjoyed an informal discussion of Telephone Service by our own member, Jack Dick, Manager of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. district office in Winchester. Possessor of a pleasing and friendly personality, Jack spoke interestingly of the great increase in telephone usage, particularly in the toll branch of the service. He extended an invitation to the Club members and their friends to visit the telephone exchange at any time to see the multiple operations necessary to complete a telephone call.

It was a pleasure to have with us our two new members, George Clark and Curtis Ware, who were welcomed to membership in the Club by official greeter, Dick Sheehy.

Ralph Purrington was announced as the winner of the weekly Victory Bond drawing, with a little help being given to his winning effort by Glen Browning and Forbes Norris, both of whom assisted in the drawing.

Price Wilson, Allan Wilde and Don Simonds were selected as the June Program Committee, under the direction of vice-president Pat Foley. However, Chubby Howe has volunteered to aid them by providing a surprise program for the June 6th meeting, if the Program Committee will approve and sanction his offer.

It was voted not to hold a meeting on May 30, Memorial Day and a national holiday. All members are, therefore, reminded that the next regular meeting will be on Thursday, June 6th.

ON BRAILLE PRESS COMMITTEE

Mrs. Sumner C. Jacobs of 3 Meadowcroft road, is a member of the Building Committee of the National Braille Press Inc., which is making an appeal for $65,000 for a building to house its many activities now located in various parts of Boston and the suburbs, and to take care of future expansion.

The "Weekly News," the only newspaper for the blind, was established in Boston in 1927 by Francis B. Ierardi when there was not a single newspaper for the blind. Mr. Ierardi, who lost his sight at the age of 12, felt the need for such a publication because of his own inability to get the current news of the world while it was still news.

Originally intended for the use of blind persons in this state, it is now being sent to all parts of the United States and Canada and the English speaking world free of charge, and is used in schools as classroom work and distributed to libraries and other institutions for the blind.

In their small printing plant in South Boston, with a staff of 50 per cent of which are blind, periodicals for seven different organizations for the blind are printed without profit together with two magazines "Our Special" which contains news on fashions, handicrafts, and household helps; and "The Home Teacher," a professional magazine which are sent all over the world including India, Egypt, South America and Africa.

Charles Boyden is president and treasurer of this organization which has a business office at 50 Congress street.

District Attorney George E. Thompson of Middlesex County seeking nomination and election to his present office is receiving support from women's groups throughout the 54 cities and towns in Middlesex County. Parents of the teen agers realize the influence that District Attorney Thompson as Chief law enforcement officer of this large county has on the important problem of juvenile delinquency. By his humane understanding of the juvenile situation, the Middlesex prosecutor has saved many an erring boy or girl from being branded with a criminal record.

Strict and stern with hardened criminals, Mr. Thompson has however, in his conferences with police officials of the county, reached a solution as to juvenile delinquency, a solution that has worked to the satisfaction and gratitude of those mothers and fathers who have been unfortunate enough to have their youngsters in the courts of our county. These same parents have written District Attorney Thompson expressing their gratitude for his humane administration of his important office.

As a consequence of District Attorney Thompson's handling of these cases, women's groups have been formed in the county, and daily meetings are being held in the various cities and towns of the county to return to the office of District Attorney the present incumbent, Mr. Thompson. Along with the women's groups, prominent independent Democrats, as well as Republicans, have enlisted in the support of the present District Attorney, who they feel is the District Attorney for all the people of Middlesex County and not for any particular group or faction.

Mrs. S. Henry Magruder, the retiring president spoke of the growth of the League and of the increasing recognition everywhere of its non-partisan position in government. Committee reports were read and the slate of officers for the coming year was announced.

President: Mrs. Phillip Woodward.

1st Vice Pres: Mrs. William E. Spaulding.

2nd Vice Pres: Mrs. Wilbert E. Underwood.

Recording Sec: Miss F. Louise Nardin.

Corresponding Sec: Mrs. Charles B. Watson.

Treasurer: Mrs. Donald T. Whittemore.

Directors, Mrs. Reginald Bradlee, Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, Mrs. Nathaniel M. Nichols.

Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, chairman of this year's nominating committee added in regard to the offices of President and Vice President for the year 1946-47, "These next few months are particularly full and busy ones for Mrs. Spaulding. Mrs. Woodward has very generously agreed to act as President for the first part of the year until after the opening Fall meeting, when Mrs. Spaulding will then assume the office of President and Mrs. Woodward will return to the Vice Presidency."

Mrs. William E. Spaulding, the Winchester League's representative at the National Conventions recently held in Kansas City, gave a graphic and vivid description of that meeting.

Mr. Lester Gustin, a Winchester Veteran spoke on a vital subject: "Does Winchester have a Housing Problem?" He said 3,000,000 veterans families are doubled up in the entire country and here in our own community approximately 321 families are searching for living accomodations. Mr. Gustin suggested a Housing Authority be established here in town and that emergency housing of a temporary nature be put up. These houses not to be expected to remain more than three years, therefore he suggested they be placed in positions of prominence in the town. "Better housing will help make a better America" he closed in saying.

Mr. Gustin asked for volunteers to help on the Housing Survey made throughout the town last Sunday. Several League members assisted the American Veterans Committee.

A delightful tea hour followed served by Mrs. Theodore M. Atkinson and Mrs. Revely H. B. Smith as co-chairmen and their committee: Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick, Mrs. Richard H. Frazier, Mrs. J. Girad Chandler and Mrs. E. C. Filler.

Early Sunday evening complaints were received about boys driving golf-balls in the old Highland School yard, the balls occasionally striking neighboring houses. Officer Joseph Quigley put a stop to the practice, warning the boys about any repetitions.

"ANIMILE" AT LARGE!

Several of the boys from the Star press room were spending a sticky lunch hour animadverting with the sages on the Common benches Tuesday noon when our Mr. Boardley chanced to let his languid gaze rove in the direction of the fountain. Almost immediately he galvanized into surprised attention, rising with alacrity from his seat to stand at gaze.

"Whutszat" he barked, pointing in the general direction of the fountain, where those who followed the bead of his sturdy forefinger saw a good sized "animile", or "critter", proceeding at a liesurely gait across the greensward toward Church and Vine streets.

Mr. Boardley's associates shared his surprise and two of the younger members of his little group of thinkers, Larry Penta, and Dick Hakanson, raised an immediate "view halloah" which startled both the "critter", or "animile", and "Alf" McKenzie, popular janitor of the George Washington School, who was on Church street in front of the National Bank.

Of the two, the quadruped reacted more swiftly. Mr. McKenzie simply pointed and goggled, while the "animile" cut out at a rare pace for Vine street with the Messrs. Hakanson and Penta in dogged pursuit. Although considerably shorter of leg than its two-footed pursuers the "critter" easily beat them to a catch-basin in front of Stetson Hall where it tried to hole up.

Finding the catch-basin opening too small to admit its body, the "animile" turned and sat up to face the opposition. The latter, in turn, slowed down to a walk and started to look around for stones with which to even the odds a bit.

Now when there is a window, or even a windshield to be broken anywhere around the center there never seems to be any lack of rocks to do the job, but if you will believe the repeated testimony of those who were in a position to see, there wasn't a doggone pebble let alone a man size rock, anywhere around the premises.

Mr. Penta went on a foraging detail for rocks while Mr. Hakanson, maintaining a discreet distance, kept a wary eye on the quarry.

That eye couldn't have been too wary for while his shock troops were looking for ammunition, the "critter," or "animile", decided to decamp, running like the dickens up past Stetson Hall to disappear over the hill. When the perspiring Mr. Penta returned with enough stone to start the foundation for a fair sized driveway, and began to deploy into light marching order to stalk the enemy, it was discovered that the latter had vamoosed. We don't know which was the more relieved, Larry and "Hakky" on the one hand, or the departed varmint on the other. So far as we could see the boys were satisfied.

Now as to the identity of the "animile", or "critter", there seems to be something of a difference of opinion, with the burden of proof preponderantly on the negative side.

Mr. Hakanson gave its overall dimensions as slightly under three feet and its color as a two-toned brown. Mr. Penta thought it had some gray in it. Both agreed the thing was pretty, and were backed in this contention by Mr. Boardley, who however, couldn't place the thing, exactly. He seemed to incline to the opinion that it might be an otter.

After sifting the testimony carefully and weighing this against that, the Editor, "T. P." from his long experience with flora and fauna, gave it as his judgment that the thing was a weasle. The sports editor refused to hazard a guess, and neither, "Mack" nor Elmer Fletcher, happened to be around.

In the absence of the old trapper, Lou Goddu, other experts were appealed to at long distance and without positive results. Chief Rogers said it could not have been a "banshee", because "banshees" are not that shape and generally wail more or less, "Hennie" Knowlton didn't believe it was a "hoojumsnark" either, for these interesting phenomena usually exceed 25 feet in length at the age of three months, and they do not run fast, "Squire" Franklin stoutly opposed the idea that it might have been a "Whutsis" since even the adult males of this family seldom exceed 14 inches in length.

So there you are! You pays your money and you takes your choice. Probably the mystery will remain unsolved, unless some one of those patient Wedge Pond fishermen should happen to hook the "critter", or "animile", by mistake. And what mistake it would be!

SIMONDS SCORE THREE WINS OVER SNIPE FLEET

Don Simonds served notice in no uncertain fashion that he had returned to his 1944 sailing form, by scoring three wins over the past week-end. And he also proved that rain or shine, light air or near gale wind, he's the skipper to beat.

Saturday afternoon, in the rain, he beat the fleet but only after a beautiful battle with ex-commodore Jim Newman. The race revolved solely around these two and Newman kept his Chippie within reach of Simbad all the way, but just didn't have enough steam to catch Don. Bob Swanson, in his first race in the brand new Swanre came in a not too close third.

Sunday morning's race boils down to a bitterly contested battle between Simonds and Bart Sullivan. Here again, Simbad held a none too secure lead over Burt's Youani, but dependable Don failed to make an error and held his slim margin for victory number two. George Jones new, Loimar, barely beat out Al Litchfield's By-George to win the show spot.

Apparently, his two week-end victories were all Simonds needed to regain the confidence he lacked last year, because on Sunday, afternoon he simply sailed away from the fleet and won by a good 200 yards. The race for second was a thriller between Bart Sullivan, Al Litchfield, Jim Newman and Carl Frezer with Sullivan's Youani finally winning the place position and Carl Frezer in Field's Hardtack II hanging on just long enough to nose out Newman's Chippie.

Need Nylons, Ladies?

We hesitated to mention this earlier for fear of over-subscribing an already tremendously popular party, but now that the zero hour approaches we feel we can let you ladies (and gents) in on a secret. Top prizes to the winners of some of the indoor boat races to be held at the Club this Saturday night, are 12 pairs of precious nylons. No line, no waiting, no fuss, just pick the right boat and you're all set. If the mystic word Nylon means you'll he on hand just remember, Saturday night, May 25th at 8 p. m. at the Club. Tickets are 50 cents per person with refreshments on the house... Sunday's beautiful weather boosteded the Club activity to a new high for the season, with plenty of oldsters as well as youngsters on hand....The Ladies's afternoon Bridge parties which proved so popular last year will start Wednesday, June 12th and continue every other Wednesday throughout the season. You gals better brush up on your Cullertson and Blackwood. Dickie Simonds did a slick job of starting and judging Sunday's Snipe races but, we hasten to add, we're certain it in no way assisted his dad.

On Saturday, May 25, at 1:30 p. m. the annual draw doubles get-acquainted tournament will get under way at the Palmer street courts. Under the capable direction of Park Commissioner William S. Packer and Tom McGowan ten good courts have been made ready to serve as fields for the great tourney of tennis prowess. The women's and men's doubles will start promptly on Saturday; the family and draw mixed doubles will start on Sunday.

All matches previous to the semis and finals can be won by taking two out of three short sets. The semis and finals will require two out of three normal sets. Entry fee is 25 cents per person per event.

WINCHESTER PLACED IN STATE RELAYS

Winchester High School's two mile relay team composed of Jack Grimes, Frank Gunby, Dave Wylie and Tom Kirwan, placed second behind Belmont to pick up the only three points garnered by the locals in the State Relay Carnival at Belmont last Saturday afternoon.

As usual the Class C competition was won by Belmont with 18 points. Watertown scored 8, Melrose, 4 and Dedham and Winchester 3 points each.

In the two-mile event Winchester's Tom Kirwan started away back and picked up a lot of yardage as he reeled off a 2min 6s anchor leg, very good going on the Belmont track, on a day like last Saturday.

Winchester's other entries were Creelman, West, McFarlane and Flynn in the 440 yard relay, Berridge, Dempsey, Whittemore and Barranger in the half-mile and Coe, Berridge, Sorokin and Kirwan in the mile.

In this latter race Winchester was right up with the leaders until the third leg when Sorokin had trouble getting started, losing some 15 to 20 yards which Kirwan couldn't make up.

Brookline won the Class D, or senior class competition, with 9 points, and Wellesley had 14 points to lead the Class B parade. Generally speaking the competition was keen with more schools than usual sending good teams to the meet.

WAKEFIELD, 7; WINCHESTER, 4.

Wakefield High was leading Winchester 7-4 when last Friday afternoon's Middlesex League baseball game between the two schools was called in the 7th inning because of rain. The summary:

INVESTIGATE BUILDING IN WINCHESTER

To the Editor of the Star:

As a result of our canvassing experience in the recent local housing survey, several conclusions are immediately apparent.

It is not surprising that most home owners interviewed were either (1) willing but unable to help, or (2) evasive in their answers to the point of reluctance. Many townspeople, ourselves included, seem to be frankly dubious about any benefits this survey may bring. The feeling is general that a remedy is called for, but that this one is inadequate.

Even if considerable space were uncovered, the logical result of this survey could mean nothing but the moving of veterans and their families from a room or rooms in one house to a room or rooms in another house. Who is to say where they are more welcome? This isn't the kind of housing our veterans or anyone else desire. It is at best a most temporary and unsatisfactory stopgap, and one which can merely produce an equally frictional situation.

The most striking inconsistency in Winchester is the preponderance of vacant lots with little or no building in evidence - in sharp contrast to the number of houses and projects arising in neighboring towns. Remember that no matter how small, crowded together, or poorly built these new houses might be, they would still be highly preferable to attic suites with cold running water, or single rooms with kitchen privileges.

Even before any further action is taken on this present stopgap housing measure, it would seem desirable to investigate the causes for Winchester's negligence in the matter of building. With an eye to emergency modification, the town housing committee would be well advised to look into the present zoning laws, which appear to be the prime factor, among several, in the hampering action now in evidence.

The pressing note of this emergency would seem to require action in the near future, and would certainly seem of more immediate importance than less crucial matters to be discussed at the June Town Meeting.

We suggest that a plan modifying the zoning laws, and doing everything possible to accelerate the building program, be allowed to supersede other less urgent business scheduled for this Town Meeting.

Our primary consideration is naturally our most critical problem - housing.

NEED FOR VETERANS' HOUSING

To the Editor of the Star:

Not only do I feel a strong desire but an obligation to write a letter to the people of our town through your paper. My subject is our greatest immediate problem, "Our local effort towards providing housing for veterans."

I wish first to repeat a statement I have already made many times. If Winchester had ont a single returning veteran it would still have an obligation to our National housing problem. On the basis of the Federal Housing Expeditor, Mr. Wyatt's figures we may believe that at least 3,000,000 veterans' families are doubled up or otherwise inadequately housed throughout the country. From that National figure we may determine Winchester's obligation to amount to over 300 homes.

Why do I continually refer to this as an obligation? For the reasons usually advanced for veterans' benefits, such as, a show of gratitude or that it is their well earned right? Certainly not! All of America was pledged and devoted to winning the war and all America deserves the credit. In our mutual efforts, however, those who served away from home, we must admit, at this stage of the game, have had less opportunity to secure those basic American ingredients, a home and a job, than those who remained at home. Now, aside from the humanitarian aspect of the situation, what is our obligation? Realizing the tremendous potential influence of 12,000,000 veterans or even half that number, on the future of the United States, I know the vital necessity for guiding them into the paths of good citizenship. Idleness and lack of a home is the basis for other and detrimental paths. Pro-fascist and other un-American organizations are already gaining force in every corner of our country. Many of these are veterans' organizations, small and impotent at present, to be sure. Their potency ten years from now depends entirely on this country's balance of good and bad citizens, patriotic and un-patriotic Americans. Now, perhaps, you understand what I mean by obligations. Not necessarily an obligation to the individual veteran but a definite obligation to the future of this Country.

There has been a board formed in this town, the Committee on Housing of Veterans, for the purpose of determining the need and facilities for housing of veterans locally, and to present their findings and recommendations to the next town meeting. What their report will reveal, I am sure, will show a need for housing. What will be done as a result of that report will depend entirely on the citizens of Winchester. Let's not forget those shady streets and beautiful homes in Nuremburg, Munich, Berlin, Wurzberg and many more, where complacent and short sighted citizens watched the world go by and lived to see it tumbled about their heads.

Such a destiny is not the will of any of us but to avoid such an end, Winchester, and every town like Winchester, must start to realize its place as part of the whole, not as a refuge from responsibility. Let's take the necessary steps on this most important issue and immediately look further to determine our next step, or, shall we say, our next investment in the future of America.

Lester C. Gustin, Jr., Chairman
Winchester Chapter American Veterans Committee.

THE WINCHESTER DOG TRAINING CLUB

The Winchester Dog Training Club's dog of the week: Today's dog of the week is ably disproving the theory that "you can't teach an old dog new tricks." Minor, a Pomeranian-spitz owned by Mrs. F. G. Williams of 247 Washington street, is 5 years old and has only been attending class for seven weeks. Minor is a member of the advanced class, and Mrs. Williams is more than pleased with the results, as Minor is a pet, and had never had any training before attending class.

Minord is a rather unusual dog in several ways. She received her name under strange circumstances. Minor's original owner was a musician and owned a large dog called Major before he acquired Minor. Being a musician, and already owning a dog called Major, he decided to call his new pet Minor. Mrs. Williams was given the dog later and the original name was kept. Minor is a dog that can spell. Her mistress and master have to spell "out" and "walk", not frontwards, but backwards!

The Marshfield Training Club has invited the members of the Winchester Dog Training Club to attend an exhibition which they are holding next Tuesday evening, May 28, at 8 p. m. in the Scituate High School. All the regular obedience classes will be judged, besides a special class for beginners. This class will consist of the regular novice exercises, but all work will be performed on leash. There will be a sign off of Route 3A pointing the way to the Scituate High School. The cost of entering a dog in one of the classes will be 75c. The admittance price for persons without dogs will be 50c. Refreshments will be served.

Two new members, Mrs. R. A. Nelson of 20 Governor's avenue and Mrs. David W. Brennan of 40 Allen road, attended class for the first time last Tuesday evening. Mrs. Nelson had a toy fox terrier, and Mrs. Brennan a young Irish setter puppy. The setter pup was in a mischievous mood and his antics kept everyone, including his mistress, in gales of laughter. Both dogs did very well for the first time.

STUDIO GUILD EXHIBITION

The regular Annual Exhibition of the Studio Guild of Winchester opened on Wednesday, May 22nd, with a large and appreciative gathering of artists and friends. Sunshine and spring flowers added to the attractiveness of the new Studio, where nearly a hundred pictures and sketches, all of them work of the members of the Guild, are being shown. The high standard of art which governs the efforts of this group, the varying individualities which appear in each person's separate approach to her subject, and the really professional achievement of some of the more advanced students, all point to the high quality of leadership and instruction which is provided by their teacher, Mrs. Elizabeth L. Lobingier. The exhibition is especially graced by a few of Mrs. Lobingier's own paintings which she has generously loaned for the occasion.

Public Invited

The Exhibition will be open on Monday and Tuesday of next week, May 27th and 28th, from 2 to 5 in the afternoon. All who are interested in seeing the pictures are most cordially invited to come in at either of those times. The place is the hall over Randall's ice cream parlor, where the Studio Guild is now permanently located. The entrance is next door to Randall's, and the Studio now leased by the Guild is on the second floor directly opposite the head of the stairs.

This little club whose sole purpose is the active study of art, is one of the most successful organizations in Winchester. Ever since its foundation in September, 1937, it has had a full membership and a long waiting list. The whole class meets regularly every Wednesday morning for instruction with the teacher, while smaller groups work together on other days at the Studio, which is open to all members at all times. In good weather, activities are often transferred out of doors, for practise in landscape painting. At least once a year there is an all-day picnic at Gloucester or elsewhere, with painting in the morning and the afternoon. The President of the Studio Guild is Mrs. Robinson S. Whitten of Everett avenue, and the teacher is Mrs. John L. Lobingier of Manchester road.

ENTRIES FOR STATE MEET

Track Coach John Downes has entered the following members of the Winchester High School track team in the State meet at Newton on Saturday: 100 yards, Flynn and Dillingham; 220 yards, Berridge and Coe; 880 yards, Kirwan and Grimes; Broad jump, McFarlane and Dillingham; Shotput, West and Whittemore.

Of the local entries, long Tom Kirwan and Johnny West have the best chances to place. Kirwan should be one of the boys to be in the Class B half, having done 2min 6 sec his last time out at Belmont. The best Winchester time we can recall was Judde Cross's 2min 2 and 2.5 secs. at the Harvard interscholastics back before the war. Coach Downes expected Kirwan to equal or better those figures, but Long Tom has been in his best this spring. If he is right Saturday, he'll be hard to beat and he may get under Cross's figures if conditions are favorable. Cross ran a lot of miles the year he made his record and could have gone faster had he been pressed.

Winchester's recorded competitive mark for the shot we know about is Bob Gardner's 44ft 6in in the Exeter all-class meet in 1937. West has exceeded these figures in practice and with any sort of luck ought to break 45 ft Saturday.

ELKS BASEBALL WEDNESDAY

The Winchester Elks Baseball Team will open its home season at Leonard Field on Wednesday, May 29 at 6:15 meeting the Melrose A. C. who have already been playing a very good brand of baseball.

The Elks will have an all Veteran team on the field composed of this lineup:

Rod MacDonald, 3b
Frank Proyinzano, 2b
Rusty Donaghey, c
Red Sobin, ss
Joe McKee, rf
Al MacDonnell, lf
Slicker Coss, 1b
Jimmie Donaghey, cf
Bob Farrell, p.

Everyone of these boys saw action during the past war and are now home to play the sport that they fought to protect their right to play. Also ready to play are Don Thomann, Beanie Perry, Sam Provinzano, John Murphy and Carl Johnson.

The Elks won the Eastern Mass. Twi League Championship in 1941 and this is the first time together since then and we hope the fans will turn out to give them the support they deserve.

TO SEND DIABETIC BOYS TO CAMP

Through its executive board, of which Mrs. Raymond Terhune and Mrs. Arthur Robbins of Winchester are members, the Massachusetts Committee on Social Service of the United German General Alliance is conducting a campaign to raise money for its camp for diabetic boys which they sponsor in collaboration with Dr. Elliott P. Joslin and his staff of the George F. Baker Clinic of the Deaconess Hospital.

There has long been a need for a high-grade camp where diabetic boys can have camping advantages such as are enjoyed by other boys and yet have the special care necessary for their safety and well-being. This will now be accomplished at Camp Tonawandah on Lake Pleasant, in New London, N. H., which will be run for the benefit of diabetic boys exclusively, of the ages of seven to 15. The camp will be directed by its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Bussell of Medford, Mass. Mr. Bussell is physical director at the Medford High School, his wife is a graduate occupational therapist, and they will be assisted by a corps of counsellors chosen for their camping experience and interest in boys.

The diabetic care given the boys will be in line with the best medical knowledge, as to diet, tests, and proper routine. Two graduate nurses, personally selected by Dr. Joslin for their training and experience in the care of diabetics, will give day and night supervision of this part of the camp program, and they will be assisted by a third-year medical student who will be the laboratory technician. Weekly visits, for which no charge is made, will be made by Dr. Allen Joslin or Dr. Priscilla White of the Deaconess staff to check up on the progress made by each boy, and to prescribe what ever treatment is indicated by the reports.

To arouse public interest in the need for this specialized camp, members of the executive board of the Massachusetts Committee are holding benefit parties in the several communities in which they live. Their aim is to assure every boy who needs it the chance to go to Camp Tonawandah, regardless of his ability to pay for his stay. Mrs. Raymond C. Terhune, Mrs. Paul H. Chapman, Mrs. Everett T. Jidder, Mrs. Reginald Bradder and Mrs. Arthur G. Robbins will be co-hostesses in Winchester, at a dessert-bridge to be held in the parlors of the Unitarian Church at 12:45 p. m. on Tuesday, May 28th.

HIGH SCHOOL GOLFERS DROPPED TWO

The Winchester High School golf team dropped two matches this week, the first Monday to Belmont at Winchester, 1½ to 7½, and the second to Brookline at Brookline, 4-5.

William Zirkel, Gordon Mills, Elmer Zirkel, Ralph Bonnell, Robert Zirkel and Dick Young played Monday for Winchester in that order. In Wednesday's match Robert Roth replaced Robert Zirkel.

MRS. MARY A. SMITH

For two years after the reorganization she was advisor on the Board of the Society and it was she who in 1935 proposed the idea of an "alley fair" which became the En Ka Street Fair, one of Winchester's most popular community events, socially and in a charitable sense.

Mrs. Smith was editor of the first Street Fair News issued in connection with the fair, and had been an active worker at the booths each year. She was also a member of the Winton Club, another town service organization; of the Women's Republican Club, of which she was the first treasurer; and of the Republican Town Committee. She was also a member, and past secretary of the Bethel Home Garden Club; and several years ago was actively identified with the movement which resulted in the opening of a recreation center in Winchester. She served as town meeting member for Precinct 1 from 1929 to 1936.

With two sons in the service during World War II she was actively identified with local work for veterans and was chairman of the En Ka Service Flag Committee in charge of arrangements for the presentation to the town by the Society of a handsome Service Flag.

Especially interested in school matters, Mrs. Smith was president of the Winchester Mothers' Association in 1933. In 1939 she was president of the Junior High School Parent Teacher Association and she also played a leading part in organizing a parent-teacher group at Winchester High School. While serving as president of the George Washington School P. T. A. she instituted "Dad's Night", now a popular P. T. A. feature. She was also in large measure responsible for the erection of the memorial flagpole at the Junior High School, in honor of Mrs. Harrison Parker, who founded the original Mothers' Association.

When the Winchester Theatre opened Mrs. Smith was chosen to complete local arrangements for the party which was held on the opening night. For a time she served as hostess at the theatre, and later was manager of the house. While in this capacity she was appointed a Police officer by the Selectmen, being the first woman to hold such an appointment in town.

On Aug. 24, 1918, she married Lucius Smith of Malden, who survives her, with two sons, Lucius Smith of Winthrop, Army aviator during World War II, and Pfc. Talbot Smith, teletype operator in the Communications Division of the Army Air Forces now in Korea. There are also surviving a sister, Mrs. Daniel Roche of Chicago, Ill., a brother, James Miller Flinn of Evanston, Ill., and a granddaughter, Carol Smith. Another brother, John Cunningham Flinn, of Beverly Hills, Cal., motion picture executive, died on March 2 of this year.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel with Mr. Ernest Wright, first reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Winchester, officiating. Interment will be in the Smith family lot in Forrestdale Cemetery, Malden.

COMMENTATOR TOLD OF WINCHESTER'S HOUSING EFFORT

Marvin Behrens, news commentator heard Monday through Saturday at 12:05-12:15 p. m., over WBZ, referred in his broadcast Saturday, May 18, to Winchester's effort to meet the challenge presented in the housing shortage, especially as it affects returning veterans and their families.

After recounting the Winchester plan for securing accommodations, from the establishment of a committee at the March town meeting to the every-home canvass on Sunday, Mr. Behrens concluded with the statement: "It will be interesting to watch the June Town Meeting in Winchester, and to see whether or not Winchester solves its veterans housing problems. But whether or not Winchester solves the problem, no one can say that it didn't try."

INJURED AS CAR HIT POLE

Frank I. Klayman of 85 Winchester street, Brookline, was painfully injured Monday afternoon at 2:30 when the Plymouth sedan he was driving toward Arlington on Cambridge street struck an Edison Light pole on the right hand side of the road near Arlington street.

The pole was broken off by the impact and Klayman's car was disabled. He was taken to the Winchester Hospital by Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy in a cruising car. He was bleeding from the right eye and complained of injuries to his right leg and right chest. After treatment by Dr. Philip J. McManus, he was removed by the Police to the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital in Boston.

Klayman told the Police the accident occurred when he fell asleep at the wheel.

CORRECTION

In the phonograph record ad of Hancock Stores, 15 Thompson street, in another column of the Star there is an error in the price quoted on the Snow White and Seven Dwarfs album. The price should be $1.59 each set, not for the complete album.

Big "Bob" Jackson, star left end on Bill West's State Championship football team a few years back, has been discharged from the Navy and is now at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson of Cross street. He has been for some months in the Pacific theatre and plans to enter college. Some football coach ought to be happy to see the big "Choo Choo" on his club.

On a Service Basis

At the gas station, you buy 1 gallon or 10, according to your wishes. At our bank, checking service is on a similar basis. You draw one check, or many, and you pay for our service according to the amount you receive, just as you do for gasoline.

In the case of regular checking accounts, depositors pay by carrying a sufficient balance which, when invested, will cover the cost of checking services rendered, or by the payment of service charges. In this way each account stands on its own feet. As a means of saving time, simplifying money records and having an automatic receipt for every bill you pay, a checking account offers you a full measure of convenience.

We cordially invite you to start your checking account here at our bank.

and avoid the pains of over-indulgence in procrastination. Replacement costs have gone skyward . . . everything is at a premium. Authorities, not in the insurance business, claim the national average increase in property values is 40 per cent and the trend is still upward. If you look to your insurance for protection against loss, and you should, let us determine whether or not your judgment is sound and safe. That is our business and a service to you. GIRL SCOUTS NEWS

The Brownie Scouts of Winchester are looking forward, weather permitting, to a Pet Show at Manchester Field on Saturday, May 25th, from two to four o'clock. Besides the always exciting showing of pets, there are to be pony rides and free ice cream lollipops for Brownies. Parents, sisters, brothers and friends are cordially invited to attend, though the ice cream cannot be free to them and the pony rides will be more expensive. Any pet, "from a horse to a mouse", will be acceptable, but all must be under proper restraint, dogs on strong leashes, smaller animals in boxes or baskets. Mr. Bryer of the Animal Shelter has kindly consented to act as judge, awarding prizes on the basis of evidence of loving care rather than of pedigree, and will give a few helpful hints on the proper bringing up of animals, including important points to be observed when taking them with you on a trip.

On Monday, May 27th, the first meetings for those planning to help at Day Camp will be held at the Girl Scout office, from one to three for the adults, at three o'clock for the aides. Though we already have enough aides signed up we should be very glad to have a few more adults for any amount of time they are able to give, one day a week, full time for two or three weeks, or, best of all, full time for all six weeks. Camp opens June 18th and will be every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., until July 28th. Call the office, Winchester 2592, for further information, and try to come on Monday afternoon if you hope to be able to help at all.

The 27th annual meeting of Massachusetts Girl Scouts will be held at Cedar Hill on May 28th from 10:30 to 3:30. Any adult members, i. e. Council members or leaders, who are interested should notify the office on Monday.

Church Services

SUNDAY, MAY 26, 1946

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Sunday services at 11 a. m.
Wednesday testimonial meeting, 8 p. m.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sunday and holidays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and in all of its branches, on Sunday, May 26.

The Golden Text, "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?" is from I Corinthians (3:16). Other Bible citations include: "What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?" (I Corinthians 6:19).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The material body and mind are temporal, but the real man is spiritual and eternal. The identity of the real man is not lost, but found through this explanation; for the conscious infinitude of existence and of all identity is thereby discerned and remains unchanged" (p. 302).

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. Theodore C. Browne of Calumet road was elected to the Layman Council of the Unitarian Layman's League at the annual meeting held Tuesday at the Parish House of the Arlington Street Church in Boston.

Eleven-year-old Richard Pryor of 17 Crescent road deserves a big hand for reporting to the Police that he found a sum of money on Manchester Field Tuesday afternoon. Richard evidently believes "honesty is the best policy", and he is right.

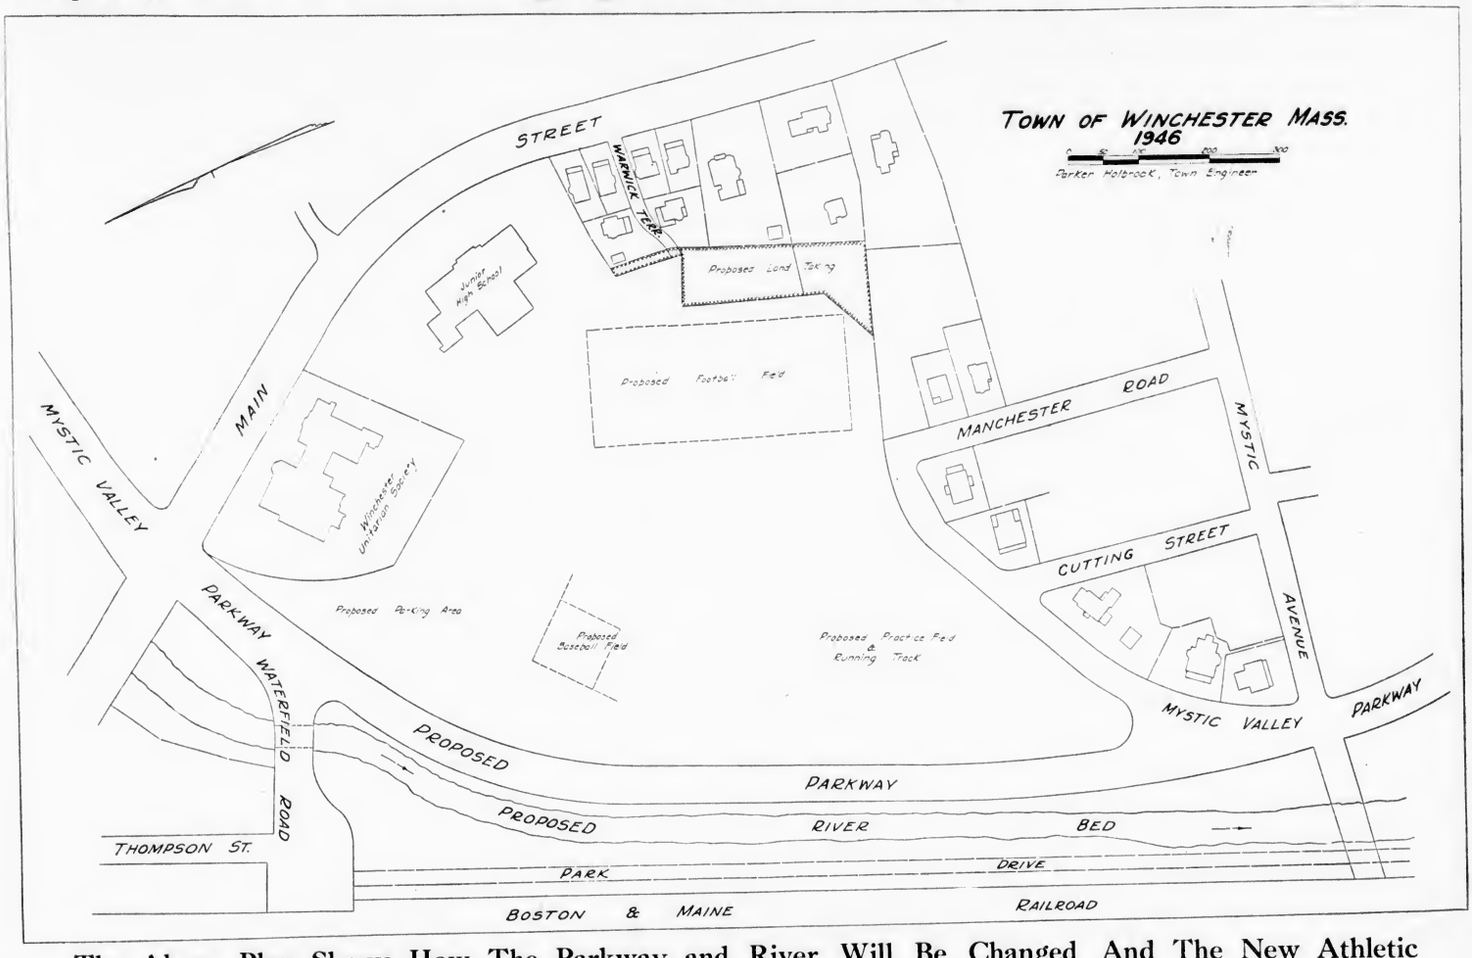
Proposed Plan For Enlarging And Increasing High School Facilities



The Above Plan Shows How The Parkway and River Will Be Changed And The New Athletic Field Laid Out To Accommodate Larger High And Junior High Schools. This is the Plan To Be Recommended By The Special Town Committee At The Town Meeting To Be Called June 13.

To the Editor of the Star:

On behalf of the Committee on School Facilities and Activities, which was appointed by virtue of a vote of the Annual Representative Town Meeting held on March 21, 1946, I am writing to acquaint you and the citizens of Winchester with the recommendations to be made by said Committee at the Special Town Meeting to be held on June 13th next.

As you will recall, the Committee was directed to consider, in the light of present and future public building needs of the town, the necessity, desirability and feasibility of:

1. Enlarging the Junior High School Building.
2. Enlarging and modernizing the High School Building.
3. Combining and enlarging the facilities of said buildings.
4. Constructing a new High School Building in another location.
5. Providing an athletic field or fields for the pupils of said schools, with suitable equipment and accommodations for participants in athletic activities and spectators.
6. Locations available for a new High School Building and an athletic field or fields, and in general, to consider what and by what practical means increased and improved accommodations and facilities may be provided for the pupils of the seventh to twelfth grades, inclusive, for educational and athletic purposes.

The Committee was requested to file such preliminary report as circumstances permit on or before the thirteenth day of June next, and to prepare a final report with its recommendations and estimates in season for printing and distribution with the warrant for the next Town Meeting to be held after the first day of September in the current year.

Manifestly, there has been too little time since organization of the Committee on April 11 to consider and report on so comprehensive a program as outlined above, but after careful consideration, we have decided unanimously to recommend against purchasing the Ginn Estate either as a site for a new High School or an athletic field. Instead, we will recommend that the Town proceed immediately with the plan suggested to us by Town Engineer Parker Holbrook for relocating the Aberjona River and Mystic Valley Parkway to the westerly side of Manchester Field, substantially as outlined in an article on the front page of the "Star" issued on May 10. The accompauying sketch will show what is proposed, perhaps better than a verbal description. Tentative locations are shown for baseball diamond and track, together with separate practice and playing fields for football. You will note that the latter is placed at the southerly end of the present playground in rear of the Junior High Gym, which will be used as a field house for home and visiting teams, thus fulfilling a long-felt need for such a facility. We plan to recommend the taking of a small parcel of land comprising the high bank along the easterly side of the playing field, as this will make an excellent site for permanent or semi-permanent stands to be erected at some future date. It is expected that portable wooden stands now on hand or on order will be used for games this fall. Our final recommendation in connection with this project will be the erection of a fence to enclose the football playing field, and for the present, we believe that no further fencing will be necessary around the rest of the field. Thus, the present status of Manchester Field as a public playground will not be altered, since a substantial area of the new field, including the baseball diamond, will remain open to the public at all times when not required for school athletic activities.

We believe that this plan has many advantages over purchase of the Ginn Estate, among them the following:

1. Estimated cost to the Town for relocation of River and Parkway is approximately $70,000 less than the asking price for the Ginn Estate.

2. If not purchased by the Town, the Ginn Estate may be developed for private housing which will bring in substantial tax revenue. This might conceivably amonnt to as much as $15,000 to $20,000 per year.

3. Purchase of the Ginn Estate now, would practically commit the Town to construction of a new High School, whereas under the proposed plan no such commitment is necessary, and there will be nothing to interfere with enlarging and modernizing the present High School Building if found desirable after thorough study of the problem.

4. If, on the other hand, the Town should decide to build a new High School, it can be located on the edge of the new field, possibly westerly from the Unitarian Church, which would be a much more central location and more accessible from all bus lines than the Ginn Estate.

5. The proposed plan will provide a superior athletic field with ample room for all outdoor sports, which will be readily accessible to pupils of both Junior and Senior High Schools regardless of the location ultimately selected for the High School.

The suggestion has been made to interchange the Junior and Senior High Schools and we have given some thought to this idea. To date we have found no justifiable reason for recommending such a change, but will continue our study of the problem along with the many others that confront us. Without question, the Junior High School Building will have to be substantially enlarged either to accommodate the pupils of grades 7, 8 and 9 or grades 10, 11 and 12.

During the course of our investigation, it has appeared to us that the most pressing problem confronting the School Administration, is the serious overcrowding of the Wyman School. Some years ago the Town purchased a site for an elementary school comprising approximately 4 acres, located on the hillside west of Cambridge Street at the junction of Samoset and Emerson Roads. We believe that this school should be constructed as promptly as conditions permit, and are therefore recommending the appointment of a Building Committee with sufficient funds to cover necessary engineering advice and preparation of plans and estimates for school building and playground, to be submitted to the next Annual Representative Town Meeting for approval.

GUILD SHOW OPENS

Focusing attention on contemporary Art locally, is the current show of the Studio Guild, which opened May 22 in the Guild's new quarters at 9 Mt. Vernon street. The studio is in itself an attractive setting—it's huge sky light and adequate space meet the practical requirements of the artist. On Wednesday last it wore the festive garb of spring flowers in decorative groupings and on the tea table in honor of the opening.

Assembled is a group of pictures having considerable merit. Although the subject matter is not wide in scope, treatment is varied, and the accent on local scenes is appealing.

The water colors seemed to have particular spontaneity. "McCormick House" of Mrs. Stanley Cairncross had unusual charm of composition and color tone; Mrs. W. J. Bowne's "Winchester Roof Tops" limned tree tracery against snowy roofs in a deft manner and Mrs. Robinson Whitten's still life was distinctive, the white of the old fashioned pitcher pleasantly punctuating the "Blue Plate." Mrs. Lobingier's "Sudden Storm Over Rockport" was pervaded with that "difficult to obtain" sense of atmosphere which always characterizes her work. Her oils "The Pocket-Rockport" and "Concord Farmhouse", a blend of mellow tone and sun on old colonial architecture, display the balance and symmetry which distinguish the leader of the Guild in Art circles.

Among the oils revealing a brush with respect for texture and structure is Mrs. Ejnar Bratt's "From the Garden" where copper, ceramic and vegetable are realistically handled. Mrs. Gerald Curtis has succeeded with similar competence in expressing the velvety quality of begonia leaves.

Imaginative and clever is Mrs. Paul Howard's "Hard to Bear", the engaging little fellow with his droopy paws vying for attention. Mrs. Kenneth Hall's "Fruit Medley" has both pattern and quality. Mrs. Marshall Symmes handles shasta daisies with dexterity, the entire bouquet fresh with color.

Mrs. John Condon's "Winchester House" is pleasing, as are "Hilltop" of Mrs. Saltmarsh, "The Nantucket Moors" of Mrs. Simonds and the cool "Blizzard" of Mrs. Nardin.

Interesting studies are Mrs. Charles Smith's tiny bird, Mrs. Mugzah's graceful ivy, Mrs. Jellison's "Still Life", Mrs. Aseltine's "Peonies". Mrs. Fassett's green swan was jolly, Mrs. Carrier's roses most attractive as was Mrs. Ashenden's gay bittersweet against blue.

"My Garden" of Mrs. Enman is a lovely bit of lilting color and close by Mrs. Allen Eaton's white chrysanthemums bloom with decorative ability. The only portraits in the exhibit are "Marcia" and "Scott" two pastels of winsome young faces delicately drawn by Mrs. Ross Cunningham. A small collection of pencil sketches completes the show.

Seeing the entries is a pleasant way to spend time. Over the years the difference and development of technique in the group is interesting to observe. The whole is an altogether satisfying collection.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

The last meeting of the season was held last Tuesday afternoon at Lyceum Hall at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Michael Hintlian, president, conducted a short business meeting. At the conclusion of the meeting President Hintlian gave a most interesting talk on her recent southern trip, when she visited Miami Beach, Florida, Havana, Cuba and Jamaica in the British West Indies. She brought back some lovely baskets, bags and hats, which were made by the natives of Jamaica, B. W. I. All who have not visited these interesting and beautiful places, will certainly wish to do so after hearing this most informative and descriptive talk by Mrs. Hintlian. We enjoyed every minute of it.

There was also an exhibition of work done by the painting class during the past months which included beautiful trays, waste paper baskets, boxes, etc., which were well worth seeing. Tea was served under the direction of Mrs. William Murray and a large committee.

A Memorial Mass for the deceased members was held last Wednesday morning at 6 a. m. at St. Mary's Church. The members attended in a body.

The annual Communion Sunday for members and their daughters will be held next Sunday morning, May 26 at St. Mary's Church at 8 o'clock after which a breakfast will be served at Lyceum Hall at 9 o'clock. All members are invited to attend. Reservations are still being accepted by Chairmen Mrs. William Murray and her committee.

Last Friday afternoon, upon the complaint of the Manager of the Woolworth Store in the Center, Officer William Callahan took a 16 year old Winchester boy to Headquarters, it being alleged he had stolen some pencils and several books of comics from the Woolworth Store. After his name was taken he was taken home by Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy.

SMITH CLUB PLANT SALE

The Smith Club is having its annual plant sale tomorrow at Central green. Under the guiding hands of Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. Henry Spencer, Mrs. Clarence Whorf and their committee, annuals, perennials and potted plants are offered for sale, for the benefit of the full scholarship given to a Winchester girl at Smith. Mrs. Harold Farnsworth and her committee are planning an especially good luncheon of sandwiches, dessert and coffee from 12 to 2 p. m.

Mrs. Richard Parkhurst has charge of beautiful Memorial Day baskets which are offered for the first time. Come and enjoy the party, the food, the gardens and take home enough plants to make your own gardens lovely all season.

The Winchester Fire Department answered an alarm from Arlington Box 394 at Old Mystic street and Hutchinson road at 11:34 Monday night. The alarm proved to be false. Arlington sent several pieces of apparatus to the box.

WINCHESTER MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Annual Meeting May 28.

The Winchester Mothers' Association will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday, May 28, at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Henry Dellicker, 15 Grove street.

It is hoped that the teachers and all Winchester Mothers will take advantage of this opportunity to meet and exchange ideas, as well as to hear reports of what each school has accomplished during the year.

Mr. Forbes Norris, superintendent of schools, will speak on the subject, "Mothers Clubs, an Educational Force in the Community." There will also be election of officers for the coming year.

Mrs. K. Foster Cleaves is in charge of refreshments, which, if the weather permits, will be served in Mrs. Dellicker's garden.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Antiques Pilgrimage June 5

A pilgrimage to the Willard Homestead at Still River, home of Mrs. Eleanor Hudson Welch, is planned for Wednesday, June 5, leaving the Winchester Trust Co., promptly at 10 a. m.

All members of the Fortnightly are cordially invited to join the Antiques Committee on this trip. Mrs. Welch, a member of our own club and a former National Chairman of the General Federation Committee for the Preservation of Antiques, has sent a most gratious invitation to all. Her beautiful old home in its lovely setting is one of the choicest places that this committee ever visits, and it is hoped that many will be able to avail themselves of this opportunity.

In view of the present difficulties and delays connected with restaurant eating, it has been suggested that each should bring her own picnic lunch. And in order that Mrs. Welch may know how many to expect, and also to make possible the arrangement of transportation for all who desire it, it will be positively necessary to make reservations in advance with the committee.

Before Monday, June 3, please notify one of the following if you plan to go: Mrs. Alice Andrews, Win. 0017, Mrs. Anna Gleason, Win. 1995-R, Mrs. Alice Greenwood, Win. 0932-W.

The Boston Edison Company store at 2 Mt. Vernon street, will be closed on Saturdays during June, July, August and September. The all-day Saturday closing was in effect last year, when it was established that it was not practicable to remain open for minimum utilization during the summer months. All Edison Shops in the greater Boston area will follow this seasonal schedule.

DR. ALLEY ON CONFERENCE COMM.

Dr. Otis E. Alley, head of the chemistry department at Winchester High School, is one of the committee members handling arrangements for the Eighth Summer Conference of the New England Association of Chemistry Teachers, to be held at Middlebury College Aug. 19-25. Dr. Ina M. Granara of Simmons College is conference chairman.

EN KA FAIR

borah Symmes, Nancy Townley-Tilson, Ginger Wolff, Susan St. Clair, Lesley Tucker, and Janet Van Vleten. Mr. David Coon, Roger Creelman, Shorty Tucker, David Thomas, Bobby Horne, Jimmy Hennessey, Dick Richmond, John Wallace, Bob Singer, Paul Dillingham, John Hammon, Jimmy St. Clair, Dennison Goddard, White Keyes, and Donald Ducharme.

The Town Hall having been cleared for action, tables were then set up, all around the hall. In the center was located the all important Chance Booth. All day and until the Ford was raffled off at midnight the chance committee did a land office business.

Mrs. Forrest L. Pitman with Mrs. Alvin M. Litchfield as Co-chairman and Mrs. Cheney E. Cook, as Sub-Chairman, were in charge of this booth. Their assistants were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Flanders, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ives, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Franklin J. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. MacArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Bolter, Mr. Forrest L. Pitman, Mr. Cheney E. Cook, Mr. Alvin M. Litchfield and Miss Judith Flanders.

At approximately 11:30 Mr. Ralph Bonnell appeared on the stage to draw the lucky number. Beside him stood the inimitable Morris Kerr at the mike, as announcer. A tense moment preceded the drawing as thousands of hushed people stood around expectantly.

The lucky number was 27738. It was held by Mr. Raymond P. Johnson of 3 Lincoln road, Woburn.

Mr. Johnson will be remembered as a former manager of Woolworth's 5 and 10 cent store, in Winchester. He formerly lived on Grayson road in Winchester. At the present time, he is the manager of the C. E. Riecks Variety Store in Woburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have three children. They have had no car since before the war. Congratulations to Mr. Johnson, EN KA is happy for you and hope you'll enjoy the new Ford.

The tables lined up on one side of the hall were the Attic, in charge of Mrs. Wilfred McKenzie, and the Gift Booth, under the supervision of Mrs. Ferdinand Hawley.

Around the Attic teemed the usual throng who seek unrecognized trasures. From the sizeable bundles carried away, one assumes that they were rewarded.

Working with Mrs. McKenzie were: Mrs. Dana D. Sawyer, Mrs. Florence Neilson, Mrs. Charles Lovejoy, Mrs. Percy Bugbee, Mrs. Charles J. Emerson, and Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes.

Though the Gift Booth had several pre-sales, there still was an enormous amount of stock on their tables. This committee consisted of ladies chosen for their ability and talent in painting and sewing. Mrs. Ferdinand Hawley was the Chairman, Mrs. John McLean, her Co-chairman. Assisting them were Mrs. Fred Oliver, Mrs. Harold Dover, Mrs. Walter P. Keyes, Mrs. Warren F. Goddu, Mrs. John A. Tarbell, Mrs. Whitelaw Wright, Miss Constance Lane, and Miss Ann Kibbe.

A large sign on the stage read "The Country Store." In charge of this ambitious undertaking was Mrs. Victor Wolff with Mrs. Samuel D. Cole as Co-Chairman. Their corps of workers, dressed in overalls and painters caps were: Mrs. Philip Bartlett, Mrs. William Beal, Mrs. Boulden Burbank, Mrs. Philip J. Woodward, Mrs. Leon Sargent, Mrs. Evan Kibbe, Mrs. Vaughan Harmon, Mrs. Harold Stevens, Mrs. Harris Richardson, Mrs. Adelaide Brackett, Mrs. Robert Fletcher, Mrs. George N. Chatfield, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCracken and the Misses Denyse Wolff and Ruth Morse.

The Country Store was laden with merchandise of every description from millinery to car polish. The shop proved a mecca for buyers through out the day and evening. The merchants in town were most generous with their donations. It is hoped that all of them visited the country store and saw the marvelous display, which they made possible.

On the side of the Town Hall toward the parking lot, was located the Garden Booth. Mrs. Theodore Elliott, unable to use the picturesque Island, still was able to create the illusion of a garden. The lovely flowers, plants, and shrubs she had for sale were arranged most attractively. One very practical article for sale were the burlap sheets used for gathering leaves.

Mrs. Stephen Nichols was Co-Chairman. The workers were Mrs. William W. Goodhue, Mrs. Harold Twombly, Mrs. Charles Nichols, Mrs. Herbert T. West, Mrs. John B. Wills, Mrs. Frederick Chamberlin, Mrs. James Beal, Mrs. Evander French, Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl, Mrs. Gaynum G. Redding, Mrs. James Newman, Mrs. Jacob B. Harris, Mrs. Daniel Beggs, Jr., Mrs. Lois Meachan, Mrs. Thomas S. Knight, and Mrs. Leslie Richardson. All the ladies on this committee have won a reputation as competent gardeners.

Selling gardenias for this booth were a group of girls called the Nit Wits.

Mrs. James S. Allen won the plastic hose and reel that was offered on chances.

Next to the Garden Booth was the Tonic Stand. This was managed by Mrs. Charles Lovejoy, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Townley-Tilson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ober Pride, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eberle, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hight, and Mr. Charles Lovejoy. The Tonic Booth is always a must "at the Fair, for there are many parched throats.

Close by the Chance Booth was the Food Booth. At the out-set, it was feared that this booth might have to be given up because of the sugar, flour and other shortages. However this committee scoured the highways and byways and lo' they were able to display many tempting delicacies.

Mrs. Edwin W. Zimmerman was the able manager of this booth. Her co-chairman was Mrs. Francis Millett.

Their helpers were Mrs. Harold Bates, Mrs. Francis Booth, Mrs. William Beggs, Mrs. Marjorie Mason, Mrs. Fred Ritchie, and Mrs. Robert Whittemore.

The Pergola, by the Library, which has always proved a lovely setting for the Tea Booth, had to be moved. The little Town Hall was quickly transformed into a Tea Room. There Mrs. Frank C. d'Elseaux, with Mrs. Richard J. Clark as her co-chairman, presided over the tea-cups. Their patrons seemed to enjoy their cup of tea amid all the hub-bub of the other booths. The hand phinted tray, which they offered on chances was won hy Mrs. Shepard Pond. Helpers on this committee were Mrs. Wallace Miller, Mrs. Hazen Ayer, Mrs. Robert Blake, Mrs. Richard Boister, Mrs. J. Girard Chandler, Mrs. George Collins, Mrs. Lawrence Fessenden, Mrs. Thomas Howe, Mrs. Walcott Thompson, Mrs. Lawrence Trevett, Mrs. Howard Ulfelder, Mrs. Charles Wadsworth, and Mrs. John Willis.

The Lunch Booth functioned, all day, under adverse conditions. Patrons were served a delicious lunch of salad, sandwiches, coffee and dessert, at whatever place they happened to sit. This booth did a two way business, from the Fair grounds, outside to the tables inside Mrs. Theodore Chilcott was the efficient chairman of this booth. Her aides were Mrs. Marion Clark, Mrs. Clark Collins, Mrs. George L. Connor, Mrs. John Coulson, Mrs. Raymond Dickman, Mrs. Maurice Freeman, Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Mrs. James MacElroy, Mrs. Chandler Parkhurst, Mrs. W. Campbell Ross, Mrs. Robert Singer, Mrs. Chandler Symmes, and Mrs. Donald Woodward.

After the supper the Dance Committee took over. The stage was decorated with a profusion of colorful potted plants. Mrs. Clarke Staples with Mrs. James F. Dwinell, Jr. as co-chairman were in charge of the festivities. Their committee were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Righter, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Loring Gleason, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moffatt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bernie, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Bentley, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Neiley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eaton, Mr. Herbert Wadsworth and Dr. Clarke Staples.

Ken Reeves and his orchestra furnished the music.

The dance was one booth that suffered tremendously from the change in plans because of the weather. The other booths that of necessity were placed around the hall, distracted from the dance, aside from taking needed space away from the dance floor. Mrs. Staples and her committee, who had many unique plans were unable to function as efficiently as we know they had planned.

Since children do not seem to mind the weather, the Grab Booth was located outside on the grounds. Mrs. John Murray had as her booth a replica of a well. Mrs. Clarence McDavitt, Jr. was co-manager. Their helpers were Mrs. Irving E. Jennings, Mrs. Granville Flagg, Mrs. Stuart Newton, Mrs. Chester Goodnow, Mrs. Paul Rocray and Mrs. George Field. These ladies purchased and wrapped over 1500 grabs and stood in the chilling rain until the "sold out" sign went up.

Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth with Mrs. E. George Pierce as co-chairman were in charge of the Balloons. Judging from the score of balloons flying from the hands of youngsters, one would say that this booth did a flourishing business. The colorful balloons made the only rainbow that was seen on Saturday.

Aiding the chairmen were Mrs. Alvin S. Mancib and Mrs. Albert D. Swazey.

The Hot Dog Booth was one booth that hit the "Pot of Gold" because of weather. As doughnuts are to coffee so the hot dogs are to the Fair. How people must have patronized this booth, for the staggering amount of frankfurters were consumed in short order. We haven't checked with the doctors in town, but we wonder how many stomach aches resulted from the variety of eats the guests consumed. We don't mean by just the young fry). Five and one-half hot dogs per minute was the average sold.

Mrs. Langley C. Keyes was the manager of this stand. Mrs. Harold Blanchard the co-manager.

Their committee consisted of Mr. Harold Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. Don Greer, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Swanson, Mr. Evan Kibbe, Mr. Albert Swazey, Mr. Roland Patrick, Mr. Philip Wadsworth, Mrs. J. Girard Chandler, Mrs. Earl Carrier and Mrs. James McGovern.

We shiver when we think of the Ice Cream booth. Not so the children. Mrs. Lucius Smith reported that there was always a waiting line for the ice cream. Mrs. William J. Parrot with Miss Barbara J. Smith were kept busy as helpers.

Mrs. Warren Shoemaker was in charge of the Pop Corn stand.

Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker was the manager of the Pop Corn Booth. On her committee were Dr. and Mrs. George Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge Wyman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moffette, and Mr. Warren Shoemaker. The 200 pounds of corn which they had purchased were entirely gone by early evening. This popular stand is always an early "sell out."

The Mid-Way, which is the gala core of the Fair, did a thriving business in spite of the weather. Great credit is due the hundreds of workers who toiled doggedly, through mist and rain, that the "Show might go on." Reports of lost voices, lame backs, arms and muscles, are still flowing into headquarters. However, despite great discomfort all the workers entered into a spirit of frivolity and put the Midway across.

At stated intervals during the day and evening Chances were raffled off on Butter and Nylons. Needless to say that no one had to be urged to take any of these chances.

Mr. Morris Kerr, whose ready wit is well-known, did an outstanding job as an announcer and auctioneer. So persuasve was he that we understand that a Mr. Butterworth parted with $4.50 for a pound of butter, while Dr. d'Elseaux gladly paid $3.50 for the privilege of having something besides cottage cheese on his bread. Martha Richter won a pair of nylons for $3.55, and was well pleased with the deal.

In charge of the various booths on the Mid-way were Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin and Mrs. Richard A. Harlow. The nine amusement Booths under their supervision were:

And now about the people who planned for months ahead, who organized all these committees and brought the Fair to a successful conclusion.

Mrs. Gordon H. Smith was the General Chairman of the entire Fair. Her genial personality permeated every committee meeting. She it was, who was responsible for the smoothness with which the Fair was run. She was the Honorary Chairman of every Booth and kept in touch with the problems of each Chairman.

Mrs. Franklin J. Lane was Mrs. Smith's Adviser. Mrs. Lane was personally responsible for the fetching rainbow costumes of colored aprons, hats, and bodices worn by the General Committee. Undoubtedly Mrs. Lane sold more chance books than anyone. She served ex-officio on the sewing committee, for the Gift Booth. Also in charge of Supper Tickets, she still found time to smear paint on the Booths. In fact wherever help was needed there was Mrs. Lane on hand to lend a Helping hand.

To Mrs. Leslie A. Tucker goes bouquets for the planning, location and decorating of all the Booths. As Chairman of Properties Mrs. Tucker accomplished the almost unsurmountable task of re-assembling, re-painting, and re-decorating what was left of our dilapidated booths. Mrs. Allan P. Lindblad was her Co-Chairman and an indefatigable worker.

The men who so skillfully wielded hammer and nails and paint brushes were Mr. Gordon H. Smith, Mr. Thomas Righter, Mr. Ferdinand Hawley, Mr. Franklin J. Lane, Mr. Allan P. Lindblad, Mr. Leslie A. Tucker, and Mr. Francis Millett.

The Properties Committee are greatly indebted to the Boston Varnish Co. for paint, and to Mr. Forrest L. Pitman for lumber.

The booths that this committee constructed were most attractive. Because of the rain they stood desolate and barren, a weather casualty. Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Lindblad have the sympathy of all En Ka members that all their work should not have been admired and appreciated.

Mrs. James R. Doty was the Treasurer. It takes a mathematical mind to be elected to this post, and Mrs. Doty certainly qualifies.

Bank counters who aided Mrs. Doty were Mr. E. Ober Pride, Mr. Ralph Hatchy, Mr. William Beal, and Mr. Roland Carter.

The Collectors were Messrs. Clark Collins, Theodore Chilcott, Edwin Zimmerman, Victor Wolff, Theodore Elliott, Franklin Lane, Gordon Smith, James R. Doty and James R. Doty, Jr.

Mrs. Evan Kibbe acted as secretary for Mrs. Smith. It was her duty to secure all the many permits and take care of the correspondence. This she did most efficiently.

The others on the General Committee were Mrs. Samuel D. Cole, on publicity, Mrs. Forrest Pitman, on Chances, Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin and Mrs. Arthur Harlow, on Mid-way, and Mrs. Roland Carter, on Supper.

Back Fires

A certain father took his children for a ride on the Ferris Wheel. Judging by the green look on his face, when he alighted, we gather he couldn't take it.

We wonder what the lady on the General Committee wore home when we heard that her dress jacket and raincoat had been misplaced.

An aviator who had been bombed, on the Bunker Hill, was taken with air sickness while riding the flying horses.

An elderly lady who could find no one who knew what En Ka meant, decided to her own satisfaction that it meant "Good Society" or "Good Works." We agree.

Many of the plants that were used as decoration on the stage for the dance, disappeared as if by magic, when word was passed around that they were free. No so Brother!

If you had the job of giving out telephones . .
SERVICEMEN ILLNESS
PUBLIC HEALTH AND WELFARE
YOU'D WANT TO BE FAIR, of course. And you'd want to do what was best for the community as a whole. Wouldn't you feel, for example, that applications from public health and welfare organizations, sick folks, returning servicemen or businesses whose existence depends on telephone service should be taken care of first?
With that end in mind, government regulations for distributing telephones were set up in 1942. Available telephones go first to those in essential categories. Applicants are asked to keep us informed of any change in their circumstances which would alter their status. For the rest, as facilities become available, we fill applications in their turn.
In the past six months we've provided service for over 180,000 people who have applied to us here in New England, and we're doing our best to bring telephone service to everyone who wants it. For now, we are distributing telephones according to these rules which most people tell us they think are fair, and fairly administered.

THE 12TH ANNUAL LOBSTER LUNCHEON

Tuesday, May 21, the Jordan Group rounded out to a neat dozen their annual springtime event, the Lobster Luncheon. Contented customers from 11 other years and new friends they were introducing to this Winchester event filled the Epiphany parish hall.

Mrs. Ray Mauger was again the general chairman of the luncheon. Lilacs were the keynote of the hall decorations, and their fragrance came down the stairway to greet incoming guests. The decorations were in charge of Mrs. Ove Mortensen and Mrs. Malcolm Cook.

Other members of the luncheon committee were Mrs. George L. Snow, chairman of the Jordan Group, Mrs. Katherine Abbott, Mrs. Fred Archer, Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes, Mrs. Fred Cameron, Mrs. Gerald Curtis, Mrs. Paul Dillingham, Mrs. Frank Ebens, Mrs. Herbert Gardner, Mrs. Harry Goodwin, Mrs. Harry Jackson, Mrs. Charles Jones, Mrs. Ernest Knoettner, and Mrs. William Priest.

Table favors were tie potted pansies which their guests have so well liked in other years that they are an established tradition of the Lobster Luncheon.

Many guests as they entered stopped to greet the special honor guest of the day, their former fellow townman and parishioner, Mrs. Archibald Jordan. She organized and mothered this parish group, and in appreciation the group made her its permanent honorary chairman and asked to keep her name.

PENNY WISE BUNDLE TEA INVITES TRINKETS AND TREASURES

Tuesday, May 28, from 3 to 5 o'clock Mrs. E. Phillips Walker will open her home at 35 Glen road for the annual Bundle Tea which Winchester gives as a benefit for the Penny Wise Thrift Shop, Boston.

Guests bring wrapped bundles and in deciding what things she will bring a woman may let her imagination soar or dive or roam. For the people in Boston who will sell the contents of the Winchester bundles, from years of experience, that they can sell literally anything that is brought to them: trinkets or treasures or trout-lines or trumpets, tuning-forks or tatting or Toscanini records; saltshakers or shawls; marbles or a music-box; compacts or comforts; bits of gold or a butterfly net; buttons or bric-a-brac; children's clothing or your great-great Aunt Jerusha's pickle-jar. Many customers come for the more practical things, like shoes and coats and umbrellas. Others come for the quaint and curious.

The proceeds of the Penny Wise Shop go to the Church Home Society and to the Boston Episcopal City Mission. The name of the Church Home Society describes its service in the Boston area. It finds warm-hearted people to care for children without homes. It supervises their foster homes, from cradle to college. It advises parents and pastors on children's difficulties in their own homes and communities.

The City Mission, is also an agency for children's welfare. In crowded and dreary corners of Boston the Mission provides playplaces for little children, its "totlots." It manages summer camps for older children who would otherwise not know the hoot of the owl and the call of the whippoorwill.

By its Seamen's Club on Battery march street, the Mission makes life happier for the thousands of men each month whose ships come to our harbor.

The Parish of the Epiphany sponsors the Bundle Tea. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Henry Sawyer and Mrs. Ellsworth Snow. They will be assisted by Mrs. Thomas Freeburn, Mrs. A. Miles Holbrook, Mrs. W. Dudley Cotton, Mrs. Helen S. Brown, Mrs. Malcolm Nichols, Mrs. Donald Heath, Mrs. Dana Cotton, Mrs. William Sache, Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Mrs. Ernest Barron and Mrs. Frank Booth.

FAIR EMPLOYMENT BILL DISCUSSED SUNDAY

Henry R. Silberman, of Cambridge, a member of Governor Tobin's Committee to Study and Recommend Fair Employment Practice Legislation, addressed a group of Winchester and Woburn residents on Sunday evening, May 19, at the home of Mrs. George Brayley.

Mr. Silberman discussed the status of H 1704, the Fair Employment Practice Bill, endorsed by numerous organizations through out the State, including the Winchester League of Women Voters.

This bill was passed by the House of Representatives by an overwhelming majority and is being considered by the Senate.

The group which included the Mrs. Philip Woodman, Donald Whittemore, Underwood Edgar, Malcolm Nichols, Wilbert Underwood, Mortimer Downey, Robert S. Baylies and Mr. John Russell and Willis Pollins, decided to urge Senator Harris Richardson, chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, for a speedy as well as a favorable report.

GIRLS' BOWLING LEAGUE

The Girls' Bowling League of the Immaculate Conception Parish, Winchester-Woburn, climaxed a most successful season with a banquet at the Bear Hill Country Club in Reading on Monday, May 20th.

The guest speaker of the evening was Rev. Joseph Manton, C. S. S. R., famed speaker from the Mission Church, Roxbury. Fr. Manton chose as his subject, "Hollywood, The Land of Make Believe." Into this subject he interwove alternately threads of humor and of seriousness. Interesting anecdotes on the lives of the stars and of the unreal background and subject matter of the motion pictures were recounted with telling effect. Father Manton closed with a forceful warning that the movies can be an insidious, yet powerful, means of promoting evil unless due caution is observed.

Pithy talks were delivered by the officers of the League. The officers are: Doris McKee, President; Mildred Dineen, Vice-President; Winifred O'Donnell, Treasurer; Helen Foley, Secretary.

Rev. Edmund C. Sliney, Pastor, spoke briefly but inspiringly and Rev. J. Joseph Kierce, Spiritual Director, presented prizes to the following:

High Average: Marie O'Donnell, 88.47. Marie recently was crowned queen of greater Woburn bowling circles.

High Single, Mae Mulhern, 125.
High Triple, Jean Lally, 301.

High Team, Crusaders, 91. Helen Foley, Captain; Marie O'Donnell; Kay O'Donnell; Winifred O'Donnell; Mary Gallagher.

High Team Triple, Crusaders, 1309.

High Team Single, Crusaders, 465.

Second Team Triple, Hawks, 1276. Helen Sullivan, Captain; Jean Lally; Doris McKee; Margaret Nelson; Florence Hamilton; Evelyn Hamilton.

Second Team Single, Irish, 461. Mildred Dineen, Captain; Mary Haggerty, Evelyn Haggerty, Frances O'Brien; Marie Dunn, Elise McGann, Mary Pettinger.

Frances O'Brien; Marie Dunn; Elise McGann; aMry Pettinger.

A delightful program of entertainment was presented. Walter J. Burns proved an expert Master of Ceremonies. The acrobatic dances of Mary Haggerty and Elsie McGann, the crooning of Bonnie McCarron, the cowgirl songs of Tillie Gonsalves and the Maccinanti sisters, the inimitable humor of Theresa O'Melia, a dialogue by Angelina Tortolano and Louise Tessier, and songs by Alice Cote and Bella Abreu highlighted the entertainment.

CHILDREN'S ART EXHIBIT

An art exhibit from the elementary schools of Winchester is now on display in the Boys' and Girls' Room of the Winchester Public Library. It consists of paintings and drawings by children from the kindergarten through the sixth grade, mostly based on well known children's stories. The junior high school has contributed a collection of leather, clay, and paper mache work. The exhibit will be on display until June 10.

WINCHESTER CHURCH WOMEN COOPERATE IN FLOWER MISSION

The women of Winchester's churches and the Winchester Garden Club are appealing to the residents of Winchester for flowers to send on Tuesdays through the summer to the sick and elderly in the garden-less sections of Boston.

All the flowers that grow in your garden can be picked up and packed for the fruit and flower Mission. Pick your flowers on Monday in the late afternoon and put them loosely in water. The flowers will absorb the water all night and in the morning are ready to be packed into the hampers at the Winchester Station. The station masters have for a great many years had the hampers ready for packing early each Tuesday morning and put the hampers on the train for North Station. They are collected at ten o'clock at North Station and transported to the South Bay Union on Harrison avenue where they are made up into bouquets and distributed to the sick, elderly, hospitals, institutions and people living in this district who would otherwise never have any flowers. Any Winchester resident having any flowers to contribute from June through September is requested to send them to the station before ten minutes to nine. Mrs. A. G. Robbins, Win. 0302, will arrange for transporting flowers which you can not get there. The following ladies representing the church women of the community will welcome you at the station:

Mrs. Robert MacArthur, Mrs. Henry Worcester; Unitarian, June 4, 11, 18.

WINCHESTER WINS STATE TENNIS CROWN

Capt. Rosander Beats Team-mate Bob Halstead for Individual Honors

Winchester High totalled 18 points to win the Massachusetts State Inter-scholastic Tennis Tournament team prize at Belmont last week for the first time. The locals tied with Brookline and Newton two years ago and have generally placed well, but this year is the first in which the Red and Black has had a clear title. Incidentally the locals' 18 points constitutes the highest total in the tourney so far as records are available. In its triple tie two years ago Winchester had 11 points and Boston Latin won last year with the same total. Winchester missed the team crown last year when Dodge of Watertown put out Jim Ware in one of the late rounds.

This year's final round was all Winchester with Captain Conrad Rosander playing team-mate Bob Halstead for championship honors. Halstead won in the semi-finals from Rich, Newton's No 1 who had eliminated Swanson of Winchester in the second round. Rosander won a sweet semi-final from the same Dodge of Watertown who upset the local applecart a year ago.

The final match between Rosander and Halstead was a corker, lasting more than two hours and being much closer than the score would indicate. Rosander won 3-6, 6-0, 6-0, 7-5, but many of the games were deuced and Halstead missed a great chance to square the match in the fourth set when he twice double-faulted on set point while leading 5-4.

On the whole, throughout the match, points were won by both boys on placements rather than on errors. Rosander, former boys' champion, had just that edge which comes from more tournament experience.

Both he and Halstead were scratched from the Junior Davis Cup Try-outs at Andover to represent Winchester in the State interscholastics. Rosander was leading Hoie of Exeter when rain stopped his match and Coach Bill Rodgers is in hopes that both he and Halstead will be permitted to take part in the final try-outs in Virginia in view of their showing in the State tourney and their fine spirit in choosing to play for their team rather than for their individual glory.

Halstead was seeded number 1 in the State tourney, a tribute to Winchester tennis. He was runner-up last year and won the Park Department's high school tourney here in the spring, playing Winchester's number one all season. The local boys are undefeated in high school competition to date, having been beaten only by Andovey and Harvard Junior Varsity. Rosander was seeded 3.

WARRANT FOR SPECIAL MEETING CLOSED

The warrant for the special town meeting to be held Thursday evening, June 13, was closed by the Selectmen Monday evening.

Eighteen articles are included and with many of them concerned with proposed new school facilities and housing for veterans the meeting is not expected to be either quickly or quietly over.

Just what direction the discussion of housing for veterans will take is hard to predict until after the report of the Committee appointed to study this matter has been made. The lively interest being taken, however, by younger veterans makes it certain that the discussion of whatever proposals are finally made will not be routine.

One of the school articles is to see whether the town will purchase the Ginn estate for the site of a new senior high school, and unless the sentiment of school enthusiasts has changed materially there is likely to be some hot debate before this article is disposed of. There is also of course the article favored by the Committee on Additional School Facilities proposing to change the location of the river and Parkway to throw a large part of Manchester Field in with the Junior High playground, the whole area to be used as the layout for a senior high athletic plant, while the Junior High School building is to be altered and enlarged to house the senior high school.

In connection with this proposal the warrant contains enabling articles so the town can take the Metropolitan District land involved in the relocation of the Parkway and river. There is also an article to enable the town to take some land needed to enlarge the junior high lot.

Still another article seeks to establish a committee to study the matter of building a school on the West Side Andrews Hill lot purchased by the town some years ago.

Action will also be taken on an amendment to the town Zoning Laws seeking to prevent the creation of private schools in residential districts.

The School Committee is asking more money to pay three teachers not covered by their budget in March. Another article asks the town to decide whether the World War II Records shall be published and to provide funds therefor. The Town History Committee is asking a vote rescinding the action of the March meeting providing that Town Histories be sold at a reduced price to town meeting members.

The Call Firemen have an article in the warrant asking for an increase in pay. Still another article seeks to provide three-year terms for Finance Committee members instead of one year as in the past. Despite the fact that there has been much talk about an article asking the town to accept the Sunday Sports Law, no such article was presented for insertion.

GEORGE W. TILLEY

George W. Tilley of 5 Lloyd street, a long time resident of Winchester, died Friday morning, May 24, at his home, after a short illness. He had been for some time in failing health but had courageously refused to accept disability and despite the fact that he was in his 90th year he had been at his business in Boston within two weeks of his death.

Mr. Tilley was born in Leverett, Dec. 4, 1856, of Revolutionary stock, the son of Edward, and Catherine Carey (Lawton) Tilley. He lived as a boy in Newport, R. I., and was for many years a widely known resident of that city, being a member of the Fire Department and for 24 years enrolled in the Newport Artillery Company, from which he retired with the rank of lieutenant-paymaster.

While in the artillery company he participated in the exercises that marked the inaugural of President McKinley, and he was also a member of the Governor of Rhode Island's honor guard at the World's Fair in Chicago. He was active in Royal Arcanum circles in Newport, serving as regent of Coronet Council there and later as Grand Regent for the State of Rhode Island.

Like so many men of his generation he had a varied business experience, working as a clerk for the fruit and produce firm of Lewis and Tilley in Newport and later for Sayer Brothers, grocers, in that city. As a young man he worked on a farm in Amherst and also was for a time employed in a bank there.

In 1906 Mr. Tilley came to Boston to enter the felt business. At that time he settled in Winchester, living for ten years on Cutting street and for 30 years at his Lloyd street address. Sixteen years ago, at the age of 73, he started his own business, dealing in felt for hospitals and chiropodists. He made a success of his venture and numbered among his customers many far removed from Boston, where he was established at 212 Essex street. He was for years a regular attendant at conventions of the trade and well known among its members.

During Mr. Tilley's long residence in Winchester he made friends of people in all walks of life, his own friendliness willingness to serve and above all, his sterling character, winning him the esteem of all with whom he came in contact. He was genuinely beloved by those who knew him well, to whom, especially in later years, he was ever a source of inspiration.

For many years actively interested in the fortunes of the Republican Party, he served some years ago as chairman of the Winchester Republican Town Committee. A life-time baseball enthusiast, he was vice president of the old Winchester Baseball Association in the days when the town was represented by leading teams in the semi-professional class under the late George LeDuc. He was among the older parishioners of the Church of the Epiphany and a regular attendant at services while his health permitted.

On April 29, 1884 Mr. Tilley married Emily Patterson of Newport, who survives him.

Prayers were read at the late residence Sunday afternoon by Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany. Mr. Hadley also read the funeral service which was held Monday afternoon at the Hambley Funeral Home in Newport. Interment was in the Tilley family lot in Island Cemetery there.

GIRL SERIOUSLY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Patricia Bonvie, 13, of 105 Cedar street, Roxbury, was seriously injured early this morning when a car in which she was riding on Forest street got out of control and tipped over on the lawn at the residence of Mr. Burnham G. Preston, 225 Forest street.

The Police were notified and Officers John Hogan and John Boyle went to investigate with Officer James Farrell. They found the Bonvie girl unconscious in the overturned car, a Lincoln Zephyr, which was being driven south on Forest street by John Hancock of 7 Champaney place, Roxbury. Four girls ranging from 14 to 17 years of age were riding in the car with the operator and the Bonvie girl, as well as three youths.

According to the Police the car sideswiped an Edison Light pole near Forest circle, then went diagonally across the street and across a grass plot, striking and uprooting a tree before plunging through a hedge to overturn on the Preston lawn. Besides the Bonvie girl, one of the youths got a cut on the ear and was given first aid by Officer James Farrell.

The Bonvie girl was taken to the hospital in the Police Ambulance by Officers John Dolan, Robert Elliott and John Boyle. She was treated by Dr. Charles Rooney for a possible fractured skull and her name was placed on the hospital danger list where it remained this morning. The last rites of the Roman Catholic Church were administered at 1:40 this morning by Rev. Cornelius Hogan of St. Mary's Church, but she was still alive as the Star went to press.

ANDERSON—MARCHESI

Miss Grace Jean Marchesi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Marchesi of Holland street and Cecil Leo Anderson of Philadelphia, Pa., were married Sunday afternoon, May 12, at 4 o'clock at St. Mary's Rectory by Rev. Fr. Cornelius Hogan.

The bride wore a white gown having a lace bodice and a net skirt extending into a train. Her veil matched her gown and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and babies' breath tied with white ribbon.

The honor maid wore a pink dress having a lace bodice and net skirt. Her bouquet was of mixed garden flowers. The bridesmaids carried the same flowers and wore dresses of blue net and taffeta. The small flower girl wore a frock of baby blue taffeta and carried a basket of flowers.

VON ROSENVINGE CAPTAIN'S NINE

(From Eaglebrook School (Deerfield) Publication "The Hearth")

William J. von Rosenvinge has been elected varsity baseball captain. Von has been a prominent athlete since entering Eaglebrook in 1943. He was a star back on the football team, excelling as a pass thrower and, last winter at center, captained the varsity icemen.

Von started the present season at first but has been switched to shortstop by coaches Wood and Van Santvoord in an attempt to strengthen the infield. He plans to enter Deerfield Academy in the fall.

WINCHESTER ELKS LOST OPENER

Winchester Elks opened their current baseball season last Sunday at Wakefield, losing to the Wakefield Catholic Club, 5-0, in a game halted after six innings by a deluge of rain.

Robbie Farrell went along well for Winchester until it commenced to rain, when he yielded up 4 runs, 3 being unearned. Sam Provinzano was the only local sticker to get more than a single hit. The summary:

TENNIS

Playing with Rosander and Halstead in the State tourney were Sheldon and Eben Caldwell, Richard Hills and Roger Swanson. Bill Knights did not play because he is a doubles man and there are no doubles in the State tourney. Charlie Watson, another member of the team, was prevented from playing by cutting his foot while swimming.

Interesting early round matches were Sheldon Caldwell's defeat of the 8th seeded Waltz of Belmont and his brother Eben's victory over Brookline's No. 1, Leher.

Following is the summary of Winchester's play in the tournament.

First Round

Halstead and Rosander drew byes.
S. Caldwell beat Schwartz (Boston Latin), 6-1 6-0.
E. Caldwell beat Hoyserardt (Belmont), 6-0, 6-2.
Hills beat Goldberg (Brookline), 6-0, 6-0.
Swanson beat Supple (Watertown), 6-0, 6-0.

Second Round

Rosander drew bye.
Halstead beat K. Schwartz (Boston Latin), 6-1, 61.
S. Caldwell beat Waltz (Belmont), 6-1, 6-2.
E. Caldwell beat Leher (Brookline), 6-2, 5-6, 6-3.
Harrison (Brookline) beat Hills, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1.
Rich (Newton) beat Swanson, 6-4, 6-1.

Third Round

Halstead beat Sokalow (Dorchester), 6-2, 6-0.
Rosander beat Schone (Brookline), 6-1, 6-0.
S. Caldwell beat Ver Plank (Newton), 6-5, 6-5.
Dudley (Newton) beat E. Caldwell, 6-3, 6-4.

Fourth Round

Halstead beat Gross (Newton), 6-2, 6-3.
Rosander beat S. Caldwell, 6-2 6-1.

Semi Finals

Halstead beat Rich (Newton), 6-3, 6-4.
Rosander beat Dodge (Watertown), 6-3, 6-1.

Final

Rosander beat Halstead, 3-6, 6-0, 6-0, 7-5.

Newton High followed Winchester's 18 points with 14 to land in second place. Brookline had 9, Watertown, 5, Boston Latin, 3, Boston English, 2; and Dorchester High, 1.

At the end of the Third round Newton was leading but Halstead's defeat, first of Newton's Gross in the 4th round and then of Rich in the semi-finals, swung things definitely Winchester's way.

Halstead was leading Rich, 6-3 and four love in his semi-final match and the tournament officials went to get the team-trophy for Winchester, only to return and find that the Newton boy had taken four straight games to even the set.

Coach Bill Rodgers, who had protested against any premature trophy awarding, was pretty tense at this point, but Bob proved his class by running out the next two games to win in straight sets. Bill's long breath was like the collapse of a blimp when he realized his team was finally "in-there".

GRADUATED FROM MILITARY ACADEMY

John M. McKenzie, Jr., son of an old Winchester boy and grandson of Mr. Edward P. McKenzie of Hemingway street, graduated last week from Riverside Military Academy at Gainsville, Ga., which he has been attending for the past three years. He graduated with the rank of staff sergeant and with a diploma in engineering. His parents, who live in Banes, Cuba, attended the graduation with his younger sister. They plan to come north to Winchester.

WINCHESTER GIRLS BEAT WINSOR

Locals Drop Two Matches But Finally Beat Private School Team

Winchester High School girls' tennis team finally beat Winsor School on May 22 at Brookline, edging the private school lassies, 3-2. It was a sweet win for Winchester since Winsor has generally stood in the way of unbeaten seasons in recent years.

Last week's match was close enough, Dudie Jennings and Libby Fenno having to come from behind to take the No. 1 doubles which had they lost, would have given the match to Winsor.

Mary Lanman, Winsor No. 2, carried Winchester's Ruthie Murray to a 9-7 first set, but Ruthie came back to win the second set 6-3. The summary:

Singles

Marnee Norris (W) beat Peggy Pratt, 6-2, 6-4.
Ruth Murray (W) beat Mary Lanman, 9-7, 6-3.
Sue Furlow (Wind) beat Anne Albree, 6-1, 6-3.

Doubles

Dudie Jennings, and Libby Fenno (W) beat Hatsy Mandell and Patsy Perrin, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4.
Hope Griswold and Cynthia Gruener (Wind) beat Patsy Eberle and Patty Root, 6-3, 6-4.

KIRWAN STATE MEET WINNER

Led Class B Half-Milers With Classy Performance—Illness Kept West Out

Long Tom Kirwan turned in a classy 2m 3.9s performance last Saturday to win the Class B half-mile championship at the Massachusetts State outdoor track and field meet at Dickinson Stadium in Newton. Kirwan's time was within a tenth of a second of the Class A time turned in by Carl Joyce of Commerce. Lou Goddu, a capable timer, caught Tom inside the official figures and he finished strong. He would have given Joyce or any one else a helluva race for A honors.

Kirwan was 1.9s off Juddie Cross's record of 2m 2 2/5s made in 1934 at the Harvard Interscholastics. This writer believes Tom could have equalled or perhaps got under Cross's time had he made the pace all the way.

He let McKenzie of Weymouth lead until the first turn, and then took over, never to be headed. His plan of campaign had been to run his first quarter in 58s but with McKenzie making the early pace the quarter was run in 60s. "Tom" can run that first quarter in 58s and still finish up as well as he did last Saturday. Had he done so, he would have been under 2:02 and had the Winchester record in his pocket.

We are taking nothing from the swell race he ran when we say he could have run faster, and he very probably would have had he been more used to running on a track like Newton's. Running habitually on a small mongrel saucer like Winchester's makes it hard to judge pace on a regulation track.

As it was Tom bowed out of Winchester High School track in a blaze of glory, undefeated state interscholastic cross country titlist and State B half-mile champ with the Northeastern 1000 yard crown and a runner-up in the 1000 at the State indoor games.

Incidentally the two boys who decisioned Kirwan through the year, Arthur Morse of Worcester South, who won the State B indoor 1000, and Kenneth Charles of Melrose, who edged Tom in a dual meet this spring, ran against him last Saturday. There wasn't much doubt about the Winchester star's superiority in this objective race of the season.

Kirwan had about 15 yards on the field going into the final straightaway. First McKenzie and then Charles challenged, each getting within two or three yards of the smooth striding Winchester boy. Tom had plenty left, however, and beat off both challenges, finishing about 10 yards in front of Charles who was in second place with McKenzie not too far back. Morse, the Worcester boy finished well in the ruck.

Kirwan's points were the only ones scored by Winchester. Big Johnny West, who would surely have placed 1-2 in the shot, having been over 45 feet all week in practice, was at home in bed with some sort of "bug" and a temperature. "Bill" Whittemore, battling for West, got off his best heave to date, breaking 41 ft. to finish just outside the points. "Pete" Dillingham, for a freshman, made a good showing in his 100 yard heat, staying with the field pretty well over the first 75 yards.

Jack Grimes ran a good fighting half, though failing to place, while Flynn in the dash, Berridge and Coe in the 220 and McFarlane in the broad-jump, all gave their best in competition that was just too good, that's all.

However, despite nature's erratic moods very satisfactory progress was made, and the women's doubles even played the finals on Sunday morning. THE WINCHESTER DOG TRAINING CLUB

Several members of the advanced class were absent last Tuesday. Mr. Roger Haven's Molly was absent for the first time due to illness. Mrs. Donald Heath and her poodle were absent also, and Mr. Rodney Lee, our popular treasurer, was missed.

The Winchester Dog Training Club's dog of the week: Mr. and Mrs. Roger Haven's Molly is our "glamour girl" for this week. This nine month's old Dalmatian is the clown and baby of the advanced class. Her friendship with Mrs. Heath's dog, on any other dog for that matter, has caused no end of merriment. Perhaps Molly has a good reason for being so happy-go-lucky as she was born on VJ day. Because of this she was named after Molly Brant. the heroine of the Battle of Saratoga.

Several persons have the mistaken idea that the purpose of the Winchester Dog Training Club is to teach dog tricks. This is a misconception, as our purpose is to teach dogs the basic requirements of obedience. Many of the members are interested in teaching their dogs for their own convenience. Several members hope to eventually compete at the obedience trials held by the American Kennel Club.

New members are always welcome. The initiation fee payable at the time of the first lesson, is $1.00. Dues payable at each succeeding lesson are $.75. The beginner's class meets at 9:00 p. m. Tuesday evenings for one hour at the former Recreation Center on Mt. Vernon street.

A capacity crowd attended last Saturday evening's indoor "hoat racing" party and had a grand time attempting to pick the winning boats. Of course, the races in which needed nylons and scarce butter were offered as prizes got the biggest play, but the committee had such a splendid assortment of prizes that almost every race was fully subscribed. The races were eagerly followed and most of them very closely contested and everyone, including those on whom fickle fate frowned had a fine time. Refreshments were served between races and Bog Dalzell and his committee deserve a unanimous vote of thanks for a well-staged, splendidly organized affair.

Simonds Stopped

After scoring four consecutive victories over the Winchester Snipe Fleet, Don Simonds committed the unpardonable crime of breaking up a winning combination and as a result he had to be content with a second on Sunday.

Don Jr. has been doing a slick crewing job aboard Sinbad and we think his absence was an important factor in Don's downfall. But not nearly as important as the sensational flawless race sailed by Tom Powers in Sullivan's Youani. It was a two boat battle all the way, with the lead alternating several times, but Powers kept pouring on the pressure until Sinbad succumbed. Third place went to the Blanchard boys who served notice that their Dunlin is a definite threat. Al Litchfield in By-George and Dawson Blamire in the Foo followed Sinbad in that order Saturday afternoon. Dickie and Don Simonds, Jr. shared the starting and judging chores over the week-end.

Junior Dance Saturday, June 15

The entertainment committee has already signed the "solid" Arcadians to provide the music for a Junior dance to be held at the club, but beyond that we haven't complete information. We do know that it'll be a swell affair, so you'd better plan to keep that Saturday evening open. We'll give you the whole story next week.

HOLY NAME SOCIETIES TO MEET AT BRAVES FIELD

On Sunday afternoon, June 2, the Holy Name Societies of all the Catholic Churches throughout the Boston Diocese will meet at Braves Field to take part in the annual Holy Hour for Men.

It is therefore requested that as many men as possible from St. Mary's Holy Name Society who plan to drive their cars meet at 1 p. m. in front of St. Mary's Church on Sunday, June 2 in order to provide transportation for all those who would like to attend.

The program which will begin at 2 o'clock p. m. will be dedicated to the 160,000 men of the archdiocese who served in the armed forces. A special part of the afternoon's events will honor those who were killed while serving their country.

HIGHLANDS MEN HELD DANCE FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

Over 60 young people between the ages of 10 and 14 braved the stormy evening May 17 to attend the dance at the George Washington School under the auspices of the Highland Men's Club.

The club has dedicated itself to working in the interest of the Highland young people and its previous party was for younger children. Movies were shown and the youngsters had a great time singing with refreshments winding up a pleasant evening. Pasquale Tofuri is president of the Highland Men's Club and has announced that the organization is already planning more good times for the children of the district.

DOG TRACK HEARING

The Planning Board of the Town of Burlington is holding a public hearing at 8:15 p. m. in the town hall on Friday, May 31, to consider a petition to change the zoning of the involved property so that a dog track can be established. The Winchester Selectmen have registered opposition to the track, and anyone interested is invited to attend the hearing.

Erskine N. White, Jr., received his discharge from the Navy on Monday. He had been at the Chelsea Naval Hospital for several months, and saw service at Pearl Harbor, Okinawa, and in China and Japan during his two years' service.

That "animile" or "critter" we told you about last week has been identified as a woodchuck by no less an authority than Edward P. McKenzie, "Mack" to you. "Mack" didn't see the "critter", it is true, but from information given him by his son, "Alf" a bona fide eye witness, he makes no bones about stating that it was a woodchuck, so there! That of course sort of knocks out "T. P.'s" theory that it was a weasle and puts the hooks to the Boardley idea that it might have been an otter. Another notion which Mack has knocked in the head is that advanced by the Boston Post which offered a "naturalist, a sort of nautical cousin to the sidehill gouger" as a possible identification. Chief Rogers, Hennie Knowlton and "Squire" Franklin, you will remember, confined themselves last week to telling what the "critter" was not!

STRIKE AND YOU GET IT

The railroad strike appears to be over. The Union gets the present-day raise of some 16 cents an hour, most of it dating back to last January, and the trains are running again. The strike followed the customary New Deal technique—first the threat, then the build-up and finally the crisis. The trains began to be running Thursday night. There were no trains Friday. Friday night the President, who has announced that he will follow and carry on the Roosevelt plan for a new America, made a fighting speech. Saturday the Union gave in and by Monday trains were back again.

The President's speech and likewise his proposed legislation to hold back the Unions, was received by a burst of protest from Unions and New Dealers alike.

There the matter rests.

The coal strike thereupon was renewed and all mining stopped, while the threat of a shipping strike arises in the horizon to blossom into the build-up.

And the milking of America goes on, with the New Deal constantly seeking new milking machinery through taxes, the OPA, the need to feed the World and improved and enlarged doles to its adherents. The slogan is still "hold that line", with the black markets growing and flourishing and all prices rising—legitimate and illegitimate.. New and improved Unions are rapidly growing in conquered Germany and Japan and strikes and work stoppages abroad are rapidly becoming the vogue.

Our great law-makers pass legislation on anti-discrimination and employers are soon to be cracked down upon. Meanwhile anyone who wants to work must join a Union while those who want to loaf join the 9-20 Club and get their $20 a week. Discrimination? America's biggest liner, the George Washington, goes into dry dock for six months after the Union strikes because the company would not discharge a purser. Yet we, the people, are going without most of the common, everyday food, to feed a starving world. A city discharges some municipal employees and every union threatens to strike. The city lays down, reinstates the employes and begs the Union's pardon.

And so it goes. "We Planned It That Way."

The people apparently love it. Anyone who objects is branded as (in so many words) a traitor.

Well—we are now a Union member ourselves. We hold a union card in "The Tool Owners Union", an organization founded and started in Lexington and which, if it receives the support desired, may make itself heard—as did its village ancestors long ago. We are interested to see just how far America will consent, as a whole, to this remaking of the world's greatest Democracy.

"VESTED INTERESTS?"

Politicans, seeking to obtain office or to hold office, try to please citizens by "witch-hunting." Usually they try to rely on that worn out, "under-the-bed" baloney, "Vested Interests." For thousands of years this cheap stuff has been tried. Of course it is a fact that this "Vested Interests" attack is class discrimination—an attempt to stir up dissension—to cause confusion—to create a "bogeyman. That it is un-American, is beginning to be understood by the voters.

"Vested Interests" could apply to all who are striving to protect that which they believe to be their American rights, (the very rights they have fought so hard to create). Organized Labor, Farm Interests, Industry, Retailers, etc., are "Vested Interests"—Labor (the closed shop)—"Vested interests" . . . Farmers (subsidies and tariffs) —"Vested interests" . . . Industry (billions invested of the peoples' savings)—"Vested Interests"—and so it goes.

People are ready for frank, honest men in public office, whenever they can get them.

Consider OPA — No politician yet has had the courage to say: "Remove the OPA because, during peace, it is Totalitarianism!" (Prices will soar for months, if you do, until production catches up. Even so, our American ideology is worth it.)

Consider the Racial Discrimination Law—No politician yet has had the courage to say: "The proposed bill is of little value" —for brotherly love cannot be legislated. Tolerance requires, in America, that politicians be prevented from stirring up discrimination against any class vested with inalienable rights to protect that which they have legally and honestly obtained—Unions, Farmers, Industry, Bankers, Retailers, Savings Banks Depositors, Insurance Policy Holders, etc.—all at times with necessary lobbies in Congress.

"Vested Interests?" — Political baloney.

Why do politicians say that any American should not have the right to protect his interests? Do they consider a political job as their "vested interest?"

WHY THE RUSH?

To the Editor of the Star:

The last three issues of the Star have given prominence to a proposed plan by which the course of the Aberjona River is to be changed, the Parkway moved, and a spacious athletic field made available, contiguous to the Junior High School.

Why is the attempt being made to push this through with such scant consideration? Does not so radical a change justify less speed and more deliberation? In the letter of Mr. Hatch (Star, May, 24th) he says that his committee was organized no longer ago than April 11th. Yet we are asked to support a plan that has had a scant six weeks of consideration! The people of the town do not know, or do not know whether they know, all the implications. Why not postpone decision until there has been time for mature thought?

To some this seems to be proposed as a way of defeating the plan for the purchase of the Ginn Estate. But because, we do not want to purchase the Ginn Estate, why push into the first alternative presented?

If the Committee is seeking the best solution, and trying to secure careful consideration of the plan on the part of all the citizens, and to help people to weigh the pros and cons, why would it not be a good thing to conduct a series of "hearings" in the various precincts (perhaps at school buildings), at which the taxpayers can gather and discuss together the advantages and disadvantages of a proposal so drastic? Certainly the people who live in the neighborhood most affected by the proposed change would welcome such an opportunity. Why such pressure and haste?

Winchester has problems that are really pressing, on which there has certainly been no undue haste, the grade crossing and veterans' housing. Why not secure action on these before pressing a third project which can well afford to wait until we have done something about the death-trap at the Center and the confusion of the men and women to whom we promised everything when they went off to war. These two are emergency situations. In connection with the proposed athletic field calling for the moving of a river, the changing of a parkway, and the rerouting of traffic, no emergency exists.

With the exception of an athletic field the plan fails to solve any of the problems before us. The Committee itself says that it does not yet know the solution of the High School question; it does not know the future of the Junior High School; we do not know whether there will be a worse traffic problem at the Center; we do not know whether the new athletic field will compensate for the loss of the winding river and fine trees on its banks. But we do know that the final decision as to the High School and the Junior High School buildings is intimately related to the question of the location of an adequate athletic field. Before deciding on an athletic field should we not settle these prior questions as to buildings?

The biographer of a well-known man of the last century says of him that "the distance from thought to action was not measurable". Sometimes there is danger in such undue haste.

APPRECIATES LIBRARY MOVIES

To the Editor of the Star:

Although the programs for this season have ended I would like to express my appreciation and the commendation which I know other parents feel to the Winchester Library for the Children's Movies on Saturday morning.

These free programs have rendered valuable service to our children, and the Library should be supported in its efforts. There seem to be available for the younger children very few suitable commercial movies. Their older brothers, sisters and schoolmates go to "movies" and the youngsters quite naturally do not want to be left out. Those given at the Library answer that problem and fill the gap. The child can go to the "movies" but his undeveloped mind is not strained nor cluttered with stories which he cannot understand. Rather, the informative nature of the travel or mildly scientific films, mixed, as they are, with cartoons furnish education and fun along with information on his country or other countries, sports and the way products are made or developed.

Perhaps as important as anything else, though, is that on and through these Saturday mornings the child is introduced to the cordial and friendly atmosphere of his Library. Books relating to the films which he has seen are readily available to him, and he has the opportunity to browse and to get acquainted with the pleasures that are stored for him in books.

It is because I feel sure that these children, their mothers and fathers, find this service is so valuable that I wish to express to Miss Mead and the trustees this brief word of appreciation.

LT. RUSSELL RECEIVES THIRD CITATION

William A. Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Russell, 23 Jefferson road, former lieutenant in the U. S. Naval Reserve, has just been awarded the Bronze Star medal by the Commander Amphibious Forces U. S. Pacific Fleet.

Lt. Russell was commanding officer of a U. S. gunboat in the Pacific; he had previously had duty in Europe and the Middle East.

A graduate of Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., class of 1939, Lt. Russell joined the Navy in 1942 and was recently discharged after almost four years service.

This is Lt. Russell's third combat decoration. He was previously decorated for rescue operations in combat, and for the sinking of two suicide boats during the Japanese counter attack of May 3, 4 at Okinawa Gunto.

The citation follows:

In the name of the President of the United States, the Commander Amphibious Forces, United States Pacific Fleet, takes pleasure in presenting a Bronze Star Medal to Lt. William A. Russell, United States Naval Reserve for service as set forth in the following citation:

"For heroic service in connection with operations against the enemy as Commanding Officer of a close-in fire support and radar picket ship, from April to June 1945, during the amphibious assault and capture of Okinawa. Demonstrating outstanding initiative, steadfast courage, and professional skill, he ably fought his ship throughout a protracted period in the performance of such arduous tasks as the delivery of pre-invasion barrage fire, anti-aircraft screening of anchorages and loading areas, and radar picket duty. Frequently withstanding the extreme hazards of direct enemy air attack, he consistently led his ship in a conspicuously meritorious manner, thus contributing materially to the success of this amphibious campaign. His conduct throughout distinguished him among those performing duties of the same character."

MEMORIAL DAY

felt that America has been set apart as a melting pot, where people of all nationalities are fusing and to which people have come through the years in search of freedom.

Like Fr. Sennott, he urged upon all the necessity of consecrating themselves to the task of ensuring the preservation of the principles for which the War Dead fought and gave their lives and that their supreme sacrifice shall not have been in vain.

Three volleys were fired after his address and the echo taps were blown. As the returning line of march swung past the town hall the Board of Selectmen and the Commanders of the Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars reviewed the marchers from a stand in front of the hall.

After the parade light refreshments were served at the Legion House by a group of Legionnaires, headed by Fred Mitchell, and including Allan Wilde, James Treacy, Carl Murphy, Thomas McKee, Robert Sullivan, James Rogers, Anthony Cullen and Arthur Mullen.

Pre-Memorial Day activities included Services at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church last Sunday, with a special sermon by the pastor, Rev. Harris E. Heverley, and the speaking in the schools of the town by members of the veterans' groups.

Notes

It would be hard to have picked a more ideal day for the parades. Plenty of sun, yet not too hot.

There probably has never been a year when so many local veterans have been in line. Both the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Legion had good sized details and throughout the day only the finest spirit of co-operation was observed between the two groups.

The Vets had a snappy firing squad in O. D. under Staff Sgt. Mike Serano. They swung along in fine shape and their rifles added a finished note.

Bob McKee as Commander headed the V. F. W. marchers. His color bearers for the first parade were two Marine veterans, Larry Penta and Willie DeMinico. Harold Fitzgerald and John Hannon were the guards. The boys swapped jobs in the march to Wildwood. John Horn, one of five brothers in the service in World War II, acted as Commander McKee's adjutant. Vice Comdr. Tom Gainey led the Vets when their Commander was in the reviewing stand.

Police Sgt. Charlie Harrold, as commander of the Legion, led the Legionnaires with Wallace Blanchard as adjutant. Big Neil McCarthy and George Donaghey were as usual the Legion standard bearers and the guards were Cliff Towner and Bob Johnston, chief of the Auxiliary Police. Harry Goodwin led the Legion detail.

Memorial Day Chairman, Legionnaire Cadeton Smith, wasn't in line, having too many details to attend to on the side. The smoothness with which things went off attests his efficiency.

Legionnaire George "Scrippy" Joyce should have had some sort of medal. He and his six sons, all in the service in World War II, were in line.

Veterans of World War II who had no affiliations marched with either the Legion or the V. F. W., both posts extending invitations to join their detachments for the parades.

The new veterans' organization, the American Veterans Committee, did not participate in the parades, holding exercises of their own on the Skillings estate just before the start of the parade to Calvary.

As usual the band of Headquarters, 1st Motor Squadron, 1st Corps Cadets, did a first class job, the swing of their music being just right for the marchers. Capt. Raymond D. Fayles commanded and the drum-major was Lt. Edward Sammon. They were generous with their music which was appreciated by every one, marchers and listeners alike.

The line of march has outgrown a single band, and another year there should be a second one to head the big Scout division. These youngsters had to walk along as best they could because the band was so far ahead they could not hear it.

The old A. D. Weld Post G. A. R., wasn't forgotten. Two scouts proudly carried its guidons behind the Legion colors.

Dr. Chester Wolfe, John Casler and Stafford Rogers were the Boy Scout leaders in line. Commissioner, Mrs. Clarence Roberts, Mrs. Lyman Smith, Mrs. Alfred Nelson, Mrs. Waldon Hersey, Mrs. Albert Crockett and Mrs. Marshall Symmes were the Girl Scout leaders. Both scout groups made a good showing as did the little Cubs, who brought up the rear.

As usual Sea Scout Ship Tarquin under Skipper Lou Goddu made a fine appearance in their "whites", and the boys know their marching and reviewing etiquette. Their guards, Frank Gunby and Dick Brackett, passed the reviewing stand at a snappy rifle salute. Skipper Goddu is a stickler for form and his boys show it.

Those were Mariner Scouts in blue among the girls. Stanley Howe is their leader, but did not march with them.

Bill Falzano donated the use of his new Mercury "taxi" to take the disabled veterans over the parade route, driving it himself. He is a veteran of World War II. The Selectmen rode in Ralph Bonnell's Ford with the chairman at the wheel.

Mrs. John Rutherford drove the Red Cross beach wagon over the line of march "just in case," but there were no customers.

There was only one casualty, and that was a bad one. While working at the Legion House the night before Memorial Day, Legionnaire Kenneth Colgate sustained serious eye injuries which necessitated the removal of the injured eye at the Mass. Eye and Ear Infirmary later that night. He was taken to the hospital by Officers Henry Dempsey and John Murray. Reports yesterday were that he was getting along all right.

It surely would have done the late Police Lt. John Harrold's heart good to have seen his son, "Charlie" leading the Legion outfit. John, Winchester's first Police Lieutenant, led the parade to Wildwood for years and years and years.

Sgt. Joseph Derro led the Police escort to Calvary with Winthrop Palmer, James Flaherty, Robert and John Elliott and John Reardon behind him. Big Lt. Edward O'Connell led the Wildwood parade with Henry Dempsey, John Dolan, John Boyle, John Hogan and James Noonan as the officers in line. Officer Irving Reardon rode the motorcycle in both parades and Officer James Farrell was on duty at the Legion House.

MRS. MARIA L. T. MURRAY

Mrs. Maria L. T. Murray, widow of William H. Murray, and mother of the late James O. Murray of this town, died Wednesday, May 29, at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Helen Murray, 10 Crescent road.

Mrs. Murray was 81 years old and a native of Irvington, N. Y., a member of the Tiffany family, widely known as jewelers in New York. She had lived in Winchester for the past two and one-half years.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church chapel, Plainfield, N. J. Interment will be in Hillside Cemetery, Plainfield.

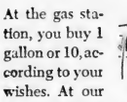
On a Service Basis



At the gas station, you buy 1 gallon or 10, according to your wishes. At our bank, checking service is on a similar basis. You draw one check, or many, and you pay for our service according to the amount you receive, just as you do for gasoline.

In the case of regular checking accounts, depositors pay by carrying a sufficient balance which, when invested, will cover the cost of checking services rendered, or by the payment of service charges. In this way each account stands on its own feet. As a means of saving time, simplifying money records and having an automatic receipt for every bill you pay, a checking account offers you a full measure of convenience.

We cordially invite you to start your checking account here at our bank.

HERE'S ONE!

You just have to open "the book" for an entry like this. During the war Police Chief and Mrs. William H. Rogers sent a box of eatables to their son-in-law, Leonard Gallagher, who was with the armed forces in Italy. Chief Rogers mailed the box and with his usual attention to detail put on a very accurate and legible return address.

In the box among other things was a tin of chicken, at that time, mighty hard to get.

The box got to Italy too late to be received by Gallagher, who had gone to Okinawa. The box followed him and again missed him there, by a rather long head. He had gone further east. So did the box, but once again the "twain" like the old saw, failed to meet.

Eventually the box, thanks to the Chief's return address, got back all the way to Winchester. Most of its contents were not so good from a gastronomic standpoint, but the can of chicken seemed in excellent shape.

The Rogers had it for supper last Sunday evening, and thus far have suffered no ill effects. We still think it's one for the book, even if the coal strike is settled.

RED CROSS SEWING
Volunteers Work To Fill 1000 Garment Quota

Since the Red Cross Work Room opened in 1939, faithful Winchester volunteers have been working to meet the increased clothing demand by accepting larger and larger sewing quotas. Winchester's April 1st to June 30th allotment is 1000 woolen and cotten dresses for women and children. Upon completion the garments are sent immediately to devastated countries overseas where they are distributed.

The Red Cross Work Room on the third floor of the Town Hall is open Monday through Friday, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Among the regular workers in the sewing room are: Mrs. Bertram A. Albro, Mrs. Stephen C. Burgoyne, Miss Nelly Cumming, Mrs. Fred Horn, Mrs. Daniel Kelley, Mrs. William M. Lunan, Mrs. R. Irving Mayer, Mrs. William Mitchell, Mrs. Walter L. Rice, Miss Clara R. Russell, Mrs. Ralph E. Sexton, Miss Lillian P. Stacey and Mrs. Donald W. True.

The Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross accepted its first sewing assignment calling for 50 women's woolen dresses when Mrs. George A. Dutting was Chapter Chairman in 1939. Mrs. Dutting, assisted by Mrs. Fred A. Dodge cut the garments in her own home and parcelled them out to volunteers to be sewn. Shortly afterward, the Work Room in the Town Hall was opened and Mrs. Dodge served as the first production chairman. Mrs. Clark W. Collins was the second production chairman and today the sewing is being done under the supervision of Mrs. George F. Nardin.

ST. MARY'S WELCOMED VETS

St. Mary's Parish Salute and Welcome Home to veterans of the parish and of the town, attracted a good sized crowd to the town hall Tuesday evening.

St. Mary's Band, under the direction of Prof. Frank C. Barone, played an appropriate musical program to open the festivities, after which the entire assemblage paused for a moment of silence to commemorate the sacrifice of members of the parish and of the town who died in service.

Ralph H. Bonnell, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, was the the only speaker. Introduced by St. Mary's pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, he brought the greetings of the town and spoke briefly of the meaning and significance of gathering together to pay tribute to the returning service men and women. He told something of the part the State and Town of Winchester played in the recent war and urged his listeners to live up to the reputation made by the community during the dark war days.

At the conclusion of Mr. Bonnell's address a "Welcome Home" song, composed especially for the occasion by Prof. Barone was sung by St. Mary's Quartet, Mabel Coty, soprano; Mary Perlupo, contralto; Arnold Callahan, tenor; and Dana Kelly, baritone. Mrs. D. Irving Reardon, church organist, accompanied the singers on the piano, and after the refrain had been sung by the quartet the entire gathering joined in the singing, copies of the music having been provided. The "catchy" nature of the refrain made it easy for every one to sing. Frank Hurley, president of St. Mary's Holy Name Society, presented a brief introduction to the song.

Members of the Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Knights of Columbus assisted with seating and other arrangements for the party.

From 9 o'clock until midnight dancing was enjoyed to the strains of O'Leary's Irish Minstrels, winding up a pleasant evening in a most approved fashion.

Reading Room, 5 Winchester terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sunday and holidays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and in all of its branches on Sunday, June 2, is "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."

The Golden Text, "My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever. For, lo they that are far from thee shall perish," is from Psalms (73:26,27). Other Bible citations include: "The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him . . . But the salvation of the righteous is of the Lord: he is their strength in the time of trouble" (Psalms 37:32,39).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Every attempt of evil to destroy good is a failure, and only aids in perpetuity in punishing the evildoer" (p. 186); "The weapons of bigotry, ignorance, envy, fall before an honest heart" (p. 464).

VETERAN'S BONUS

It is refreshing to perceive one note of sanity amidst present clamor for bonus handouts in Massachusetts.

At a recent meeting the Winchester chapter of the American Veterans Committee went on record as unanimously opposed to the Kelly $1000 bonus, or any other form of "costly, impermanent handout." Following the lead of state and national AVC units, the local organization voted in favor of a Massachusetts Veterans Aid Fund, which, once initiated, would be self-sustaining.

The prototype of this idea has been successfully functioning in Nebraska for 25½ years. There the state administers the fund insofar as investments are concerned. The income from the fund is used for relief of veterans and their families proven worthy of such aid. Under capable handling, the assets are now greater than when this "rainy day" fund was started following the first World War.

Additional bonus schemes of $100 for those who served in this country and $200 for those who served overseas, or the Francis E. Kelly proposal of $900 would cost taxpayers many times the amount needed to inaugurate a Nebraska-type fund. Moreover, a fund of this nature would preclude yearly "demands" for additional veterans bonus.

A referendum of the Massachusetts electorate—such as one about to be conducted in New York, might prove enlightening. Would even the veterans themselves choose a temporary gift, the cost of which will more than double our state treasury load, in place of less costly, self-sustaining, long range security?

BELMONT ON TOP

Winchester High lost another football-score baseball game to Belmont in the Middlesex League series on Manchester Field Wednesday afternoon, 15 to 3. Andy Wettlaufer, crack visiting catcher hit a grand-slam homer while Buckley of Belmont robbed Sam Tabado of a sure fire circuit clout with a great leaping one hand catch.

How Does Christian Science Heal?

The Disappearance of organic and functional disease, as well as of trouble in other forms, is continually recorded among those who have turned to Christian Science for help.

The method of such overcoming of difficulty is prayer — a spiritually scientific manner of thinking based on the teaching of Christ Jesus.

What this prayer is and how anyone can understand it and use it effectually in accordance with his need are fully explained in the Christian Science textbook

Science and Health

with Key to the Scriptures

by Mary Baker Eddy

This remarkable book, other works of Mrs. Eddy, and all other authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed, or purchased at the Christian Science Reading Room.

Needlecraft News by Nancy Baxter

"MIRROR, mirror, on the wall . . ." Time and again we look into our mirrors—and maybe we even preen a little—for it's a very human habit to want to know how we look. It's a worthwhile practice, too, to look objectively—to try to see ourselves the way others see us. But are you always satisfied with your own reflection? Is it neat and well-groomed, down to the smallest detail? If not—you've some "clothes-lifting" to do. A well-groomed look is important because of the impression it gives others—and because of the confidence in ourselves it builds up. So let's consider the condition of our clothes, and the ways to increase their wearability.

Every homemaker knows that the way to achieve that fresh, hand-box look is to care for clothes daily. While most of the cleaning can be done outside the home by professionals, most of the care falls to the wearer or homemaker. On-the-spot care, such as catching rips, tightening buttons, removing stains and cleaning necklines, will make a garment last longer. There's no reason why rips, tears, or frayed collars and cuffs should mar a garment, when a stitch in time will keep it good as new. To insure instant care, always keep a first-aid box of sewing equipment and a bottle of cleaning fluid in a handy place. Regular pressing is another "must" for good grooming—because it does away with those annoying wrinkles and creases in skirts, sleeves, bows, veils, etc. Accessories also should be spic and span at all times, and this includes blouses, hats, handbags, gloves, stockings and shoes. If you set aside special compartments or cases for your various garments, they will remain unruffled and undisturbed while not in use. And above all, don't let repairs pile up—or you'll discover, to your dismay, that you're caught short in an emergency.

Another way to make good grooming easy is to specialize in garments requiring little care. Pictured here is just such an item, a crocheted blouse—the perfect example of that fresh-as-a-daisy look. It's refreshing and frothy with its crisp ruffles around neck and sleeves. Crochet it of mercerized cotton, wash it, starch it, and wear it again and again with jewelry or flower accessories. This very feminine blouse is perfect to wear with a suit now, with a crepe skirt all summer. Directions may be obtained for crocheting DATE MAGIC BLOUSE, simply by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, asking for Leaflet No. 1296.

AMERICAN VETERANS COMMITTEE NOTES

Winchester's AVC yesterday officially observed Memorial Day with an early morning non-sectarian service open to all who wished to attend, and conducted by Rev. John P. Robertson on the Skillings Estate. A wreath was placed on the Honor Roll during a period of silence.

While the total turnout for Winchester's recent housing survey was disappointing, nevertheless, 20 of the 25 persons reporting for canvassing duty were AVC members.

At a recent meeting, the local AVC chapter went on record as unanimously opposing the Kelly $900 bonus, or any other bonus as such. Following the lead of state and national AVC units, the Winchester organization voted in favor of a Massachusetts Veterans Aid Fund, which, once initiated, would be self-sustaining.

A prototype of this idea has been successfully functioning in Nebraska for 25 years. There, the state administers the fund insofar as investments are concerned. Administration of income from the fund is by veterans. This income is used for relief of veterans and their families proven in need of such aid. Under capable handling, the assets are now greater than when this "rainy day" fund was started, following the first World War.

Bonus schemes of an additional $100 for those who served in this country, and $200 for those who served overseas, or the Frost-Fish-Kelly proposal of $900 more, would cost taxpayers many times the amount needed to inaugurate a Nebraska-type fund. Moreover, a fund of this nature would preclude yearly "demands" for additional veterans bonus.

Referendum of the Massachusetts electorate on this whole question - such as one about to be conducted in New York - might prove enlightening. Would even the veterans themselves choose a temporary gift, cost of which would more than double the state treasury load, - in place of less costly, self-sustaining long range security?

A generous offer was this week made to all Winchester veterans through the AVC. Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye (91 Mystic Valley Parkway - Win. 1895) has an upstairs living room which she is willing to put to good use for veterans. A married veteran who wishes to get out for an occasional evening may leave his child with Mrs. Toye. Furthermore, a veteran who has not room to entertain in his own quarters is more than welcome to employ Mrs. Toye's extra room for any occasion. It is not surprising that this public spirited citizen will accept no monetary reimbursement from veterans.

Guest speakers at the last two AVC meetings were Mr. Wiley, Field Sec. of the Massachusetts Federation for World Government, and Colonel Barton Parker, Veterans Adviser to the OPA in Boston.

An appeal to all citizens of Winchester interested in local housing for veterans: Contact your Town Meeting Members; let them know your views. Town Meeting Members are your representatives at Town Meeting. With them rests decision on what action Winchester is to take on this important issue.

Nancy Claire Reynolds, daughter of the late Robert A. Reynolds and Mrs. Clara Reynolds, is graduating from Boston Girls Latin School, one of the top seven in a class of 100 students. She has also just been installed in the Chapter of the National Honor Society recently authorized in Boston Girls Latin School. Nancy received her early training in the Winchester Schools.

PERSONALIZED LIBRARY SERVICE

At the Winchester Hospital

"Hi, Miss Kendall. I'm waiting for you!" The voice came from the men's ward in the Winchester Hospital, and the patient was an 18 year old boy, rigged up with the scaffolding indicating a broken limb. "The doctor says I'll not be leaving here for another three weeks, and I don't want to be wasting time. Can you get me some books on diving equipment for salvage operations?" The book truck stopped by the bed, and Cynthia Kendall of the Winchester Public Library replied, "Indeed I can get you all the books you can read. In three weeks you will be ready to pry open Davy Jones' locker by the most modern methods."

Around the corner the librarian entered the room of a young mother from Reading, one of those people who finds life at home too full for much reading. A short stay at the hospital is a golden opportunity to get acquainted with some of the best sellers. "I don't suppose you have Du Maurier's 'The King's General or Costain's 'Black Rose' this afternoon, Miss Kendall." "There you're luckily mistaken, Mrs. Gardner, "I have them both here. Which will you take first?" "Oh, the 'King's General' will be a good beginning, and I will hope for the other next Tuesday." To which Miss Kendall replies that she will try to make certain of having 'Black Rose' for her next week.

A mild chorus of welcome greets the book truck in the children's ward. Among the boys and girls the "Library Lady" finds a ready market for several volumes of Perkins Twin adventures and Thornton Burgess animal stories, in addition to books on "making things" which are much in demand among those lucky enough to have their own work benches or permission to use daddy's. (Yes, indeed, girls as well as boys!)

The Winchester Public Library considers the Hospital one of its most promising activities. Now only four years old, it reached a circulation of 1250 books during 1945, and the number constantly increases. The Hospital bookcase contains about 150 volumes on loan from the Library, in addition to 95 current books purchased from En Ka Society funds and about 38 given by individual friends. The collection ranges from the most-frequently called for light romances, Westerns, and "who-done-it's" to the more substantial current fiction and non-fiction, books of travel, humor and biography.

Every Tuesday afternon the visiting librarian makes a selection of 50 odd books from the case and places them on the book truck, designed especially for this service and also given by the En Ka Society. An individual patient may borrow as many volumes at one time as he wishes, and return is made easy by an attractive blue hamper left for this purpose at a convenient spot. Special requests for books not already at the Hospital are, whenever possible, filled from the main library. The Nurses Home of the Hospital also has a deposit of Winchester Public Library books, changed at frequent intervals and varying in number, in addition to others permanently belonging to the Nurses Home through the kindness of the En Ka Society.

Arrangements for the Hospital visits of a librarian were made in 1941 by conferences between Miss Corinne Mead, Librarian of the Winchester Public Library and Mr. Frank E. Crawford, Manager of the Hospital. Both the Library and the Hospital are proud of the success of the service. The doctors praise it as a practical adjunct to the therapeutic measures prescribed by them.

WINCHESTER CHURCH WOMEN CO-OPERATE IN FLOWER MISSION

Tuesday, June 4, marks the renewal of the flower baskets starting from Winchester Station for the South Bay Union, Harrison avenue, Boston, where the flowers will be arranged and distributed to those living in that part of the city who need especial cheer.

For many years the Boston & Maine Railroad has loyally cooperated by handling the baskets filled with flowers.

The station master will have the hamper ready to receive our gifts, every Tuesday morning in June, July, August and September at 8:45. Any person contributing flowers please send them to the Winchester Station. Persons unable to send notify Mrs. Arthur G. Robbins, Win. 0302 Monday afternoon and some one will call for them.

The Winchester churches are working together to revive this interesting service.

K. OF C. NOTES

At the next regular meeting the annual election of officers for the coming year will take place. This is a very important duty of each member, so make every effort to be present at this meeting.

The Grand Knight announces that there will be a second degree for the new class of candidates to be held at Lyceum Hall on Sunday, June 9 at 2:30 p. m.

Plans are being made to have a Victory banquet for Brother Geo. F. Young, recently elected to the office of State Warden.

Grand Knight Leo "Chet" Thibeault is now up and around having fully recovered from his recent illness.

Reports have it that the local brothers did a good job in helping out the churches on their recent paper collection. (Good work boys!).

On next Monday night the last first degree will be held for new members. Any brothers who are sponsoring candidates are urged to see that they are at this meeting. So don't forget the next regular meeting will be held on Monday, June 3 at 8:30 p. m. Be there.

TREASURE CHEST COMMITTEE

As a result of the concert given by the Girl Scout and Boy Scout Bands the Treasure Chest Committee of Winchester is preparing to send three chests of books to the Deichsmaske Bibliotek in Oslo.

Books on the approved list are on display in the Winchester Public Library and children are invited to vote on the ones they may wish to send. This has brought about much exploratory reading of some of the less familiar volumes, resulting in the discovery of new literary satisfactions for the young people and at the same time has encouraged the re-reading of many older favorites.

As shortage of lumber is delaying completion of the chests themselves, there is still time and all children are urged to help Miss Mead, honorary chairman of the Treasure Chest Committee, make a selection of which they approve.

Shipment of candles just arrived - Wilson the Stationers, Star Building.

THE WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The Winchester College Club has completed its various activities with three very pleasant gatherings during the month of May.

The first of these was the final meeting of the Evening Study Groups. The members of the five groups joined together for a chicken supper at the First Congregational Church on Monday evening, May 6. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Graves, who directed the Groups, planned a very interesting program following the supper. Mr. Robert B. Metcalf of the Biography Group, Dr. Howard J. Chidley of the Prophets of Israel Group, and Mr. James S. Allen of the World Affairs Group reported on the activities of their Groups during the year. The Music Group and the Play Reading Group gave their reports in the form of entertainment - choral singing led by Mrs. W. Winslow Smith and the reading of selections from "Ah Wilderness", directed by Mr. and Mrs. S. Frederick Calhoun. All agreed that this was a very fitting completion of a most successful season for the Evening Study Groups of the Winchester College Club.

The second event was a luncheon on Monday, May 20 at the home of Mrs. William F. Morton as a conclusion to the activities of the History Group. The delicious buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. Morton assisted by Miss Lucy E. Ayer, Mrs. Austin T. Bunker, Mrs. Forbes H. Norris, and Mrs. George A. Wilson. Every-one enjoyed the opportunity of eating on the porch and terrace, as it was one of the few perfect days this spring. Following the luncheon there was a brief meeting on the porch led by Mrs. Bunker in the absence of the Group's leader, Mrs. Lester H. Armstrong. Suggestions were made for topics to study next year.

The College Club was favored with a second perfect spring day for its Annual Meeting at the home of Mrs. William L. Davis on Wednesday afternoon, May 22. After the president, Mrs. Langley C. Keyes, greeted the members, Mrs. Clarence A. Roberts, the commissioner of the Winchester Girls' Scout Council, made an appeal for girl scout workers and Mrs. Robert A. Drake made an announcement concerning the Smith College Club Plant Sale. The business meeting was opened by the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. William A. Kugler and the reading of the treasurer's report by Mrs. Albert A. Haskell in the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Philip P. Wadsworth. Mrs. Keyes then called for reports from the Study Groups. Mrs. Lyman B. Smith reported on the History Group in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Lester H. Armstrong; Mrs. John P. Carr, co-chairman of the Art Group reported for its chairman Mrs. Kenneth S. Hall; and Mrs. Samuel M. Graves gave a very interesting report on the Evening Study Groups.

Mrs. Keyes then called on Mrs. James S. Allen for the report of the nominating committee. Mrs. Allen presented the names of Mrs. J. Girard Chandler from Vassar, for president and Mrs. David K. Young, from Radcliffe, for secretary both of whom were unanimously elected by those present.

Mrs. Keyes turned the meeting over to Mrs. Chandler as the new president and also as program chairman for this year. After expressing her appreciation of Mrs. Keyes' fine work as president, Mrs. Chandler introduced Dr. Herbert Myron, professor of French at the Boston University School of Liberal Arts and also president of the Boston Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of French, Dr. Myron spoke on the subject, "Educating for a More Fraternal World". He has traveled in Europe and South America and is well qualified to speak on this subject. During the war he taught A. S. T. P. courses at Boston University, helping G. I.'s to understand the people and language of France and from that experience he has formed some interesting opinions on educating youth to have a fraternal attitude toward the peoples of other countries. He feels that education in foreign languages and literature should include more about the everyday people in contrast with the traditional education which includes mostly the upper crust in society and literature. He also feels that no education can be successful in creating a feeling of brotherhood toward other nations and races unless that is begun in the home at pre-school ages.

An interesting discussion period followed the lecture in which the importance of home influence was again emphasized.

While refreshments were served by the social chairman, Mrs. Richard H. Frazier and a committee of Wellesley women, Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, Mrs. Ross M. Cunningham, Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor, Mrs. Charles A. Main and Miss Mary Worthen the members enjoyed Mrs. Davis's beautiful garden.

MODERN ART AT LIBRARY

The Winchester Art Association has currently sponsored an exhibition of paintings by modern artists from the Margaret Brown Gallery on Newbury street in Boston. For the most part, the pictures needed no special explanation, there being but one abstraction, the "Industrial Abstraction" of Douglas Brown, which seemed to be a collection of well-drawn ladders, stairways, sheds, cranes and partitions grouped together, to express the artist's impression of the title he has given his picture.

This knowing what the artist has in mind is important in any attempt to understand, let alone appreciate, the modern approach to art. Apparently in the modern art world things are not what they are, but what they seem, with your artist concerning himself only with his own feeling for the subject he is portraying.

Not that the past exhibition was preponderantly a wierd sort of show. That water color by Allan Rohan, "Sterling Street, Roxbury", was well drawn and expressed nicely the sordid down-at-the-heel appearance of box-like double-decker houses in their welter of chimney-pots, store-fronts and telephone poles. Two or three very apropos figures showed in the foreground.

Quite charming was the portrait character study, "Phyllis" by Gardner Cox, showing a young girl with a pensive, enquiring expression, her hair fluffed out from under a scarlet tasseled cap, and one cheek resting against her hand.

"Sakonnet Farm" by Edgar Corbridge was another water color with a lot of atmosphere, with its long shed and gabled barn looming stark against an angry looking dark-gray sky above smoothish green fields. Two long dark boats were moored in the rushes bordering a flat whitish stream in the foreground. The whole had that un-real unfeeling you have just before a thunderstorm breaks.

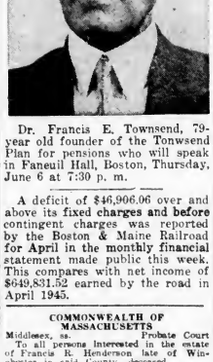
"Autumn Leaves" by Charles Hopkinson and Karl Zerbe's "Garden, Brantome" seemed to show the modern influence rather more than some of the other studies though "Afternoon in Paris" was hardly of the conservative school. "White House" by Polly Thayer Starr was well drawn and lighted, and Janet Folsom showed a fine feeling for her subject in "Lazy Daisy."

DAMAGED NEIGHBORS' HOUSE

The Police were called to the North End last Friday morning to stop the activities of a woman who was venting her resentment of treatment accorded her upon the house in which the alleged responsible parties live.

Before the Police arrived she had broken nine panes of glass, ripped screens from the house and tipped over a chicken coop, freeing a number of chickens, one of which she threw through a broken window into the house for good measure.

Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy and Officer Edward F. Bowler had difficulty in restraining one of the occupants of the house, bent upon retaliation. The woman responsible for the damage said the other two "had snubbed her and were not going to get away with it." She appeared in court Tuesday on charges of disturbing the peace.



Dr. Francis E. Townsend, 79-year old founder of the Tonwsend Plan for pensions who will speak in Faneuil Hall, Boston, Thursday, June 6 at 7:30 p. m.

A deficit of $46,906.06 over and above its fixed charges and before contingent charges was reported by the Boston & Maine Railroad for April in the monthly financial statement made public this week. This compares with net income of $649,831.52 earned by the road in April 1945.

PLANS START FOR FALL FAIR AT EPIPHANY

Motif—Persian Bazaar.
Time—Friday, Oct. 25.
Place—Epiphany Parish House.

To the Epiphany Bazaar Committee for the annual fall fair the momentous announcement was made.

On Monday, May 27 the group met at the home of Mrs. Robert Thomason who, with Mrs. Paul Forester, Jr., as co-chairman, is in charge of the Persian Bazaar.

Appropriately, discussion began over cups of coffee as Mrs. E. Phillips Walker, chairman of the Church Service League, poured. Mrs. Richard Frazier as chairman of the Tuesday Luncheon Group, and Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth as former Epiphany Fair Chairman, together with Mrs. Walker, were special guests who joined in the planning with Mrs. Thomason. Mrs. Forester, Mrs. F. W. Aseltine, Mrs. F. W. Aseltine, Jr., Mrs. Edward Boyd, Mrs. Harold Blanchard, Mrs. Francis Chase, Mrs. Donald Conners, Mrs. Hollis Dyer, Mrs. Charles Hart, Mrs. Waldo Hart, Mrs. Ralph Hopp, Miss E. Louise Nardin, Mrs. Clarence Perkins, Mrs. Harrison Rainie, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, Mrs. Ellsworth Snow, Ms. John S. Swift, Mrs. Lloyd Wallis.

Excitement ran high as the wares for the booths in the oriental market-place were described by their respective vendors. The veil of mystery still shrouds the Bazaar but peeks and whispers hint that the old and familiar items will be found side by side with the novel and unique, and to the initiated there was revealed a special secret tempting to the teen-agers.

High noon approached, the group dispersed. But not so on Oct. 25 when the vendors will display their wares, and the stalls, gay with oriental splendor, will induce allcomers to discover the treasures there disclosed.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Brownie Pet Show held on Manchester Field last Saturday afternoon proved a great success. There were between 40 and 50 entries, dogs, cats, rabbits, "reptiles" (mostly chameleons), and two roosters, Mr. Bryer of the Animal Shelter was most helpful, not only judging the entries but briefly discussing the care of each with its owner. For the benefit of a few parents who may have been surprised that their children's really highly bred pup or cat received no greater recognition than did some of the humbler breeds, it should be emphasized again that awards, quite properly for a democracy, were won by merit of care evidenced rather than by family tree suspected. After numerous pony rides were enjoyed and a large number of ice cream sandwiches consumed, a parade was staged for a grand finale.

Following the marching dogs, each one proudly led by his mistress, was the mystery of the afternoon, a diminutive animal ineligible for the show only because it seemed probable that a small human lurked beneath its tawny hide. The fade-out of the Show revealed the pony boys galloping their steeds furiously towards home while a tired Brownie loaded an enormous rooster and a modest-sized dog onto a cart and patiently trundled them in the other direction.

Members of Troop 2 visited Agassiz Museum on Wednesday to study minerals in connection with working towards their Rock Badge.

Troop 10, as the final project towards their Folk Dancing badge, had a dance last week where the girls presented a demonstration of the Virginia Reel. Following that, they taught the boys they invited the Portland Fancy, and wound up with some ballroom dancing and refreshments.

SPRING CONCERT EMINENTLY SUCCESSFUL

That music instruction at Winchester High School has been on a large scale was most successfully demonstrated by the more than 400 participants in the Annual Spring Concert at the high school auditorium last Friday evening before a capacity audience. From the standpoint of the spectacular alone this year's presentation was more than a concert. It provided a public demonstration of the fact that young people like to sing and that they can learn to follow the direction of a leader. Under the able direction of Miss Alma Stoddart, Supervisor of Music, the Junor-Senior High Schools Band, the high school orchestra, glee clubs, soloists, chorus groups, and the mammoth combined chorus pleased their enthusiastic audience. Breathtaking indeed was the appearance of over 350 boys and girls on the stage to sing "One World" by O'Hara, and "Now the Day is Over" favorite hymn by Barnby.

Part One of the program consisted of "The Star Spangled Banner"; "Mutual", and "Strike Up the Band"; by the band; piano soloes, "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" and "Warsaw Concerto" played by Barbara Elliott; "Symphony" and "Joshua Fit De Battle of Jericho" by Chorus B; a very well rendered solo "Because" by Dorothy Hickey, accompanied by Mrs. Albert Edmund Brown; and "The Desert Song" and "Stout Hearted Men" by the male glee club.

Part Two opened with the orchestra playing "Urbana Overture"; Gery Clifford, freshman soprano, pleased with her soprano solo, "Summertime"; the male double quarter sang "Santa Lucia" and "Eight Bells"; and the girls' glee club sang a group of three numbers, "Night and Day", "Estrellita", and "Sevenfold Amen", the last of these a difficult bit of unaccompanied singing being directed by Susan Hight.

Koren Kolligian played "Polonaise" and the girls' choral group sang "It's a Grand Night for Singing" and "Begin the Beguine." Thomas Drapeau, tenor, accompanied by Mrs. Brown, sang "Thine Alone", being warmly applauded. "Introduction to the Third Act of Lohengrin" by the orchestra concluded Part 2.

Chorus A, the two-year chorus, sang "Czecho-Slovakian Dance Song" "Sweetheart" from "Maytime" and "Beautiful Saviour.." At this point, Sam Tibaudo directed the boys of Chorus A to move out to the very edge of the stage apron, and Chorus B, the one-year members, in seemingly endless columns, silently filed onto the stage for the final two numbers mentioned at the beginning.

Culminating as it did the year's activity of the band, orchestra, and the choruses, this year's concert was a stupendous undertaking, and a distinct credit to the untiring effort of Miss Stoddart.

Called to the stage after the final number, Miss Stoddart graciously thanked the youngsters, not only for their gift to her, but for their generous support and hard work during the year. Miss Stoddart also expressed her pleasure in having her former teacher, Dr. Albert Edmund Brown in the audience. Dr. Brown, formerly music director in the Winchester schools, arose and was heartily applauded.

All in all, this year's concert showed a considerable advance in singing technique and in the variety of the program. Probably the most marked improvement in the choruses is in the male voices.

COUNTRY SQUARE DANCE

Party for Junior High Schoolers A Grand Success

A very gay and happy group of 125 boys and girls from the Junior High School assembled in the High School Gymnasium last Saturday night for their 2nd annual country square dance party. And it was a grand evening of fun for everyone! Even the hosts and hostesses, Mr. and Mrs. Forbes Norris and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dickman entered into the spirit of the party and joined with Mr. and Mrs. Brad Hersey, Mr. Albert Haynes, the announcer, and Mrs. Lawrence Hawkins in one of the numbers.

Ice Cream and cookies were thoroughly enjoyed during intermission after a very energetic Virginia Reel. Then an elimination dance was announced and the lucky winners of this were Diantha Lamb, Richard Carroll, Carole Shanklin, and Betty Kneeland. So great was the enthusiasm that some of the boys and girls suggested that a series of these square dances be considered for next year.

The Junior and Senior Comittees who worked to make this party the success it was are: Bussey Bird Diantha Lamb, Fred Goddard, Louise Kugler, Ann Dillingham, John Gillotti, John Borden, Lorraine Frongillo, Elizabeth McHugh, Dick Carroll, Peter Reddinig, Jackie Fritch Pat McDermott, Dick Cody, Marjory Carroll, Robert Craig, Mrs. Allan S. Farquahar, Mrs. Lawrence Hawkins, Mrs. Brad Hersey, Mrs. Harvey Macauley, Mrs. Charles R. Mingins and Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl.

COSMIS RAYS

A series of flights by a specially equipped B-29 bomber will measure the intensity of cosmic rays at various altitudes and latitudes, it was announced today by Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, President of the National Geographic Society.

Cooperating in the project are the National Geographic Society, the Army Air Forces, and the Bartol Research Foundation of the Franklin Institute at Philadelphia.

Starting late in May, four round trips will be made between a point near the northern border of the United States and the magnetic Equator. The exact route has not yet been selected. One flight will be at 35,000 feet, and the others will be at lower altitudes, 25,000, 15,000, and 5,000 feet.

Secondary Particles Studied

The flight will constitute the first systematic and continuous researches at selected altitudes throughout a 70-degree range of latitude.

The studies are designed to obtain better experimental evidence of the nature of cosmic rays, particles of great energy which originate outside the earth's atmosphere and constantly bombard the earth. The plane will be fitted out with Geiger counter "telescopes" so arranged as to record cosmic ray activity in the vertical direction.

Specifically, the scientists conducting the tests want to measure the intensity of mesotrons, particles into which the primary rays are believed to split after entering the earth's atmosphere. These mesotrons, about 200 times as heavy as electrons, have a short life, only a few millionths of a second.

The secondary particles are believed to represent the end products of an atomic disintergration. Virtually all the primary cosmic rays are used up in forming secondary radiation before law altitudes are reached. Consequently, readings at various heights may give further information about the nature of the primary particles.

Maximum Intensity Found

The B-29 tests will be a continuation of investigations begun in 1935, when the National Geographic Society and the Army Air Corps sponsored the record flight of the world's largest balloon, Explorer II. Equipment to study cosmic rays, furnished by the Bartol Research Foundation, was among the scientific apparatus contained in the balloon, which ascended to a height of 72,395 feet.

This research showed that intensity of cosmic rays, amount of the earth's protective layer of ozone gas, and electrical conductivity of the air (ionization) attain maximums about 11 miles above the earth.

We also have Scotch tape at Wilson the Stationers, Star Bldg.

TELEPHONE OFFICE RENOVATED

Patrons visiting the Telephone Office on Thompson street these days are remarking the improved appearence of the place with its new lighting and freshly decorated walls.

New desks have been provided, especially an entirely new type payments desk and because it is now a district office the personnel has been increased. Mrs. Isabelle Gallagher, whose home is in Winchester has been transferred to the local office from Bowdoin Square, Boston, with Miss Jeanne Murphy, a Woburn girl, who comes from Medford. Miss Mary McGurn and Miss Alice Hall, the regular clreks, have been retained at the office, giving it a staff of four, in addition to District Manager John M. Dick, whose headquarters are now in Winchester. Other communities served from the Winchester office include Woburn, Stoneham, Reading and Wakefield.

When you next drop in at the Thompson street office you will hardly know the place until you get down to business. Then you will find the new setup is providing the same friendly, courteous and efficient service you have enjoyed for years.

HAGGERTY HIGH SCORER

Pvt. James J. Haggerty, U. S. M. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Haggerty of Baldwin street, recently emerged as high shooter in a competition for Marine recruits at Parris Island, S. C., where he is completing his boot training.

Jim, captain of last fall's football team at Winchester High and a very speedy wingback during the past two seasons, represented Platoon 96. He fired a total of 312 out of a possible 340, under poor range conditions, making his best score in the kneeling position, at which he scored 78 out of 80 at 300 yards. He had never fired a rifle before entering the service.

Besides his prowess with the rifle Jim has been boxing on the Marine team and has been doing well. His father served for two years in the Navy. Jim is hoping to be assigned to a motor transport outfit as driver after his boot training is completed.

U. S. BASES

The return to Cuba of United States military and naval bases developed during World War II will leave in Uncle Sam's hands the long-used naval station at Guantanamo.

The Guantanamo site, notes the National Geographic Society, was leased by the United States from newly-independent Cuba early in the 1900's. The arrangement followed the Spanish-American War, during which United States Marines and Cuban rebel supporters had seen action there against the Spaniards.

Deep and wide Guantanamo Bay offers an excellent harbor, under United States naval jurisdiction. Before World War II it was sometimes called a "winter home" of the Atlantic fleet, and annual target-practice maneuvers were carried on in the vicinity. The base is on the southern coast of Cuba, within 70 miles of the island's eastern end.

The much smaller naval station of San Julian, which is reported already evacuated, was at Cuba's far western tip. Equipped with auxiliary air facilities, it was used during the war largely by the Coast Guard.

Chief site to be returned to Cuba is the Army air base at San Antonio de los Banos. Situated about 20 air miles southwest of the Cuban capital, Havana, the town was noted before the war for its "disappearing river." In its underground wanderings, this river flows at one place through a dark, grotesquely-formed cave inhabited by blind fish.

The air station will be used in the future as a training center for Cuban air forces, according to statements at the time of the original United States - Cuban agreement.

The third base to be returned, also a United States Army Air station, was set up at the inland city of Camaguey, capital of Camaguey Province. This is the old Indian name of the native village which once stood on the spot. But the city is also frequently known as Puerto Pricipe, or "Prince Harbor."

HEARING HELD ON PROPOSAL TO LIMIT SCHOOL BUILDING

The Planning Board, as required by law, held a hearing Tuesday evening in the town hall on Article 9 in the warrant for the special town meeting June 13 which seeks to forbid the erection of private schools or other institutions in residential districts of the town. The article was signed by Clarence A. Roberts and others, and Mr. Roberts was one of three principal speakers favoring its adoption, the others being Capt. Harrison Chadwick and Vincent Farnsworth, Jr. Thirty-three persons recorded themselves in favor of the article.

Speaking in opposition were Leo F. Garvey, who appeared as counsel for Marycliff Academy in Arlington, now erecting buildings at the site of their new location on the J. Edward Downes estate off High street; Frank P. Hurley, Miss Brenda M. Dissell, Mrs. Elizabeth C. McDonald, Charles H. Gallagher, J. Joseph Tansey and Rev. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's Church. Thirty-six persons recorded themselves as opposed to the adoption of the article.

Other speakers were Joseph W. Worthen and Miss Ella M. Emerson, neither of whom expressed a preference for or against the article, Mr. Worthen confining himself to discussing those democratic prossesses which provide that controversial articles shall have their day in court, and Miss Emerson expressing the opinion that the town's Zoning Bylaws stand in urgent need of revision.

Debate for the most part was concerned with Marycliff Academy. Those opposing the adoption of the proposed change in the Zoning Laws took the position that acceptence could seriously hamper the proper development of the school, which would be altogether discriminatory, if not illegal. Going further, some contended that the proposed change is aimed directly at the school.

Proponents disclaimed any intention of interfering with the proper development of Marycliff, but contended that such schools or private institutions do not belong in residential sections of the town.

Replying to criticism that insufficient notice of the hearing had been given and that an attempt had been made to rush the matter through over a holiday week-end when people were away, Mr. Parsons, chairman of the Planning Board, stated that the hearing was called in accordance with the provisions of law after the signing of the warrant for the special town meeting by the Selectmen.

Mr. Parsons presided at the meeting which was attended by about 135 persons.

WINCHESTER'S TRAIN SERVICE NOT BADLY AFFECTED

Service Mostly Curtailed on Saturdays

The curtailing of train service by the Boston and Maine Railroad, a voluntary action which seeks for the most part to remove some little patronized Saturday trains, is not affecting Winchester too greatly. Winchester has always enjoyed excellent train service and with the exception of Saturday this service remains pretty much as it has been.

Two daily trains are missing under the new setup, the 6:56 a. m. train inbound having been cancelled with the train leaving Boston for Winchester at 11:40 a. m. The train leaving Winchester at 6:28 a. m. for Woburn will not be restored, this being a train which left Wilmington for Winchester at 5:38 p. m.

The train leaving Boston at 6:40 a. m. for Wilmington, stopping at Winchester at 6:57 will not run Saturdays, nor will the train leaving Boston at 8:11 a. m., stopping at Winchester at 8:29. Another train leaving Boston for Wilmington at 2:31 p. m., stopping at Winchester at 2:48, will not run on Saturdays. The train leaving Boston at 5:16 p. m. for Wilmington, stopping at Winchester at 5:35, will not run on Saturdays.

Inbound the train leaving Woburn for Winchester at 6:41 a. m., stopping here at 6:50 will not be restored.

The train leaving Wilmington at 7:01 a. m. for Boston, stopping at Winchester at 7:23, will not run on Saturdays, nor will the train leaving Winchester Highlands at 8 a. m., arriving at Winchester at 8:04. There will be however another inbound train leaving just before this train which will stop at Winchester on Saturdays at 7:59 a. m.

The train leaving Woburn for Boston at 8:53, stopping at Winchester at 9 a. m., will not run Saturdays, nor will the train leaving Woburn inbound a 11 a. m., stopping at Winchester at 11:08. Two more trains inbound that will not run Saturdays are the train leaving Wilmington at 4:08, stopping at Winchester at 4:27 p. m., and the train leaving Wilmington at 6:50 p. m., stopping at Winchester at 7:10.

On the Stoneham Branch the train leaving Boston for Stoneham at 6 p. m. will not run on Saturdays. This train stops at Winchester at 6:22.

The train leaving Stoneham for Boston at 6:42 a. m., stopping at Winchester at 6:56 a. m., will not be restored, and the train leaving Stoneham for Boston at 7:47 a. m., stopping at Winchester at 8:04 will not run on Saturdays.

A wedding of Winchester interest took place at 7:30 Thursday evening, June 6, in Sweeney Chapel at Butler University in Indianapolis, Indiana, when Miss Mildred W. A long arrangement of white gladioli stood at the altar in the center of the greenery.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, Miss Kapherr was gowned in a white lace dress over taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice and a wide off-the shoulder neckline finished with a deep ruffle. The double-puffed sleeves came to the elbow and the full bouffant skirt had a slight train. Complimenting her gown, she wore a necklace of baby pearls from St. Moritz, Switzerland and a two tiered fingertip veil of illusion caught to a tip-tilted maline bonnet edged in satin with clusters of white rose buds in the back. Her bouquet was a cascade of gardenias, centered by a white orchid and tipped with English ivy.

FIREMEN GAVE DINNER TO RETIRED CHIEF GORMAN

Last Saturday evening in Masonic Hall, a testimonial dinner was given in honor of former Fire Chief John J. Gorman who retired from active duty only a few hours previous.

Sponsored primarily by the Auxiliary Fire Department, the affair also included the permanent and call members of the regular Winchester paid fire forces.

Dinner was prepared by a caterer but charmingly served by a bevy of pretty girls from Winchester Assembly of Rainbow for Girls. Another surprise feature was the presence of Chief Hugh L. Eames of Reading, Chief William T. McCall of Stoneham, and our own new Chief James E. Callahan of Winchester. Several other out-of-town chiefs were unable to attend because of last minute emergencies.

The visiting chiefs proved to be capable and entertaining after-dinner speakers who also paid high tribute to Chief Gorman as a fine man, a great fireman and a good leader. Although Chief Callahan protested that he had never addressed an audience, he was nevertheless called upon by the toastmaster and gave an excellent speech, expressing best wishes to his former superior.

Various officers and members of the "Auxies" added their praise for Chief Gorman as a fireman, a leader and a friend, and expressed the hope that "Jack" will continue to act as Auxiliary Chief, to which post he was elected last year.

The toastmaster, Deputy Auxiliary Chief Clarke, paid his personal compliments to Chief Gorman, and then presented to him a beautiful, gold-mounted fountain pen, on behalf of the permanent, call and Auxiliary firemen. Chief Gorman responded in a gracious manner, thanking all for their token of esteem.

He paid particular compliments to the Auxiliary Fire Department for its faithful, efficient and loyal work so generously performed during its five years existence, and expressed the hope that it will never be disbanded.

The final number on the formal program was a very fine "movie" showing the beautiful and alluring Canadian Northwest. This movie was made by the Canadian National Railway, and was shown by T. William Harris, Jr. of Stevens street, himself an amateur fireman who is not yet on "Auxie" but is an admirer of Chief Gorman.

The entire assemblage then formed a line and individually shook hands with "Jack" and wished him many useful and happy years to come, it being unanimously agreed that he is too young to be idle an inactive. even if the law retired him.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Deputy Chief T Parker Clarke and Clarence W. Russell, and Captains Theodore E Chilcott, Harry P. Hood, Jr., Elmer D. Ripley, Henry E. Symonds and Donald E. Woodward.

DRIVER WHOSE CAR HIT POLE NOT GUILTY

Robert W. Britton, 21, of 46 Clewly road, West Medford, was found not guilty Wednesday morning by Justice Curtis W. Nash in the District Court at Woburn of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor, charges lodged against him by the Winchester Police following an accident on April 26 in which an automobile said to have been driven by him was involved.

Police said Britton was driving a Packard sedan which crashed into and broke off an Edison Light pole at the corner of Mystic avenue and Lloyd street, the car being disabled and both Britton and a passenger, Roland H. Roberts, 46, of 42 Clewley road, West Medford, were injured. Besides this accident the Police allege the same car was previously in collision with a tow truck, owned by Charles L. Haggerty, local garage man, and parked on Main street at Mill Hill. According to the authorities Mr. Haggerty identified the Packard as the machine which had hit his truck and said the operator had left after the accident without making himself known.

Following the accident at Mystic avenue and Lloyd street, Britton and Roberts were taken to the Winchester Hospital by Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy and Officer Edward F. Bowler. After treatment by Dr. Philip J. McManus, Roberts, who sustained a badly cut knee, was held at the hospital while Britton was arrested, charged with drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor.

After several continuances the case came to trial Wednesday morning, Britton being defended by Attorney James Henchey of Woburn. Sgt. Cassidy and Officer Bowler testified to the condition of the defendant at the time of the accident and Officer William E. Cassidy testified to finding a liquor bottle, nearly empty in the car.

A physician testified that the injuries which Britton received in the accident could have made him appear drunk and his mother testified that for several days after the accident he was in an upset condition.

After hearing all the testimony Justice Nash found Britton "not guilty" on both counts.

In connection with the alleged collision between the Packard and the Haggerty tow truck, the only witness the Police were able to have in court on the day of the trial was unable to identify the men in the car at that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Squires, Jr. are leaving this week for their summer home in Holderness, N. H.

NEW TOWN OFFICIALS ASSUME DUTIES

Winchester's two new town officials, Fire Chief James Callahan and Town Counsel Vincent Clarke, assumed their offices Saturday as the former incumbents, respectively John Gorman and Addison Pike, retired.

George Franklin, clerk of the Selectmen, also retired last Friday afternoon but for the time being, at least, no replacement has been named. In a certain sense it will be virtually impossible to replace the "Squire", as we think all who have had more than a passing acquaintance with him will agree.

In the meantime, Miss Mary H. French, who has been the general clerk in the Selectmen's office, will carry on her duties and those of the executive clerk.

Miss Janice Torngren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Torngren of Highland avenue was class representative of the High School of Chevy Chase Junior College, Washington, D. C. in the May Festival. Miss Torngren will receive her High School diploma on June 7.

MOTOR CORPS MORE ACTIVE THAN EVER

To know the vast scope of the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross, one should join the Motor Corps. This is the committee of volunteer workers who are constantly on call to perform any transportation duties required by the other Service Committees. Last year, 14,200 miles were covered driving children and adults to clinics, entertainers and canteen workers to Veterans Hospitals, and nurses aides and gray ladies to their service posts. In addition, the drivers pick up and deliver production goods and perform any other duties which could conceivably be called "transportation."

The Motor Corps had its start in Winchester in the Fall of 1939 when Mrs. Angelo Ghirardini offered to organize a volunteer group which would use its own cars to further the work of the Winchester Chapter. She served as Corps Captain for three years watching the Corps increase steadily from its nucleus of six original members.

In October 1941, a station wagon was donated to the Corps and was especially appreciated in view of the increasing gasoline and tire restrictions on private cars. Members still use their own cars when necessary, but it is hoped that eventually the Red Cross Chapter will own all of its vehicles. During the war, the Rotary Club assisted the Motor Corps on long runs and night calls.

Today's active members in the Motor Corps are: Mrs. Malcolm Bennett, Mrs. Francis G. Chase, Mrs. Irving W. Dingwell, Mrs. John G. Donovan, Mrs. Paul G. Eberle, Mrs. Edward M. Feeley, Mrs. Edwin H. Goodwin, Mrs. George E. Hammond, Jr., Mrs. William E. Holdich, Mrs. Theodore P. Messer, Mrs. Edward J. McDevitt, Jr., Mrs. Fabian J. Moran, Mrs. Walter Morrow, Mrs. George E. Neilsen, Mrs. Emerson C. Priest, Mrs. Leonard Raymond, Mrs. John A. Rutherford, Mrs. Clifford H. Williams and Mrs. Whitelaw Wright.

Corps Captains who have followed Mrs. Ghirardini are: Mrs. Edward J. McDevitt, Jr., who served two and a half years, Mrs. Leonard Raymond who served for one year and Mrs. William E. Holdich who is the present captain. With the monthly mileage average up 10 per cent over last year, there is a need for more drivers. Good drivers who are interested in joining the Red Cross Motor Corps are urged to contact Mrs. Holdich for further information, Tel. Win. 0237-W.

PRE-MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM AT HIGH SCHOOL

Winchester High School students observed Memorial Day with the following special program on Wednesday, May 29:

Salute to the Flag
Led by Don Armstrong
National Anthem
Chorus and Audience
Lord's Prayer
"Beautiful Saviour"
Selected Chorus
Scripture ..... Mr. Grindle
Address ..... Mr. Norris
Address—Comdr. Charles Harrold, American Legion Post, No. 97

In his address, Mr. Norris urged the students not to lose the idealism of their forefathers and to emulate the great Abraham Lincoln in developing a policy "with malice toward none." After comparing the sacrifices of children in the past to the sacrifices of children all over the world at the present time, Mr. Norris pointed out that the nation is divided again today and that each young person should make a resolution to become a better citizen.

Comdr. Charles Harrold of Winchester American Legion Post No. 97 spoke of the origin and meaning of Memorial Day. He reminded his audience of the solemn significance of the Memorial Day parades and ceremonies and urged them as thinking citizens to honor the memory of those who have given their lives for an ideal that others may live.

George W. Franklin, who retired last week Friday as executive clerk of the Selectmen, finally got a chance to try fishing as a diversion when he took a chance early last Saturday morning, his first day a free man, and went along with Al Higgins and Roland Parker in search of finny spoil out North Groton way at Lake Baddacook.

In deference to the fact that fishing is held a sport by its devotees George wore his white linen cap. A stickler for the amenities, especially with regards the proper shoes for wedding wear, George believes in dressing the part, let the chips fall where they may. Whether or not he took any tackle along, we wouldn't know. He has golf clubs and a Spanish War musket, but we have never heard him refer, either with or without pride, to any equipment he may have for catching fish.

As a matter of fact, for our money, this "catching" seems something of a misnomer, for among the many disciples of Isaac Walton we know, and R. P. Teele of the Boston Paper Trade will bear us out in this, we seldom encounter any one who actually catches anything. They go, and they try, but aside from the pleasure and appetites whipped up, the results seem to be scant.

As regards George and Al and Roland, we don't know about their luck. They arrived safely at Baddacook, hired a boat and went onto the waters of the lake to drop their lines.

Along wth the lines, the rain dropped too, fast and wet, from a leaden sky. The "Squire", his roughing days gone with his warday reveilles, demanded to be put ashore. He hadn't shipped for any "water cure", and his insistence made it stick. Al and Roland, despite their own preferance, pulled ashore and all hands landed under a thick pine growth.

There the "Squire" produced his poker set, without which he never ventures far afield, and the remainder of the time in North Groton passed, for him at least, very pleasantly.

How Al and Rolie made out we wouldn't know, By advice of counsel neither was talking when the Star interviewed them after the trip.

SUMMER PREPARATORY SCHOOL

The Fisher Summer Preparatory School on Winter Hill, Somerville, will be conducted from July 8 to August 16 by experienced teachers who have spent many years helping young men and women to meet successfully the requirements of their high school courses.

Mrs. Florence A. Locke has been the director of the school since its beginning in July, 1940. Her position brings her in contact with parents of many high school students who wish to do summer study, either to make up work in which they have failed or to earn extra credits for college entrances.

Mrs. Locke has been connected with the Fisher School for 25 years. During that time she has taught shorthand, typewriting, English, word study, speech, literature, and psychology. She is the faculty advisor for the year book and for Fisher Flashes, the school paper. Mrs. Locke is a graduate of the School of Education of Boston University and of Curry College.

The Summer Preparatory School not only meets the needs of high school students, but it also offers courses for those who desire intensive review, for girls who wish to enter nurses' training, and for veterans who desire to continue their high school training.

MADE FINE RECORD AT CUSHING

William Timken Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice C. Bird of 26 Lakeview road, was among the 80 seniors to graduate from Cushing Academy in Ashburnham on Sunday, June 2nd. Bird, captain of the school tennis team, received his varsity letter in two sports at the Last Chapel exercises on Saturday, June 1st.

Playing in the number one position throughout the season Bird has met the top-flight tennis players in prep school ranks, has won a high percentage of his games.

During the winter season he performed brilliantly on the ski team scoring in every meet which the school's very successful team entered. At an exhibition meet sponsored by the Fitchburg Ski Club he was a high point winner.

At the football banquet given last fall at the close of one of Cushing's most successful seasons, when Bird was presented with his "letter" he was referred to by Coach Hunt as "a boy who was quick to capitalize upon any opportunity whenever he got his hands on the ball."

Bird wants to go to the University of Maine and if the provisions of the military service act permit him, he will be at the college in Orono next September.

He has been a member of the Polymnian Society, The Cushing Outing Club, the Student Council, the Dramatics Club, and has won his "letter" in four sports, football, baseball, skiing and tennis.

WINCHESTER ELKS CARD TWO

Play Reading June 12 and Dan O'Brien Club Next Friday

The Winchester Elks' baseball team will play the popular Reading Veterans at Leonard Field on Wednesday, June 12, in a home twilight game commencing at 6:15.

On Friday evening, June 14, the Elks will play the strong Dan O'Brien Club of Somerville, one of the contenders for the Suburban Twilight League crown before the war.

Three of the O'Brien Club who played against the Elks before the war lost their lives in the defense of their Country. Pratcically all the members of both teams are veterans and deserve the public's support for their efforts in carrying on for the missing buddies.

Local fans should not expect too much of the Elks during their first few games. Most of the boys are rusty in baseball sense, and it will take a while for them to work into shape. This is especially true of the pitchers.

The players are showing improvement with each workout and it is hoped with a bit of strengthening here and there soon to have a team comparable to that which brought to the Eastern Mass Twi League Title to Winchester back before the war.

WINCHESTER TRAILED IN MIDDLESEX MEET

West in Shotput Only Winchester Winner

Belmont High School ran up 56 points to outclass the field in the resumption of the Middlesex League Track and Field Meet last Saturday afternoon at Belmont. Concord finished second with 18, Melrose was third with 12 and Winchester, 4th, with 11. The intense cold and heavy rain handicapped the competitors, but some very creditable performances were turned in considering conditions.

Big Johnny West won the shot put for Winchester's only first place. His 41ft 5½in was away below his best recent form, but it was still good enough to beat Halligan of Belmont who won the Class B title at Newton with a heave of better than 45 ft.

The locals were without "Tom" Kirwan, who was taking college boards, and this reduced Winchester's points materially. Berridge picked up a 4th in the 220, and Coe finished third in a quarter won by Val Muscato of Concord in the fast time of 52.4s, fine going on the Belmont track under last Saturday's conditions.

Bill Whittemore left-handed the shot put out far enough for a third in the shot and Covert finished 4th in a 4m. 53s mile. The local relay team finished fourth. The summary:

100 Yard Dash Won by Arico (B); 2, White (M); 3 McNally (C), 4, Kaskie (B). Time 10.8s.

220-Yard Dash Won by Ryan (B); 2, Jackson (B) 3, White (M), 4, Berridge (W). Time 25s.

440-Yard Run Won by Muscato (C); 2, Martin (B), 3, Coe (W); Housten (B). Time, 52.4s.

WINCHESTER BEAT MELROSE

Winchester High twice came from behind to beat Melrose High, conqueror of Belmont's championship team the day before, in a Middlesex League baseball game on Manchester Field Tuesday afternoon. Rain fell during much of the latter part of the game and it was very cold, both teams playing some good ball in view of conditions.

The locals' freshman hurler, "Buff" Flynn, was very effective in the late innings. Coach Knowlton shook up his lineup a bit, sending Olivier behind the bat, putting Eddie Hicks at his second base slot and placing sophomore Al Switzer at first. The summary:

WINCHESTER SAILORS MADE MARBLEHEAD SAFELY

Ralph Swan of 91 Church st., and Navy Com. Joseph Donnell of 13 Cabot st., with the latter's son, Stover, 14, and a 12-year-old relative, Roger Cole of 36 Washington st., Beverly, finally brought their 38-foot cabin sloop into Marblehead harbor Sunday night, four days from Camden, Me., during which the Gloucester and Marblehead Stations of the Coast Guard had heen conducting searches for the boat.

Mr. Swan purchased the sloop in Camden, and left there last week Wednesday to sail to Marblehead. He got into difficulties off the Isles of Shoals, but finally made Gloucester, where the Gloucester Coast Guard found him and his crew waiting for more favorable weather to cover the rest of their trip to Marblehead. Mrs. Swan notified the Salem Coast Guard when she did not hear from her husband on Sunday, the day he was supposed to arrive at Marblehead. With weather conditions what they were Saturday and Sunday there was natural anxiety for the safety of the sailors when they became overdue.

WHO RUNS THE COUNTRY NOW?

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared today that if President Truman permits the Case labor bill to become law "the 7,500,000 members of the AFL will be rebels" until it is removed from the statute books.

We'll elect men who will repeal this abhorrent legislation; we will use our political strength to have it brought about." Green told the fifth biennial convention of the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International Union (AFL).

President James C. Petrillo in his opening speech at the annual convention of the American Federation of Musicians today threatened to put a stop to radio network broadcasts if the Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the Lea act curtailing his powers.

He also threatened to halt the making of recordings and transcriptions if Congress passed a measure forbidding the AFM to collect royalties on them.

Leaders of 700 union trainmen and engineers declared tonight they would not appeal before a three-man emergency board named by President Truman to investigate the five day old strike against the Hudson and Manhattan railroad.

Bridges and Curran sent an appeal yesterday to the World Trade Union Federation in Paris urging all foreign workers to support the possible strike by considering as "scabs" ships and vessels operated by the United States armed forces.

The above "news" was taken from a Boston paper. Compare this "news" with what happened in Germany and Italy. While Roosevelt was alive there was a leader. Since there is none today, the struggle is open to all - big New Dealers and (bigger) labor leaders. The United States Government became obsolete in 1933.

LABOR

A wag suggests that Congress set aside 60 days a year to be known as "National 'Strike' Months"!!

During these few months (preferably January and February, in the middle of the winter) everyone wanting to strike and picket must have "their fun" during those months. By consolidating all strikes at the same time much could be accomplished. For instance, the slowing down of everyone waiting the year around for everyone else to have their strikes could be eliminated.

We have a steel strike. This stops thousands of different plants. Then we have automobile strikes; next strikes in parts plants; then coal strikes, which shut down all the other plants; later railroad strikes, which would prevent all the goods not produced in plants from being transported on roads not running, etc.

We often wonder how workers who have settled their strikes like to lose pay by other workers being on strike? The result is that strikers are really striking against other strikers, thus the suggestion of 60 - 100 - or 365 days, when everyone could have their strike at the same time.

The time will come when coal will only be used in relatively small amounts for chemicals. (It will not be used for heat or power.) Water Power - even the tides for all necessary energy - perhaps the stored up energy of the sun, (either direct or from atomic releases) - let alone increasing efficiency in the use of oil.

And, so it will always go: Wages lost through strikes can never be made up and saved for later security and more "Abundant Life." The more strikes the quicker technological advancements. Perhaps strikes can thus be justified; but they simply are not smart.

RETIRING CHIEF EXPRESSES THANKS

Editor of the Star:

May I, through the Star, extend my sincere thanks to the officers and members of the Winchester Auxiliary Fire Department for the banquet which they gave me last Saturday evening, and for the splendid gift which they presented me at that time.

Working with the Auxiliary Firemen has been a pleasure for me and I will miss my association with them. The town has been fortunate in the quality of service this group has rendered.

Sincerely,
John J. Gorman, Retiring Chief,
Winchester Fire Department

LONG RANGE PLANNING

Editor of the Star:

In any forward looking, enlightened community, long range planning for its future development is a "must" if mistakes are to be avoided in meeting current needs by narrowly conceived expedient programs that will eventually mean a considerable waste of the taxpayers' money.

It was Major l'Enfant, a French military engineer and architect, who had served in our Army, who more than 150 years ago so sagaciously laid out the City of Washington, D. C., that even today very few changes have had to be made as the development of our beautiful Capitol City has progressed.

This observation is prompted by the latest plan recommended by a Committee on School Facilities and Activities appointed at the Annual Representative Town Meeting on March 21st, 1946. While this Committee admits the time (of a few weeks) was too short to report on the comprehensive program they were directed to consider, they were approving a fundamental change that will definitely erase a most beautiful part of the center of our town. The report then goes on to say that the most pressing problem is something else; i. e., the construction of a new elementary school west of Cambridge stree.

Not long ago, alternate plans were published in the Winchester Star relative to the abolishment of the grade crossing in the center. One of these plans was in direct conflict with the plan proposed by this Committee on School Facilities.

There are other questions to be considered such as new facilities for the various town administrative departments, the growth of the business district, additional parking space, through traffic routes, housing development and increased public utilities.

All this goes to prove that before any further major facilities are provided a fundamental study, based on a forecast of the growth of Winchester for the next 30 years, should be made and checked periodically thereafter so that we will know where we are going and what our needs will be.

With such a plan before us, any current needs can be met intelligently, with foresight and with the assurance that they will not be found after a few years to be a mistake but raher another piece that fits properly into the pattern of the whole.

SHOULD DELAY ACTION ON PROPOSED SCHOOL PLAN

June 1, 1946

Dear Fellow Citizens:

We, the undersigned voters of Precinct Three, are addressing you in regard to a matter that is to be considered at the Town Meeting on June 13th. You are our elected representatives, voting on behalf of all the residents of the precinct, and we realize your desire to know the mind of as many of your constituency as possible on matters of town concern. Since no provision is made for occasional precinct mass meetings for the informal discussion of public issues, we have no other way than this of making known our desires.

We are disturbed by the proposal of the special committee that the course of the Aberjona River and the location of the Mystic Valley Parkway be changed, in order to make possible a larger athletic field. We call your attention to the following considerations:

1. The plan has not been carefully considered in relation to all the factors involved. Indeed, adequate consideration would be impossible in so brief a time. The report of the committee as given in the Star asks that this proposal be approved without any prior decision as to the solution of the High School and Junior High School question. We are told that we may build an addition to the Junior High School and bring the ninth grade there, leaving three grades at the present High School building; that we may build on to the present Junior High School building and use the enlarged building for a High School, while the seventh and eighth grades take over the present High School building; that we may enlarge the Junior High School building and erect a new High School building, "possibly westerly from the Unitarian Church." The committee does not know which, if any, of these plans will be followed, nor does it make recommendation.

We submit that this question of the future of the High School and Junior High School needs to be decided first. This is the prior question, - not the athletic field. The latter must be decided in the light of the former. If the town should decide on a new High School Building, for example, the next logical question would be as to its location, - whether near the present Junior High School, or on the Ginn Estate, or somewhere else. Some, who now oppose the Ginn Estate Plan do so because they oppose any new building; but if a new building were voted, these same people might prefer the Ginn Estate as a location. If the present proposal for an athletic field is carried through before prior questions are decided, it will be impossible to decide these prior school questions on their merits.

2. The committee's report indicates that inadequate attention has been given to the matter of cost. A casual reading of the report gives the impression that the initial cost of the project will be $15,000 ("$70,000 less than the asking price for the Ginn Estate"). Obviously such a low figure is unlikely. One man close to the enterprise has suggested $45,000. Still other possible figures have been named. But after the initial cost what will the expense be? After spending a large amount for an athletic field on Shore road that is now unusable, should we not be clearer than the committee has far has been as to costs in any new venture?

3. The most attractive part of the Aberjona River is affected by this plan. This would be removed, with the fine elms and willows on its banks, and in its place would be an ugly ditch along the tracks. It is easy to destroy beauty, but almost impossible to restore it.

4. The traffic problems at the Center increase year by year. It seems likely that the proposed plan would make a bottleneck in the neighborhood of the post office that would complicate our traffic problem rather than helping to solve it.

5. Any plan for major changes near the Center should be considered in connection with the most important improvement needed at the Center, - viz., a way of removing the grade crossing. If this plan of moving a river and a highway is adopted it may not harmonize with plans related to the grade crossing. The latter should be dealt with first, or the two plans considered simultaneously.

These are among the reasons why we, the undersigned, hope that our town meeting representatives may see fit to vote against this proposal, or at least to delay action until all aspects of the plan may have more careful consideration.

MOVED TO SPEAK ON TOWN MATTER

To the Editor of the Star:

The other day I was sitting in my car on the Parkway back of the Junior High School, where the Aberjona flows quietly along under the overhanging shrubbery and foliage. In the leafy trees overhead the robins were singing and a kingfisher sat motionless for minutes before diving for his prey with a loud splash. It was all so peaceful that I couldn't help feeling how fortunate we were in Winchester to have this bit of wild nature in the very center of our town. How refreshing the soft green banks and the wildflowers just coming out, and how beautiful the tall elms! Surely everyone driving through Winchester or even passing along on the train would envy us this beauty spot by the winding river.

Then I went home and found in the Star the almost incredible plan for re-arranging our whole center, river and all, for removing the trees, for turning the stream into a man-made channel. But even more incredible was the fact that this project was coming up for decision in the Town Meeting as early as June 13, when the chairman of the investigating committee himself has said in so many words: "There has been too little time since organization of the committee on April 11 to consider and report on so comprehensive a program as outlined above."

Nevertheless the committee has recommended this drastic change at a cost of untold thousands of the town's money, apparently without consideration of other changes that may make the plan unfeasible.

And the most important of these is the elimination of the grade crossing—a re-arrangement of our town that has got to take place soon, and at a considerable cost to ourselves, whether we like it or not. The mere possession of a larger athletic field is a slight thing in comparison with this other major problem confronting us. This should be settled first. Since a crossing over the north end of Manchester Field is one of the possibilities under consideration, any project involving such expense should be delayed until we know what we are going to do.

Furthermore, with the removal of the High School to some future location, as it cannot expand much more where it is, this whole plan may be found unnecessary and undesirable. Instead of having our beautiful center entirely leveled to a playing field and its once lovely river forced into a canal with artificial embankments, we should get to work on a really practicable plan for the school buildings themselves and for the grade crossing. This will not mean that our children will be deprived of rightful facilities for sports, nor will they be deprived of open air or open spaces in this almost rural community. But it will mean that we shall be using a full measure of common sense.

I may add that this is the first time I have ever been moved to speak out on town matters. However I have lived and voted in Winchester for 26 years and have always loved and admired the town. I can only hope that others, equally aroused, may use their influence to stay this impending action on June 13.

WE WANT MR. WESCOTT!

To the Editor of the Star:

Mr. Everett Wescott, a well known man in the music field, teaches the Girl and Boy Scout Band, who gave the concert connected with the Treasure Chest Fund. He is well liked by all who have studied under him, and we can easily say that it is a great pleasure to do so.

His pupils, who are the majority of the Winchester Junior and Senior High School Band, and who have been taught and given band instruction for the past three years, as they study the music, request that the School Board vote to place Mr. Wescott in charge of the band and orchestra in the upper grades.

He is very capable of undertaking this task as he has led and is still leading many fine bands.

We hope the School Board will consider this letter seriously, and we feel that the Board should at least interview him in the near future.

Thank you.

C. O. G. P. O. London

Editor of the Star:

Would you be kind enough to publish this letter of thanks to the people of Winchester, (I know quite a number of them) for entertaining us British Sailors, during our stay in your country.

I know what sacrifices, quite a number of them made in taking in our boys for week-ends and evenings during the week. I feel that this is at least one way of showing our appreciation for those sacrifices that were made.

I myself stayed with Mrs. Lyman B. Smith, and from the first was treated as one of the family and through her, made quite a number of friends in Winchester.

Nine months have now passed since I left America, and I must say I was sorry to leave, but then all good things must come to an an end.

So once again I thank all of you good people of Winchester for showing my shipmates and me a wonderful time. And I hope in the future, that some of us will be able to visit you again, only under the better conditions of a real and lasting peace.

I remain, your obedient servant,
Stol. L. Rogers

FIREMEN PRAISED FOR EFFICIENCY

May 31, 1946

John Gorman
Chief of Fire Dept.
Town of Winchester

Dear Sir:

I would like to express my appreciation for the excellent manner in which you and your department handled the fire at my home on Sunday morning, May 26.

The efficient way the fire was handled confined it to one section of the house and the carefulness of the firemen in covering rugs and furniture prevented additional loss by smoke and water.

I am sending a copy of this note to the Winchester Star, as I feel that the citizens of our town should know what a splendid fire department they have.

Sincerely yours,
Bernard B. Cavanagh

LOCAL GOLFERS IN WOMEN'S STATE PLAY

Mrs. V. K. Akins, Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, Mrs. C. F. Sprague and Mrs. Alan S. Howard were among the Winchester competitors in the State Women's Golf Championship which opened Tuesday at the Charles River Country Club.

Mrs. Atkins and Mrs. Kimhall, competing in the third quarter, were defeated respectively by Alice Belanger of United Shoe and Cynthia Richardson of Highland. Mrs. Atkins losing 4 and 2, and Mrs. Kimball, 5-3. Mrs. Sprague playing in the first 16 was beaten by Mrs. John I. Smith of Woodland, 1 up.

In Wednesday's consolations, Mrs. Kimball won by default from Mrs. John Amory of Myopia while Mrs. Atkins beat Mrs. Pat Hanaver of Commonwealth, 2 and 1. Mrs. Sprague lost to Mrs. Thomas Carty of Woodland, 4 and 3. Mrs. Howard beating Mrs. Robert Law of Woodland 2 and 1.

WINCHESTER PLAYERS IN SENIOR GOLF TOURNEY

Winchester was represented by those golfing partners, Francis E. Smith and Nelson H. Seelye in the 25th annual New England Seniors Golf Championship at the Woodland Golf Club Tuesday and Wednesday.

Parran C. Jarboe, 57-year old Framingham golfer, was the winner with a gross 80 the opening day, followed by a 73. Charles Donnelly of Wachusett, 63-year old Holy Cross golf coach, was second with 77s both days.

Mr. Smith competed in Class B (65-69 years), finishing outside the money. He evidently has to play with Nelson to show his best form. Mr. Seelye, competing in the Gold Star Class AA (80 and over) Division, had a 49 for best gross for the nine holes on the tourney's opening day. George B. Sears, 81-year old judge from Salem, had the best two day gross, 195.

WINCHESTER ENTERS N. E. INTERSCHOLASTICS

Winchester High will enter four in the first New England A. A. U. Interscholastic Track and Field meet, to be held Saturday at the Brookline High Athletic Field.

Tom Kirwan, State Class B half mile champion, will compete in that event, meeting such runners as Carl Joyce of Commerce, Class A State Champ, Molloy of Rivers, who beat Joyce last week, and other school and preparatory topnotchers.

Johnny West will compete in the shotput, and though not being given any chance by the wise ones, may surprise. He's not figuring to finish 1-2, but if he happens to get off a good put, may sneak in there for a place. Ted Covert, who placed in the Middlesex meet last Saturday, will run the mile and two freshmen sprinters, Pete Dillingham and Roger Creelman, are entered in the junior dash event.

Winchester's best chance of scoring is of course in the half mile, where if "Long Tom" is right, he will take a lot of beating.

W. H. S. CLASS OF 1921 TO HOLD REUNION

Please Be Seated

A lot of people have sat in the customers' chair at our bank. Some have come with expressions of worry or anxiety in their faces . . . others with the flush of eager ambition. They have talked of problems and plans, financial and personal. They have talked freely, knowing that whatever they said would not be repeated outside the bank. In every case, we try to be helpful, lending money, giving friendly counsel, or doing both, for that's what banks are for. Perhaps you may sit in that chair soon. If you do, you'll always find a ready welcome whether you come in to open an account, ask for a loan, or talk over a personal or business matter we may be able to help you with. In any event, we cordially invite you to make yourself at home, for this is your bank and we are at your service at all times.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

Warrants are being distributed for the State Primary Election on June 18 and for the special town meeting on June 13.

The Board has appointed Mary H. French executive clerk to succeed Mr. George W. Franklin who was obliged by law to retire on June 1st.

Mr. S. Bronson Garner of 3 Summit avenue has been reappointed an auxiliary fireman on his return from military service.

The annual order has gone out to the dog officer to catch, confine or kill all dogs not properly collared or haltered.

Visitors to the Hospital are warned of the new order that parking is to be prohibited on the westerly side of Highland avenue between Valley road and Fairmount street. This is a particularly dangerous curve on a narrow street and it is urgently requested that cars be parked on the side streets or in the Hospital yard.

ROTARY NOTES

An outstanding program of music was enjoyed by a largely attended meeting of the Winchester Rotary Club on Thursday noon. Several vocal selections were beautifully rendered by Mr. Albert Edmund Brown, Mus. D., accompanied by Mrs. Brown at the piano. At the conclusion of his program, Mr Brown, a former Rotarian, thoughtfully presented the club with the score of "Friends of Yesterday" for future use by the music directors of the club. Our appreciation goes to Mr. and Mrs. Brown for such a splendid program and "Chub" Howe is to be complimented for his part in completing the arrangements for this entertainment.

Gordon Bird was roundly applauded as first-time winner of the Victory Bond which was drawn from the box by John Wallace. Gordon certainly justified that axiom, "Patience and persistence finally win."

It was announced that the guest speaker at the next meeting, June 13, will be Lt.-Col. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. Also, at this meeting, it is planned to honor Mr. Lewis Parkhurst, as one of the Town's most highly respected and distinguished citizens.

GENEVA

Dissolution of the League of Nations after its quarter-century career leaves Geneva, Switzerland, with a building problem: What use can be made of the League's palatial headquarters?

Erected at a cost of about ten million dollars, the palace of the League of Nations required seven years to build and was completed only ten years ago, the National Geographic Society recalls. At the height of the League's activities, the palace's 700 rooms housed a personnel of about 850.

The stone and marble palace is a rambling structure, roughly in the shape of a squared "S", and ranges from three to six stories in height. The wing containing the library was constructed and equipped by a $2,000,000 gift from John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

International Works of Art

The hall for the League's Assembly seated some 450 delegates, 500 newspapermen, and a 100 League officials. Its galleries accommodated 200 visitors. The nine committee rooms would admit 400 or 600 persons.

The building housing the League's Executive Council contains not only the Council chamber but also rooms for the various delegations and accommodations for 200 newspapermen. The Secretariat section provided for the civil service experts and their assistants, numbering at one time as many as 700.

Like the Peace Palace at The Hague, the League headquarters presented an international aspect through the contributions from many countries of works of art, tapestries, and other interior decorations.

MR. WATKINS CHAIRMAN

Mr. Charles Hadley Watkins of Ridgefield road, Boston insurance executive as well as a musical and art savant, will go down in Harvad history as general chairman of the first meeting of Associated Harvard Clubs, at which a woman "crashed the gate."

This epoch-making event took place Monday when Dr. Glemma Vivaldi Barzilai of New York attended the victory meeting of the Associated Harvard Clubs at the Harvard Club in Boston.

Dr. Barzilai is a graduate of the class of 1929 at the Harvard School of Public Health. Her name, admittedly by error, remained on the list of Harvard "Men" to whom invitations to the victory meeting were sent after the names of all other Harvard women had been carefully deleted. Probably the scrivener who sent out the invites thought Glemma Vivaldi, especially the Vivaldi, had a sort of masculine swing, and when he saw the prefix "doctor" he was even more sure of his ground. What business had a women being a doctor in public health anyhow?

At all events, and our sympathies are with the scribe the invitation was sent, and Dr. Barzilai was onto the error like a knife. Refusing to profit by the mistake, she notified Mr. Watkins, in accepting the invitation, that she was a woman.

The soul of gallantry and having as much sang froid as the next one in an embarrassing situation, Mr. Watkins, may or might not have lighted that brand of cigarette said by the manufacturers to bring surcease in the hour of mental anguish. He simply conceded that these are precedent-shattering times and what price another precedent or so. Feeling it only fair to warn Dr. Glemma that she would probably be embarrassed if she did invade the Harvard portal of masculinity in question, he admitted her right to attend the meeting and wrote her she would be welcome.

The Doctor was willing to risk the embarrassment, and in fact, didn't exhibit the slightest trace of it as she sat in at everything but the afternoon cocktail party. Educated in Austria, with her degree in medicine from the University of Rome Medical School she came to this country as a ship's doctor on the Italian liner, President Wilson. She was so impressed with American facilities for cancer research that she determined to become a United States citizen.

Rockfeller Foundation made that possible by naming her one of its fellows at Harvard School of Public Health where she studied industrial hygiene, specifically its relationship to women's health and their careers as mothers. She is an obstetrician and gynecologist who makes a specialty of treating cancer of the genital tract.

WINCHESTER MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

In spite of bad weather, a good crowd attended the annual meeting of the Winchester Mothers' Association held Tuesday afternoon, May 28 at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Henry Dellicker, 15 Grove street.

The reports given by the presidents of the various school chapters were most interesting.

Mr. Forbes Norris, Superintendent of Schools spoke on "Mothers Clubs an Educational Force in the Community." He pointed out that Mothers' Clubs can be an educational force in the community as long as they keep in mind the aim to improve the educational quality of the community. This can be done by:

1. Working to develop a sense of pride in our schools.
2. Building public opinion for a high type of school committee is an asset and in this connection Mr. Forbes said Winchester is to be commended for its fine school committee.
3. Thinking in terms of more State and Federal aid as a means of enriching the curriculum and increasing the ability to pay adequate salaries for good teachers.

We all enjoyed this address and Mrs. Coon, the retiring president, expressed the appreciation of the association for this wonderful talk. The new officers for the coming year are:

Pres., Mrs. George Chatfied
1st Vice Pres., Mrs. Neil Borden
2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. George Marks
Sec., Mrs. Mortimer Downey
Treas., Mrs. Joseph P. Haggerty
Publicity, Mrs. Leon E. Leavitt
Social, Mrs. Kenneth E. Cullen

OPEN MEETING

On Wednesday evening, June 12, at 7:45 in the Art Gallery of the Winchester Public Library, the Winchester League of Women Voters will conduct an open meeting to which residents of the town are invited. There will be a discussion and question period on the items in the warrant for the special town meeting. The articles concerned with the housing for veterans will be presented by Mrs. Georges Boule, chairman of the Economic Welfare Committee of the League, and by Mrs. Mortimer Downey, chairman of the Social Welfare Committee.

The articles concerned with the proposed new school facilities will be presented by Mrs. Guy Livingstone, chairman of the League's Education Committee, and by Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, former chairman of the Winchester School Committee.

Mrs. Philip Woodward, president of the League will preside.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

Sunday afternoon the fellowship entertained the young people's group from the Wellington Methodist Church in Medford. Under the direction of David Wylie and Charles Enright, the group divided into teams and tried their skill at various competitive games, ending with a treasure hunt.

After refreshments were served the group gathered for a short service led by Edward Hitchcock. Mrs. Harold Given gave an interesting informative talk on "Youth of Norway."

SONS OF ITALY NOTES

The crack degree team of Winchester Lodge, Sons of Italy in America, conducted the initiation of the Rev. Angelo Carpinella class of men and women initiated into Christopher Columbus Lodge and Princess Marie Gabriel Lodge at Elks Hall in Worcester Sunday afternoon, June 2.

About 150 candidates were initiated, after which a banquet was served. Dr. Angelo Maietta, author of the ritual used by the degree team and its Herald, was among the speakers. Others were Mayor Charles F. Sullivan, of Worcester, Judge Luigi DePasquale of the Rhode Island bench, Joseph C. Gorrasi of Woburn, grand venerable of the Massachusetts State Lodge, Felix Scricco, grand trustee, and Rev. Angelo Carpinella, for whom the class of initiates was named.

An orchestra furnished music for the banquet and for dancing which followed. All the speakers spoke in highest praise of the work of the Winchester degree team which is making a fine impression wherever it appears, reflecting credit to the local lodge and to the town.

As a result of its impressive work at Worcester an invitation was received to initiate a large class of candidates in Springfield at a date to be announced.

WINCHESTER DOG TRAINING CLUB

The Winchester Dog Training Club will hold its last class next Tuesday, June 11, reopening in the fall. We have accomplished a great deal with our dogs as well as having a lot of fun.

Much of the credit goes to Mr. Ewell, our trainer, and the club members feel they are fortunate in having such a good instructor.

The dog of the week: Wahneetah of Grafmar, better known as Vick, a German Shepherd owned by Virginia Ramsdell. Virginia is the person responsible for the organization of the club. Vick is 2 years old and has had previous training in obedience work. She has been shown twice, both times being well up in the ribbons.

There are several persons interested in the club whose puppies are too young for school now but plan to attend classes in the fall. The average puppy is mature enough at seven months of age to start the obedience work.

The Annual Meeting of the Bay State Historical League will be held at Gloucester, at 2:00 p. m. Saturday June 15, 1946 with the Cape Ann Scientific, Literary and Historical Association. The meeting place is Federal House, which contains a modern museum and auditorium. The speaker will be the President of the Historical Association, Mr. Alfred M. Brooks, whose subject will be "The Look of Gloucester and a Contemporary View of Its Life About 1800." At the close of the meeting, tea will be served in the Unitarian Parish House.

Historic places of interest to visit are the Sargent Murray Gilman Hough House, a fine residence of the last quarter of the 18th century; the Henry Sleeper house, now a museum, the Museum at Feedral House owned by the Historical Association, and the First Universalist Church in America.

The meeting is open to all members of the Winchester Historical Society.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Winchester Recreation Committee has planned a newly organized Softball League and is asking that all managers or captains of teams interested in participating, contact Frank Provinzano by writing to 17 Irving street or telephoning Win. 1999-W any evening.

The latter is important and must be done before or on Tuesday, June 11. This will give the Commitee an idea as to the number of teams interested and will enable the Committee to form a schedule and get the ball rolling.

If your contacts are to be made in writing please give necessary information; such as the name of the team and the name, address, and phone number of the manager or captain.

Your full cooperation is necessary and the Recreation Committee hopes that several teams shall be heard from.

The official opening game will be played on Ginn Field at 6:15 o'clock Friday, June 14 with Mr. John D. West, chairman of the Winchester Recreation Committee throwing out the first ball.

A LOADER FOR THE JEEP

Former Selectman James A. Cullen drove his jeep around to the Star Office Wednesday afternoon to display the new front-end loader with which the machine has been equipped. The loader, consisting of a big steel scoop with running rigging, was made by Elmer A. Dingley of Franklin and according to Jim will lift among other things the rear-end of a truck. He and "Doc" Hindes put their combined weights on the scoop without disasterous effects, in what seemed to be a convincing test.

Jim raised and lowered the scoop for the Editor and a group of interested motorists stopped by the red light in front of the Star Office. He claims it is an awful handy little gadget and seemed real pleased with it as he drove off after the demonstration.

MERRY-GO-ROUND FAIR

The Women's Association of the First Congregational Church has announced Tuesday, Nov. 19 as the date for its Merry-Go-Round Fair. Many of the committee chairmen have already been chosen. Mrs. Alfred Nelson and Mrs. Robert Keeney are co-chairmen for the Fair, Mrs. Harvey L. Macaulay, treasurer, Mrs. William D. Barone, publicity and Mrs. Marshall Pihl, decorations.

Mrs. Wilfred L. McKenzie will again have charge of the gold ring supper which will be served in the large hall at 6:30 p. m. There will be a luncheon in the large hall also and Mrs. William Rodgers has consented to supervise a luncheon in a separate room especially for school children. This will be served from 12 to 1 and is a new feature, instigated to insure the children's prompt return to their class rooms.

Many suggestions for supplementary food products have been made for the food table as the usual line of cakes and cookies may be hard to secure. This varied display should prove even more interesting than heretofore. Mrs. R. H. B. Smith, in charge of the food table, promises a surprise feature which will delight all hungry fair goers!

The houshold accessories table will be headed by Mrs. William Kneeland, and Arts and Crafts, by Mrs. George Connor. Mrs. Arthur Cockran will be chairman of the committee working for the baby and children's table. On this table will be displayed an assortment of hand knit goods and other articles suitable for youngsters.

The gift table of especial interest at that time of year, with Christmas not far away, will be taken care of by Mrs. Rex Crandall. The book corner, where those who enjoy new fiction and non-fiction may browse, will be arranged by Mrs. Howard Bartlett, and Mrs. J. Waldo Bond will have charge of the section devoted to plants.

The opportunity shoppe will be headed by Mrs. Gilbert Hood, chairman and Mrs. James McGovern, co-chairman. This is a used-clothing exchange where purchases may have the opportunity to secure garments possibly outgrown but still in good condition.

A fine start has been made by Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Keeney and many groups plan to continue their work even through the summer months.

Back to basic training—for good!

BASIC TRAINING IN THE ARMY WAS NEVER LIKE THIS.

Yet this quiet exercising of a boy's eager mind and muscles . . . is basic training, too, for Son—and Dad.

It teaches the youngster self-respect. Persistence. And pride in a job well done.

And Dad? Maybe he's fresh from bleak barracks or broken battlefield . . . home now to savor anew the treasured warmth,. the cherished intimacy, of a home that is secure.

Perhaps it re-introduces him, too . . . to a sense of his responsibility for his loved ones' security.

That's why it is vital that the veteran hold on to his Government life insurance! It helps build freedom from want for his family. It's a dike against need. And now is the time to reinforce that dike with additional life insurance . . . assuring his family a steady income over those years when they might otherwise be helpless without it.

When you think about increasing your insurance . . . think of Boston Mutual, always eager to help you in any way we can. For 55 years we have helped families build toward that serene future that only financial security can bring.

You'll always find it worthwhile to look up your Boston Mutual representative. With his "basic training" in insurance and his accumulated years of experience . . . he will prove a true friend indeed!

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON HOUSING OF VETERANS

This committee was created by the Annual Town Meeting in March, 1946. According to the vote of that meeting, your committee is directed to:

"consider any and all practical means whereby temporary or permanent shelter may be provided for veterans of World War II, who are inhabitants of Winchester, and whether it is advisable for the town to take any action under Chapter 13 of the Acts of 1946 or any other State or Federal legislation relating to the housing of veterans."

Appointments to the committee were as follows:

From the Selectmen—Kenneth P. Pond

From the Planning Board—Arthur W. Dean

From the Veterans Advisory Committee—Roland H. Parker

By the Moderator—Leslie J. Scott, Mary A. Smith (who passed away after appointment), Esther C. Clark.

Your committee organized promptly. Representatives of local veterans' organizations were invited to aid and their representatives have participated in several of the meetings and discussions of the committee.

Investigation has necessitated surveys of the town, with extensive organization and effort. At the outset two factors obviously must be determined: (1) The need of housing by Winchester veterans, and (2) present available housing. Two surveys were inaugurated.

1. Survey of Need

By using the lists of the Veterans Advisory Committee and its financial aid for mailing, questionnaires were sent to the 1160 returned Winchester veterans. That number is somewhat less than 50 per cent of the number of men and women entering service from our town but, as a gauge of the whole, it is a larger percentage than is used in many surveys. Omitting the replies from single men, and using only the figures applying to married veterans, it is indicated that housing now needed, or the need projected for the ensuing 12 months is as follows:

	Now	Projected
Number with housing problem	91	188	100%
Satisfactorily housed	14	28	15%
Need housing	80	160	85%
Living with another family	75	150	79.8%
Want to buy or rent house	83	166	87.9%
Want to rent apartment	11	22	12.1%
Number with children	38		40.4%

It appears that right now 80 married veterans need homes of their own and, projecting the figure during the year, there will be 160 such veterans. The present number have expressed the following desires to buy, build, or rent. The difference in totals is due to some having indicated either desire, depending upon housing availability.

Buy or Build
(Three ciphers omitted)

$5-6	$6-7	$7-8	$8-9	$10 plus	Total
29	15	8	13	7	63

Rent

$30-35	$40-45	$50-55	$60-70	$75 plus	Total
20	15	11	7	1	54

The great majority want low to medium cost houses or low rentals. At all times such needs are difficult to fill in Winchester. In the present inflated market, they are impossible to fill without active participation of the town.

2. Survey of Available Housing

Representatives of the veterans' organizations were asked to recruit solicitors for a town-wide survey of available housing. Such a survey ordinarily requires months of preparation and organization. By the heroic efforts of Mrs. Smith her sub-committee performed the paper work of preparing and printing questionnaires, of dividing the town by street lists, the local and Boston newspapers and radio stations provided generous publicity, Mr. Stafford Rogers donated a large sign, town departments gave full assistance, and announcements were made from all pulpits, for a survey on Sunday, May 19. Through some inadvertance, there were insufficient solicitors to do more than sample portions of Precincts 2, 3 and 4.

Hence we have no definite figures to present to the town on what living quarters are available. It is common knowledge, as well as reported to us by many in a position to know, that no family unit rentals are to be had in the town, except in isolated instances. The answer to the questionnaire of how many could be made available by conversion or alteration perhaps can be partially answered at the special Town Meeting on June 13 through efforts initiated to obtain such information, after failure of the second survey.

Chapter 372 of the Acts of 1946

The purpose of this committee is to indicate measures which can be taken to provide housing for veterans and leave to the judgment of the town what action, if any, it wishes to take.

Without legislative authority, the town could not go into the real estate business or housing development. For the present purpose the town was to some extent so authorized by Chapter 13 of this year. That chapter is now repealed by and embodied in Chapter 372, effective May 23, 1946, with added powers for the housing of veterans and servicemen. A summary of the principal provisions of Chapter 372 empower the town:

a. To establish information center to aid veterans to locate dwelling units, and to make surveys of available units and present and future needs.

b. To acquire and alter buildings to provide dwelling units and rent them to veterans.

c. To acquire, prepare and rent land on which veterans may place portable houses, huts, cabins or trailers, or itself to provide such temporary units.

d. To use property held by tax title foreclosure for purposes above set forth.

e. By its Board of Appeal and Board of Health, to relax to some extent and for a limited time the requirements of its by-laws.

f. To acquire land or use land owned by it, and not devoted to or required for other public use, lay out into lots, provide public utilities and either sell the lots to veterans or corporations or individuals in either case on specific conditions that dwelling units be constructed for use by or sale to veterans; or the town may construct units and rent them to veterans.

g. To secure the approval of the State Board of Housing for any program which requires an annual expenditure by the town of more than $1,000.

h. To appoint a board or officer as the housing authority to carry out the provisions of the Act.

i. To borrow outside the statutory limit for above purposes.

The act is also apparently broad enough to permit the town to participate in any benefits contained in pending Federal legislation, if and when passed, to stimulate building of dwelling units.

Federal Barracks

A number of municipalities, acting under Chapter 13, have installed or applied for surplus barracks and temporary buildings owned by the Federal government. A city council or board of alderman has authority to act with swiftness impossible in towns, where action must be taken by duly warned town meetings. The municipality is required to provide the land and rough-grade it, lay out streets and provide public utilities therein. The Federal government provides the portable barracks, remodel them into apartments with necessary appurtenances, including public utilities brought from the streets, and does the finished grading. The property is thereafter under the management of the local housing authority, who must conform to Federal requirements of rental and upkeep charges and make frequent and involved reports. Such buildings may be used for a period up to five years, under present regulations. Your Committee has made considerable inquiry concerning such housing, but was informed on May 27, 1946 that all units and money are now earmarked for use elsewhere and none will be available for Winchester.

Our survey shows that only 11 per cent of our veterans would be willing to live in them and they make the qualification "if nothing else is available."

Available Land

Besides land used for or dedicated to park and other purposes, the town owns land in a proprietary capacity. Tax title foreclosed land now amounts to 507,690 sq. ft. Additional land is involved in foreclosures pending in the Land Court. Some of the land is unsuitable for dwelling units, because of the size of the lots, slope of land sub-strata, location, or other conditions. But it is our opinion that enough of the land is suitable for erection of 50 dwelling units in single houses within the $6,000 to $8,000 price range, and additional units if some double houses are erected.

Additional town land, such as that on Pond street, on Palmer and Middlesex streets would provide 20 or more additional single or double units. We suggest, however, that any use of the Palmer street land should reserve in the town the frontage on Wedge Pond.

The land mentioned above is available now, apart from the power in the town to acquire other land by gift, purchase, or eminent domain.

Possibilities of Building

Private house building is at a standstill. A desperation for housing in a seller's market compels veterans to pay from 50 per cent to 100 per cent more than present houses are worth. They are saddled with the amortization and interest payments beyond their means and the propect of having hut a fraction of their investments realizable in a normal market.

Priorities for new houses are granted only to housing for veterans. Scascity of materials, ceilings on selling prices of finished homes, strikes and governmental red tape make a builder's life an unhappy one. Yet, despite the pitfalls, barriers and traps created by government, nature, and man, fortunately there are always a few hardy souls with the grit of pioneers, whose civic consciousness balance their necessity of reasonable profit to challenge and lick an emergency.

Your committee has consulted such a local builder of proven responsibility. He informs us that up to 100 five and six-room houses in the $6,000 to $8,000 price range could be built in six months from the start of operations, barring strikes and other culamities. (Temporary Federal housing could not have been furnished sooner.) We believe there are other local builders of like stamina and determination.

These houses would conform to the requirements of our building and zoning by-laws.

Town-held land might be sold by lots to veterans. Each individual would attempt to build and each individual undergo the rigors of finding materials and seeking ways through the meshes of governmental controls. We believe this would entail great delays and, worse for the future of the town, hodgepodges of design and appearance.

Zoning Changes

From several sources suggestions have been made that our zoning by-law be changed to provide, at least temporarily, aid to the present housing emergency. There are legal difficulties to such a course, even if it were desirable to re-zone the town on a large scale. The zoning by-law acts as a safeguard to property and assurance of value and security both to present owners and to future builders. The town would be a less desirable place to live without such protection. It appears to your committee that what is needed can be done under our present by-laws and State legislation.

That holds true in the matter of conversoin of present dwellings and buildings for added family units. Chapter 40 of the General Laws and sections of our Building and Zoning by-laws place powers in the Board of Appeals to accomplish desirable conversions.

Our town has been fortunate through the years in its able citizens willing to serve on the board and carry out its valuable, but often thankless, duties. The board members have been and are now activated only by conscientious regard to the wishes of the town as expressed in its by-laws. It may be, as has been suggested from numerous sources, that the powers of discretion, of variation, and of exception granted the board by the by-laws and statutes in some instances could be more widely exercised and result in less deterioration of the property involved and surrounding property and even of the inhabitants of the property involved.

Recommendations

The following suggestions are placed before the town for consideration:

1. Apart from the general shortage, a particular shortage of housing for veterans and servicemen of World War II exists. Of the several methods to relieve the situation, it is our opinion that action under Chapter 372 is desirable, and that provision for individual home ownership will most greatly benefit both the veteran and the town.

2. Property held by the town can be devoted to this purpose either by individual sales of parcels, or by development of groups of houses. It is our opinion that the latter course should be followed. Thus, greater efficiency and speed, more uniform cost and desirable designs can result. To alleviate present inflated costs, we suggest that the town contribute the land at not more than nominal cost, prepare lay-out plans and design plans, and contribute such plans to the contractors and builders and, so far as possible, lay the public utilities at very low rates.

3. Chapter 372 provides for the appointment of a housing authority to administer the provisions of the act. That authority may be an existing board or officer or one newly appointed by the town. We suggest a new authority with power to carry out the provisions of Chapter 372, as outlined herein. It is our opinion that three citizens of the town, to be appointed by the Moderator, should constitute the housing authority. One of them could be the Building Commissioner and the other two should be familiar with building construction, engineering, architecture, or of skill related to the duties of the authority. We suggest that said authority be empowered to expend money for expert, clerical, and other services such sums as the town shall appropriate.

4. We suggest that the town should authorize and direct all town officers, boards and departments to aid and co-operate with such housing authority. We suggest that the town should authorize and direct that all or any of the town land held by tax title foreclosure or otherwise, and not dedicated to public use, shall be transferred and conveyed by the officers or boards who have custody or disposal of said land to such grantees and under such terms, restrictions, conditions, exceptions and reservations as the housing authority shall designate and according to the provisions of Chapter 372.

5. Because of financial problems involved and to be solved in such large scale building, we recommend also the appointment by the Moderator of a committee of six or more chosen from all the banking institutions in the town, together with others in the field of finance, to aid and advise the housing authority and the builders in the program recommended herein. It is our opinion that the apparent difficulties in financing this program can be cleared, if there is community of effort and determination to carry the project through, and that the entire weight of surmounting the difficulties should not, will not, and can not be borne by individual contractors and builders.

Your committee is indebted and grateful to the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the American Veterans Committee for their advice and counsel and assistance, to the Veterans Advisory Committee, to town departments, to Mr. Stafford Rogers, Mr. Albert Locatelli, Mr. Alfred Elliott, commercial students of the high school, the police department, the Star and the Times, and to numerous other men and women of the town, for superb and material assistance in the work of your committee.

This report cannot close without a heart-felt tribute to the gallant woman who was a member and the secretary of this committee. Mary Adelaide Smith died as she had lived, in the midst of effort to aid her fellow-townsmen and to enhance this community by humane endeavor.

OIL

Countries of the Near and Middle East, where postwar Aladdins have rubbed oil lamps and produced genielike headlines, possess an estimated 40-odd per cent of the world's known petroleum wealth, points out the National Geographic Society.

The area involved is a relatively small one, lying between the Black and Caspian Seas, the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean. Outstanding producers in this "golden triangle of oil" are the Soviet Union, Iran, Iraq, and Saudi Arabia, the latter linked in oil operations with the adjoining island of Bahrein.

Important but smaller supplies are obtained from Egypt, and from the little Arab sheikdom of Kuwait, near the head of the Persian Gulf.

Russian Output Largest

The Soviet Union is the second largest petroleum source in the world, ranking after the United States. Nearly all its output long has come from the rich fields of the Caucasus, between the Black and Capian Seas.

Some of these fields were put out of commission during the German invasion. The most important operations, however, near Baku on the Capian Sea, were not reached or serously damaged by the Nazis. Even before war ended, Russian production was on the increase. From 216,866,000 barrels in 1939, the figure had risen in 1944 to 275,000,000 barrels.

Among other nations of the "golden triangle," Iran - subject of United Nations controversy - is far in the lead at present. Its estimated 1945 output was about 127,000,000 barrels. All this "black gold" came from the southwestern section of the country, for which the British-dominated Anglo-Iranian Oil Company holds the concession.

The Soviet Union has had no concession in its neighboring oil countries. An agreement, however, now is reported in progress to permit Russian development of northern Iran's petroleum deposits.

In 1944, the Russians had indicated a desire to participate in Iranian oil concessions, at a time when British and American concerns were also taking up the question of further development. Action on all this program was postponed until afer the war and the withdrawal of foreign troops occupying the country.

Reserves are Fabulous

Iraq followed Iran in the region's petoleum production for 1945, with an estimated 35,000,000 barrels. Saudi Arabia and Bahrein Island together accounted for some 25,000,000 barrels; Egypt, nearly 9,500,000. Kuwait contributed more than 1,000,000 barrels.

Although huge in aggregate, the current oil output of the Near and Middle East is still less than one-fifth that of the entire world. It is in the reserves that the figure of 40-odd per cent of the whole has been reached by oil experts. Many regard this as an extremely conservative estimate for fabulous oil resources which may lie below the barely-scratched sands.

Small Kuwait, for example, possesses proved and indicated crude-oil reserves believed to surpass those of the present big producer Iran. Another rich, though smaller, source is found to the south in Qatar peninsula, where production is scheduled soon. From Egypt to the Caucasus, extensive explorations, drillings, and new building projects are reported under way.

Ownership is Complicated

Already the lure of oil riches has resulted in striking changes in these Eastern lands of deserts and dates, of nomads, camels and minarets. Modern refineries have risen. Pie lines streak hundreds of miles on their way to sea. Settlements bloom in former wildernesses, equipped with air conditioning, housing units, hospitals, will be the church banquet and and schools.

And ways and talk of oil men from Texas and California, England and the Netherlands, bring new accents to the ancient crossroads between Europe, Asia, and Africa.

Except in the Soviet Union, the development of the mid-East's petroleum wealth is in the hands of outsiders, British, American, French, and Dutch.

Ownership of the operating companies is extraordinarily complex, with further complications in problems of international concessions and interlocking activities in various countries. The British government is the majority shareholder in the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, for example, which also owns a part of other companies in other lands.

United States firms, through the Arabian American Oil Company, hold a concession for nearly all the potentially productive oil of the independent kingdom of Saudi Arabia, together with neighboring Bahrein Island.

LOCAL SCOUTS TO VISIT CIMARRON, N. M., THIS SUMMER

Some of the local Scouts are already signed up, and some others are planning to go with the Boy Scout delegation of Fellsland Council to the National camp located in Cimarron, N. M., this summer. Mr. Sam Baer, a member of the Council Camp Committee has been secured as the adult leader to accompany this group of 24 Scouts who will make this first pilgrimage to this National camp.

The delegation will leave here on Saturday, July 20th, and traveling the entire distance by rail will visit Niagara Falls, Chicago where they will spend a day and then to Cimarron, New Mexico, to Philmont Ranch. They will be at this camp, which consists of 127,000 acres of land, for a period of four weeks where they will enjoy rigors of the most strenuous type of outdoor camping during their four week stay. This camp was presented to the National Council, Boy Scouts, by Mr. Phillips one of the big oil men of the southwest. The camp includes in its equipment more than 200 head of western horses for traveling over some of the outlaying territory. Also included on this camp ranch prize Herford cattle, sheep and other grazing animals.

The local boys are now being organized into definite patrols and along themselves are being assigned various duties such as log keepers, photographers, nature men, cooks, trail makers, shelter builders, etc. This will distribute the work among the entire group and give the greatest amount of time to the entire group to explore this vast ranch. Naturally with 127,000 acres it is impossible even with a four week period to explore the entire camp area on horseback.

As this group from this area is the only one to visit the National ranch this year a few of the places are being turned over to boys from other parts of New England. Naturally this must be limited to a few, as it is the main object to give our boys the opportunity to go. However, if there is any local boy who has not heard of this trip through their own Scout leader they can get additional information from the Scout Office in Winchester, at Win. 2030. It must be understood however that it is limited to older boys who are in good physical condition, at least 15 years of age and a First Class Scout, in good standing.

After the four week period at camp the boys will take a motor trip to the Cimarron Canyon in Taos where they will inspect some of the pueblo villages, and returning to Raton will take the train to Chicago and from there to Washington, D. C., to spend a day there before returning home to Boston on Monday, August 25. It goes without saying that any boy who makes this trip will have something to remember for many years in the future.

The Camp Committee of Fellsland Council conducted a special camp scholarship contest during the past season and it has just been announced that Scout Richard Pareee, Eagle Scout of Troop No. 21, Medford, was the fortunate winner of this contest. The competition was very keen with the local Camping Committee selecting one outstanding camper in each community and then the combined Council Camp Committee selecting the ultimate winner without knowing the name of any of the competitors. Each one was given a code number and his characteristics were then presented to combined committees and through this means Richard was finally selected. All of his expenses for the entire trip will be taken care of by the Council.

CUB PACK 7

On May 24 at 7:30 our pack held its regular meeting at the First Baptist Church.

It was athletic night and the boys put on stunts for their parents to see; also had tug of war, broad jump and other races.

The following boys received advancement badges:

The following Saturday the boys met at Manchester Field and enjoyed several ball games, Den No. 2 being the best team of the day.

Our next pack meeting June 14 will be the last until September. We will meet at Sandy Beach, Medford, 6:30 p. m. for outside meeting, wiennie roast and a good time together.

Dates for Cub day camp have not been announced as yet.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL NOTES

At the recent Arbor Day exercises at the George Washington School, Mrs. William G. Urmson presented to the School, on behalf of the Mothers' Club, several rose bushes, John DiIorio of the Sixth Grade accepted the bushes for the School. They have been planted along the fence bordering the playground and will do much to improve its appearance.

The teachers of the George Washington School are the pleased recipients of an electric plate presented to them through the generosity of the Washington Chapter of the Mothers' Club.

GIRL SCOUTS NEWS

"Everything depends on the situation and the terrain" is the axiom most quoted by the 10th Mountain Division of Ski Troops, according to Sergeant Ralph Holbert who served in Italy with that famous outfit. Sergeant Holbert, grandson of the founder of the Luther Gulick camps, was a guest speaker at the annual meeting of Massachusetts Girl Scouts at Cedar Hill, where Winchester was represented by Mrs. Clarence Roberts, commissioner, Mrs. Barbara Metcalf, executive director, Mrs. James B. Willing, service chairman, Mrs. Hollis Dyer, Juliette Low Fund chairman, and Mrs. Waldon Hersey, program committee. Miss Thelma Trott, also of Winchester, attended in her official capacity as National Trainer and gave a report on training. Sergeant Holbert showed equipment assigned to the mountain division and explained the life-and-death importance of meticulous preparation and trained ingenuity. Those present were slightly incredulous when he told of boiling water in a paper bag but believed anything might happen when they actually saw him light a piece of birchbark which he had sealed in a jar full of water ten days before.

Besides Miss Trott and Sergeant Holbert representatives heard Miss Catherine T. Hammett, recently returned from Greece where she worked with UNRAA. Miss Hammett, National Camp Advisor, emphasized the advisability of more troop camping and more "itinerant" camping, bicycle trips, etc.

The new president of Massachusetts Girl Scouts is Mrs. Charles Waghorn of Belmont, who succeeds Mrs. Leonard Wright of Milton.

Notes of Troop 4

Troop 4 has been working on their cooking badge and in this connection gave a supper party for 32 boys and girls and five adults on Saturday, May 25th, at the Girl Scout Cabin, preparing and cooking supper.

Some weeks ago a menu was planned and the following committees appointed: General chairman, Nancy Taylor; Activities, Carolyn Buracker, Dorothy Elliott, Connie Randlett and Cynthia Emerson. The different parts of the supper were in charge of separate groups, the scalloped potatoes and ham were prepared by Bette Nelson and Nancy Taylor, the macaroni and cheese by Judy Bramhall and Joyce Hovey, while Nikki Jens, Lorraine Cullen and Mary Horne took charge of the tossed green salad. The rolls were provided by Carol Crockett and Carolyn Padelford, while Mrs. Nelson mixed the punch.

The following girls received their cooking badges: Joyce Hovey, Ginny Graves, Carolyn Oxford, Sue Melanson, Mary Horne, Bette Nelson, Carolyn Padelford, Carol Crockett, Nancy Taylor and Cynthia Emerson. Carolyn Oxford and Bette Nelson received their five year pins.

The highlight of the afternoon was the combination treasure and scavenger hunt, the treasure being two boxes of tootsie candies which was found by Rocky Bodman and consumed by all.

Troop 4 would like to thank Mrs. Oxford, Mrs. Graves, Mrs. Crockett, Mrs. Swartz and Mrs. Nelson for lending us their kitchens for our cooking. They would also like to thank Mr. Graves and Mr. Nelson for their cooperation on Saturday.

BOSTON MUTUAL BETTERING '45 RECORD

The Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company, according to an announcement recently made by its President, Jay R. Benton, is substantially bettering the outstanding record it made in 1945.

New insurance issued during the first four months of this year was more than 42 per cent greater than the amount issued during the same period of last year. The Ordinary Department had an increase of over 81 per cent in insurance issued in the New England area. Continuation of the same rate of growth for the balance of the year will result in the largest increase of any year in the Company's history.

Total insurance in force as of May 1st was over $142,000,000, representing a gain of more than $5,000,000 since Jan. 1st, 1946. The Company's investment in United States Government bonds exceeds $20,000,000 which is 80 per cent of its total investments.

Since organization the Company has paid to policyholders and beneficiaries over $43,000,000. It now has one policy in force for every 17 people living in the territory in which it operates.

The Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company, now in its 55th year, has welcomed back many employees from the armed forces and has also enlarged its organization to serve the thousands of new policyholders in the New England area.

Mr. Benton, a former Attorney General of Massachusetts, widely known in life insurance and business circles, is also active in civic affairs and is Chairman of the Greater Boston Development Committee.

NEW PARKWAY AND RIVER LAYOUT VOTED

Action on Ginn Estate and Zoning Amendment Postponed. Veterans Housing Aid Passed

In a special town meeting that lasted until after midnight it was voted indefinitely to postpone action on the proposals to purchase the Ginn Estate as the sight for a new high school and to amend the Zoning By-Laws so as to exclude private schools, museums and hospitals from single residence districts. This action deflated much of the meeting that was expected to be the controversial.

Mr. Hatch, chairman of the Committee on School Facilities, championed the committee's proposal to relocate the Parkway and Aberjona River at the westerly side of Manchester Field so as to bring together Manchester Field and the present junior high school playground, the combined area to be used as an athletic field for senior and junior high school pupils, explaining that the Metropolitan District Commission approved the plan sufficiently to agree to relocate the road and exchange with the town, to the town's great advantage, certain parcels of State land involved in exchange for town land on which to locate the new parkway and river layout.

The sum of $65,000 was asked to be transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Fund for the cost of the new layout, and after answering many questions and replying to some arguments against the plan, Mr. Hatch was successful in getting it adopted by the overwhelming vote of 143 to 8.

Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman of the Unitarian Church opposed the location in the proposed plan of a parking space adjacent to the church, as did Mr. von Rosenvinge and Mr. Gallagher, and upon a motion offered by Mr. Parsons a "sense of the meeting" vote was passed providing that no parking area should be included in the proposed plan not satisfactory to the Unitarian Church.

Mrs. Sorokin opposed the new layout as of insufficient size to accommodate properly the athletic facilities proposed. Mrs. Whitman voiced her own and the opposition of every Precinct 3 member with whom she had spoken. Mrs. Spencer felt the Ginn Estate was a better solution and Mr. Bates opposed the plan as hastily conceived and not taking into account all around improvements needed in the center. Mrs. Woodside strongly backed the plan, the loss of the trees involved notwithstanding.

Subsequent relavent motions passed were those authorizing the taking of certain parcels of land near Warwick terrace for the enlargment of the new layout, at a cost of $1100, to be taken from Excess and Deficiency, and the placing of the athletic field under the jurisdiction of the School Committee.

It was voted to establish the "Andrews Hill School Committee" to procure plans for a new west side school house and playground to be built on the land purchased for this purpose by the town some years ago, and to report with its findings at the next annual town meeting. Five thousand dollars was transferred from Excess and Deficiency for the committee's use.

The sum of $670 was also transferred from Excess and Deficiency to enable the Selectmen to pay the town's eall fireman a salary of $300 a year, a raise in pay and also correcting present inequalities in remuneration.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES 140

One hundred and forty members of the Class of 1946 were graduated from Winchester High School Tuesday evening at exercises held in the school auditorium. Diplomas were also awarded in absentia to six members of preceding classes.

The augmented stage was decorated in green and white with shields begring W. H. S. and Class of 1946 at either side. Large baskets of white flowers completed the decorations.

The graduates marched to their places on the stage, led by Vice President Donald Armstrong, serving in place of Class President James Haggerty, now in the Marine Corps. For the first time the full school orchestra played music for the entrance, under the direction of Music Supervisor Alma M. Stoddart. Seated with the graduates were Principal Wade L. Grindle and Prof Neil H. Borden, chairman of the School Committee; Mrs. George I. Chatfield, president of the Foundation Scholarship Committee and Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Mr. Bailey made the invocation, after which the first of four student essays was delivered by Donald Armstrong, whose subject was "Tolerance." Virginia Lovejoy spoke on "Liberty" Richard Powers, on "Atomic Energy"; and Joan Robinson, on "The New School". This graduation marked the first in several years, at which student essays replaced an address by a guest speaker.

Interspersing the essays the school Choral Group under the direcion of Miss Stoddart sang, "It's A Grand Night for Singing" by Rodgers, accompanied by Barbara May Elliott; and a Selected Chorus sang "One World" by O'Hara, with Miss Elliott at the piano. Graduate Thomas Drapeau sang a tenor solo, "Until", by Sanderson, accompanied by Miss Stoddart.

This brought the program to the various awards, Principal Grindle presenting the Elizabeth L. Naven Award to Richard Powers, as the outstanding graduate who had previously attended the William G. Noonan School. Mr. Grindle also presented American Legion Medals and Certificates to Donald Armstrong and Marjorie Colliander as the senior boy and girl displaying outstanding leadership and character.

Mrs. Chatfied, who presented the Foundation Scholarship awards, prefaced this ceremony by explaining that the varying amounts of the scholarships were in accordance with the difference in tuitions charged by the colleges or schools to which the recipients plan to go.

HOW SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION WINNERS WERE CHOSEN

More interest than usual appeared to be attached to the award of scholarships this year at the High School graduation. This interest was caused by the establishment of a Scholarship Foundation last winter and the announced policy of also awarding honor certificates to students who meet the requirements of high scholarship and good citizenship. The decision to present honor awards as well as scholarships was adopted by the Committee because a fundamental objective of the Foundation is to foster and recognize high scholarship. Many colleges and universities follow the same practice.

Also those receiving scholarships had the amounts made public. Again in making this innovation the Committee felt that something was to be gained from the long experience of most higher institutions of learning which invariably publish both the winners of scholarships and the amounts involved. However, the Committee cannot stress too much that in considering the awards all honors are to be considered equal. When amounts differ, as they do, the college choice was considered and here the Committee found a sharp variation in tuition fees and other expenses and this divergence quite properly was taken into account.

Scholastically, members of the upper third of the class were considered, and that group was judged, with the invaluable help of the teachers, according to the following characteristics: Intellectual interest, industry, reliability, leadership, maturity, emotional stability, social adaptability, character, citizenship and ability. Letters of application were carefully judged, and were requested in each case where scholarships were being considered. Personal interviews were held with families when the committee was not fully satisfied with the available information on any candidate.

For honor awards, only those students of highest scholarship were judged, and it was decided by the committee that this honor, like the scholarship honor, should be a coveted one, and should be granted only to those who were given top rating in the aforementioned characteristics, so that top students who were not going to college or who had not written a letter of application to the committee should be given full recognition by the Foundation.

Mrs. George I. Chatfield, as Chairman of the Scholarship Committee, awarded the honors at Monday's exercises. No better statement could be made of the aims of the Foundation than the remarks with which she preceded the awards. She said:

ROTARY NOTES

Former United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., addressed the club during the second half of the program. Senator Lodge spoke on the "Outlook for America." His was a very forceful and engaging talk and it was well received by the largest attendance for many meetings.

RICHENBURG—MANNING

The marriage of Miss Ruth Evangeline Manning, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Manning of Church street, to Philip Arthur Richenburg, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Richenburg of Roslindale, took place at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, June 5, at the Unitarian Church. White snapdragons, gladiolas and carnations with palms and ferns made an attractive setting for the ceremony which was performed by the minister, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman.

Miss Manning was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of French lace having a sweetheart neckline and a full skirt with a shirred waistline extending into a train. Her matching veil was caught with orange blossoms worn by her mother at her wedding and she carried a shower bouquet of bouvardia and gypsophile centered with an orchid.

Mrs. William R. Roop, 2nd, (Genieva Manning) was her sister's honor attendant. She wore a jonquil yellow dress, with cap sleeves and a full skirt, and carried light blue lace flowers with talisman roses.

Miss Ruth Olmstead, Mrs. Harold Alpaugh (Lillian Speedie), Mrs. Ralph M. Manning, sister-in-law of the bride, all of Winchester; and Miss Roselle Graham of Stoneham were bridesmaids. Their dresses were China blue styled like those of the honor attendant and their bouquets were of yellow roses and blue lace flowers.

John P. Forte of Belmont was best man for Mr. Richenburg, and the ushers were Albert W. Manning of Winchester, brother of the bride; Lloyd C. Nickerson of Roslindale, Richard A. Roundy of Beverly and Clifford E. Wilson, Jr., of Norwich, Conn.

Dr. and Mrs. Manning and the parents of the bridegroom assisted in receiving the guests at the reception in the church parlors after the ceremony.

Upon their return from a wedding journey to North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Richenburg will make their home in Bath, Me., while the bridegroom completes his senior year at Bowdoin College.

The bride is a graduate of the Chamberlain School, Mr. Richenburg prepared at Roxbury Latin School and is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity at Bowdoin.

ENSIGN AND MRS. LLOYD WHITMAN GODDU
After Their Marriage in the Garden of the Bride's Parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Brown

GODDU—BROWN

On Saturday afternoon, June 8, Miss Margaret Thorburn Brown, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Ronald Brown of Warren street was married to Ensign Lloyd Whitman Goddu, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whitman Goddu (Louise Alexander) of Fiske Hill, Sturbridge. The out-of-doors double-ring ceremony was performed at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, the formal garden at the home of the bride's parents making a perfect setting.

Evergreens and flowering shrubs provided a natural background of green, against which beds of white petunias, pink begonias and tall coral-pink geraniums bordered a central path which led to the altar niche of tall arborvitae flanked by two large baskets of white gladiolas. White standards, with swags of white ribbon marked the aisle of entrance, and as the bridal party approached a little wren in a tree burst into song. An instrumental trio played the formal bridal music.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Brown wore a gown of white marquisette with ruffles trimming the off-the-shoulder neckline and forming the full skirt and long train. Her matching veil was fingertip-length, and she carried a shower bouquet of half-blown roses, sweet peas and stephanotis.

Miss Carol Crandall of Winchester was maid of honor and Miss Louise, and Miss Anne Brown, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. All three wore petal pink marquisette dresses having tight bodices and bracelet-length sleeves. Ruffles trimmed the necklines and cascaded down the backs of the full skirts. Their open-crowned horschair hats were pink with matching streamers and they carried pink roses and sweet peas.

Ensign Goddu had his father as best man and three fellow ensigns in the United States Coast Guard as ushers. The three, wearing white dress uniforms were Ens. William M. Page of Marblehead, Ens. Alfred J. Tatman of Norfolk, Va., and Ens. Robert D. Parkhurst of Swampscott.

The reception after the ceremony was held in another section of the garden. A collation was served by a caterer in a large marquee, the bride and bridegroom cutting their wedding cake with the sword which Ensign Goddu received at his graduation from the United States Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn.

The parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisted in receiving, Mrs. Brown mother of the bride wearing a gown of aqua crepe with a corsage of orchids. Mrs. Goddu, mother of the bridegroom and daughter of Mr. Frederic C. Alexander of Lakeview road, also wore orchids with her gown of dusty pink marquisette.

The bride is a graduate of the Brimmer-May School and is attending Connecticut College for Women at New London. Ensign Goddu was graduated from the Coast Guard Academy on June 5, receiving a commission in the regular Coast Guard. Before entering the Academy he was a member of the class of 1944 in the College of Engineering at Tufts, leaving to attend Admiral Billard Academy to prepare for the Coast Guard Academy's annual competitive examinations. He hopes for an initial assignment to deck duty as a junior navigation officer on a cutter operating from East coast ports.

Winchester Veterans,

HAVE YOU THE TIME?

When war was on, you TOOK time — and plenty of it — to fight for your beliefs. The need was obvious then.

With war's uniting bonds removed, now more than ever, well—directed citizen energy is needed. Facts confront us: THE JOB ISN'T DONE . . .

There's still much to be accomplished to make it the kind of America in the kind of world we fought for . . . jobs—homes—full production—co-operation among labor, management, agriculture, and government under a system of free enterprise—a world organization strong enough to prevent our having new veterans from a new war.

Twelve million men and women who were in uniform have tremendous potential influence. You don't want to see that influence misused. You want to work with a veterans organization that keeps that influence on the side of a more democratic, prosperous America and a more stable world. The American Veterans Committee is that kind of an organization.

What Can You Do?

You can contribute time, talent, energy . . . whatever you have. In a young, democratic organization like AVC YOUR activity counts.

You can join the expanding Winchester chapter. Community problems need your intelligent attention. By swelling AVC membership ranks, you can make the voice of this war's veteran clearly heard in local, national, and world affairs.

You can take your place with more than 75,000 other veterans of World War II who belong to the fast-growing AVC . . . . . men and women who consider themselves CITIZENS FIRST—VETERANS SECOND.

For more specific information on the Winchester chapter, write AVC, PO BOX 17, WINCHESTER, MASS.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB NEWS

Simonds and Swanson Share Snipe Spoils

Don Simonds and Bob Swanson split honors over the week-end, Don scoring a Saturday afternoon victory over the Winchester Snipe Fleet and Bob bobbing up first on Sunday morning. Unfortunately, these two top threats to fleet supremacy did not compete against each other because Bob had sail trouble on Saturday and Don lacked a crew on Sunday.

Saturday afternoon Mert Ober almost caught the boys flat footed when he split tacks with the rest of the fleet right at the start of the race and pulled off to what would have been an impossible lead if the rest of the gang hadn't suddenly realized what he was up to. Don Simonds first sensed the seriousness of the situation and went hightailing after Mert with the rest of the fleet following suit. And before the first lap was finished, Simonds' "Sinbad" was in the lead well on its way to its seventh consecutive victory. Mert clung to second place and third went to George Field's "Hardtack."

Sunday morning, the wind was really too strong for Snipe sailing, yet ten boats went out for the race. Dave Merrow, in his first start of the season led for more than two laps but he was finally overhauled by both Bob Swanson and Ted Burleigh. It was a brilliant race between these sterling skippers, with Bob Swanson finally bringing the new "Swanee" across the line in front.

"Bart" Sullivan, with a broken tiller, Dawson Blamire with a split rudder, Holbrook Bugbee with rudder trouble and Parker Blanchard with a good old fashioned upset, all failed to finish.

Kay Burleigh, for the first time in almost four years, was back starting and judging the races and did her usual slick job. Hope she is going to take over from now on.

It's worth the price of admission to the club just to see those fascinating new diaper bathing suits. Hubba! Hubba!

NOTICE CRIBBAGE FANS

History was made the other night at the Winchester Country Club. In a four handed game of cribbage, A. L. Beausang of Medford and Otis Leary, (who has somewhat of a local reputation) double skunked Judge Monohan, champion of Combinations Two, Belmont, and Perley Chase of Medford (better known as the champion of Oxford County, Me.)

Experts at the C. C. were consulted and as far back in history as the records go, this seems to be the first time that this has happened in a four handed game of cribbage. When one considers that the Judge and Perley have almost National reputations in the game of cribbage, and may we add, the good natured banter that goes with it, this feat really reaches the phenomenal stage.

We must say that the Judge was not used to the system used by the champion of Oxford County and it may have upset his usual careful type of play.

KIRWAN THIRD IN N. E. HALF MILE

Charles of Melrose Won Schoolboy Thriller. Dillingham 2nd in Junior Dash

Tom Kirwan, Winchester High's star middle distance runner, placed third in the schoolboy half-mile race of the season, at the New England A. A. U. interscholastic track and field meet at the Brookline High stadium last Saturday afternoon. Long Tom ran the best race of his career, being caught in 2m 02.9s, but it wasn't good enough to win from Kenneth Charles of Melrose High School and Carl Joyce of Boston Commerce, both of whom unfurled clockings much better than any one expected.

Charles, an aggressive redhead, won the classic in 1m 59.7s, a red hot performance, and Joyce was clocked just a tenth of a second slower. The two weren't more than a stride apart as they fought their hearts out to cross the finish line first. Kirwan wasn't more than five yards back.

"Red" Stoltman of Andover, a quartermiler all season, took the lead in the seeded heat of the half, in which he chose to run, and reeled off a 55 second first quarter. On the back stretch of the gun lap Joyce sprinted past Stoltman from second place with Kirwan running smoothly in third place and Charles, fourth. The rest of the field was out of it.

Joyce had five yards on Stoltman and perhaps seven or eight on Kirwan and Charles when the latter started his sprint.

Sprinting past Kirwan and cutting pretty sharply in front of the Winchester boy at that, Charles let go with a kick that brought him to Joyce's elbow coming off the curve into the home stretch.

Throwing his red head back the Melrose boy literally drove himself past the straining Commerce entry on the outside, for first a shoulder and then a stride as the two fought through the worsted with Charles the winner and Kirwan a good third. Stoltman dropped out.

Pete Dillingham, freshman sprinter, picked up a second in the junior hundred for ninth grade entries, winning his heat by a good five yards in 11.1s, the same time as Charles Donelan of Dedham did in winning the final. "Pete" was very slow over the first 25 yards in the final but was closing up fast as the winner broke the tape. Roger Creelman placed in the heat in this event, but did not qualify for the final. Ted Covert ran in the mile, won by Matt Malloy of Rivers in 4m 40.7s, finishing strongly but well outside the places.

In the shotput big Johnny West, like Kirwan, got off his best performance ever, yet failed to place. West got the ball out 46ft 9¼in to break any Winchester record we know about, but with Nourse of Andover putting 54ft 9⅝in, the fight was simply for second place. Keith of Roxbury Latin, State Class A champ, put 48 ft 8¾in for second, Frank Bradley of Andover, 48ft 7¼in for third and Jim Gwaranski of Cheverus, Me., 47ft 4 7/8in for fourth. Foley, a late entry from Boston College High School, beat West for fifth place by about an inch, but big John, on his first try got off a heave of well over 47 feet, only to foul.

Johnny has improved his performance 8ft 3in over the season and about 11ft since he commenced putting the shot last year. Another year and he should be a pretty fair country shotputter.

WEST RECEIVES PROMOTION

Cadet William I. West has been promoted to the rank of First Sergeant in the United States Corps of Cadets, Major General Maxwell D. Taylor, Superintendent, announced recently. Cadet West, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. West of Wedgemere avenue is a First Classman and will be commissioned in the Regular Army next June.

Treasurer Donald J. Lewis of the Winchester Trust Company has been spending the week with his family at Gloucester.

WAKEFIELD WON MIDDLESEX LEAGUE PLAYOFF

Wakefield won the Middlesex League playoff from Belmont at Watertown Monday afternoon as Les DeMarco, diminutive Wakefield left hander bested three Belmont boys for a 5-3 victory, allowing four hits. Wakefield only got five safeties.

On the preceding Saturday DeMarco beat Stoneham 1-0 in 10 innings at Wakefield to win its way into the playoff with Belmont. How much the capable fork-hander will have left for Lawrence in the State tournament remains to be seen, but he has been by all odds the best of the Middlesex League flingers this season. In the Stoneham game he fanned 10 batters; against Belmont he fanned 17, bringing his strikeout record for the season to 143.

Officer John F. Hogan of the Police Department commenced his annual vacation this week.

We have been asked by the Winchester League of Women Voters to publish in the Star a questionnaire recently sent to the candidates for the office of State Senator and Representative to be voted upon at the coming primaries June 18. The idea of the questionnaire was to give the voters of Winchester an idea of the standing and background of the candidates as an aid in placing their votes. Some nine candidates are in the field and the questionnaire contained just four questions outside the name, address, education, etc. We expressed our willingness to comply with the League's desire, but knowing politicians as we do, we requested that the answers be kept to a reasonable length. The questionnaires have been received. It is our estimate that they will take, if published, over a solid page of the Star. Only one, that of our present Senator, was within the specified space. Others ran over a column. Therefore, while we would like to give Winchester voters an outline of the activities of the various candidates, we do not feel that we can see our way to print the necessary supplement of two extra pages to do so. We would like to please the candidates and the League as well as to provide the voters with a life history of the gentlemen running for office, but this information, we regret, will have to be held for individual biographies as included in our vital statistics.

President Truman, who has proclaimed that he will continue to carry forward the re-making of America as planned by the late President Roosevelt, waited for the crucial moment when the nation's railroads were flat on their back through Union disregard for the public or anything else, before making a move to curb the present national strike abuse. He introduced a bill which was the most drastic ever drawn up to check the Unions. This act was hailed by all labor opposition as something the Nation has been waiting for. Even his most active critics admitted its strength and began to revise their views of his reign. But —the President, many believe, knew his hill did not have the remotest chance in passing. Which it did not. So he emerged as the leader the Nation has been waiting for. But now comes along the Case Bill; a measure mild in comparison to the drastic legislation he previously asked for and which promised to become a law unless he objected, and he does it. His veto being sustained by the narrow margin of five New Dealers. From these two incidents any citizen can draw his own conclusions. Strike and you get it is still the law of the land and promises to continue to be so. Meanwhile the OPA continues to appeal to the people to hold the price line as it raises the prices all along the line on the goods no one can buy anyway. The New Deal slogan "We Planned It That Way", certainly is bringing the Nation into the state which anyone could predict long, long ago. Even the great New Deal Supreme Court cannot keep its skirts out of the mud. Perhaps the people will wake up when they visit the polls the next time. We hope so.

PRAISE FOR PRINCIPAL GRAVES

To the Editor of the Star:

At the graduating exercises Monday evening at the High School Class of 1946 doting parents listened to the gracious remarks and good wishes that are properly due the boys and girls who have served with fidelity their apprenticeship to education.

Diplomas publicly presented by school authorities are the seal of competency.

There is another person who is officially severing his connection with the teaching staff, for a larger field of public service. Mr. Graves took on the hard job of pinch hitting as principal of the school. Such a task during the period of unsettlement, surveys and reconstruction of the school system, is a difficult and thankless task. If the results are good its the system, if bad it's the fault of the individual.

That he has been successful beyond belief may be judged by the respect of the parents and the students who have added a large measure of affection to that respect.

Such work should merit public acknowledgment upon the occasion of his graduation to his larger opportunity. That occasion has presented itself twice in the past week without action.

Surely justice, good sportsmanship and good manners called for a public expression of appreciation for his sincere and wonderfully efficient work.

I publicly wish to express my sincere thanks as a citizen of Winchester to Mr. Graves for his school work and my personal gratitude for having the chance to know and properly evaluate his sterling worth and gracious personality.

CAPT. CHADWICK COMBINES HIGH CIVIC IDEALS

Editor of the Star:

If political office ever seeks the man, rather than a man the office, Captain Harrison Chadwick should typify such a choice. As his lifelong friend I can tell you sincerely that the spirit of service truly motivates his candidacy for Representative to the General Court. His devotion to interests of church, school and business bear this out, as does his Army record. Whereas, others can tell you more specifically of these accomplishments, I wish to make one point only, that Captain Chadwick combines high civic ideals with a unique capacity for an office to which the voters might feel privileged to elect him.

Sincerely yours,
John W. Pushee

PALMER BEACH HORSESHOE ASSN.

For the first time in many moons during this damp and dismal spring season, a quorum was on hand for a regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association last week-end. In a way President Royal "Paper Trade" Teele was responsible for the gathering despite the fact that he himself was conspicuous by his absence.

At one of the recent mid-week "irregular" meetings, now being frequented by Messrs. Teele and Butters, the latter sometimes called the State of Maine Champ in those far distant nostalgic days when he was a regular member of the Association in good standing, Royal mentioned the fact that he would not foregather with his antiques staff on the Cape this past week-end and would be glad of a bit of practice at Palmer street against the tournament of the Boston Paper Trade on Monday of this week, in which he hoped to repeat his usual victory for the trade Horseshoe title.

"Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nahnassett pricked up his ears at this, for week-ends with Mr. Teele during the past two years have come to be pretty consistently a one-sided affair, no less.

Accordingly Mr. McLaughlin awaited the usual Teele call to arms last week-end until the very last minute, and it was only when he had heard nothing practically up to game time that he committed himself elsewhere and gave up all thoughts of play.

Thus it is that one can easily imagine the McLaughlin chagrin when the Secretary, of all people, called him to announce a series in the making. Always the gentleman, Mr. McLaughlin regretted his inability to be present, and told the Scrivener why he was in such sorry case. The latter had not heard that the President was supposed to be in town, but felt that a meeting of the Association without its ranking official would be like something or other most unfortunate.

As a consequence he called the Teele home and got no response. At the Ditmars dwelling it was vouchsafed that Mr. Teele was "somewhere on Cape Cod". He now has so many habitations on that spit of sand and sun that it is impossible to say just where he may be found south of Plymouth. At all events he wasn't available, and the Secretary had to go ahead without him. It is only fair to say that the meeting lacked that indefinable touch that only Mr. Teele can provide.

Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner, Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham and Henry "Tiffany" Knowlton joined the Secretary to comprise the quorum for play. Mr. McLaughlin's defection has already been explained and excused. Mr. Butters has long given up weekend horseshoes for the more effete and easier-to-win-at golf. Howard "Foul Line" Witter was probably engaged in giving his blueberry bushes a face-lifting job and "H. M. S. Rodney" Walsh was once more a. w. o. l.

A round robin was played with the pitching ranging all the way from what Mr. Teele would call mediocre to pretty fair. Every one, even the Secretary, had his moments, and Mr. Knowlton, at the opening of hostilities was very hot indeed. No doubles were covered and the repartee lacked something of the sparkle which is its wont when the President is presiding, and we would say this is especially true when Mr. Butters is in the little group.

MAKE PROVISIONS FOR YOUR PETS WHEN YOU GO AWAY

If you plan to move or to go on a vacation, please give forethought to whatever arrangement you intend to make for the care of any pet you may have, dog, cat, bird, or other animal.

Animals, cats in particular, have an uncanny way of sensing in advance any disruption of their ordinary routine. They often leave home or hide and cannot be found when the family is ready to close the house, with the result they are left behind to become strays and a nuisance in the neighborhood. Contrary to the belief held by many persons, domestic animals are not equipped to take care of themselves; they are dependent upon man to whom they look for protection.

If your pet is to be boarded while you are away, be sure arrangements are made well in advance. If he is to be taken with you, keep him in or under control while out-of-doors when it is nearing time for your departure so that he will not be "among the missing" when you come to leave. If he must be disposed of, take or send him to the nearest animal welfare organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolden G. Burbank and family are going to Mannomet Bluffs for the summer.

TOWN MEETING

Upon the recommendation of the Committee on War Records it was voted to turn over the committee's files and card index to the town library and discharge the committee, the members of which did not believe the publication of a World War II History would be worth the 20 odd thousand dollars it would cost. It was also voted to rescind the vote at the March town meeting requiring the Town Histories to be sold at certain prices and that a discount be given town meeting members.

Much time was devoted to consideration of the article dealing with veterans' housing. Mr. Parker presented the motions of the Committee on Housing of Veterans and explained them fully. Two attempts were made by the Finance Committee to lessen the powers finally granted the Veterans Housing Authority of three members to be appointed by the Moderator to handle the problem of providing shelter for Winchester veterans, but neither prevailed, though the votes were close, 68 to 58 and 64-51.

Mrs. Woodward, Mr. Swindler, Mrs. Spaulding, Mr. Gustin and Mr. Hills were among those in favor of granting the Veterans Housing Authority full power to act and against the proposals to limit its powers to make available tax title land or to authorize temporary housing of whatever type may be necessary.

In effect the meeting established a Veterans' Housing Authority with full power to act in the way prescribed under Chapter 372 of the General Laws, except to purchase or take land by eminent domain and carry out the provisions of clause 3 of Section 6, without further vote of the town. At the request of Mr. Parker the meeting voted to exclude from the enabling motion the permission to act under any laws relating to housing which may be passed by the Congress or General Court in the future.

It was then voted to enable the Housing Authority to sell for house lots two parcels of land on Middlesex street of 30,700 sq. ft. and 53,458 sq. ft., this being done over the opposition of Mr. Havelson who contended that this land had been taken for playground purposes and badly needed for such use. Upon the opposition of Mr. Gleason and Mr Sanderson a parcel of land on Palmer street was excluded from sale and another parcel on Pond street was placed under the jurisdiction of the Selectmen to sell subject to such restrictions as the State Department of Health may dictate because of the proximity to the town's well fields.

The meeting voted to elect Finance Committee members for three years and accepted the Selectmen's layouts of Indian Hill road, Emerson road, and Black Horse Terrace.

The sum of $3500 was transferred from Excess and Deficiency for grading and improving the west side playground and another $6,854.00 was transferred to enable the School Committee to pay three teachers, not provided for in the March Departmental budgets.

Upon the motion of Mr. Rowe the meeting dissolved at 12.03. One hundred sixty-nine of 229 members were present at the start of the meeting. Town Moderator Joseph W. Worthen presided.

LOCAL PHARMACIES RAIDED

Three of Winchester's drug stores were raided by the Police for liquor last Friday about noontime, alleged contraband being carried out by perspiring officers while groups of interested bystanders in the streets during the noon hour looked on. In all about 350 gallons of liquor were seized by the Police and taken to local headquarters to be impounded pending the result of the cases against the defendants in court.

According to Police Chief William H. Rogers he had received complaints that local drug stores were selling liquor illegally, and he in turn went to District Attorney Thompson's office, requesting assistance in investigating the complaints.

Assistant District Attorney Martin was assigned to the case with Lt. Eaton of the State Police, who sent State Troopers Donat A. LaCasse and Joseph P. McEnaney to Winchester in an attempt to make sales. Police say that liquor was bought in each of the three drugstores raided.

Armed with search warrants the Police visited the pharmacies on Friday, Chief Rogers leading one raiding party, Sgt. Thoams F. Cassidy, a second; and Lt. Edward W. O'Connell, the third. Sgt. Arthur O'Leary and Troopers LaCasse and McEnaney of the State Police accompanied the local officers.

All the defendants were summonsed orally to appear in District Court at Woburn, on Saturday, at which time they were arraigned and released on their own recognizance in order that they might have opportunity to prepare their cases for a later appearence in court on June 18. Attorney Leo F. Garvey appeared as counsel for the defendants.

SCHOLARSHIP

"As the Scholarship Foundation is new this year, I have been asked to sum up briefly a few points of interest. The Winchester Scholarship Foundation was planned and organized by some Winchester people who, first, wanted to establish a clearing house, let us say, for the many small groups interested in presenting scholarships; and who, second, wanted the recognition of outstanding scholarship and citizenship in the high school to become the interest of everyone in the town.

"I think I am safe in saying that almost all the townspeople here can feel that they have had some part in making tonight's scholarships possible, either through donations to a club or organization belonging to the Foundation, through buying tickets or advertising space for benefit performances in behalf of scholarship, through individual donations, or through giving time and effort on some committee of the Foundation.

"Before the scholarships and honor awards are presented, I should like to read to you the names of the contributors to the Scholarship Fund.

No explanation of the beginnings of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation is complete without mentioning Mrs. Lyman B. WARRANT ARTICLES DISCUSSION MEETING

Under the auspices of the League of Women Voters a most interesting meeting was held at the Library Wednesday evening, June 12.

The president of the League, Mrs. Philip Woodward, presided and the purpose of the gathering was the study and discussion of articles of the Town Warrant before their presentation at Town Meeting Thursday evening.

The co-chairmen of the Housing Committee of the League of Women Voters Mrs. Mortimer L. Downey, Jr. and Mrs. Georges Houle, presented and explained the proposed amendments to the zoning laws, and Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, co-chairman with Mrs. Guy Livingstone of the League Education Department introduced Prof. Neil Borden, Chairman of Winchester School Committee who spoke on the proposed plan to change the course of the Aberjona River and move Mystic Valley Parkway closer to the railroad tracks from the Unitarian Church to Mystic avenue. The change will provide ample contiguous land for adequate athletic facilities adjacent to the High School buildings

Mr. Frederick Hatch presented the details and cost of the proposed plan which has met with the enthusiastic approval of the Metropolitan District Park Committee. Opposition to the plan was presented by Mr. John Lobingier and an animated and constructive discussion followed.

Meetings such as this provide intelligent understanding of both sides of controversial issues and the League of Women Voters will continue to arrange them prior to all important Winchester Town activities. Watch the Star for the dates of future League of Women Voters Town Affairs meetings to which the public is always cordially invited.

"Bill" Cunningham, son of Dr. and Mrs. Allan R. Cuningham of Church street, leaves today for Parris Island, S. C., where he will enter the U. S. Marine Corps. He graduated from Winchester High School Monday evening.

Please Be Seated

A lot of people have sat in the customers' chair at our bank. Some have come with expressions of worry or anxiety in their faces . . . others with the flush of eager ambition. They have talked of problems and plans, financial and personal. They have talked freely, knowing that whatever they said would not be repeated outside the bank. In every case, we try to be helpful, lending money, giving friendly counsel, or doing both, for that's what banks are for. Perhaps you may sit in that chair soon. If you do, you'll always find a ready welcome whether you come in to open an account, ask for a loan, or talk over a personal or business matter we may be able to help you with. In any event, we cordially invite you to make yourself at home, for this is your bank and we are at your service at all times.

W. H. S. 1921 CLASS REUNION

The W. H. S. Class of 1921 held its 25th reunion at the Winchester Country Club when 30 members of the class gathered at a dinner to celebrate the event.

The class had as teacher guests, Mrs. Ella M. Stacy, Mrs. Laura H. Johnston and Mr. Arthur E. Butters.

In the talking marathon after dinner some interesting facts were disclosed.

Harriette Smith told of her work as Director of the Sarah Fuller Foundation for Little Deaf Children in Boston and vicinity.

The climax of the evening came when the individual graduation pictures were shown on a screen amidst lively comment by the classmates.

The festivities concluded with the singing of the class song, the original and the reunion verses.

The committee which arranged the program included Dorothy Laraway McKinley, Mary Boyle Sullivan, Elizabeth O'Melia Wilson, Vincent C. Ambrose and John P. Cassidy.

THE SENIOR SCOUT BAND ENJOYS OUTING IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

The Winchester Scout and Girl Scout Band wound up a most successful year with a grand outing at the summer home of their manager, Mrs. Brad Hersey, in New Boston, N. H. Each of the five cars piloted by Brad Hersey, Lois Hersey, Alfred Nelson, Elsie Nelson, and Ruth Adams, fairly burst all the way up with happy voices in songs, games and lively conversation. Spirits dampened to anxiety, though, by a tremendous cloudburst in the vicinity of Mt. Vernon, seeming to foretell a rainy day ahead. But luck was with us for, as we drove into the yard, the sun burst forth into a clear blue sky and favored us for the rest of the day.

After a hilarious free for all in the barn, climbing ladders, jumping into hay, swinging on ropes, sliding down shutes, etc., and then a cooling off of ice cream, a dash was made for the old swimming hole where we dove, ducked, played games and leisurely floated down the stream on inflated inner tubes to rush through the swift current of the narrows into the pool. Empty stomach soon called for a gay lunch in the coolness of pine grove with sandwiches, 2 cases of milk, hot dogs and hamburgers cooked over a fire built and supervised by Scout John Holdsworth of Troop 6. Four juicy watermelons were consumed during the afternoon as well as two full boxes of candy bars donated by our director, Everett L. Wescott, who most regretfully was unable to be present. After relaxing and fooling around in the grove, followed by a vigorous game of ball-y-over, all piled into the cars for a drive to cool off in a beautiful pool in the gorge of a larger stream, where we swam and dove to our hearts content and sunned ourselves on the large boulders in mid-stream or fooled around in the small pools or on the rocks where the stream dashed madly down through the gorge from the larger pool above.

A hick ball game and a baseball game wound up the full days program which was brought to a sudden halt by the bursting of another drenching downpour. The elements favored us again though as the rain stopped long enough for us to enjoy a turkey sandwich and a double decker ice cream cone supper at the Green Ridge Turkey Farm on our way home. We landed in Winchester just as that terrific wind and electric storm hit, a thrilling ending to a perfect day.

"Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me." This passage from the Bible (Psalms 40: 11) comprises the Golden Text to be used in the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and in all of its branches, on Sunday, June 16.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "God the Preserver of Man", and included in the Bible selections will be: "The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul. The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore" (Psalms 121:7, 8).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included in the Lesson-Sermon: "The relations of God and man, divine Principle and rule are indestructible in Science; and Science knows no lapse from nor return to harmony, but holds the divine order or spiritual law, in which God and all that He creates are perfect and eternal, to have remained unchanged in its eternal history" (p. 470).

MRS. GEORGE LOCHMAN GIVES HARP RECITAL

Mrs. George Lochman gave a harp recital at her home on Kenwin road Tuesday afternoon, June 11th, for the benefit of the Bethany Society of the Second Congregational Church. A large number of guests attended, and a goodly sum was materialized. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cowling, of Arizona, formerly of Winchester.

Delicious refreshments were served in the social hour following the recital. Before giving her program, Mrs. Lochman explained the mechanism of the harp, and explained the technique of playing. During an intermission in her recital, she read a paper entitled, "The Story of the Harp", which traced the history of this ancient instrument, and listed famous harpists of the past and the present. The complete program presented by Mrs. Lochman was as follows:

1. Song Without Words (no. 17) Oberthur
2. Album Leaf (no. 19) Schuecker
3. Two Songs Without Words (op. 33) Dubez
Essay: "The Story of the Harp"
4. Jungle Scenes Betty Paret
"Little Monkeys Swinging"
"Lullaby for a Baby Elephant"
"Giraffe Argument"
5. Two Leaves from an Album Renie
"Sketch"
"Angelus"

As encores, Mrs. Lochman played "The Music Box" by Franz Poenitz, and "My Old Kentucky Home", arranged for the harp by Van Veachler Rogers.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

m, the Girl Scout Day Camp will open its season at Camp Joy. Brownie, Intermediate and Senior Scouts, though present all together at the flag raising will scatter to their separate locations where they will organize, decide upon the name for each unit, and pursue their varied activities.

Handcrafts suited to the different age groups will be taught, along with trail following, outdoor cooking, etc., with archery for the older ones.

The Pioneers, mostly 8th and 9th grade scouts, will study real camp craft, learning how to exist in the "wilds", lashing, "stick cooking" (and that does not mean putting a hot dog on a stick) and spending several nights at the Camp, with traditional campfire ceremonies.

Though the three training sessions have already been given to the camp staff, both adults and junior aides, additional help would be very welcome for any period and individual, abbreviated training would be gladly given to any volunteers. Camp will be Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., June 18 through July 25. If camp has to be cancelled because of inclement weather, it will be announced over Station WEEI.

At the closing meeting of the year held at the home of the commissioner, Mrs. Clarence Roberts, the council discussed organization for next fall.

Though many leaders are continuing with their troops, there is an increased demand due to the formation of new troops as well as to the resignation of some of the old leaders. Will any interested please call Mrs. Barbara Metcalf at the Girl Scout office, Win. 2592, or, if unable to reach her, telephone Mrs. Chauncey Mitchell, Jr., Win. 2534-J, regarding Intermediate Girl Scouts, or Mrs. James Daschbach, Win. 2524, regarding Brownies.

WEED—SANBORN

At the First Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon, June 2, Miss Virginia Vera Sanborn, daughter of Mr. Ivan R. Sanborn of Loring avenue, and the late Mrs. Sanborn, became the bride of Curtis Brooks Weed of Camden, Me., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Weed. Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the church, performed the marriage ceremony at 4 o'clock and a reception followed in the church parlor.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon, fashioned from a parachute sent her by her husband while he was serving in the Navy during the war. It had a round neckline, long pointed sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her full-length veil was caught to a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of pink's roses with streamers of white sweet peas.

Miss Ruth F. Sanborn was her sister's honor maid and only attendant. She wore a dress of pale yellow taffeta, having a bodice trimmed with white satin ribbon, a sweetheart neckline, short sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her hat of net matched her dress and she wore white elbow-length gloves, carrying yellow roses.

Walter E. Weed of Camden, Me., was best man for his brother and the ushers were George N. Sanborn of Binghapton, N. Y., brother of the bide; and Walter Annis of West Rockport, Me.

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Weed will make their home in Camden, Me., where the bridegroom is in business as a commercial painter.

Pfc. Marcella Of Woburn was Mr. Santo's best man and the ushers were Michael A. Vozzella of Winchester, brother of the bride; and Thomas Gighotti, also of Winchester.

The wedding reception was held after the ceremony at Columbus Hall, with the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. A feature of the refreshments was the beautifully decorated wedding cake which the bride and bridegroom cut together. Each guest was given Italian confetti attractively wrapped in tulle and tied with pink and blue bows.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Santo left on an extended honeymoon trip to New Hampshire, Vermont, Canada, the Great Lakes, Ohio and New York.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of the Hiekox Secretarial School. Mr. Santo, a veteran of the African and European campaigns, graduated from Woburn High School and from the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance. He is employed by the Monsanto Chemical Company of Everett.

SANTO—VOZZELLA

The altar of St. Mary's Church was decorated with white and red carnations on Sunday afternoon, June 9, for the marriage of Miss Margaret Agnes Vozzella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vozzella of 131 Highland avenue, to Guy Andrew Santo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Santo of 1023 Main street, Woburn. St. Mary's pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, performed the marriage ceremony at 3:30 o'clock and the bridal music was played by the church organist, Mrs. D. Irving Reardon. Arnold Callahan, tenor, sang the Ave Maria.

Miss Vozzella was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Vincenza Marie Vozzella of Winchester, as maid of honor. Miss Clare Doris Bevilacqua of Medford, niece of the bride, and Miss Katherine Nardone of Stoneham were bridesmaids.

The bride wore a princess style gown of nylon satin with a court train, both gown and train being trimmed with Chantilly lace, a sweetheart neckline, short sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her hat of net matched her dress and she wore white elbow-length gloves, carrying yellow roses.

The honor maid wore a dress of aqua nylon taffeta, styled like the bride's, and the bridesmaids wore identical gowns of pink. All the attendants wore head-pieces to match their dresses and carried pink sweet peas and snapdragons, the flowers of the bridesmaids being of a deeper shade of pink.

Pfc. Marcella Of Woburn was Mr. Santo's best man and the ushers were Michael A. Vozzella of Winchester, brother of the bride; and Thomas Gighotti, also of Winchester.

The wedding reception was held after the ceremony at Columbus Hall, with the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. A feature of the refreshments was the beautifully decorated wedding cake which the bride and bridegroom cut together. Each guest was given Italian confetti attractively wrapped in tulle and tied with pink and blue bows.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Santo left on an extended honeymoon trip to New Hampshire, Vermont, Canada, the Great Lakes, Ohio and New York.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of the Hiekox Secretarial School. Mr. Santo, a veteran of the African and European campaigns, graduated from Woburn High School and from the Bentley School of Accounting and Finance. He is employed by the Monsanto Chemical Company of Everett.

Edward J. Wright, Jr.

CANDIDATE FOR MIDDLESEX COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Edward J. Wright, Jr., a life long resident of Middlesex County and for 27 years at the Registry of Probate in East Cambridge, has gained tremendously throughout the County in his candidacy for the post of County Commissioner. He has worked for many years for the success of the Republican Party, and great numbers of prominent lawyers and friends have said it is time he became a candidate himself. He has been very helpful not only to the veterans but also to the farmers of the County. He maintains a 150 acre farm in Westford where he resides with his wife and children. Many have said that Edward Wright, Jr., has accomplished more at 45 years of age than the average man in related fields at 70.

He is greatly interested in building Middlesex County and in the welfare of County employees. He has an amazing knowledge of functions of government not only in Middlesex County but of the State and National Government as well. His judgment is known to be sound; his reputation excellent. He is a young man who will serve Middlesex County faithfully and will be a credit to the people as their County Commissioner.

Your vote on June 18, for Edward J. Wright, Jr., for County Commissioner is a vote for sound government in Middlesex County.

FOR RE-NOMINATION

William Eben Ramsdell

To the Voters of Winchester:

For the past several years I have had the privilege and honor of representing the people of this (the 29th Middlesex) District in the General Court of Massachusetts, and I will be a candidate at the State Primaries on Tuesday next for the Republican Nomination to this high office.

An examination of my record and votes cast will, I believe, disclose that I have always acted for the best interests of this district and the Commonwealth at large.

I have at all times voted according to my convictions and have never been influenced by pressure groups or special interests. If my services in the past have met with your approval, I would appreciate your voting for me on Tuesday next.

ATTENTION UNDECLARED VOTERS

June 12, 1946

To the Undeclared Voters of Winchester:

Even though you are not enrolled as a party member, you have a right to vote in the Primaries. You may ask for a ballot of either party. You then become enrolled automatically in the party whose ballot you receive and remain so enrolled until you request that the party designation opposite your name be changed or removed.

In these disturbing times, it is essential that every voter express his will. Good men need your endorsement and weak men need to be eliminated. This action should begin in the Primaries.

The quality of government can be no higher than the caliber of men you send to represent you. The country desperately needs men whose chief interest is good government and who are willing to serve at a sacrifice if necessary.

Seldom in history has there been such a challenge to the statesmanship of men in public office. War united the people behind the single aim of victory, but today that unity is dissipated and only strong men will succeed in making a more worth while post-war world.

I urge you to exercise the right that gives this nation its vitality in government—the expression of your wishes through the ballot. Go to the polls and participate in the privilege of selecting the officials you really desire to have represent you.

Yours sincerely,
Harrison Chadwick,

ROGERS THE CHOICE

Following an impartial survey of Middlesex County as to the nomination for County Commissioner for the full four year term, the present Chairman of the County Commissioners, Melvin G. Rogers, stands out as a practically unanimous choice for renomination and re-election to his present office of County Commissioner.

An active practicing lawyer since 1905, formerly town counsel for the towns of Tewksbury, North Reading, Billerica, and Carlisle, Chairman of the Advisory Board for Registrants, Selective Service No. 11, Commissioner Rogers, owner of one of the largest farms in Middlesex County, Trustee of the Middlesex County Extension Service for Aid to Agriculture, the present Chairman of the Middlesex County Commissioners has proven his qualifications for renomination and re-election.

This opinion of this news service is given to the voters of Middlesex County on the question who is the logical person to be County Commissioner for the four year term, and the answer from the rank and file of Middlesex voters who have been interviewed at the Middlesex Courthouse (the citadel of Republicanism) is the present Republican Chairman of the County Commissioners, Melvin G. Rogers.

CHADWICK

CAPT. HARRISON CHADWICK

If the manifold problems of government confronting the people of Massachusetts are to receive sound and progressive solutions, it is necessary that they elect office holders who will act with vigor and rise above partisanship. We must have laws that will serve the best interests of the people as a whole, we must see that no group is oppressed, and we must cast out special privilege. Moreover, we must live within our means and obtain an adequate return in services from every tax dollar collected. These are the principles by which I propose to be guided in formulating legislation.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Preservation of Antiques

On Wednesday, June 5, about 50 members of the Fortnightly gathered at the Winchester Trust Co. to go on their first pilgrimage of the season. Eleven cars were soon filled and each leisurely wended its way through the beautiful country to the charming old Willard Homestead at Still River, Mass. There, the hostesses, Mrs. Austin H. Welch (Eleanor Hudson) and Mrs. Willard Hudson were waiting to greet them.

The Willard Homestead is situated on very high land beautifully landscaped and affording a panoramic view across the valley to Fort Devens, Mt. Monadnock and Mt. Wachusett can be plainly seen in the distance.

The ladies gathered on the lawn for a picnic lunch. A thunder storm added its beauty to the scene by approaching slowly across the valley and bringing with it unusual cloud formations.

Miss Louise Bancroft, chairman of the Preservation of Antiques committee greeted the gathering and gave thanks to Mrs. Walter T. Gleason for her valued help. Suggestions for future antique activities were discussed. The group of ladies then went into the house where Mrs. Welch gave a short talk about the ancestry of the Willards and interesting data of the home.

The house was built by Major Simon Willard of Revolutionary fame and has housed Willards of the their descendants ever since. It has many of the original furnishings and some of the walls which had to be repaired, have been hand stencilled with the same designs originally used.

Mrs. Welch, being a collector, has added collections of all types, these being neatly arranged on shelves built along the walls. One of these is the doll collection housed in the basement. Here one can find dolls of all sizes and descriptions both foreign and domestic.

The ladies wandered at will through the spacious house enjoying all its content.

Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. Welch added the finishing touches to a perfect day by serving delicious refreshments.

After thanking the hostesses for their gracious hospitality, the group of ladies began straggling back to their cars, seeming almost reluctant to leave such a scene of beauty.

Ben Aldrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Aldrich of 21 Swan road has received his discharge and is back in town.

RED CROSS NURSES' AIDES PROGRAM

Changes from Wartime to Peacetime Basis

Winchester Hospital Makes Four-Year Report

Began in 1942 in Winchester as a joint project of the Civilian Defense organization and the local Red Cross chapter, the Nurses' Aide Training has now completed its wartime service. When classes were started at the Winchester Hospital, it was with a forward look to the day when the United States might actually be under siege by enemy forces. As time went on, and we were mercifully spared this danger, the women trained for hospital service proved the saving element in a situation of much stress. With the departure of graduate nurses for war areas, Winchester Hospital would have been forced to close some of its rooms and wards had it not been for the Aides. The first class was graduated in March, 1942, and immediately became available for the Hospital. Since that time the corps, increased by graduates of eight more classes, has given more than 50,000 hours of service. At the peak of the program there were 95 active Aides, with 20 to 22 on duty daily.

Much satisfaction is felt that this project continued to be jointly administered by Civilian Defense and Red Cross. Its inception drew much of its inspiration from Mr. Harold Fuller of the Civilian Defense. Mrs. Wayne Thompson has served as Chairman of the Volunteer Red Cross Nurses' Aide Committee, in actual charge of administration of the service. The interest aroused spread far beyond the borders of Winchester itself, and the 119 graduates of the courses include 15 women from neighboring towns. The heaviest part of the teaching was carried by Mrs. George E. Millner of Reading, a graduate of Faulkner Hospital Training School, who was before her marriage the Obstetrical Supervisor at Winchester Hospital.

The cooperative nature of the training and service was reflected also in the dignified graduation ceremonies at the conclusion of the nine courses. After the Instructor had pinned the insignia of the corps on each graduate and the Hospital's Superintendent of Nurses had pinned on the cap, representatives of the Civilian Defense and Red Cross participated in the program. Speakers, provided by the sponsors, included Nurses' Aides who had seen service in other hospitals in this country and overseas, and members of the medical and surgical professions who emphasized the importance of the work for which the Aides were prepared.

In graduating its ninth class in May, 1945, the Winchester Nurses' Aide Corps reached a membership of 119, all of whom had completed an 80 hour training course under professional instruction. There is still need for their services, and all have been informed of the peacetime program to help in relieving the nursing shortage. The following have already signified their willingness to continue to serve as Aides:

Mrs. George Budd
Mrs. Glenn Browning
Mrs. Robert Clark
Mrs. John Collins
Mrs. Thomas Dee
Mrs. Henry Jacob
Miss Ruth Mathews
Mrs. Daniel Morse
Mrs. Marrie Nutter
Miss Mary O'Melia
Mrs. Earl Robertson
Mrs. Everett Stone
Mrs. Edgar Trott
Mrs. James Ware

In his 1945-46 report to the Board of Directors, Dr. Richard W. Sheehy as President of the Staff expresses gratitude to the Nurses' Aides and other volunteer helpers throughout the war years: "The Winchester Hospital could not have operated without these women. The war is over but the emergency continues, and still they come cheerfully and efficiently to give their time and skill to help us. With no reward except the inner satisfaction that goes with being charitable to the suffering, they have given long hours of arduous labor. The members of the Staff admire them for their sacrifice and thank them for their assistance."

On behalf of the Directors, Mr. Edward H. Kenerson says: "As President of the Hospital Board I deeply appreciate the service rendered by the Red Cross Nurses' Aides, and wish to thank them. The Directors feel that the Hospital has been fortunate in the high quality of service it has been able to maintain in a most difficult war period. This would have been utterly impossible without the sacrifices and the work that so many of the women of Winchester have rendered."

WINCHESTER RESIDENT HONORED BY COST ACCOUNTANTS

At a testimonial dinner in his honor at the University Club in Boston last week, Kenneth W. Lamprey of Wildwood street, Winchester, a member of the Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants, was the special guest of the officers and directors of the Association.

During the most recent Chapter year which ended May 31st, Mr. Lamprey was one of five members of the Association's Boston Chapter whose "constant devotion, loyalty and self-initiated program of public relations brought increased recognition to the National Association of Cost Accountants by both business and government. Through his outstanding service and active participation in Chapter affairs, Mr. Lamprey greatly advanced the principles of sound and accurate cost accounting, so essential to the national economy during reconversion from war to peace."

Thomas L. Morison, Assistant Treasurer of Staples Coal Company, and first vice-president of the Accountant's Boston Chapter, presided at the dinner. Special awards were presented to Mr. Lamprey by two of the Chapter directors, James T. Dunphy, General Office Manager of the Milk Division of H. P. Hood and Sons, and Earl B. Bourne, Comptroller of H. A. Johnson Company. It was announced at the dinner that total membership in the Boston Chapter of the Association now approximates 800 men and women engaged in the practice of accounting, or employed in closely related fields. Mr. Lamprey is Assistant Treasurer of United Farmers Cooperative Creamery Association, Inc., in Charlestown.

CHILDREN'S DAY

Children's Day at the First Baptist Church was observed on Sunday, June 9, with exercises by the children of the Church School at the Morning Worship Service. Directed by the Superintendent, Mr. Davenport F. Davis, they presented a program showing the work done during the year. This program reflected the conscientious and faithful training of the Church School teachers.

Graduation exercises from the various departments, with presentation of certificates, were held. Those graduating from the Primary to Junior Departments received a bible emscribed with their name in gold. The following pupils were graduated:

Kindergarten to Primary: Harold E. Anderson, Neal R. Dowe, Jr., Douglas Kirkwood, Carolyn Ann Parks, John Wakefield, Phyllis Elaine Ward, Harold E. Ekstrom.

Primary to Junior: Richard D. Bingham, Patricia A. Dade, Richard M. Foster, James F. McLeod, Patricia Newhall, Cecil W. Pride, Jr., Coleen L. Neff.

Junior to Intermediate: Helen Elizabeth Barrett, James Beck, Sandra Davis, Marilyn Gertrude Gibson, Ethel Adele Jonah, Margaret Reid, Jean Dolores Thomas, Joan Patricia Thomas.

The Bronze, Gold, and Silver Church Scout Awards were presented to Malcolm C. Wilson, Jr., and the Bronze and Gold Church Scout Awards to Jason W. Dade.

Five babies were dedicated in the service of consecration: Robert Ellis Dyson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dyson; Sandra Nelson Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence N. Gray; Walter Yngvar Josephson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Y. Josephson; Robert Henry Pride, son of Dr. and Mrs. Cecil W. Pride; Gary Thomas Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Dale Simpson.

Ushers for the Children's Day service were: Robert Clark, Jason Dade, Ronald Erb and Peter Redding.

Every child was given a beautiful potted geranium, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Burnham as a memorial to their little daughter, Alice. This lovely custom has been in effect for several years, and brings a great deal of pleasure to the children and beauty to the service.

William Burton of Felsdale close and Lester E. Freeman of Middlesex street, were among the 65 students graduated from Huntington School Friday, June 7, at exercises held in Bates Hall at the school in Boston.

LESLIE J. SCOTT

RESUMES STUDIES AT SCHOOL OF BANKING

Leslie J. Scott, President of the Winchester National Bank will return to Rutgers University at New Brunswick, N. J., on June 17 where he will resume studies at the Graduate School of Banking conducted by the American Bankers Association.

The Graduate School of Banking, now entering its 12th year, was founded by the American Bankers Association in 1935 to provide advanced graduate study, for officers of banks, in all phases of banking, in economics, law, government, and philosophy. With the exception of the war years, some 600 bank officers have attended the school each year. This year, the second-year class, of which Mr. Scott is a member, will have 255 students, and the total enrolment of the school will be 709. While this is the largest enrolment in the history of the Graduate School, there were still many more applicants than could be accepted. This year's student body includes bank officers from 40 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

To qualify for graduation, students are required to attend three annual sessions of two weeks each at Rutgers University to study under a faculty consisting of bankers, government officials, lawyers, and college professors from all parts of the country, and to complete two years of extension study at home. In addition, each student is required to write a thesis based on original research in some phase of the major subject he has elected to study.

CAN YOU MAKE A STUFFED TOY THIS SUMMER?

There are many children in Europe who have never had a toy to cherish. Dr. Charles R. Joy has sent out a call for 50,000 stuffed dolls and animals to be sent to children across the sea through the Unitarian Service Committee.

Anyone willing to make one or more stuffed animals may secure sample patterns by calling Mrs. Henry Worcester, Win. 0112, or Win. 1822. The finished toys may be left at the Unitarian Church to be forwarded by the Unitarian Service Committee.

The church office is open during the summer 9-12 and 2-5 Tuesday through Friday and Monday and Saturday 9-12 except from Aug. 10-24.

CONGREGATIONAL VETERANS ATTEND DINNER

There was a large attendance of returned veterans, both men and women, of the Congregational Church at a fried chicken dinner held in the Parish Hall of the First Congregational Church, Thursday evening, June 6th, under the auspices of the Servicemen's Committee, those of the Committee assisting were, Mrs. Raymond Strawbridge, Mrs. Sidney Burr, Mrs. William Hodge, Mrs. William Harris, Mrs. Henry Spencer, Mrs. Clarence Whorf, Mrs. Charles Tozier, Mrs. Harold French, Mrs. James Coon and Mrs. Howard J. Chidley.

The supper was served buffet style, with the husbands of the Servicemen's Committee, members of which served as hostesses at each table, acting as chefs and dressed in approved style. Dr. Chidley gave a brief address of welcome after the dinner, speaking in an appreciative manner of the services these men and women had rendered their country, and the happiness of the church in welcoming them home. He said that he and Mrs. Chidley had received on an average 750 letters a year from servicemen during the war, and thought it remarkable that so many servicemen and women took time to write. He also remarked that the work of the Servicemen's Committee was known across the continent.

He spoke of the various organizations in the church which stood ready to welcome servicemen and women, and said that the facilities of the social hall were theirs for social, athletic and other purposes. John L. Lobingier, Jr., spoke for the returned veterans and thanked the Servicemen's Committee for the magnificent work they had done during the war. Mrs. Chidley responded briefly for the Committee, and a rising vote of thanks was given these women. Mr. Sidney A. Burr presided at the piano in his usual effective manner throughout the evening.

Of the 346 servicemen and women of the church, 125 are still in service and will be under the care of the Servicemen's Committee until all have returned home.

CAMP FELLSLAND FILLED FOR 3RD AND 4TH WEEKS

The Fellsland Council Camp Committee has announced that reservations for the third and fourth weeks at camp have been closed as a greater number than can be cared for have already been signed up those weeks. However, they do want Scouts who are not registered to know that there is still room for the first and second and fourth and fifth weeks of the regular camp season.

The camp will open this year for the 22nd season under the leadership of Edward W. Nelson, Scout Executive, and Francis X. MacNeeley, Field Executive. A staff of 20 young men has been employed and everything is in readiness for a most successful season. The camp staff has already held two meetings and are having their final meeting on Wednesday, June 19. This will conclude their training period and all will be in readiness for the campers when they arrive on Sunday, July 7. The camp will continue for the following six weeks, closing on Sunday, Aug. 18.

Now that the ban on travel has been eliminated special trips are being arranged through the season for the outstanding campers. These trips will include a three-day camping trip to the base of Mt. Washington, climb Mt. Washington and return. Another trip will be up through the White Mountain area, and one other mountain trip to one of the lower mountain peaks. Special trips will also be made to Salisbury Beach.

Two new rowboats have been purchased to replace two of the other boats that were condemned by the Camping Committee. The committee is now working on a long term plan of development at Camp Fellsland that will include the building of a new mess hall and equipment and new sleeping quarters, as materials and money are available. Long term planning will also include the rebuilding of the athletic field, a new automobile parking area and a new driveway. The rifle range will also be redeveloped in the future.

AVC WRITES WASHINGTON ON FAMINE RELIEF

To the President of the United States, Massachusetts Senators, and our Representative in Congress:

We are ashamed of the tragically insufficient foreign relief efforts of the United States in the period since V-J Day and of the short-range temporizing and half-measures which have been taken to correct them. Since competent authorities predict the possibility of even worse famine next winter and probable food shortages for at least two years, an effective long-range program for this country should be adopted immediately.

We are expecting the United States Government to take whatever drastic action is necessary to fulfill our past and future relief commitments, believing that the main hope for future peace lies in the economic well-being of the world as a whole. This action, we feel, must at the very least include the rationing of all wheat and wheat products, meats, fats, and oils, down to the ultimate consumer level.

Let's not take chances with human lives. Let's not become the most hated nation on earth by our apparent inability to do without second helpings, desserts, and a few of our 3,000 calories daily.

(Signed)

AMERICAN VETERANS COMMITTEE NOTES

Lester Gustin, Jr. was given a vote of confidence and unanimously re-elected chairman of the local AVC chapter at the last bi-weekly meeting. Art Tetreault was likewise re-elected vice chairman. New officers are Dorothy Fitts, secretary; and Fred M. Cameron, Jr., treasurer.

At this same meeting a discussion of the political and humane aspects of the European famine situation took place as a result of data produced by Dorothy Fitts, chairman of the national and international affairs committee. A resolution ws passed to send chapter letters to our Senators and Representatives in Congress requesting the return of rationing in order to facilitate the feeding of both America and Europe, and to maintain price control as a vital part of inflation prevention. Discussion was informal and succeeded in presenting a lively meeting.

THE WINCHESTER DOG TRAINING CLUB

The Winchester Dog Training Club held its last training class last Tuesday evening. Classes will be resumed in the fall. Our thanks are extended to all the people who helped to make these training classess successful: Mr. Frederick Ewell, our patient and understanding trainer; Mr. Roger Haven, our enterprising and enthusiastic president; Mr. Rodney Lee, our hard working secretary-treasurer; Miss Virginia Ramsdell, the originator of the club and publicity chariman; and all the people and dogs that attended our classes, without whom it would have been impossible to continue. May next year bring us even more success.

To celebrate the last day of school, Mr. and Mrs. Haven brought a present for all the pupils, two and four-legged alike. The handlers were presented with a copy of "The Education of Your Dog", an excellent booklet on training. The dogs appreciated their present too, for it consisted of a large piece of dog candy.

Don't forget the Victory Training Club's outing and picnic this Sunday, June 16. This is being held at the Grafmar Kennels, Rt. 11, Wrentham. Judging will start at 1 p. m. Bring your picnic lunch and spend an enjoyable day in the country.

The voices of your friends

Now nearer than ever before

One of the many "little ways" in which your telephone service has improved over a period of years is in the quality of voice transmission. You hear your friends more clearly and distinctly than before. Our engineers have measured it like this:

In 1920, the average long distance conversation was like talking with a friend in a quiet open field at a distance of 80 feet. Today, the equivalent distance is about 15 feet.

Such improvements are the result of constant research by scientists at the Bell Laboratories. These men are now at work on new projects which promise you faster, better telephoning than you have ever known.

TO BOSTON EDISON CUSTOMERS

All Boston Edison supply lines which were damaged during the cyclonic storm of Saturday night have now been restored to service. If any customer is still without electric service, due to unusual conditions in or near his home, and will call the Edison emergency number listed in the telephone directory, we shall be glad to make immediate repairs in each case.

Although the Saturday night storm was of short duration, it was one of the most destructive of its kind in Edison experience. The number of service interruptions was exceeded only by the hurricanes of 1938 and 1944. Approximately 150,000 of our 425,000 customers were without service during or just after the storm, but the work of restoration, which was under way while the storm was still raging, proceeded so rapidly during the night and all day Sunday that at the end of twenty-four hours the services of more than 95 per cent of the affected customers had been restored.

We express our appreciation to all who helped us accomplish the work of restoration so speedily — to public officials for their co-operation, to other electric companies and contractors who supplied emergency crews to augment our own forces, and particularly to our customers for their generous and understanding attitude.

WINCHESTER HIT BY STORM

Winchester was hit by last Saturday evening's terrific thunder storm, considerable damage to trees and light wires being reported around town. Telephone service was out in some sections of the town, while in many places there were no lights.

In the center a pane of glass was blown in by the high wind on the northerly side of the Station Cleansers at 600 Main street, and at the Economy Grocery Store at the Corner of Main and Thompson streets a big front window was broken by the flapping of an awning fixture in the gale.

Wires were reported down on Glen road, Symmes road, Washington street and Forest street near the Socony Gas Station, upper Main street at the Ingersoll Products Company, Herrick street, Pickering st., Lebanon st., and Vine street. At 10:50 Saturday night the Edison Emergency Station reported they could take no more orders, and Sunday night street lights were out about town due to the impossibility of repairing all the damage done. Trouble with wiring caused by the storm prevented the use of the organ at the First Congregational Church Sunday morning.

Wires were reported arcing on Elmwood ave. and Box 45 came in at 1:55 Sunday morning for a fire in an oil switch on upper Main street between Sheridan Circle and Glenwood avenue. Previously Box 42, the private box at Beggs and Cobb's tannery, sounded at 8:17 Saturday evening, during the storm, for a fire in an Edison Light pole on Swanton street opposite the plant.

The Firemen had a busy time of it, answering calls for a burning transformer at the Cross street Station at 7.15, for a fire in a Ford sedan at the corner of Wildwood and Fletcher streets, caused by a broken hose connection at 8.14; and for burning or arcing wires on Herrick street, Symmes road and Elmwood avenue between 9.33 and 12.40 a. m. Sparks from a broken wire on Symmes road flew high in the air and Fire Chief James Callahan remained on duty there personally until 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

Among the lights out about town were those at the Winchester Hospital. An appeal was sent in to Police Headquarters and several lanterns were sent to the hospital with a big police emergency spotlight. So many red lanterns were used about town at danger spots that the police had to go after a fresh supply at the town stables.

A large tree was uprooted during the storm on Lebanon street, falling against the house at 20 Lebanon street, occupied by Officer James E. Farrell of the Police Department and his family. No one was injured and it was not believed that the house was badly damaged. Another tree was blown down on the property of James Cullen, 86 Loring avenue, falling on the property of Gaspare Russo, 76 Loring avenue. Large tree limbs were down at 89 Swanton street, Cedar street, Main street at Marshall road, Wendell street, Ridgeway and at 7 Cross street.

FREELAND EATON HOVEY

Freeland Eaton Hovey of 6 Stratford road, a long time and widely known resident of Winchester, died Monday afternoon, June 17, at the Winchester Hospital after a short illness.

Mr. Hovey was the son of Horatio N., and Mehitabel Ann (Eaton) Hovey. He was born Feb. 22, 1866, in Cambridge, spending his early life in that city and receiving his education in the Cambridge schools. As a young man he had his own business manufacturing holiday novelties, but for the past 35 years he had been in the real estate and mortgage business on State street in Boston.

Mr. Hovey came to Winchester in 1893 from Cambridge. For 15 years he lived on Prospect street, going from that address to 6 Stratford road, his home ever since. He was a member of the old Calumet Club and was among those active in forming the old Middlesex County National Bank, now the Winchester Trust Company, of which he served as director for many years.

He was twice married. In 1893 he married Emma M. Jackson who died in 1929. His second wife, Bertha M. Patterson, whom he married in 1931, died during December of 1945.

Mr. Hovey leaves two daughters, Mrs. Henry K. Spencer of Winchester and Mrs. D'Arcy A. Young of Rochester, N. Y.; a son Alan Hovey of Marshfield Hills; nine grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Private funeral services were conducted on Thursday afternoon at the late residence by Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MISS JESSIE FREMONT ADAMS

Miss Jessie Fremont Adams, for many years a resident of Winchester, died Wednesday, June 19, at the Home for Aged People on Mt Vernon street after several week's illness.

Miss Adams was the daughter of Joseph, and Ann (Smith) Adams. She was born Jan. 3, 1863, in Stow, but lived many years in Winchester, being employed as a bookkeeper at the old Winchester Laundry in the days before it was a part of the New England chain. At that time she made her home on Dix street with her brother, the late Joseph C. Adams, who had a grocery store at the site of the present Central Hardware Co. on Mt. Vernon street.

Later she lived for a time in Waltham before returning to Winchester. She entered the Home Dec. 5, 1936, and had been a member of the family since that time.

She leaves a brother, William L. Adams of Bridgeport, Conn. Among her nieces and nephews are Prof. F. J. Adams of Worcester Polytechnical Institute, Col. George F. Adams USMC, of San Diego, Cal., and Col. Walter H. Adams, USA, of Glendale, Cal., all known in Winchester.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 1:30 at Kelley and Hawes Chapel with Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Interment will be in Glenwood Cemetery, Maynard.

WOMAN ARRESTED IN CHECK RACKET

The Winchester Police put an end to a check racket which has been going on since 1927 when they picked up a woman on the afternoon of the holiday after she had attempted to pass a worthless check at the Converse Fruit Market.

According to the Police the woman has a long record. They say she was last in Winchester in 1934 when she bought provisions at a local store and ordered them sent to a Winchester dentist, proferring a check supposedly signed by the dentist for a sum considerably in excess of the amount of the order, she taking the change in cash.

After that transaction she disappeared, but about a week ago the Police received word that a woman was busy with a bad check racket in Greater Boston and from information received in connection with her activities Chief William H. Rogers believed her to be the lady for whom he had been so long on the lookout. Police say she has passed bad checks in Norwood, Everett, Melrose, Wakefield, Woburn, Stoneham, Lexington and Arlington.

Her procedure had changed this time, to the extent that the checks she offered were being signed by Catholic pastors of the various communities and the goods bought were being ordered delivered to Catholic rectories.

Chief Rogers sent Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy around the center with pictures of the woman and to warn local merchants to be on guard.

The holiday afternoon Nikolla G. Andon of 693 Marrett road, Lexington, notified Sgt. Cassidy that a woman answering the description of the wanted check passer was in the Converse Market.

Sgt. Cassidy took up a strategic position and waited until after the woman had ordered goods to the extent of $5.38 to be sent to St. Mary's Rectory, proferring a check for $20, signed by Rev. John P. O'Reardon whose name was misspelled.

At this point Sgt. Cassidy stepped in and took the woman to Headquarters where she was booked on charges of forgery and attempted lareeny by check. She gave her name as Ethel Colson Bonner and her address as 241 Lowell street, Lawrence. Police say when she was in town previously she had gone under the name of Ethel Colson.

In District Court at Woburn Tuesday morning Justice William Henchey, upon request of Chief Rogers, held Mrs. Bonner in $1,000 for appearance before the Grand Jury. Lexington has an indictment warrant for her also and Norwood a lower court warrant on charges similar to those preferred by Winchester.

HOODS CLOSES

The Hood store on Main street, long doing business in the center, will close on Saturday night. It is reported that the Company will not open another store but will leave Winchester. The present store is to be opened into the store now occupied by the Winchester Drug Company, giving this firm greatly enlarged quarters.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Somerby will spend the summer at Dennisport.

MRS. GEORGE BRAYLEY GIVES TEA

For Mrs. Gilbert Hood

Mrs. George Brayley entertained Mrs Gilbert Hood and friends June 13 at her beautiful home, Knollwood, the occasion being Mrs. Hood's birthday.

An artistic arrangement of delphinium, iris, yellow lilies and snapdragon graced the serving table blending harmoniously with the pansy-pattern tea-service. Mrs. Frank Knight poured.

The rose-decorated birthday cake with candles was brought in to the dining room where Mrs. Hood cut the cake, accompanied by the familiar song, "Happy Birthday to You."

After tea was served, a tray of colorful wrapped gifts with a dominant orchid corsage was presented to Mrs. Hood who responded graciously. The honored guest in the dusty-rose lace gown made unconsciously a spirituelle portrait as she shared her greetings with her friends and read the personal messages, making appropriate comments as she unwrapped each gift.

Mrs. George Brayley's guests were Mrs. Gilbert Hood, Mrs. Gilbert Hood, Jr., Mrs. Harold Sampson, Mrs. Bow B. Hicks, Mrs. Ralph M. Sparks, Mrs. Frederick N. Stephens, Mrs. Burt Gage, Mrs. Frank Knight, Mrs. Theodore von Rosenvinge, Sr.

WINCHESTER GIRL FIRST TUFTS ENGINEERING GRAD

Miss Marjorie Mae Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Ford of Copley street, was the only woman among the 42 awarded Engineering degrees from the Tufts College Engineering School last Sunday. More than that Miss Ford has the distinction of being the first woman in the history of Tufts College to start and finish the Engineering School course. She was awarded a Bachelor of Science Degree in Chemical Engineering.

Miss Ford, who became 20 only two weeks ago, was able to complete the four-year course in three years in the accelerated war program. She was graduated from the Edward Little High School of Auburn, Me., in 1943.

Her father, Fred W. Ford, played end on the great Tufts football team of 1913, which lost only to Army by a close margin. He graduated from the Tufts Engineering School with the class of 1914.

For many years he was City Messenger of Auburn, Me., and recently has served as Assistant Director for Administration and Comptroller of the New England Region, Federal Public Housing Authority.

Miss Ford's grandfather, Fred W. Ford, Sr., and her great-grandfather, William A. Ford, were on the editorial staff of the former Boston Transcript for a combined total of 106 years.

At a luncheon marking the formal closing of the high school year, Principal Wade L. Grindle presented to Mr. Samuel M. Graves, wartime Principal of Winchester High School a gift from the high school staff. In his presentation speech, Mr. Grindle recalled some of the highlights of Mr. Graves' tenure in Winchester and wished Mr. and Mrs. Graves happiness in their new home in Attleboro where Mr. Graves will be Principal of the high school.

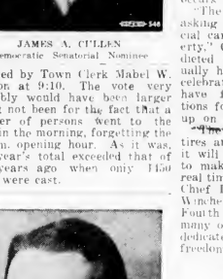
SEN HARRIS S. RICHARDSON
Re-Nominated by 6th District Republicans with 5221 Votes to 1137 for Rose, Medford Rival.

7820 voters going to the polls. Thirteen hundred eighty-nine Republicans cast ballots and 210 Democrats. The totals were announced by Town Clerk Mabel W. Stinson at 9:40. The vote very probably would have been larger had it not been for the fact that a number of persons went to the polls in the morning, forgetting the 1 p. m. opening hour. As it was, this year's total exceeded that of two years ago when only 1540 votes were cast.

JAMES A. CULLEN
Democratic Senatorial Nominee



CAPT. HARRISON CHADWICK
Rep. Nominee for Representative

Of chief local interest was the Republican contest for Representative in the 29th Middlesex District comprising Winchester and one ward in the south end of Woburn. In this contest Rep. William E. Ramsdell, who has represented the district for the past 14 years, was defeated by Capt. Harrison Chadwick, a political newcomer who is receiving his discharge from the Army this month. Capt. Chadwick polled 753 in Winchester to Ramsdell's 612, adding nine votes in Woburn, Ramsdell's 28 votes in Woburn were not enough to overturn the Chadwick lead in town.

Sen. Harris A. Richardson, candidate to succeed himself in the 6th Middlesex District, was an easy victor in Winchester, polling 1208 votes to 107 for Theodore R. Rose of Medford, his nearest opponent.

In the district Richardson polled 5221 votes, to Rose's 1137 and 201 votes for Walsh, who ran on both the Republican and Democratic tickets.

Former Selectman James A. Cullen, candidate for the Democratic Senatorial nomination, polled 185 of the 210 Democratic votes cast in town, and was successful in the district by something over 100 votes.

The exact figures were Cullen, 1076; Teehan 962; Walsh, 409; and Waters, 561.

Winchester gave Robert F. Bradford, Republican candidate for Governor, 1319 of the 1389 G. O. P. votes cast. District Attorney George E. Thompson, Republican candidate to succeed himself, polled 1042 votes to William G. Andrew's 244. Laurence Curtis, candidate for the Republican nomination for treasurer, beat former Treasurer Fred J. Burrell of Medford, by about the same ratio, 1042 to 274.

WARNS OF HOLIDAY ACCIDENTS

Police Chief William H. Rogers of the Police Dept., today announced that a seasonal enforcement program will be in effect in cooperation with the nation-wide effort being made by the National Safety Council to reduce the huge death toll which occurs annually at this time.

"The Police Department is asking every citizen to take special care to save lives and property," Chief Rogers said. He predicted that traffic will be unusually heavy during this year's celebration, as thousands who have foregone trips and vacations for five years start to catch up on their pleasure driving.

"The long week-end, worn out tires and cars and a festive spirit will combine with more travel to make the Fourth this year a real time of hazard on the streets," Chief Rogers said. "Let's make Winchester, one place where the Fourth does not mean death to many of our residents, but a town dedicated to thanksgiving for the freedom we have fought for."

IT'S UP TO YOU

Once again we are sorry that last week's edition of the Star was sold out. The demand exceeded the supply. When everybody wants two or three extra copies sometimes someone gets left. A sure way for you to receive at least one copy of the Star every Friday afternoon is to subscribe for it. You will be sure of getting it besides making quite a saving over the single copy price. More and more people are doing it. Telephone Win. 0029 and get your name on the list. $2.50 a year —and worth it. We received one subscription this week for four years—and all paid for too.

ORANGE FREE STATE

The cry of "Gold!" in the Orange Free State rings across a prairie province of the Union of South Africa better known for its farming than its mineral wealth, notes the National Geographic Society.

Altogether its sister province of Transvaal, to the north, has led the world in gold production, the Orange Free State normally has mined a comparatively small amount. The new strike, reported far richer than most ore, is near Odendaals - just in the north central "corn belt."

Covered Wagon Days

Not only in gold mining but also in the development of South Africa's other underground treasure - diamonds - has the Orange Free State been overshadowed by its neighbors. Kimberley, scene of the first frenzied search for diamonds, is just over the boundary in Cape of Good Hope Province. And Transvaal has ranked next to that province in diamond mining.

It is in livestock and grain, on the other hand, that men of the Orange Free State have made their living for the last century. Their Dutch ancestors, in the same fashion as American pioneers of that generation, left their Capetown homes in the 1830's to settle the vast, treeless plains of the interior of South Africa.

Like the westward-bound Americans, too, the doughty families in that Great Trek had to draw up their covered wagons into circles at night as a defense against marauding natives.

Fought in Boer War

On the plateau between the Orange and the Vaal Rivers they found excellent pasturage for horses, cattle, sheep, and goats. They built neat little towns whose church spires towered over houses surrounded by clumps of bright flowers.

The settlers, however, had their difficulties. Great Britain proclaimed sovereignty over the territory in 1848, but abandoned it six years later and recognized the Orange Free State as independent. The new republic was beset by raids of native Basutos, who were subdued only after repeated battles.

Sympathizing with residents of Transvaal in their disputes with the British, the burghers of the Orange Free State joined Transvaal in the Boer War from 1889 to 1902. British victory led to annexation, with the Free State - about the size of North Carolina - becoming the Orange River Colony. The Union of South Africa was organized in 1910.

Over the years the Free State farmers have developed strains of hardy cattle and sheep that have already displaced the wild animals of the plains. In some areas the land has proved too dry for any crop except hay, but where water is sufficient, corn and wheat are grown. Particularly in the east, grain production has been increasing.

REPORT OF BOYS' AFTER SCHOOL ATHLETIC PROGRAM

Elementary Schools—1946 Spring Season

This program was carried on during school day afternoons and Saturday mornings, beginning on March 25 and continuing until the close of the school year. The public playgrounds (Ginn Field, Leonard Field and Loring avenue field) were used for this program. Of the 65 possible sessions, only eight were lost due to rainy weather.

The first eight weeks were devoted to baseball. Each school held its own practice sessions on a specified school day and played scheduled games with other schools on Saturday mornings. The teams were made up by the boys themselves. An All Star group of 26 boys representing all the Elementary Schools was picked by the coach and of these a team was made up which played the 7th Grade League Champions. The All Stars lost the game.

The last three weeks were devoted to track and field and tennis. The interest in these sports was very keen. All Elementary School boys were invited to participate in events of a track meet held on one Saturday morning on Manchester Field. The meet was a great success and lasted an entire morning.

The average weekly attendance of boys from all schools was about 110 boys. This is approximately a 75 per cent increase over the basketball season of last winter.

Respectfully submitted,
Lawrence A. Palmer

BOAT CLUB NEWS

JUNE JAMBOREE

Proves A Perfect Party

Last Saturday night's dance for club members of high school age and their friends was a gala affair in every way. More than 50 couples flocked to the hall early and most of them stayed until the last bars of "There's No Place Like Home" drifted out over the moonlit Mystic.

The dance hall was beautifully decorated with gay streamers and dashing paper sail boats, the night was clear and cool and a huge full moon flooded the club and lake. With a setting like this plus a hall full of lovely lassies and handsome lads, it had to be a huge success and it certainly was. Johnny Albert's music was adequate and everyone was in accord that the more of these dances the better. The dance committee deserves a lot of credit for the swell way the jamboree jelled. It was under the guidance of Fran and Ted Burleigh, who were ably assisted by Hank Fry, Barbara Elliott, Joan Elliott, Joan Thomas, Nat Warsky, Dick Brackett, Bob Swanson, Joanee Simonds, Alice Chefalo and Jack Filler.

Fleet Races

The week-end of Snipe Fleet sailing provided plenty of action. Don Simonds won his eighth straight race, but only after a brilliant duel with Ralph Swanson who placed second, third going to the Burleigh's, Ted, Sr. and Jr. Sunday morning Ralph Swanson and Ted Burleigh engaged in one of the most thrilling two boat races of this or any other season. Well ahead of the fleet, these superb skippers battled bow to bow for almost the full three laps before Ralph came through with a little something extra that brought him in the winner. George Jones beat Holbrook Bugbee by an eyelash to save third place for his new Loimar . . Mert Ober led the Sunday afternoon race for almost two laps and then made a bum guess and ended up fourth. The skippers who out-guessed him were John Powers, Ted Burleigh and Bart Sullivan, who finished 1, 2 and 3 in that order . . Kay and Fran Burleigh did another swell job of starting and judging the races over the week-end.

CAPT. RIDOUT WINS LEGION OF MERIT

The Legion of Merit was presented recently at Shanghai, China, to Captain Horatio Ridout of 81 Bacon street by Lt. Gen. Alvan C. Gillem, commanding general, United States Army Forces in China.

Husband of Genevieve K. Ridout, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Weems Ridout of Annapolis, Md., Captain Ridout was a graduate of the United States Naval Academy in 1923. Called to active duty June 7, 1923, Capt. Ridout went to China on Nov. 15, 1945, with the LST Group 64 stationed near Shanghai and Tsingtao.

The award was given for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services during the period from Dec. 1, 1945, to April 20, 1946, as Seventh Fleet and Task Force 78 representative in Shanghai, China.

The citation reads in part: "He was responsible for the loading and sailing of all ships used in the waterlifts of Chinese Armies. Through his firm planning and supervision of naval amphibious craft used in Japanese repatriation from Tangku, Tsingtao and Shanghai, he was able to accomplish his duties in an outstanding manner. Captain Ridout took full responsibility in directing lifts and movement of UNRRA supplies to the interior. His intelligence and willingness to cooperate at all times reflect great credit upon himself and upon the United States Navy."

WINCHESTER GIRL RECEIVES DIPLOMA

Three girls and four boys graduated from Perkins Institution and Massachusetts School for the Blind at Exercises held in the school on Wednesday afternoon, June 19, at two o'clock. Diplomas were presented to these young people, who have completed the requirements for graduation from high school, by Robert H. Hallowell, President of the Board of Trustees.

Norma E. Farrar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Farrar of Myrtle street, who has been a member of the class this year, received her diploma from the Winchester High School on Monday evening, June 10. Miss Farrar was a member of the Winchester High School until October when loss of sight prevented her from continuing her work there. Arrangements were made for her to carry on her senior class work at Perkins and credit was given by the Winchester High School which enabled her to receive her diploma with the members of the class with which she has been associated for three years.

COACHED AT GOULD ACADEMY

Nick P. Armato, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Armato of 74 Florence street, returned to Winchester after spending the last three months assisting Coach George Bowhay of Pelham, N. York in developing a championship baseball team at Gould Academy, Bethel, Maine.

Nick Armato entered Gould in 1938 and graduated with honors in 1942. He was Captain of the 1942 baseball team, and Captain of the 1942 Western Maine Class "B" champion basketball team. In the fall of 1942, he entered the University of New Hampshire, but on beligerent brethren, Tojo and Adolph cut his education short. He was inducted into the Air Corps in 1943, and the Ex-Technical Sergeant, served three years before getting his discharge. Then back to Gould Academy he went, to take a refresher course and teach baseball before re-entering the University of New Hampshire.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Winchester Recreation Committee has announced a newly proposed Softball League and has asked all teams interested in participating contact Frank Provinzano by writing to 17 Irving street or calling Win. 1999-W.

Thus far no more than four teams have shown any interest and the Committee feels certain that there are many more teams that should be heard from.

Several boys in town have talked much about participating so why not get together and form a few teams making it possible to get the League started on the line to first base? Such a sport is wholesome recreation and much fun can be had by all.

The Recreation Committee anticipates hearing from several of the various organizations in town and asks for your full cooperation. The sooner the Committee learns of your willingness and interest to participate the sooner we can all look forward to a good and enjoyable softball season.

The four teams already heard from are the AVC (Veterans of World War II), Sons of Italy, Christopher Columbus Club, and the Joyce A. C. (the nine Joyce brothers.

Listed below are a few of the various organizations in Winchester that should be able to field a satisfactory team: Veterans of Foreign Wars, Knights of Columbus, the Elks, the American Legion, Police Dept., Fire Dept., Beggs and Cobb, the Lions, Rotary and the Ten Old Men. All other organizations are more than welcomed to participate. The more teams interested, the better the League shall be. Let's hear from you!

Again the Recreation Commission asks your full cooperation. Contact Frank Provinzano now!

TWO DOUBLES COVERED

Two double-headers were covered at Wednesday evening's special matches of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association. Chronologically the Secretary, of all people, and Arthur E. Butters, sometime Secretary of the State of Maine Champ, were the lucky pitchers, and well it was for Arthur that he achieved this acme of horseshoe pitching art. Otherwise he might have left yesterday for his beloved Pine Tree State an embittered man.

Mr. Butters arrived at the beach late, he having had to cut the lawn against his departure for a summer of ease, and so missed the opening rounds of play. Mr. Pridham, too, was late, but in his case nothing was said about any lawn-cutting.

The two combined to take on "Wild Willie" McLaughlin and Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner, and in two games contrived to take but a single point, losing by the unprecedented score of 1-50, a very long shot indeed.

In all fairness and to keep the record strictly straight, should be said that Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Gardner were hotter'n hell, the only time they missed at least one ringer a box was when Mr. Pridham, ol' "Thin Finger" Roland, racked up his single digit.

Messrs. Butters and Pridham got some slight solace for their shellacking by winning an odd game match from President Royal "Paper Trails" Teele and the Secretary, who after witnessing the preceding debacle, or as Luke Glendon would put it "deflocation," thought they had "pickin's" and didn't really try until it was too late.

In the other matches Mr. Gardner and the Secretary won two straight from Mr. Teele and Mr. McLaughlin, a feat well worth recording, and the usually lowly Scribe paired with "Wild Willie" to win again in odd games from Mr. Teele and H. "Garrulous."

This was a very hot match indeed with the deciding game going to 24 all. At this point Mr. Teele contributed a close one and a ringer. The Secretary (really!) hung one on too and got his near one a little closer. Even Mr. Butters was impressed!

Incidentally it was the Association's President who threw both the double-headers that were covered, and in the interests of accuracy it must be recorded that he felt the second time was a bit "de trop."

WINCHESTER GIRLS WON FINAL

Winchester girls beat Concord in their final match of the season, to hang up a record of eight straight wins and six shutouts. Only Winsor, a private school, whom the locals edged, 3-2, and Newton, with a single point, were able to score on Coach Deborah Matthews' charges.

The Concord match was played at Concord and the local cohorts were all upset when "Marnee" lost the first set of the number one singles, 9-11. "Marnee", however, pulled herself together quickly and ran out the second set, 6-1, taking the deciding set, 6-3.

Winchester was without Patty Root, regular number 2 doubles player, her place being taken by Dotty Buracker. The summary:

Singles

Marjorie Norris beat Lois Stratton, 9-11, 6-1, 6-3.

Ruth Murray beat Wilma Huntley, 6-0, 6-1.

Ann Albree beat Marie Grudzai, 6-2, 6-2.

Doubles

Dudie Jennings and Libby Fenno beat Faith Morgan and Connie Stow, 6-2, 6-3.

Patsy Eberle and Dotty Buracker beat Jane Beene and Dorothy Finan, 6-2 6-3

MISS LOVEJOY WINS PRIZE IN COMPETITIVE EXAMINATION

Miss Virginia Lovejoy, a member of the Class of 1946 at Winchester High School, has won the Third Prize of the State Awards in the national competitive examination on the United Nations. In a letter to Mrs. Ella Stacy, Head of the History Department, Chairman Foster Abbott wrote that all the winners in Massachusetts are girls this time, Williamstown carrying off first prize and North Dartmouth second.

Miss Irene Armstrong, State Executive Director, recently told Mrs. Stacy that no high school in any state had ever approached the record which Winchester pupils have made in this contest. In the first year that Winchester pupils tried the contest, John Downes and Ruth LeRoy won two of the three state honors. Since that time high school pupils have won at least one prize every year except 1938. In 1941, Lane McGovern won First Prize in the State contest and Second Prize in the national contest. In 1942, Shirley Brackett and Betty Ann Elliott were winners. In 1944, Ruth Tanley and William Thompson tied for First Prize in the State. In 1945, Priscilla Hurd won First Prize and Francis Sleeper won Third Prize in the state competition.

This year's competitive examinations under the new sponsors, the United Nations Association, continues this oldest of school projects. In the nation 1730 schools participate; in Massachusetts, 66. One hundred and thirty-two contestants were entered from Massachusetts.

Miss Pauline T. Donahue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Donahue of Mystic avenue, graduated last Friday from the Cambridge Preparatory School. She was a member of the Glee Club and sang at the commencement exercises held at St. John's Chapel at Cambridge. After spending the summer at the Mt. Washington Hotel, Bretton Woods, N. H. Miss Donahue expects to matriculate at Emmanuel College in the fall.

We noticed when we voted Tuesday that on the "Republican" ballot a Medford candidate was labeled "Democrat". Upon inquiry we were told that although he was a Democrat he had a perfect right to be included in the Republican ballot. He was likewise on the Democratic ballot. The legality of the proceeding has been determined by the court. Under this circumstance we wonder why there are two ballots? Truly the ways of politics know no rules or laws.

The proposal outlined in the letter in this issue by Mr. William L. Parsons regarding the retention of the so-called music room on the Ginn Estate is worth reading and considering. It would appear that the Trustees are in favor of the idea and the Town at large should give it careful thought. A cultural center of the sort proposed is something which may appeal to a great many people. It is true that no definite steps have been taken, but if Winchester people are sufficiently interested, they should record their attitude by giving their names to the Star as requested.

Since Town Meeting we have received a number of unsigned letters, all of a certain tone and all pertaining to one of the controversial subjects which, we had supposed, was settled at the meeting. Whether this is a concerted "bombardment" instituted by a pressure group or not we do not know, but it resembles the methods which we understand are now used to influence Congressional opinion. The subject does not particularly interest us as extremely vital to the Town one way or another, and the Star has been willing to let it stand upon its merits as viewed by the voters. We hold the columns of the Star open to any and all citizens who sign their names to their communications, refrain from personalities and write upon pertinent matters. So far as the weight of these letters we are receiving goes, it appears very light anyway, since the sponsors names are withheld. They are, of course, not being printed.

Papers have been filed with the Selectmen for a referendum on the vote at last week's special limited town meeting to move the Parkway and Aberjona River westward across Manchester Field and join that field with the playground at the rear of the Junior High School to provide an adequate athletic field for the use of high, and junior high school pupils. The vote for the new layout was 143 affirmative to 8 in opposition. How any one can reconcile the need for a referendum with a majority vote of such proportions is hard to understand, and we may well wonder about the representative value of our limited town meeting when a dissatisfied group challenges any such preponderance of opinion on the part of its precinct members. Our democratic processes are predicated upon acceptance of the will of the majority, and surely there could be no doubt of how last week's meeting felt about the new playground layout. Much of what opposition was voiced at the meeting concerned itself with the proposal to include in the layout a public parking lot adjacent to the Unitarian Church. This objectionable feature has been taken care of, and the Star has learned that there is room for everything the athletic authorities want, including a standard quarter-mile track. Those who spoke in opposition to the new layout had nothing to offer as an alternative plan, and there can be no denying the need for an adequate athletic field after all these years. The Committee on School Facilities, the Selectmen, Planning Board, Finance Committee and School Committee were reported at last week's meeting to approve the new layout unanimously. The limited town meeting members supported this representative and surely informed judgment by the overwhelming vote of 143 to 8. And yet, in view of all this, the town is to be put to the trouble and expense of having a referendum in an effort to refute the opinion of our leading town boards and set aside a nearly unanimous vote of our limited town meeting! Why?

The following is an advertisement from a recent issue of "Newsweek" by Warner & Swasey, makers of machine tools. This firm has published some interesting advertisements, all of which make good reading for those who have the welfare of America at heart:

Little Red Riding Hood
(1946 Version)

Little Red Riding Hood was in business as a gardener. She worked hard, provided jobs for several neighbors, and prospered.

One day she was going to her grandmother's house with a basket of food, because her grandmother had lent her the money to start in business and Little Red Riding Hood, being intelligent, knew she and her workmen owed their livelihoods to the old lady, and so paid her a return by a basket of food every week.

Approaching her grandmother's, Little Red Riding Hood met a snarling animal. "A wolf", she screamed. "He'll steal my profits and keep them from grandmother."

"No," said the wolf. "I believe in democracy, I believe in free enterprise." Whereat he ran away through the woods and Little Red Riding Hood, as she proceeded, thought she heard a faint horselaugh but surely it could not be true because that had been a wolf.

Now the wolf rushed to the grandmother's cottage and, although he said he believed in free enterprise, he ate her up, justifying himself by saying that as she was not a laborer herself, she had no rights in the world.

And the wolf put on the old lady's clothing which made him look exactly like a free enterpriser, and climbed into the old lady's bed.

Enter Little Red Riding Hood. "Why, Grandma, how you've changed!"

"Not at all, my dear, it's the times that have changed. We're in the century of the more abundant life." (Under his breath the wolf made a vow to find out some time what this more abundant life was that he talked so much about.)

"But, Grandma,
what a big mouth you have."
"The better to defame you with, my dear."
But, Grandma,
what big taxes you have!"
"The better to eat you with, my dear."

Whereat the wolf threw off the disguise of a free enterpriser, stood revealed as a ravenous radical, and leaped at the little girl.

But just in the nick of time in rushed a young woodsman who had just returned from war and wanted a job in Little Red Riding Hood's gardening company. He wasn't going to see his prospective employer devoured, and anyway where he had been fighting, the country was full of just such wolves and he had no use for them.

So he killed the beast, took its hide to sell (for he believed in business at a profit) and went off with his new employer to live happily ever after—or at least until another wolf thought up the gag about posing as a friend of democracy and maybe this time getting away with it.—(From an advertisement by Warner & Swasey in Newsweek.

THE TOOL OWNERS UNION

A short time ago we reported our membership in the Tool Owners Union, started in Lexington, and an organization formed to correct some of the New Deal abuses so far as lays at present in the hands of men interested in good government and the Constitution of the United States. A Winchester resident, interested in the full page adv. printed in the Star and our statement of membership, desired to check further on public opinion regarding the Union. He asked Fulton Lewis if this was another "bluff" to take in the voters. He has given us Mr. Lewis' reply which we are glad to print below:

Washington, 6, D. C.
June 14, 1946

Dear Mr. Burgoyne:

Thank you for your letter.

You need have no misgivings as to the sincerity of Tool Owners Union.

Its founders are men of the highest integrity and substance and they can be depended upon to do their utmost to achieve the fine objectives of the organization.

Mr. Rucker is president of one of the most successful management and sales counsel firms in New England and has long been active in civic affairs.

Among the other founders are Raoul E. Desverin, former President of Crucible Steel Co. and author of DEMOCRATIC DESPOTISM, and Fred H. Nickels of the Eddy-Bucker-Nickels Company.

Cordially yours,
Fulton Lewis, Jr.

DISCRIMINATION?

Labor Secretary Lewis B. Schwellenbach is quoted, in the press, as saying:

"I don't know of any reason in the world why the organized workers of America haven't just as much right to take an interest in the results in a free election as any other part of our population.

"The Labor Unions of this country owe a duty and a responsibility to those people who are unrepresented and who are inarticulate and unable to present their case."

Mr. Schwellenbach seems to have forgotten that, under our Constitution and our Bill-of-Rights there are No unrepresented citizens in America. No citizen needs any "outside" agency to guard him politically under our old ideology.

It could thus appear that Mr. Schwellenbach could find little objection to corporations taking an interest in political elections, as they, too, certainly "owe a duty and a responsibility" to the millions of people who are stockholders and have their life savings in such corporations.

There are probably more stockholders, as such, than there are members in Labor Unions. In fact, millions of workers are also stockholders in corporations. Stockholders, therefore, are not allowed to have their corporations nor those who handle their investments represent them.

THE PALESTINE SITUATION

Winchester, June 14

To the Editor of the Star:

It is surprising to me that more notice has not been taken of the folly and ineptitude recently displayed by our Government in the matter of the joint British-American committee on Palestine. I want it distinctly understood that I do not propose to examine the desirability of further Jewish settlement in Palestine; I shall content myself with calling attention to an excellent example of the muddle-headedness and cowardice that today masquerade as leadership in our national Government.

The committee was forced upon the British, who from long experience have an adequate notion of the explosive situation that prevails in the Arab world, by our own feather-brained do-goods who have no notion at all of the situation that prevails anywhere. The committee's report called for the emigration of 100,000 Jews from Europe to Palestine, whereupon the leaders of the Arab countries made numerous threatening statements, even raising the question of appealing to Russia for aid. The British quite sensibly concluded that very strong military forces would be needed in Palestine to ensure the carrying out of the Committee's proposal, and justly considered that some of the burden of furnishing and maintaining such forces should fall upon the United States, since the United States had originally urged the creation of the Committee. When this perfectly correct proposition was made some time ago, it was coldly received in Washington; it was indicated that no troops would be furnished, and it was vaguely mentioned that perhaps the matter should be referred to the United Nations.

Within the last few days, Mr. Bevin stated that he did not intend to comply with the proposal of the Committee, and at present a great campaign of vituperation against England is going on. Perhaps it might be worth considering how much of this is the result of ignorance and folly, and how much has been inspired by the friends of a certain great power which has acquired a reputation for fishing in troubled waters, but I shall not attempt to answer this question, as I do not want to injure any tender susceptibilities.

The possibility that the Committee might make the report and the recommendation that it actually did make should have been obvious even to a member of the present Administration, and it should have been equally obvious that to carry out such a program would call for the use of sizeable military forces, some of which the United States would be morally obliged to furnish. If our Government believed from the first that Palestinian settlement was a matter for the United Nations, then its action in urging the setting up of the Committee was an usurpation of the authority of the United Nations. Thus our Government was either stupid or dishonest in the whole transaction; the only other possibility is that this stirring up of trouble was not irresponsible but deliberate, which is obviously unlikely, since it has served to create distrust of the United States in a part of the world where we have growing interests.

This fiasco has had two mischievous results. First, it has created hatred of the United States in the Moslem world; and second, it is definite proof that we have returned to normal: we are again making resounding moral pronouncements with advice to the rest of the world included gratis, and we are again weaseling when it comes to action. This is a sign of moral weakness which other nations are quick to recognize. The time is going to come when we shall have to put up or shut up, and from all available indications it isn't far away.

Very truly yours,
Charles V. L. Smith,

AVE ATQUE VALE

To the Editor of the Star:

It is natural, I suppose, that those who live in the immediate vicinity of a beauty spot are most concerned at its proposed annihilation; which may explain why so large a group of the residents of Precinct 3 stood (apparently) squarely in the path of progress on the question of the proposed change in the bed of the Aberjona to make way for enlarged athletic grounds.

As the die has now been cast, we realize that our position is something like that of the cow on the railroad track! We'll get off presently (before the engine comes along) but not before we have emitted two or three plaintive "moos!"

Mr. Hatch, presenting the plan in town meeting, generously admitted that the most valid argument against it was the one of beauty. Most of us in Precinct 3 agree with him. Many of us in Precinct 3 still feel that, in our town at least, this should have been the paramount issue.

The gradual despoilment of the river bed is nothing new. It started when the state sewer was put through. Some of us remember the river as it was then, entirely natural and unspoiled by modern improvements. There was even an island in it—a long, heavily wooded island, with one or two small trees on it. The current flowed on either side, and an adventurous canoeist could choose his course. It was quite wild, but natural, and therefore beautiful. Well, the sewer put an end to that. When it had been completed, the island was no more. Instead, we have a wall of rip-rapping ten or twelve feet high, which in 20 years—with luck!—may be pretty well grown over.

Far from a thing of beauty, it is a chronic eyesore to those who live near it, or to anyone passing on the parkway. We also have a dam which effectively prevents the passage of canoes, and the surroundings are further enlivened by a building of non-descript character and mysterious purpose which certainly does nothing to enhance its surroundings.

It may be that present-day engineers will do better, but until we have been convinced of this, it will continue to be to us a pertinent example of what happens when man interferes with nature for utilitarian ends. In any case, we cannot imagine that they will reproduce the delightful hap-hazardness of the present stream. It could, of course, be done, but such landscape gardening comes high. The new channel will presumably have straight sides—which, after all, is the fundamental difference between a river and a ditch. We even hear the ominous word "rip-rap" again, although the committee hastily assured us that it may not be necessary.

Always there is, in the back of our mind, the now famous Shore Road Athletic Field development. Presumably, in those far-off days, some enterprising committee, doing its job, extolled in town meeting the advantages of this plan, quite as ably and efficiently, no doubt, as our present committee has done, so that, then as now, we decided it was what we wanted to do. The results are still with us.

One need not study Art to know that it is not straight lines or angles that make for beauty, but curves, and plenty of them. The present wide, sweeping curve in both river and boulevard is an essential factor in the beauty of that part of Winchester. We now propose to iron it out, in the interest of this new plan, and incidentally, help the speeding driver get to his accident a little further on, and several minutes sooner.

Of course, many of our splendid trees must go. Of all forms of beauty, this is the easiest to destroy, and the most difficult to replace. But it makes a difference who does it. Had a hurricane come along and leveled them, we would rate it a major calamity.

It all amounts to this; we are deliberately destroying a great deal of natural beauty, in a town which in past years has been very sensitive to beauty—has, indeed, assiduously cultivated it, with the result that people have come from far and near to make their homes amid such lovely surroundings. Other towns have good athletic fields, few so much natural beauty.

Some of us recall with a sort of nostalgic dismay the days when the Mayor and Mayoress of Winchester, England, were invited to Winchester, and a picturesque canoe parade along the winding Aberjona was an outstanding feature of the celebration. Or when a band concert was the order of the day (usually on a Saturday afternoon) and citizens from all around assembled on its banks, while the river itself was gay with brightly painted canoes and lovely summer frocks. Such days, it seems, are gone forever, and our lovely romantic river has joined the march of progress and become strictly utilitarian.

Now that the die is cast, it is to be hoped—and prayed—that the town will, like De Lawd God in the play, "The Green Pastures", "ra'ar back and pass a miracle", sparing no effort or expense to insure as adequate a substitute for this sacrifice as human ingenuity can devise.

OBJECTS TO LIBRARY RULES

To the Editor of the Star:

Last week I went to the Public Library to obtain a book that I had been told was good, and one that I had been advised to read.

I am a high school student in the junior class, and through no fault of my own, found out previously, that I must have a high school card. I drew this card and until now, had had no trouble getting the books I wanted.

Monday evening, when I asked for the book in question, I was told that it was out. I was also asked if I had a high school card. I replied that I did, and was then told that students were not allowed to take seven-day books out, and if I wanted one, I should obtain it by a parent's card.

Is this what the Public Library is supposed to be? I think not! I have understood until now that a Public Library offered its materials to everyone, regardless of age. But! Because I am a high school student, and was allowed no choice in the matter of cards, I found myself unable to borrow a seven-day book.

I feel that this is a matter which should be called to the attention of Winchester residents, and especially to those who borrow books at the library.

I do not think that our Library was built to be maintained with any such restrictions; ones that limit and practically state which books high school students may and may not read.

If I am wrong, I am ready to be corrected, but if I am right, then I think some changes should be made in the Public Library system, and promptly.

I remain

Sincerely yours,
Martha Righter

ROTARY NOTES

In the absence of the regularly scheduled guest speaker on Thursday noon, two of our own members, Bob Shaw and Aram Mouradian, entertained the meeting with a varied program of popular songs and imitations.

It was a pleasure to greet Frank Murphy who has made a splendid recovery following a long period of illness.

Ralph Purrington, with a great deal of help from Glenn Browning, was once again declared the winner of the weekly Victory Bond drawing. Glenn has drawn Ralph's number twice in succession, and it would appear that this is a difficult combination to beat. Incidentally, Ralph is a four-time winner.

The committee in charge of last week's meeting was tendered a vote of thanks for the success of such an outstanding program. It will be remembered that Mr. Lewis Parkhurst was publicly honored by the Club in recognition of his many years of service to the Town and that Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., was the guest speaker.

In further appreciation of Mr. Parkhurst as a highly respected citizen of Winchester who has typified the spirit of Rotary on many occasions in the past, it was unanimously voted to select him to honorary membership in the Rotary Club of Winchester.

Several guests and visiting Rotarians were in attendance at the meeting from Woburn, Boston, Wilmington and Stoneham.

GINN ESTATE PLAN

Would Hold Music Building For Cultural Center

To the Editor of the Star:

At the town meeting on June 13, there was read in connection with the article relating to zoning changes, a letter to the Planning Board from Judge Hammond, one of the Trustees of the Ginn Estate, with reference to the preservation of the Music Building, which is adjacent to the mansion house, as a music and art center. A copy of Judge Hammond's letter is printed herewith.

Many citizens have already expressed interest in this proposal. If there is sufficient interest to warrant it, a meeting will be called in the near future and Judge Hammond invited to be present to give further information.

From the standpoint of planning the preservation of the beautiful Music Building and its fine organ would seem not only to enhance the likelihood of an excellent development of the remaining available land of the estate for residence purposes, but to benefit the entire neighborhood as well; and of course the establishment of a center of the character suggested would constitute a distinct addition to Winchester's cultural advantages.

Will all Winchester residents and organizations interested and wishing to have notice of the meeting, if one is called, please give their names and addresses promptly to the "Star" Office by writing or telephoning (Win.) 0029).

Very truly yours,
W. L. Parsons

William L. Parsons, Esq.
Chairman of the Planning Board of Winchester
Winchester, Mass.

My dear Mr. Parsons:

In view of the apparent interest in Winchester in the question of the disposition of the Ginn Estate, it seems to me that it would be an appropriate time to inform your Board of one plan which, among others, the trustees have had in mind for the possible use of a portion of the estate provided enough public interest and support should be enlisted in order to carry such plan into effect. I refer to that part of the estate which comprises the music building which was built by Mr. Ginn about 35 years ago as a wing to the main house. As you undoubtedly know, it is entirely independent of the mansion house except that it is connected to it by an enclosed corridor and is in reality a beautifully finished and appointed hall capable of accommodating an audience of 150 or 175 persons and containing a large and excellent organ.

The trustees have entertained the hope that this music building might be made available for use by residents of Winchester generally as a place of meeting for the various groups in the town engaged in rendering aid in charitable, philanthropic and educational causes; also for promoting and encouraging interest, instruction and education in the liberal and fine arts by exhibitions and lectures and for furthering knowledge and appreciation of music in the community by offering opportunities for the giving of concerts and by furnishing facilities to music students and others for study and practice.

With this idea in mind, the trustees several months ago organized a corporation under the name of Winchester Community House, Inc., for the purposes above mentioned in the hope that enough financial support might be obtained in Winchester to enable such a corporation to acquire the music building either with or without the mansion house itself, and to conduct it for the benefit of the community in furtherance of these or kindred purposes.

It may be of interest to your Board to know how this problem was recently met and solved in a closely similar situation in the disposition of the estate of the late Cyrus H. K. Curtis of Philadelphia, the founder of the Saturday Evening Post. At his death Mr. Curtis left his mansion house in one wing of which there was a large music room containing an organ. The mansion house which was inherited by Mrs. Efrem Zimbalist, the wife of the distinguished violin virtuoso, was demolished, but the wing containing the music room was preserved. A new front was put on it, and it was equipped with a stage, moving picture booth, kitchen and other facilities which fitted it for use as a community house. It was then presented by Mrs. Zimbalist to the township of Cheltenham and is now used for that purpose.

Under Mr. Ginn's will, the trustees have no power to make a gift of any part of the estate for the purposes above suggested, but if the plan of making the music building on the Ginn estate available for community purposes should receive financial support in Winchester, the trustees would give it sympathetic consideration in fixing terms and price for the property.

Yours very truly,
Franklin T. Hammond

MEKONG RIVER

Reported border raids into Siam by French forces involve part of Siam's 350-mile Mekong River frontier with French Indochina which long has been a subject of dispute and at times of open warfare.

The meandering Mekong, rising far to the north in the mountains of Tibet, flows through the heart of the Indochina peninsula of southeast Asia, notes the National Geographic Society. On its way it forms roughly two-thirds of Siam's broadly-looping eastern boundary with French Indochina.

Northwest and southeast of the present trouble spot, the river marks the eastern limits of two parcels of territory which, in May, 1941, were transferred to Siam, through Japanese mediation, from then Vichy-administered French Indochina.

Land Is Unproductive

Stretching between the ceded territories, the big northeast bulge of Siam is one of the nation's less productive and populated areas. Its outstanding physical features are the low Khorat Plateau, occupying most of the region, and the highlands of the northeast, reaching more than 2,000 feet above sea level.

Open forests, of little value for timber, scrub jungle, and salt swamps mark much of this country. Cultivation of the none-too-fertile soil is handicapped by uncertain rainfall. Alternate floods and drought make farming difficult over many sections of the rolling, grassy plains, although in places pasture land is sufficient to support some livestock.

Rice, grown in diked fields of river-watered lowlands, provides the chief sustenance of the people, with a small surplus for export. Little farms produce minor crops of cotton and tobacco, and there is mulberry cultivation for silkworm raising.

Served by Railways

Two railway serve this part of Siam - an east-west line across the southern portion, and a northward extending branch which breaks off 35 miles south of the now disturbed section of the French Indochina border.

A highway completes the route to the frontier, and a few other highways crisscross the region between the rightangle meeting lines of the two railroads and the Mekong River, on the north and east.

The Mekong, in spite of its great length and a number of deep, open stretches, is considered of little commercial use. Rapids hamper traffic in many spots, and navigation is possible in its upepr reaches only by small boats. The lower 600-mile section of the river, open to small steamers, is largely within the territory of French Indochina.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God creates and governs the universe, including man. HYDE PARK

Franklin D. Roosevelt's home near Hyde Park, N. Y., refurbished for its dedication as a national historic site on April 12, belongs to a region famed in history and literature since Henry Hudson sailed his tossing, high-prowed Half Moon up the "Great River of the Mountains" in 1609.

"It is as beautiful a land as one could wish upon," the English sea captain, then exploring under the Dutch flag, wrote after viewing the bluffs and tree-covered hills which hold the broad stream in its channel.

And the Dutch and English settlers who followed in Hudson's wake echoed his words, notes the National Geographic Society.

Resembles English Countryside

Even the Indians who lived in the Hudson valley were described as fond of peace; Hudson called them a "loving people." They had their own name for the majestic river: "The stream that flows both ways." It was an apt description, for the tide moves north as far as Troy.

Approximately midway between Troy and New York City, the village of Hyde Parks stands slightly inland on a bluff 150 feet above the river's eastern bank, amid the fields and apple orchards of Dutchess County. Founded in 1741, the village was attacked by the British during the Revolutionary War, and several buildings were burned. In recent years Hyde Park's populations has been close to 1,000.

Not so rugged as the Palisades or the Hudson Highlands to the south, the gently rising hills, the trim houses, and the wood lots of the Hyde Park neighborhood have often been compared with the English countryside. The rural atmosphere makes the noise and hubbub of New York City seem much father than 70 airline miles away.

Estate Named Springwood

Well-kept estates border Hyde Park on three sides. Among these, a mile south of the village, is the ancestral Roosevelt home which the late President deeded to the United States Government. There Franklin D. Roosevelt is buried in a rose garden, separated by a hemlock hedge from a rambling fieldstone library which houses his papers, mementoes, and many personal belongings.

The entire estate, consisting of nearly 1,000 acres, originally was given the name Springwood because of the springs whose waters rushed down the hills to the Hudson.

The oldest, central part of the 40-room family home has been covered with stucco, and two projecting stone wings have been added. Through the years the outside walls have become heavy with ivy. A semi-circular potico with Doric columns forms the main entrance, and atop the roof is a "captain's walk."

DIPOLMAS

Diplomas awarded at commencements this year will cost high schools and colleges throughout the United States more than a million dollars, the value of the sheepskins varying with the workmanship and materials used.

Most colleges continue to award parchment diplomas, a sheepskin product coming to the United States mostly from England, says the National Geographic Society. One parchment factory in Hampshire, England, is said to have been in operation for 1000 years.

The exact origin of certificates for educational attainment is uncertain. European diplomas go back several centuries. It is thought they originated as licenses for the practice of one of the professions.

Harvard College held its first commencement in 1642. Yale's first diploma was presented in 1702. Photographs of diplomas awarded by Yale more than two centuries ago indicate they were manuscript certificates in various forms.

The growing importance of the diploma led to engraved certificates of distinctive design to lessen possibilities of forgery. Some American institutions have retained the same design for almost a century, carefully guarding the engraving plates.

Many foreign diplomas are less formal, less impersonal. Some record such details as the date and place of the holder's birth, father's name and occupation, the student's photograph, his examination grades, and even comment on class conduct.

Many schools in the United States have recently introduced smaller diplomas, some enclosed in leather folders. Strictly speaking, the rolled diploma is not a "diploma" as the word derives from the Greek meaning "a paper folded double."

FRANK TATE BARNES

Funeral services for Frank Tate Barnes, formerly of 41 Wildwood street, were held Monday afternoon at the Unitarian Church with the minister, Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, and the minister emeritus, Rev. George Hale Reed, officiating. J. Albert Wilson, organist, played favorite musical selections and hymns. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Mr. Barnes died June 13 in the Margaret Pillsbury Hospital in Concord, N. H., after a short illness. He became ill while he and Mrs. Barnes were on vacation at Henniker Inn, Henniker, N. H.

Born May 18, 1868, in Charlestown, Mr. Barnes was the son of Andrew J., and Louise (Haegle) Barnes. He went to Somerville as a boy and was educated in the Somerville schools, as a young man working for the Boston hardware house of Frye, Fiske Co.

Later he entered his father's business, the Guyer Hat Company of Philadelphia and Boston, of which he became president. At this time he travelled extensively for the company throughout the country, covering territory from Maine to Texas and being well known to the trade.

In 1921 he acquired Miller Brothers, a wholesale and retail hat concern first located at 117 Summer street and later at 22 Lincoln street in Boston. He operated this business until his retirement last year. He had lived in Winchester for 30 years, was affiliated with the Unitarian Church and a member of King Solomon Lodge of Masons in Somerville.

On Oct. 23, 1901, he married Gertrude Nickerson of Somerville, who survives him with a daughter, Mrs. Marietta B. Cornwall, a son, Frank T. Barnes, Jr., both of Winchester; and three grandchildren, Charles J., and Andrew B. Cornwall and Marietta Barnes. Another son, Andrew J. Barnes, died in 1921.

VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION FOR PERSONS DISABLED

In Industry or Otherwise

The School Department is in receipt of a Bulletin of the Department of Education relative to the rehabilitation of disabled persons, a portion of which is reproduced below.

"The services of the Rehabilitation Division are available for any resident of Massachusetts, of legal employable age, either male or female, who has a physical or mental disability which is a vocational handicap and who reasonably may be expected to be fitted for remunerative employment.

"The physical disability may be the result of an industrial accident such as an automobile or railroad accident, or it may be the result of a disease or a defect existing from birth.

"The disabled person must be of an age at which they may be legally employed, 16 years in most cases, and it must be reasonable to expect that after rehabilitation they will be able to engage in suitable occupations.

"At this time it is held that the following persons are not elible for this service:

(a) Aged or helpless persons requiring permanent or custodial care.

(b) Persons confined in a correctional or penal institution.

(c) Persons deemed not susceptible of rehabilitation.

(d) Persons under the age of fourteen, and in some instances, sixteen years."

For further information concerning rehabilitation, persons interested should write or call upon Herbert A. Dallas, Director, Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, Room 17, State Education Building, 200 Newbury Street, Boston, Massachusetts.

AMERICAN VETERANS COMMITTEE NOTES

At the next meeting, which will be held at 7.45 in the Masonic Hall 1 Mt. Vernon street an interesting agenda will be offered. John Spaulding, our state committee member, will describe the national convention at Des Moines last week, which he attended as a delegate. Mr. Spaulding's enthusiasm since his return promises a fascinating report.

Those of us who have followed Thomas Stokes' articles in the Boston Traveler the past few days have a rough outline of the convention results and the inside story of some of these results should be even more interesting and informative, besides giving us an overall picture of the activities of the various other chapters throughout the country.

The animation aroused by the informal discussion at the last meeting indicates that another discussion of this type will be just as animated and, at the same time, informative. The international affairs committee will, for this reason, hold a discussion on the British loan. The committee will also present data on the MacMahon bill and the draft bill. In addition, a tentative plan for the alleviation of the European famine situation will be offered for chapter action.

Considerable discussion is expected on methods of improving the meetings. Since we are meeting at the Masonic Hall, refreshments can and will be served. All in all, this promises to be our best meeting so far and it would profit every member to be present.

PHARMACISTS FOUND GUILTY

In the District Court at Woburn Tuesday morning Justice William Henchey found the three Winchester Pharmacists, whose establishments were recently raided by local and State Police guilty of illegal sale of liquor nuisances. On each of three counts in the selling charge, each pharmacist was fined $100, making a total of $300 in fines for each pharmacy. On the charge of maintaining a liquor nuisance each pharmacist was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction with sentence suspended for one year.

The findings resulted from a conference among Judge Henchey, Asst. Dist. Att. Martin, who prosecuted the case; and Att. Leo F. Garvey, counsel for the defense.

A hearing on the forfeiting of the liquor seized in the raid will be held at the Woburn Court on July 6.

CENSUS

The first complete, simultaneous census of Western Hemisphere nations, proposed for 1950 by inter-American census statisticians, involves exploration and mapping of vast but little-known regions of tropic heat and arctic cold, says the National Geographic Society.

It calls for training and equipping trail-blazing enumerators to search out primitive peoples in these regions. In the end, it will supply vital statistics and basic facts on occupations and standards of living of an estimated 200,000,000 North and Central Americans and an estimated 100,000,000 South Americans.

Following the United States pattern, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Peru and other South American countries have taken their census in one or more decennial years. But where United States censuses have broadened in scope to include such data as years of schooling, cost of dwelling and rent paid, censuses of South American countries have been too few and too incomplete to gauge population trends.

White European immigrants of the past century of independence dominate most of Argentina, Uruguay and southern Brazil. Iberian-Indian stock, the result of three centuries of Spanish and Portuguese exploitation, prevails along the coasts and the lower Amazon. Some 12,000,000 Negroes, descendants of slaves, live in Brazil and Colombia. Christianized Indians dominate the Andean highlands.

Primitive Indians inhabit the thick forests of the Amazon basin, where census taking will be hardest. The Brazilian rubber trade at the turn of the 20th century held brief promise of a westward push in the Amazon basin, but the tropical wilderness did not yield.

To primitive dwellers of the western Amazon country, security still lies in secrecy. Family units of 60 or more Indians build a thatched-roof community house on a clearing back from the rivers, which are highways for enemies. In about three years, their house is falling apart, their crops have depleted the soil of the clearing, and tell-tale paths have been worn from the river to their site. Then they find a new, concealed spot many miles away, move to it and rebuild.

In forested Brazil alone, the census takers have an area greater than that of continental United States. The South American continent, more than double the area of the United States plus Alaska, holds the long Andes Range with the highest peaks in the world outside Asia. Remnants of primitive Indian tribes live near Cape Horn, on the southernmost continental mainland and nearby islands.

Primitive natives live, too, in the tropical forests of Central America. About two-fifths of all Latin America from the Rio Grande south is forest-covered, the largest area of timbered land in the world.

In Canada, the Dominion's Bureau of Statistics keeps close watch on population with careful censuses every ten years. In the forests of provinces bordering the United States, not far from large centers of population, are aboriginal tribes that defy census taking. Some 100,000, about nine-tenths of these natives, live on Indian reservations where the census readily can be taken.

A glance at a map gives the picture in the islanded vastness of the Dominion's Northwest Territories, where 11,000 fur-clad Canadians are scattered over 1,300,000 square miles of land.

LEGION OF MERIT TO DR. MURRAY

Winchester Man Headed Air Surgeon's Psychiatric Branch

Dr. John M. Murray of Winchester, Chief Consultant in Psychiatry for the New England Branch of the Veterans Administration recently received the Legion of Merit for his outstanding service in the Army Air Corps.

Discharged as a Colonel in the Army Medical Corps in September of 1945 after three years of service, Col. Murray was Chief of the Psychiatric Branch in the Office of the Air Surgeon. He served in the South Pacific on a special assignment under the Commanding General of the Far East Service and organized the psychiatric program in all Army Air Corps hospitals.

Colonel Murray's citation reads in part, "for extraordinary foresight and professional skill in successfully completing the organization of psychiatric service of the Army Air Forces. His outstanding achievement in establishing schools for indoctrination of medical officers in modern psychiatric methods reflects great credit upon himself and the military service."

Addressing the American Psychiatric Association at its annual meeting in Chicago last month, Dr. Murray stressed the importance of supplementing medical care with adequate psychiatric treatment for veterans suffering from emotional disturbances. As Chief Consultant in Psychiatry for the VA he has instituted a program providing modern psychiatric treatment for veterans in every VA hospital and clinic in New England.

Dr. Murray lives with his wife, Edna, and two sons, John and James, at 9 Sheffield West in Winchester. His eldest son John, an Army Air Corps Sergeant, recently returned home after service in the ETO.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

At a largely attended meeting of the Bay State Historical League at Gloucester on last Saturday, Rev. Laurence L. Barber of Arlington was elected the new president. Mr. Barber is well known to the members of the Winchester Historical Society, as he has lectured before the society on four occasions during the past few years and his lectures have always been outstanding. Six members of our Society attended this meeting, which was one of the best the league has had.

The Beverly Historical Society has invited the League to a special summer meeting at Hale House, Beverly on July 13. The Beverly Society also entertained the League last summer and it was a very enjoyable meeting and it is hoped many will attend this meeting.

The present School Department offices will become an annex to the Wyman School, accommodating the kindergarten. The transfer is expected prior to Sept. 1.

The following elections were approved:

Mrs. Gertrude McPeake to be substitute teacher at Wyman School.

Mr. Richard Smith to be teacher of Grade 6.

Mr. Paul Goodwin to be teacher of Industrial Arts.

Mr. Albert Seferian to be teacher of Business Arithmetic at the high school.

Following is the organization of supervising principals:

Miss Mabel Lowry to be Supervising Principal at the Wyman School.

Miss Leonor Rich to be Supervising Principal of the Washington and Noonan Schools.

Miss Marguerite Asher to be Supervising Principal of the Mystic and Lincoln Schools.

Mr. R. Burns Winslow will be the assistant principal at the Wadleigh.

Mr. Edward A. Bartlett will return to the high school staff in the fall.

Considerable repair work has been started on the school buildings. Painters started their work at the high school on Monday of this week. All of the so-called old building will be completed redecorated.

Mr. David F. Kotkov, teacher of Spanish at the high school has departed for a summer's study at the University of Mexico. Over 700 applications were made for the 100 vacancies at the University. Others are college and university instructors and professors.

THREE CARS IN COLLISION

Three automobiles were in collision at the corner of Washington and Mt. Vernon streets at 5:30 on the afternoon of the holiday, three women passengers in the cars being shaken up and injured.

According to the Police the cars involved were an Olds sedan, being driven east on Mt. Vernon street by Robert W. Menzies of 3 Judson street, Malden, which was in collision with a Pontiac sedan, driven by Warren F. Goddu of 11 Marshall road, who was headed north on Washington street. The Olds was tipped over and was in turn in collision with the Ford tudor operated by Alfred G. Schulze of 61 Water street, Malden who was driving down Mt. Vernon street toward the center.

All three cars were damaged, the Olds having to be towed away and the Pontiac being badly damaged about the front end. Two women, riding in the Olds, Mrs. Menzies, wife of the operator, and Mrs. Richard Rasmussen of 15 East street, Melrose, complained of injuries, the former to her left leg and hand, and the latter to her left eye, left knee and elbow. Mrs. Mary L. Fenno of 75 Church street, riding with her son-in-law in the Pontiac, was shaken up by the impact of the cars.

PARISH PLAYERS HELD PICNIC AT CHIDLEY HOME

About 40 members and guests of the Parish Players enjoyed a delightful old-fashioned picnic Wednesday evening, June 12, on the porch of the home of Dr. and Mrs. Howard J. Chidley. Each brought a box lunch with sandwiches, and several of the guests brought a real supper of cold meats, salad, hot rolls. Coffee and ice cream were served, and after the meal was over, everyone relaxed and enjoyed the pleasant evening and the beautiful view over the Mystic Lake.

When darkness came, Players and guests were invited into the Chidley's living room. With Dr. F. Milne Blanchard presiding because of the illness of Harold F. French, Chairman, Parish Players' reports were read, and Mrs. French told the group that the Players had given $250 to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation after the Thursday performance of "You Can't Take It With You." She also pointed out that while reservations were almost 100 per cent for Friday and Saturday evenings in the coming year, there were still good seats available for Thursday night performances.

Mr. George Goudy reported that the Players hoped to purchase flood light for the stage this year. Mr. John Hall, director, was present, and announced that he had given up coaching plays in all other groups for the coming year, with the exception of the Parish Players in Winchester, "and I am going to work with this group because I enjoy it!"

Mrs. Howard J. Chidley spoke briefly of the splendid work the Players had carried on in their Camp Shows, bringing vaudeville type shows to the hospital wards where the wounded veterans might enjoy the songs and musical selections. "Sometimes we have entertained 6 wards in one evening," she said. "We bring cherries and strawberries in cellophane bags, and we pass them out to the boys. And you have no idea how much of a hit these fruit gifts make with these boys! They are bedridden, and they are in pain, and they need this treat and this entertainment badly!"

Mrs. Chidley went on to plead for more and still more volunteers for these camp shows, to keep them going all through the summer. Singers, pianists, dancers, all who can entertain, are needed and are asked to contact her for an audition. The Players, with these camp shows, hope to go to the hospital wards one day a week all during the summer. "And next winter, we hope not only to continue this work, but to bring the boys who did so much for us the very best entertainment through our shows. This is the kind of service our Players can and are doing that really counts."

Dr. Blanchard, as presiding officer also called attention to the need of more people as production and stage crew for the coming year. A discussion of proposed plays for the 1946-47 season followed, and the meeting portion of the Parish Players' 1946 picnic adjourned amid many calls of "see you at the first fall rehearsal."

TWO AUTO FIRES

The Fire Department was called at 10:29 Monday night by an alarm from Woburn Box 56 for a Ford coupe which went afire just over the Winchester-Woburn line on Main street. The trouble was caused by an overheated motor.

Tuesday morning at 7:38 one of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway buses went afire on Mt. Vernon opposite the Savings Bank and just next door to the Central Fire Station. The fire caused by a short-circuit in the wiring, was quickly put out by the firemen, but no attempt was made to start the bus until repair crews from the Eastern Mass had corrected the trouble.

BETTER HOMES GARDEN CLUB

The annual luncheon of the Winchester Better Homes Garden Club took place on Wednesday, June 12th at the home of Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood, 7 Swan road. Because of threatening weather, the tables were set up indoors, where more than 70 members and guests sat down to an inviting repast in the spacious living room, whose broad expanse of windows over-look the terrace with its distant view of the lake. The effect was almost that of being out-of-doors.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Austin Bunker who introduced two guests, Mrs. Sherman Whipple of the National Federation of Garden Clubs, and Mrs. Augustus Loring, vice president of the Northeastern section of the state. Mrs. Whipple urged members to attend the Federation meetings, and Mrs. Loring gave a brief history of the origin of Garden Clubs.

Mrs. Bunker then explained the present arrangement whereby, since the closing of Lovell General Hospital at Camp Devens, the Winchester organization has agreed to take flowers to Veterans Hospital at Bedford on the second Friday of every month. She asked all persons who can do so to leave flowers on that day at the rear of the town hall between 9:00 and 9:15 a. m. At 9:30 they will be gathered up for their destination. Flowers for large effects are needed, as small arrangements can not be used at the Bedford Hospital. To Mrs. Bunker's plea, Mrs. Whipple added her word in favor of doing anything possible to help in building morale at the hospital where so many patients are sufferers of mental disorders brought on by the shock of War experiences. Flowers do much to encourage and brighten their outlook, she said, and the Winchester club should be especially happy to give its support to Mrs. Harold Twombly who has done such splendid work along this line.

After a vote to enter a flower arangement at the Boxford Village Garden Show which takes place on June 21st from 2 to 9 p. m., the business meeting was adjourned, and the remainder of the afternoon was given over to a most pleasurable and informing talk on flower arrangement by Mrs. Paul F. Wadleigh who brought examples of her own work by way of illustration. Mrs. Wadleigh gave especial praise to the effective arrangement which the hostess had placed in various parts of the house for the enjoyment of her guests. A rising vote of thanks was taken for Mrs. Kirkwood and her delightful hospitality, and the gathering was invited to go out to enjoy the garden, and grounds around the house.

MRS. MARSHALL R. PIHL TO HEAD COUNCIL

At a special meeting of the Executive Board of the Winchester Women's Council Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl was appointed president to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Lucius Smith.

A resolution was passed to be sent to the family of Mrs. Smith expressing the council's appreciation of her support in the past and its deep regret that she was not spared to be its president for the coming year.

It was agreed that an up to date calendar of town events would be really useful to the various organizations if they in turn would cooperate by posting their activities. To bring this to the attention of all organizations a committee on calendar was formed with Mrs. Chester F. Wolfe as chairman.

Mrs. Austin T. Bunker was appointed publicity chairman.

Plans for the fall meeting were discussed.

FLOWER MISSION

Winchester's gardens are so attractive and the flowers so plentiful that it is with great pleasure that many residents are sharing them with the sick, the bedridden and the elderly of Boston's crowded districts. Last Tuesday the Flower Mission sent two large hampers of beauty and fragrance by way of the 9 o'clock train at the Winchester Station.

The committee who have been planning this summer's project consists of Mrs. Arthur C. Robbins, chairman; Mrs. Walter P. Keyes, and Mrs. Frederick L. Churchill, publicity. The Episcopal Church will be in charge for the next two weeks and you may call Mrs. Henry B. Sawyer Win. 0041 for further information before June 25 and Mrs. E. Phillips Webber, Win. 1787-W before July 2.

The next group who will take over will be the Winchester Garden Club for July 9 and 16 under the guidance of Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, Win. 1788.

Although the different churches and the Garden Club have been asked to oversee the gathering together of the bouquets for specific dates, the whole town may share in the giving throughout the summer. So cut your fresh flowers, bunch them, wrap in newspapers and see that they get to the station. They will be distributed at the South Bay Union on Harrison avenue, Boston, to someone who without you would never enjoy flowers.

Any one who doubted that the recent storm did much damage to our trees should have seen the huge pile of broken branches, etc., which was taken to the town dump.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE, FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

On Friday, June 14th, the Women's League of the First Baptist Church held an enjoyable outing at Mrs. Martin Swanson's, 47 Cambridge street. A delicious luncheon was served by the League's executive board, Miss Hulda Ekdahl, president. Warm sunshine and attractive grounds on the shore of the lake helped the group to spend the day in the out-of-doors. Games were planned by Mrs. Daveport Davis to acquaint the new members present with others of the group.

Mrs. Charles Burnham, chairman of Ways and Means of the League and Mrs. E. H. Garrison, manager of the Thrift Shop, urged the women to search diligently for saleable articles for the shop. The Thrift Shop is remaining open through June from 10:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. to accept those treasures one always finds at spring housecleaning time. Day by day workers, all women of the Baptist Church, show their devotion and loyalty to the cause of underwriting the mortgage by this method of selling used things in the Winchester Thrift Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Miles Holbrook spent last week-end at Harwich on the Cape.

RAINBOW GIRLS

The 140th regular meeting of Winchester Assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls was held on Friday evening, June 14 at 7 o'clock.

After the meeting we had a mothers and daughters night with a special reception for the members of our assembly that graduated this year. Then we had a brief entertainment in the form of a radio skit with Elaine Foster acting as master of ceremonies, sponsored by Jean Norton and a vocal solo by Gene Rollins, organist Barbara L. Galucia. We then had group singing with Dot Coles at the organ. Refreshments were enjoyed afterwards.

We also have Scotch tape at Wilson the Stationers, Star Bldg.

At the national average of 1.75 passengers per automobile in city traffic, it takes 43 private cars to carry the 75 people who can ride comfortably on 2 Eastern Mass. buses.

To the transportation company, this sketches a picture of congestion and delay in business centers, upsetting the smooth flow of traffic so vital to the community's economic welfare.

Yes, it's nice to drive your own car, but you'll save yourself a lot of headaches if you plan, wherever possible, to park away from traffic and ride the bus the rest of the way.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

A few weeks ago Mrs. Hersey's Troop 5 of Intermediate Scouts had their final meeting in the form of a cook-out supper at the Girl Scout Cabin. After the allotment of duties, a vigorous game of kick-ball whetted the appetites, followed by instruction in blanket roll making and the proper procedure in fire-building. Then came the supper preparations, quickly assembled as each girl happily performed her assigned duty. The hamburgers and boiled potatoes cooked in tin can pails somehow tasted unusually good served with a green salad, raw carrot sticks, rolls and jam. Some capped the meal with a taste of sweet (a graham cracker sandwich with a toasted marshmallow and bit of sweet chocolate bar for filling)

At the close of this meeting all felt better prepared for the overnight camping trip which they enjoyed this last week-end at New Boston, N. H. It was fine and exciting to sleep in a blanket roll or sleeping bag on the fine needles under the stars and watch the moon come up making patterns down through the pines. There was a whip-poor-will too that called until he was hoarse, broken only once in a while by the occasional hoot of an owl or the whimpering of a hedgehog. Meals were exciting too as the girls learned to bake eggs on a stick or make bacon sandwiches with bacon and bread cooked on sticks, and hamburgers, too, patted around a green stick, cooked, then covered with biscuit dough and cooked again until a deliciously brown hamburg sandwich resulted. Of course we swam, played kick-ball and just had lots of fun. We were most fortunate in having Mrs. Barbara Metcalf with us to contribute her knowledge and help toward the success of the outing.

The girls who were able to go were: Mary Jane Davis, Janice Collins, Judy Harmon, Faith Connolly, Althea Hersey, Carolyn Stone, Beverly Browne, and Joan Phillips.

Troop 29, Brownie Scouts, have closed their year with a helping hand to Scouts of other lands. They made and filled eight Friendship Bags to go to Girl Scouts in Holland. The bags contained useful things for people who have lost their homes, such as sewing materials, and also gifts to give pleasure to their Dutch friends.

This fourth graders have also collected a total of 296 cans, (weighing 345 pounds) of food for our hungry European neighbors. This food had been sent to UNRRA to be sent to wherever it is needed most. Alison Hersey's patrol of six girls collected the largest number of cans, in a competition between patrols, but the following individuals, though in different patrols, brought 30 or more cans each. Mary Lou Armstrong, Candace Bostwick, Nancy Gail Handford, Alison Hersey and Roxane Jope.

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMER-TIME

Girl Scouting—a year around affair—moves outdoors when summer comes. Camping, hikes, and cook-outs are starred on the Girl Scouts' summer calendar.

CASPIAN SEA

"Nature can't do this to us," Russian scientists indicate, in reports telling of plans now under way to raise the level of the Caspian Sea. Since 1932, it has been found, so much water has been lost to the Caspian, through evaporation and reduced river inflow, that navigators and fishing industries are facing serious problems.

Suggested remedies include the blocking off of parts of the sea by dams; rechanneling rivers to provide more water, and completion of the long-planned Manychski Kanal, which will extend north of the Caucasus Mountains between the Caspian and Black seas by way of the Sea of Azov.

Alice-in-Wonderland Spot

The Caspian, points out the National Geographic Society, has long been a kind of Alice-in-Wonderland lake, growing smaller or larger under changing conditions. On the whole, in spite of striking and irregular variations, the level has sharply declined. In prehistoric times the sea had an elevation of 150 feet above the level of the oceans, compared with its present surface of 85 feet below that level. Between the 14th and 20th centuries, the drop amounted to roughly 37 feet.

Lacking an outlet, the Caspian is actually a lake rather than a sea. Lying in the deepest section of the great depression south and southwest of the Urals, it is more than 700 miles long. Its kidney-shaped outlines on the map resemble those of its slightly smaller neighbor, the Black Sea, although the latter stretches east and west instead of north and south.

The Caspian Sea is the largest of all inland waters. Covering nearly 170,000 square miles, its area greatly exceeds that of the combined surfaces of the Great Lakes. Once, some authorities say, it was part of a vast Asiatic sea linked with the Artic Ocean, a belief supported by the presence of seals in its waters.

Different degrees of saltiness are found in the various sections of the Caspian. In general it is considerably less salty than the Black Sea or the oceans. In the north, where the Volga furnishes by far the greatest inflow of fresh water, the salt content is so low that in places people can drink the sea water. On the other hand, salinity in the south rises to high proportions, with evaporation leaving large salt deposits at many spots along the shore.

The northern portion of the Caspian is the shallow part, little more than a hundred feet at its greatest depth. In the south soundings reach 3,600 feet. Northern navigation is halted in winter when the sea freezes over, but navigation everywhere is frequently difficult and often dangerous because of bad storms. Silt deposits from the rivers, have formed new shorelines, banks and shallows, which, together with the receding of the water, have had the effect of pushing certain fisheries back from the coast.

From an economic point of view, the Caspian is extremely rich in marine life, both of salt and fresh water varieties. The catch includes salmon, herring, carp, perch, pike, lobsters, sponges, and sturgeon. The latter furnishes an important source of Russia's noted delicacy, caviar.

Two nations, the Soviet Union and Iran, share unequally in the Caspian seacoast. The Russians, along the west, north, and east, hold roughly 2,000 miles of shoreline; Iran, in the south and southwest, controls some 430 miles.

During the war, Nazi forces came close to the Caspian Sea. They were stopped short of their goal by the great battle of Stalingrad on the Volga, and just outside Grozny in the Caucasus isthmus between the Black and Caspian seas. Loss of the Caspian would have been a major defeat for the Allies, since it provided one of the few channels for supplying the Russians with war materials during the period when the Germans were overrunning most of Europe. The supply line was kept open, by way of the Persian Gulf, a rail line through Iran, and the Caspian, in spite of German bombing raids against shipping.

In peace or war, the Soviet oil center, Baku, has been the leading port of the Caspian. Other Russian ports of consequence are Astrakhan, Gurev, Makhachkala, and Derbent. Iran uses Pahlevi, (the port for Resht) and Bandar Shah.

In addition to commerical shipping, the Russians operate a war fleet in the Caspian, with a new naval base at Krasnovodsk, on the eastern coast. Of the chief cargoes moved normally in this area petroleum products rank first, with grain, fish, timber, salt, iron and coal included in other freight shipments.

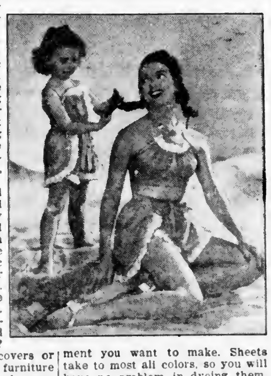
Needlecraft News
by Nancy Baxter

HAVE you tried to buy fabric recently? I said "tried" purposely — because it's not at all certain that you found any, if you looked. All over the country, the same complaint is heard — there just isn't enough fabric, and the outlook for the immediate future is not encouraging. Many wartime restrictions governing the allocation of fabric are still in effect, and in other cases where restrictions have been modified — no fabric is available. This condition will continue for some time, and there's nothing the average homemaker can do about it. But don't fret and lock your sewing plans away until some future date — just remember, "Where there's a will, there's a way."



If homemakers would take stock of the material in their possession, very few sewing plans would have to be forgotten. In your own home there are many sources of fabric that you probably never even considered using. Let's take stock of some potential sources now. What about the old awning that's serving no good purpose in the garage? Couldn't you make slip covers or cushions for the summer furniture from it? Old draperies—and everyone has one or two pairs stored away in the attic trunk — are perfect for making over. According to the fabric, these may be made into housecoats, bedspreads, chair covers or play clothes for the small fry. Tablecloths, towels, and sheets that are worn in places may be tinted and cut into blouses, dresses, place mats or any number of other articles for the home or your family. You have the idea, and right now you're probably remembering some long-forgotten treasure of fabric that you thought could serve no further purpose — as is.

Sheets offer unlimited possibilities, because there's loads of material in them — even after the worn spots have been cut away. Your first step is to dye the sheet your color choice for the particular garment you want to make. Sheets take to most all colors, so you will have no problem in dyeing them. Then start on the cutting and sewing as you would on new material. We have a leaflet containing several ideas for make-overs from sheets, and it also gives layouts and directions for making Mother-and-Daughter diaper bathing suits. Mother's suit is two-piece with a halter top, while Daughter's bib-top is joined onto the waistband in front, with suspenders crossing in back. Simple and quick to make, these matching suits trimmed with eyelet edging will be bright spots on any beach — and who would ever guess they came from sheets. If you would like to receive this leaflet, called SHEET MUSIC, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, asking for Leaflet No. S 19-19.

FIRE AT YALE STREET HOME

The alarm from Box 58 at 12:56 Wednesday afternoon was for a fire at the home of Mr. Charles Farnsworth at 44 Yale street. The family was away for the day, the fire being discovered by neighbors who saw smoke issuing from the house. Mrs. George Bunnell at 45 Yale street notified the Fire Department by phone, Box 58 being put on at the station.

The Firemen found the fire had started in the laundry of the house which was pretty well burned out. The flames had broken through into the cellar and at one spot had eaten up through the floor into the butler's pantry on the first floor.

The kitchen was badly damaged by heat and smoke and there was more or less smoke damage throughout the house. The intense heat cracked the kitchen windows and blistered paint while water ran intensely hot from the cold water taps. Firemen said that apparently the dense smoke had seeped through the walls, the damage done being unlike the usual soot deposited on walls by smoke.

The men found that in the laundry an electric iron which had been left on an ironing table had eaten completely through the table, into a small compartment. Mrs. Farnsworth reported that no one had been using the iron in the laundry either the day of the fire or the day before.

NEAR FLOOD AT FILENE'S

There was the making of a serious situation at Filene's Winchester store earlier in the week when a pump used both for water seepage and as an ejector pump for the air-conditioning system got overloaded, permitting the water to flow out under the floor of the children's department in the basement. The trouble was discovered when store personnel noticed carpets in the basement were becoming wet, and the air-conditioning system was shut off to permit the sump pump to function again. A separate pump is now being installed to take care of the air-conditionng.

RITUALISTIC CHAMPS AT ELKS JULY 2

Upon the invitation of Exalted Ruler Joseph B. Peel the officers of Wakefield Lodge of Elks will visit Winchester Tuesday evening, July 2, to initiate a class of candidates for Winchester Lodge.

Exalted Ruler Peel will attend the National Convention as a delegate from Winchester Lodge.

NEW SWIMMING SCHEDULE

With Red Cross swimming instructor, Edith Dover, and the new Park Department swimming instructor, Helen Carroll, working cooperatively a bigger and better swimming program has been planned. There will be swimming lessons at both Palmer Beach and Leonard Pool every day except Sunday.

Schedule for BOTH beaches

Monday, Wednesday, Friday: 10:00 a. m. Beginners.
10:30 a. m. Advanced Beginners. (those who have had previous instruction)
11:00 a. m. Swimmers

Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday:
10:00 a. m. Intermediates
10:30 a. m. to 12:00 Junior and Senior Lifesaving

Please register, rain or shine, on Monday, July 1st, and Tuesday, July 2nd, at the beach nearest your home.

This is the first year that the Park Department has hired a swimming instructor and it is good news for Winchester's children who will now receive more individual attention than could be provided by the Red Cross instructor alone. Each instructor will have her own beach. Edith Dover will devote herself to teaching at Palmer Beach and Helen Carroll will tend to the problems of the children at Leonard Pool. A competitive swimming meet will take place at mid-season bringing together teams from both beaches, and on Aug. 24 there will be a final demonstration of the summer's work.

After the lifesaving classes are made up on July 2nd, class members will meet at which ever beach is most convenient for the majority of the candidates. Thus, Edith Dover and Helen Carroll can work together with the entire group making complete and clear demonstration of holds, breaks and carries.

Learn to have more fun in the water! Keep cool safely! You couldn't pick a better summer to do yourself the favor of joining one of these classes with two instructors instead of one ready and eager to help you make the most of your vacation.

TOWN OFFICERS AT M. D. C. HEARING

Favored Proposed Parkway Change for Athletic Field Layout

Several of Winchester's town officers attended the advertised hearing yesterday at the M. D. C. Building at 20 Somerset st., in Boston, held by the Metropolitan District Commission upon the proposed relocation of the M. V. Parkway to the westerly side of Manchester Field to provide an area large enough for an adequate athletic field for the use of senior and junior high school pupils of the town.

Headed by Ralph H. Bonnell, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, the town officers at the hearing included William L. Parsons, chairman of the Planning Board, Frederick S. Hatch, chairman of the School Facilities Committee; Hazen H. Ayer of the School Committee, Town Counsel Vincent P. Clarke and Town Engineer Parker Whitney.

All were recorded in favor of the proposed relocation. No one appeared in opposition. Joseph V. McKenney, a member of the M. D. C., former Boston College football coach and director of athletics in the Boston schools, expressed the opinion that the proposed new layout is "a natural" for an athletic field.

PUBLIC HEARING

The Board of Selectmen is calling a public hearing for July 9 in the town hall at 7:45 p. m. to which everyone is invited who is interested in the referendum petitions presented to the Board for ballot voting on articles 3 and 4 of the June 13 town meeting. This is the time to clear up any misunderstandings of the 143 to 8 vote regarding the enlargement of Manchester Field so that the voting at the special election called for July 11th may be done on an intelligent basis. All persons interested are not only invited but urged to be present.

Besides the layout the referendum will also vote upon the permission granted the Metropolitan District Commission to exchange State land for town land in connection with the new field.

There will be no absentee voter ballots allowed. Polls will be open from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m.

FR. KIERCE LEAVES WINCHESTER

Parishioners of the Immaculate Conception Church learned at masses last Sunday that Rev. Fr. J. Joseph Kierce, young and extremely popular curate at the church for the past four and one-half years, has been transferred to St. Kevin's Parish at Upham's Corner in Dorchester. Fr. Kierce made the announcement himself, extending his thanks to the members of the local parish for their cooperating and kindness during his service here and praising their fine Christian spirit.

The widespread popularity which Fr. Kierce has enjoyed in Winchester has been richly deserved. An exceedingly personable young man with a ready smile and friendly manner, he has been liked by all who knew him, both in and out of his parish. Especially has he been loved by the young people of his parish, in whose behalf he has worked tirelessly.

During his service at the Immaculate Conception Church, Fr. Kierce organized a CYO which has promoted athletic contests of all kinds together with dramatic and social enterprises which have proved highly successful. During his student days at Holy Cross he became interested in sports and the boys and girls of his parish here have reaped a rich reward of fun, and healthful exercise from their curate's hobby. All in any way acquainted with Fr. Kierce regret his leaving Winchester, but wish him every continued success in his new and larger field.

Fr. Kierce left Winchester for St. Kevin's Wednesday. He has been replaced here by Rev. Fr. George Huntress whose boyhood parish was St. James in Salem. A graduate of Boston College and St. John's Seminary in Brighton, he was ordained last week at St. John's Chapel by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing.

MRS. REYNOLDS FETED

The pleasures of surprise birthday parties are not confined to our children. It was a particularly pleasant surprise party which was given to Mrs. Fred Reynolds (Blanche to her many friends), on Saturday evening at the Winchester Country Club.

The guests gathered around the dinner table which was beautifully decorated with flowers under the soft glow of candle light. Place cards, each bearing an individual message, aroused much friendly banter which continued throughout the evening. A delicious steak dinner was served followed by a birthday cake on which lighted candles proclaimed that the party was to celebrate Mrs. Reynolds' 77th birthday, and to which she responded in her own sweet and inimitable way.

After dinner when served the guests gathered together in the main lounge of the Club where the rest of the evening soon sped under the spell of reminiscing friends. Winchester of years ago lived again in mellow memories.

Among those present were Mr. Charles Gleason, Mr. Arthur Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eaton, Rev. and Mrs. Paul Chapman, Mrs. Ralph Sawyer, Mrs. Walter Badger, Mrs. Sophie Bowman and Mr. Joseph E. Coulter.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR MISS WAGSTAFF

Miss Lillian McGrail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. McGrail of Elmwood avenue, gave a farewell party at her home last evening for Miss Mary Alice Wagstaff of Highland avenue who is moving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wagstaff, to Washington.

The affair was a surprise to Miss Wagstaff, who arrived to find a number of her friends in the class of 1946 at Winchester High School waiting to greet her and extend their best wishes for the future. A buffet dinner followed by dancing made the evening pass pleasantly.

Assisting Miss McGrail with arrangements for the party were Miss Nancy Johnston and Miss Marjorie Ryerson.

Mr. Eliot Small from the Men's Furnishings Department of the main store has joined the permanent staff at Filene's in Winchester.

BOYS ON THE JOB

Motorcycle Officer Irving Reardon spent much of Wednesday afternoon rounding up boys whose activities had resulted in complaints from householders along Washington street in the vicinity of Webster street.

He first located two boys, one 10 and one 9, responsible for setting a fire in the bulkhead of a house at 1 Webster street owned by Mr. Gustave Josephson of 29 Sheridan Circle. The parents of the boys were notified.

Officer Reardon's next detail was locating five boys, about the same ages as the youthful firesetters, who admitted having broken some 15 panes of glass and kicking in two cellar sashes on the easterly side of the barn at the home of Miss Josephine Brine, 219 Washington street. Again the parents were notified and they agreed to make good the damage done.

TAKING FISH FROM RESERVOIRS

Men from the Massachusetts Department of Conservation have been busy this week taking fish from the town's reservoirs, under the supervision of the Water Board, and stocking Wedge and Winter Ponds in Winchester and Horn Pond in Woburn.

This transferring of the fish is done every so often for the benefit of local fishermen, whose numbers surely would have waterlogged had they seen some of the beautiful bass and pickerel taken from the reservoirs on Tuesday.

Firemen Harold Fitzgerald and John "Red" Pearson have checked out of the Central Fire Station for their annual vacations.

THOMPSON—BARKSDALE

Wearing a princess style gown of white taffeta and net with a nine-foot matching veil and carrying white carnations, Miss Barbara Ann Barksdale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orbray Barksdale of Harvard street, was married Thursday evening, June 20, at the New Hope Baptist Church to Sylvester Clarence Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Thompson of Prairie avenue, Chicago. Palms and garden flowers decorated the church for the ceremony which was performed at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. Clifford L. Miller. Miss Elinor Banks played music for the entrance of the bridal party.

Miss Barksdale was given in marriage by her father and had for her honor attendant her sister, Miss Geraldine Barksdale of Winchester. Miss Sylvia Crowelli of Winchester, small cousin of the bride, was flower girl and Laurence Barksdale, brother of the bride, was ring-bearer. Another sister of the bride, Miss Marjorie Barksdale, was one of the four bridesmaids, the others being three cousins of the bride, Miss Jean West, Miss Eloise Crowelli and Miss Margaret Jackson, all of Winchester.

The honor maid wore a dress of old rose jersey and net with a headdress of flowers and short matching veil. Her bouquet was of pink sweet peas and babies' breath. The bridesmaids' dresses were also of jersey and net, two wearing pink and two aqua. All wore flower head-dresses with short veils to match their gowns and carried bouquets of roses and babies' breath.

The small flower girl wore a frock of white taffeta and net and carried yellow daisies with delphinium. The ring-bearer wore a white linen suit.

Elsworth C. West of Winchester, cousin of the bride, was Mr. Thompson's best man, and the ushers were Howard Kirby and Leo Mayre, both of Winchester.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Christopher Columbus Hall with the parents of the bride assisting in receiving the guests. Once again the decorations were freshly cut garden flowers.

After a short wedding trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will go to New Jersey where the bridegroom will report to Camp Dix for his honorable discharge from the U. S. Army. He and his bride will make their home at 5143 Prairie avenue in Chicago.

ELKS LOST AT MALDEN

The Malden Vets found Joe McKee's right-handed slants to their liking last Sunday afternoon and the Elks lost their ball game at Malden 4-1. Joe gave up nine hits, but only two of the Vets runs were earned. On the other hand the Elks could do little with Nutter after the second frame and Milkman Joe didn't have too much to work on. There was nary a hit in the entire top of the local batting order. The summary:

MARY AND JIM WIN

Mary Keyes and Jim Riley won the Town mixed doubles draw tennis tournament some ten days ago in a hotly contested match against her sister Frannie and Ed Williams by the scores of 6-3, 6-4. Being unendowed with omnipresence your reporter, of course, was not lucky enough to be present, but folks have been doing much talking about an excellent finals.

Building up to the finals, the contests were as follows: Marjorie Norris and Robert Horne defeated Eleanor Thompson and Bob Sackett 6-1, 6-2. Libby Fenno and Roland Patrick defeated Wee-G Coon and Ken Sheldon 4-6, 6-5, 6-3. Sylvia Campbell and Dave Small defeated Nancy Nutter and Bob Drake 6-1, 6-1. Libby and Roland then defeated Norris and Horne 6-3, 6-2, and then went down in a very hard fought match with Mary and Jim to the tune of 6-4, 4-6, 6-1. Meanwhile Frannie and Ed took Ann Albree and Jimmy Coon in another well fought match at 7-5, 4-6, 6-3.

RILEYS DO IT AGAIN

Even the most doubting of Thomases was sure that the good old days of Winchester tennis had returned again when they found Jim and son Richard listed in the family doubles tennis tournament this Spring. And, naturally enough, like the proverbial knife and the distinctly proverbial butter, they marched right through to the finals where they took, not without difficulty, another up-and-coming family pair, Ken Hills and son Richard. Scores were 6-2, 6-2.

Meanwhile the Rileys played a very close match with the Rosanders. Of course, your reporter, who seems to be particularly characterized by absence this year, failed to be present, so a blow by blow description is impossible. The scores, however, shout the contest: 5-7, 8-6, 6-3.

WINCHESTER GIRLS UNDEFEATED AGAIN

Defeat of Winsor Gave Locals Clean Slate

Winchester High School girls' tennis team once again proved the class of Greater Boston by completing their recent season undefeated. Their undefeated status won them the award of silver identification bracelets from the Athletic Association which provides for special awards to teams winning 80 percent of their matches.

Winchester won six of its eight matches played by shutouts. The Arlington match was rained out and neither team could find a convenient date for a postponement so the match was finally scratched. Few believe that Arlington could have turned back the local lassies.

Of the two matches in which Winchester was scored upon, Winsor School, a private school in Brookline, gave the local girls their stiffest tussle, losing 3-2. The private schoolers spoiled a perfect season for Winchester a year ago and the locals were definitely gunning for this one but Capt. Dudie Jennings and Libby Fenno, playing number 1 doubles had to type out a 1-5 first set loss to pull the match out of the fire.

In the Newton match the teams played three doubles, instead of the usual two, Newton winning the third match. Most of the shutouts were scored without the loss of a set, so greatly did the local girls outclass the opposition.

Varsity players, besides Captain Jennings and Libby Fenno were Marnee Norris, Ruth Murray, Ann Albree, Patsy Eberle and Player-Manager Patty Root. Dorothy Burnacker and Barbara Donaghey were on the squad and saw service in several matches but did not play enough to win their letters. Deborah Fenton Matthews of the Department of Physical Education was again the coach.

NAMED BY HERALD-TRAVELER

Winchester High School's baseball team had four of its members win honorable mention by the Herald-Traveler in its all scholastic choices at the close of the current season.

Sam Tibaudo, hard-hitting shortstop; Dean Blanchard, third baseman; Jimmy Olivier, second baseman and left-fielder, Sammy Bellino, were the boys named. All ranked with the best in the Middlesex League.

WINCHESTER HIGH'S BASEBALL SEASON DRAB

Winchester High had a drab baseball season this spring, winning only seven of 16 games and finishing fifth in the Middlesex League, the championship of which was won by Wakefield.

Pitching was the big weakness on this year's team, for despite the fact that the locals were supposed to have rather a weak attack they still scored better than five runs a game, or 92 over the season. In the field Winchester was generally about as good as the teams it faced, but in the box and behind the bat the club was woefully inexperienced and battery strength is something no team goes far without.

At times this year's club was wholly without fire, and at other times the boys looked as good as any team in the league. On the whole however the boys could have done with a lot more hustle and chatter.

The one bright spot of the season was "Buffalo" Flynn, freshman hurler, who if he continues to show improvement, should be a tough boy to beat as an upper classman. He was cool as the proverbial cucumber out there this year, showed the makings of a good curve and with more size and weight ought to have all the speed he needs. We should be hearing plenty from Master Flynn in the years to come.

Aiding and abetting Flynn were Don Armstrong, Pete Priest, Alan Switzer and Sam Tibaudo. The latter, the club's regular shortstop, pitched a swell shutout against Woburn in his one turn on the hill.

Bobby Wilson, who saw some service as a catcher last year, started behind the bat this season. A bad eye injury early in the year, benched him for the season and Eddie Amico, ineligible until then, took over.

Pat Patterson at first, Jimmy Olivier at second, Dean Blanchard at third and the veteran Sam Tibaudo at short gave the locals as good an infield as there was in the league.

In the outfield Sammy Bellino, played a mighty good left field and was right up with the circuit leaders at the plate. A hustling fool, Sammy was in there trying every minute. Captain "Twiggy" Nolan in center and Tom Cogan in right weren't too far back and the latter did some very effective hitting from the port side of the plate. "Eddie" Hicks, veteran utility infielder, could fill in for any of the first string without too much difference. Parker Flagg, big football player, managed the club which was coached by Henry Knowlton after a year's lapse, during which he handled track.

Following is the season's record:

Winchester, 2; Wakefield, 4

LANCERS SKUNKED!

History Made at Palmer Beach

History was made at last weekend's regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, and sad to relate the Association's president, Royal "Paper Trade" Teele, was not on hand to witness the epochal event.

Royal would have appreciated it, more, let us say, than Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, who was equally among the missing. Just see if we aren't right when we tell you what this cataclysmic occurance was. Briefly, and without embellishment, it was that "Wild" Willie McLaughlin, the Pride of Stow and Champion of all Nabnassett, was defeated in a regulation 25-point game of horseshoes without scoring a point. And to make it even more unbelievable, his partner at the time of this "deflocuation", which the erudite Luke P. Glendon maintains is gaelic for "disgraceful defeat," was none other than Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham. Never have the famed "Lake Street Lancers" had their colors so struck since the inception of the Association. Beating the Lancers at all has always called for the striking off of a special medal to commemorate the event and shutting them out completely is something "just out of this world" as the more modern gals put it.

Robert "H. M. S. Rodney" Walsh and the lowly Secretary were the pitchers who "skunked" Messrs. McLaughin and Pridham and their feat so stunned the victors that they fell easy prey to the Lancers in the deciding game of the odd-game series, losing 25-6.

Let it be said at once, however, that Mr. Walsh and the Scribe were entirely satisfied and special niches in the Association's Hall of Fame are being hacked out to receive their statutes. Never before has any one shut out the great McLaughlin, and the defeat is bound to weigh heavily in any campaign for the Association's presidency which Mr. Butters may be planning for him. That is, of course, why we stated that Mr. Teele, the present encumbent, will learn of the skunking with considerably more equanimity, if not pleasure, than the old State of Maine Champ, now restoring his jangled nerves and depleted physique in the Pine Tree State after an exhausting scholastic year.

Mr. Walsh and the Secretary were pretty sharp for the match, being on the stake pretty regularly, while both Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Pridham sagged badly from the form displayed in the first and third games of the series. Mr. Walsh arrived late at the beach and pitched only that series, so there could be no previous check on his form. The Secretary was admittedly pitching away over his lowly head.

Aside from this one series things ran pretty true to form. The "Maxwell Road Mugwumps", Henry Tiffany Knowlton and the Secretary, dropped a couple to the Lancers, as why wouldn't they, and the Scribe won with Mr. McLaughlin, from "Tiffany" and "Thin Finger."

The arrival of "Lou" Goddu at the beach with his pup and fire in his eye, upset the Mugwumps badly, just as they were theaning to get going, and Mr. Knowlton excused himself from further play to go off with Mr. Goddu on business. Lou, himself, refused a hearty invitation extended on the part of all present, to join in the play, giving no reason at all for his court refusal.

TENNIS ASSOCIATION MET

A fortnight ago, rumor has it, the Winchester Tennis Association enjoyed the superb facilities of Wee-G's and Charlotte's playroom at the residence of Mrs. Charles Underwood on Salisbury street for an evening of entertainment. Brad Hersey showed for the edification and amusement of all movies which he and Lois had taken eight to ten years ago of our Town tennis stars performing chiefly on the Palmer street Courts. The boys have not changed much in all those years so there was no difficulty in recognizing the performers. The Wilson Sporting Goods Co. also provided two sound films with the Budges expounding excellent tennis advice. These films insist upon many good pointers, and your reporter at least would enjoy seeing them annually.

The evening was terminated by the serving of cookies and cokes to the complete capacity of all present and the playing of "windbag" ping-pong.

Your reporter did such a poor job of recording that he does not dare attempt to list the more than 20 who attended the meeting. But it is only fair to remind you that, of course, Mr. Packer both attended and addressed the meeting, and furthermore, to indicate that tennis is also a doubles game, the Arthur Hills (Dotty Bruno) and the Jimmy Coons (Wee-G, naturally) were also there.

YALE GRADUATE

Mr. George F. Donahue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Donahue of Mystic avenue, graduated Tuesday from Yale University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Engineering from the Sheffield School of Engineering.

Mr. Donahue prepared for Yale at Boston College High School from which he graduated cum laude, and attended Harvard University before entering Yale. He was a member of the Yale varsity hockey and varsity tennis teams winning awards in each sport. As goalie for the Yale hockey team for two years he won acclaim in sports circles. He is a member of the Scroll and Key, St. Elmo, and Torch Society.

Mr. Donahue has accepted a position with the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation in New York and will commence his new duties July 8.

GAMAGE AND BELLOWS VICTORS

If some of the Town folk will only include the Palmer street courts in their regular tours of the town, they will certainly be persuaded that gone old tennis has returned with all its former vigor. Hall Gamage has been in no small way a contributor to this revival, and already, supported by a good team-mate Deb Bellows, he has taken the men's draw doubles tennis tournament from the worthy contestants Ken Hills and his partner Post. Scores were 6-1, 6-2, 6-4.

Since last reporting the tournament in our issue of May 31, the following matches were played. Hills and Post defeated Jim Riley and Harry Bean, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4. Gamage and Bellows defeated Greer and Mooney, 6-3, 6-3. Hills and Post defeated Norris and Emerson, 6-1, 6-8, 6-3.

If you are going away for the summer, for a week, or just for overnight or a week-end, notify the Police. Unoccupied houses are given special attention by the route officers, but since it is an impossibility to investigate each dwelling on a beat only those known to be closed receive this special it pection. No claims are made that notifying the authorities will prevent breaks, but it will ensure your property getting the maximum police protection while you are away. It takes only a short time to call 1220, Police Headquarters, and report the fact that your house will be empty for a certain length of time. Such information will be welcomed by the Police who are eager to give all the protection possible. And one thing more; notify Headquarters if you come home unexpectedly, or some one is going to use your shut-up home. Otherwise, whoever is in the house may have his rest disturbed by a call from the Police.

The great New Deal, we read, is straining every fibre to maintain the ceiling price on butter and meat. We don't care a bit. We can not get it anyway, so it does not affect us. On the other hand, we wonder why they were so insistent on ceiling prices on tobacco. Like liquor, we never felt we would perish if we could not get it - although we do smoke a lot. As it now is, with the ceiling price in force, we have hard work to find any and what we do find is from 50 to 100 per cent more in price than we used to pay during the War. Likewise strawberries! We suppose these berries are very vital to European feeding, but with strawberries rotting on the vines, Cape Cod, the heart of the growing country hereabouts, is getting from 60 to 95 cents a box. Of course this mixed-up mess is good for the country as they say, but in our opinion it is just a camouflage to aid the milking we are all getting. Vivi the New Deal! "We Planned it That Way." What we now wonder is how long the suckers, now being milked to death, will stand it all.

There has seemed to be some misunderstanding of the referendum which is to be held next month on the action of the recent town meeting, the members of which voted 143-8 in favor of the proposal to make an adequate athletic field for high and junior school pupils by moving the Parkway and Aberjona River westward across Manchester field and joining that area with the present Junior High School playground. At least the Star has met several who understood that the referendum is to decide whether the town is to purchase the Ginn Estate as a site for a new high school. There can of course be no such vote taken since at the recent special meeting the subject matter of the article dealing with the proposal to acquire the Ginn Estate was indefinitely postponed. Referenda can not be held on articles so dealt with, and the referendum soon to be held is concerned solely with the proposed new athletic layout and with action which will enable the Metropolitan District Commission to take in connection therewith certain town land in exchange for more land which the town is getting from the Commission. In other words the vote at the special election to be held on the referendum petition will decide only whether or not the town is to have at last an adequate athletic layout unanimously approved by The Committee on School Facilities, the School Committee, the Finance Committee, the Planning Board and the Board of Selectmen.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

Many must believe that the Black Market keeps prices down, for it is reliably said over one-half of this country's meat is supplied through the Black Market. Those that want to keep the OPA apparently believe in the inflationary Black Market—for legitimate Free Enterprise could not get any higher prices than Black markets are now getting.

What's back of this OPA which wants the Black Markets?

Many blame John L. Lewis entirely for the coal mess. Well, who promised "Abundant Life?" Who started this mess? Who said 18⅛? Who did not leave it to orderly negotiations? Who allowed a Labor royalty on music records ?Who is to blame?

There is no question about it—the New Deal administration—not John L. Lewis nor Organized Labor, as such.

Congress itself is not blameless. It may be time to establish what can be negotiated between Labor and Management. Certainly no contract should be allowed by law that could be harmful to the people, as a whole. Is it possible that tribute or bonuses should be paid by either Management or Labor to each other—that the public or consumer must pay for?

Could this not become such a monopoly that government itself would be in danger?

Could it be that this mess has been allowed, if not fostered, in order to have chaos—thus even greater centralized government?

A LETTER FOR THE THOUGHTFUL CONSIDERATION of the People of Winchester

Editor of the Star:

Such an important matter as the changing of the course of a river through the center of a town and the destruction of many beautiful trees that have taken years to grow should not be decided until every one of the voters in the town has been given a chance to vote against this present plan.

I was not asked by my precinct members how I felt in regard to this matter and I believe if the voters in town had known more about what was being proposed, and that if hearings had been held, they would have requested their representatives not to rush this vote through until further study had been given.

I understand that certain provisions in connection with the use of Manchester Field are in conflict with paid admissions to the school games. I believe that this legal matter could be settled in a satisfactory manner. I also question if the town has a legal right to alter the river course and use part of the land for a parkway.

The beautiful winding river and gracefully curved parkway with the weeping willow trees should never be destroyed. The services of a first class landscape architect working with engineers should be engaged to study a long range plan for playground, new high school location and athletic field, which will not destroy the natural beauty of the river and parkway.

REFERENDUM OFFERS BREATHING SPACE

Editor of the Star:

One of your editorials last week ended with a "why", why should we have a referendum on the vote to move the Parkway and Aberjona westward across Manchester Field and join that field with the playground at the rear of the Junior High School to provide an adequate athletic field for the use of high and junior high school pupils? I will try to give you part of the answer.

The vote of the limited town meeting was overwhelmingly affirmative, to be sure. But the members had too little time and opportunity to appraise the plan, and they relied almost wholly on the recommendations of the special committee. Many were surprised to find out afterwards that a number of their constituents either opposed or questioned the plan. Even among the supporters the degree of approval varied, all the way from "excellent" to "better than nothing."

And how long did the town have to consider the plan before it was put to vote? The first notice was in the May 10 Star. The first full report of the special committee appeared in the May 24 Star, less than three weeks before the town meeting on June 13. The warrant was delivered two weeks before the meeting. There were no public hearings, no P.T.A. or Mothers' Association meetings, and with one exception no precinct meetings. The public was unprepared to decide such a vital question on such short notice.

The special committee had too little time to prepare and present a complete and concrete plan. If they had merely reported progress and presented the Ginn Estate plan and the Aberjona plan with charts of each and with lists of the advantages and disadvantages of each, they would have done as much as the town could reasonably expect. To many of us the referendum offers the chance to regain this lost opportunity, to know where we will land before we jump. Once the river is moved and the trees cut down all the king's horses and all the king's men can't put them together again. We don't want to sacrifice a unique and picturesque center unless the gains are worthy of the sacrifice.

At present there are too many unanswered questions, too much doubt and confusion. What is the whole picture? Does the Aberjona plan offer only a new athletic field, only a new building site, or both? If a building site, just where would the building be placed? Has an expert on town planning been consulted? Who? Has a soil expert been consulted? Would the proposed athletic field afford room for a baseball diamond with outfield, a football field, and a suitable track after additions were made to the Junior High School? How much would the additions reduce the usable area of the playing fields? Has an expert in the laying out of school athletic fields been consulted? Who? Has an expert estimate of costs been made? By whom? What use is to be made of the present High School? These seem to be fair and pertinent questions, Mr. Editor.

The referendum offers us a breathing space, time to learn and weigh and evaluate. Judge Hammond has intimated that the Ginn Estate would still be open for consideration in the fall. The Metropolitan Commission would undoubtedly allocate a part of its budget to Winchester again if we did not make use of its funds this year.

To make my own position clear, I want whatever is best for Winchester in the long run. I would like to have complete, impartial information available to everyone through hearings and district meetings and then to hear the question voted upon by the entire electorate. Then the will of the majority would surely prevail.

DYER RECEIVES AWARD

Colver P. Dyer of 11 Grove street, a research group leader in the Monsanto Chemical Company, Everett plant, has been awarded a leave of absence at full salary for an academic year of study at a university of his choice, the company announced today.

Dyer is one of four industrial scientists chosen by the Monsanto Executive Committee to receive the awards which were given this year for the first time on the basis of outstanding scientific work accomplished while with the company.

A native of Winchester, Dyer attended the Mystic school and Winchester High School before enrolling at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he received a degree in Chemical Engineering in 1922.

Dyer joined the research department of the Everett plant in 1922 and in 1936 was promoted to group leader in application research. He became a group leader in melamine research in 1942. He and Mrs. Dyer, the former Marjorie Davidson of Winchester, are the parents of two daughters, Marilyn and Martha.

Dyer is a member of the American Chemical Society, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colourists.

AMERICAN VETERANS COMMITTEE NOTES

A new and startling plan for famine relief of Europe was presented to the AVC meeting last Wednesday night in Masonic Hall. Full specifications of the plan will be offered to the town as a whole as soon as certain operating details are worked out. To expedite these matters, the chapter voted to appoint a famine-relief committee, with Lester Gustin, Jr., as chairman.

To fill vacancies caused by resignations, the chapter elected three new standing committee heads as follows:

Veterans Affairs and Policy, Dana Philbrook.

Local Affairs, John Downs

Entertainment, Arthur Rose Hills

Members are in general agreement that Masonic Hall, with its informal atmosphere and its smoking and refreshment privileges, provided the most satisfactory meeting place to date.

AVAKIAN—MAGUIRE

Miss Mary Patricia Maguire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Maguire of Kendall street, and Jacob Paul Avakian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Avakian of Pond street, Newburyport, were married Sunday afternoon, June 23, at St. Mary's Rectory, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony which took place in an attractive setting of white carnations and candles.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Maguire wore a princess style gown of heavy white satin with a sweetheart neckline. Her matching fingertip length veil was caught to a coronet of satin and seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis.

Miss Margaret Maguire of Winchester was her sister's maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a dress having a carnation red velvet bodice and a full skirt of white faille. Her headdress of white faille was caught at the sides by red carnations and she carried white carnations encircling the same flowers in red.

Henry Avakian of Newburyport was best man for his brother and the ushers were James K. Maguire and John J. Maguire of Winchester, brothers of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Association Hall, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving.

Upon their return from a wedding journey through the White Mountains and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Avakian will make their home in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and of Banford Academy in Boston. Mr. Avakian graduated from Newburyport High School and is now attending refrigeration school in Boston. During the war he served in the Navy, spending 18 months in the South Pacific area.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Troop 3 completed their scouting season with two very successful camping trips. Burton Bailey, Phil Nelson, Dave Shiverick and Bob Craig accompanied by Scout Master Nelson spent 4 very pleasant days at the Great Gulf Shelter in the Northern Presidential range of the White Mts.

Sunday, June 16th, the boys motored to Pinkham Notch and packed their equipment in over five and one half miles of mountain trails. Two days were spent climbing in the mountains around the Great Gulf. The climb to the summit of Mt. Washington was interesting because the clouds were very thick but better weather favored the climb to the summit of Mt. Jefferson over thhe very interesting Six Husbands Trail.

The boys found the fishing in the numerous mountain streams to be excellent and added some fine trout to the camp fire. On the hike back to Pinkham Notch, the boys were much surprised to see some people still skiing on the snow in Tuckerman's Ravine.

These mountain trips are rugged and interesting experiences for scouts and the knowledge gained in preparing for and enjoying the trips serves as the best camping training that the boys can be given. We hope to make these trips a definite part of Troop 3's schedule.

Another group of scouts, John Davis, Jim Loftus, Doug Hamilton, Jerry Moulton, Bob Burnham and Buzzy Bird accompanied by Mr. Davis and Mr. Bird took a shorter trip to Crotched Mt. in the Monadnocks. This was a two day trip on the 16 and 17 of June. Camp was set up on Mr. Davis property in Greenfield.

Swimming was enjoyed at Sunset Lake and Mt. Crotched proved to be a very pleasant climb and the view, from the lookout tower, of the Monadnocks was well worth the effort.

The anglers in the group found that the brook trout were not too plentiful and honors went to John Davis for the largest catch.

With the completion of these trips, Troop 3 takes a vacation until Monday, Sept. 16, 1946.

ROTARY NOTES

The "World Federation" was the subject of an interesting and timely discussion by Mr. Chet Wiley, representing the Massachusetts Committee for World Federation at the regular Thursday noon meeting of the Rotary Club. Mr. Wiley urged the members to better acquaint themselves with this all-important question, and pointed out that world peace can be gained by the proper intelligent working of a World Federation.

For the third time, Charlie Murphy was adjudged the winner of the weekly drawing of the Victory Bond, with his number having been drawn by Bob Shaw at Bob's specific request.

It was announced that there will be no meeting next week on Thursday, July 4, celebrated nationally as Independence Day. Also, there are to be no formal programs arranged during the summer months of July and August.

The newly elected officers of the Club were installed for the ensuing year, with Pat Foley taking the chair as President and Don Lewis assuming the Vice-presidency. Under the guidance of Pat and Don, the members look forward to another happy and successful new year.

Retiring President, Vin Ambrose, was presented with a gold badge by past President, Ralph Bonnell, and in a few words Vin thanked the officers and the members for their fine cooperation, friendliness and general spirit of good fellowship during the past year. He also commented on the growth and prestige and membership of the Club, and wished the new officers every success.

He also gave particular thanks to Price Wilson for his publicity each week.

BAHREIN ISLANDS

The British-protected Bahrein Islands, again claimed by Iran, are as famous today for the "black gold" of oil as they once were for fabulous riches from the pearling industry.

Lying near the coast of Arabia, across the Persian Gulf from Iran, the state of Bahrein is made up of one large island and several neighboring islets, notes the National Geographic Society.

United States petroleum companies hold the oil concession on 39-mile-long Bahrein, the chief island. One third of the royalties goes to the ruling sheik of Bahrein. Another third is used for long-term state investments, while the rest provides funds for governments, roads, health and educational facilities for Bahrein's 120,000 inhabitants.

Persian Centuries Ago

Iran has laid claim to Bahrein a number of times within the last decade, basing its demand on Persian occupation during the 17th and 18th centuries. The Persian hold was broken in 1783 by forces from the Arabian mainland, led by ancestors of the present ruler.

Great Britain made its first treaty with the Bahrein sheik in 1820, in the interests of suppressing piracy, slave traffic, and intertribal warfare which long had been rampant in the traditional waters of Sindbad the Sailor. Later other treaties were signed, with the British government eventually assuming full responsibility for the island's protection. The Bahrein ruling family agreed to make no outside commitments without British approval.

British interests held a concession during the 1920's to explore Bahrein for oil, but later gave it up. The United States firm which followed discovered a bonanza in 1932. More than seven and a half million barrels were obtained from the fields in 1939. In 1944, output was reported at 6,695,000 barrels.

East-West Contrasts

Modern industrial development has changed the face and life of this ancient Moslem land. The capital, Manama, on the northeast coast of the main island, was one of the earliest Persian Gulf towns to know electricity. Native police direct traffic in shorts. European dress appears beside the turbans and flowing robes. Motor cars have pushed aside the famous white donkeys.

Gasoline and oil for these cars, as for the planes that land on the commercial airport on adjoining Muharraq Island, are processed on the spot, after flowing through pipelines from the Arabian mainland as well as from the central Bahrein fields.

Vacation Precautions

When you go on vacation, make sure that silverware and other valuables are not exposed to risks of burglary and fire in an unoccupied home. Place them in our vault for security during your absence. Safe deposit boxes and storage facilities are available at our main office.

Fifth Annual Club Clambake on Fourth

The fifth annual 4th of July Clambake and Lobster Dinner will be held, rain or shine, at the Club next Thursday. The feast is scheduled to begin promptly at 6:00 PM, but there are a host of other holiday activities scheduled, beginning with a sailing race at 11:00 AM, so we suggest that, unless you have an unusually active tape worm, you plan to spend the entire day at the Club. In addition to the thrilling Snipe Fleet Race, there'll be Diving Contests, Novelty Races and Kayak Races with suitable prizes for all the winners. 'Course, the Clambake is the feature attraction and with a menu like this, Steamed Clams, $1\frac{1}{4}$ lb. Lobster, Clam Bouillon, Pickles, Chips, Watermelon and a Beverage, it's sure to be a sell out. Due to the tremendous amount of labor, the Club's self-styled chefs annually let themselves in for, only a limited number of tickets are available. Tickets are only $2 per person (tax included) and must be bought from the Steward before Monday, July 1st. No reservations will be taken and if you haven't already gotten your tickets you'd better act right now or you'll miss out on the feast and fun. Be sure to bring your own forks.

Powers Stops Simonds

Just when it was beginning to look as though Don Simonds and his Sinbad were unbeatable, John Powers in George Jones' new Loima turned the trick.

Saturday afternoon Don had run his win streak up to nine straight, after a spine tingling duel with Ted Burleigh and Bob Swanson, who finished behind Don in that order. Sunday afternoon, (the AM race was postponed for lack of wind) Don got out front again and it looked like ten in a row. But just as the fleet was beginning to bog down, a wind shift brought five trailing boats bearing down on Don and before he could say Kristin Lavransdatter, he was in sixth place. From there in it was a sensational race between Bob Swanson, John Powers and Bart Sullivan, with each of them holding the lead. Finally Powers put on a little extra pressure and ran home the winner. Swannee was second and Bart bagged third.

Club Chatter

The Club has a life guard on duty. He's Dick Staples and he's doing a swell job...Stan Howe, the Club's perennial Harbor master, and a group of able assistants did a slick job of repairing the float at the end of the jetty..The Club's dining room is certainly doing a wonderful weekend business. If you want to eat there, plan to make your reservations at least a week in advance.

LOCAL SCOUTS GOING TO CIMARRON, NEW MEXICO

A dream trip for local Scouts is nearing its actual starting time as plans by the Fellsland Council, B. S. A., are now being completed. This dream trip will be composed of local boys and other boys from Fellsland Council, as well as a few from outside Councils who will leave here on Saturday, July 20th, travel by train from here to Buffalo where their special car will be sidetracked while they make a special trip to Niagara Falls. The boys on returning from Niagara Falls will once again board their train at Buffalo and proceed to Chicago where they will spend a day visiting points of interest. Again boarding the train they will then travel for close to two days before reaching Raton, New Mexico, and here they will be met by a bus to carry them to the great Philmont Scout Ranch in Northeastern New Mexico. After spending the next four weeks at Philmont Ranch the boys will go by bus to one of the public cities in that immediate area and on their return will entrain one again at Raton, travel to Chicago and then from Chicago will travel east to Washington, D. C., where they will spend a day and then return to Boston somewhere about the 25th or 26th of August.

The boys who are already signed up and making preparation for the trip are as follows: John Holdsworth, Phillip E. Nelson, George F. Burtt, Burton E. Bailey, Robert B. L. Singer, Jr.

Winchester Auxiliary

During the month of May the Shelter at 432 Washington street, Tel. Win. 1674 cared for 50 cats, placed in homes, 5, 7 dogs, placed in homes, 3, 3 birds, released 1, 6 complaints investigated, 43 ambulance trips, assistance requested from Burlington and Bedford.

The Auxliary is very grateful to the local police, for their prompt response, when one of the Muscovy ducks was found on the river bank, so sick, he could not stand. He was carefully placed in a box and taken to the Shelter, where it was found suffering from a disease prevalent among ducks. Mr. Arthur F. Bryer, Agent, humanely put him to sleep. It closed its eyes, tucked its head under its wing and quietly passed away.

Farmers are commencing to appreciate the value of birds as insect destroyers. Even the crow does more good than harm. It is well to plant wild fruit that will bear, during the weeks, when the birds eat cultivated fruit, also see there's plenty of water nearby for them.

"International peace, begins if anywhere in that reverence for life, for individuality, for personality, which has its roots in kindness to animals".

The Fire Department was called at 11:07 Tuesday forenoon to take care of a leaking gas refrigerator at the home of Capt. Magnus Magnusson, 4 Drexel avenue.

CURACAO

Curacao, Netherlands colony of Caribbean islands now seeking revision of its government, is important economically as the site of two of the world's largest oil refineries.

This Netherlands dependency includes not only the island of Curacao off the Venezuelan coast, but the neighboring smaller islands of Aruba and Bonaire; and tiny St. Eustatius, Saba, and part of St. Martin Island, 500 miles northeast.

The islands have a combined area of 400 square miles, with 110,000 inhabitants, of many nationalities, says the National Geographic Society. A third of the people live in the colonial capital, Willemstad, on the isand of Curacao.

Refine Venezuelan Oil

The deep, landlocked harbor of Willemstad became the site for the colony's first oil refinery in 1916. Only shallow-draft vessels can operate on Venezuela's oil-rich Lake Maracaibo, 200 miles southwest of Curacao and Aruba. Hence, Venezuela's crude oil is brought to the deep-water ports of these oil-less islands for refining, and distribution in ocean-going tankers.

The big Lago refinery on Aruba was a target for an Axis submarine salvo barely two months after the Pearl Harbor attack.

Besides refined oil, the islands export hides and skins, cocoa and nutmegs, aloes and other drugs, and straw harvest hats. The islands produce little of their own food, and the refineries have introduced soil-less agriculture to reduce the need for food imports.

Curacao, Aruba, and Bonaire would be much hotter but for strong northeast winds which blow so steadily that the divi-divi trees "break" at right angles at the top of the trunks, looking like the stacks of fast moving locomotives with trailing plumes of smoke.

Spanish explorers discovered Curacao in 1499, and the islands were possessions of Spain until representatives of the Dutch West India Company seized them in 1634. They have been Netherlands possessions most of the time since then.

Aided American Revolution

It was at Curacao that Peter Stuyvesant served his apprenticeship before becoming governor of New Amsterdam in 1646. For 18 years he retained the governorship of both colonies.

WANTED: By Tool Owners Union

ONE MILLION THRIFTY AMERICANS

--Today's "Forgotten Man"

To Assert THEIR Bargaining Rights in Strikes, Shortages and Inflation

To Fifty Million Thrifty Americans:

"The right of Bargaining belongs quite as much to the 50 million whose savings provide the tools of production as it does to the labor unions whose members provide the muscular energy of production. IT MUST BE PRESERVED FOR BOTH"

Carrying the Message of A NEW FREEDOM to Millions

Solely by membership contributions, Tool Owners Union has already reached millions through page ads in

New York HERALD-TRIBUNE, May 13
New York TIMES, May 20
Boston HERALD-TRAVELER, May 27
New York SUN, June 3
Philadelphia BULLETIN, June 3
Chicago TRIBUNE, June 10
Philadelphia INQUIRER, June 10
Baltimore SUN, June 17

By those ads we are well advanced toward our goal, a thousand local chapters and a million members before Fall—the minimum for effective national action. Reprints available at 25 for $1—100 for $2.50.

As I said in a recent full-page advertisement:*

"The human right of bargaining belongs quite as much to the 50 million thrifty tool owners, whose savings provide the mechanical energy of production, as it does to labor-union leaders whose members provide the muscular energy of production." It is time to assert that right.

It is time for a hard-hitting, business-like movement to restore the balance. Already thousands on thousands of men and women have joined Tool Owners Union to correct the government cowardice that has bred strikes, shortages and inflated living costs . . . that may end in the total loss of our savings and a "labor" dictatorship.

WHAT ARE WE WAITING FOR?

When bureaucrats and labor leaders attack the fundamental human right of us thrifty people to receive legitimate, competitive payments for the use of the production tools our savings have bought, it is a direct attack on the very foundation of America's national strength and well-being. Such attacks, one after another, discourage thrift and the new investment needed to replace old tools and add new tools; they obstruct the return to normal production upon which the jobs, the pay and health, indeed the very lives, of everyone depend.

Unless, therefore, we tool owners advance and vigorously support a new government policy that will safeguard the right of thrifty citizens to bargain for earnings from their tools, there can be no prosperity or security for any one.

But given the incentive of such a policy, the natural genius of Americans for thrift and risk-taking will respond: new tools will replace old tools and the American way of Brains, Sweat and Teamwork will carry us to the very heights of prosperity.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT?

In our country's urgent need, Tool Owners Union wants immediately a minimum of one million thrifty Americans—today's "forgotten men and women"—to join with us in protecting their bargaining rights and ours; to put an end to senseless strikes that multiply shortages and breed ruinous inflation. Use the coupon below. With a million members minimum, our Union can act to influence and support Congress to end this turmoil, violence and shortages that must otherwise bring us into even more acute want and suffering, if not into dictatorship. Send the coupon for your T. O. U. card.

Already thousands from every state—from the large cities, New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago, and from hundreds of smaller cities—have answered this call to action. Now is the time to combat pressure groups and show them that there is some one more powerful than any one, and that is everyone of us, acting together. Make your contribution according to your fighting determination to set this country right once more. Send it to the national treasurer. Let's assert our rights and get our America back again.

ALLEN W. RUCKER, President

PRINCIPLES FOR ACTION

WHEREAS,—Tools of production are the very foundation of America's strength and material welfare; and

WHEREAS,—without these tools, workers could produce barely enough to exist; and

WHEREAS,—these tools come into being, are renewed and added to only through the thr.ft and self-denial of some fifty million individuals; and

WHEREAS,—the fundamental human right of bargaining belongs to the tool OWNERS (who provide the mechanical energy of production) quite as much as it belongs to the tool USERS (who provide the human energy of production); and

WHEREAS,—it has for many years been the persistent policy of government to violate this right and to discriminate against these fifty million unorganized tool owners in order to attract the political support of the leaders of organized tool users; and

WHEREAS,—this government policy has undermined the fundamental human right of the tool owners to receive payments for the use and renewal of the tools, has discouraged additions to the tools, and has obstructed the growth of production to the detriment of all; therefore

Be It Resolved

1. That the fifty million tool owners organize for the purpose of regaining equality before the law, reasserting their fundamental human right to enjoy the fruits of their labor and self-denial, and re-establishing their position as the primary source of the workers' productivity and prosperity; and
2. that for the attainment of these objectives, the organized tool-owners engage in such action as is appropriate to the protection and advancement of their interests; and
3. that such action be applied to all political parties alike and that the fundamental soundness and fairness of the tool owners' position be impressed upon all candidates regardless of their political affiliations; and
4. that such action is in the primary interest of the nation, of the people in general and of the workers in particular.

RESPONSE IS HEAVY

Hundreds of letters arrive daily at TOU National Headquarters—a continuous fact since May 13.

ACTION WILL BE TAKEN

Final work is now in process on the formation of the National Advisory Committee. It will be strong and effective in composition; the names of its members will be announced shortly.

Although the program of action is ready, its effectiveness awaits the Fall goal of a thousand local chapters and a million members.

WINCHESTER BOYS HAD FINE TENNIS SEASON

Winning seven out of ten matches, including all those with high school teams, the Winchester High School boys' tennis team enjoyed another fine season this spring. Over the past four seasons the local boys have been beaten by only one high school team, Brookline eking out a 5-4 victory three years ago.

This year's team beat Newton twice, and such other representative teams as Haverhill and Brookline, climaxing the season by winning the State tournament at Belmont with Captain Rosander copping the individual title from team-mate and player-manager, Bob Halstead.

Andover and Milton Academies were the prep-school teams to win from Winchester, along with the Harvard Junior varsity. Meets with Exeter and Groton School were rained out.

Varsity letter players, with Captain Rosander were Bob Halstead, Sheldon and Eben Caldwell, Richard Hills, Charles Watson, captain-elect; Roger Swanson and William Knights. William H. Rodgers of the School Faculty again coached the team.

Following is the season's record:

Winchester, 9; Hingham, 0
Winchester, 9; Middlesex, 0

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

Though the opening of the Girl Scout Camp on June 18th was unpropitious due to the rain and the children were dismissed early, it is now in full swing with the days not long enough for all the activities planned. They have made interesting lapel pins from pine cones, "sit-upons" (which are just what they sound) of oil cloth so that there would be no danger from damp ground, hand blocked kerchiefs with actual reproductions of leaves found at camp, and terrariums, (or is the plural "terraria"?). Each unit has had two cook-outs, and the Pioneers have spent the night at camp. There are singing and dancing games and considerable nature study, as well as the "trailing and tracking" and archery about to be added for the older girls.

Troop 4 Notes

Troop 4 had as its final get-together a three-day trip to Willard Brook in West Townsend. Preparations and planning for the trip were covered in five meetings and included menus for each day and cost of food purchased, making a blanket roll including clothes for trip, knot tying, planning a trail lunch, making a knapsack, assembling a first aid kit for a hike, how to sharpen and use a knife correctly, and how to rewick, trim, fill, clean and light a lantern.

Arriving at the camp the girls found their log cabin homes for the week-end nestled in a pine grove surrounded by birches and mountain laurel about at the height of its flowering season. Fish and potatoes cooked over an open fire with tomato salad for vegetables was part of the menu for dinner on Friday. A cool dip in the pond made everyone anxious to crawl into her blanket roll, but not before taps were sung at one cabin followed by the other cabin singing the echo.

Saturday morning after breakfast while one group prepared part of the dinner for the evening, another group packed a trail lunch to be taken on a hike which was planned for the day, while a third prepared prunes for Sunday breakfast. After kapers were completed, with knapsacks strapped to their backs the girls started up the dirt road along the side of the brook. The brook became more enticing as they walked along so they decided to eat lunch on rocks in the brook with bare feet dangling in the water. Then back to the cabins for dinner, followed by singing rounds and playing "blue bottle", making tin can stoves, and gathering pine cones for firewood.

Sunday morning, pancakes cooked on a tin can stove, line forms on the right and the cook is kept busy and getting hungrier by the minute. Then down to the brook for more exploring.

Back to the cabins to prepare for the trip home, have lunch, and a treasure hunt.

The following girls made the trip: Caroline Buracker, Cynthia Emerson, Carolyn Padelford, Bette Nelson, Virginia Graves, Dorothy Elliott, Judy Bramhall and Mary Horne.

Nancy Taylor, Sue Melanson, and Bette Nelson received their Camp-craft badges after completing the trip.

RECEIVES AWARD

Miss Barbara Sittinger of Lakeview road, who graduated from Wellesley this month was awarded the Lucy Branch Allen Prize a bequest to the college stipulated to be given as a graduate gift to a senior who has done outstanding work in the study of living creatures. Miss Sittinger majored in Zoology with a minor in Psychology, and the Deans' announcement of the presentation was said to be for her excellent work in the Zoology Department, particularly on the general examination given at the end of the senior year over four years' work in the department.

The Fire Department was called to the Dutty home at 130 Mt. Vernon street Tuesday evening at 11:12 to take care of a leaking refrigerator. The men donned gas masks and took the refrigerator out of the house where the fresh air took care of the deadly fumes.

LEGION LOST 9-2

Winchester's newly formed Legion baseball team dropped its first game of the season Tuesday evening on Manchester Field, 9-2, to the Everett Legion nine. The visitors with many more games under their belts were away ahead of the locals all around.

Winchester had only nine men on the field and more will have to join the club if it is to campaign successfully in the Mystic Valley League. Uniforms are needed and any one who can loan suits for use of the veterans should call Manager Charles D. Roche, Win. 1750-R.

The veterans would also appreciate it if a wire screen could be placed along the river bank so that balls will not be lost. Three of five balls were lost in the water Tuesday evening.

Migliacci's overhand slants got by the first three innings in good shape, but in the fourth he wilted and Everett scored in six runs to sew up the game. McCormack relieved Migliacci in the 5th and held the visitors to a single run over the last four frames.

Manager Roche, former Tufts and Lynn Cornets baseball star, is loath to go ahead without some reserve strength, especially in the box and behind the plate. All veterans who like to play ball are urged to contact him or Parker Blanchard and to show up at the practice sessions so that use can be made of them in the games to come.

CHILDREN'S SHOW AND SPORTS ON INDEPENDENCE DAY CARD

The usual community program for children will be held in Winchester on July 4, next Thursday, commencing at 10 o'clock in the morning when an entertainment for local youngsters will be held in the town hall.

Four acts specially chosen to appeal to the youngsters will be shown, including Rodman in a novelty comedy act, entitled, "Portraits in Makeup"; Chic Nelson in a "Clown and his Toys", comedy and novelty table work; a trained Dog Act and Monton in "Homespun Humor", roping and comedy chatter.

After the show there will be free ice cream for the kiddies as usual right at the hall.

The afternoon program will be devoted to the regular schedule of races and contests at Leonard Field, put on by the Playground supervisors of the Park Department. Events will start promptly at 2 o'clock and in accordance with what has proved most popular in past years, merchandise certificates will be given the winners. There will also be more ice cream for the kiddies at the field.

Theodore C. Brown, as junior vice commander of Winchester Post heads the Legion committee of arrangements, the other members of which are: Martin Foley, John Keefe and Howard Walsh.

Monday afternoon's alarm from Box 31 at 2:37 o'clock was for a fire in the basement of the house at 24 Chester street owned and occupied by James Bruno.

Provide Adequate insurance!

Thousands of people have recently made the costly discovery that they were acting as their own insurance company—without enough available capital to pay their losses. Could this happen to you? Perhaps. Let's see.

Compared with 1939 levels, the cost of labor is said to be up 45%; lumber 72%; paint 30%. Other miscellaneous property values have risen anywhere from 15% to 50% or more — including household furnishings, jewelry, furs, clothing and a host of other commodities.

Unless you have increased your coverage since 1939, perhaps one-fourth of a fire, theft or other loss would be unprotected by insurance. In order to replace the property at today's higher prices, you would have to pay a large share of the replacement cost yourself and thus become "your own insurance company."

Have you enough available capital to compete with the insurance companies? They have the resources to make good all your losses in full. That's their business.

Call today and ask us to make sure that you are adequately protected. We can make the necessary arrangements, acting as your representative, giving you the benefit of our experience and seasoned judgment.
